(2) The corporation may make on the land any roads, drains, walls, fences, or other works requisite for converting the same into building land, at an expense not exceeding such sum as the Treasury (b) approve.

(3) The corporation may insert in any grant or lease of any part of the land (in this section referred to as the site) provisions binding the grantee or lessee to build thereon as in the grant or lease prescribed, and to maintain and repair the building, and prohibiting the division of the site or building, and any addition to or alteration of the character of the building, without the consent of the corporation, and for the re-vesting of the site in the corporation, or its re-entry thereon, on breach of any provision in the grant or lease (c).

(4) Every such provision shall be valid in law to all intents, and binding on the parties.

(5) All costs and expenses incurred or authorised by a corporation in carrying into execution or otherwise in pursuance of this section, shall be paid out of the borough fund and borough rate (d), or by money borrowed by the corporation under this Part.

(6) In this section the term working men's dwellings means buildings suitable for the habitation of persons employed in manual labour and their families; but the use of part of a building for purposes of retail trade or other purposes, approved by the council, shall not prevent the building from being deemed a dwelling.

Borough Bridges.

Borough Bridges.

Maintenance of borough bridges.

119 (a).—(1) Every bridge which is either wholly or in part in a borough and which the borough and not the county wherein the borough is situate is legally bound to maintain or repair shall, as to the whole of the bridge if it is wholly in the borough, or as to such part only as is in the borough, be maintained, altered, widened, repaired, improved, or rebuilt under the sole management and control of the council (b).

(2) For that purpose the council shall have all the powers which the justices of a county have with respect to a county bridge (c), but the notices required in the case of a county bridge shall not be required in the case of a borough bridge.

(3) All expenses incurred for the purposes of this section shall be paid out of the borough fund or borough rate (d), or out of money borrowed on the security thereof.

(4) The council, with the consent of the Treasury (e), may from time to time borrow on that security such sums as they deem requisite for any of those purposes, and may mortgage the borough fund and borough rate (d) for the purpose of securing the repayment, with interest, of any money so borrowed (f).

(a) This section ceases to have effect as from April 1st, 1930, as respects any bridge which carries a county road (s. 29 (4), L. G. A., 1929, ante, p. 1885). As to what are county roads, see s. 29 (1), ibid., and notes thereto at p. 1884, ante. Bridges carrying county roads are within the definition of "county roads" in that Act and are therefore maintainable by the county council unless "claimed" under s. 32, ibid., ante, p. 1891.

(b) Such a bridge is a street within the definition contained in s. 4 of the P. H. A., 1875, ante, p. 16.

PART VI.

CHARITABLE AND OTHER TRUSTS AND POWERS.

* * * * * *

Local Acts.

Local Acts.

Transfer of powers of local authorities to municipal corporations.

136.—(1) The trustees appointed or acting by or under any local Act of Parliament for the time being in force, for paving, lighting, supplying with water or gas, cleansing, watching, regulating, or improving, a borough, or any part thereof, or for providing or maintaining a cemetery or market in or for a borough, or any part thereof, whether in any such case their powers under the local Act do or do not extend beyond the borough, may, if they think fit, at a meeting called for this purpose, transfer to the municipal corporation of the borough, with the consent of the council but not otherwise, all the rights, powers, estates, property, and liabilities for the time being vested in or imposed on the trustees under the local Act.

(2) The transfer shall be made in writing under the common seal of the trustees if they are a corporation, and if not, then by deed executed by the trustees, or by any two of them acting by their authority and on their behalf.

(3) On the transfer being made, the municipal corporation shall become and be the trustees for executing by the council the powers and provisions of the local Act; and all the rights, powers, estates, and property vested in the transferring trustees shall vest in the corporation; and all the liabilities and obligations of the transferring trustees shall be transferred to and borne by the corporation, and the transferring trustees shall be discharged therefrom (a).

(a) See also ss. 10 and 310 of the P. H. A., 1875, ante, pp. 44, 653.

Power for council to extend local lighting Act.

137.—(1) Where at the passing of the Municipal Corporations Act, 1835, there was a local Act of Parliament for lighting part of a borough then incorporated, the council may, if they think fit, make an order that any specified part of the borough not within the provisions of any such local Act shall, after a day fixed in the order, be within those provisions; and after that day the part so specified shall be within those provisions, as far as relates to lighting, or to any rate authorised to be levied for lighting.

(2) But the part so specified shall be lighted in like manner as those parts of the borough which before the making of the order were within those provisions; and any rate raised for the purpose of defraying the expenses of lighting the part so specified shall not exceed the average expense in the pound of lighting the other parts of the borough (a).

Exercise of powers under local Acts.

5 & 6 Will. 4, c. 76.

138. Everything provided under any local Act of Parliament in force on the twentieth of August, one thousand eight hundred and thirty-six, to be done exclusively by a particular or limited number, class, or description of the members of any body corporate named in the Schedules to the Municipal Corporations Act, 1835, the continuance of which was not inconsistent with the provisions of that Act, and everything provided in any such local Act to be done by the justices, or by some particular class or description, or members of such body corporate, being justices, at a court of quarter sessions, which did not relate to the business of a court of criminal or civil judicature (a), if the same respectively has been lawfully continued to be done up to the commencement of this Act by the council, or a committee thereof, shall be continued thereafter to be done by the council at a quarterly meeting, or by any three of a committee of the council appointed at such a meeting.

(a) E.g., the regulation of the fees of a local Court of Requests (Palmer v. Powell (1840), 6 M. & W. 627).

BOROUGH FUND: BOROUGH RATE: COUNTY RATE (a).

Borough Fund.

Borough Fund.

* * * * * *

Application of surplus of borough fund.

143.—(1) If the borough fund (a) is more than sufficient for the purposes to which it is applicable under this Act (b), or otherwise by law, the surplus thereof shall be applied under the direction of the council for the public benefit of the inhabitants and improvement of the borough (c).

(2) If the surplus arises from the rents and profits of the property of the municipal corporation, and not from a borough rate (a), and the borough is a sanitary district under the Public Health Act, 1875, then the municipal corporation, as the sanitary authority for the borough, may apply the surplus in payment of any expenses incurred by them as such sanitary authority, before or after the commencement of this Act, in improving the borough, or

Section 143. any part thereof, by drainage, enlargement of streets, or otherwise, under the Public Health Act, 1875, or any Act thereby repealed.

(a) As to the substitution of the general rate fund and general rate for the borough fund and borough rate, see the R. and V. Act, 1925, ante, p. 1633.

(b) That is, by s. 140, and the Fifth Schedule.

(c) E.g., free passage over a footbridge (Newcastle-upon-Tyne Corporation v. Att.-Gen., [1892] A. C. 568; 56 J. P. 836). But not contributions to a university college established within the borough (Att.-Gen. v. Cardiff Corporation, [1894] 2 Ch. 337).

PART XIII.

GENERAL.

* * * * * *

Time.

Computation of time.

Time.

230.—(1) Where by this Act any limited time from or after any date or event is appointed or allowed for the doing of any act or the taking of any proceeding, then in the computation of that limited time the same shall be taken as exclusive of the day of that date or of the happening of that event, and as commencing at the beginning of the next following day; and the act or proceeding shall be done or taken at the latest on the last day of the limited time as so computed, unless the last day is a Sunday, Christmas Day, Good Friday, or Monday or Tuesday in Easter week, or a day appointed for public fast, humiliation, or thanksgiving, in which case any act or proceeding shall be considered as done or taken in due time if it is done or taken on the next day afterwards, not being one of the days in this section specified.

(2) Where by this Act any act or proceeding is directed or allowed to be done or taken on a certain day, then if that day happens to be one of the days in this section specified, the act or proceeding shall be considered as done or taken in due time if it is done or taken on the next day afterwards, not being one of the days in this section specified.

(3) Where by this Act any act or proceeding is directed or allowed to be done or taken within any time not exceeding seven days, the days in this section specified shall not be reckoned in the computation of such time.

Distance.

Measurement of distances.

Distance.

231. The distances mentioned in this Act shall be measured in a straight line on a horizontal plane, and may be determined by the map made under the survey commonly known as the Ordnance Survey (a).

(a) See the Interpretation Act, 1889, s. 34; and see Wright v. Wallasey L. B., ante, p. 2217.

Notices.

Notices on town hall.

Notices.

232. Any notice or other document required by this Act to be fixed on the town hall shall be fixed in some conspicuous place on or near the outer door of the town hall, or, if there is no town hall, in some conspicuous place in the borough or ward to which the notice or document relates.

Inspection and copies.

Inspection of documents.

Inspection and Copies.

233.—(1) The minutes of proceedings of the council shall be open to the inspection of a burgess on payment of a fee of one shilling, and a burgess may make a copy thereof or take an extract therefrom (a).

(2) A burgess may make a copy of or take an extract from an order of the council for the payment of money.

(3) The treasurer's accounts shall be open to the inspection of the council, and a member of the council may make a copy thereof or take an extract therefrom.

(4) The abstract of the treasurer's account shall be open to the inspection of all the ratepayers of the borough, and copies thereof shall be delivered to a ratepayer on payment of a reasonable price for each copy.

(5) The freemen's roll shall be open to public inspection, and the town clerk shall deliver copies thereof to any person on payment of a reasonable price for each copy.

(6) A document directed by this Act to be open to inspection shall be so open at any reasonable time during the ordinary hours of business, and without payment, unless it is otherwise expressed.

(7) If a person having the custody of any document in this section mentioned,—

(a) Obstructs any person authorised to inspect the same in making such inspection thereof as in this section mentioned ; or

(b) Refuses to give copies or extracts to any person entitled to obtain the same under this section ;

he shall, on summary conviction, be liable to a fine not exceeding five pounds (b).

(a) A burgess is entitled to inspect the minutes of all acts of committees submitted to the council whether these acts are finally approved or not (Williams v. Manchester Corporation (1897), 45 W. R. 412. And see Morris v. Clarke (1911), 75 J. P. N. 281, and R. v. Hampstead Borough Council, Ex parte Woodward, in the next note).

(b) A town council is not entitled to pass a resolution directing their clerk not to show a document which has been read at a meeting of the council to one of the councillors who bonâ fide desires to see it, merely because he may make some use of the information he may obtain from the document in a manner antagonistic to the policy of the majority of the council (R. v. Southwold Corporation, Ex parte Wrightson (1907), 71 J. P. 351 ; 97 L. T. 431). Though a member of a borough council has primâ facie a common law right to inspect the documents of the council, yet the court will not grant a mandamus to enable him to obtain such inspection where he is inspired by the indirect motive of assisting a person who is engaged in litigation with the council (R. v. Hampstead Borough Council, Ex parte Woodward (1917), 33 T. L. R. 157).

Substitution in former Acts.

Provision for references in unrepealed enactments to 5 & 6 Will. 4, c. 76, etc.

242.—(1) In the several enactments described in Part I. of the Ninth Schedule, a reference to this Act shall be deemed to be substituted for a reference to the Municipal Corporations Act, 1835, and any Act amending it.

(2) In each of the enactments described in Part II. of the Ninth Schedule, there shall be substituted for the respective provisions of the Municipal Corporations Act, 1835, in that part mentioned in connection therewith, such provision of this Act as is also mentioned in connection therewith.

(3) Where any Act passed before this Act, and not specified in the First or in the Ninth Schedule, refers to the Municipal Corporations Act, 1835, or any Act amending it, or to boroughs or corporations subject to that Act or any Act amending it, the reference shall be deemed to be to this Act or to the corresponding provision of this Act, or to boroughs or corporations subject to this Act (as the case may require).

(4) All enactments to which this section relates shall, except as in this section provided, continue to operate as if this Act had not been passed.

THE ELECTRIC LIGHTING ACT, 1882.

(45 & 46 VICT. c. 56) (a).

An Act to facilitate and regulate the supply of Electricity for Lighting and other purposes in Great Britain and Ireland. [18th August, 1882.]

Short title.

1. This Act may be cited for all purposes as "The Electric Lighting Act, 1882."

(a) This Act is included in this Appendix, as it confers important powers upon urban and rural district councils. It and two amending Acts of 1888, post, p. 2495, and 1909, post, p. 2695, constitute "The Electric Lighting Acts, 1888 to 1909"; they are supplemented by the Electric Lighting Clauses Act, 1899, post, p. 2569. Important amendments in the law as to the supply of electricity have been made by the Electricity

By s. 39 of the 1919 Act and the Ministry of Transport (Electricity Supply) Order, 1920, all the powers and duties of the Board of Trade under the said Act of 1919 or the Electric Lighting Acts, or the orders and regulations made thereunder, or any local Act relating to the supply of electricity, or any enactment relating to matters incidental to such supply have been transferred to the Ministry of Transport. By s. 1 of that Act provision was made for the appointment of Electricity Commissioners for promoting, regulating, and supervising the supply of electricity. Power was given to the Electricity Commissioners to provisionally determine that separate electricity districts shall be formed, and to approve or make schemes for the improvement of the existing organisation for the supply of electricity in such districts and the establishment of joint electricity authorities, but in effect these objects could only be fulfilled upon the agreement of the parties concerned. By the Electricity Supply Act, 1926, a Central Electricity Board is set up and invested with the direction of the generation of energy and responsibility for a network of main transmission lines interconnecting the large generating stations from which the whole supply of the country is ultimately to be produced. All energy produced will eventually belong to the Board who will arrange for its distribution in the most economical manner. The probable result of the Act will be that no more orders will be made authorising the establishment of further undertakings except in accordance with the provisions of the Act or schemes made thereunder. Important amendments of the Electric Lighting Acts are also made. An endeavour has been made to draw attention to all these alterations in the law in the notes to the various sections of the existing Acts, the provisions of which are affected by such alterations.

By s. 40 of the Electricity (Supply) Act, 1919, the Electric Lighting Acts, 1882 to 1909, and the Act of 1919, may be cited together as the Electricity (Supply) Acts, 1882 to 1919, and those Acts and the Supply Acts of 1922, 1926 and 1928, are to be construed together as one Act and may be cited as the Electricity (Supply) Acts, 1882 to 1928 (s. 2, Electricity (Supply) Act, 1928). Special orders under the Electricity (Supply) Acts may be granted to statutory gas companies by the Electricity Commissioners (Statutory Gas Companies) (Electricity Supply Powers) Act, 1925, post, p. 2885), or by the Minister of Transport (s. 49, Electricity (Supply) Act, 1926).

Application of Act.

2. The provisions of this Act shall apply to every local authority (a), company, or person who may by this Act or any licence or Provisional Order (b) granted under this Act, or by any special Act to be hereafter passed, be authorised to supply electricity within any area (in this Act referred to as "the undertakers") and to every undertaking so authorised, except so far as may be expressly provided by any such special Act; and every such licence, Provisional Order, and special Act, is in this Act included in the expression "licence, Order, or special Act."

(a) See the definition of this term in s. 31, post, p. 2453. It includes urban and rural sanitary authorities. Licences are practically obsolete. It became usual to apply for a Provisional Order under s. 4, but see now the next note.

(b) Anything which could be effected by a Provisional Order may now be effected by a Special Order or (in the case of a joint electricity authority) by an order, and references in this Act to provisional orders now include references to such a special order or order except as regards paragraphs (1) to (4) of s. 4 (see s. 26 of the Electricity (Supply) Act, 1919, post, p. 2799).

Granting of licences authorising the supply of electricity.

3. The Board of Trade (a) may from time to time license any local authority as defined by this Act (b), or any company or person, to supply electricity under this Act for any public or private purposes (c) within any area (d), subject to the following provisions:

(1) The consent of every local authority (b) having jurisdiction within the area or any part of the area within which a supply is licensed to be furnished shall be required to the application for a licence, which consent such local authority is hereby authorised to give, with such conditions (if any) as, subject to the approval of the Board of Trade (a), the local authority may prescribe:

(2) A licence shall be for any period not exceeding seven years, but may, at or after the expiration of such licence, be renewed from time to time for a like period with such consent as above mentioned upon such terms and conditions as the Board of Trade (a) may determine:

(4) "Private purposes" shall include any purposes whatever to which electricity may for the time being be applicable, not being public purposes, except the transmission of any telegram (e):

(5) Every local authority, company, or person applying for a licence shall publish notice of their application by public advertisement in such manner and including such particulars as the Board of Trade (a) may from time to time direct or approve (f); and such licence shall not be granted by the Board of Trade (a) . . . (g) until opportunity has been given to all parties interested to make representations or objections to the Board of Trade (a) with reference to the application:

(6) No application for a licence shall be made by any local authority except in pursuance of a resolution to be passed at a special meeting of the local authority, and such special meeting shall only be held after one month's previous notice of the same and of the purpose thereof has been given in the manner in which notices of meetings of such local authority are usually given (h):

(7) A licence may, subject to the provisions of this Act, be granted to a local authority authorising them to supply electricity within any area although the same or some part thereof may not be included within their own district:

(9) Where in any area or part of an area in which any undertakers are authorised to supply electricity under any licence the undertakers are not themselves the local authority, the licence may contain any provisions and restrictions for enabling the local authority within whose jurisdiction such area or part of an area may be to exercise any of the powers of the undertakers under this Act with respect to the breaking up of any street repairable by such local authority within such area or part of an area (k), and the alteration of the position of any pipes or wires being under such street (l), and not being the pipes or wires of the undertakers, on behalf and at the expense of the undertakers, and for limiting the powers and liabilities of the undertakers in relation thereto, which the Board of Trade (a) may think expedient (m).

Granting of Provisional Orders authorising the supply of electricity.

4. The Board of Trade (a) may, from time to time, by Provisional Order (b) authorise any local authority (c), company, or person to supply electricity (d) for any public or private purposes (e) within any area (f) without requiring such consents as are required to the granting a licence under this Act (g), and for such period, whether limited or unlimited, as the Board of Trade (a) may think proper, but in all other respects subject to the like provisions as in the last section contained with respect to licences, and subject also to the following provisions:

(1) No Provisional Order (b) shall authorise the supply of electricity by any undertakers within the district of any local authority (not being themselves the undertakers), unless notice that such Provisional Order (b) has been or is intended to be applied for has been given to such local authority by the applicants in such manner as the Board of Trade (a) may direct or approve on or before the first day of July in the year in which such application is made (h); . . .

(2) The Board of Trade (a) may submit to Parliament for confirmation any Provisional Order (b) granted by it in pursuance of this Act, but any such Order shall be of no force unless and until it is confirmed by Act of Parliament:

(3) If, while the Bill confirming any such Order is pending in either House of Parliament, a petition is presented against any Order comprised therein, the Bill, so far as it relates to such Order, may be referred to a Select Committee, and the petitioner shall be allowed to appear and oppose as in the case of private Bills:

(4) Any Act confirming any Provisional Order (b) granted in pursuance of this Act may, on the application of the undertakers thereby authorised to supply electricity, be repealed, altered, or amended by any subsequent Provisional Order (b) granted by the Board of Trade (a) and confirmed by Parliament.

(c) Two or more authorities may be empowered to supply jointly in certain cases: see s. 8 of the Electric Lighting Act, 1909, post, p. 2699. And see now the Electricity (Supply) Act, 1919, post, p. 2782, under which joint electricity authorities may be set up. See also s. 19 of the last-mentioned Act as to the power of authorised undertakers to render mutual assistance to one another.

(f) The usual prohibition contained in Provisional Orders against the undertakers supplying electrical energy or erecting or laying down any lines or works beyond their statutory areas of supply was of universal application so that they could be restrained by injunction from carrying on business and supplying energy in any other place whatsoever however far removed from the statutory area of supply, and although such business be carried on and supply furnished quite independently of any special statutory powers (Att.-Gen. v. Metropolitan Electric Supply Co., [1905] 1 Ch. 757; 69 J. P. 169). But see ss. 4, 5, 6 of the Electric Lighting Act, 1909, post, p. 2696, authorising in certain cases a supply outside the area; and see now the power which a joint electricity authority may obtain under s. 12 of the Electricity (Supply) Act, 1919, post, p. 2787.

Undertakings authorised since 1909 are protected from competition by unauthorised undertakers by s. 23 of the Electric Lighting Act, 1909, post, p. 2702. See also Newcastle-on-Tyne Electric Supply Co., Ltd. v. Newcastle-on-Tyne (1911), 75 J. P. 97; 9 L. G. R. 161; but see now s. 25 of the Electricity (Supply) Act, 1922, post, p. 2846, giving to persons not being undertakers a power in some cases to supply electricity.

(g) These words were practically repealed by the Electric Lighting Act, 1888, s. 1, which provided that the consent of the local authority should be required save as therein provided, but reference should now be made to s. 12 of the Electricity (Supply) Act, 1919, post, p. 2787.

(h) But see now as to these "July notices," s. 9 of the Electric Lighting Act, 1909, post, p. 2699, which in some cases dispenses with the necessity for giving them.

Making of rules as to application, etc. under Act.

5. The Board of Trade (a) may from time to time make, and when made may rescind, alter, or repeal rules in relation to the applications for licences or Provisional Orders, and to the payments to be made in respect thereof, and to the publication of notices and advertisements, and the manner in which and the time within which representations or objections with reference to any application are to be made, and to the holding of local inquiries in such cases as they may think it advisable, and to any other matters arising under this Act.

Any rules made in pursuance of this section shall be deemed to be within the powers conferred by this Act, and shall be of the same force as if enacted in this Act, and shall be judicially noticed.

Any rules made in pursuance of this section shall be laid before Parliament within three weeks after they are made if Parliament be then sitting, and if Parliament be not then sitting, within three weeks after the beginning of the next session of Parliament (b).

(a) See note (a) to s. 1, ante, p. 2438.

(b) The rules must provide for (inter alia) the notices required by s. 1 (3) of the Electric Lighting Act, 1909. For the current Rules of the Electricity Commissioners, see App. II., post, p. 3252.

Regulations to be inserted in licences, etc.

6. The undertakers shall be subject to such regulations and conditions as may be inserted in any licence, Order, or special Act (a) affecting their undertaking with regard to the following matters:

(a) The limits within which and the conditions under which a supply of electricity is to be compulsory or permissive;

(b) The securing a regular and efficient supply of electricity;

(c) The securing the safety of the public from personal injury, or from fire or otherwise;

(d) The limitation of the prices to be charged in respect of the supply of electricity;

(e) The authorising inspection and inquiry from time to time by the Board of Trade (b) and the local authority;

(f) The enforcement of the due performance of the duties of the undertakers in relation to the supply of electricity by the imposition of penalties (c) or otherwise, and the revocation of the licence, Order, or special Act where the undertakers have, in the opinion of the Board of Trade (b), practically failed to carry the powers granted to them into effect within a reasonable time, or discontinued the exercise of such powers; and

(g) Generally with regard to any other matters in connection with the undertakings.

Section 6.

Provided always, that the Board of Trade (b) may, from time to time, make such regulations as they may think expedient for securing the safety of the public from personal injury or from fire or otherwise (d), and may from time to time amend or repeal any regulations which may be contained in any such licence, Order, or special Act in relation thereto; and any regulations so made or amended by the Board of Trade (b) shall, from and after the date thereof, have the like effect in every respect as though they had been originally inserted in the licence, Order, or special Act authorising the undertaking, and every regulation so repealed shall, from and after the date thereof, be repealed accordingly, but such repeal shall not affect any liability or penalty incurred in respect thereof prior to the date of such repeal or any proceeding or remedy which might have been had in relation thereto.

Any local authority within any part of whose district electricity is authorised to be supplied under any licence, Order, or special Act, may, in addition to any regulations which may be made under the preceding provisions of this section for securing the safety of the public, from time to time make, rescind, alter, or repeal byelaws (e) for further securing such safety; and there may be annexed to any breach of such byelaws such penalties to be recovered in a summary manner as they may think necessary: Provided always, that no such byelaws shall have any force or effect unless and until they have been confirmed by the Board of Trade (b) and published in such manner as the Board of Trade (b) may direct.

(a) The usual regulations and conditions on these matters formerly inserted at length are now collectively incorporated by the Electric Lighting Clauses Act, 1899, post, p. 2569, in every Provisional Order and special Act made or passed on or since October 1st, 1899 except so far as expressly varied or excepted thereby.

(c) By a local Act, a corporation were empowered to make agreements with regard to a supply of electrical energy to consumers and were liable to a penalty for default in supplying energy to any owner or occupier of premises to whom they might be and were required to supply energy under the Act. The plaintiffs, who were not entitled to require a supply under the Act, made an agreement with the corporation for the supply of electrical energy. It was held that an action would lie at the suit of the plaintiffs against the corporation to recover damages for an alleged breach of the agreement, there being no clear words in the statute confining the remedy of the plaintiffs to proceedings to recover the penalty under the section which rendered the corporation liable to such penalty (Morris and Bastert, Ltd. v. Loughborough Corporation, [1908] 1 K. B. 205; 71 J. P. 521).

(e) These byelaws will not be subject to the provisions of the P. H. A., 1875, as to byelaws. Byelaws made under Part II., ss. 13 et seq., of the P. H. A., 1890, do not apply to the posts, wires, etc., of electrical undertakings. See s. 15 of that Act, ante, p. 875, and s. 26, P. H. A., 1925, ante, p. 1565, dealing with wires in connection with wireless installations.

Expenses of local authority

7. Any expenses incurred by a local authority under this Act (a), and not otherwise provided for (b), including any expenses incurred in connection with the obtaining by them, or any opposition to the obtaining by any other local authority, company, or person, of any licence, Order, or special Act under this Act, may be defrayed out of the local rate as defined in the Schedule to this Act (c), and the local authority may from time to time cause such rates to be levied as may be necessary for the purpose of defraying such expenses; provided that where such local authority is a rural sanitary authority such expenses shall be deemed to be special expenses within the meaning of the Public Health Act, 1875 (d).

38 & 39 Vict. c. 55.

(a) Expenses incurred by a local authority under an agreement with a joint electricity authority are deemed to be expenses incurred under the Electric Lighting Acts, and this and the next section are to apply accordingly (s. 32 of the Electricity (Supply) Act, 1919, post, p. 2800). See also the borrowing power conferred by s. 5 of the Electricity (Supply) Act, 1922, post, p. 2837.

(c) See the Schedule, post, p. 2456. In urban districts the local rate is the general rate; in rural districts it is normally the special rate (see the P. H. A., 1875, ss. 207, 229, ante, pp. 495, 514, and the Rating and Valuation Act, 1925, ss. 2 (1) and 3, ante, pp. 1637, 1643). No sanction is required to the payment of such costs, as is the case with Orders to which s. 298 of the P. H. A., 1875, applies. It will be observed that no power of borrowing is conferred by the section.

Note to Section 7.

Power of local authority to borrow money.

8. A local authority authorised to supply electricity by any licence, Order, or special Act may from time to time borrow (a) money on such security, with such consent and subject to such provisions and restrictions with respect to borrowing and the repayment of loans, as are in the Schedule to this Act in that behalf mentioned (b), and the money so borrowed shall be deemed to be borrowed under the enactments subject to the provisions and restrictions of which it is borrowed, and the accounts of all receipts and expenditure by the local authority in pursuance of this Act, or any licence, Order, or special Act, shall be subject to such audit as is in the said Schedule in that behalf mentioned (c): Provided always, that any moneys borrowed under this section by the local authority of any district to which the Local Loans Act, 1875 (d), extends, may, if it is thought fit, be borrowed in manner provided by that Act; and in the construction of the said Act for the purposes of this Act the expression "prescribed" means prescribed by any conditions imposed by the authority whose consent is required to borrowing under this section.

38 & 39 Vict. c. 83.

Where any local authority is authorised by any Act to raise any money which they may be empowered to borrow for certain purposes by the issue of corporation or other stock, any money which a local authority may be authorised to borrow under this section may, if it is thought fit, be raised by them by the issue of such stock as aforesaid (e).

This section shall not apply to the mayor, commonalty, and citizens of the city of London or to the Metropolitan Board of Works, except in so far as the Metropolitan Board of Works may be concerned in the borrowing of any money by any vestry or district board (f).

(a) See note (a) to s. 7, ante, p. 2442. Money borrowed under the Electricity Supply Acts was not to be reckoned as part of the authority's total debt for the purpose of any limitation on borrowing powers: see s. 21 of the Electric Lighting Act, 1909, post, p. 2701, and s. 5 (2) of the Electricity (Supply) Act, 1922, post, p. 2538, but by s. 74 of the L. G. A., 1929, ante, p. 1940, all limitations on borrowing powers are removed. As to suspension of sinking fund payments in respect of new works, see s. 2 of the Electricity (Supply) Act, 1922, post, p. 2836. The borrowing powers conferred by this section are extended to cover agreements entered into with the Central Electricity Board by s. 16 of the 1926 Act, post, p. 2921, and in the case of local authorities for the sale, etc., of fittings under s. 48, ibid., post, p. 2935.

(b) These provisions are contained in the P. H. A., 1875, ss. 233, 234, 236—239, ante. The L. G. B. was formerly the Government Department concerned with borrowing. The Board was superseded by the Ministry of Health, but now by s. 20 of the Electricity (Supply) Act, 1919, the powers of the Ministry of Health to sanction borrowing under this Act have been transferred to the Electricity Commissioners set up by the Act of 1919. In determining whether to sanction a loan under this section the Commissioners must have regard to the provisions of the Electricity (Supply) Act, 1926, and the effect of any scheme or proposed scheme thereunder (s. 18 (2), Electricity (Supply) Act, 1926, post, p. 2922).

(e) A local authority authorised to supply electricity by Provisional Order entered into an agreement with a company by which the local authority were to purchase a site and erect buildings for the generating station, and the company were to fit up the plant and apparatus and carry on the undertaking and receive the profit for their own benefit. It being contemplated that it would be necessary for the local authority to borrow money to enable the company to construct and fit up apparatus, a clause in the agreement provided that the company should pay half-yearly to the local authority sums equal to the sums paid by the local authority in the preceding half-year for interest and sinking fund on money borrowed. It was held that the sums payable half-yearly by the company were an "annual payment" within the meaning of s. 40 of the Income Tax Act, 1853, and the company in making the payment were entitled to deduct income tax accordingly (Surbiton U. D. C. v. Callender's Cable and Construction Co., Ltd. (1910), 8 L. G. R. 244).

Note to Section 8.

(f) The powers of the London County Council (as successors to the Metropolitan Board of Works) have been transferred to the Electricity Commissioners set up by the Electricity (Supply) Act, 1919 (see s. 20 of that Act, post, p. 2794).

Accounts.

9. The undertakers shall on or before the twenty-fifth day of March (a) in every year fill up an annual statement of accounts of the undertaking made up to the thirty-first day of December (a) then next preceding; and such statement shall be in such form and shall contain such particulars and shall be published in such manner as may from time to time be prescribed in that behalf by the Board of Trade (b).

The undertakers shall keep copies of such annual statement at their office, and sell the same to any applicant at a price not exceeding one shilling a copy.

In case the undertakers make default in complying with the provisions of this section, they shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding forty shillings for each day during which such default continues.

(a) In the case of local authorities these dates are varied by s. 12 of the Electric Lighting Act, 1909, post, p. 2699, but see next note.

(b) The Board of Trade has now, for most of the purposes of this Act, been superseded by the Ministry of Transport, see note (a) to s. 1 on p. 2438, ante, but by s. 27 of the Electricity (Supply) Act, 1919, post, p. 2799, it is provided that (inter alia) authorised undertakers under the Act in the text shall furnish to the Electricity Commissioners at such times and in such form and manner as the Commissioners may direct such accounts, statistics, and returns as they may require for the purposes of their powers and duties under that Act.

General powers of undertakers under licence or Provisional Order.

10. The undertakers may, subject to and in accordance with the provisions and restrictions of this Act, and of any rules made by the Board of Trade (a) in pursuance of this Act and of any licence, Order, or special Act authorising or affecting their undertaking, and for the purpose of supplying (b) electricity acquire such lands (c) by agreement (d), construct such works (e), acquire such licences for the use of any patented or protected processes, inventions, machinery, apparatus, methods, materials, or other things, enter into such contracts, and generally do all such acts and things as may be necessary and incidental to such supply (f).

(b) A municipal corporation were the undertakers for the supply of electricity within their area, and purporting to exercise their statutory powers, supplied every description of electrical fittings and apparatus to consumers of electricity. It was held that the statutory powers of the undertakers ceased with the delivery of electricity at the terminals, i.e., the meter, on the consumers' premises, and were complete at that point, and that the general power to do "all such acts and things as were necessary and incidental to such supply" was limited to the generation and delivery of such supply; that the analogy of the supply of gas under the Gasworks Clauses Acts did not apply to the supply of electricity under the Electric Lighting Acts; and that the supply of electrical fittings and apparatus for the use of consumers was ultra vires the corporation (Att.-Gen. v. Leicester Corporation, [1910] 2 Ch. 359; 74 J. P. 385), followed in A.-G. v. County of London Electric Supply Co., Ltd., [1926] Ch. 542; and cf. Deuchar v. Gas Light and Coke Co., [1925] A. C. 691). In a case of a municipal corporation alleged to have in excess of their powers under the Electric Lighting Acts and a confirmed Provisional Order installed and repaired electric light fittings and wires within and without their area of supply on the consumers' sides of the terminals and also electric bell fittings and wires, the facts were held to have been brought within the judgment in Att.-Gen. v. Leicester Corporation, supra, where an injunction was granted, and that this would be followed unless the defendants (1) had power as a chartered corporation to carry on the business complained of, or (2) were so empowered by a private Act enabling them to supply mains but not manufacture things for cooking, heating, ventilating and motive power, and also to repair such things. It was held that the first point, not having been raised until the trial, was not open to the defendants, and that if it were, the impugned acts were continuous acts partly intra vires and partly ultra vires the corporate powers, and could not be dissected, and could not, therefore, be justified; also that the further powers under the Act were confined to the area of supply and to electric motors and apparatus used as sources of power for the specified purposes and did not extend to the objects to which the power was transmitted (Att.-Gen. v. Sheffield Corporation (1912), 76 J. P. 185; 106 L. T. 367).

Note to Section 10.

See also Att.-Gen. v. Ilford U. D. C. (1915), 13 L. G. R. 441. But see now s. 23 of the Electricity (Supply) Act, 1919, post, p. 2798, and Attorney-General v. Liverpool Corporation, [1922] 1 Ch. 211; 20 L. G. R. 547; and s. 48, Electricity (Supply) Act, 1926, post, p. 2935, which expressly authorises local authorities to sell, install, etc., fittings and appliances.

(c) As to purchase by local authority, see the Electric Lighting Clauses Act, 1899, Sched., clause 8, post, p. 2573; and see now also ss. 6, 8, 9, 13, and 32 of the Electricity (Supply) Act, 1919, post, pp. 2784, 2785, 2786, 2788, 2800. A local authority having acquired land for the purpose of erecting thereon works for generating electricity were restrained from using part of such land for the erection of a refuse destructor, although they proposed to use the surplus heat produced by the destruction of refuse in aid of their machinery for generating electricity (Att.-Gen. v. Pontypridd U. D. C., [1906] 2 Ch. 257; 70 J. P. 394). The case is an illustration of the general principle that it is ultra vires for a local authority having acquired land for particular purposes under the powers of one statute to use the land so acquired or any part of it for another purpose, although such other purpose may be within the powers given to them under some other statute. And see the similar case of Att.-Gen. v. Bradford Corporation (1911), 75 J. P. 553; 55 Sol. J. 715. See, however, s. 95, P. H. A., 1907, ante, p. 1161.

(d) Land for a generating station may now be acquired compulsorily. See s. 1 of the Electric Lighting Act, 1909, post. See also as to generating stations, ss. 9, 10, and 11 of the Electricity (Supply) Act, 1919, and ss. 5, 6 and 14, Electricity (Supply) Act, 1926.

(e) Defined by s. 32, post, p. 2454. But as to restrictions on the construction of generating stations, see ss. 1 and 2 of the Electric Lighting Act, 1909, and s. 11 of the Electricity (Supply) Act, 1919. And as to the power of the Central Electricity Board to close generating stations in certain events (s. 14, Electricity (Supply) Act, 1926, post, p. 2920).

(f) See note (b) to s. 10, ante, p. 2444. By s. 6 of the Telegraph Act, 1892, the undertakers may agree with the Postmaster-General for placing telegraphs in the trenches, tubes, or pipes used for the purposes of laying their own electric line. In the case of In re St. Nicholas Cole Abbey and St. Benet Fink, [1893] P. 58, an electric lighting company obtained a faculty for constructing chambers for the storage and transformation of electricity under two disused churchyards in the city of London, and it was held that the vesting of one of such churchyards by local Acts in the corporation to the intent that it might for ever remain unbuilt upon and unused for any purpose, except such ornamental purpose as the bishop should approve, did not preclude the court from granting the faculty. As to sale of lamps and fittings, see note (d) to s. 4, ante, p. 2440. As to liability for nuisance, see s. 17 and notes, post, p. 2448. As to liability of contractors to the local authority, being the undertakers, see Fulham Borough Council v. National Electric Construction Co. (1906), 70 J. P. 55; 4 L. G. R. 115.

Power for local authority to contract in certain cases and restrictions on assignments of powers, etc. of undertakers.

11. Any local authority who have obtained a licence, Order, or special Act for the supply of electricity, may contract with any company or person for the execution and maintenance of any works needed for the purposes of such supply, or for the supply of electricity within any area mentioned in such licence, Order, or special Act, or in any part of such area; but no local authority, company, or person shall by any contract or assignment transfer to any other company or person or divest themselves of any legal powers given to them, or any legal liabilities imposed on them by this Act, or by any licence, Order, or special Act, without the consent of the Board of Trade (a).

(a) The first part of the section deals with cases where the local authority remains the party supplying electricity, though it may contract for the execution of works or buy electricity from some other person or company. The second part, now repealed and replaced by a different provision in s. 14 of the Electric Lighting Act, 1909, post, p. 2700, as to which see now the provisions contained in the Electricity (Supply) Acts, 1919 and 1922, dealt with cases of transfer by the local authority or some other company or person of the legal powers for supplying electricity. Where the effect of a contract between a local authority having statutory powers and a company was to place the company in the position of the authority as regards their statutory powers and duties without the consent of the Board of Trade, the contract was held void, notwithstanding a clause intended to prevent the contract from being as between the parties an assignment or transfer of the statutory powers of the authority (Sudbury Corporation v. Empire Electric Light and Power Co., [1905] 2 Ch. 104; 69 J. P. 321). A collateral agreement containing terms of transfer not approved by the Board of Trade, but made a condition of the execution of a transfer deed approved by that Board, was held not ultra vires and enforceable (Lambeth Borough Council v. South London Electric Supply Corporation, Ltd. (1907), 71 J. P. 233; 96 L. T. 440, followed in Southport Corporation v. Birkdale District Electric Supply Co. Ltd., [1925] Ch. 794; 89 J. P. 149, where, after an agreement had been made containing terms of transfer approved by the Board, a further agreement that the company to whom the transfer had been made would not charge higher prices than those charged in an adjoining borough was entered into without the approval of the Board This latter agreement was held not ultra vires as being a business transaction into which the defendants might reasonably enter, 22 T. L. R. 78). See also London Electric Supply Corporation, Ltd. v. Westminster Electric Supply Corporation, Ltd. (1913), 11 L. G. R. at p. 1052.

Incorporation of certain provisions of Clauses Consolidation Acts.

12. The provisions of the following Acts shall be incorporated with this Act; that is to say,

(1) The Lands Clauses Acts (a), except the enactments with respect to the purchase and taking of lands otherwise than by agreement (b), and except the enactments with respect to the entry upon lands by the promoters of the undertaking; and

10 & 11 Vict. c. 15.

(2) The provisions of the Gasworks Clauses Act, 1847 (c), with respect to breaking up streets (d) for the purpose of laying pipes, and with respect to waste or misuse of the gas or injury to the pipes and other works, except so much thereof as relates to the use of any burner other than such as has been provided or approved of by the undertakers; and

34 & 35 Vict. c. 41.

(3) Sections thirty-eight to forty-two inclusive, and sections forty-five and forty-six, of the Gasworks Clauses Act, 1871.

For the purposes of this Act, in the construction of all the enactments incorporated by this section, "the special Act" means this Act inclusive of any licence, Order, or special Act; and "the promoters" or "undertakers," and "the undertaking," as the case may be, mean the undertakers and the undertaking respectively under this Act.

In the construction of the said Lands Clauses Acts, "land" includes easements in or relating to lands.

In the construction of the said Gasworks Clauses Act, 1847, and the Gasworks Clauses Act, 1871, the said Acts shall be construed as if "gas" meant "electricity," and as if "pipe" meant electric line, and "works" meant "works" as defined by this Act, and as if "the limits of the special Act" meant the area within which the undertakers are authorised to supply electricity under any licence, Order, or special Act.

All offences, forfeitures, penalties, and damages under the said incorporated provisions of the said Acts or any of them may be prosecuted and may be recovered in manner by the said Acts respectively enacted in relation thereto, provided that sums recoverable under the provisions of section forty of the Gasworks Clauses Act, 1871, shall not be recovered as penalties, but may be recovered summarily as civil debts (e).

(a) These Acts are 8 & 9 Vict. c. 18; 23 & 24 Vict. c. 106; 32 & 33 Vict. c. 18; 46 & 47 Vict. c. 15, and are (except 32 & 33 Vict. c. 18, which so far as still unrepealed relates only to lands in Westminster) included in this Appendix.

(b) But see now s. 1 of the Electric Lighting Act, 1909, post, p. 2695, as to compulsory acquisition of land for generating stations.

(c) Ante, p. 2164, and see Porter v. Ipswich Corporation, [1922] 2 K. B. 145; 20 L. G. R. 502. See also the provisions in the Electric Lighting Act, 1888, s. 4, post, p. 2497, as to the restrictions on placing electric lines in, over, etc., streets.

(d) As to breaking up streets, railways, or tramways, outside the area of supply in order to connect with a generating station, see s. 3 of the Electric Lighting Act, 1909, post, p. 2696; cf. also ibid., ss. 4, 6.

(e) That is to say, in manner provided by the S. J. A., 1879, ss. 6, 35. See the note to s. 251 of the P. H. A., 1875, ante, p. 549.

Restriction on breaking up of private streets, railways and tramways.

13. Nothing in this Act or in any Act incorporated therewith shall authorise or empower the undertakers to break up any street which is not repairable by such local authority, or any railway or tramway, without the consent of the authority, company, or person by whom such street, railway, or tramway is repairable, unless in pursuance of special powers in that behalf inserted in the licence, Order, or special Act, or with the written consent of the Board of Trade (a), and the Board of Trade (a) shall not in any case insert any such special powers in any licence or Provisional Order, or give any such consent until notice has been given to such authority, company, or person by advertisement or otherwise, as the Board of Trade (a) may direct, and an opportunity has been given to such authority, company, or person to state any objections they may have thereto (b).

(b) See r. V. of the Electricity Commissioners Rules, in App. II., post, p. 3253, and the Electric Lighting Clauses Act, 1899, Sched., clause 21 (3), post, p. 2583, as to obtaining the consent of the Ministry of Transport as successor of the Board of Trade. In the case of London Corporation v. County of London Electric Supply Co., [1910] 2 Ch. 208; 74 J. P. 268, the defendants proposed to connect up their areas of supply on the north and south sides of the Thames by laying electric mains along streets, including London Bridge, outside their areas of supply, in pursuance of the powers conferred upon them by the London Electric Supply Act, 1908. London Bridge is not a bridge repairable by the local authority, but is repairable by the corporation of the city of London as trustees of the Bridge House estates. The corporation sought an injunction to restrain the defendants from laying the proposed mains, and a declaration that the Act of 1908 did not entitle them to break up or carry the mains over London Bridge without the corporation's consent. It was held that the defendants had power, subject to the provisions of the Acts therein referred to, to lay electric mains over London Bridge, that is subject to the consent either of the corporation or, if that were refused, of the Board of Trade. In Andrews v. Abertillery U. D. C., [1911] 2 Ch. 398; 75 J. P. 449, it was held (KENNEDY, L.J., dissentiente) that where there was no person by whom the street was repairable the section operated as an absolute prohibition against the breaking up of the street by the undertakers, and that therefore where a strip of land adjoining a street repairable by the local authority had been dedicated to the public by the owner and had become part of the street, but was not repairable either by the local authority or by the owner or by any other person, the local authority, as undertakers for the supply of electric light in their district, had no power to break up that portion of the street. See also now s. 22 of the Electricity (Supply) Act, 1919, and s. 44, Electricity (Supply) Act, 1926, as to wayleaves, post, pp. 2795, 2934.

Restrictions as to above-ground works.

14. Notwithstanding anything in this Act or in any Act incorporated therewith, the undertakers shall not be authorised to place any electric line above ground, along, over, or across any street, without the express consent of the local authority (a), and the local authority may require the undertakers to forthwith remove any electric line placed by them contrary to the provisions of this section, or may themselves remove the same, and recover the expenses of such removal from the undertakers in a summary manner; and where any electric line has been placed above ground by the undertakers in any position, a court of summary jurisdiction, upon complaint made, if they are of opinion that such electric line is or is likely to become dangerous to the public safety, may, notwithstanding any such consent as aforesaid, make an order directing and authorising the removal of such electric line by such person and upon such terms as they may think fit.

(a) Therefore the case of Wandsworth Board of Works v. United Telephone Co., ante, p. 294, will not apply to such wires. See also National Telephone Co. v. Constables of St. Peter Port, Guernsey, ante, p. 295, and Finchley Electric Light Co., Ltd. v. Finchley U. D. C., Times, October 17th, 1901. Further restrictions are contained in the Electric Lighting Act, 1888, s. 4, and the Electric Lighting Clauses Act, 1899, Sched., clause 10 (b), post, pp. 2497, 2574. However, by s. 21 of the Electricity (Supply) Act, 1919, as amended by s. 44, Electricity (Supply) Act, 1926, the consent of the Ministry of Transport (as successor to the Board of Trade) now suffices for the placing of any electric line above ground. Wires to which this Act applies are not subject to the P. H. A., 1890, ss. 13, 14. See s. 15 of that Act, ante, p. 875. As to London, see 54 & 55 Vict. c. lxxvii.

Power to undertakers to alter position of pipes and wires.

15. Subject to the provisions of this Act and of the licence, Order, or special Act authorising them to supply electricity, and to any byelaws made under this Act (a), the undertakers may alter the position of any pipes or wires being under any street or place authorised to be broken up by them which may interfere with the exercise of their powers under this Act, on previously making or securing such compensation to the owners of such pipes or wires, and on complying with such conditions as to the mode of making such alterations as may before the commencement of such alterations be agreed upon between the undertakers and owners, or in case of difference as may be determined in manner prescribed by the licence or Provisional Order authorising the undertakers to supply electricity, or where no such manner is prescribed as may be determined by arbitration, and any local or other public authority, company, or person may in like manner alter the position of any electric lines or works of the undertakers, being under any such street or place as aforesaid, which may interfere with the lawful exercise of any powers vested in such local or other public authority, company, or person in relation to such street or place, subject to the like provisions, conditions, and restrictions as are in this section contained with reference to the alteration of the position of any pipes or wires by the undertakers (b).

(b) The provisions of this section are overridden by s. 35, Electricity (Supply) Act, 1926, post, p. 2929, in so far as alterations of works crossing a county bridge are concerned.

Clause for protection of canals.

16. If at any time after the undertakers have placed any works under, in, upon, over, along or across any canal (a), any person having power to construct docks, basins or other works upon any land adjoining to or near such canal, constructs any dock, basin or work on such land, but is prevented by the works of the undertakers from forming a communication for the convenient passage of vessels with or without masts between such dock, basin or other work, and such canal; or if the business of such dock, basin or other work is interfered with by reason or in consequence of any such works of the undertakers, then the undertakers at the request of such person, and on having reasonable facilities afforded them by him for placing works round such dock, basin or other work, under, in, upon, over, along or across land belonging to or under his control, shall remove and place their work accordingly. If any dispute arises between the undertakers and such person as to the facilities to be afforded to the undertakers, or as to the direction in which the works are to be placed, it shall be determined by arbitration.

Compensation for damage.

17. In the exercise of the powers in relation to the execution of works given them under this Act, or any licence, Order, or special Act, the undertakers shall cause as little detriment and inconvenience and do as little damage (a) as may be, and shall make full compensation to all bodies and persons interested for all damage sustained by them by reason or in consequence of the exercise of such powers, the amount and application of such compensation in case of difference to be determined by arbitration (b).

(b) See s. 28, post, p. 2452.

A company authorised by private Act to supply a certain district with electric light committed a nuisance and damage to a public-house near their lighting station, by the withdrawal of support caused in digging foundations, and by vibration in working their engines:—Held, that "works" in s. 17, as defined by s. 32 of this Act, included only what was required to supply electricity and not the actual supply, and, therefore, the case did not fall within s. 17; but the company were liable in damages at common law, and to be restrained by injunction (Shelfer v. City of London Electric Lighting Co.; Meux's Brewery, Ltd. v. City of London Electric Lighting Co., [1895] 1 Ch. 287). See also National Telephone Co. v. Baker, [1893] 2 Ch. 186; 57 J. P. 373; Att.-Gen. v. Pall

D. C.*, Times, November 30th, 1900; May 1st, 1901; Morrow v. Stepney Corporation (1921), 43 M. C. C. 33.

Note to Section 17.

A serious annoyance to adjoining occupiers by vibration, noise, and smell, is not to be excused on the ground that it is temporary and occasional (Knight v. Isle of Wight Electric Light and Power Co. (1904), 73 L. J. Ch. 299; 68 J. P. 266). This is the case although the defendants are a local authority having under a Provisional Order a power to supply electricity (Colwell v. St. Pancras Borough Council, [1904] 1 Ch. 707; 68 J. P. 286). No special consideration is due to the fact that the complaint is made in respect of a place of worship, but the general character of the neighbourhood and all the surrounding circumstances must be considered, and an injunction will be refused unless there is a serious annoyance (Heath v. Brighton Corporation (1908), 72 J. P. 225). See also as to nuisance caused by fumes from a generating station (Farnworth v. Manchester Corporation, [1929] W. N. 281; 94 J. P. 62 (H.L.), upholding decision of C. A. at [1929] 1 K. B. 533).

Undertakers not to prescribe special form of lamp or burner.

18. The undertakers shall not be entitled to prescribe any special form of lamp or burner to be used by any company or person, or in any way to control or interfere with the manner in which electricity supplied by them under this Act, and any licence, Order, or special Act, is used: Provided always that no local authority, company, or person shall be at liberty to use any form of lamp or burner or to use the electricity supplied to them for any purposes, or to deal with it in any manner so as to unduly or improperly interfere with the supply (a) of electricity supplied to any other local authority, company, or person by the undertakers (b), and if any dispute or difference arises between the undertakers, and any local authority, company, or person entitled to be supplied with electricity under this Act, or any licence, Order, or special Act, as to the matters aforesaid, such dispute or difference shall be determined by arbitration.

Obligation on undertakers to supply electricity.

19. Where a supply of electricity is provided in any part of an area for private purposes, then except in so far as is otherwise provided by the terms of the licence, Order, or special Act authorising such supply, every company or person within that part of the area shall, on application, be entitled to a supply on the same terms on which any other company or person in such part of the area is entitled under similar circumstances to a corresponding supply (a).

(a) No one is entitled to demand a supply of energy under this section unless and until he has made a contract with the undertakers for the supply. Thus a receiver for debenture-holders taking possession of a hotel for the lighting of which the company, who were proprietors, were in debt to an electric supply company, was held not to be entitled to a further supply, as he refused to pay the arrears which the electric supply company demanded payment of as a condition for continuing the light (Husey v. London Electric Supply Corporation, [1902] 1 Ch. 411).

See s. 23 (1) of the Electricity (Supply) Act, 1922, post, p. 2846, as to standby supplies of electricity; and see s. 18 of Electric Lighting Act, 1909, post, p. 2701, as to their right to refuse a supply to a person who is in their debt for electricity previously supplied.

In Metropolitan Electric Supply Co., Ltd. v. Ginder, [1901] 2 Ch. 799, at p. 811, it was held by BUCKLEY, J., that the words "a supply on the same terms" used in this section bear their natural meaning, and include price. In Att.-Gen. for Victoria v. Melbourne Corporation, [1907] A. C. 469, at p. 475, the Privy Council approved this construction with regard to the same words as used in s. 38 of the Victorian Electric Lighting and Power Act, 1896, that section being practically identical with this. But s. 39 of that Act dealing with preference differs in its wording from s. 20 of this Act, relating to the same subject. The Privy Council held that on the true construction of ss. 38 and 39 of the Victorian Act the corporation were authorised to supply electricity under two different systems of charge—one at a fixed rate and the other at a rate varying with the amount consumed, the system adopted being at the choice of the customer and no preference being given within each system to one consumer over another.

Charges for electricity.

20. The undertakers shall not, in making any agreements for a supply of electricity, show any undue preference to any local authority, company, or person, but save as aforesaid, they may make such charges for the supply of electricity as may be agreed upon, not exceeding the limits of price imposed by or in pursuance of the licence, Order, or special Act authorising them to supply electricity (a).

(a) See also the Electric Lighting Clauses Act, 1899, Sched., clauses 31—34, post, p. 2587, and the Electric Lighting Act, 1909, s. 17, post, p. 2701. A form of agreement is given in Key and Elphinstone's Precedents in Conveyancing, 8th ed.; but from the consumer's point of view the agreement should always contain a provision that no change should be made in the pressure of the supply. A contract containing a clause that the consumer agrees to take the whole of the electric energy required for his premises from the company for a period of not less than five years at a fixed charge not exceeding the limit under this section, does not contravene this or the preceding section, and may be enforced by injunction (Metropolitan Electric Supply Co. v. Ginder, [1901] 2 Ch. 799; 65 J. P. 519). Where undertakers issued a circular with reference to the price proposed to be charged for electricity to power consumers, the effect of which was in certain cases to make a lower charge for power purposes to consumers who in addition to a supply for power took exclusively a supply of electricity for lighting purposes, and a higher charge to consumers of electricity for power only or for power and partial lighting, it was held that the differentiation proposed by the circular was a breach of both ss. 19 and 20 (Att.-Gen. v. Long Eaton U. D. C., [1915] 1 Ch. 124. The principle of the last-mentioned decision was applied in Att.-Gen. v. Ilford U. D. C. (1915), 13 L. G. R. 441, and in Att.-Gen. v. Hackney Corporation, [1918] 1 Ch. 372, which last-mentioned case was, however, distinguished from the Long Eaton case on facts). By a contract for electric lighting installation, it was provided that the work should be completed in all respects before November 26th, 1898, subject to a penalty of £15 a day, and the plant by December 10th, subject to a penalty of £3 per day for every day the work remained unfinished to the satisfaction of the authorities or engineers:—Held, that although the word "penalties" was used, the amounts incurred owing to the default of the contractors were, in fact, "liquidated damages" (Re White and Arthur (1901), 84 L. T. 594). For the construction of an agreement for the supply of electricity and as to the finality of meter readings, see Gravesend and Northfleet Electric Tramways, Ltd. v. Gravesend Corporation (1910), 74 J. P. 156; 8 L. G. R. 445.

Recovery of charges, etc.

(a) These charges are recoverable like gas rents, subject to the qualifications contained in the last clause of s. 12, ante, p. 2446. See also s. 18, Electric Lighting Act, 1909, post, p. 2701. Power is given by s. 45, Electricity (Supply) Act, 1926, post, p. 2934, to recover expenses of reconnecting after a supply has been cut off under this section.

Injuring works with intent to cut off supply of electricity.

22. Any person who unlawfully and maliciously cuts or injures any electric line or work with intent to cut off any supply of electricity shall be guilty of felony, and be liable to be kept in penal servitude for any term not exceeding five years, or to be imprisoned with or without hard labour for any term not exceeding two years; but nothing in this section shall exempt a person from any proceeding for any offence which is punishable under any other provision of this Act, or under any other Act, or at common law, so that no person be punished twice for the same offence.

Stealing electricity.

23. Any person who maliciously or fraudulently abstracts, causes to be wasted or diverted, consumes, or uses any electricity shall be guilty of simple larceny and punishable accordingly.

Section 24.

Power to enter lands or premises for ascertaining quantities of electricity consumed, or to remove fittings, etc.

24. Any officer appointed by the undertakers may at all reasonable times enter (a) any premises to which electricity is or has been supplied (b) by the undertakers, in order to inspect the electric lines, meters, accumulators, fittings, works, and apparatus for the supply of electricity belonging to the undertakers (c), and for the purpose of ascertaining the quantity of electricity consumed or supplied, or where a supply of electricity is no longer required, or where the undertakers are authorised to take away and cut off the supply of electricity from any premises, for the purpose of removing any electric lines, accumulators, fittings, works, or apparatus belonging to the undertakers (c), repairing all damage caused by such entry, inspection, or removal.

(c) As to lines, etc., let on hire, or sold on the instalment principle, see s. 16 of the Electric Lighting Act, 1909, post, p. 2700. See also Electricity (Supply) Act, 1919, s. 23, post, p. 2798.

Electric lines, etc. not to be subject to distress in certain cases.

25. Where any electric lines, meters, accumulators, fittings, works, or apparatus belonging to the undertakers (a) are placed in or upon any premises not being in the possession of the undertakers for the purpose of supplying electricity under this Act, or any licence, Order, or special Act, such electric lines, meters, accumulators, fittings, works, or apparatus shall not be subject to distress or to the landlord's remedy for rent of the premises where the same may be, nor to be taken in execution under any process of a court of law or equity, or any proceedings in bankruptcy against the person in whose possession the same may be (b).

(b) A somewhat similar provision was contained in the Gasworks Clauses Act, 1847, s. 14, with reference to which see Gaslight and Coke Co. v. Hardy (1886), 17 Q. B. D. 619; 51 J. P. 6. A person who procures possession of a house under an agreement between him and the owner for a lease thereof, with the fraudulent intention of stealing the fixtures thereto belonging, and upon obtaining possession severs and steals the fixtures, was held to be guilty of larceny under the Larceny Act, 1861, s. 31 (R. v. Richards, [1911] 1 K. B. 260; 75 J. P. 144). Section 31 of the Larceny Act, 1861, has now been repealed by the Larceny Act, 1916, which consolidated the law relating to larceny triable on indictment. See s. 8 of that Act.

Provision for protection of the Postmaster-General.
41 & 42 Vict. c. 76.

26. (a) No alteration in any telegraph line of the Postmaster-General shall be made by the undertakers except subject to the provisions of the Telegraph Act, 1878.

The undertakers shall not in the exercise of the powers conferred by this Act, or by any licence, Order, or special Act, lay down any electric line or do any other work for the supply of electricity whereby any telegraphic line of the Postmaster-General is or may be injuriously affected, and before any such electric line is laid down or work is done within ten yards of any part of a telegraphic line of the Postmaster-General (other than repairs or the laying of connexions with mains where the direction of the electric lines so laid down crosses the line of the Postmaster-General at right angles at the point of shortest distance and continues the same for a distance of six feet on each side of such point) (b) the undertakers or their agents not more than twenty-eight nor less than seven clear days [one month, or, in the case of the laying of service lines to consumers' premises, seven clear days] (c) before commencing such work shall give written notice to the Postmaster-General specifying the course and nature of the work, including the gauge of any electric lines, and the undertakers and their agents shall conform with such reasonable requirements either general or special as may from time to time be made by the Postmaster-General for the purpose of preventing any telegraphs of the Postmaster-General from being injuriously affected by the said work.

Any difference which arises between the Postmaster-General and the undertakers or their agents with respect to any requirements so made, shall be determined by arbitration.

In the event of any contravention of or wilful non-compliance with this section by the undertakers or their agents the undertakers shall be liable to a fine not exceeding ten pounds for every day during which such contravention or non-compliance continues, or, if the telegraphic communication is wilfully interrupted, not exceeding fifty pounds for every day on which such interruption continues.

Provided that nothing in this section shall subject the undertakers or their agents to a fine under this section, if they satisfy the court having cognizance of the case that the immediate execution of the work was required to avoid an accident, or otherwise was a work of emergency, and that they forthwith served on the postmaster or sub-postmaster of the postal telegraph office nearest to the place where the work was done a notice of the execution thereof, stating the reason for executing the same without previous notice.

For the purposes of this section a telegraphic line of the Postmaster-General shall be deemed to be injuriously affected by a work if telegraphic communication by means of such line is, whether through induction or otherwise, in any manner affected by such work, or by any use made of such work.

For the purposes of this section, and subject as therein provided, sections two, seven, eight, nine, ten, eleven, and twelve of the Telegraph Act, 1878, shall be deemed to be incorporated with this Act, as if the undertakers were undertakers within the meaning of those sections, without prejudice nevertheless to any operation which the other sections of the said Act would have had if this section had not been enacted (d).

(a) See also s. 4 of the Act of 1888, post, p. 2497. This section is extended by s. 24 (2) Electricity (Supply) Act, 1926, post, p. 2924, to apply to all Government departments where the Central Electricity Board are the undertakers. See also s. 46 (3), ibid., in relation to supplies by railway companies.

(c) The italicised words were repealed by s. 25 of the Electricity (Supply) Act, 1919, and by the same section the words in brackets were inserted.

(d) Section 2 of the Telegraph Act, 1878, contains certain definitions of expressions used in that Act, and is amended by the Light Railways Act, 1896, s. 25. Section 7 makes provision as to work done in pursuance of special Acts of Parliament which involves alteration in any telegraphic line. Section 8 deals with compensation and fines for injury to any telegraphic line of the Postmaster-General, and for interruption of telegraphic communication. Section 9 enacts a penalty for obstruction. Section 10 provides for the prosecution of offences. See further, as to the protection of the Postmaster-General, note (b) to s. 4 of the 1888 Act, post, p. 2498, and the Electric Lighting Clauses Act, 1899, Sched., clauses 14, 79, post, pp. 2576, 2599, and Postmaster-General v. Liverpool Corporation, [1923] A. C. 587 ; 87 J. P. 157.

27. [Purchase of undertaking by local authority.] (a)

(a) This section was repealed by the Electric Lighting Act, 1888, s. 2, post, p. 2495, which contained substituted provisions as to purchase by the local authority, but see now also s. 7 of the Electric Lighting Act, 1909, post, p. 2698, and s. 13 (2) and (3) of the Electricity (Supply) Act, 1919, post, pp. 2788, 2789.

Arbitration.

28. Where any matter is by this Act, or any licence, Order, or special Act (a), directed to be determined by arbitration, such matter shall, except as otherwise expressly provided, be determined by an engineer or other fit person to be nominated as arbitrator by the Board of Trade (b), on the application of either party, and the expenses of the arbitration shall be borne and paid as the arbitrator directs.

Section 28.

Any licence or Provisional Order granted under this Act shall be deemed to be a special Act within the meaning of the Board of Trade Arbitrations, etc., Act, 1874.

(a) Or by the Electric Lighting Clauses Act, 1899, post, p. 2569, where it applies. See, for instance, clause 18 (4) of the Schedule to that Act and Chepstow Electric Light and Power Co. v. Chepstow Gas and Coke Consumers' Co., [1905] 1 K. B. 198; 69 J. P. 72.

Power for Board of Trade to relieve gas undertakers from obligation to supply gas in certain cases.

29. Where a supply of electricity is authorised in any area by any licence, Order, or special Act, and a supply of gas by any gas undertakers is also authorised within such area or any part thereof by any Provisional Order or special Act under the provisions of which such gas undertakers are under any general or limited obligation to supply gas upon demand (a), the Board of Trade (b) may, upon the application of such gas undertakers, inquire into the circumstances of the case, and if they are satisfied that any specified part of such area is sufficiently supplied with electric light, and that the supply of gas in such specified part has ceased to be remunerative to the gas undertakers, and that it is just that such gas undertakers should be relieved from the obligation to supply gas upon demand as aforesaid, the Board of Trade (b) may in their discretion make an Order relieving the gas undertakers from such obligation, within such specified part of such area, either wholly or in part, and upon such terms and conditions as they may think proper; and from and after the date of such Order such gas undertakers shall be so relieved accordingly. All expenses of the Board of Trade (b) in connection with any such inquiry or Order shall be borne and paid by the gas undertakers upon whose application the inquiry or Order was made.

(a) See the Gasworks Clauses Act, 1871, ss. 11, 36, ante, pp. 2317, 2323. As to the power of gas undertakers to obtain powers for the supply of electricity, see Statutory Gas Companies (Electricity Supply Powers) Act, 1925, and s. 49, Electricity (Supply) Act, 1926, post, pp. 2885, 2937.

Annual report by Board of Trade (a)

30. Not later than the first day of July in each year the Board of Trade (a) shall lay before both Houses of Parliament a report respecting the applications to and proceedings of the Board of Trade (a) under this Act during the year then last past (b).

(a) See note (a) to s. 1, ante, p. 2438.

(b) See also s. 13 of the Electric Lighting Act, 1909, post, p. 2700, as to the Ministry of Transport making a return with regard to auditors' reports.

Definition of local authority, etc.

31. In this Act, unless the context otherwise requires, the expressions "local authority" and "local rate" mean, as respects each district set forth in the first column of the Schedule to this Act annexed, the authority and rate mentioned opposite to that district in the second and third columns of that Schedule; and such Schedule, and the notes appended thereto, shall be of the same validity as if enacted in the body of the Act.

Interpretation.

32. In this Act, unless the context otherwise requires—

The expression "electricity" means electricity, electric current, or any like agency (a):

The expression "electric line" means a wire or wires, conductor, or other means used for the purpose of conveying, transmitting, or distributing electricity with any casing, coating, covering, tube, pipe, or insulator enclosing, surrounding, or supporting the same, or any part thereof, or any apparatus connected therewith for the purpose of conveying transmitting, or distributing electricity or electric currents:

The expression "works" means and includes electric lines, also any buildings, machinery, engines, works, matters, or things of whatever description required to supply electricity and to carry into effect the object of the undertakers under this Act (b):

The expression "company" means any body of persons corporate or unincorporate:

8 & 9 Vict. c. 18. 23 & 24 Vict. c. 106. 32 & 33 Vict. c. 18.

The expression "Lands Clauses Acts" means the Lands Clauses Consolidation Acts, 1845, 1860, and 1869:

The expression "street" includes any square, court, or alley, highway, lane, road, thoroughfare, or public passage, or place, within the area in which the undertakers are authorised to supply electricity by this Act or any licence, Order, or special Act (c):

32 & 33 Vict. c. 73.

The expression "telegram" has the same meaning as in the Telegraph Act, 1869 (d).

(a) See definition of "energy" in the Electric Lighting Clauses Act, 1899, Sched., clause 1, post, p. 2570.

(c) See a further definition of this expression for the purposes of the Electric Lighting Act, 1888, s. 4, in sub-s. (5) of that section, post, p. 2498.

(d) By s. 3 of the Telegraph Act, 1869, the term "telegram" shall mean any message or other communication transmitted or intended for transmission by telegraph. And the term "telegraph" shall, in addition to the meaning assigned to it in the Telegraph Act, 1863, mean and include any apparatus for transmitting messages or other communications by means of electric signals. These definitions include the telephone and telephonic messages (Att.-Gen. v. Edison Telephone Co. of London (1880), 6 Q. B. D. 244).

For the protection of mines.

33. Nothing in this Act shall limit or interfere with the rights of any owner, lessee, or occupier of any mines or minerals lying under or adjacent to any road along or across which any electric line shall be laid to work such mines and minerals.

Provision as to general Acts.

34. Nothing in this Act shall exempt the undertakers or their undertaking from the provisions of any general Act relating to the supply of electricity which may be passed in this or any future session of Parliament (a).

Saving for privileges of Postmaster-General.

35. Nothing in this Act or in any licence, Order, or special Act, shall affect the exclusive privileges conferred upon the Postmaster-General by the Telegraph Act, 1869, or authorise or enable any local authority, company, or person to transmit any telegram or to perform any of the incidental services of receiving, collecting, or delivering telegrams, or give to any local authority, company, or person, any power, authority, or facility of any kind whatever, in connection with the transmission of telegrams, or the performance of any of the incidental services of receiving, collecting, or delivering telegrams (a).

(a) See also the Electric Lighting Act, 1888, s. 4 (5), post, p. 2498. The Postmaster-General may, by written licence, under the Telegraph Act, 1869, s. 5, authorise the transmission of telegrams otherwise than by the post office. As to payment of expenses of exercise of powers by an urban district council under a telephone licence from the Postmaster-General, see the Telegraph Act, 1899, s. 2, post, p. 2608.

Note to Section 35.

Section 36 relates to Scotland, and s. 37 to Ireland. These sections and the parts of the Schedule relating to Scotland and Ireland are omitted.

PART IV.

AMENDMENT OF ACTS.

7. (a) . . .

Amendment of 24 & 25 Vict. c. 45, as to provision for loans in Provisional Order respecting harbours.

(1) Where a Provisional Order under the General Pier and Harbour Act, 1861, authorises any public body to raise a loan for the construction of any works as defined by that Act in any place, the same or any other order may authorise any rating authority as hereinafter defined in that place, under the circumstances and subject to the conditions specified in the order, to charge, if they think it expedient for the inhabitants at large of such place, any fund or rate under their control for the purpose of aiding the public body in raising the said loan, or any part thereof, from the Public Works Loan Commissioners, and to give such aid by guaranteeing the principal and interest of the loan or by borrowing the sum required and advancing it to the public body, or partly in one way and partly in the other, or otherwise in manner provided by the order.

(2) The order shall provide that the resolution of the rating authority to give the guarantee shall be a special resolution, that is to say, a resolution passed at one meeting of such authority and published in manner directed by the order, so as to give notice to all persons interested, and confirmed at a second meeting of the rating authority held not less than fourteen days after the first of such public notices has been given, and not less than three months after the meeting at which the resolution was passed.

Section 7.

(3) The order shall provide for the time within which and the mode in which any money borrowed by the rating authority is to be repaid, and for the effectual recovery out of the said fund or rate of any sum payable under the guarantee, and of the principle and interest of any money borrowed by the said authority, and for the reimbursement of the fund or rate out of the income of the said works, or otherwise by the said public body, and shall contain such incidental provisions as seem necessary or proper for carrying this section into effect.

(4) The promoters of an order proposing to confer power under this section on any rating authority shall, a reasonable time before they apply to the Board of Trade to settle the order, submit to the Local Government Board . . . a statement of such proposal, and if the Local Government Board . . . declare that in their opinion, having regard to the financial condition of the rating authority, or to the necessity for such rating authority to provide a water supply or drainage for the inhabitants of the said place, or otherwise to fulfil the original duties of such authority, it is inexpedient to burden such rating authority with any such charge as is mentioned in such proposal, the Board of Trade in settling the order shall omit any provision conferring power on the rating authority under this section (b).

In this section—

The expression "public body" means any rating authority, also any commissioners, or trustees, or other body or person who manage or undertake the works without any view to the payment of any dividend or profits out of the revenue from such works:

The expression "rating authority" means—

(1) As regards England, any authority being an urban sanitary authority under the Public Health Act, 1875 (c), and the Acts amending the same; and (d)

38 & 39 Vict. c. 55.

(c) See s. 6 of that Act, ante, p. 39. This definition is extended by the Public Works Loans Act, 1887, s. 4, post, p. 2494, to rural sanitary authorities, quarter sessions, and county councils.

(d) The remainder of this section relates to Scotland and Ireland only, and is, therefore, omitted.

Account in case of loan on security of rate. 38 & 39 Vict. c. 89.

8. Where after the passing of this Act any money is advanced by the Public Works Loan Commissioners on the security of a rate as defined by the Public Works Loans Act, 1875, the borrowers shall cause their treasurer to keep a separate account under the title of the Public Works Loan Commissioners Loan Account, or such other title as may be approved by the Local Government Board, and shall cause all the said advances to be carried to the credit of that account, and all orders or other documents directing payments out of such account shall show on the face of them that the payment is to be made out of that account (a), and an order or other document for a payment out of the said account shall not be made or given except the payment is for a purpose for which the said advances were made (b).

(a) This prevents any such order from being a bill of exchange within the meaning of the Bills of Exchange Act, 1882. See s. 3 (3) of that Act.

Note to Section 8.

(b) Section 9 repealed the Public Works Loans Act, 1875, s. 13, and the Public Works Loans (Ireland) Act, 1877, s. 11, and is itself repealed by the S. L. R. A., 1898. Section 10 relates to Ireland only, and s. 11 makes provision with regard to certain local loans, and are therefore omitted.

THE LANDS CLAUSES (UMPIRE) ACT, 1883.

(46 & 47 VICT. c. 15.)

An Act to amend the Lands Clauses Consolidation Act, 1845.
[18th June, 1883.]

Amendment of s. 28 of 8 Vict. c. 18, extending the powers of appointment of umpire by Board of Trade.

1. . . . section twenty-eight of the Lands Clauses Consolidation Act, 1845 (a), shall be read and have effect as follows:

> 28. If in either of the cases aforesaid the said arbitrators shall refuse or shall for seven days after request of either party to such arbitration neglect to appoint an umpire, the Board of Trade shall, on the application of either party to such arbitration, appoint an umpire, and the decision of such umpire on the matters on which the arbitrators shall differ, or which shall be referred to him under this or the special Act, shall be final.

(a) See that section, ante, p. 2098. This Act is printed having regard to the repeals in s. 1 effected by the S. L. R. A., 1898.

Short title.

2. This Act may be cited as the Lands Clauses (Umpire) Act, 1883.

THE MUNICIPAL ELECTIONS (CORRUPT AND ILLEGAL PRACTICES) ACT, 1884.

(47 & 48 VICT. c. 70) (a).

An Act for the better Prevention of Corrupt and Illegal Practices at Municipal and other Elections. [14th August, 1884.]

Short title.

1. This Act may be cited as the Municipal Elections (Corrupt and Illegal Practices) Act, 1884.

(a) This statute applies to elections of urban district councillors for districts not being municipal boroughs and of rural district councillors under s. 48 (3) of the L. G. A., 1894, ante, p. 1012. It is, therefore, set out here. It was made a permanent Act by s. 35 of the Representation of the People Act, 1918. The notes, of course, have reference only to the application of the Acts to elections of sanitary bodies, such as councillors for urban districts not being boroughs, and of rural district councils. For an amending Act of 1911, see post, p. 2708.

CORRUPT PRACTICES.

Definition and punishment of corrupt practices at municipal election.

2.—(1) The expression "corrupt practice" in this Act means any of the following offences, namely, treating, undue influence, bribery, and personation as defined by the enactments set forth in Part One of the Third Schedule to this Act, and aiding, abetting, counselling, and procuring the commission of the offence of personation (a).

(2) A person who commits any corrupt practice in reference to a municipal election shall be guilty of the like offence, and shall on conviction be liable to the like punishment, and subject to the like incapacities, as if the corrupt practice had been committed in reference to a parliamentary election (b).

Note to Section 2.

(a) This provision takes the place of a repealed clause in s. 77 of the Municipal Corporations Act, 1882. The offence of aiding, etc. the commission of the offence of personation is new. See further the East Kerry Case (1910), 6 O'M. & H. 58.

(b) By the Corrupt and Illegal Practices Prevention Act, 1883, s. 6, corrupt practices other than personation, or aiding, etc. in the commission of personation, are declared to be misdemeanors, and any person convicted of any of them is liable to be imprisoned, with or without hard labour, for a term not exceeding two years, or to be fined any sum not exceeding £200. A person who commits the offence of personation or of aiding, etc. the commission of that offence, is guilty of felony, and liable on conviction to be imprisoned, with or without hard labour, for a period not exceeding two years. In addition to these punishments, a person who is convicted on indictment of any corrupt practices shall not be capable for a period of seven years from the date of his conviction (a) of being registered as an elector or voting at any election in the United Kingdom whether it be a parliamentary election or an election for any public office (see infra); or (b) of holding any public or judicial office (see infra), and if he holds any such office the office shall be vacated. Any person so convicted of a corrupt practice in reference to any election shall also be incapable of being elected to and of sitting in the House of Commons during the seven years next after the date of his conviction, and if at that date he has been elected to the House of Commons his election shall be vacated from the time of such conviction. By s. 64, the expression "public office" means any office under the Crown or under the charter of a city or a municipal borough, or under the Acts relating to municipal corporations, or to the poor law, or under the Elementary Education Act, 1870, or under the P. H. A., 1875, or under any Acts amending the above-mentioned Acts, or under any other Acts for the time being in force (whether passed before or after the commencement of this Act) relating to local government, whether the office is that of mayor, chairman, alderman, councillor, guardian, member of a board, commission, or other local authority in any county, city, borough, union, sanitary district, or other area, or is the office of clerk of the peace, town clerk, clerk or other officer under a council, board, commission, or other authority, or is any other office to which a person is elected and appointed under any such charter or Act as above mentioned, and includes any other municipal or parochial office; and the expressions "election," "election petition," "election court," and "register of electors," shall, where expressed to refer to an election for any such public office, be construed accordingly. The expression "judicial office" includes the office of justice of the peace.

As to the form of indictment for corrupt practices, see R. v. Stroulger (1886), 17 Q. B. D. 327; 51 J. P. 278.

Each act of bribery is a distinct offence for which separate penalties are incurred (Milnes v. Bale (1875), L. R. 10 C. P. 327; 39 J. P. 743).

Incapacity of candidate reported guilty of corrupt practice. 45 & 46 Vict. c. 50.

3.—(1) Where upon the trial of an election petition (a) respecting a municipal election (b) for a borough or ward of a borough it is found by the report of an election court made in pursuance of section ninety-three of the Municipal Corporations Act, 1882 (c), that any corrupt practice, other than treating and undue influence, has been proved to have been committed in reference to such election by or with the knowledge and consent of any candidate at such election, or that the offence of treating or undue influence has been proved to have been committed in reference to such election by any candidate at such election, that candidate shall not be capable of ever holding a corporate office (d) in the said borough, and if he has been elected his election shall be void; and he shall further be subject to the same incapacities as if at the date of the said report he had been convicted of a corrupt practice (e).

(2) Upon the trial of an election petition (a) respecting a municipal election (b) for a borough or ward of a borough in which a charge is made of any corrupt practice having been committed in reference to such election, the election court shall report in writing to the High Court whether any of the candidates at such election has been guilty by his agents of any corrupt practice in reference to such election, and if the report is that any candidate at such election has been guilty by his agents of a corrupt practice in reference to such election, that candidate shall not be capable of being elected to or holding any corporate office (d), in the said borough, during a period of three years from the date of the report, and if he has been elected, his election shall be void.

(a) As to election petitions in respect of corrupt practices, see the Municipal Corporations Act, 1882, s. 87, ante, p. 2418; and in respect of illegal practices, see s. 25 of this

Act, post, p. 2472. For the application of these sections to elections of urban district councillors for districts not being boroughs and of rural district councillors, see s. 36, post, p. 2478.

(b) This includes for the purposes of this Work, the election of urban district councillors for districts not being boroughs and of rural district councillors. See s. 36, post, p. 2478, and the Election Orders reproduced in App. II., post, pp. 3196 et seq.

(c) Ante, p. 2422.

(d) This means the office of an urban or rural district councillor, as the case may be. See s. 36, post, p. 2478, and the Election Orders in App. II., post, p. 3196. But where he is guilty of a corrupt practice by his agents only and not personally, he is not deprived of his right to vote at a parliamentary election (Morris v. Shrewsbury Town Clerk, [1909] 1 K. B. 342; 73 J. P. 28).

(e) These incapacities are set forth in note (b) to s. 2, ante, p. 2461. A single act of bribery by an agent will render an election void (Norwich Election Petition (1886), 54 L. T. 625; 4 O'M. & H. 84).

ILLEGAL PRACTICES (a).

Certain expenditure to be illegal practice.

4.—(1) No payment or contract for payment shall, for the purpose of promoting or procuring the election of a candidate at a municipal election, be made—

(a) on account of the conveyance of electors to or from the poll, whether for the hiring of horses or carriages, or for railway fares, or otherwise; or

(b) to an elector on account of the use of any house, land, building, or premises for the exhibition of an address, bill, or notice, or on account of the exhibition of any address, bill, or notice; or

(c) on account of any committee room in excess of the number allowed by this Act (that is to say), if the election is for a borough one committee room for the borough, and if the election is for a ward one committee room for the ward (b), and if the number of electors in such borough or ward exceeds two thousand, one additional committee room for every two thousand electors and incomplete part of two thousand electors, over and above the said two thousand.

(2) Subject to such exception as may be allowed in pursuance of this Act, if any payment or contract for payment is knowingly made in contravention of this section either before, during, or after a municipal election (c), the person making such payment or contract shall be guilty of an illegal practice, and any person (d) receiving such payment or being a party to any such contract, knowing the same to be in contravention of this Act, shall also be guilty of an illegal practice.

(3) Provided that where it is the ordinary business of an elector as an advertising agent to exhibit for payment bills and advertisements, a payment to or contract with such elector if made in the ordinary course of business, shall not be deemed to be an illegal practice within the meaning of this section (e).

(a) The Act must be "taken to be amended as if the illegal practice defined by" the amending Act of 1911 "had been contained therein." The illegal practice referred to (see the Act, post, p. 2708) is the making or publishing of certain false statements with regard to a candidate.

(b) In applying this clause to elections of urban district councillors for districts not being boroughs, the word borough or ward must be read to mean urban district or ward of such district, or parish or united parishes in the case of elections of rural district councillors (s. 36 (1) (a), post, p. 2478).

(c) See note (b) to s. 3, supra.

(d) The word person here is presumed to mean elector in cases falling within clause (b), as it does not appear to be illegal to make payments such as those mentioned in that clause to any person other than an elector.

(e) This proviso qualifies the provisions of clause (b).

5. [Expense in excess of maximum to be illegal practice] (a). Section 5.

(a) This section cannot apply to elections of urban district councillors for districts not being boroughs or of rural district councillors. See s. 37, post, p. 2479. So far as it was operative, it was amended by s. 1 of the Local Elections (Expenses) Act, 1919, which substituted "twopence for each elector" for "threepence for each elector."

Voting by prohibited persons and publishing of false statements of withdrawal to be illegal.

6.—(1) If any person votes or induces or procures any person to vote at a municipal election, knowing that he or such person is prohibited, whether by this or any other Act, from voting at such election, he shall be guilty of an illegal practice (a).

(2) Any person who before or during a municipal election knowingly publishes a false statement of the withdrawal of a candidate at such election for the purpose of promoting or procuring the election of another candidate shall be guilty of an illegal practice.

(3) Provided that a candidate shall not be liable, nor shall his election be avoided, for any illegal practice under this section committed without his knowledge and consent (b).

(a) As to the persons prohibited from voting by this Act, see ss. 7, 8, 13, 18, 22, 23, and Sched. III., Part II., post. A convicted felon is disqualified to vote at any election until he has undergone his punishment or been pardoned (33 & 34 Vict. c. 23, s. 1).

(b) But quære, if the illegal practice has been committed by his agents. It would appear from s. 8 (2), infra, that the election would be avoided in that event.

Punishment on conviction of illegal practice.

7. A person guilty of an illegal practice in reference to a municipal election shall on summary conviction be liable to a fine not exceeding one hundred pounds and be incapable during a period of five years from the date of his conviction of being registered as an elector or voting at an election (whether it be a parliamentary election or an election for a public office (a) within the meaning of this Act) held for or within the borough (b) in which the illegal practice has been committed.

(b) See note (b) to s. 4, ante, p. 2462.

Incapacity of candidate reported guilty of illegal practice.
45 & 46 Vict. c. 50.

8.—(1) An illegal practice within the meaning of this Act shall be deemed to be an offence against Part Four of the Municipal Corporations Act, 1882 (a), and a petition alleging such illegal practice may be presented and tried accordingly.

(2) Upon the trial of an election petition respecting a municipal election for a borough or ward of a borough (b) in which a charge is made of any illegal practice having been committed in reference to such election, the election court shall report in writing to the High Court whether any of the candidates at such election has been guilty by himself or his agents (c) of an illegal practice in reference to such election, and if the report is that a candidate at such election has been guilty by himself or his agents (c) of an illegal practice in reference to such election, the candidate shall not be capable of being elected to or of holding any corporate office (d) in the said borough during the period for which he was elected to serve, or for which if elected he might have served, and if he was elected, his election shall be void; and, if the report is that such candidate has himself been guilty of such illegal practice, he shall also be subject to the same incapacities as if at the date of the report he had been convicted of such illegal practice (e).

(c) But in the case of the illegal practice defined by the amending Act of 1911, post, a candidate is not necessarily to be held responsible for the act of his agent: see s. 1 (4) ibid., post, p. 2708.

(d) See note (d) to s. 3, ante, p. 2462.

(e) These incapacities are stated in s. 7, supra.

ILLEGAL PAYMENT, EMPLOYMENT, AND HIRING.

Providing of money for illegal practice or payment to be illegal payment.

9. Where a person knowingly provides money for any payment which is contrary to the provisions of this Act, or for any expenses incurred in excess of any maximum amount allowed by this Act (a), or for replacing any money expended in any such payment, except where the same may have been previously allowed in pursuance of this Act to be an exception (b), such person shall be guilty of illegal payment (c).

(a) The provisions of this Act as to maximum expenses do not apply to elections of urban district councillors for districts not being boroughs, or of rural district councillors. See s. 37, post, p. 2478.

(b) See ss. 19, 20, post, pp. 2467, 2468.

(c) Employment for payment of persons to keep order at meetings is an illegal employment (Packard v. Collings (1886), 54 L. T. 619). Gratuitous refreshments to workers render their employment illegal within this section (Barrow Election Petition (1886), 54 L. T. 618).

Employment of hackney carriages, or of carriages and horses kept for hire (a).

(2) A person shall not hire, borrow, or use for the purpose of the conveyance of electors to or from the poll any carriage, horse, or other animal which he knows the owner thereof is prohibited by this section to let, lend, or employ for that purpose, and if he does do so he shall be guilty of illegal hiring.

(3) Nothing in this Act shall prevent a carriage, horse, or other animal being let to or hired, employed, or used by an elector, or several electors at their joint cost, for the purpose of conveying him or them to or from the poll.

(4) No person shall be liable to pay any duty or to take out a licence for any carriage by reason only of such carriage being used without payment or promise of payment for the conveyance of electors to or from the poll at an election.

Corrupt withdrawal from a candidature.

(a) See note (b) to s. 2, ante, p. 2641.

(b) Note that the consideration must be payment or promise of payment. Withdrawal for other considerations is not within this section. By s. 34, post, p. 2477, and s. 64 of the Corrupt and Illegal Practices Prevention Act, 1883, therein referred to, the expression "payment" includes any pecuniary or other reward, and the expressions "pecuniary reward" and "money" include any office, place or employment, and any valuable security or other equivalent for money, and any valuable consideration, and expressions referring to money must be construed accordingly.

Certain expenditure to be illegal payment.

12.—(1) No payment or contract for payment shall, for the purpose of promoting or procuring the election of a candidate at a municipal election, be made on account of bands of music, torches, flags, banners, cockades, ribbons, or other marks of distinction (a).

(2) Subject to such exception as may be allowed in pursuance of this Act (b), if any payment or contract for payment is made in contravention of this section, either before, during, or after an election, the person making such payment shall be guilty of illegal payment, and any person being a party to any such contract or receiving such payment shall also be guilty of illegal payment, if he knew that the same was contrary to law (c).

(a) Cards to be worn in voters' hats bearing a likeness of the candidate and an invitation to vote for him, are marks of distinction within the meaning of this section (Walsall (1892), 4 O'M. & H. 126).

(b) See ss. 19, 20, post, pp. 2467, 2468.

(c) Note that ignorance of the law will not be an excuse for the party paying.

Certain employment to be illegal.

13.—(1) No person shall, for the purpose of promoting or procuring the election of a candidate at a municipal election, be engaged or employed for payment, or promise of payment for any purpose or in any capacity whatever (a), except as follows (that is to say),

(a) a number of persons may be employed, not exceeding two for a borough or ward (b), and if the number of electors in such borough or ward exceeds two thousand one additional person may be employed for every thousand electors and incomplete part of a thousand electors over and above the said two thousand, and such persons may be employed as clerks and messengers, or in either capacity; and

(b) one polling agent may be employed in each polling station:

Provided that this section shall not apply to any engagement or employment for carrying into effect a contract bonâ fide made with any person in the ordinary course of business (c).

(2) Subject to such exception as may be allowed in pursuance of this Act (d), if any person is engaged or employed in contravention of this section, either before, during, or after an election, the person engaging or employing him shall be guilty of illegal employment (d), and the person so engaged or employed shall also be guilty of illegal employment if he knew that he was engaged or employed in contravention of this Act (e).

(3) A person legally employed for payment under this section may or may not be an elector, but may not vote (f).

(a) E.g., an election agent (Ex parte Walker (1889), 22 Q. B. D. 384; 53 J. P. 260). Note, that under the General Orders of the L. G. B., dated January 1st, 1898, relating to elections of urban and rural district councillors (see App. II., post, p. 3196), so much of this section as permits one polling agent to be employed in each polling station does not apply, except so far as the employment of polling agents is permitted under the respective rules of such orders relating to polling agents.

(b) See note (b) to s. 4, ante, p. 2462.

(c) This appears to be intended to meet the case of a person who contracts for the purposes of the election, e.g., for printing. The employees of such persons are not to be deemed to be employed within the meaning of this section.

(d) Note that ignorance of the law will not be an excuse for the party employing.

(f) This sub-section was repealed by s. 47 and the 8th Schedule to the Representation of the People Act, 1918, and by s. 9 (4) of that Act it is provided that a person shall not be disqualified from voting by reason that he is employed for payment so long as the employment is legal.

Name and address of printer on placards.

14. Every bill, placard, or poster having reference to a municipal election (a) shall bear upon the face thereof the name and address of the printer and publisher thereof; and any person printing, publishing, or posting, or causing to be printed, published, or posted, any such bill, placard, or poster as aforesaid, which fails to bear upon the face thereof the name and address of the printer and publisher, shall, if he is a candidate, be guilty of an illegal practice, and if he is not the candidate, shall be liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding one hundred pounds (b).

(b) The appellant was a candidate for a seat on a local board. The respondent received from his own servant at his residence a printed address and letter having reference to the election, and purporting to be signed by the appellant, but having no printer's name thereon. This document was printed for publication by instructions conveyed to the printer in a letter from the appellant's brother, who resided with him. The printer debited the appellant with the cost of printing, but was not paid:—Held, on these facts, that there was no evidence that the appellant had "printed or caused to be printed" the document in question. Placards or posters also without the printer's name and address printed by the instructions of one E., who was advertised in a local newspaper as chairman of a committee for promoting the election of the appellant, and who sent the copy to the printer, were proved to have been posted about the district at E.'s expense. The court doubted whether this was evidence of the printing and posting by an agent of the appellant, but the justices having convicted the appellant in one penalty for both offences, and the conviction being bad as to the first:—Held, that it was bad altogether (Bettesworth v. Allingham (1886), 16 Q. B. D. 44; 50 J. P. 55).

In the above case the court seemed to assume that a circular containing an election address was a bill, placard, or poster within the meaning of the section. In some cases which came before the courts subsequently, it was held that such a circular was not a bill, placard, or poster. See per Lord COLERIDGE, C.J., and MANISTY, J., in the cases reported in 5 T. L. R. 160; and per FRY, L.J., and MANISTY, J., ibid., 170. In other cases, however, the court granted relief under s. 20 (e.g., Ex parte Bartlett, Times, October 30th, 1900), so that the point is still in doubt.

In Alcott v. Emden (1904), 68 J. P. 434; 20 T. L. R. 487, it was held that a circular sent out in August with reference to the possible candidature in November of a certain alderman for the office of mayor, such circular being headed "Shall he be our new mayor?" and six copies marked private being sent in sealed envelopes to certain persons interested in the election, was a bill with reference to a municipal election within the meaning of this section and should have borne the printer's name and address.

The name and address of the publisher must appear as well as those of the printer if they are different persons. It has not yet been expressly decided whether a candidate is liable to penalties under this section if he publishes a placard, etc. on which his name and address appear, but which does not explicitly describe him as the publisher; but in the year 1889 the High Court excused a number of candidates in respect of such omissions.

A person other than a candidate is not by this section declared to be guilty of an illegal practice, payment, employment, or hiring. He cannot, therefore, be excused under s. 20 (Ex parte Lenanton (1889), 53 J. P. 263).

Saving for creditors.

15. The provisions of this Act prohibiting certain payments and contracts for payments, and the payment of any sum, and the incurring of any expense, in excess of a certain maximum, shall not affect the right of any creditor who, when the contract was made or the expense was incurred, was ignorant of the same being in contravention of this Act (a).

(a) Hence in the case of an expense incurred in contravention of the Act, the illegality of the expense will be no defence to an action by a creditor who, when the expense was incurred, was ignorant of its being in contravention of the Act. This provision is necessary for the protection of creditors who have no means of knowing what other expenses have been incurred by a candidate. The provisions of the Act as to maximum expenses do not, however, apply to elections of district councillors for urban districts not being boroughs or of rural district councillors. See s. 37, post, p. 2478. See ss. 19, 20, post.

Use of certain premises for committee rooms or meetings to be illegal hiring.

16.—(1) (a) Any premises, which are licensed for the sale of any intoxicating liquor for consumption on or off the premises, or on which refreshment of any kind (whether food or drink) is ordinarily sold for consumption on the premises (a), or

(b) Any premises where any intoxicating liquor is supplied to members of a club, society or association, or any part of any such premises, shall not, for the purpose of promoting or procuring the election of a candidate at a municipal election, be used either as a committee room or for holding a meeting, and if any person hires or uses any such premises or any part thereof in contravention of this section he shall be guilty of illegal hiring, and the person letting or permitting the use of such premises or part thereof, if he knew it was intended to use the same in contravention of this section, shall also be guilty of illegal hiring.

Section 16.

(2) Provided that nothing in this section shall apply to any part of such premises which is ordinarily let for the purpose of chambers or offices or the holding of public meetings or of arbitrations, if such part has a separate entrance and no direct communication with any part of the premises on which any intoxicating liquor or refreshment is sold or supplied as aforesaid.

(a) It should be noticed that this section applies to any premises on which refreshment is sold for consumption on the premises, or on which liquor is sold, whether for consumption on or off the premises. It applies even where the door of communication between the part used for the election and the part used for the sale of intoxicating liquors is kept locked (Ex parte Payne, Times, November 2nd, 1894). Thus a place where sandwiches are sold for consumption at the counter was in one case which came before the court in 1889 held to be within this provision; but the section does not apply to a club unless liquor is supplied in it.

Note, that under the Rural District Councillors Election Order, 1898, in App. II., post, p. 3219, r. 26 (7), nothing in this Act shall render it unlawful to hold a meeting for the purpose of promoting or procuring the election of a candidate to the office of rural district councillor on any licensed or other premises not situate in an urban district or in the administrative county of London.

Punishment of illegal payment, employment, or hiring.

17.—(1) A person guilty of an offence of illegal payment, employment, or hiring shall, on summary conviction, be liable to a fine not exceeding one hundred pounds.

(2) Where an offence of illegal payment, employment, or hiring is committed by a candidate, or with his knowledge and consent, such candidate shall be guilty of an illegal practice (a).

Avoidance of election for extensive illegal practices, etc.

18. Where upon the trial of an election petition respecting a municipal election for a borough or ward of a borough it is found by the election court that illegal practices or offences of illegal payment, employment, or hiring, committed in reference to such election for the purpose of promoting the election of a candidate at that election, have so extensively prevailed (a) that they may be reasonably supposed to have affected the result of that election (b), the election court shall report such finding to the High Court, and the election of such candidate, if he has been elected, shall be void, and he shall not, during the period for which he was elected to serve, or for which, if elected, he might have served, be capable of being elected to or holding any corporate office (c) in the said borough.

(a) Note that this section may apply, although the practices in question have been committed by persons other than the candidate or his agents; but in such a case the candidate could protect himself under ss. 19, 20.

(c) See note (b) to s. 2, ante, p. 2461.

EXCUSE AND EXCEPTION FOR CORRUPT OR ILLEGAL PRACTICE OR ILLEGAL PAYMENT, EMPLOYMENT, OR HIRING.

Report exonerating candidate in certain cases of corrupt and illegal practice by agents.

19. Where, upon the trial of an election petition respecting a municipal election, the election court reports that a candidate at such election has been guilty by his agents of the offence of treating and undue influence, and illegal practice, or of any of such offences (a), in reference to such election, and the election court further report that the candidate has proved to the court—

(a) that no corrupt or illegal practice was committed at such election by the candidate or with his knowledge or consent, and the offences mentioned in the said report were committed without the sanction or connivance of such candidate (b); and

(b) that all reasonable means for preventing the commission of corrupt and illegal practices at such election were taken by and on behalf of the candidate; and

Section 19.

(c) that the offences mentioned in the said report were of a trivial, unimportant, and limited character; and

(d) that in all other respects the election was free from any corrupt or illegal practice on the part of such candidate and of his agents;

then the election of such candidate shall not, by reason of the offences mentioned in such report, be void, nor shall the candidate be subject to any incapacity under this Act.

(a) Note that the offences of bribery, personation, and aiding and abetting in the commission of personation are not included here.

(b) See also s. 1 (4) of the amending Act of 1911, post, p. 2708.

Power of High Court and election court to except innocent act from being illegal practice, etc.

20. Where, on application made, it is shown to the High Court or to a municipal election court by such evidence as seems to the court sufficient—

(b) that such act or omission arose from inadvertence or from accidental miscalculation or from some other reasonable cause of a like nature, and in any case did not arise from any want of good faith; and

(c) that such notice of the application has been given in the said borough as to the court seems fit; and under the circumstances it seems to the court to be just that the said candidate, agent and person, or any of them, should not be subject to any of the consequences under this Act of the said act or omission, the court may make an order allowing such act or omission to be an exception from the provisions of this Act which would otherwise make the same an illegal practice, payment, employment, or hiring, and thereupon such candidate, agent, or person shall not be subject to any of the consequences under this Act of the said act or omission (b).

(b) Relief may be given under this section by the High Court, on application for that purpose, or by an election court. As to the election court, see s. 92 of the Municipal Corporations Act, 1882, ante, p. 2421.

From the refusal of the High Court to grant relief under this section appeal lies to the Court of Appeal. See Ex parte Walker (1889), 22 Q. B. D. 384; 53 J. P. 260. See also Ex parte Thomas (1889), 60 L. T. 728; 5 T. L. R. 234; Ex parte Birtwhistle (1889), 5 T. L. R. 321.

In order to support an application under this section, it will not be sufficient that notice of intention to make the application has been advertised in the local papers, but such notice should be published in such a manner as will ensure a reasonable certainty that persons interested had notice; and it will also be insufficient if the affidavits upon which the application is made merely state that the act in respect of which the relief is sought arose from inadvertence, and not from any want of good faith, without showing some reasonable excuse for such inadvertence (Ex parte Perry (1884), 48 J. P. 824). In the cases which came before the court in 1889 it was laid down that "inadvertence" meant negligence or carelessness where the circumstances showed an absence of bad faith. The court also required notice to be given to the opposing candidates and to the returning officer. The court also required that notices should be posted up throughout the district, and advertised in the local papers, that application would be made for relief. Notice need not, however, be given to the Attorney-General (Ex parte Lenanton (1889), 53 J. P. 263; 5 T. L. R. 173). Where an application for relief under similar circumstances is made by several candidates, a joint affidavit of the facts upon which the application is based ought to be made by all the applicants (Re Andrews Re Streatham Vestry Election (1899), 68 L. J. Q. B. 683).

There have been numerous applications to the High Court for excuse under this section, especially in the beginning of the year 1889, with reference to the first elections of county councillors. These cases will be found reported in 5 T. L. R., pp. 173, 183, 195, 198, 203,

Note to Section 20.

206, 220, and 272. They must not, however, be regarded as precedents, for the court granted relief almost as a matter of course where it was shown that the applicant had acted in ignorance of the law, but at the same time expressed an opinion that such an excuse would not afterwards be accepted. See the observations in Ex parte Darlington (1889), 53 J. P. 71; Ex parte Lenanton, supra. Since then see Ex parte Payne, Times, November 2nd, 1894; Ex parte Hughes, Times, November 24th, 1900. As to the ignorance of an agent reference may be made to Ex parte Polson (1923), 39 T. L. R. 231.

Among the cases reported before 1889 may be mentioned the following: Ex parte Clark (1884), 52 L. T. 260, where placards had been issued without the printer's name; Ex parte Perry (1884), 48 J. P. 824, where a room in a club had been used contrary to s. 16; South Shropshire Election (1886), 2 T. L. R. 347, where payments were made after the proper time (and see Ipswich Election (1887), 3 T. L. R. 397); Ex parte Robson (1887), 18 Q. B. D. 336; 51 J. P. 199, where a candidate who had incurred no expenses was allowed to make a return and declaration under s. 21 after the prescribed time; Ex parte Matthews (1886), 2 T. L. R. 548, where a candidate had acted as his own agent, and had omitted to make a declaration of expenses. See also Ex parte Groom (1920), 42 M. C. C. 175. In Ex parte Touche (1915), 37 M. C. C. 219, relief was granted where the statutory maximum of expenses allowed in a case where there was no poll was exceeded in the expectation that there would be a poll for election of sheriffs. In the case of Essex (South-West Division) Election (1886), 2 T. L. R. 388, where a person voted, and afterwards accepted payment for services rendered as an agent, the court refused to relieve him. Ex parte Robson, supra, was followed in Ex parte Pennington (1884), 46 W. R. 415.

In Ex parte Gale (1905), 69 J. P. 281, the candidate had postcards printed and issued, asking for the support of the electors, in ignorance that this was an illegal expense under s. 5 of the Act of 1884. He was relieved under this section.

Where a person had obtained an excuse for a late return of expenses, and subsequently on the same day, but after the order had been drawn up, a voter appeared to oppose the application, it was held that the application of the voter must be dismissed in the absence of any sufficient explanation of the delay (Wigan Election (1886), 2 T. L. R. 159).

If the application is made by a person against whom a petition is pending, the court will order the application to stand over till after the trial of the petition (Ex parte Wilks (1886), 16 Q. B. D. 114; 50 J. P. 487; Ex parte Evans (1889), 5 T. L. R. 207). But this course will not be followed merely because a petition is threatened (Ex parte Stephens (1889), ibid., 203). Even where a petition is pending, if the facts are not in dispute and the subject-matter of the application for relief was the sole ground of the petition, the application will be dealt with immediately (Ex parte Forster (1903), 67 J. P. 322; 89 L. T. 18).

Relief will not be granted to a successful candidate unless he satisfies the court that the illegal practice cannot have affected the result of the election (Re Droitwich Borough (Election of Auditors) (1907), 71 J. P. 236; 23 T. L. R. 372).

Sending in claims and making payments for election expenses.

21. (a)—(1) Every claim against any person in respect of any expenses incurred by or on behalf of a candidate at an election of a councillor on account of or in respect of the conduct or management of such election (b) shall be sent in within fourteen days after the day of election, and if not so sent in shall be barred and not paid, and all expenses incurred as aforesaid shall be paid within twenty-one days after the day of election, and not otherwise, and any person who makes a payment in contravention of this section, except where such payment is allowed as provided by this section, shall be guilty of an illegal practice (c), but if such payment was made without the sanction or connivance of the candidate, the election of such candidate shall not be void, nor shall he be subject to any incapacity under this Act by reason only of such payment having been made in contravention of this section.

(2) Every agent of a candidate at an election of a councillor shall, within twenty-three days after the day of election, make a return to the candidate in writing of all expenses incurred by such agent on account of or in respect of the conduct or management of such election, and if he fails to do so shall be liable, on summary conviction, to a fine not exceeding fifty pounds.

(3) Within twenty-eight days after the day of election of a councillor every candidate at such election shall send to the town clerk (d) a return of all expenses incurred by such candidate or his agents on account of or in respect of the conduct or management of such election, vouched (except in the case of sums under twenty shillings) by bills stating the particulars

Section 21. and receipts, and accompanied by a declaration by the candidate made before a justice in the form set forth in the Fourth Schedule to this Act, or to the like effect.

(4) After the expiration of the time for making such return and declaration the candidate, if elected, shall not, until he has made the return and declaration (in this Act referred to as the return and declaration respecting election expenses), or until the date of the allowance of such authorised excuse, as is mentioned in this Act, sit or vote in the council, and if he does so shall forfeit fifty pounds for every day on which he so sits or votes to any person who sues for the same (e).

(5) If the candidate without such authorised excuse as is mentioned in this Act fails to make the said return and declaration he shall be guilty of an illegal practice (c), and if he knowingly makes the said declaration falsely he shall be guilty of an offence, (g) . . . and such offence shall also be deemed to be a corrupt practice within the meaning of this Act.

(6) The county court for the district in which the election was held, or the High Court, or an election court, may, on application either of the candidate or a creditor, allow any claim to be sent in and any expense to be paid after the time limited by this section, and a return of any sum so paid shall forthwith after payment be sent to the town clerk (h).

(7) If the candidate applies to the High Court or an election court, and shows that the failure to make the said return and declaration, or either of them, or any error or false statement therein, has arisen by reason of his illness or absence, or of the absence, death, illness, or misconduct of any agent, clerk, or officer, or by reason of inadvertence, or of any reasonable cause of a like nature and not by reason of any want of good faith on the part of the applicant, the court may, after such notice of the application and on production of such evidence of the grounds stated in the application, and of the good faith of the applicant, and otherwise as the court seems fit, make such order for allowing the authorised excuse for the failure to make such return and declaration, or for an error or false statement in such return or declaration, as the court seems just (i).

(8) The order may make the allowance conditional upon compliance with such terms as to the court seems calculated for carrying into effect the objects of this Act, and the order shall relieve the applicant from any liability or consequences under this Act in respect of the matters excused by the order.

(9) The date of the order, or if conditions and terms are to be complied with, the date at which the applicant fully complies with them, is referred to in this Act as the date of the allowance of the excuse.

(10) The return and declaration sent in pursuance of this Act to the town clerk shall be kept at his office, and shall at all reasonable times during the twelve months next after they are received by him be open to inspection by any person (k) on payment of the fee of one shilling, and the town clerk shall, on demand, furnish copies thereof or of any part thereof at the price of twopence for every seventy-two words.

(11) After the expiration of the said twelve months the town clerk may cause the return and declaration to be destroyed, or if the candidate so require shall return the same to him.

(a) This section does not apply to elections of urban district councillors for districts not being boroughs or of rural district councillors. See s. 37, post, p. 2479.

(b) Money paid by an agent of a candidate for the employment of persons to keep order at meetings connected with the election is within this provision (Packard v. Collings (1886), 54 L. T. 619).

(c) And therefore punishable as provided by s. 7, ante, p. 2463.

(d) This return and declaration must be made even in the case of an unopposed election, when the candidate has incurred no expenses. In such a case, however, the court granted relief under s. 20, ante, p. 2468 (Ex parte Robson, ante, p. 2469; Ex parte Pennington, ante, p. 2469). If the return is posted to the town clerk within the twenty-eight days, it is sufficient, although it does not reach him until after the expiration of that time (Mackinnon v. Clark, [1898] 2 Q. B. 251).

(e) Note that any person may sue. See Nichol v. Fearby; Nichol v. Robinson (1922), 86 J. P. 204. The Crown cannot remit the penalties. See Todd v. Robinson, ante, p. 483.

(g) Some words were repealed by the Perjury Act, 1911.

(h) Notice of application to the court must probably be given to the other candidates, to the returning officer, and to the public by advertisements (Re Ludlow Election (1886), 54 L. T. 129; 34 W. R. 352). An application for leave to pay the hire of a brougham used without authority by the clerk of a candidate was refused in Re Chelsea Election (1886), 2 T. L. R. 374.

For procedure in the county court, see County Court Rules, Order L., r. 16. Note that the county court is not mentioned in sub-ss. (7), (8), but it would probably be guided by them.

(i) The illness of an agent was accepted as an excuse in Re Ipswich Election (1887), 3 T. L. R. 397. See also Nichol v. Fearby, [1923] 1 K. B. 480; 87 J. P. 70, when relief was granted although application for same was not made until after the issue of the writ claiming penalties.

(k) Any person, not any person interested.

DISQUALIFICATION OF ELECTORS.

Prohibition of persons guilty of offences from voting.

22. Every person guilty of a corrupt or illegal practice or of illegal employment, payment, or hiring at a municipal election (a) is prohibited from voting at such election, and if any such person votes his vote shall be void, and shall be struck off on a scrutiny.

Application of ss. 37 and 38 of 46 & 47 Vict. c. 51.

23. So much of sections thirty-seven and thirty-eight of the Corrupt and Illegal Practices Prevention Act, 1883, as is set forth in Part Two of the Third Schedule to this Act, shall apply as part of this Act.

List in burgess roll of persons incapacitated for voting by corrupt or illegal practices.

24.—(1) The town clerk in every municipal borough shall annually in July make out a list containing the names and description of all persons who, though otherwise qualified to be enrolled as burgesses of such borough, have under this Act, or under the Corrupt and Illegal Practices Prevention Act, 1883, or under any other Act for the time being in force relating to a parliamentary election or an election to any public office, become after the commencement of this Act, by reason of conviction of a corrupt or illegal practice, or of the report of any election court or election commissioners, incapable of voting at a municipal election in such borough or any ward thereof, and the town clerk shall state in the list (in this Act referred to as the corrupt and illegal practices list), the offence of which each person has been found guilty.

(3) The town clerk of any municipal borough shall, not less than fourteen days before the first day appointed by law for the publication of the parish burgess lists in such borough, send the corrupt and illegal practices list to the overseers (a) of every parish wholly or partly within the borough, and the overseers shall publish that list together with the parish burgess lists, and shall also, in the case of every person in the corrupt and illegal practices list, omit his name from the list of persons entitled to be enrolled as burgesses or to be elected councillors, or, as circumstances require, add "objected" before his name in the list of claimants published by them, in like manner as is required by law in any other cases of disqualification.

Section 24.

(4) Any person named in the corrupt and illegal practices list may claim to have his name omitted therefrom, and any person entitled to object to any parish burgess list may object to the omission of the name of any person from such first-mentioned list. Such claims and objections shall be sent in within the same time and be dealt with in like manner, and any such objection shall be served on the person referred to therein in like manner, as nearly as circumstances admit, as other claims and objections under the enactments relating to the enrolment of burgesses.

(5) The revising authority shall determine such claims and objections and shall revise such list in like manner, as nearly as circumstances admit, as in the case of other claims and objections and of any parish burgess list and list of persons entitled to be elected councillors.

(6) Where it appears to the revising authority that a person not named in the list is subject to have his name inserted in the corrupt and illegal practices list, he shall (whether an objection to the omission of such name from the list has or has not been made, but) after giving such person an opportunity of making a statement to show cause to the contrary, insert his name in that list and expunge his name from any list of burgesses or of persons entitled to be elected councillors.

(7) A revising authority in acting under this section shall determine only whether a person is incapacitated by conviction or by the report of any election court or election commissioners, and shall not determine whether a person has or has not been guilty of any corrupt or illegal practice.

(8) The corrupt and illegal practices list shall be appended to the burgess roll, and shall be printed and published therewith wherever the same is printed or published.

45 & 46 Vict. c. 50.

(9) Any town clerk or overseer who fails to comply with the provisions of this section shall be liable to the like fine as he is liable to under section seventy-five of the Municipal Corporations Act, 1882, for any neglect or refusal in relation to a parish burgess list as therein mentioned.

(a) Now to the rating authority (Overseers Order, 1927, Art. 3, in App. II., post, p. 3681).

PROCEEDINGS ON ELECTION PETITIONS.

Petition for illegal practice.

25.—(1) A municipal election petition complaining of the election on the ground of an illegal practice (a) may be presented at any time before the expiration of fourteen days after the day on which the town clerk receives the return and declaration respecting election expenses by the candidate to whose election the petition relates, or where there is an authorised excuse for failing to make the return and declaration then within the like time after the date of the allowance of the excuse (b).

Time for presentation of petition alleging illegal practices.

(2) A municipal election petition, complaining of the election on the ground of an illegal practice, and specifically alleging a payment of money or other act made or done since the election by the candidate elected at such election, or by an agent of the candidate, or with the privity of the candidate, in pursuance or in furtherance of such illegal practice, may be presented at any time within twenty-eight days after the date of such payment or act, whether or not any other petition against that person has been previously presented or tried.

45 & 46 Vict. c. 50.

(3) Any election petition presented within the time limited by the Municipal Corporations Act, 1882, may, for the purpose of complaining of the election upon an allegation of an illegal practice, be amended with the leave of the High Court within the time within which a petition complaining of the election on the ground of that illegal practice can, under this section, be presented (c).

(4) This section shall apply notwithstanding the illegal practice is also a corrupt practice.

Note to Section 25.

(a) A petition may be presented for a corrupt practice under the Municipal Corporations Act, 1882, s. 87, ante, p. 2418.

(b) Under the Urban District Councillors Election Order, 1898, and Rural District Councillors Election Order, 1898 (App. II., post, p. 3196), an election petition complaining of the election of an urban or rural district councillor on the ground of an illegal practice, may be presented at any time within six weeks after the day of election.

(c) A judge who is not on the rota for the trial of parliamentary election petitions cannot make an order giving leave to amend under this section. Such an order ought not to be made ex parte (Shaw v. Reckitt, [1893] 1 Q. B. 779). That question being a question of law, no appeal lies to the Court of Appeal from a decision of a Divisional Court thereon without leave of the Divisional Court (Shaw v. Reckitt, [1893] 2 Q. B. 59; 57 J. P. 805).

Withdrawal of election petition.

26. (a)—(1) Before leave for the withdrawal of a municipal election petition is granted, there shall be produced affidavits by all the parties to the petition and their solicitors, but the High Court may on cause shown dispense with the affidavit of any particular person if it seems to the court on special grounds to be just so to do.

(2) Each affidavit shall state that, to the best of the deponent's knowledge and belief, no agreement or terms of any kind whatsoever has or have been made, and no undertaking has been entered into, in relation to the withdrawal of the petition; but if any lawful agreement has been made with respect to the withdrawal of the petition, the affidavit shall set forth that agreement, and shall make the foregoing statement subject to what appears from the affidavit.

(3) The affidavits of the applicant and his solicitor shall further state the ground on which the petition is sought to be withdrawn.

(4) If any person makes any agreement or terms, or enters into any undertaking, in relation to the withdrawal of an election petition, and such agreement, terms, or undertaking is or are for the withdrawal of the election petition in consideration of any payment, or in consideration that the seat shall at any time be vacated, or in consideration of the withdrawal of any other election petition, or is or are (whether lawful or unlawful) not mentioned in the aforesaid affidavits, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be liable on conviction on indictment to imprisonment for a term not exceeding twelve months, and to a fine not exceeding two hundred pounds.

(5) Copies of the said affidavits shall be delivered to the Director of Public Prosecutions a reasonable time before the application for the withdrawal is heard, and the court may hear the Director of Public Prosecutions or his assistant or other representative (appointed with the approval of the Attorney-General) in opposition to the allowance of the withdrawal of the petition, and shall have power to receive the evidence on oath of any person or persons whose evidence the Director of Public Prosecutions or his assistant, or other representative may consider material.

(6) Where in the opinion of the court the proposed withdrawal of a petition is the result of any agreement, terms, or undertaking prohibited by this section, the court shall have the same power with respect to the security as under section ninety-five of the Municipal Corporations Act, 1882, where the withdrawal is induced by a corrupt consideration (b).

45 & 46 Vict. c. 50.

(7) In every case of the withdrawal of an election petition, by leave of the election court such court shall report in writing to the High Court whether, in the opinion of such election court, the withdrawal of such petition was the result of any agreement, terms, or undertaking, or was in consideration of any payment, or in consideration that the seat should at any time be vacated, or in consideration of the withdrawal of any other election petition, or for any other consideration, and if so, shall state the circumstances attending the withdrawal.

(8) Where more than one solicitor is concerned for the petitioner or Section 26. respondent, whether as agent for another solicitor or otherwise, the affidavit shall be made by all such solicitors.

(b) See this section, ante, p. 2424.

Continuation of trial of election petition.

27. The trial of every municipal election petition shall, so far as is practicable consistently with the interests of justice in respect of such trial, be continued de die in diem on every lawful day until its conclusion.

Attendance of Director of Public Prosecutions on trial of election petition, and prosecution by him of offenders.

28.—(1) On every trial of a municipal election petition the Director of Public Prosecutions shall by himself or by his assistant, or by such representative as hereinafter mentioned, attend at the trial, and it shall be the duty of such Director to obey any directions given to him by the election court with respect to the summoning and examination of any witness to give evidence on such trial, and with respect to the prosecution by him of offenders, and with respect to any person to whom notice is given to attend with a view to report him as guilty of any corrupt or illegal practice.

(2) It shall also be the duty of such Director, without any direction from the election court, if it appears to him that any person is able to give material evidence as to the subject of the trial, to cause such person to attend the trial, and with the leave of the court to examine such person as a witness.

(3) It shall also be the duty of the said Director, without any direction from the election court, if he thinks it expedient in the interests of justice so to do, to prosecute, either before the said court or before any other competent court, any person who has not received a certificate of indemnity (a) and who appears to him to have been guilty of a corrupt or illegal practice at a municipal election.

(4) Where a person is prosecuted before an election court for any corrupt or illegal practice, and such person appears before the court, the court shall proceed to try him summarily for the said offence, and such person, if convicted thereof upon such trial, shall be subject to the same incapacities as he is subject to under this or any other Act, upon conviction, whether on indictment or in any other proceeding for the said offence; and further, may be adjudged by the court, if the offence is a corrupt practice, to be imprisoned, with or without hard labour, for a term not exceeding six months or to pay a fine not exceeding two hundred pounds, and if the offence is an illegal practice, to pay such fine as is fixed by this Act for the offence:

Provided that in case of a corrupt practice, the court, before proceeding to try summarily any person, shall give such person the option of being tried by a jury.

(5) Where a person is so prosecuted for any such offence, and either he elects to be tried by a jury or he does not appear before the court, or the court thinks it in the interests of justice expedient that he should be tried before some other court, the court, if of opinion that the evidence is sufficient to put the said person upon his trial for the offence, shall order such person to be prosecuted on indictment or before a court of summary jurisdiction, as the case may require, for the said offence (b); and in either case may order him to be prosecuted before such court as may be named in the order; and for all purposes preliminary and of and incidental to such prosecution the offence shall be deemed to have been committed within the jurisdiction of the court so named.

(6) Upon such order being made,

(a) If the accused person is present before the court, and the offence is an indictable offence, the court shall commit him to take his trial, or cause him to give bail to appear, and take his trial for the said offence; and

Section 28.

(b) If the accused person is present before the court, and the offence is not an indictable offence, the court shall order him to be brought before the court of summary jurisdiction before whom he is to be prosecuted, or cause him to give bail to appear before that court; and

(c) If the accused person is not present before the court, the court shall as circumstances require issue a summons for his attendance, or a warrant to apprehend him and bring him before a court of summary jurisdiction, and that court, if the offence is an indictable offence, shall, on proof only of the summons or warrant and the identity of the accused, commit him to take his trial, or cause him to give bail to appear and take his trial for the said offence, or if the offence is punishable on summary conviction, shall proceed to hear the case, or if such court be not the court before whom he is directed to be prosecuted shall order him to be brought before that court.

(7) Any order or act of an election court under this section shall not be subject to be discharged or varied under sub-section six of section ninety-two of the Municipal Corporations Act, 1882 (c). 45 & 46 Vict. c. 50.

(8) The Director of Public Prosecutions may nominate, with the approval of the Attorney-General, any barristers or solicitors of not less than ten years standing, one of whom shall, when required, act as the representative for the purposes of this section of such Director, and when so acting shall receive such remuneration as the Treasury may approve. There shall be allowed to the Director and his assistant or representative, for the purposes of this section, such allowance for expenses as the Treasury may approve.

(9) The costs incurred in defraying the expenses of the Director of Public Prosecutions under this section (including the remuneration of his representatives) shall, in the first instance, be paid by the Treasury, and so far as they are not in the case of any prosecution paid by the defendant, shall be deemed to be expenses of the election court, and shall be paid as the expenses of that court are directed by section one hundred and one of the Municipal Corporations Act, 1882, to be paid; but if for any reasonable cause it seems just to the court so to do, the court shall order all or part of the said costs to be repaid to the Treasury by the parties to the petition, or such of them as the court may direct (d). 45 & 46 Vict. c. 50.

(b) The evidence which is to satisfy the court before it makes the order means the evidence given during the trial of the petition, and, therefore, a commissioner for the trial of municipal election petitions acted within his jurisdiction in ordering the prosecution of a person to whom he had refused a certificate of indemnity, and who did not appear, without re-hearing the evidence affecting him, and also acted within his jurisdiction in issuing a summons under sub-s. (6), post, for his attendance before a court of summary jurisdiction, for the purpose of being formally committed for trial (R. v. Shellard (1889), 23 Q. B. D. 273; 53 J. P. 821). The commissioner for the trial of municipal election petitions ordered certain persons, prosecuted before him for a corrupt practice committed at a municipal election in Nottingham, to be prosecuted on indictment for the offence at the ensuing assizes at Derby:—Held, that the commissioner had jurisdiction to order the trial at Derby; that his order was sufficient without describing the corrupt practice; that the Derbyshire grand jury could find, and the judge of assize had jurisdiction to try, the indictment; that "Derbyshire, to wit," in the margin of the indictment was sufficient, although the body of it disclosed offences in Nottingham only; that the words "a corrupt practice," in the commissioner's order, were reasonably interpreted "some corrupt practice," and that the prosecution were not precluded from preferring a number of charges of bribery in the indictment (R. v. Ripley; R. v. Campion (1891), 59 L. J. M. C. 122; 55 J. P. 21).

(c) Ante, p. 2422.

(d) If a petition is utterly unfounded the petitioner may be ordered to pay the costs of the Director of Public Prosecutions (Kennington Election Petition (1886), 54 L. T. 628). This section applies only to the trial of a petition. The costs of the Public Prosecutor cannot be ordered where the petition is withdrawn (Pascoe v. Puleston (Devonport Election Petition) (1886), 50 J. P. 135; 54 L. T. 733).

Section 29.

Power to election court to order payment by borough or individual of costs of election petition.

29.—(1) Where upon the trial of a municipal election petition it appears to the election court that a corrupt practice has not been proved to have been committed in reference to the election by or with the knowledge and consent of the respondent to the petition, and that such respondent took all reasonable means to prevent corrupt practices being committed on his behalf, the court may make one or more orders with respect to the payment either of the whole or such part of the costs of the petition as the court may think right as follows:

(a) If it appears to the court that corrupt practices extensively prevailed in reference to the said election, the court may order the whole or part of the costs to be paid by the borough (a); and

(b) If it appears to the court that any person or persons is or are proved, whether by providing money or otherwise, to have been extensively engaged in corrupt practices, or to have encouraged or promoted extensive corrupt practices in reference to such election, the court may, after giving such person or persons an opportunity of being heard by counsel or solicitor and of examining and cross-examining witnesses to show cause why the order should not be made, order the whole or part of the costs to be paid by that person, or those persons or any of them (b), and may order that if the costs cannot be recovered from one or more of such persons they shall be paid by some other of such persons or by either of the parties to the petition.

(2) Where any person appears to the court to have been guilty of the offence of a corrupt or illegal practice, the court may, after giving such person an opportunity of making a statement to show why the order should not be made, order the whole or any part of the costs of or incidental to any proceeding before the court in relation to the said offence or to the said person to be paid by the said person to such person or persons as the court may direct (b).

45 & 46 Vict. c. 50.

(3) The rules and regulations of the Supreme Court of Judicature with respect to costs to be allowed in actions, causes, and matters in the High Court shall in principle and so far as practicable apply to the costs of petition and other proceedings under Part Four of the Municipal Corporations Act, 1882, and this Act, and the taxing officer shall not allow any costs, charges, or expenses on a higher scale than would be allowed in any action, cause or matter in the High Court on the higher scale, as between solicitor and client.

(a) That is, by the urban district council for a district not being a borough, or by the rural district council (s. 36, post, p. 2478).

(b) As to the recovery of these costs, see s. 32, post, p. 2477.

MISCELLANEOUS.

General provisions as to prosecution of offences under this Act.

30. Subject to the other provisions of this Act, the procedure for the prosecution of a corrupt or illegal practice or any illegal payment, employment, or hiring committed in reference to a municipal election, and the removal of any incapacity incurred by reason of a conviction or report relating to any such offence, and the duties of the Director of Public Prosecutions in relation to any such offence, and all other proceedings in relation thereto (including the grant to a witness of a certificate of indemnity), shall be the same as if such offence had beem committed in reference to a parliamentary election; and sections forty-five and forty-six and sections fifty to fifty-seven (both inclusive), and sections fifty-nine and sixty of the Corrupt and Illegal Practices Prevention Act, 1883, shall apply accordingly (a) as if they were re-enacted in this Act with the necessary modifications, and with the following additions:

46 & 47 Vict. c. 51.

(a) Where the Director of Public Prosecutions considers that the circumstances of any case require him to institute a prosecution before any court other than an election court for any offence other than a corrupt practice committed in reference to a municipal election in any borough (b), he may, by himself or his assistant, institute such prosecution before any court of summary jurisdiction in the county in which the said borough is situate or to which it adjoins, and the offence shall be deemed for all purposes to have been committed within the jurisdiction of such court; and

Section 30.

(b) General rules for the purposes of Part Four of the Municipal Corporations Act, 1882, shall be made by the same authority as rules of court under the said sections (c); and

45 & 46 Vict. c. 50.

(c) The giving or refusal to give a certificate of indemnity to a witness by the election court shall be final and conclusive.

Section 94 (7).

(a) Therefore, where a private prosecutor prefers an indictment charging the commission of a corrupt practice the defendant, if acquitted, is entitled to recover from the prosecutor the costs sustained by reason of the indictment (R. v. Law, [1900] 1 Q. B. 605).

(b) See s. 36, post, p. 2478.

(c) That is, by the same authority by whom rules of court for procedure and practice in the Supreme Court of Judicature can be made. See the Corrupt and Illegal Practices Prevention Act, 1883, s. 56.

Person incapacitated by conviction or report to vacate seat or office.

31. If a person in consequence of conviction or of the report of an election court under this Act becomes not capable of being elected to or sitting in the House of Commons, or of being elected to or holding any public or judicial office (a), and such person, at the date of the said conviction or report, has been so elected or holds any such office, then his seat or office, as the case may be, shall be vacated as from that date.

Payment and recovery of costs.

32.—(1) Where any costs of a petition are, under an order of a municipal election court, to be paid by a borough, such costs shall be paid out of the borough fund or borough rate (a).

(2) Where any costs or other sums are, under the order of an election court or otherwise under this Act, to be paid by any person, those costs shall be a simple contract debt due from such person to the person or persons to whom they are to be paid, and if payable to the Treasury shall be a debt to her Majesty, and in either case may be recovered accordingly.

(a) The general rate fund and general rate are substituted for the borough fund and borough rate by the R. and V. Act, 1925, ante, p. 1633. The expenses of the urban district council for a district not being a borough, or of the rural district council, are now payable out of the general rate (s. 36, post, p. 2478, and the R. and V. Act, 1925, ante, p. 1633).

Service of notices.

Definitions. 45 & 46 Vict. c. 50.

34. In this Act expressions have the same meaning as in the Municipal Corporations Act, 1882, and in the Corrupt and Illegal Practices Prevention Act, 1883; except that the words "borough," "election petition," "election court," and "candidate," shall, unless the context otherwise requires, have the meaning given by the Municipal Corporations Act, 1882 ; and not the meaning given by the Corrupt and Illegal Practices Prevention Act, 1883 ; and except that "election" shall, unless the context otherwise requires, mean a municipal election.

For the purposes of this Act the number of electors shall be taken according to the enumeration of the electors in the burgess roll (a).

(a) That is, in relation to an election of urban or rural district councillors, the register of local government electors. See App. II., post, p. 3196, for the relevant Orders.

35. [Application to City of London of Act and of Part IV. of 45 & 46 Vict. c. 50.]

APPLICATION OF ACT TO OTHER ELECTIONS.

Application of this Act and Part IV. of 45 & 46 Vict. c. 50, to other elections.

36.—(1) Subject as hereinafter mentioned, the provisions of this Act and of Part Four of the Municipal Corporations Act, 1882 (a), as amended by this Act, shall extend to elections for the offices mentioned in the first column of the First Schedule (b) to this Act as if re-enacted herein and in terms made applicable thereto, and petitions may be presented and tried, and offences prosecuted and punished, and incapacities incurred in reference to each such election accordingly.

Provided that in the application of the said provisions to any such election :

(a) The area, officer, and rate mentioned opposite to the office in the second, third, and fourth columns of the said Schedule, shall be deemed to be substituted for the borough or ward, town clerk, and borough fund or rate respectively.

(b) The expression "corporate office" in the said provisions shall mean an office mentioned in the said Schedule, and in relation to the election of a guardian of a union includes any such office in the union (c), and "a municipal election" shall mean an election to such office, and the expressions "municipal election court," "municipal election list," and "municipal election petition" shall be construed accordingly.

(c) No corrupt and illegal practices list shall be made for any such election.

(d) Vacancies created by the decision of an election court shall be filled by a new election (d).

(e) A petition relating to the election of a guardian of a union may be tried at any place within the union (c).

(f) Nothing in the said provisions shall render it unlawful to hold a meeting for the purpose of promoting or procuring the election of a candidate to any office mentioned in the said Schedule on any licensed or other premises not situate in an urban sanitary district (e) or in the metropolis (f).

(2) The judges for the time being on the rota for the trial of parliamentary election petitions, or any two of those judges, may annually appoint as many barristers, not exceeding five, as they may think necessary to be commissioners for the trial of election petitions under Part Four of the Municipal Corporations Act, 1882, and this Act, and shall from time to time assign the petitions (whether relating to a municipal election or to any other election to which this Act extends) to be tried by each commissioner.

(a) This Part is set out, ante, p. 2417.

(b) And also rural district council elections ; see the L. G. A., 1894, s. 48 (3), ante, p. 1012.

(c) Words in italics repealed by L. G. A., 1929, Sched. XII., ante.

(e) See the P. H. A., 1875, s. 6, ante, p. 39.

(f) As the polls at elections of district councils are no longer taken by means of voting papers, clause (g) is no longer applicable to them. Clause (h) is expressly repealed by the L. G. A., 1894.

Section 37.

Exemption from provisions as to maximum expenses.

37. The provisions of this Act which prohibit the payment of any sum, and the incurring of any expense by or on behalf of a candidate at an election, on account of, or in respect of, the conduct or management of the election, and those which relate to the time for sending in and paying claims, and those which relate to the maximum amount of election expenses, or the return or declaration respecting election expenses, shall not apply to any of the elections mentioned in the First Schedule to this Act (a).

(a) By s. 48 (3) of the L. G. A., 1894, ante, p. 1012, this section shall apply to every election regulated by rules framed under that Act as if the election were an election mentioned in the First Schedule to this Act. And by the Election Orders in App. II., post, p. 3196, this section must be read as if a reference to an election of urban or rural district councillors respectively was substituted for a reference to any of the elections mentioned in the First Schedule to the Act. The result is that this exemption from provisions as to maximum expenses, etc., applies to elections of rural district councillors and of urban district councillors for districts not being boroughs.

REPEAL.

38. [Repeal of Acts] (a).

39. [Commencement of Act, October 1st, 1884] (a).

EXTENT OF ACT.

Act not to extend to Scotland or Ireland.

40. This Act shall not extend to Scotland or Ireland.

41. [Duration of Act] (a).

(a) Repealed by the S. L. R. A., 1898. This Act was made permanent by s. 35, Representation of People Act, 1918, ante, p. 1254.

Sched. III.

Section 2.

THIRD SCHEDULE.

PART I.

Enactments defining Corrupt Practices—Enactments defining the Offence of Bribery.

The Corrupt Practices Prevention Act, 1854 (17 & 18 Vict. c. 102), ss. 2, 3.

Bribery defined.

S. 2. The following persons shall be deemed guilty of bribery, and shall be punishable accordingly (a):

(2) Every person who shall, directly or indirectly, by himself or by any other person on his behalf, give or procure, or agree to give or procure, or offer, promise, or promise to procure or endeavour to procure, any office, place, or employment to or for any voter, or to or for any person on behalf of any voter, or to or for any other person, in order to induce such voter to vote or refrain from voting, or shall corruptly do any such act as aforesaid on account of any voter having voted or refrained from voting at any election.

(3) Every person who shall, directly or indirectly, by himself or by any other person on his behalf, make any such gift, loan, offer, promise, procurement, or agreement as aforesaid, to or for any person, in order to induce such person to procure or endeavour to procure the return of any person to serve in Parliament, or the vote of any voter at any election.

(4) Every person who shall, upon or in consequence of any such gift, loan, offer, promise, procurement, or agreement, procure, or engage, promise, or endeavour to procure the return of any person to serve in Parliament, or the vote of any voter at any election.

(5) Every person who shall advance or pay, or cause to be paid, any money to or to the use of any other person with the intent that such money, or any part thereof, shall be expended in bribery at any election, or who shall knowingly pay or cause to be paid any money to any person in discharge or repayment of any money wholly or in part expended in bribery at any election: Provided always, that the aforesaid enactment shall not extend or be construed to extend to any money paid or agreed to be paid for on account of any legal expenses bonâ fide incurred at or concerning any election.

(a) It is beyond the scope of the present Work to enter into a detailed discussion of the law relating to bribery and other corrupt practices. For information on this subject the reader is referred to works on the law of elections. One or two decisions may, however, be mentioned.

As to corrupt employment, see Harding v. Stokes (1836), 1 M. & W. 354; 2 M. & W. 233; giving money after election, R. v. Thwaites (1853), 1 El. & Bl. 704; 22 L. J. Q. B. 238.

Y. canvassed M., a voter at a municipal election, for his party, and on M. expressing an intention not to vote, told M. he would be remunerated for loss of time:—Held, that this was bribery (Simpson v. Yeend (1869), L. R. 4 Q. B. 626; 33 J. P. 677).

"In order to make the payment of a rate for the purpose of enabling voters to be registered affect the election, you must prove that it was done corruptly; that it was done thereby to influence their votes, which in my judgment means to induce them to vote for the person on whose behalf the payment was made": per MARTIN, B., in Cheltenham Election (1869), 1 O'M. & H. 63. In order to make a third party responsible for the payment of a rate, it must be proved that he gave authority to the person to do the act. The common law rules of agency, therefore, and not those of election law, apply to this case (Wigan Election (1869), 1 O'M. & H. 190; Ward's Practice at Elections, p. 158).

A single case of bribery by an agent avoids an election (Norwich Election Petition (1886), 54 L. T. 625).

To offer a voter his travelling expenses if he will come and vote for a particular candidate is bribery (Packard v. Collings (1886), 54 L. T. 619).

In an indictment for bribery where the date of the offence, that is of the offer of the bribe, is given in the indictment, the date of the election need not also be alleged, and even if necessary might be inserted by way of amendment (R. v. Yeoman (1905), 20 T. L. R. 266).

S. 3. The following persons shall also be deemed guilty of bribery, and shall be punishable accordingly:

Bribery further defined.

(1) Every voter who shall, before or during any election, directly or indirectly, by himself or by any other person on his behalf, receive, agree, or contract for any money, gift, loan, or valuable consideration, office, place, or employment, for himself or for any other person, for voting or agreeing to vote, or from refraining or agreeing to refrain from voting at any election.

(2) Every person who shall, after any election, directly or indirectly, by himself or by any other person on his behalf, receive any money or valuable consideration on account of any person having voted or refrained from voting, or having induced any other person to vote or refrain from voting at any election.

Corrupt payment of rates to be punishable as bribery.

S. 49. Any person, either directly or indirectly, corruptly paying any rate on behalf of any ratepayer for the purpose of enabling him to be registered as a voter, thereby to influence his vote at the future election, and any candidate or other person, either directly or indirectly, paying any rate on behalf of any voter for the purpose of inducing him to vote or refrain from voting, shall be guilty of bribery, and be punishable accordingly; and any person on whose behalf and with whose privity any such payment as in this section is mentioned is made, shall also be guilty of bribery, and punishable accordingly (a).

Enactment defining the Offence of Personation.

The Ballot Act, 1872 (35 & 36 Vict. c. 33), s. 24.

Personation defined.

S. 24. A person shall, for all purposes of the laws relating to parliamentary and municipal elections, be deemed to be guilty of the offence of personation who, at an election for a county or borough, or at a municipal election, applies for a ballot paper in the name of some other person, whether that name be that of a person living or dead, or of a fictitious person, or who, having voted once at any such election, applies at the same election for a ballot paper in his own name (a).

(a) H. obtained a voting paper signed by B., who was entitled to vote in an election of councillors, and gave it to F., requesting F. to go with it to the poll and vote for two candidates, and stating that F. would run no risk in doing so. F. went and handed in the paper, but on being questioned admitted that he was not B., and the vote was not received:—Held, that H. was properly convicted under 22 Vict. c. 35, s. 9, of inducing F. to personate a voter. Held, further, that it was sufficient for the conviction to state that H. induced F. to personate B., and that it need not set out the details of the process by which F. carried out the personation (Hague v. Brown (1864), 33 L. J. M. C. 81; 28 J. P. 231).

If a man applies to the presiding officer for a ballot paper in a name other than his name of origin, or in the name by which he is generally known, but in a name which appears on the register, and which was inserted by the overseers in the belief that it was the name of the applicant, and for the purpose of putting him on the register, he is entitled to vote, and is not a person who "applies for a ballot paper in the name of some other person, whether that name be that of a person living or dead, or of a fictitious person" (R. v. Fox (1887), 16 Cox C. C. 166).

In order to sustain a conviction for personation it is not necessary to state in the indictment, or to prove at the trial, that the presiding officer at the booth where the offence was committed was duly appointed. Semble, the appointment of a presiding officer need not be in writing (R. v. Garvey (1887), 16 Cox C. C. 252 (C. C. R. Ir.)).

Enactments defining the Offences of Treating and Undue Influence.

The Corrupt and Illegal Practices Prevention Act, 1883 (46 & 47 Vict. c. 51), ss. 1, 2.

What is treating.

S. 1. Any person who corruptly by himself or by any other person, either before, during, or after an election, directly or indirectly gives or provides, or pays wholly or in part the expense of giving or providing any meat, drink, entertainment, or provision to or for any person for the purpose of corruptly influencing that person or any other person to give or refrain from giving his vote at the election, or on account of such Sched. III. person or any other person having voted or refrained from voting, or being about to vote or refrain from voting at such election, shall be guilty of treating.

And every elector who corruptly accepts or takes any such meat, drink, entertainment or provision, shall also be guilty of treating (a).

(a) Treating is not the entertainment of equals by equals, but of an inferior by a superior, with the object of securing the goodwill of the inferior (Norwich Election Petition (1886), 54 L. T. 625). Giving a school feast was held not to be treating in the Aylesbury Election Petition (1886), 4 O'M. & H. 59. It must be proved that the voter got his refreshment on account of his having polled or being about to poll (per MANISTY, J., in Hargreaves v. Simpson (1878), 4 Q. B. D. 403; 43 J. P. 767).

What is undue influence.

S. 2. Every person who shall directly or indirectly, by himself or by any other person on his behalf, make use of or threaten to make use of any force, violence, or restraint, or inflict or threaten to inflict, by himself or by any other person, any temporal or spiritual injury, damage, harm, or loss upon or against any person in order to induce or compel such person to vote or refrain from voting, or on account of such person having voted or refrained from voting at any election, or who shall by abduction, duress, or any fraudulent device or contrivance impede or prevent the free exercise of the franchise of any elector, or shall thereby compel, induce, or prevail upon any elector either to give or to refrain from giving his vote at any election, shall be guilty of undue influence.

Enactment defining the Offences of Bribery, Treating, Undue Influence, and Personation.

The Municipal Corporations Act, 1882 (45 & 46 Vict. c. 50), s. 77.

Definitions.

S. 77. "Bribery," "treating," "undue influence," and "personation" include respectively anything done before, at, after, or with respect to a municipal election, which, if done before, at, after, or with respect to a parliamentary election, would make the person doing the same liable to any penalty, punishment, or disqualification for bribery, treating, undue influence, or personation, as the case may be, under any Act for the time being in force with respect to parliamentary elections.

Section 23.

PART II.

Enactments relating to Disqualification of Electors.

The Corrupt and Illegal Practices Prevention Act, 1883 (46 & 47 Vict. c. 51), ss. 37, 38.

Prohibition of disqualified persons from voting.
35 & 36 Vict. c. 60.
45 & 46 Vict. c. 50.

S. 37. Every person who, in consequence of conviction or of the report of any election court or election commissioners under this Act, or under the Corrupt Practices (Municipal Elections) Act, 1872, or under Part IV. of the Municipal Corporations Act, 1882, or under any other Act for the time being in force relating to corrupt practices at any election for any public office, has become incapable of voting at any election, whether a parliamentary election or an election to any public office, is prohibited from voting at any such election, and his vote shall be void.

Hearing of person before he is reported guilty of corrupt or illegal practice, and incapacity of person reported guilty.

S. 38.—(1) Before a person, not being a party to an election petition nor a candidate on behalf of whom the seat is claimed by an election petition, is reported by an election court . . . to have been guilty, at an election, of any corrupt or illegal practice, the court . . . shall cause notice to be given to such person, and if he appears in pursuance of the notice, shall give him an opportunity of being heard by himself and of calling evidence in his defence to show why he should not be so reported (d).

(5) Every person who, after the commencement of this Act, is reported by any election court . . . to have been guilty of any corrupt or illegal practice at an election, shall, whether he obtained a certificate of indemnity or not, be subject to the same incapacity as he would be subject to if he had at the date of such election been convicted of the offence of which he is reported to have been guilty. . . .

(6) Where a person who is a justice of the peace is reported by any election court . . . to have been guilty of any corrupt practice in reference to any election, whether he has obtained a certificate of indemnity or not, it shall be the duty of the Director of Public Prosecutions to report the case to the Lord High Chancellor of Great Britain, with such evidence as may have been given of such corrupt practice, and where any such person acts as a justice of the peace by virtue of his being or having been mayor of a borough, the Lord High Chancellor shall have the same power to remove such person from being a justice of the peace as if he was named in a commission of the peace.

(7) Where a person who is a barrister or a solicitor, or who belongs to any profession the admission to which is regulated by law, is reported by any election court . . . to have been guilty of any corrupt practice in reference to an election, whether such person has obtained a certificate of indemnity or not, it shall be the duty of the Director of Public Prosecutions to bring the matter before the Inn of Court, High Court, or tribunal having power to take cognizance of any misconduct of such person in his profession, and such Inn of Court, High Court, or tribunal may deal with such person in like manner as if such corrupt practice were misconduct by such person in his profession.

(8) With respect to a person holding a licence or certificate under the Licensing Acts (in this section referred to as a licensed person) the following provisions shall have effect:

(a) If it appears to the court by which any licensed person is convicted of the offence of bribery or treating that such offence was committed on his licensed premises, the court shall direct such conviction to be entered in the proper register of licences:

(b) If it appears to an election court . . . that a licensed person has knowingly suffered any bribery or treating in reference to any election to take place upon his licensed premises, such court . . . (subject to the provisions of this Act as to a person having an opportunity of being heard by himself and producing evidence before being reported) shall report the same: and, whether such person obtained a certificate of indemnity or not, it shall be the duty of the Director of Public Prosecutions to bring such report before the licensing justices from whom or on whose certificate the licensed person obtained his licence, and such licensing justices shall cause such report to be entered in the proper register of licences:

(c) Where an entry is made in the register of licences of any such conviction of or report respecting any licensed person as above in this section mentioned, it shall be taken into consideration by the licensing justices in determining whether they will or will not grant to such person the renewal of his licence or certificate, and may be a ground, if the justices think fit, for refusing such renewal.

(a) This section excludes the right of a person charged with any corrupt or illegal practice at a municipal election to be heard by his counsel or solicitor (R. v. Mansel Jones (1889), 23 Q. B. D. 29; 53 J. P. 739). But such a person must have an opportunity of being heard at least by himself (R. v. Mansel Jones (1894), 10 T. L. R. 515). Where after the trial of a municipal election petition the commissioner has reported persons as having been guilty of corrupt practices, the High Court has no jurisdiction to set aside or amend his report on the ground that the notice prescribed by this section was not given to the persons reported (Preece v. Harding (1890), 24 Q. B. D. 119; Re Wigan Municipal Election Petition, Ex parte Johnson (1894), 38 Sol. J. 386).

FOURTH SCHEDULE.

Section 21.

FORM OF DECLARATION BY CANDIDATE AS TO EXPENSES.

I,   , having been a candidate at the election of councillor for the borough [or ward] of   , on the   day of   [and my agents do hereby solemnly and sincerely declare that I have paid   ] for my expenses at the said election, and that, except as aforesaid, I have not, and to the best of my knowledge and belief, no person, nor any club, society, or association, has on my behalf, made any payment, or given, promised, or offered any reward, office, employment, or valuable consideration, or incurred any liability on account of or in respect of the conduct or management of the said election.

And I further solemnly and sincerely declare that, except as aforesaid, no money, security, or equivalent for money, has to my knowledge or belief been paid, advanced, given, or deposited by anyone to or in the hands of myself, or any other person, for the Sched. IV. purpose of defraying any expenses incurred on my behalf on accouut of or in respect of the conduct or management of the said election.

And I further solemnly and sincerely declare that I will not at any future time make or be a party to the making or giving of any payment, reward, office, employment, or valuable consideration for the purpose of defraying any such expenses as last mentioned, or provide or be a party to the providing of any money, security, or equivalent for money for the purpose of defraying any such expenses.

THE DISUSED BURIAL GROUNDS ACT, 1884.

(47 & 48 VICT. c. 72) (a).

An Act for preventing the erection of Buildings on Disused Burial Grounds.
[14th August, 1884.]

Short title.

1. This Act may be cited as the Disused Burial Grounds Act, 1884.

(a) The preamble to this Act, reciting 15 & 16 Vict. c. 85, and 16 & 17 Vict. c. 134, and a few words in s. 3, are repealed by the S. L. R. A., 1898.

Interpretation clause.

2. In this Act a "disused burial ground" shall mean a burial ground in respect of which an Order in Council has been made for the discontinuance of burials therein in pursuance of the provisions of the said recited Acts (a).

a) For the definition of a burial ground as used in this Act, see the Open Spaces Act, 1887, s. 4, post, p. 2493, which section is to that extent not repealed by the Open Spaces Act, 1906. That definition includes land "set apart for the purposes of interment," even though it has been so set apart in contravention of an Order in Council made under s. 1 of the Burial Act, 1853, and consequently can never be lawfully used for the purposes of interment (Re Bosworth and Gravesend Corporation, [1905] 2 K. B. 426; 69 J. P. 339, following Ward v. Portsmouth Corporation, [1898] 2 Ch. 191; 62 J. P. 820). These cases were discussed in Nicholl v. Llantwit Major Parish Council, [1924] 2 Ch. 214; 131 L. T. 634, and doubt was expressed by TOMLIN, J., as to the correctness of the decisions. In the last-mentioned case it was held that land acquired for use as a burial ground but found unsuitable for the purpose and never used for interment was not a "disused burial ground." The case of Nicholl v. Llantwit Major Parish Council was distinguished and the earlier cases followed in London C. C. v. Greenwich B. C., [1929] 1 Ch. 305; 93 J. P. 123. See note (b), post, p. 2494, s. 103 (4) of the Housing Act, 1925, ante, p. 1465, and Sched. III., Pt. II., r. 4, of the Town Planning Act, 1925, ante, p. 1514.

No buildings to be erected upon disused burial grounds, except for enlargement, etc.

3. It shall not be lawful to erect any buildings upon any disused burial ground, except for the purpose of enlarging a church, chapel, meeting-house, or other places of worship (a).

(a) A. agreed to sell to B. a chapel and adjoining ground, in which human remains were interred. Both A. and B. knew of the interments, and also that B. intended to use the ground for building. After the contract was entered into, and before completion, the above Act was passed, rendering building on "disused burial grounds" illegal. It was admitted that the land sold was a disused burial ground within the meaning of the Act:—Held, that B. was, nevertheless, bound to complete his contract (Bolesworth v. Davis (1886), 3 T. L. R. 214). A perpetual injunction was granted against a vestry for erecting a band stand on a disused burial ground which had been thrown open to the public as an open space (Att.-Gen. v. St. Pancras Vestry (1894), 58 J. P. 22). And see In re Ecclesiastical Commissioners and New City of London Brewery Co.'s Contract, [1895] 1 Ch. 702. The erection of a screen by a local authority for the purpose of preventing an adjoining landowner, who had built on his land houses overlooking a disused churchyard, from acquiring any right of light, is not a building under this section and cannot be restrained by injunction (Paddington Corporation v. Att.-Gen., [1906] A. C. 1; 70 J. P. 41).

A faculty was refused for the construction of an underground electricity transformer in a "disused burial ground" on the ground that it was within the prohibition in s. 3 in the text (St. Nicholas Acons (Rector and Churchwardens) v. L. C. C., [1928] A. C. 469; 44 T. L. R. 656). Where an application was made for a faculty to authorise, under the Open Spaces Act, 1906, the conversion of a disused burial ground into an open space and its laying out for such purpose including the erection of urinals and a toolshed, the urinals were excluded from the grant of the faculty as "buildings," but the toolshed was held not to be a "building" within the Acts (Bermondsey B. C. v. Mortimer, [1926] P. 87).

So far as this section relates to churches it only permits buildings to be erected which are in physical communication with the church and enlarge it for the main and primary purpose of religious worship. It would not therefore permit the erection of a separate building to be used as a vestry hall and for Sunday schools and other parochial purposes (London C. C. v. Dundas, [1904] P. 1).

Savings for buildings already sanctioned.

4. Nothing in this Act shall prevent the erection of any building on a disused burial ground for which a faculty has been obtained before the passing of this Act.

Saving of burial ground sold by Act of Parliament.

5. Nothing in this Act contained shall apply to any burial ground which has been sold or disposed of under the authority of any Act of Parliament (a).

(a) This section applies to dispositions made after the Act (In re Ecclesiastical Commissioners and New City of London Brewery Co.'s Contract, [1895] 1 Ch. 702; Att.-Gen. v. London Parochial Charities Trustees, [1896] 1 Ch. 541). Under s. 24 of the Burial Act, 1857, power to let and sell the unconsecrated parts of disused burial grounds was given to the trustees thereof, the proceeds to be applied in discharge of incumbrances and the balance for the benefit of the parish as the vestry should direct. For a decision as to the present right to direct the application of the proceeds in such a case, see St. George, Hanover Square (Rector and Churchwardens) v. Westminster Corporation, [1910] A. C. 225; 74 J. P. 153. The trustees of a disused chapel and burial ground had applied to the Charity Commissioners for their sanction to the sale of the premises as a building site. It was held that such a sale by order of the Commissioners would not be a "sale or disposition under the authority of any Act of Parliament" within the meaning of this section (In re Howard Street Congregational Chapel, Sheffield, [1913] 2 Ch. 690). A sale of a disused burial ground by the Admiralty under their general powers of sale of surplus lands under the Admiralty Lands and Works Act, 1864, is not a sale under the authority of an Act of Parliament within this section (London C. C. v. Greenwich Corporation, [1929] 1 Ch. 305).

THE CANAL BOATS ACT, 1884.

(47 & 48 VICT. c. 75) (a).

An Act to amend the Canal Boats Act, 1877. [14th August, 1884.]

Certificate of registry made void by structural alterations.

1. A certificate of registration granted under the principal Act (b) shall cease to be in force in the event of any structural alterations having been made in the canal boat affecting the conditions upon which the certificate of registration has been obtained.

Penalty for contravention of regulations under Canal Boats Acts.

2. If default is made in complying with any of the regulations made or to be made by the Local Government Board (a) and Education Department under the principal Act (b) or this Act, and for the time being in force, the master of the boat with respect to which the default is made, and also the owner of the boat, if in default, shall for each default be liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding twenty shillings.

(a) Here and throughout this Act, for Local Government Board, read Minister of Health, who succeeded to the powers of the Board under the Ministry of Health Act, 1919.

Enforcement of Act by registration

3. It shall be the duty of every registration or sanitary authority within whose district any canal, or any part of a canal is situate, to enforce within and sanitary authority, and report to be made.

such district the provisions of the principal Act and this Act, and any regulations made thereunder by the Local Government Board (a); and every such authority shall, within twenty-one days after the thirty-first day of December in every year, make a report (b) to the Local Government Board (a) as to the execution of the principal Act and this Act, and of the regulations made thereunder as aforesaid, and as to the steps taken by such authority during the year to give effect to the provisions of the said Acts and regulations.

(b) As to the information to be included in this report, see Circular of the L. G. B., dated December 20th, 1902, App. II., post, p. 3095.

Inquiries and reports by Local Government Board.

4. The Local Government Board (a) shall in every year present a report to both Houses of Parliament as to the execution of the principal Act and this Act, and the observance of the regulations made by them thereunder, and shall cause inquiries to be made from time to time by an inspector or inspectors to be appointed by them for that purpose.

Such inspectors shall for the purpose of any inquiry under this Act have in relation to witnesses and their examination, the production of papers, and inspection of places and matters required to be inspected, similar powers to those which poor law inspectors have under the Acts relating to the relief of the poor for the purposes of those Acts (b), and may enter any canal boat at any time by day (c), and examine the same and every part thereof, and may, if need be, for the purpose of such inquiry detain the boat, but for no longer time than is necessary.

The master of the boat shall, if required by any such inspector, produce to him the certificate of registry, if any, of the boat, and permit him to examine and copy the same, and shall furnish him with such assistance and means as such inspector may require for the purpose of his entry and examination of and departure from the boat in pursuance of this section.

A refusal to comply with the requisition of such inspector under this section shall be deemed to be an obstruction of such inspector.

If such inspector is obstructed in the performance of his duty under this Act, the person obstructing him shall be liable to a fine not exceeding forty shillings.

(b) See note (b) to P. H. A., 1875, s. 296, ante, p. 629.
(c) See s. 9, post, p. 2487.

Power to make regulations as to school certificates, etc.

5. The power to make regulations given to the Local Government Board (a) by the principal Act and this Act shall include power to the Education Department to make regulations with respect to the form of certificates or pass books as to attendance at school to be used by children in canal boats.

Annual report by Education Department. 33 & 34 Vict. c. 75. 36 & 37 Vict. c. 86. 39 & 40 Vict. c. 79. 43 & 44 Vict. c. 23.

6. The Education Department shall every year report to Parliament as to the manner in which the Elementary Education Acts, 1870 and 1873, 1876 and 1880, are enforced with respect to children in canal boats, and shall for that purpose direct her Majesty's Inspector of Schools to communicate with the school boards and school attendance committees in their district.

Lettering and numbering of canal boats.

7. A canal boat shall not be deemed to be lettered, marked, and numbered in conformity with section three of the principal Act (a), unless it is so lettered, marked, and numbered on both sides of the canal boat, or in some suitable position on the stern of the boat, so that the lettering, marking, and numbering may be plainly visible from both sides of the canal whereon the boat may be.

(a) Ante, p. 2396.

8. Every fine recovered under the principal Act or this Act shall be paid in the case of a prosecution by any registration or sanitary authority or person authorised by any such authority to such authority or person, and if paid to such person shall be paid by him to such authority, and shall be applied towards the expenses of executing the principal Act and this Act, any Act to the contrary notwithstanding.

Application of fines.

9. The expression "by day" in the principal Act and this Act shall be deemed to include the hours between six o'clock in the morning and nine o'clock at night.

Definition of term "by day."

10. If it shall at any time appear to the Local Government Board (a) on the representation of any registration or sanitary authority or of any inspector appointed under this Act, that the principal Act and this Act ought to apply to any vessel or class of vessels which would be within the definition of canal boat contained in section fourteen of the principal Act, if such vessel or class of vessels were not registered under the Merchant Shipping Act, 1854, and the Acts amending the same, the Local Government Board (a) may declare that the principal Act and this Act shall apply to such vessel or class of vessels, although the same may be registered as aforesaid, and thereupon the same shall be deemed to be a canal boat or canal boats within the meaning of the principal Act and this Act, and the definition contained in section fourteen of the principal Act shall be amended accordingly (b).

Amendment of definition of canal boat.

(a) See note (a) to s. 2, ante, p. 2485.

(b) An order was made under this section by the M. of H. on July 10th, 1922. See the Order in App. II., post, p. 3096. The definition of canal boat in the Canal Boats Act, 1877, s. 14, ante, p. 2400, is amended accordingly.

11. This Act may be cited as the Canal Boats Act, 1884, and shall be construed as one with the Canal Boats Act, 1877, which Act and this Act may be cited together as the Canal Boats Acts, 1877 and 1884.

Short title and construction of Act.
40 & 41 Vict. c. 60.

THE LOCAL LOANS SINKING FUNDS ACT, 1885.

(48 & 49 VICT. 30) (a).

An Act to amend the Local Loans Act, 1875, as regards the Establishment of a Sinking Fund. [22nd July, 1885.]

1. This Act may be cited for all purposes as the Local Loans Sinking Funds Act, 1885.

Short title.

(a) This Act amends the Local Loans Act, 1875, ante, p. 2343. Section 13 of that Act, ante, p. 2347, which provides for the discharge of loans, enacts that such discharge shall be secured by one or more of certain prescribed methods. Of these methods one relates to a sinking fund, and is in these words: "Where a sinking fund is prescribed, but not otherwise [such discharge shall be secured], by the establishment of a sinking fund, and the application thereof in manner in this Act mentioned." The amending Act in effect repeals the words printed in italics, and enables a loan to be discharged by means of a sinking fund, although it has not been prescribed by the special Act authorising the loan. The preamble to this Act and s. 3 are repealed by the S. L. R. A., 1898. Reference should be made to s. 4 of the Local Authorities (Financial Provisions) Act, 1921, for the power given to suspend sinking-fund payments in case of money borrowed for revenue producing works.

2. This Act shall not extend to Scotland or Ireland.

Limits of Act.

3. [Commencement of Act, September 1st, 1885.]

Discharge of loans by sinking funds. 38 & 39 Vict. c. 83.

4. Notwithstanding anything contained in the Local Loans Act, 1875, every loan borrowed in manner provided by that Act may be discharged by the establishment of a sinking fund as therein mentioned, notwithstanding that a sinking fund may not have been prescribed by the special Act authorising the loan.

THE QUARRY (FENCING) ACT, 1887.

(50 & 51 VICT. c. 19.)

An Act to provide for the Fencing of Quarries. [19th July, 1887.]

Short title.

1. This Act may be cited as the Quarry (Fencing) Act, 1887.

2. [Commencement of Act, January 1st, 1888.]

Fencing of quarries.

3. Where any quarry dangerous to the public is in open or uninclosed land, within fifty yards of a highway or place of public resort dedicated to the public, and is not separated therefrom by a secure and sufficient fence, it shall be kept reasonably fenced for the prevention of accidents, and unless so kept shall be deemed to be a nuisance liable to be dealt with summarily in manner provided by the Public Health Act, 1875 (a).

(a) An unfenced quarry which is within this section is, therefore, a nuisance within the meaning of s. 91 of the P. H. A., 1875, ante, p. 174. Proceedings may consequently be taken against the owner or occupier under that and the succeeding sections. Notice must be given to the owner or occupier under s. 94 requiring the nuisance to be abated by the erection of a proper fence. If the notice is disregarded complaint may be made to justices under s. 96, and the local authority may themselves abate the nuisance and recover the expenses under s. 97. But members of a district council are not liable to a charge of manslaughter in case anyone is killed by falling into an unfenced quarry merely because that council have omitted to exercise their powers under the above-mentioned enactments (R. v. Clerk of Assize of Oxford Circuit, [1897] 1 Q. B. 370; 61 J. P. 197). See also as to the common law obligation on the possessor of a dangerous excavation by the side of the highway to keep it fenced off (Att.-Gen. v. Roe, [1915] 1 Ch. 235).

It should be noticed that this Act applies to quarries which are being worked as well as to those which have ceased to be worked. In this respect it differs from the somewhat similar provisions of the Coal Mines Act, 1911, post, p. 2710, and the Metalliferous Mines Regulation Act, 1872, ante, p. 2329.

As to the repair and enclosing of dangerous places, and the fencing of lands adjoining streets, see ss. 30 and 31 of the P. H. A., 1907, ante, pp. 1122, 1124.

The plaintiff was in the occupation of the surface of a field, and the defendants were in the occupation of a quarry in the same field, which they had enlarged. Both held under the same landlord. The quarry was entirely unfenced. One of the plaintiff's bullocks fell into the quarry and was killed :—Held, that the plaintiff was entitled to recover damages from the defendants for the loss of the bullock (Hawken v. Shearer and Another, W. N. (1887) 89; 56 L. J. Q. B. 284).

A proprietor is under no obligation to fence a disused quarry on his property which is at a distance of upwards 150 yards from the nearest point of the public road. A person on a dark night left the public road, and was found in the morning in a dying state at the bottom of the face of a disused quarry, eighteen feet in height. The quarry was more than 150 yards from the nearest point of the public road. A path, which had served as an access to the quarry when it was in use eight years before, left the public road about 200 yards from the quarry, and continued towards the quarry, which was overgrown with long grass and willows. The path was occasionally used by inhabitants of the district, but, against the remonstrances of the proprietor and his tenant, passed within six yards of the edge of the quarry face. The person who had fallen in was a stranger in the district, and was unable to give any account of how he had reached the spot where he fell. In an action for damages against the proprietor by the representatives of the deceased, a jury found for pursuers. A new trial was granted on the ground that the evidence disclosed no fault on the part of the defender (Prentice v. Assets Co., Ltd. (1890), 17 Ct. of Sess. Cas. (4th ser.) 484).

4. In this Act—

The term "quarry" includes every pit or opening made for the purpose of getting stone, slates, lime, chalk, clay, gravel, or sand, but not any natural opening. Interpretation.

5. This Act shall not extend to Scotland and Ireland. Extent of Act.

THE WATER COMPANIES (REGULATION OF POWERS) ACT, 1887.

(50 & 51 VICT. c. 21.)

An Act to limit the Powers of the Water Companies to cut off the Tenant's Water Supply where the Rate is paid by the Landlord. [8th August, 1887.]

1. This Act may be cited as "The Water Companies (Regulation of Powers) Act, 1887." Short title.

2. This Act shall not extend to Scotland or Ireland. Extent of Act.

3. This Act shall apply to every water company which is a trading company supplying water for profit (a), and to which any of the provisions of the Waterworks Clauses Act, 1847, have been or shall be made applicable by any special Act or Provisional Order confirmed by Parliament, and every such special Act or Provisional Order shall be deemed to be amended by this Act, and shall be construed accordingly (b). Application of Act.

(a) See Metropolitan Water Board v. Berton, [1921] 1 Ch. 299.

(b) From this section it appears that it does not apply to a local authority supplying water by virtue of the powers contained in the P. H. A., 1875, as such an authority is not a trading company supplying water for profit. The Provisional Order here referred to is an Order obtained under the Gas and Water Works Facilities Act, 1870, ante, p. 2272, and the Gas and Water Works Facilities Act, 1870, Amendment Act, 1873, ante, p. 2339.

4. Where the owner and not the occupier is liable by law (a) or by agreement with the water company to the payment of the water rate in respect of any dwelling-house or part of a dwelling-house occupied as a separate tenement no water company shall cut off the water supply for non-payment of the water rate (b), but such water rate, without prejudice to the other remedies of the company for enforcing payment thereof from such owner (c), shall, together with interest thereon at the rate of five pounds per centum per annum, computed from the expiration of one month from the time when the same has been claimed by the company until receipt thereof by the company, be a charge on such dwelling-house in priority to all other charges affecting the premises (d); and (without prejudice to such charge) the amount may be recovered, with the costs incurred, from the owner or from the occupier for the time being in the same manner as water rates may by law be recovered (c): Provided always, that proceedings shall not be taken against the occupier until notice shall have been given to him or left at his dwelling-house to pay the amount due for water rate out of the rent then due or that may thereafter become due from him, and he shall have omitted so to pay such water rate; and provided also, that no greater sum shall be recovered at any one time from any such occupier than the amount of rent owing by him, or which shall have accrued due from him since such notice shall have been given or left as aforesaid, and that every such occupier shall be entitled to deduct from the rent payable by him the sum so recovered from him or which he shall have paid on demand (e). Water not to be cut off where the water rate is payable by the owner.

Note to Section 4.

(a) The owner of a house not exceeding £10 rent is liable to pay water rates by virtue of the Waterworks Clauses Act, 1847, s. 72, ante, p. 2199. The words "is liable" refer to a liability at the date when the water rate became due, and if there was at that date an occupier other than the owner, and the owner and not the occupier was liable for the payment of that rate, the section prohibits the water company from cutting off the supply for non-payment of the rate, even after the occupier has given up possession and the premises have become vacant (Metropolitan Water Board v. Bibbey, [1911] 2 K. B. 74; 75 J. P. 322).

(b) The power to cut off the supply of water for non-payment of water rate is given by 10 & 11 Vict c. 17, s. 74, ante, p. 2200.

(c) These remedies are given by the Waterworks Clauses Act, 1847, s. 74, ante, p. 2200, and the Waterworks Clauses Act, 1863, s. 16, ante, p. 2267. The owner of a block of flats which were respectively of an annual value not exceeding £20 entered into an agreement with a water company for the supply of water to the flats by meter. The owner subsequently mortgaged the premises, and upon his getting into financial difficulties, the mortgagees appointed the defendant to act as receiver of the rents on their behalf. At the date of the defendant's appointment there were arrears owing to the plaintiffs (successors to the company) for water supplied to the flats under the agreement. CHANNELL, J., held that the defendant was not the owner of the premises within the meaning of this section and was not liable as such for the arrears existing at the time of his appointment (Metropolitan Water Board v. Brooks, [1910] 2 K. B. 134; 74 J. P. 233). The Court of Appeal reversed the decision of CHANNELL, J., but not on this ground ([1911] 1 K. B. 289; 75 J. P. 41).

(d) See the notes to the corresponding provisions of s. 257 of the P. H. A., 1875, ante, p. 567. This charge will not, however, be a "local land charge" to be registered under s. 15 of the Land Charges Act, 1925, ante, p. 1519. The words "in priority to all other charges" appear to be superfluous, as the charge under the Act would affect the property in the hands of a mortgagee. See Birmingham Corporation v. Baker (1881), 17 Ch. D. 782; 46 J. P. 52.

(e) A landlord gave a tenant notice to quit, and on the tenant continuing to remain in possession gave notice to a water company to cut off the supply, which they did:—Held, that, as the cutting off had not been for non-payment of the water rate, the above Act did not apply (Chelsea Waterworks Co. v. Paulet (1887), 4 T. L. R. 239).

The effect of the above section is, that a purchaser of the freehold of a dwelling-house is liable to a personal action at the suit of the waterworks company to recover arrears of water rate which accrued due before the date of the purchase (East London Waterworks Co. v. Kellerman, [1892] 2 Q. B. 72; 56 J. P. 773).

Penalty on cutting off of supply in contravention of the Act.

5. In the event of any such supply being cut off in contravention of this Act, the company cutting off the same shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding five pounds for each day during which the water shall remain cut off, which penalty shall be recoverable summarily from the company by, and shall be paid to, the person aggrieved (a).

(a) Although primâ facie the tenant would be the person aggrieved, the landlord may also be "aggrieved" (Metropolitan Water Board v. Bibbey, supra). And see South West Suburban Water Co. v. Hardy (1913), 77 J. P. 283; 109 L. T. 169.

THE MARKETS AND FAIRS (WEIGHING OF CATTLE) ACT, 1887.

50 & 51 VICT. C. 27) (a).

An Act to amend the Law with respect to weighing Cattle in Markets and Fairs. [8th August, 1887.]

10 & 11 Vict. c. 14.

Whereas it is expedient to afford the like facilities for weighing cattle in markets and fairs as are afforded for weighing goods and carts under the Markets and Fairs Clauses Act, 1847, in markets and fairs to which that Act applies (b) :

Short title.

1. This Act may be cited as "The Markets and Fairs (Weighing of Cattle) Act, 1887."

Note to Section 1.

(a) This Act is amended in some important respects by the Markets and Fairs (Weighing of Cattle) Act, 1891, post, p. 2534. In particular its application is extended to auction marts. Further amendments are made by the Markets and Fairs (Weighing of Cattle) Act, 1926, post, p. 2908.

(b) The provisions of the Markets and Fairs Clauses Act, 1847, here referred to, are the 10 & 11 Vict. c. 14, ss. 21—30. These provisions are incorporated with the P. H. A., 1875, by s. 167 of that Act, ante, p. 404, and are set out, ante, p. 2154.

Application of Act.

2. This Act, save as is hereinafter provided, shall apply to all markets and fairs in which tolls are for the time being authorised to be taken and actually are taken in respect of cattle by any company, corporation, or person and every such company, corporation, or person is in this Act called "the market authority" (a).

(a) This Act will, therefore, apply to local authorities which possess or have the control of markets, whether by virtue of the P. H. A. or otherwise, if their tolls include tolls for cattle, and such tolls are actually taken.

Interpretation.

3. In this Act the word "cattle" includes (a) ram, ewe, wether, lamb, and swine.

(a) See the observations on the word "includes," ante, p. 7, note (b). Its effect is to extend the meaning of the term with reference to which it is used, so that the word "cattle" in this Act will include not only the animals ordinarily described as "cattle," but also the animals enumerated in the section.

Accommodation for weighing cattle to be provided.

4. In or near (a) to every market or fair to which this Act applies, the market authority shall provide and maintain sufficient and proper buildings or places for weighing cattle brought for sale within the market or fair, and shall keep therein or near thereto weighing machines and weights for the purpose of weighing cattle, and shall appoint proper persons to have charge of such machines and weights, and to afford the use of such machines and weights to the public for weighing cattle as may be from time to time required.

The market authority shall have the accuracy of such weighing machines and weights tested at least twice every year by the local inspector of weights and measures of and for the county, borough, or place where the market is situate, and the cost of such testing shall be borne by such market authority.

If the market authority fail to comply with the provisions of this section, it shall not be lawful for them to demand, receive, or recover any toll whatever in respect of any cattle brought to the market or fair for sale so long as such failure continues, but this enactment shall not apply till after the first day of January one thousand eight hundred and eighty eight (b).

Any person who demands or receives any toll in respect of cattle in any market or fair to which for the time being this Act applies (c), but in which the market authority have not complied with the provisions of this Act, shall be liable on summary conviction (d) to a fine not exceeding five pounds.

(a) Observe that the necessary accommodation need not be actually in the market. It may be near it, i.e., in some convenient place outside, but not far from the market.

(b) It will be necessary for every market authority to which this Act applies (see note (a) to s. 2, supra), to provide the weighing accommodation required by the Act, otherwise tolls for cattle cannot be demanded or taken until the Act is complied with.

The Markets and Fairs (Weighing of Cattle) Act, 1891, s. 2, post, p. 2534, provides that the market authority of every market or fair shall, unless exempted by Order of the Minister of Agriculture, provide and maintain to the satisfaction of the Minister sufficient and suitable accommodation for weighing cattle, and that default of so doing shall be deemed default in complying with the above section. Where a weighing machine is provided under these Acts all fat cattle sold by auction in the market or fair must be weighed and their weight disclosed to intending purchasers at the time of offer for sale (Markets and Fairs (Weighing of Cattle) Act, 1926, s. 1, post, p. 2908).

In December, 1887, the plaintiffs, as the market authority under the above section, took steps to provide a weighing machine for cattle upon a site in their market-place, which, according to the plaintiff's contention, consisted of two long and narrow strips in the market town separated by the highway. The defendants interfered, their contention being that the market-place was not distinct from the highway; and that the entire space upon which the markets were held was a public highway dedicated to the use of the public, subject only to the right of the owner of the soil for the time being, or her lessees, to hold markets thereon, and that the market-place, as a highway, was vested in them, the defendants as an urban authority, under the P. H. A., 1875, and that the proposed weighing machine, would be a public nuisance, and interfere with their rights in such highway, and with the public right of passage thereon: Held, that the above section was an imperative section, and the market authority was not only at liberty, but was bound, to provide a proper weighing machine for their market, which, according to the Act, must be a permanent structure, and not a movable machine:—Held, also, that the defendants were entirely wrong in their contention, and that they must, therefore, be restrained from interfering with the plaintiff (McIntosh v. Romford L. B. (1889), 61 L. T. 185; 5 T. L. R. 643).

A portion of a cattle market was let by the market authority to auctioneers for exclusive use by them as a saleyard, such portion consisting of a covered shed separated from the rest of the market. All animals sold in this yard had to pass through the market gates and to pay toll to the market authority. There were no facilities for weighing cattle in the yard, but a weigh-bridge was provided in the market at which cattle sold in the saleyard could be weighed. It was held that there being within the market facilities for weighing cattle, there were facilities for weighing cattle in or near to the auctioneer's mart to satisfy the requirements of s. 4 (Knott v. Stride (1913), 77 J. P. 222; 109 L. T. 181).

(c) See note (a) to s. 2, ante, p. 2491.

(d) The effect of this provision is that the fine must be recovered pursuant to the S. J. Acts. See the S. J. A., 1879, s. 51 (1), which regulates the application of the S. J. Acts to future Acts. There are no restrictions on the recovery of this fine, and it may be recovered at the instance of a common informer. The informer will not, however, receive any part of the fine, which is payable to the treasurer of the county or borough, as the case may be, as an unappropriated penalty under the S. J. A., 1848, s. 31.

Cattle to be weighed at option of seller or buyer.

5. Every person selling, offering for sale, or buying any cattle in a market or fair provided with accommodation for weighing cattle may require such cattle to be weighed, and the tolls payable in respect of the weighing shall be paid by the person requiring the cattle to be weighed to the person authorised by the market authority, to receive the tolls.

Penalty for refusal to weigh cattle or to give ticket, etc.

6. Every person appointed by the market authority to weigh cattle sold in the market or fair, who—

(a) refuses or neglects to weigh the same when required; or

(b) refuses or neglects to deliver to the seller or buyer a ticket specifying the true weight of the cattle weighed; or

(c) gives to any person a false ticket or account of any cattle weighed (a);

shall be liable on summary conviction (b) to a fine not exceeding forty shillings and not less than half a crown.

(a) No doubt the same person will be appointed to fulfil the duties imposed by this Act as is appointed to perform the similar duties imposed by the Markets and Fairs Clauses Act, 1847, s. 21, ante, p. 2160. The duty of such person will be to weigh any cattle brought to the market for sale at the request of either the buyer or the seller, and after weighing to deliver a ticket specifying the true weight of the cattle weighed.

(b) See note (d) to s. 4, supra.

Penalty for fraud.

7. Every person who knowingly acts or assists in committing any fraud respecting the weighing of any cattle weighed in pursuance of this Act, shall for every such offence be liable on summary conviction (b) to a fine not exceeding five pounds.

(a) See note (d) to s. 4, supra.

Tolls for weighing cattle.

8. The market authority may from time to time (unless otherwise expressly provided by any Act) demand and receive in respect of the weighing of cattle tolls not exceeding the amounts specified in the Schedule to this Act (a), or such other amounts as may be authorised by the Local Government Board (b) to be taken by the market authority; and sections thirty-six to forty-one (both included) of the Markets and Fairs Clauses Act, 1847 (c), shall apply to the tolls mentioned in this section, as if this Act were the special Act, and the market authority were the undertakers.

(a) The amounts in the schedule were increased by s. 3 and Schedule to the Markets and Fairs (Weighing of Cattle) Act, 1926, post, p. 2908.

(b) Now Minister of Health.

10 & 11 Vict. c. 14.

(c) See these sections, ante, p. 2163. They relate, inter alia, to the recovery of the tolls, and require a list of the tolls to be set up in conspicuous places.

Power to exempt certain markets and fairs from provisions of Act.

9.—(1) The market authority of any market or fair may at any time apply to the Local Government Board (a) to be exempted from the provisions of this Act on the ground that the sale of cattle at such market or fair is or is likely to be so small as to render it inexpedient to enforce the provisions and maintenance of a place for weighing cattle and of a weighing machine under this Act (b); and thereupon the Local Government Board (a) may by Order declare that this Act shall not apply to such market or fair until after the expiration of a time not exceeding three years to be limited by such Order. Any Order made under this section may at any time be wholly or partially rescinded, altered, or extended by any subsequent Order of the Local Government Board (a).

(2) This Act shall not apply to any market or fair to which any Order under this section applies so long as it is declared by such Order that this Act shall not apply thereto (c).

(a) The powers of the L. G. B. under this section were transferred to the Board (now Minister) of Agriculture and Fisheries by 54 & 55 Vict. c. 70, s. 1, post, p. 2534; and see ss. 2, 4 of that Act as to exemptions by the Minister. Any applications for orders of exemptions should be accompanied by full particulars as to the nature and extent of the sales of cattle in the market, fair, or mart during the previous three years, and as to the amounts of toll levied (Circular Letter of the Board of Agriculture, dated November 25th, 1891).

(b) The words in italics cease to have effect by reason of s. 2 of the Markets and Fairs (Weighing of Cattle) Act, 1926, post, p. 2908. That section empowers the Minister to grant exemption where the circumstances are in his opinion such as to render the enforcement of the requirement of the section inexpedient.

(c) This section contains the only exception to the application of the Act to local authorities who have markets in which tolls are charged for the sale of cattle.

10. [Application of Act to Scotland and Ireland.]

THE SCHEDULE.

	Not exceeding
For every head of cattle other than sheep or swine	[Sixpence]
For sheep or swine, every five or less number	[Threepence] (a)

(a) The amounts in brackets were substituted for 2*d.* and 1*d.* respectively by s. 3 and Schedule of the Markets and Fairs (Weighing of Cattle) Act, 1926, post, p. 2908.

THE OPEN SPACES ACT, 1887.

(50 & 51 VICT. c. 32) (a).

An Act for extending certain Provisions of the Metropolitan Open Spaces Acts, 1877 and 1881, with Amendments, to Sanitary Districts throughout England, Wales, and Ireland; and for other purposes.

[23rd August, 1887.]

Amendment of 47 & 48 Vict. c. 72.

4. In the Disused Burial Grounds Act, 1884 (b), and in this Act, the expression "burial ground" shall have the same meaning as in the Metropolitan Open Spaces Act, 1881, as amended by this Act, and the expression "disused burial ground" shall mean any burial ground which is no longer used for interments, whether or not such ground shall have been partially or wholly closed for burials under the provisions of any statute or Order in Council, and the expression "building" shall include any temporary or movable building (c).

(a) This Act extended to urban and rural districts, the provisions of the Acts in force in the metropolis relating to open spaces, viz., 40 & 41 Vict. c. 35, and 44 & 45 Vict. c. 34, and this Act was extended by 53 & 54 Vict. c. 15. It is now, however, repealed, except so much of s. 4 as amends the Disused Burial Grounds Act, 1884, ante, p. 2484, by s. 23, and Schedule of the Open Spaces Act, 1906, which also wholly repeals 40 & 41 Vict. c. 35, and 44 & 45 Vict. c. 34, and 53 & 54 Vict. c. 15.

(b) Ante, p. 2484. See In re Ecclesiastical Commissioners and New City of London Brewery Co.'s Contract, [1895] 1 Ch. 702. The Metropolitan Open Spaces Act, 1881, as amended by this Act (now consolidated in the Open Spaces Act, 1906, post, p. 2676), defined "burial ground" as any ground whether consecrated or not which has been at any time set apart for the purposes of interment. As to the meaning of the words "set apart," see Re Ponsford and Newport School Board, [1894] 1 Ch. 454. If at the time land was so set apart there was in force an Order in Council prohibiting the opening of any new burial ground in the district so that it could never lawfully be used for the purposes for which it was set apart, such land was, nevertheless, a "disused burial ground" within this definition (Re Bosworth and Gravesend Corporation, [1905] 2 K. B. 426; 69 J. P. 337). Doubt was, however, expressed as to the correctness of these two decisions in Nicholl v. Llantwit Major Parish Council, [1924] 2 Ch. 214; 131 L. T. 634. In that case it was held that land purchased for use as a burial ground but found unfit and so never fenced off, or consecrated or used for interment had not been "set apart" for the purposes of interment. This last named case was, however, distinguished and the earlier cases followed in London C. C. v. Greenwich B. C., [1929] 1 Ch. 305; 93 J. P. 123.

THE PUBLIC WORKS LOANS ACT, 1887.

(50 & 51 VICT. c. 37) (a).

An Act to grant money for the purpose of certain Local Loans; and for other purposes relating to Local Loans. [16th September, 1887.]

Short title.

1. This Act may be cited as "The Public Works Loans Act, 1887."

(a) A list of the other Public Works Loans Acts will be found, ante, p. 2357. The rest of this Act relates to the grant of moneys by Parliament for the year and to purely local matters. Italicised words repealed by the S. L. R. A., 1908.

* * * * * *

Power for certain local authorities to guarantee harbour loans.
45 & 46 Vict. c. 62.

4. Whereas under section seven of the Public Works Loans Act, 1882 (a), provision may be made for enabling any rating authority as therein defined to charge any fund or rate under their control for the purpose of aiding a public body in raising a loan for the construction of a harbour, pier, or other similar works, and it is expedient to extend the provisions of that section to certain other rating authorities: Be it therefore enacted that the expression "rating authority" as defined in that section shall include:

(1) As regards England—

38 & 39 Vict. c. 55.

(a) Any authority being a rural sanitary authority under the Public Health Act, 1875, and the Acts amending the same; and

(b) any justices in quarter sessions assembled and any representative county body which may be hereafter created by Act of Parliament.

(a) See this section, ante, p. 2458.

THE ELECTRIC LIGHTING ACT, 1888.

(51 & 52 VICT. c. 12) (a).

An Act to amend the Electric Lighting Act, 1882. [28th June, 1888.]

Consent of local authority generally required to Provisional Order for supply of electricity.

1. Notwithstanding anything in the Electric Lighting Act, 1882, no Provisional Order (b) authorising the supply of electricity by any undertakers within the district of any local authority shall be granted by the Board of Trade (c) except with the consent of such local authority, unless the Board of Trade (c), in any case in which the consent of such local authority is refused, are of opinion that, having regard to all the circumstances of the case, such consent ought to be dispensed with, and in such case they shall make a special report, stating the grounds upon which they have dispensed with such consent. The grant of authority to any undertakers to supply electricity within any area, whether granted by licence or by means of a Provisional Order, shall not in any way hinder or restrict the granting of a licence or Provisional Order to the local authority, or to any other company or person within the same area (d).

(b) Anything which could be effected by a Provisional Order may now be effected by a special Order or (in the case of a joint electricity authority) by an Order, and references in this Act to Provisional Orders now include references to such a special Order or Order except as regards paragraphs (1) to (4) of s. 4 of the Act of 1882 (see s. 26 of the Electricity (Supply) Act, 1919, post, p. 2799).

(c) Now the Ministry of Transport (see note (a) to s. 1 of the 1882 Act, on p. 2437).

(d) The first part of this section amended s. 4 of the Act of 1882, which enabled the Board of Trade (now Minister of Transport) to authorise any local authority, company, or person to supply electricity within any area without requiring such consents as are required to the granting of a licence. These consents are enumerated in s. 3 of the Act of 1882, and included the consent of the local authority; but save as is provided by the Electricity (Supply) Act, 1919, q.v. p. 2782, post, the consent of the local authority will now be necessary in every case, unless dispensed with by the Minister of Transport for special reasons. As to the "local authority," see the Schedule to the Act of 1882, and s. 4 (5), post, p. 2498. The latter part of the section provides, in effect, that a licence or Provisional Order shall not confer a monopoly to supply electricity. Cf. Hull Electric Co. v. Ottawa Electric Co., [1902] A. C. 237, but see s. 23 of the Electric Lighting Act, 1909, post, p. 2798, prohibiting competition by unauthorised undertakers; and see now the provisions of the Electricity (Supply) Acts, 1919, 1922 and 1926, post, pp. 2782, 2835, 2909.

Repeal of 45 & 46 Vict. c. 56, s. 27.

2. Section twenty-seven of the Electric Lighting Act, 1882, is hereby repealed, and in lieu thereof the following provisions shall have effect; that is to say, (a)

Purchase of undertaking by local authority.

Where any undertakers are authorised by a Provisional Order or a special Act to supply electricity within any area, any local authority within whose jurisdiction such area or any part thereof is situated may, within six months after the expiration of a period of forty-two years (b), or such shorter period as is specified in that behalf in the Provisional Order or in the special Act, from the date of the passing of the Act confirming such Provisional Order, or of such special Act, and within six months after the expiration of every subsequent period of ten years (c), or such shorter period as is specified in that behalf in the Provisional Order or in the special Act, by notice in writing require such undertakers to sell, and thereupon such undertakers shall sell to them their undertaking, or so much of the same as is within such jurisdiction, upon terms of paying the then value of all lands, buildings, works, materials, and plant of such undertakers suitable to and used by them for the purposes of their undertaking within such jurisdiction, such value to be in case of difference determined by arbitration: Provided that the value of such lands, buildings, works, materials, and plant shall be deemed to be their fair market value at the time of the purchase, due regard being had to the nature and then condition of such buildings, works, materials, and plant, and to the state of repair thereof, and to the circumstance that they are in such a position as to be ready for immediate working (d), and to the suitability of the same to the purposes of the undertaking, and, where a part only of the undertaking is purchased, to any loss occasioned by severance; but without any addition in respect of compulsory purchase, or of goodwill, or of any profits which may or might have been or be made from the undertaking, or of any similar considerations (e). The Board of Trade (f) may determine any other questions which may arise in relation to such purchase, and may fix the date from which such purchase is to take effect, and from and after the date so fixed, or such other date as may be agreed upon between the parties, all lands, buildings, works, materials, and plant so purchased as aforesaid shall vest in the local authority which has made the purchase, freed from any debts, mortgages, or similar obligations of such undertakers or attaching to the undertaking, and the powers of such undertakers in relation to the supply of electricity under this Act or such Provisional Order or special Act as aforesaid within such area or part thereof as aforesaid shall absolutely cease and determine, and shall vest in the local authority aforesaid (g).

(c) In the repealed section, this period was seven years.

(d) These words from "and to the circumstance" are an addition to the words of the repealed section. See as to the principle of this addition the judgment of Lord HERSCHELL in the analogous case of the purchase of a water supply undertaking in Stockton and Middlesbrough Water Board v. Kirkleatham L. B., [1893] A. C. 444, at pp. 449, 450; 57 J. P. 772. This case was distinguished in a colonial case, Perth Gas Co., Ltd. v. Perth Corporation, [1911] A. C., at p. 514.

(e) As to capital expenditure subsequent to the notice to treat, see Metropolitan Electric Supply v. Marylebone Borough Council (1903), 67 J. P. 382; 1 L. G. R. 673.

(g) The undertakers' powers vest in the purchasers by virtue of this provision and not as a result of any transfer from the undertakers (Edinburgh Street Tramways Co. v. Lord Provost of Edinburgh, [1894] A. C. 456). Section 39, Electricity (Supply) Act, 1926, post, p. 2931, makes provision for the purchase of companies with large areas of supply and excludes this and the following section. See also ss. 40 and 41 of that Act which alter the terms of purchase in respect of a company taking a bulk supply under the Act and in all cases authorises an alteration of the statutory terms of purchase by agreement. See s. 7 of the Electric Lighting Act, 1909, post, p. 2698, as to the purchase of generating stations, works and mains situated outside the district or districts supplied by the undertakers. See the same section as to one authority transferring its powers of purchase to another authority supplied by the undertakers. See now also ss. 12 (2) and 13 of the Electricity (Supply) Act, 1919, post, p. 2788, and s. 14 of the Electricity (Supply) Act, 1922, post, p. 2842. A Provisional Order gave a corporation power to purchase compulsorily the undertaking of an electric lighting company, upon the terms of issuing to the company such an amount of corporation stock as would produce in dividends an annuity of 5 per cent. upon the capital properly expended by the company. By another Provisional Order the power of the corporation to issue irredeemable stock was taken away. The Acts confirming these Orders received the Royal Assent on the same day:—Held, that the stock to be issued to the company was irredeemable stock; that the corporation had no longer, even by implication, power to issue such stock; and that consequently their power of compulsory purchase could not be enforced (Sheffield Corporation v. Sheffield Electric Light and Power Co., [1898] 1 Ch. 203; 62 J. P. 87). As to stamp duty on a purchase of an electric light undertaking, see Eastbourne Corporation v. Att.-Gen., [1904] A. C. 155; 68 J. P. 393.

Power to vary terms of sale contained in last section.

3. Notwithstanding anything in the last preceding section contained, the Board of Trade (a) may by any Provisional Order to be made by them under the Electric Lighting Act, 1882, if they think fit, vary the terms upon which any local authority may require the undertakers to sell, and upon which the undertakers shall be required to sell to such local authority their undertaking or so much of the same as is within the jurisdiction of such local authority under the said section, in such manner as may have been agreed upon between such local authority and the undertakers (b).

Restrictions as to placing of electric lines, etc,

(2) Where in any case any electric line or work is used for the supply of electricity in such a manner as to injuriously affect any telegraphic line of the Postmaster-General (b), or to affect the telegraphic communication through any such line, the Postmaster-General may, by notice to be served upon the body or person owning or using or entitled to use such electric line or work, require that such supply be continued only in accordance with such conditions and regulations for the protection of the telegraphic lines of the Postmaster-General and the telegraphic communication through the same as he may by or in pursuance of such notice prescribe, and in default of compliance with such conditions and regulations the Postmaster-General may require that the supply of electricity through such electric line or work shall be forthwith discontinued: Provided that nothing in this sub-section shall apply to the supply of electricity through any electric line or work laid down or erected under and subject to the provisions of any licence, order, or special Act, or which may be used in accordance with any conditions or regulations prescribed by the Board of Trade (a) by or in pursuance of any notice given by them under this section.

(3) If any body or person fails to comply with the requirements of any notice which may be served upon them or him under this section, such body or person shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding twenty pounds for every such offence, to be recovered summarily, and any court of summary jurisdiction, on complaint made, may make an order directing and authorising the removal of any electric line or work specified in such notice by such person and upon such terms as they may think fit.

(4) Any notice authorised to be served under this section upon any body or person may be served by the same being addressed to such body or person, and being left at or transmitted through the post to any office of such body or the usual or last known place of abode of such person; and any notice so served by post shall be deemed to have been served at the time when the letter containing the notice would be delivered in the usual course of post, and in proving such service it shall be sufficient to prove that the letter containing the notice was properly addressed and put into the post.

Section 4.

45 & 46 Vict, c. 56.

(5) In this section terms and expressions to which by the Electric Lighting Act, 1882, meanings are assigned shall have the same respective meanings, provided that the term "street" shall include any square, court, or alley, highway, lane, road, thoroughfare, or public passage or place whatever, and the expression "telegraphic line" shall have the meaning assigned to it by the Telegraph Act, 1878 (e).

41 & 42 Vict. c. 76.

(6) Nothing in this section shall apply to any electric line or work of the Postmaster-General, or to any other electric line or work used or to be used solely for telegraphic purposes, except by way of protection, as in this section provided.

(c) As to electric trams, see National Telephone Co. v. Baker, ante, p. 2448.

(d) This sub-section is limited in its application to wires laid down by any company or person without statutory authority. The Electricity Commission have made regulations under it, and these regulations will be found in App. II., post, p. 3257. The wires to which this sub-section relates would, apparently, be subject to Part II. of the P. H. A., 1890, ante, p. 872, or s. 25 of the P. H. A., 1925, ante, p. 1564.

The Telegraph Act, 1878, s. 2, defines a telegraphic line to mean telegraph posts, and any work (within the meaning of the Telegraph Act, 1863), and also any cables, apparatus, pneumatic or other tube, pipe, or thing whatsoever, used for the purpose of transmitting telegraphic messages or maintaining telegraphic communication, and includes any portion of a telegraphic line as defined by that Act. By s. 3 of the Telegraph Act, 1863, the term "work" includes telegraphs and posts.

Short title.

5. This Act may be cited as the Electric Lighting Act, 1888; and the Electric Lighting Act, 1882, and this Act shall be read and construed together as one Act, and may be cited together for all purposes as the Electric Lighting Acts, 1882 and 1888.

THE GLEBE LANDS ACT, 1888.

(51 & 52 VICT. c. 20) (a).

An Act to facilitate the sale of Glebe Lands. [7th August, 1888.]

Short title and extent.

1. This Act may be cited as the Glebe Lands Act, 1888.

This Act shall not extend to Scotland or Ireland.

Supplemental provisions as to sale.

8.—(1) For the purpose of facilitating the acquisition of land by cottagers, labourers, and others, it shall be the duty of the Land Commissioners (b) in giving their approval of a sale under this Act (c), either to require as a condition thereof that the land or some part thereof shall be offered for sale in small parcels, or to the sanitary authority of a sanitary district for the purposes of the Allotments Act, 1887, or to satisfy themselves that such offer is not practicable without diminishing the price which can be obtained for the glebe land on a sale (d).

50 & 51 Vict. c. 48.

(2) Before approving of a sale under this Act of glebe land of any benefice, the Land Commissioners (b) shall require such notice of the proposed sale to be given as they think sufficient to give information thereof to the parishioners (e).

(3) The approval of the Land Commissioners (b) of a sale under this Act may be signified in the prescribed manner, and shall be conclusive evidence that the requirements of this Act with respect to the sale have been complied with.

(4) Subject to the provisions of this Act, the provisions of the Settled Land Act, 1882, with respect to the sale of land by a tenant for life shall, so far as circumstances admit, apply to a sale under this Act by an incumbent in like manner as if he were the tenant for life of the land, and accordingly he shall have the like power with respect to contracts as a tenant for life under that Act, and may do all things necessary and proper for carrying into effect a sale under this Act (f). 45 & 46 Vict. c. 38.

(a) This Act is included in the present Work only by reason of the provision in s. 8 relating to the sale of some of the land to which it applies to sanitary authorities for the purpose of allotments.

THE RAILWAY AND CANAL TRAFFIC ACT, 1888.

(51 & 52 VICT. c. 25) (a).

An Act for the better regulation of Railway and Canal Traffic, and for other purposes. [10th August, 1888.]

1. This Act may be cited as the Railway and Canal Traffic Act, 1888. Short title and construction.

This Act shall be construed as one with the Regulation of Railways Act, 1873, and the Acts amending it; and those Acts and this Act may be cited together as the Railway and Canal Traffic Acts, 1873 and 1888. 36 & 37 Vict. c. 48.

(a) This Act confers certain powers of making complaints upon sanitary authorities. See ss. 7, 16, 29, 31, 45 (1), (7). Only such parts of the Act as bear directly upon such complaints have been here inserted. The Act has been extended by the Railway and Canal Traffic Act, 1894. And see also the powers given to local authorities by the Railways Act, 1921. By that Act the jurisdiction of the Railway and Canal Commissioners in respect of certain matters connected with railway rates has been transferred to the Railway Rates Tribunal. See s. 78 of the Act of 1921, which makes provision for applications by public authorities in certain cases, and Southend Corporation v. L. M. & S. Rail. (1928), 19 Rly. & Can. Tr. Cas. 216, decided under that Act.

PART I.

COURT AND PROCEDURE OF RAILWAY AND CANAL COMMISSIONERS.

Establishment of Railway and Canal Commission.

* * * * * *

7.—(1) Any of the following authorities, that is to say— Provision for complaints by public authority in certain cases.

(a) any of the following local authorities, namely, any harbour board, or conservancy authority, the Common Council of the City of London, any council of a city or borough, any representative county body which may be created by an Act passed in the present or any future session of Parliament, any justices in quarter sessions assembled, the

Section 7.

Commissioners of Supply of any county in Scotland, the Metropolitan Board of Works (b) or any urban sanitary authority not being a council as aforesaid, or any rural sanitary authority (b); or may make to the Commissioners any complaint which the Commissioners have jurisdiction to determine (c), and may do so without proof that such authority is aggrieved by the matter complained of, and any of such authorities may appear in opposition to any complaint which the Commissioners have jurisdiction to determine in any case where such authority, or the persons represented by them, appear to the Commissioners to be likely to be affected by any determination of the Commissioners upon such complaint.

. . . . . .

(b) For an example of a complaint by a local authority, see Maidstone Town Council v. S. E. Rail. Co. and L. C. & D. Rail. Co. (1891), 7 Rail. C. 99. See also West Sussex C. C. v L. B. & S. C. Rail. Co., Times, February 24th, 1892.

(c) As to the complaints which the Commissioners have power to determine, see s. 8 and succeeding sections, especially s. 9, and ss. 1 and 4 of the Railway and Canal Traffic Act, 1894. See also Darlaston L. B. v. L. & N. W. Rail. Co., [1894] 2 Q. B. 694; overruling Winsford L. B. v. Cheshire Lines Committee (1890), 24 Q. B. D. 456. See also s. 54, post, p. 2514, as to the costs of local authorities.

Jurisdiction.

Jurisdiction of railway commissioners transferred to the commission.

8. There shall be transferred to and vested in the Commissioners all the jurisdiction and powers which at the commencement of this Act were vested in, or capable of being exercised by the Railway Commissioners, whether under the Regulation of Railways Act, 1873, or any other Act, or otherwise, and any reference to the Railway Commissioners in the Regulation of Railways Act, 1873, or in any other Act (a), or in any document, shall, from and after the commencement of this Act (b), be construed to refer to the Railway and Canal Commission established by this Act.

Jurisdiction of Commissioners under special Acts. 17 & 18 Vict. c. 31.

9. Where any enactment in a special Act—

(a) contains provisions relating to traffic facilities, undue preference, or other matters mentioned in section two of the Railway and Canal Traffic Act, 1854 (a), or

(b) requires a company to which this Part of this Act applies to provide any station, road, or other similar work for public accommodation, or

(c) otherwise imposes on a company to which this Part of this Act applies any obligation in favour of the public or any individual, or where any Act contains provisions relating to private branch railways or private sidings, the Commissioners shall have the like jurisdiction to hear and determine a complaint of a contravention of the enactment as the Commissioners have to hear and determine a complaint of a contravention of section two of the Railway and Canal Traffic Act, 1854, as amended by subsequent Acts.

Jurisdiction over tolls and rates.

Jurisdiction to order traffic facilities, notwithstanding agreements.

11. Nothing in any agreement, whether made before or after the passing of this Act, which has not been confirmed by Act or by the Board of Trade, or by the Commissioners under the Regulation of Railways Acts, 1873, or this Act, shall render a company to which this Part of this Act applies unable to afford, or shall authorise such company to refuse, such reasonable facilities for traffic as may in the opinion of the Commissioners be required in the interests of the public, or shall prevent the Commissioners from making or enforcing any order with respect to such facilities.

Power to award damages.

12. Where the Commissioners have jurisdiction to hear and determine any matter, they may, in addition to or in substitution for any other relief, award to any complaining party who is aggrieved such damages as they find him to have sustained; and such award of damages shall be in complete satisfaction of any claim for damages, including repayment of overcharges, which, but for this Act, such party would have had by reason of the matter of complaint:

Provided that such damages shall not be awarded unless complaint has been made to the Commissioners within one year from the discovery by the party aggrieved of the matter complained of.

The Commissioners may ascertain the amount of such damages either by trial before themselves, or by directing an inquiry to be taken before one or more of themselves or before some officer of their court.

No damages where rates published under certain conditions.

13. In cases of complaint of undue preference no damages shall be awarded if the Commissioners shall find that the rates complained of have, for the period during which such rates have been in operation, been duly published in the rate books of the railway company kept at their stations in accordance with section fourteen of the Regulation of Railways Act, 1873, as amended by this Act (a), unless and until the party complaining shall have given written notice to the railway company requiring them to abstain from or remedy the matter of complaint, and the railway company shall have failed, within a reasonable time, to comply with such requirements in such a manner as the Commissioners shall think reasonable.

(a) Section 34 of this Act amends s. 14 of the Act of 1873 as to the place of publication of rates in respect of traffic at places other than stations. Section 14 of the Regulation of Railways Act, 1873, is extended by s. 3 of the Railway and Canal Traffic Act, 1894.

Power to apportion expenses between railway company and applicants for works.

16.—(1) Where the Board of Trade (a) or the Commissioners, in the exercise of any power given by any general or special Act, on application order a company to which this Part of this Act applies, to provide a bridge, subway, or approach, or any work of a similar character, the Board of Trade (a) or the Commissioners, as the case may be, may require as a condition of making the order that an agreement to pay the whole or a portion of the expenses of complying with the order shall be entered into by the applicants or some of them, or such other persons as the Board of Trade (a) or Commissioners think fit, and any of the following local authorities, namely, any sanitary authority (b), highway board, surveyor of highways acting with the consent of the vestry of his parish, or any other authority having power to levy rates, shall have power, if such authority think fit, to enter into any such agreement as is sanctioned by the Board of Trade (a) or Commissioners for the purpose of the order.

(2) In such case any question respecting the persons by whom or the proportions in which the expenses of complying with the order are to be defrayed may, on the application of any party to the application, or on a certificate of the Board of Trade (a), be determined by the Commissioners.

(3) In this section the expression "parish" shall have the same meaning as the same expression has in the Acts relating to highways; and the Section 16. expression "the consent of the vestry of his parish" shall, in any place where there is no vestry meeting, mean the consent of a meeting of inhabitants contributing to the highway rates, provided that the same notice shall have been given of such a meeting as would be required by law for the assembling of a meeting in vestry.

(a) The powers of the Board of Trade are now vested in the Ministry of Transport (Ministry of Transport Act, 1919).

(b) See also powers conferred on urban sanitary authorities under s. 147 of the P. H. A., 1875, ante, p. 283. Reference should also be made to the Bridges Act, 1929, ante, p. 2055.

Appeals.

Appeals on certain questions to superior court of appeal.

17.—(1) No appeal shall lie from the Commissioners upon a question of fact (a), or upon any question regarding the locus standi of a complainant.

(2) Save as otherwise provided by this Act, an appeal shall lie from the Commissioners to a superior court of appeal.

(3) An appeal shall not be brought except in conformity with such rules of court as may from time to time be made in relation to such appeals by the authority having power to make rules of court for the superior court of appeal (b).

(4) On the hearing of an appeal the court of appeal may draw all such inferences as are not inconsistent with the facts expressly found, and are necessary for determining the question of law, and shall have all such powers for that purpose as if the appeal were an appeal from a judgment of a superior court, and may make any order which the Commissioners could have made, and also any such further or other order as may be just, and the costs of and incidental to an appeal shall be in the discretion of the court of appeal, but no Commissioner shall be liable to any costs by reason or in respect of any appeal.

(5) The decision of the superior court of appeal shall be final: Provided that where there has been a difference of opinion between any two of such superior courts of appeal, and superior court of appeal in which a matter affected by such difference of opinion is pending may give leave to appeal to the House of Lords, on such terms as to costs as such court shall determine.

(6) Save as provided by this Act, an order or proceeding of the Commissioners shall not be questioned or reviewed, and shall not be restrained or removed by prohibition, injunction, certiorari, or otherwise, either at the instance of the Crown or otherwise.

(a) See Vickers v. Midland Rail. Co. (1901), 18 T. L. R. 769; National Telephone Co., Ltd. v. Postmaster-General, [1913] A. C. 546.

Supplemental.

General powers and enforcement of orders.

18.—(1) For the purposes of this Act the Commissioners shall have full jurisdiction to hear and determine all matters whether of law or of fact, and shall as respects the attendance and examination of witnesses, the production and inspection of documents, the enforcement of their orders, the entry on and inspection of property, and other matters necessary or proper for the due exercise of their jurisdiction under this Act, or otherwise for carrying this Act into effect, have all such powers, rights, and privileges as are vested in a superior court: Provided that no person shall be punished for contempt of court, except with the consent of an ex-officio Commissioner.

(2) The Commissioners may review and rescind or vary any order made by them; but, save as is by this Act provided, every decision or order of the Commissioners shall be final.

Section 19.

19. The costs of and incidental to every proceeding before the Commissioners shall be in the discretion of the Commissioners, who may order by whom and to whom the same are to be paid, and by whom the same are to be taxed and allowed (a). Costs.

(a) But see the Railway and Canal Traffic Act, 1894, s. 2; and see Cheshire Lines Committee v. Butler & Co., Ltd. (1917), 33 T. L. R. 565.

20.—(1) The Commissioners may from time to time, with the approval of the Lord Chancellor and the President of the Board of Trade, make, rescind, and vary general rules for their procedure and practice under this Act, and generally for carrying into effect this Part of this Act. Power to make rules.

(2) All rules made under this section shall be laid before Parliament within three weeks after they are made, if Parliament is then sitting, and if Parliament is not then sitting within three weeks after the beginning of the then next session of Parliament, and shall be judicially noticed, and shall have effect as if they were enacted by this Act (a).

* * * * * *

23. This Part of this Act shall apply to any railway company, and to any canal company, and to any railway and canal company. Company to which Part applies.

PART II.

TRAFFIC (a).

24.—(1) Notwithstanding any provision in any general or special Act, every railway company shall submit to the Board of Trade a revised classification of merchandise traffic, and a revised schedule of maximum rates and charges applicable thereto, proposed to be charged by such railway company, and shall fully state in such classification and schedule the nature and amounts of all terminal charges proposed to be authorised in respect of each class of traffic, and the circumstances under which such terminal charges are proposed to be made. In the determination of the terminal charges of any railway company regard shall be had only to the expenditure reasonably necessary to provide the accommodation in respect of which such charges are made, irrespective of the outlay which may have been actually incurred by the railway company in providing that accommodation. Revised classification of traffic and schedule of rates.

(2) The classification and schedule shall be submitted within six months from the passing of this Act, or such further time as the Board of Trade may, in any particular case, permit, and shall be published in such manner as the Board of Trade may direct (b).

(3) The Board of Trade shall consider the classification and schedule, and any objections thereto, which may be lodged with them on or before the prescribed time, and in the prescribed manner, and shall communicate with the railway company and the persons (if any) who have lodged objections, for the purpose of arranging the differences which may have arisen.

(4) If, after hearing all parties whom the Board of Trade consider to be entitled to be heard before them respecting the classification and schedule, the Board of Trade come to an agreement with the railway company as to the classification and schedule, they shall embody the agreed classification and schedule in a Provisional Order, and shall make a report thereon, to be submitted to Parliament, containing such observations as they think fit in relation to the agreed classification and schedule.

(5) When any agreed classification and schedule have been embodied in Section 24. a Provisional Order, the Board of Trade, as soon as they conveniently can after the making of the Provisional Order (of which the railway company shall be deemed to be the promoters), shall procure a Bill to be introduced into either House of Parliament for an Act to confirm the Provisional Order, which shall be set out at length in the schedule to the Bill.

(6) In any case in which a railway company fails within the time mentioned in this section to submit a classification and schedule to the Board of Trade, and also in every case in which a railway company has submitted to the Board of Trade a classification and schedule, and after hearing all parties whom the Board of Trade consider to be entitled to be heard before them, the Board of Trade are unable to come to an agreement with the railway company as to the railway company's classification and schedule, the Board of Trade shall determine the classification of traffic which, in the opinion of the Board of Trade, ought to be adopted by the railway company, and the schedule of maximum rates and charges, including all terminal charges proposed to be authorised applicable to such classification which would, in the opinion of the Board of Trade, be just and reasonable, and shall make a report, to be submitted to Parliament, containing such observations as they may think fit in relation to the said classification and schedule, and calling attention to the points therein on which differences which have arisen have not been arranged.

(7) After the commencement of the session of Parliament next after that in which the said report of the Board of Trade (b) has been submitted to Parliament, the railway company may apply to the Board of Trade (b) to submit to Parliament the question of the classification and schedule which ought to be adopted by the railway company, and the Board of Trade (b) shall on such application, and in any case may embody in a Provisional Order such classification and schedule as in the opinion of the Board of Trade (b) ought to be adopted by the railway company, and procure a Bill to be introduced into either House of Parliament for an Act to confirm the Provisional Order, which shall be set out at length in the schedule to the Bill.

(8) If, while any Bill to confirm a Provisional Order made by the Board of Trade (b) under this section is pending in either House of Parliament, a petition is presented against the Bill or any classification and schedule comprised therein, the Bill, so far as it relates to the matter petitioned against, shall be referred to a select committee, or if the two Houses of Parliament think fit so to order, to a joint committee of such Houses, and the petitioner shall be allowed to appear and oppose as in the case of a private Bill (c).

(9) In preparing, revising, and settling the classifications and schedules of rates and charges, the Board of Trade (b) may consult and employ such skilled persons as they may deem necessary or desirable; and they may pay to such persons such remuneration as they may think fit and as the Treasury may approve.

(10) The Act of Parliament confirming any Provisional Order made under this section shall be a public general Act, and the rates and charges mentioned in a Provisional Order as confirmed by such Act shall, from and after the Act coming into operation, be the rates and charges which the railway company shall be entitled to charge and make.

(11) At any time after the confirmation of any Provisional Order under this section any railway company may, and any person, upon giving not less than twenty-one days notice to the railway company may, apply in the prescribed manner to the Board of Trade (b) to amend any classification and schedule by adding thereto any articles, matters, or things, and the Board of Trade (b) may hear and determine such application, and classify and deal with the articles, matters, or things referred to therein in such manner as the Board of Trade (b) shall think right (d). Every determination of the Board of Trade (b) under this sub-section shall forthwith be published in the London Gazette, and shall take effect as from the date of the publication thereof.

(12) Nothing in this section shall apply to any remuneration payable by the Postmaster-General to any railway company for the conveyance of mails, letter bags, or parcels under any general or special Act relating to the conveyance of mails, or under the Post Office (Parcels) Act, 1882.

45 & 46 Vict. c. 74.

(13) Nothing in this section shall apply to any remuneration payable by the Secretary of State for War to any railway company for the conveyance of War Office stores under the powers conferred by the Cheap Trains Act, 1883.

46 & 47 Vict. c. 34.

(a) The jurisdiction over questions of classification of merchandise is now vested in the Railway Rates Tribunal, see ss. 27 and 28 of the Railways Act, 1921. See also s. 136 and Sched. XI. of the L. G. A., 1929, ante, p. 2001, as to the obligation upon railway companies to pass on the relief obtained by them in respect of rates under Pt. V., ibid., by means of rebates to selected traffic.

(b) Under s. 35 the Board of Trade had power to make rules as to the submission and publication of such classification and schedule, and made rules accordingly. See Parl. Papers, 1888 (402), as to railways, and (436) as to canals. The Board of Trade has now as regards railways, been superseded by the Ministry of Transport.

(c) The Railway and Canal Traffic (Provisional Orders) Amendment Act, 1891, post, p. 2528, provides that every governing body within the meaning of the Borough Funds Act, 1872, ante, p. 2331, and every county council shall be entitled to be a petitioner, and to appear and oppose any Provisional Order made under this section, and to provide or contribute towards providing the expenses of the appearance out of rates under their control, as if the Bill were a local or personal Bill within the meaning of the Borough Funds Act, 1872. The Railway and Canal Traffic Act, 1892, post, p. 2542, provides that a Provisional Order may be made, and a Bill to confirm it may be introduced at any time after hearing the parties as provided in sub-s. (4).

Provisions as in through traffic.

25. (a) Whereas by section two of the Railway and Canal Traffic Act, 1854, it is enacted that every railway company and canal company, and railway and canal company shall, according to their respective powers, afford all reasonable facilities (b) for the receiving and forwarding and delivering of traffic upon and from the several railways and canals belonging to or worked by such companies respectively, and for the return of carriages, trucks, boats, and other vehicles; and that no such company shall make or give any undue or unreasonable preference or advantage to or in favour of any particular person or company, or any particular description of traffic, in any respect whatsoever, or shall subject any particular person or company, or any particular description of traffic, to any undue or unreasonable prejudice or disadvantage in any respect whatsoever; and that every railway company and canal company and railway and canal company having or working railways or canals which form part of a continuous line of railway, or canal or railway, and canal communication (c), or which have the terminus station or wharf of the one near the terminus station or wharf of the other, shall afford all due and reasonable facilities for receiving and forwarding by one of such railways or canals all the traffic arriving by the other, without any unreasonable delay, and without any such preference or advantage or prejudice or disadvantage as aforesaid, and so that no obstruction may be offered to the public desirous of using such railways or canals or railways and canals as a continuous line of communication, and so that all reasonable accommodation may by means of the railways and canals of the several companies be at all times afforded to the public in that behalf:

And whereas it is expedient to explain and amend the said enactment:

Be it therefore enacted, that—

Subject as hereinafter mentioned, the said facilities to be so afforded are hereby declared to and shall include the due and reasonable receiving, forwarding, and delivering by every railway company and canal company and railway and canal company, at the request of any other such company, of through traffic to and from the railway or canal of any other such company at through rates, tolls, or fares (in this Act referred to as through rates) (d); and also the due and reasonable receiving, forwarding, and delivering by every railway company and canal company and railway and canal company, at the request of any person interested in through traffic, of such traffic at through rates (dd): Provided that no application shall be made to the Commissioners by such person until he has made a complaint to the Board of Trade (e) under the provisions of this Act as to complaints to the Board of Trade (e) of unreasonable charges, and the Board of Trade (e) have heard the complaint in the manner herein provided.

(1) The company or person requiring the traffic to be forwarded shall give written notice of the proposed through rate to each forwarding company, stating both its amount and the route by which the traffic is proposed to be forwarded; and when a company gives such notice it shall also state the apportionment of the through rate. The proposed through rate may be per truck or per ton:

(2) Each forwarding company shall, within ten days, or such longer period as the Commissioners may from time to time by general order prescribe, after the receipt of such notice, by written notice inform the company or persons requiring the traffic to be forwarded, whether they agree to the rate and route; and if they object to either, the grounds of the objection:

(3) If at the expiration of the prescribed period no such objection has been sent by any forwarding company, the rate shall come into operation at such expiration:

(4) If an objection to the rate or route has been sent within the prescribed period, the matter shall be referred to the Commissioners for their decision:

(5) If an objection be made to the granting of the rate or to the route, the Commissioners shall consider whether the granting of a rate is a due and reasonable facility in the interest of the public, and whether, having regard to the circumstances, the route proposed is a reasonable route, and shall allow or refuse the rate accordingly, or fix such other rate as may seem to the Commissioners just and reasonable (f):

(6) Where, upon the application of a person requiring traffic to be forwarded, a through rate is agreed to by the forwarding companies, or is made by order of the Commissioners, the apportionment of such through rate, if not agreed upon between the forwarding companies, shall be determined by the Commissioners (g):

(7) If the objection be only to the apportionment of the rate, the rate shall come into operation at the expiration of the prescribed period, but the decision of the Commissioners, as to its apportionment, shall be retrospective; in any other case the operation of the rate shall be suspended until the decision is given:

(8) The Commissioners, in apportioning the through rate, shall take into consideration all the circumstances of the case, including any special expense incurred in respect of the construction, maintenance, or working of the route, or any part of the route, as well as any special charges which any company may have been entitled to make in respect thereof:

(9) It shall not be lawful for the Commissioners in any case to compel any company to accept lower mileage rates than the mileage rates which such company may for the time being legally be charging for like traffic carried by a like mode of transit on any other line of communication between the same points, being the points of departure and arrival of the through route (h).

Where a railway company or canal company use, maintain, or work, or are party to an arrangement for using, maintaining, or working steam vessels for the purpose of carrying on a communication between any towns or ports, the provisions of this section shall extend to such steam vessels, and to the traffic carried thereby.

When any company, upon written notice being given as aforesaid, refuses or neglects without reason to agree to the proposed through rates, or to the route, or to the apportionment, the Commissioners, if an order is made by them upon an application for through rates, may order the respondent company or companies to pay such costs to the applicants as they think fit.

(b) See Darlaston L. B. v. L. & N. W. Rail. Co., [1894] 2 Q. B. 694. In West Ham Corporation v. G. E. Rail. Co. (1895), 64 L. J. Q. B. 340; 72 L. T. 395, it was held (Sir F. PEEL dissenting) that the provision of water-closets at railway stations for the use of passengers, free of charge, was not a reasonable facility for forwarding traffic which could be ordered by the Railway and Canal Commissioners under s. 2 of the Railway and Canal Traffic Act. But cloak-rooms are reasonable facilities (Singer Manufacturing Co. v. L. & S. W. Rail. Co., [1894] 1 Q. B. 833).

(dd) This section from this point to the end is now applicable only to canals (Railways Act, 1921, s. 86 (2), and Sched. IX., Pt. II.).

(f) The applicants asked the court to allow a through rate of 1*s*. 2*d*. per ton for slack from certain collieries to their works to be forwarded in quantities of not less than 600 tons per week. The mean distance from the collieries to the works by the route proposed was twenty-four miles, while the route by which the traffic was in fact sent was thirty-four miles, and the rate charged by either route was the same, namely, 1*s*. 11*d*. per ton. It was held that in the absence of evidence to show that the proposed rate would afford any benefit to the public, the application must be refused (Brunner, Mond & Co., Ltd. v. Cheshire Lines Committee and L. & N. W. Rail. Co. (1909), 25 T. L. R. 618). See also on this sub-section L. & Y. Rail. Co. v. Hull and Barnsley Rail. Co., 15 Ry. & Can. Traffic Cas. 59.

(g) Where there is an agreed through rate for through traffic over the lines of two railway companies and an agreed apportionment between the two companies which has not been cancelled, the Commissioners have no jurisdiction to make a fresh apportionment of that agreed rate, or of one of the same amount at the instance of one of the companies; the duty and power of apportionment being incidental only to the fixing of reasonable facilities for the conveyance of through traffic from one point to another (Manchester Ship Canal Co. v. L. & N. W. Rail. Co., [1911] 1 K. B. 657). As to through land and sea rates, see Great Southern & Western Ry. v. City of Cork Steam Packet Co., 15 Ry. & Can. Traffic Cas. 67.

(h) See hereon L. & Y. Rail. Co. v. Hull & Barnsley Rail. Co., 15 Ry. & Can. Traffic Cas. 59.

Powers of Commissioners as to through rates.

26. Subject to the provisions in the last preceding section contained, the Commissioners shall have full power to decide that any proposed through rate is just and reasonable, notwithstanding that a less amount may be allotted to any forwarding company out of such through rate than the maximum rate such company is entitled to charge, and to allow and apportion such through rate accordingly (a).

(a) See as to through rates, s. 28 of the Railways Act, 1921. This section is now applicable only to canals (s. 86 (2) and Sched. IX., Pt. II., ibid.).

Undue preference in case of unequal tolls, charges for the same or similar merchandise, or lower tolls, rates, or charges for the same or similar services, than they charge to other traders, or classes of traders, or to the traders in another district, or make any difference in treatment in respect of any such trader or traders, the burden of proving that such lower charge or difference in treatment does not amount to an undue preference shall lie on the railway company (a).

27.—(1) Whenever it is shown that any railway company charge one trader or class of traders, or the traders in any district, lower tolls, rates, or rates, and charges, and unequal services performed.

(2) In deciding whether a lower charge or difference in treatment does or does not amount to an undue preference, the court having jurisdiction in the matter, or the Commissioners, as the case may be, may, so far as they think reasonable, in addition to any other considerations affecting the case, take into consideration whether such lower charge or difference in treatment is necessary for the purpose of securing in the interests of the public the traffic in respect of which it is made, and whether the inequality cannot be removed without unduly reducing the rates charged to the complainant: Provided that no railway company shall make, nor shall the court, or the Commissioners, sanction any difference in the tolls, rates or charges made for, or any difference in the treatment of, home and foreign merchandise, in respect of the same or similar services (b).

(3) The court or the Commissioners shall have power to direct that no higher charge shall be made to any person for services in respect of merchandise carried over a less distance than is made to any other person for similar services in respect of the like description and quantity of merchandise carried over a greater distance on the same line of railway.

(a) The effect of this section is not to limit the court in dealing with questions of alleged undue preference to the consideration whether or not the lower charge is necessary in the interests of the public (Liverpool Corn Trade Association v. L. and N. W. Rail. Co., [1891] 1 Q. B. 120. And see Lever Brothers, Ltd. v. Midland Rail. Co. (1909), 25 T. L. R. 491, 768; Holwell Iron Co., Ltd. v. Midland Rail. Co., [1910] 1 K. B. 296). Extension of enactments as to undue preference to goods carried by sea.

28. The provisions of section two of the Railway and Canal Traffic Act, 1854, and of section fourteen of the Regulation of Railways Act, 1873, and any enactments amending and extending those enactments, shall apply to traffic by sea in any vessels belonging to or chartered or worked by any railway company, or in which any railway company procures merchandise to be carried, in the same manner and to the like extent as they apply to the land traffic of a railway company.

Group rates to be chargeable by railway companies.

29.—(1) (a) Notwithstanding any provision in any general or special Act (b), it shall be lawful for any railway company, for the purpose of fixing the rates to be charged for the carriage of merchandise to and from any place on their railway, to group together any number of places in the same district, situated at various distances from any point of destination or departure of merchandise, and to charge a uniform rate or uniform rates of carriage for merchandise to and from all places comprised in the group from and to any point of destination or departure.

(2) Provided that the distances shall not be unreasonable, and that the group rates charged and the places grouped together shall not be such as to create an undue preference (c).

ested and any of the authorities mentioned in section seven of this Act, determine whether such group rate or any rate charged or proposed to be charged as aforesaid does or does not create an undue preference. Any persons aggrieved, and any of the authorities mentioned in section seven of this Act (d), may, at any time after the making of any order under this section, apply to the Commissioners to vary or rescind the order, and the Commissioners, after hearing all parties who are interested, may make an order accordingly.

Power to dock companies and harbour boards to complain of undue preference.

30. Any port or harbour authority or dock company which shall have reason to believe that any railway company is by its rates or otherwise placing their port, harbour, or dock, at an undue disadvantage as compared with any other port, harbour, or dock to or from which traffic is or may be carried by means of the lines of the said railway company, either alone or in conjunction with those of other railway companies, may make complaint thereof to the commissioners, who shall have the like jurisdiction to hear and determine the subject-matter of such complaint as they have to hear and determine a complaint of a contravention of section two of the Railway and Canal Traffic Act, 1854, as amended by subsequent Acts.

Complaints to Board of Trade of unreasonable charges by railway companies.

31 (a).—(1) Whenever any person receiving or sending or desiring to send goods by any railway is of opinion that the railway company is charging him an unfair or an unreasonable rate of charge, or is in any other respect treating him in an oppressive or unreasonable manner, such person may complain to the Board of Trade.

(2) The Board of Trade, if they think there is reasonable ground for the complaint, may thereupon call upon the railway company for an explanation, and endeavour to settle amicably the differences between the complainant and the railway company.

(3) For the purpose aforesaid, the Board of Trade may appoint either one of their own officers or any other competent person to communicate with the complainant and the railway company, and to receive and consider such explanations and communications as may be made in reference to the complaint; and the Board of Trade may pay to such last-mentioned person such remuneration as they may think fit, and as may be approved by the Treasury.

(4) The Board of Trade shall from time to time submit to Parliament reports of the complaints made to them under the provisions of this section, and the results of the proceedings taken in relation to such complaints, together with such observations thereon as the Board of Trade shall think fit.

(5) A complaint under this section may be made to the Board of Trade by any of the authorities mentioned in section seven of the Act (b), in any case in which, in the opinion of any of such authorities, they or any traders or persons in their district are being charged unfair or unreasonable rates by a railway company; and all the provisions of this section shall apply to a complaint so made as if the same had been made by a person entitled to make a complaint under this section.

(b) See note (d) to s. 29, supra.

PART III.

CANALS.

Part II. to extend to canal companies.

36. All the provisions of Part II. of this Act relating to any railway company shall, so far as applicable, apply to every canal company, and to every railway and canal company; and in Part II. of this Act, unless the context otherwise requires, the expression "railway company" shall include a canal company and a railway and canal company, and the expression "railway" shall include a canal, and the expression "rate" shall include tolls and dues of every description chargeable for the use of any canal or by any canal company.

Application of 36 & 37 Vict. c. 48, to canals.

37.—(1) Section fifteen of the Regulation of Railways Act, 1873, shall apply to the terminal charges of a canal company.

(2) The Railway and Canal Traffic Act, 1854, as amended by the Regulation of Railways Act, 1873, shall extend to any person whose consent is required to any variation of the rates, tolls, or dues charged for the use of any canal, or by any canal company, in like manner as if such person were a canal company, and the expressions "canal company" and "railway and canal company" in the said Acts and this Act shall be construed accordingly to include such person.

(3) The provisions of the Railway and Canal Traffic Act, 1854, and the Regulation of Railways Act, 1873, with respect to rates, shall apply to tolls and dues of every description chargeable for the use of any canal or by any canal company. And nothing in any agreement, whether made before or after the passing of this Act, and whether confirmed by Act of Parliament or not, and nothing in this Act shall prevent the Commissioners from making or enforcing any order for a through rate or toll which may in their opinion be required in the interest of the public.

(4) Any company allowing traffic to pass from a canal on to any other canal or any railway, or from a railway on to a canal, shall be deemed to be a forwarding company, and the allowing of traffic so to pass shall be deemed to be the forwarding of traffic within the meaning of the above-mentioned Acts.

(5) The provisions of the Railway and Canal Traffic Act, 1854, and of the Regulation of Railways Act, 1873, and of this Act, with respect to through rates, shall extend to any canals which, in connection with any river or other waterway, form part of a continuous line of water communication, notwithstanding that tolls may not be leviable by authority of Parliament upon such river or other waterway.

Powers of Commissioners over canals, tolls, rates, and charges where a railway company or its officers own or control the traffic of a canal.

38. Where a railway company, or the directors or officers of a railway company, or any of them or any persons on their behalf, have the control over, or the right to interfere in or concerning the traffic conveyed, or the tolls, rates, or charges levied on the traffic of or for the conveyance of merchandise on a canal, or any part of a canal, and it is proved to the satisfaction of the Commissioners that the tolls, rates, or charges levied on the traffic of or for the conveyance of merchandise on the canal are such as are calculated to divert the traffic from the canal to the railway, to the detriment of the canal or person sending traffic over the canal or other canals adjacent to it—

(1) The Commissioners may, on the application of any person interested in the traffic of the canal, make an order requiring the tolls, rates, and charges levied on the traffic of or for the conveyance of merchandise on the canal, to be altered and adjusted in such a manner that the same shall be reasonable as compared with the rates and charges for the conveyance of merchandise on the railway:

(2) If within such time as may be prescribed by the order of the Commissioners, the tolls, rates, and charges levied on the traffic of or for the conveyance of merchandise on the canal are not altered and adjusted as required by such order, the Commissioners may themselves by an order make such alterations in and adjustment of the tolls, rates, and charges levied on the traffic of or for the conveyance of merchandise on the canal as they shall think just and reasonable, and the tolls, rates, and charges as altered and adjusted by the order of the Commissioners shall be binding on the company or persons owning or having the control over the traffic of, or the tolls, rates, and charges levied on the traffic of, or for the conveyance of merchandise on the canal.

(3) No application shall be made to the Commissioners under this section until the Board of Trade (a) have certified that the applicant is a fit person to make the application, and that the application is a proper one to be submitted for the adjudication of the Commissioners; and no order shall be made by the Commissioners under this section unless notice of the application has been served upon such company and persons, and in such manner as the Board of Trade (b) may direct:

(4) The Commissioners may at any time, upon the application of any company or person affected by any order made under this section, and after notice to and hearing such companies and persons as the Commissioners may by any general rules or special order prescribe, rescind or vary any order made under this section.

(a) Now the Ministry of Transport.

* * * * * *

Byelaws of canal companies.

40.—(1) Every canal company shall, before such date as the Board of Trade (a) may prescribe, forward to the Board of Trade true copies, certified in such manner as the Board of Trade direct, of any byelaws or regulations of such company which are in force at the commencement of this Act; and the byelaws of any canal company, copies of which are not forwarded to the Board of Trade as provided by this section, shall from and after the said date cease to have any operation, save in so far as any penalty may have been already incurred under the same (b).

(2) A byelaw or regulation of any canal company hereafter to be made under any power which has before or at the time of the passing of this Act (b) been, or which may hereafter be, conferred on any canal company, shall not have any force or effect until two months after a true copy of such byelaw or regulation, certified in such manner as the Board of Trade direct, has been forwarded to the Board of Trade, unless the Board of Trade before the expiration of such period have signified their approbation thereof.

(3) The Board of Trade may, at any time after any existing or future byelaws or regulations of a canal company have been forwarded to them, notify to the company their disallowance thereof, or of any of them, and in case such byelaws or regulations are in force at the time of the disallowance, the time at which the said byelaws or regulations shall cease to be in force. A byelaw or regulation disallowed by the Board of Trade shall not after such disallowance have any force or effect whatever, save (as regards any byelaw or regulation which may be in force at the time of the disallowance thereof) in so far as any penalty may have been then already incurred under the same.

(4) The Board of Trade may from time to time make, rescind, and vary such regulations as they think fit with respect to the publication by canal companies of their byelaws and regulations, and with respect to the publication by canal companies of their intention to apply to the Board of Trade for the allowance of any intended byelaws and regulations. Any regulations so made which are for the time being in force, shall have effect as if they had been enacted in this Act.

Canal companies may agree for through tolls, etc.

43.—(1) Any canal company may make and enter into contracts and arrangements with any other canal company or canal companies for the passage over and along their respective canals, or any of them, of boats, barges, vessels, and other through traffic, and, for the use by such traffic, of the wharves, landing places, and other works of any such canal, upon payment of such through tolls, rates, and charges, and subject to such conditions and restrictions as may be agreed upon between such companies; and for the collection and recovery by any one of the companies on behalf of themselves and the other companies interested of the tolls, rates, and charges payable in respect of such through traffic; and for the division and apportionment of the tolls, rates, and charges; and any such contract may contain provisions for the erection and maintenance of or otherwise for providing warehouses, offices, and other buildings and conveniences, and any other provisions for the purpose of carrying into effect any such arrangement, and any company may apply their funds or moneys for the same purpose.

(2) Notwithstanding any enactments providing for the charge of equal tolls, rates, and charges, such through tolls, rates, and charges as above mentioned may respectively be computed at a lower toll or rate per mile than the tolls, rates, or charges charged for the passage over land along the same canals of like traffic, not being through traffic, without necessitating on occasioning any reduction of the last-mentioned tolls, rates, or charges.

(3) Any like contracts and arrangements existing at the passing of this Act shall be, and from the respective dates of the making thereof shall be deemed to have been, as valid as if the same had been made after the commencement of this Act.

* * * * * *

Abandonment of canal.

45.—(1) Where, on the application of a canal company, it appears to the Board of Trade (a) that any canal or part of a canal belonging to the applicants (hereinafter referred to as an unnecessary canal) is at the time of making the application unnecessary for the purposes of public navigation, or where, on the application of any local authority (b), or of three or more owners of lands adjoining or near to any canal or part of a canal, it appears to the Board of Trade that that canal or part of a canal (hereinafter referred to as a derelict canal) has for at least three years previously to the making of the application been disused for navigation, or, by reason of the default of the proprietors thereof, has become unfit for navigation, or that the lands adjoining or near thereto have suffered injury by water that has escaped from the derelict canal, and that the proprietors of the derelict canal decline or are unable to effect the repairs necessary to prevent further injury, the Board of Trade may by warrant signed by their secretary authorise the abandonment by the existing proprietors of such unnecessary canal or such derelict canal, and after the granting of the warrant, and the due publication as required by the Board of Trade of a notice of the granting thereof, the Board of Trade may make an order releasing the canal company or other the proprietors of the unnecessary or derelict canal from all liability to maintain the same canal, and from all statutory and other obligations in respect thereof, or of or consequent on the abandonment thereof.

(2) In the case of an unnecessary canal no warrant of abandonment shall be granted unless the Board of Trade are satisfied—

(a) That it is unnecessary for the purposes of public navigation;

(b) That the application has been expressly authorised by a resolution of a majority of the shareholders of the canal company owning the canal present and voting at an extraordinary or special general meeting of that company;

(c) That such public and other notices of the application have been given as the Board of Trade may require;

(d) That compensation (the amount thereof to be determined in case of difference as the Board of Trade may prescribe) has been made to all persons entitled to compensation by reason of the proposed abandonment of the canal.

(3) In the case of a derelict canal the warrant may be granted on the condition that the canal or any part thereof, with all or any of the powers relating thereto, be transferred to any person, body of persons, or local authority, and where any such condition is imposed the Board of Trade may, if they think fit, frame and embody in a Provisional Order a scheme for the management of the canal or any part thereof.

(4) The Provisional Order may provide for the constitution of a body to manage the canal or any part thereof, for the transfer to that body or any local authority of the canal or any part thereof, and of all or any of the powers relating thereto, for the limitation or discharge of any liabilities affecting the canal or the owners thereof for the time being, and for any other matters which may appear to the Board of Trade to be necessary or proper for carrying this section into effect.

(5) The Board of Trade may submit to Parliament for confirmation any Provisional Order made by it in pursuance of this section, but any such Order shall be of no force unless and until it is confirmed by Act of Parliament.

(6) If while the Bill confirming any such Order is pending in either House of Parliament, a petition is presented against any Order comprised therein, the Bill, so far as it relates to the Order, may be referred to a select committee, and the petitioner shall be allowed to appear and oppose as in the case of private Bills.

(7) In this section the expression "local authority" means any one of the local authorities mentioned in section seven of this Act (c).

(8) For the purpose of giving effect to the provisions of this section, the Board of Trade may require the applicants to furnish any evidence in their possession or under their control relative to the application, and may at the expense of the applicants appoint and send an officer to inspect the canal referred to in the application, and to obtain information and evidence in the neighbourhood thereof relative to the proposed abandonment, and may from time to time make regulations as to the mode of making applications, and the nature and mode of publication of notices, and generally as to the conduct of proceedings.

(c) See the section, ante, p. 2499. The expression "local authority" includes an urban or rural district council.

Definition of "canal company."

46. In this Part of this Act the expression "canal company" shall include a "railway and canal company," so far as relating to any canal of any such last-mentioned company.

PART IV.

MISCELLANEOUS.

* * * * * *

Evidence on rating appeals.

* * * * * *

Parties may appear in person or by counsel, etc.

50. In any proceedings under this Act any party may appear before the Commissioners either by himself in person or by counsel or solicitor.

* * * * * *

Saving of powers conferred on Commissioners and Board of Trade.

52. The powers and jurisdiction conferred by this Act on the Commissioners or Board of Trade shall be in addition to and not in substitution for any powers and jurisdiction vested in the Commissioners or Board of Trade by any statute.

Proceedings of Board of Trade.

53.—(1) All documents purporting to be rules, orders, or certificates made or issued by the Board of Trade (a), and to be sealed with the seal of the Board, or to be signed by a secretary or assistant secretary of the Board, or any person authorised in that behalf by the President of the Board, shall be received in evidence, and deemed to be such orders, rules, or certificates without further proof, unless the contrary is shown.

(2) A certificate signed by the President of the Board of Trade that any order made, certificate issued, or act done, is the order, certificate, or act of, the Board of Trade, shall be conclusive evidence of the fact so certified.

(a) The Board of Trade has now been superseded by the Ministry of Transport (M. of T. Act, 1919).

Expenses of local authorities.

54.—(1) Where any local authority having power under this Act to make or oppose any complaint to the Commissioners, or the Board of Trade, or to enter into any agreement to pay the whole or a portion of the expenses of complying with an order of the Commissioners or the Board of Trade, or to make any application for the abandonment or acquisition of a canal under this Act, incur any expenses in or incidental to such complaint, opposition, agreement, or application, such expenses may be defrayed out of the rates or funds out of which the expenses incurred by such authority in the execution of their ordinary duties are defrayed, and if such authority is a rural sanitary authority in England, shall be defrayed as general expenses, unless the Local Government Board direct that they shall be defrayed as special expenses (a).

(2) A local authority may enter into any contract involving the payment by themselves and their successors of any expenses authorised by this section to be defrayed.

(3) Where any such local authority have no power to borrow money for the purpose of defraying any expenses authorised by this section, such authority, if other than a surveyor of highways, may, with the consent of the Board of Trade in the case of any harbour board or conservancy authority, and with the consent of the Local Government Board in the case of any other authority, borrow money in manner provided by the Local Loans Act, 1875 (b), on the security of the rates or funds out of which the expenses are authorised to be defrayed, and the prescribed period for the loan shall be such period as the board giving such consent may approve.

38 & 39 Vict. c. 83.

(4) On the request of any board whose consent is required for such loan, the Board of Trade or Commissioners shall certify such particulars respecting the amount of the said expenses and the propriety of incurring the same and of borrowing for the payment thereof as may be requested by such board (c).

. . . . . .

(a) The expenses in the case of an urban authority will, in general, be paid out of the general rate fund. See s. 207 of the P. H. A., 1875, ante, p. 495. As to special expenses, see s. 229 of the same Act, ante, p. 514, and the R. and V. Act, 1925, ante, p. 1633.

(b) The text of this Act is set out, ante, p. 2343.

(c) The remainder of this section relates only to Ireland.

55. In this Act, unless the context otherwise requires,—

Definitions.

Terms defined by the Regulation of Railways Act, 1873, have the meanings thereby assigned to them:

The term "conservancy authority" means any persons who are otherwise than for private profit intrusted with the duty or invested with the power of conserving, maintaining, or improving the navigation of any tidal or inland water or navigation:

The term "harbour board" means any persons who are otherwise than for private profit intrusted with the duty or invested with the power of constructing, improving, managing, regulating, and maintaining a harbour, whether natural or artificial, or any dock:

The term "undue preference" includes an undue preference, or an undue or unreasonable prejudice or disadvantage, in any respect, in favour of or against any person or particular class of persons or any particular description of traffic:

The term "terminal charges" includes charges in respect of stations, sidings, wharves, depôts, warehouses, cranes, and other similar matters, and of any services rendered thereat:

The term "merchandise" includes goods, cattle, live-stock, and animals of all descriptions:

The term "trader" includes any person sending, receiving, or desiring to send merchandise by railway or canal:

The term "home" in relation to merchandise, includes the United Kingdom, the Channel Islands, and the Isle of Man:

The term "rating appeal" means an appeal against any valuation list or against any poor rate or any other local rate (a).

. . . . . .

The term "superior court" means, as regards England, the High Court . . .

The term "superior court of appeal" means, as regards England, her Majesty's Court of Appeal . . .

(a) The expression "local rate" would include a general rate. Parts of the remainder of this section relating to Scotland and Ireland only are here omitted.

THE MORTMAIN AND CHARITABLE USES ACT, 1888.

(51 & 52 VICT. C. 42) (a).

An Act to consolidate and amend the Law relating to Mortmain and to the disposition of Land for Charitable Uses. [13th August, 1888.]

(a) The P. H. A., 1875, s. 7, ante, p. 41, provided that local boards and improvement commissioners may hold lands without licence in mortmain for the purposes of that Act. And by s. 85 (5) of the L. G. A., 1894, ante, p. 1045, the change of name of an urban sanitary authority shall not affect their identity as a corporate body or derogate from their powers. By s. 24 (7) of the L. G. A., 1894, ante, p. 985, every district council for a rural district may hold land for the purposes of their powers and duties without licence in mortmain. By s. 7 of the Commons Act, 1899, post, p. 2604, any district council may acquire and hold property in a common regulated by scheme under that Act, without such licence. By s. 114 of the Housing Act, 1925, ante, p. 1470, a local authority may accept a donation of land or other property for any of the purposes of the Act without the necessity of enrolling any assurance as to such property under this Act. See also a similar provision in Sched. I., r. 14, of the Town Planning Act, 1925, ante, p. 1510. As to the powers of the corporation of a borough, see the Municipal Corporations Act, 1882, s. 107, and Truro Corporation v. Rowe, [1902] 2 K. B. 708 ; 66 J. P. 821. The powers of a sanitary authority to hold lands for purposes other than those mentioned in these statutes depend upon this statute as amended by the Working Classes Dwellings Act, 1890, the Mortmain and Charitable Uses Act, 1891, and the Mortmain and Charitable Uses Act Amendment Act, 1892, post, pp. 2527, 2536, 2538. A " trust corporation " which includes " in relation to charitable . . . and public trusts . . . any local or public authority " prescribed by the Lord Chancellor (Law of Property (Amendment) Act, 1926, s. 3) may now hold land as a sole trustee under ss. 30 and 94 of the Settled Land Act, 1925, and may act as a personal representative under s. 14 of the Administration of Estates Act, 1925.

PART I.

MORTMAIN.

Forfeiture on unlawful assurance or acquisition in mortmain.

1.—(1) Land shall not be assured to or for the benefit of, or acquired by or on behalf of, any corporation in mortmain, otherwise than under the authority of a licence from her Majesty the Queen, or of a statute for the time being in force (a), and if any land is so assured otherwise than as aforesaid the land shall be forfeited to her Majesty from the date of the assurance, and her Majesty may enter on and hold the land accordingly :

(2) Provided as follows :

(i) If the land is held directly of a mesne lord under her Majesty, that mesne lord may enter on and hold the land at any time within twelve months from the date of the assurance :

(ii) If the land is held of more than one mesne lord in gradation under her Majesty, the superior of those mesne lords may enter on and hold the land at any time within six months after the time at which the right of the inferior lord to enter on the land expires :

(iii) If a mesne lord is at the time when his right of entry accrues under this Act a lunatic or otherwise under incapacity, his right of entry may be exercised by his guardian or the committee of his estate, or by such person as her Majesty's High Court of Justice may appoint in that behalf :

(iv) If the right of entry under this Act is exercised by or on behalf of a mesne lord, the land shall be forfeited to that lord from the date of the assurance instead of to her Majesty.

(a) See note (a), supra.

Power to her Majesty to grant licences in mortmain.

2. It shall be lawful for her Majesty the Queen, if and when and in such form as she thinks fit, to grant to any person or corporation a licence to assure in mortmain land in perpetuity or otherwise, and to grant to any corporation a licence to acquire land in mortmain and to hold the land in perpetuity or otherwise.

Section 2.

Saving for rents and services.

3. No entry or holding by or forfeiture to her Majesty under this Part of this Act, shall merge or extinguish, or otherwise affect, any rent or service which may be due in respect of any land to her Majesty or any other lord thereof.

PART II.

CHARITABLE USES.

Conditions under which assurances may be made to charitable uses.

4.—(1) Subject to the savings and exceptions contained in this Act, every assurance of land, to or for the benefit of any charitable uses and every assurance of personal estate to be laid out in the purchase of land, to or for the benefit of any charitable uses, shall be made in accordance with the requirements of this Act, and unless so made shall be void (a).

(2) The assurance must be made to take effect in possession for the charitable uses to or for the benefit of which it is made immediately from the making thereof.

(3) The assurance must, except as provided by this section, be without any power of revocation, reservation, condition, or provision for the benefit of the assuror or of any person claiming under him.

(4) Provided that the assurance, or any instrument forming part of the same transaction, may contain all or any of the following provisions, so, however, that they reserve the same benefits to persons claiming under the assuror as to the assuror himself; namely,

- (i) The grant or reservation of a peppercorn or other nominal rent;
- (ii) The grant or reservation of mines or minerals;
- (iii) The grant or reservation of any easement;
- (iv) Covenants or provisions as to the erection, repair, position, or description of buildings, the formation or repair of streets or roads, drainage or nuisances, and covenants or provisions of the like nature for the use and enjoyment as well of the land comprised in the assurance as of any other adjacent or neighbouring land;
- (v) A right of entry on non-payment of any such rent or on breach of any such covenant or provision;
- (vi) Any stipulations of the like nature for the benefit of the assuror or of any person claiming under him.

(5) If the assurance is made in good faith on a sale for full and valuable consideration, that consideration may consist wholly or partly of a rent, rent-charge, or other annual payment reserved or made payable to the vendor, or any other person, with or without a right of re-entry for non-payment thereof.

(6) If the assurance is of land, not being land of copyhold or customary tenure, or is of personal estate, not being stock in the public funds, it must be made by deed executed in the presence of at least two witnesses (b).

(7) If the assurance is of land, or of personal estate, not being stock in the public funds, then, unless it is made in good faith for full and valuable consideration, it must be made at least twelve months before the death of the assuror, including in those twelve months the day of the making of the assurance and of the death.

(8) If the assurance is of stock in the public funds, then, unless it is made in good faith for full and valuable consideration, it must be made by transfer thereof in the public books kept for the transfer of stock at least six months before the death of the assuror, including in those six months the days of the transfer and of the death.

(9) If the assurance is of land, or of personal estate other than stock in the public funds, it must, within six months after the execution thereof, be enrolled in the central office of the Supreme Court of Judicature, unless in the case of an assurance of land to or for the benefit of charitable uses those uses are declared by a separate instrument, in which case that separate instrument must be so enrolled within six months after the making of the assurance of the land (c).

(a) A domiciled Victorian, who died in June, 1891, bequeathed £10,000 to the mayor and corporation of the city of Canterbury, in England, for the purpose of their buying a suitable piece of land and erecting thereon a free library. Under the law of Victoria the corporation were able lawfully to expend the money as directed by the testator :—Held, that the English Mortmain Act, 1888, only applied in so far as that the assurance of the land must be in accordance with the provisions of the Act, and that the bequest was valid (Canterbury Corporation v. Wyburn, [1895] A. C. 89).

(b) This sub-section is repealed so far as it relates to assurances executed after January 1st, 1926, by s. 119, and Sched. V. of the Settled Land Act, 1925 (15 & 16 Geo. 5, c. 18). Such attestation is no longer necessary. See note (c), infra.

(c) This provision is repealed so far as it relates to assurances executed after January 1st, 1926, by s. 119 and Sched. V. of the Settled Land Act, 1925 (15 & 16 Geo. 5, c. 18). See now s. 29 (4), ibid., which provides as follows :—

" (4) Every assurance of land or of personal estate, within the meaning of section four of the Mortmain and Charitable Uses Act, 1888, or if the charitable uses are declared by a separate instrument, then that instrument, shall, in place of the requirements respecting attestation and enrolment prescribed by sub-sections (6) and (9) of that section, be sent to the offices of the Charity Commissioners within six months after the execution thereof or within such extended period as the said Commissioners may, either before or after the expiration of the six months, in any particular case allow, for the purpose of being recorded in the books of the said Commissioners.

" Where the original cannot be produced, an attested or office copy may be sent instead of the original.

" This sub-section does not apply to registered dispositions of registered land, or to assurances or instruments required by section one hundred and seventeen of the Education Act, 1921, to be sent to the Board of Education, and only applies to instruments executed after the commencement of this Act."

For a case where a claim was made without success for a declaration that an assurance of land need not be enrolled because of a private Act, see In re Verrall, National Trust v. Att.-Gen., [1916] 1 Ch. 100 ; 80 J. P. 89.

Power to remedy omission to enrol within requisite time.

5.—(1) Where an instrument, the enrolment whereof is required under this part of this Act for the validation of an assurance, is not duly enrolled within the requisite time, her Majesty's High Court of Justice, or the officer having control over the enrolment of deeds in the central office, may, on application in such manner and on payment of such fee as may be prescribed by rules of the Supreme Court, and on being satisfied that the omission to enrol the instrument in proper time has arisen from ignorance or inadvertence, or through the destruction or loss of the instrument by time or accident, and that the assurance was of a nature to be validated under this section, order or cause the instrument to be enrolled.

(2) Thereupon, if the assurance to be validated was made in good faith and for full and valuable consideration, and was made to take effect in possession immediately from the making thereof without any power of revocation, reservation, condition, or provision, except such as is authorised by this Act, and if at the time of the application possession or enjoyment was held under the assurance, then enrolment in pursuance of this section shall have the same effect as if it had been made within the requisite time.

(3) Provided that if at the time of the application any proceeding for setting aside the assurance, or for asserting any right founded on the invalidity of the assurance, is pending, or any decree or judgment founded on such invalidity has been then obtained, the enrolment under this section shall not give any validity to the assurance.

(4) Where the instrument omitted to be enrolled in proper time has been destroyed or lost by time or accident and the trusts thereof sufficiently appear by a copy or abstract thereof or some subsequent instrument, such copy, abstract, or subsequent instrument may be enrolled under this section in like manner and with the like effect as if it were the instrument so destroyed or lost.

Section 5.

(5) An application under this section may be made by any trustee, governor, director, or manager of, or other person entitled to act in the management of or otherwise interested in, any charity or charitable trust intended to be benefited by the uses declared by the instrument to be enrolled (a).

(a) See note (c) to s. 4, ante, p. 2518.

PART III.

EXEMPTIONS.

Assurances of a public park, elementary school, or public museum.

6.—(1) Parts One and Two of this Act shall not apply (a) to an assurance by deed of land of any quantity or to an assurance by will of land of the quantity hereinafter mentioned for the purposes only of a public park, a schoolhouse for an elementary school (b), a public museum, or an assurance by will of personal estate to be applied in or towards the purchase of land for all or any of the same purposes only.

(2) Provided that a will containing such an assurance, and a deed containing such an assurance and made otherwise than in good faith for full and valuable consideration, must be executed not less than twelve months before the death of the assuror, or be a reproduction in substance of a devise made in a previous will in force at the time of such reproduction, and which was executed not less than twelve months before the death of the assuror, and must be enrolled in the books of the Charity Commissioners within six months after the death of the testator, or in case of a deed the execution of the deed.

(3) The quantity of land which may be assured by will under this section shall be any quantity not exceeding twenty acres for any one public park, and not exceeding two acres for any one public museum, and not exceeding one acre for any one schoolhouse.

(4) In this section,

(i) "Public Park" includes any park, garden, or other land dedicated or to be dedicated to the recreation of the public;

(ii) "Elementary school" means a school or department of a school at which elementary education is the principal part of the education there given, and does not include any school or department of a school at which the ordinary payments in respect of the instruction from each scholar exceed ninepence a week;

(iii) "Schoolhouse" includes the teacher's dwelling-house, the playground (if any), and the offices and premises belonging to or required for a school;

(iv) "Public museum" includes buildings used or to be used for the preservation of a collection of paintings or other works of art, or of objects of natural history, or of mechanical or philosophical inventions, instruments, models, or designs, and dedicated or to be dedicated to the recreation of the public, together with any libraries, reading rooms, laboratories, and other offices and premises used or to be used in connection therewith.

(a) It is provided by the Working Classes Dwellings Act, 1890, post, p. 2527, that Parts I. and II. of this Act shall not apply to gifts of land for dwellings for the working classes.

It is further provided by the Mortmain and Charitable Uses Amendment Act, 1892, post, p. 2538, that the above section, except as therein mentioned, shall apply to any assurance by deed of land to any local authority, for any purposes for which such authority is empowered by any Act of Parliament to acquire land. See s. 164 of the P. H. A., 1875, ante, p. 388. By s. 114 of the Housing Act, 1925, and Sched. I., r. 14, of the Town Planning Act, 1925, ante, pp. 1470 and 1510, a local authority may accept donations of land or money or other property for any purpose of those Acts, and assurances with respect thereto need not be enrolled under this Act.

As to the enforcement of secret trusts for the benefit of the public, see In re Pitt Rivers, Scott v. Pitt Rivers, [1902] 1 Ch. 403; 66 J. P. 275.

(b) Section 117 of the Education Act, 1921, exempts assurances (as defined by s. 10 of the Mortmain Act in the text) of land or personal estate to be laid out in the purchase of land for educational purposes from any restrictions of the law relating to mortmain and charitable uses, and enacts that the Mortmain and Charitable Uses Acts, 1888 and 1891, and the Mortmain and Charitable Uses Act Amendment Act, 1892, shall not apply with respect to any such assurance.

Assurances for certain universities, colleges, and societies.

7. Part Two of this Act shall not apply to the following assurances:

(i) An assurance of land, or personal estate to be laid out in the purchase of land, to or in trust for any of the Universities of Oxford, Cambridge, London, Durham, and the Victoria University, or any of the colleges or houses of learning within any of those universities, or to or in trust for any of the colleges of Eton, Winchester, and Westminster, for the better support and maintenance of the scholars only upon the foundations of those last-mentioned colleges, or to or in trust for the warden, council, and scholars of Keble College (a):

Provided that the trustees of the instrument containing any assurance to which this section applies or declaring the trusts thereof, may, if they think fit, at any time cause the instrument to be enrolled in the central office of the Supreme Court of Judicature.

(a) See also the University and College Estates Act, 1925 (15 & 16 Geo. 5, c. 24).

Substitution of provisions of Act for corresponding repealed enactments.

8. Where by any statute now in force any provision of the enactments hereby repealed is excluded either wholly or partially from application, or is applied with modification, in every such case the corresponding provision of this Act shall be excluded or applied in like extent and manner.

PART IV.

SUPPLEMENTAL.

Adaptation of law to system of land registration. 38 & 39 Vict. c. 87.

9. Any assurance of land which is by this Act required to be made by deed may be made by a registered disposition under the provisions of the Land Transfer Act, 1875, or of any Act amending the same, and any assurance so made shall be exempt from the provisions of this Act as to execution in the presence of witnesses, and as to enrolment in the central office of the Supreme Court (a).

(a) See note (c) to s. 4, ante, p. 2518.

Definitions.

10. In this Act, unless the context otherwise requires,—

(i) "Assurance" includes a gift, conveyance, appointment, lease, transfer, settlement, mortgage, charge, incumbrance, devise, bequest, and every other assurance by deed, will, or other instrument; and "assure" and "assuror" have meanings corresponding with assurance.

(ii) "Will" includes codicil (a).

. . . . . .

(iv) "Full and valuable consideration" includes such a consideration either actually paid upon or before the making of the assurance, or reserved or made payable to the vendor or any other person by way of rent, rent-charge, or other annual payment in perpetuity, or for any term of years or other period, with or without a right of re-entry for non-payment thereof, or partly paid and partly reserved as aforesaid.

(a) Sub-s. (iii) was repealed by the Mortmain and Charitable Uses Act, 1891, post, p. 2536. It contained the definition of "land." See now s. 3 of that Act, post, p. 2536.

Extent of Act.

11. This Act shall not extend to Scotland or Ireland.

Savings for existing customs, etc.

12. Nothing in this Act shall affect the operation or validity of any charter, licence, or custom in force at the passing of this Act enabling land to be assured or held in mortmain.

Repeal.

13 (a).—(1) The Acts specified in the Schedule to this Act are hereby repealed from and after the passing of this Act, to the extent specified in the third column of that Schedule:

Provided that this repeal shall not affect—

(a) Any enactment not hereby repealed referring to any enactment hereby repealed, except that in lieu of that reference the unrepealed enactment shall be construed as if it referred to the corresponding provisions of this Act; or

(b) The past operation of any enactment hereby repealed, or any instrument or thing executed, done, or suffered before the passing of this Act; or

(c) Any right, obligation, or liability acquired, accrued, or incurred under any enactment hereby repealed; or

(d) Any action, proceeding, or thing pending or uncompleted at the time of the passing of this Act.

(2) Whereas by the preamble to the Act of the forty-third year of Elizabeth chapter four (being one of the enactments hereby repealed), it is recited as follows:

"Whereas landes tenementes rentes annuities p'fittes hereditamentes, goodes chattels money and stockes of money, have bene heretofore given limitted appointed and assigned, as well by the Queenes moste excellent Majestie and her moste noble progenitors, as by sondrie other well disposed p'sons, some for releife of aged impotent and poore people, some for maintenance of sicke and maymed souldiers and marriners, schooles of learninge, free schooles and schollers in univ'sities, some for repaire of bridges portes havens causwaies, churches sea bankes and highewaies, some for educacon and p'fermente of orphans, some for or towardes reliefe stocke or maintenance for howses of correcon, some for mariages of poore maides, some for supportacon ayde and helpe of younge tradesmen, handiecraftesmen and p'sons decayed, and others for releife or redemption of prisoners or captives, and for aide or ease of any poore inhabitantes conc'ninge paymente of fifteenes, settinge out of souldiers and other taxes; whiche landes tenements rents annuities p'fitts hereditaments goodes chattels money and stockes of money nev'theles have not byn imployed accordinge to the charitable intente of the givers and founders thereof, by reason of fraudes breaches of truste and negligence in those that shoulde pay delyver and imploy

14. This Act may be cited as the Mortmain and Charitable Uses Act, 1888.

THE SALE OF HORSEFLESH, ETC., REGULATION ACT, 1889.

(52 & 53 VICT. c. 11.)

An Act to regulate the Sale of Horseflesh for Human Food.

[24th June, 1889.]

Whereas it is desirable to make regulations with respect to the sale of horseflesh for human food :

. . . . . .

Signs on horseflesh shops.

1. No person shall sell, offer, expose, or keep for sale any horseflesh for human food (a), elsewhere than in a shop, stall, or place over or upon which there shall be at all times painted, posted, or placed in legible characters of not less than four inches in length, and in a conspicuous position, and so as to be visible throughout the whole time, whether by night or day, during which such horseflesh is being offered or exposed for sale, words indicating that horseflesh is sold there.

(a) This Act applies only to the sale of horseflesh for human food.

Horseflesh not to be sold as other meat.

2. No person shall supply horseflesh for human food to any purchaser who has asked to be supplied with some meat other than horseflesh, or with some compound article of food which is not ordinarily made of horseflesh.

Power of medical officer of health to inspect meat, etc.

Power of justice to grant warrant for search.

4. On complaint made on oath by a medical officer of health or inspector of nuisances, or other officer of a local authority, any justice may grant a warrant to any such officer to enter any building, or part of a building other than such shop, stall, or place as aforesaid, in which such officer has reason for believing that there is kept or concealed any horseflesh which is intended for sale, or for preparation for sale for human food, contrary to the provisions of this Act; and to search for, seize, and carry away or cause to be seized and carried away any meat that appears to such officer to be such horseflesh, in order to have the same dealt with by a justice as hereinafter provided (a).

Any person who shall obstruct any such officer in the performance of his duty under this Act shall be deemed to have committed an offence under this Act (b).

(a) See s. 5, infra.
(b) For the penalty of this offence, see s. 6, infra.

Power of justice with reference to disposal of horseflesh.

5. If it appears to any justice that any meat seized under the foregoing provisions of this Act is such horseflesh as aforesaid, he may make such order with regard to the disposal thereof as he may think desirable (a); and the person in whose possession or on whose premises the meat was found shall be deemed to have committed an offence under this Act, unless he proves that such meat was not intended for human food contrary to the provisions of this Act (b).

(a) The order is left to the discretion of the justice. He may order the meat to be destroyed, or he may order it to be sold for the food of dogs or the like.
(b) It will be for the defendant to prove that the meat was not intended for human food.

Penalty.

6. Any person offending against any of the provisions of this Act, for every such offence shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding twenty pounds, to be recovered in a summary manner (a); and if any horseflesh is proved to have been exposed for sale to the public in any shop, stall, or eating-house (b) other than such shop, stall, or place as in the first section mentioned, without anything to show that it was not intended for sale for human food, the onus of proving that it was not so intended shall rest upon the person exposing it for sale.

(a) That is to say, before a court of summary jurisdiction in manner provided by the S. J. Acts. See S. J. A., 1879, s. 51.
(b) The reference to an eating-house, and the definition in s. 7, show that the Act is intended to apply not only to sales of horseflesh as butchers' meat, but to its sale as meat in an eating-house or restaurant.

Definition of "horseflesh."

7. For the purposes of this Act "horseflesh" shall include the flesh of asses and mules, and shall mean horseflesh, cooked or uncooked, alone or accompanied by or mixed with any other substance.

Local authorities for purposes of Act.

8. For the purposes of this Act the local authorities shall be, in the city of London and the liberties thereof, the commissioners of sewers, and in the other parts of the county of London the vestries and district boards acting in the execution of the Metropolis Local Management Acts, and in other parts of England the urban and rural sanitary authorities (a). . . .

(a) The remainder of this section relates only to Ireland, and s. 9 relates only to Scotland.

THE TOWN POLICE CLAUSES ACT, 1889.

(52 & 53 VICT. c. 14.)

An Act to amend the provisions relating to Hackney Carriages of the Town Police Clauses Act, 1847. [24th June, 1889.]

10 & 11 Vict. c. 89.

Whereas it is expedient to amend the provisions with respect to hackney carriages of the Town Police Clauses Act, 1847, in this Act called the principal Act (a) :

Short title.

10 & 11 Vict. c. 89.

1. This Act may be cited as the Town Police Clauses Act, 1889, and this Act and the Town Police Clauses Act, 1847, may be cited together as the Town Police Clauses Acts, 1847 and 1889 (a).

(a) Italicised words repealed by the S. L. R. A., 1908. The Town Police Clauses Act, 1847, in so far as it is incorporated with the P. H. A., 1875, is set out, ante, p. 2226. It is applied to urban districts only, though a rural district council are enabled by s. 276 of the P. H. A., 1875, ante, p. 613, to apply to the M. of H. for these powers. Reference may also be made to the London Traffic Act, 1924, post, p. 2850, as to the restriction of omnibuses on certain routes in the London Traffic Area. See also note (b) to s. 3, infra.

Construction of Act.

2.—(1) This Act shall be construed as one with the principal Act, and the expression "this Act" in the principal Act shall be construed to mean the principal Act as amended by this Act.

38 & 39 Vict. c. 55.

(2) This Act shall be deemed to be incorporated with the Public Health Act, 1875, by section one hundred and seventy-one of that Act (a).

(a) See this section, ante, p. 411.

Defining "omnibus."

3. The term "omnibus" where used in this Act, shall include—

Every omnibus, char-à-banc, wagonette, brake, stage coach, and other carriage plying or standing for hire (a) by or used to carry passengers at separate fares to, from, or in any part of the prescribed distance (b);

but shall not include—

33 & 34 Vict. c. 78.

Any tramcar or tram carriage duly licensed under the provisions of the Tramways Act, 1870, or of any Provisional Order made thereunder and confirmed by Parliament, or under the provisions of any local Act of Parliament:

Any carriage starting from and previously hired for the particular passengers thereby carried at any livery stable yard (within the prescribed distance) whereat horses are stabled and carriages let for hire, the said carriage starting from the said stable yard and being bonâ fide the property of the occupier thereof, and not standing or plying for hire (c) within the prescribed distance:

Any omnibus belonging to or hired or used by any railway company for conveying passengers and their luggage to or from any railway station of that company, and not standing or plying for hire within the prescribed distance (d):

Any omnibus starting from outside the prescribed distance, and bringing passengers within the prescribed distance, and not standing or plying for hire within the prescribed distance (e).

(a) The "standing for hire" may be on private ground (Birmingham & Midland Motor Omnibus Co., Ltd. v. Thompson, [1918] 2 K B. 105; 82 J. P. 213; Crack v. Holt (1927), 91 J. P. 36; 25 L. G. R. 114.

(b) The prescribed distance means within the urban district (see s. 171 of the P. H. A., 1875, ante, p. 411), or rural parish in which the urban powers have been declared to be in force by an order under s. 276 of the P. H. A., 1875, ante, p. 613.

(c) As to what amounts to standing or plying for hire, reference may be made to the cases cited in the notes to 10 & 11 Vict. c. 89, s. 38, ante, p. 2242. It is important to observe that the words are not, as in the older Act, "standing or plying for hire in a street." An omnibus may, therefore, be standing or plying for hire while it is on private property, such as a railway station. See Clarke v. Stanford (1871), L. R. 6 Q. B. 357; 35 J. P. 662; Allen v. Tunbridge (1871), L. R. 6 C. P. 481; 35 J. P. 695; Foinett v. Clark (1877), 41 J. P. 359; Skinner v. Usher (1872), L. R. 7 Q. B. 423; 36 J. P. 693; Curtis v. Embery (1872), L. R. 7 Ex. 369.

(d) It seems to follow from these words that to be within this exception the omnibus must not be allowed to stand about for hire by any one who may desire to use it, for it would then be standing or plying for hire; and that unless the Act is to apply the omnibus must be hired before it is brought out.

(e) An omnibus coming from one district will not be required to be licensed in another, though used for bringing passengers into the latter, unless it stands or plies for hire in the latter. An omnibus starting from outside the district and going to a point within the district where it waited from fifteen to twenty minutes for the purpose of taking up passengers, parcels, etc., for the return journey, was held not to come within the exception on the ground that it plied for hire within the district (Dewhurst v. Eddles (1893), 57 J. P. 373; 9 T. L. R. 494). And an omnibus which sometimes waited on the highway and sometimes commenced the return journey at once was held on the facts to be plying for hire and therefore not within the exception (R. v. Fletcher (1908), 72 J. P. 249; 98 L. T. 749). See also Sales v. Lake, [1922] 1 K. B. 553; 86 J. P. 80; Armstrong v. Ogle, [1926] 2 K. B. 438; 90 J. P. 146; Leonard v. Western Services, [1927] 1 K. B. 702; 91 J. P. 18; Greyhound Motors v. Lambert, [1928] 1 K. B. 322; 91 J. P. 198; Griffin v. Grey Coaches (1929), 93 J. P. 61; and Att.-Gen. v. Sharp (1929), 45 T. L. R. 628. The facts of these cases are set out at p. 2243, ante.

Extending certain provisions of principal Act to omnibuses.

4.—(1) The several terms "hackney carriages," "hackney coach," "carriages," and "carriage," whenever used in sections thirty-seven, forty to fifty-two (both inclusive), fifty-four, fifty-eight, and sixty to sixty-seven (both inclusive) of the principal Act shall, notwithstanding anything contained in section thirty-eight of that Act, be deemed to include every omnibus (a).

(2) The word "driver" or "drivers" when used in any of the said sections of the principal Act shall be deemed to include every conductor of any omnibus.

(3) For the purposes of sections fifty-four, fifty-eight, and sixty-six of the principal Act, the fare, according to the statement of fares exhibited on any omnibus, shall be deemed to be the fare allowed by the principal Act or authorised by any byelaw under that Act.

(a) See these sections, ante, pp. 2241 et seq. Section 68 of the Act of 1847 is not incorporated, and this is the section giving power to make byelaws for the purpose (inter alia) of fixing the fares to be paid for hackney carriages. It has been held that there is no power to fix fares with reference to omnibuses and that therefore a local authority is not entitled to refuse the renewal of a licence on the ground that the fares charged are excessive (R. v. Farnborough U. D. C., Ex parte Aldershot District Traction Co., Ltd. (1919), 83 J. P. 290). See, however, the comments on this case in R. v. Minister of Transport, Ex parte H. C. Motors, Ltd., [1927] 2 K. B. 401; 91 J. P. 83.

Licences may be granted for short periods.

5. Any licence may be granted under the principal Act to continue in force for such less period than one year as the Commissioners may think fit, and shall specify in the licence (a).

Byelaws.

6. The Commissioners may from time to time make byelaws (a) for all or any of the following purposes, that is to say:

For regulating the conduct (b) of the proprietors, drivers, and conductors of omnibuses plying within the prescribed distance in their several employments, and determining whether such drivers and conductors shall wear any and what badges:

For regulating the manner in which the number of each omnibus corresponding with the number of its licence shall be displayed:

For regulating the number of persons to be carried by such omnibus, and in what manner such number is to be shown thereon (c):

For regulating the number and securing the fitness of the animals to be allowed to draw an omnibus, and for the removal therefrom of unfit animals:

For securing the fitness of the omnibus and the harness of the animals drawing the same:

For fixing the stands for omnibuses and the points at which they may stop a longer time than is necessary for the taking up and setting down of passengers desirous of entering or leaving the same:

For securing the safe custody and re-delivery of any property accidentally left in any omnibus, and fixing the charge to be made in respect thereof (d).

To provide for the carrying and the lighting of proper lamps for denoting the direction in which the omnibus is proceeding, and promoting the safety and convenience of the passengers carried thereby:

To provide for the exhibition on some conspicuous part of every omnibus of a statement in legible letters and figures of the fares to be demanded, and received from the persons using or carried for hire in such omnibus (e):

To prevent within the prescribed distance—

(a) the owner, driver, or conductor of any omnibus, or any other person on their or his behalf, by touting, calling out, or otherwise, from importuning any person to use or to be carried for hire in such omnibus, to the annoyance of such person or of any other person;

(b) the blowing of or playing upon horns or other musical instruments, or the ringing of bells, by the driver or conductor of any omnibus, or by any person travelling on or using any such omnibus.

Provided that nothing in this Act contained shall empower the Commissioners to fix the site of the stand of any omnibus in any railway station or in any yard adjoining or connected therewith, except with the consent of the railway company owning such site.

(a) The L. G. B. once expressed the view that byelaws could not be made under these Acts for the purpose of controlling the routes of motor omnibuses, and the Home Office were of opinion that this object could not be attained by a town council under the Municipal Corporations Acts. See, however, s. 14 (3) of the Roads Act, 1920, ante, p. 1302, and R. v. Bradford Corporation, Ex parte Minister of Transport (1926), 90 J. P. 140; 135 L. T. 227, decided thereunder, and the London Traffic Act, 1924, post, p. 2850.

(b) The respondent was summoned for touting for a hackney carriage in a public thoroughfare contrary to a byelaw which provided: "A person shall not in any public thoroughfare in the district tout for a hackney carriage." He stood on a triangular piece of land at a street corner touting for hackney carriages, having received permission from the freeholders of the piece of land to stand on it for the purpose of his business. The piece of land was always open to the public, and the street (including the piece of land) had been declared a public highway. It was held that the fact that the piece of land on which the respondent stood belonged to private persons did not prevent his act from being an offence against the byelaw (Derham v. Strickland (1911), 75 J. P. 300; 104 L. T. 820).

(c) Where byelaws made under this provision prior to the introduction of motor vehicles contained a byelaw that no greater number of passengers should be conveyed in "any omnibus" than the number specified and in the same and other byelaws contained provisions applicable only to horse-drawn omnibuses, it was held that the respondent was liable for a contravention of the byelaw in respect of a motor omnibus (Neal v. Guy, [1928] 2 K. B. 451; 92 J. P. 119). See also as to proceedings under the Railway Passenger Duty Act, 1842, for overcrowding omnibuses as stage carriages (Dennis v. Miles, [1924] 2 K. B. 399; Kirkby v. Minty, [1929] 2 K. B. 165; M‘Kee v. Weir, [1929] S. C. (J.) 14.

(d) Up to this point there is little difference between the provisions of this section and those of the Town Police Clauses Act, 1847, s. 68, ante, p. 2250. The byelaws under this section do not regulate the hours of employment, but, on the other hand, they may regulate the fitness of the horses and harness. The rest of the section is an addition to the previous law as to hackney carriages.

(e) This provision contemplates that the omnibus proprietors will themselves fix the fares, because, so far as fares are concerned, the power to make byelaws is limited to byelaws requiring the exhibition on the omnibus of a statement of the fares to be demanded (R. v. Farnborough U. D. C., Ex parte Aldershot District Traction Co., Ltd., ante, p. 2525).

THE WORKING CLASSES DWELLINGS ACT, 1890.

(53 & 54 VICT. c. 16.)

An Act to facilitate Gifts of Land for Dwellings for the Working Classes in Populous Places. [25th July, 1890.]

Exemption from 51 & 52 Vict. c. 42, Parts I., II., and 7 & 8 Vict. c. 97, s. 16, of gifts for working classes dwellings.

1. Parts I. and II. of the Mortmain and Charitable Uses Act, 1888, . . . shall not apply to any assurance, by deed, or will, of land, or of personal estate to be laid out in land, for the purpose of providing dwellings for the working classes in any populous place (a).

Provided as follows:

(i) The quantity of land which may be assured by will under this section shall not exceed five acres; and

(ii) The deed or will containing the assurance must, within six months, in the case of a deed after the execution thereof, or in the case of a will after the probate thereof, be enrolled in the books of the Charity Commissioners, if the land is situate in England or Wales . . .

For the purposes of this Act, the expression "populous place" means the administrative county of London, any municipal borough, any urban sanitary district, and any other place having a dense population of an urban character (b).

(a) Words relating to Ireland only are omitted from this section. But for this provision land could not have been conveyed, nor could money to be laid out in land have been assured by deed or will for the purpose of working classes dwellings. The above Act creates an exception similar to those created under Part III. of the Mortmain and Charitable Uses Act, 1888, ante, p. 2519; cf. also the Housing Act, 1925, s. 114, and the Town Planning Act, 1925, Sched. I., r. 14, ante, pp. 1470 and 1510. But apparently this is not an Act with charity matters (Re Sutton, Lewis v. Sutton, [1901] 2 Ch. 640; 66 J. P. 39).

(b) The expression "populous place" may include a part of a rural district which is thickly populated.

Application of Act.

2. This Act shall extend to any assurance by deed made within twelve months before the passing of this Act by a person alive at that passing as if it had been made after the passing, except that the assurance shall be enrolled or registered as aforesaid within six months after the passing of this Act.

Short title and construction.

3.—(1) This Act may be cited as the Working Classes Dwellings Act, 1890.

51 & 52 Vict. c. 42.

(2) Expressions used in this Act shall have the same meaning as in the Mortmain and Charitable Uses Act, 1888 (a).

(a) See s. 10 of that Act, ante, p. 2520, which contains definitions of the terms "assurance," "will," and "land."

Section 1.

THE RAILWAY AND CANAL TRAFFIC (PROVISIONAL ORDERS) AMENDMENT ACT, 1891.

(54 & 55 VICT. c. 12) (a).

An Act to remove doubts as to the Powers of Public Bodies in reference to Provisional Order Bills under the Railway and Canal Traffic Act, 1888.
[11th May, 1891.]

Whereas (b)

. . . . . .

Powers of governing bodies and county councils with reference to Bills for confirming provisional orders made under 51 & 52 Vict. c. 25, s. 24.

1. Every governing body within the meaning of the Borough Funds Act (c) . . . and every county council shall be entitled to be a petitioner and to appear and oppose any Bill to confirm any provisional order made under section twenty-four of the Railway and Canal Traffic Act, 1888 (d), and to provide or contribute towards providing the expenses of the appearance or opposition of a petitioner out of the funds or rates under their respective control, as if the Bill for confirming such provisional order were a local or personal Bill within the meaning of section two of the Borough Funds Act, . . . and the provisions of the said last-mentioned Act . . . shall apply to any such appearance or opposition, and to any expenses incurred or to be incurred in relation thereto: Provided that in the case of a county council no consent of owners and ratepayers shall be required.

(a) This Act amends the Railway and Canal Traffic Act, 1888, s. 24, ante, p. 2503. Its effect so far as regards sanitary authorities is to enable them to petition against and oppose any Bill confirming any provisional order under that section, subject only to compliance with the requirements of the Borough Funds Acts, 1872 and 1903. Words relating to Scotland or Ireland only have been omitted throughout the Act. As to the omission of the clause of enactment, see s. 4 of the S. L. R. A., 1894.

(b) The preamble (repealed by the S. L. R. A., 1908), after referring to the Borough Funds Act, 1872, the L. G. A., 1888, and s. 24 of the Railway and Canal Traffic Act, 1888, recited that doubt had been felt whether governing bodies as defined by the Act of 1872 and county councils had power to apply funds or rates under their control in opposing, or subscribing towards the opposition of, any Bill to confirm a Provisional Order under s. 24 of the Act of 1888, and that it was expedient to remove such doubts.

(d) See that section, ante, p. 2503.

Short title.

2. This Act may be cited as "The Railway and Canal Traffic (Provisional Orders) Amendment Act, 1891."

THE MUSEUMS AND GYMNASIUMS ACT, 1891.

(54 & 55 VICT. c. 22.)

An Act to enable Urban Authorities to provide and maintain Museums and Gymnasiums.
[3rd July, 1891.]

Short title.

1. This Act may be cited as "The Museums and Gymnasiums Act, 1891."

Extent of Act.

2.—(1) This Act shall extend to any district where the same is adopted as hereinafter provided, but only so far as the adoption extends.

(2) This Act shall not extend to Scotland or the administrative county of London.

Section 3.

Application of Act.

3.—(1) This Act may be adopted by any urban authority (a) for their district either wholly or so far as it relates to museums only or to gymnasiums only.

(2) The adoption shall be by a resolution passed at a meeting of the urban authority, and one month at least before such meeting special notice of the meeting and of the intention to propose such resolution shall be given to every member of the authority, and the notice shall be deemed to have been duly given to a member of it, if it is either—

(a) Given in the mode in which notices to attend meetings of the authority are usually given; or

(b) Where there is no such mode, then signed by the clerk of the authority, and delivered to the member or left at his usual or last known place of abode in England, or forwarded by post in a prepaid letter, addressed to the member at his usual or last known place of abode in England.

(3) Such resolution shall be published by advertisement in some one or more newspapers circulating within the district of the authority, and by causing notice thereof to be affixed to the principal doors of every church and chapel in the place to which notices are usually fixed, and otherwise in such manner as the authority think sufficient for giving notice thereof to all persons interested, and shall come into operation at a time not less than one month after the first publication of the advertisement of the resolution as the authority may by the resolution fix, and upon its coming into operation the Act shall extend to that district.

(4) A copy of the resolution shall be sent to the Local Government Board (b).

(5) A copy of the advertisement shall be conclusive evidence of the resolution having been passed, unless the contrary be shown; and no objection to the effect of the resolution, on the ground that notice of the intention to propose the same was not duly given, or on the ground that the resolution was not sufficiently published, shall be made after three months from the date of the first advertisement (c).

(b) The L. G. B. has now been superseded by the Ministry of Health. (See Ministry of Health Act, 1919).

(c) The provisions of the above section as to the adoption of this Act are, with one exception, identical with those of the Infectious Disease (Prevention) Act, 1890, s. 3, ante, p. 853, and the reader is referred to the notes on that section. The exception just mentioned is that in sub-s. (2), which requires the notices to be affixed to church and chapel doors. As to this, see the note to the similar provision in the P. H. A., 1875, Sched. III., r. 4, ante, p. 690.

Power to provide museum and gymnasium.

4 (a). An urban authority may provide and maintain museums for the reception of local antiquities or other objects of interest, and gymnasiums with all the apparatus ordinarily used therewith, and may erect any buildings, and generally do all things necessary for the provision and maintenance of such museums and gymnasiums (b).

(a) So much of this section as relates to the provision of museums is now of no effect (s. 9, Public Libraries Act, 1919, post, p. 2780). Museums provided under the section before the passing of the 1919 Act may still be maintained, and if provided for a district which was or later becomes a library district within the Public Libraries Act are to be transferred to the library authority and maintained by them (ibid.).

(b) The L. G. B. informed an urban district council that they were disposed to think that under this Act the council could only provide and maintain a museum to receive such things as are given them from time to time or they are able to collect without expenditure of money. "It appears to the Board, however, that the wider powers of the Public Libraries Act, would enable the council to purchase such objects as can reasonably be regarded as specimens of art and science, including archæological specimens." See also the British Museum Act, 1924 (14 & 15 Geo. 5, c. 23), which enables the trustees to make loans of objects for public exhibition in any gallery or museum under the control of a public authority.

Admission to museum.

5. A museum provided under this Act shall be open to the public not less than three days in every week free of charge, but subject thereto an urban authority may admit any person or class of persons thereto as they think fit, and may charge fees for such admission, or may grant the use of the same or of any room therein, either gratuitously or for payment, to any person for any lecture or exhibition, or for any purpose of education or instruction, and the admission to the museum or room the use of which is so granted may be either with or without payment as directed by the urban authority, or with the consent of the urban authority by the person to whom the use of the museum or room is granted.

Admission to gymnasium.

6.—(1) A gymnasium provided under this Act shall be open to the public free of charge for not less than two hours a day during five days in every week.

(2) Subject thereto the urban authority—

(a) may regulate the admission of the public to such gymnasium, either by classes or otherwise as they think fit, and may charge fees for such admission; and

(b) may, for not more than two hours in each day, grant the exclusive use thereof to any person or body of persons for the purpose of gymnastic exercises, for such payment and on such terms and conditions as they think fit.

(3) An urban authority may (for not more than twenty-four days in one year nor more than six consecutive days) close the gymnasium for use as a gymnasium, and grant the use of the same gratuitously or for payment to any person for the purpose of any lecture, exhibition, public meeting, entertainment, or other public purpose, and the admission on such days shall be either with or without payment as directed by the urban authority, or with the consent of the urban authority by the person to whom the use of the same is granted.

Regulations and byelaws.

7.—(1) An urban authority may make regulations (a) for all or any of the following matters, namely,—

(a) For fixing the days of the week or hours of the day, as the case may be, during which the museum or gymnasium is to be open to the public free of charge:

(b) For giving special facilities to students for the use of the museum:

(c) For fixing the fees to be paid for the admission of persons to the museum and for the use thereof either by students or in any other special manner:

(d) For regulating the use of the gymnasium either by classes or otherwise, and fixing the scale of fees to be paid for such use:

(e) For prescribing conditions on which the exclusive use of the museum, or any room therein, or of the gymnasium is granted in any case:

(f) For determining the duties of the instructor, officers, and servants of the urban authority in connection with a museum or gymnasium:

(g) Generally for regulating and managing the museum or gymnasium.

(2) The urban authorities may make byelaws for regulating the conduct of persons admitted to the museum or gymnasium, and may by any such byelaw provide for the removal from the museum or gymnasium of any person infringing any such byelaw by any officer of the urban authority or by any constable.

Section 7.

All the provisions with respect to byelaws contained in sections one hundred and eighty-two to one hundred and eighty-six of the Public Health Act, 1875 (b), and any enactment amending or extending those sections, shall apply to all byelaws from time to time made by an urban authority under the powers of this Act.

38 & 39 Vict. c. 5.

(a) Regulations made by an urban authority need no confirmation. See s. 188 of the P. H. A., 1875, ante, p. 470.

(b) See these sections, ante, pp. 453 et seq. These byelaws must be confirmed by the B. of Education. See M. of H. (Public Libraries, etc.) Order, 1920, in App. II., post, p. 3451.

Closing of museum or gymnasium for repairs.

8. An urban authority may at such time as they think fit close a museum or gymnasium provided by them for repairs, and shall give a fortnight's notice of their intention to close the same by affixing a notice to that effect on the door of the museum or gymnasium, as the case may be, or otherwise as they think fit.

Appointment of officers and servants for museum or gymnasium.

9. An urban authority may appoint and pay such officers and servants as they think fit for the purpose of a museum or gymnasium provided under this Act, and may employ and pay instructors in connection with a gymnasium.

Expenses and borrowing.

10.—(1) The fees and other money received by an urban authority under this Act shall be applied in defraying the expenses of the museum or gymnasium in respect of which they are received.

(2) So far as such expenses are not so defrayed, they shall be defrayed as part of the general expenses of the execution by the urban authority of the Public Health Acts (a).

(3) An urban authority may borrow for the purposes of this Act in like manner and subject to the like conditions as for the purpose of defraying the said general expenses, and for that purpose sections two hundred and thirty-three, two hundred and thirty-four, and two hundred and thirty-six to two hundred and thirty-nine, both inclusive, of the Public Health Act, 1875 (relating to borrowing) (b), and sections two hundred and forty-two and two hundred and forty-three of the same Act (relating to loans by the Public Works Loan Commissioners) (c), as amended by section two of the Public Works Loans Act, 1879 (d), shall apply.

38 & 39 Vict. c. 55.

42 & 43 Vict. c. 77.

(4) Separate accounts shall be kept of the receipts and expenditure of an urban authority in connection with any museum or gymnasium established under this Act, and such accounts shall be audited in like manner and with the like power to the officer auditing the same, and with the like incidents and consequences as the accounts of the urban authority are for the time being required to be audited by law (e).

(5) The amount expended by an urban authority under this Act shall not in any year exceed the amount produced by the rate of a halfpenny (f) in the pound for a museum, and the like amount (f) for a gymnasium established under this Act.

(e) See the sections of the P. H. A., 1875, relating to audit, ante, p. 538, and the Audit (Local Authorities) Act, 1927, ante, p. 1881.

(f) These limits are increased by 33⅓ per cent. by L. G. A., 1929, s. 75, ante, p. 1940, and in special cases may be increased by a further percentage by an order of the Minister.

Acquisition of land.

11.—(1) Land for the purposes of this Act may be acquired by an urban authority in like manner as if those purposes were purposes of the Public

Section 11. Health Act, 1875, and sections one hundred and seventy-five to one hundred and seventy-eight, both inclusive, of that Act (relating to the purchase of land) (a) shall apply accordingly, but no land shall be so acquired otherwise than by agreement.

(2) An urban authority may, with the consent of the Local Government Board (b), appropriate, for the purposes of this Act, any land which may be for the time being vested in them, or at their disposal.

(b) See note (b) to s. 3, ante, p. 2529.

Power to sell museum or gymnasium in certain cases.

12.—(1) Where it appears to an urban authority that a museum or gymnasium which has been established under this Act for seven years or upwards is unnecessary or too expensive, they may, with the consent of the Local Government Board (a), sell the same for the best price that can reasonably be obtained for the same, and shall convey the same accordingly.

(2) Any moneys arising from such sale shall be applied toward the repayment of any money borrowed for the purpose of the museum or gymnasium sold, and, so far as not required for that purpose, shall be applied to any purpose to which capital moneys are properly applicable, and which may be approved by the Local Government Board (a).

(a) Now the Board of Education (see M. of H. (Public Libraries, etc.) Order, 1920, in App. II., post, p. 3451).

Powers of Act cumulative.

13. All powers given to an urban authority under this Act shall be deemed to be in addition to and not in derogation of any other powers conferred by Act of Parliament, law, or custom, and such other powers may be exercised in the same manner as if this Act had not been passed.

Interpretation.

14. In this Act the expression " urban authority " means an urban sanitary authority under the Public Health Acts, and the expression " district " means an urban sanitary district under those Acts (a).

(a) See the P. H. A., 1875, s. 6, ante, p. 39.

THE FORGED TRANSFERS ACT, 1891.

(54 & 55 VICT. C. 43) (a).

An Act for preserving Purchasers of Stock from Losses by Forged Transfers.

[5th August, 1891.]

Power to make compensation for losses from forged transfer.

1.—(1) Where a company or local authority (b) issue or have issued shares, stock, or securities transferable by an instrument in writing or by an entry in any books or register (c) kept by or on behalf of the company or local authority, they shall have power to make compensation by a cash payment out of their funds for any loss arising from a transfer of any such shares, stock, or securities, in pursuance of a forged transfer or of a transfer under a forged power of attorney (d).

(2) Any company or local authority (b) may, if they think fit, provide, either by fees not exceeding the rate of one shilling on every one hundred pounds transferred (e), to be paid by the transferee upon the entry of the transfer in the books of the company or local authority, or by insurance, reservation of capital, accumulation of income, or in any other manner which they may resolve upon, a fund to meet claims for such compensation.

(3) For the purpose of providing such compensation any company may borrow on the security of their property, and any local authority (b) may borrow with the like consent and on the like security and subject to the like conditions as to repayment by means of instalments or the provision of a sinking fund and otherwise as in the case of the securities in respect of which compensation is to be provided, but any money so borrowed by a local authority shall be repaid within a term not longer than five years. Any expenses incurred by a local authority in making compensation, or in the repayment of, or the payment of interest on, or otherwise in connexion with, any loan raised as aforesaid, shall, except so far as they may be met by such fees as aforesaid, be paid out of the fund or rate on which the security in respect of which compensation is to be made is charged.

(4) Any such company or local authority may impose such reasonable restrictions on the transfer of their shares, stock, or securities, or with respect to powers of attorney for the transfer thereof, as they may consider requisite for guarding against losses arising from forgery.

(5) Where a company or local authority compensate a person under this Act for any loss arising from forgery, the company or local authority shall, without prejudice to any other rights or remedies, have the same rights and remedies against the person liable for the loss as the person compensated would have had.

This Act was occasioned by the decision in Barton v. L. and N. W. Rail. Co. (1889), 24 Q. B. D. 77, where it was held that a company having registered a forged transfer of stock was bound to replace on their register as holder of the stock the name of the stockholder whose signature to the transfer had been forged, leaving the innocent transferee to bear the loss. The Act is merely enabling and not obligatory. At common law there is no liability towards an innocent transferee, but where such transferee again transfers to a third person for value, there may be a liability by estoppel towards such third person. As to estoppel, see In re Bahia and San Francisco Rail. Co. (1868), L. R. 3 Q. B. 584; Balkis Consolidated Co. v. Tomkinson, [1893] A. C. 396; Dixon v. Kennaway & Co., [1900] 1 Ch. 833.

The company or local authority held liable for a loss by a forged transfer may in certain cases have a remedy over against the broker or other person at whose request the forged transfer has been registered. Thus when a broker had innocently induced the Bank of England to transfer consols to a purchaser upon a power of attorney the stockholder's signature to which turned out to have been forged, it was held that he had impliedly warranted that he had the stockholder's authority, and that he was consequently liable to indemnify the bank against the claim of the stockholder for restoration (Starkey v. Bank of England, [1903] A. C. 114). So also where bankers in good faith sent to a corporation a forged transfer of corporation stock with a request to register the stock in the name of the transferees, it was held that the bankers were bound to indemnify the corporation against the liability to the stockholder, whose name had been forged (Sheffield Corporation v. Barclay & Co., [1905] A. C. 392; 69 J. P. 385; see also Bank of England v. Cutler, [1908] 2 K. B. 208).

(c) Local authorities keep registers of mortgages under s. 237 of the P. H. A., 1875, ante, p. 531. They may keep a register of nominal securities under s. 23 of the Local Loans Act, 1875, ante, p. 2351. But this Act will apply also to shares, stock, or securities transferable by an instrument in writing or by an entry in the books of the local authority.

(d) "Whether such loss arises, and whether the transfer or power of attorney was forged before or after the passing of this Act, and whether the person receiving such compensation, or any person through whom he claims, has or has not paid any fee or otherwise contributed to any fund out of which the compensation is paid" (see the Forged Transfers Act, 1892, s. 2, post, p. 2541).

Definitions.

2. For the purposes of this Act—

"Company."

The expression "company" shall mean any company incorporated by or in pursuance of any Act of Parliament, or by royal charter.

Section 2.

"Local authority."

The expression "local authority" shall mean the council of any county or municipal borough, and any authority having power to levy or require the levy of a rate, the proceeds of which are applicable to public local purposes (a).

(a) This definition will include all sanitary authorities, urban and rural.

Application to industrial societies, etc.

3. This Act shall apply to any industrial, provident, friendly, benefit, building, or loan society incorporated by or in pursuance of any Act of Parliament as if the society were a company.

Application to harbour and conservancy authorities.

4.—(1) This Act shall apply to any harbour authority or conservancy authority as if the authority were a company.

(2) For the purposes of this Act the expression "harbour authority" includes all persons, being proprietors of, or entrusted with the duty or invested with the power of constructing, improving, managing, regulating, maintaining, or lighting any harbour otherwise than for profit, and not being a joint stock company.

(3) For the purposes of this Act the expression "conservancy authority" includes all persons entrusted with the duty or invested with the power of conserving, maintaining or improving the navigation of any tidal water otherwise than for profit, and not being a joint stock company.

5. [Application to colonial stock.]

Short title.

6. This Act may be cited as "The Forged Transfers Act, 1891."

THE MARKETS AND FAIRS (WEIGHING OF CATTLE) ACT, 1891.

(54 & 55 VICT. c. 70) (a).

An Act to amend the Markets and Fairs (Weighing of Cattle) Act, 1887.

[5th August, 1891.]

50 & 51 Vict, c. 27.

Whereas it is expedient to amend the Markets and Fairs (Weighing of Cattle) Act, 1887 (hereinafter referred to as the principal Act) :

Transfer of powers under 50 & 51 Vict, c. 27, s. 9,

1. As from the passing of this Act the powers under section nine of the principal Act (b) of the Local Government Board as to England and Wales . . . shall be transferred to and vest in the Board of Agriculture (c). . . .

(a) This Act amends the Markets and Fairs (Weighing of Cattle) Act, 1887, ante, p. 2490, and is amended by the Markets and Fairs (Weighing of Cattle) Act, 1926, post, p. 2908. Sections, or words, relating to Scotland or Ireland only are omitted. As to the omission of the clause of enactment, see s. 4 of the S. L. R. A., 1894. Italicised words repealed by S. L. R. A., 1908, except where otherwise stated.

(b) The powers here referred to are the powers to exempt certain markets and fairs from the provisions of the Act. See the section, ante, p. 2493.

(c) Now the Minister of Agriculture and Fisheries. See 3 Edw. 7, c. 31, s. 1, and 9 & 10 Geo. 5, c. 91.

Amendment of 50 & 51 Vict. c. 2, s. 4, as to accommodation for weighing cattle.

2.—(1) The market authority of every market and fair to which the principal Act for the time being applies (a), shall, unless exempted (b) by order of the Board of Agriculture (c) from the requirements of this section, provide and maintain to the satisfaction of the Board sufficient and suitable accommodation for weighing cattle (d).

(2) Default in complying with the requirements of this section shall be deemed default in complying with the requirements of section four of the principal Act (d).

(a) See s. 2 of the principal Act, ante, p. 2491, as to the market authority and the markets to which the Act applies.

(c) See note (c) to s. 1, ante, p. 2534.

(d) In determining the sufficiency and suitability of the accommodation for weighing cattle, the Minister of Agriculture and Fisheries will have regard to the following, amongst other considerations, namely—(a) the convenience of the situation of the weighing machine to buyers and sellers; (b) the supply of proper pens for keeping cattle together, both on entering and on leaving the machine; (c) the size of the machine and its capacity for weighing at one and the same time, if required, a sufficient number of cattle, including store as well as fat stock, so as not to unduly delay the business of the market, fair, or auction. In cases where it is proposed to set up new weighing machines, it is desirable to communicate beforehand with the Minister as to the sufficiency of the proposed accommodation (Circular Letter of the Board of Agriculture, dated November 25th, 1891).

(e) Under s. 4 of the principal Act, ante, p. 1491, the only result of default was to make it illegal to take tolls for cattle, and to render any demand of tolls an offence punishable by fine. Under the provision in the text default in providing weighing accommodation will apparently render the market authority liable to a fine whether they demand or receive tolls or not.

Statistics as to weight and sale of cattle.

3.—(1) The market authority of every market and fair held in any of the places mentioned in the schedule to this Act shall send to the Board of Agriculture (a) returns, at such intervals, and in such form and with such particulars as the Board of Agriculture (a) by order prescribe, showing, so far as the market authority can ascertain the same, the number of cattle entering and the number and weight of cattle weighed at the market or fair, and the price of the cattle sold thereat. Such market authority may, for the purpose of making a prescribed return, cause any cattle which have been sold at the market to be weighed without fee.

(2) The Board of Agriculture (a) shall publish the returns so sent, or abstracts thereof, or extracts therefrom, in such manner as they think most expedient for the information of the public.

(3) If a market authority wilfully makes default in complying with the requirements of this section, it shall for each offence be liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding twenty pounds, or in case of a continuing offence to a fine not exceeding ten pounds for every day during which the offence continues.

(4) If any person makes any false or (b) fraudulent statement in any return made in pursuance of this section he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

(5) The Board of Agriculture (a) may from time to time vary or add to the list of places in the schedule to this Act (c).

(b) Repealed by the Perjury Act, 1911.

(c) By the Markets and Fairs (Weighing of Cattle) Returns Order of 1905 (Stat. R. & O. 1905, p. 199) the Board of Agriculture and Fisheries so altered the schedule that it is practically superseded, and is therefore omitted.

Application of Act to auction marts.

4. (a)—(1) An auctioneer shall not, unless exempted by order of the Board of Agriculture (b) from the requirements of this section, sell cattle at any mart where cattle are habitually or periodically sold, unless there are provided at that mart similar facilities for weighing cattle as are required by the principal Act and this Act in the case of cattle sold at a market or fair to which the principal Act applies (c).

(2) Every auctioneer who in any place from which returns are required to be made under this Act sells cattle at any such mart as aforesaid shall, unless exempted as aforesaid, make the like returns to the Board of Agriculture with respect to cattle entering, weighed, and sold at that mart as are required by this Act to be made by a market authority, and shall be subject to the like penalty for making any false or fraudulent statement in any such return.

(3) If any such auctioneer makes default in complying with the requirements of this section, the auctioneer, or, if he is in the employment of any person, the person by whom he is employed, shall for each offence be liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding twenty pounds, or in case of a continuing offence to a fine not exceeding ten pounds for every day during which the offence continues.

(4) [Commencement of section, January 1, 1892.]

(a) The Act of 1926 makes it an offence for an auctioneer to offer for sale fat cattle in any market, fair or mart in connection with which a weighing machine has been provided under these Acts unless such cattle have been weighed and their weight disclosed to intending purchasers (16 & 17 Geo. 5, c. 21, s. 1, post, p. 2908).

(c) See Knott v. Stride (1913), 77 J. P. 222; 109 L. T. 181, the facts of which are set out, ante, p. 2492.

5. [Application to Ireland.]

Construction and short title.

6. This Act shall be construed as one with the principal Act, and may be cited as "The Markets and Fairs (Weighing of Cattle) Act, 1891," and the principal Act and this Act may be cited together as the Markets and Fairs (Weighing of Cattle) Acts, 1887 and 1891.

THE MORTMAIN AND CHARITABLE USES ACT, 1891.

(54 & 55 VICT. c. 73) (a).

An Act to amend the Mortmain and Charitable Uses Act, 1888, and the Law relating to Mortmain and Charitable Uses. [5th August, 1891.]

Short title.

1. This Act may be cited as "The Mortmain and Charitable Uses Act, 1891."

Extent of Act.

2. This Act shall not extend to Scotland or Ireland.

Definition of "land."

51 & 52 Vict. c. 42.

3. "Land" in the Mortmain and Charitable Uses Act, 1888, and in this Act, shall include tenements and hereditaments, corporeal or incorporeal, of any tenure, but not money secured on land or other personal estate arising from or connected with land; and the definition of land contained in the Mortmain and Charitable Uses Act, 1888, is hereby repealed (a).

(a) This supersedes the definition of "land" in s. 10 of the principal Act, ante, p. 2520. Italicised words repealed as spent by S. L. R. A., 1908. With regard to money secured on land, it may be noted that corporation debenture stock charged on the revenue of all landed and other property of the corporation was held not to be an interest in land under 9 Geo. 2, c. 36, s. 3 (In re Pickard, Elmsley v. Mitchell, [1894] 2 Ch. 88). See also In re Crossley, Birrell v. Greenhough, [1897] 1 Ch. 928; 61 J. P. 390.

Where real estate has been devised to trustees on trust for sale, and the proceeds directed to be paid to a charity, the charity takes no benefit in anything but personal estate arising from land (Re Sidebottom, Beeley v. Waterhouse, [1902] 2 Ch. 389). See also Re Wilkinson, Esam v. Att.-Gen., [1902] 1 Ch. 841; and Re Ryland, Roper v. Ryland, [1903] 1 Ch. 467.

Meaning of "assurance."

4. In this Act the word "assurance" shall have the same meaning as in the Mortmain and Charitable Uses Act, 1888.

5. Land may be assured by will to or for the benefit of any charitable use (a), but, except as hereinafter provided, such land shall, notwithstanding anything in the will contained to the contrary, be sold within one year from the death of the testator, or such extended period as may be determined by the High Court, or any judge thereof sitting at chambers, or by the Charity Commissioners.

Land assured by will for a charitable purpose to be sold.

(a) A testator, who died after the passing of this Act, by his will made before the passing of this Act, gave to a charity such part of the residue as may by law be given for charitable purposes, with a separate gift of the remainder to A.:—Held, that the Act applied, and in the absence of a contrary intention the whole of the residue, realty as well as personalty, went to the charity (In re Bridger, Brompton Hospital Governors v. Lewis, [1894] 1 Ch. 297). As to the effect of a special Act on the provision of this section and section 8, infra, see In re Verrall, National Trust v. Att.-Gen., [1916] 1 Ch. 100; 80 J. P. 89.

6. So soon as the time limited for the sale of any lands under any such assurance shall have expired without completion of the sale of the land, the land unsold shall vest forthwith in the official trustee of charity lands, and the Charity Commissioners shall take all necessary steps for the sale or completion of the sale of such land to be effected with all reasonable speed by the administering trustees for the time being thereof, and for this purpose the said Commissioners may make any order under their seal directing such trustees to proceed with the sale or completion of the sale of the said land or removing such trustees and appointing others, and may provide by any such order for the payment of the proceeds of sale to the official trustees of charitable funds in trust for the charity, and for the payment of the costs and expenses incurred by the said administering trustees in or connected with such sale, and every such order shall be enforceable by the same means and be subject to the same provisions as are applicable under the Charitable Trusts Act, 1853, and the Acts amending the same, respectively, to any orders of the said Commissioners made thereunder.

Land after expiration of time limited for sale to be sold by order of Charity Commissioners.

16 & 17 Vict. c. 137.

7. Any personal estate by will directed to be laid out in the purchase of land to or for the benefit of any charitable uses shall, except as hereinafter provided, be held to or for the benefit of the charitable uses as though there had been no such direction to lay it out in the purchase of land (a).

Personal estate by will directed to be laid out in land not to be so laid out.

(a) Where a testator devised and bequeathed residuary estate to purchase land for the erection of model dwellings for the poor, it was held that the effect of striking out the direction to purchase land was not to put an end to the whole charitable trust, and that the residuary gift was valid (Re Sutton, Lewis v. Sutton, [1901] 2 Ch. 640; 66 J. P. 39).

A gift by a testatrix of "any little money left" for the repair of a churchyard is a valid bequest, and is not limited to the sum of £500 by the Gifts for Churches Act, 1803 (Re Douglas, Douglas v. Simpson, [1905] 1 Ch. 279).

8. It shall be lawful for the High Court, or any judge thereof sitting at chambers, or for the Charity Commissioners, if satisfied that land assured by will to or for the benefit of any charitable use, or proposed to be purchased out of personal estate by will directed to be laid out in the purchase of land, is required for actual occupation for the purposes of the charity and not as an investment, by order to sanction the retention or acquisition, as the case may be, of such land (a).

Power to retain land in certain cases.

(a) On a summons under this section to sanction retention of land for the purposes of a charity after the expiration of a year from the testator's death, the official trustee and not the commissioners should be made a defendant (Re Church Patronage Trust, Laurie v. Att.-Gen., [1904] 1 Ch. 41; 68 J. P. 64). Affirmed on other points, [1904] 2 Ch. 643.

9. This Act shall only apply to the will of a testator dying after the passing of this Act.

Application of Act.

Section 10.

Saving.

10. Nothing in this Act contained shall limit or affect the exemptions contained in Part III. of the Mortmain and Charitable Uses Act, 1888, or apply to any land or personal estate to be laid out in the purchase of land acquired under any assurance to which such exemptions or any of them apply, or shall exclude or impair any jurisdiction or authority which might otherwise be exercised by a court or judge of competent jurisdiction or by the Charity Commissioners.

THE MORTMAIN AND CHARITABLE USES ACT AMENDMENT ACT, 1892.

(55 & 56 VICT. C. 11) (a).

An Act to amend the Mortmain and Charitable Uses Act, 1888.

Extension of 51 & 52 Vict. c. 42, s. 6.

1. Section six of the Mortmain and Charitable Uses Act, 1888, except so much of sub-section (2) thereof as provides that an assurance by deed, made otherwise than in good faith for full and valuable consideration, must be executed not less than twelve months before the death of the assuror, shall apply to any assurance by deed of land to any local authority for any purpose or purposes for which such authority is empowered by any Act of Parliament to acquire land (b).

(b) See the section here referred to, ante, p. 2519.

Definitions.

2. For the purpose of this Act "local authority" means any county council, council of a municipal borough, sanitary authority, or any body having power to make a rate for public purposes or by the issue of any precept, certificate or other document to acquire payment from some authority or officer of money which may render necessary the making of any such rate; and "assurance" has the same meaning as in the Mortmain and Charitable Uses Act, 1888.

Extent of Act.

3. This Act shall not apply to Scotland or Ireland.

Short title.

4. This Act may be cited as "The Mortmain and Charitable Uses Act Amendment Act, 1892."

THE TECHNICAL AND INDUSTRIAL INSTITUTIONS ACT, 1892.

(55 & 56 VICT. C. 29) (a).

An Act to facilitate the Acquisition and Holding of Land by Institutions for Promoting Technical and Industrial Instruction and Training.

[27th June, 1892.]

Short title.

1. This Act may be cited as "The Technical and Industrial Institutions Act, 1892."

(a) As to the omission of the clause of enactment, see s. 4 of S. L. R. A., 1894.

2. This Act applies to every institution established, whether before or after the passing of this Act, for effecting all or any of the following purposes, that is to say:

Section 2.

Definition of institution. 52 & 53 Vict. c. 76.

(i) To give technical instruction within the meaning of the Technical Instruction Act, 1889 (a);

(ii) To provide the training, mental or physical, necessary for the above purpose;

(iii) In connection with the purposes before mentioned, to provide workshops, tools, scientific apparatus and plant of all kinds, libraries, reading rooms, halls for lectures, exhibitions, and meetings, gymnasiums, and swimming baths, and also general facilities for mental and physical training, recreation, and amusement, and also all necessary and proper accommodation for persons frequenting the institutions; and every such institution is in this Act referred to as the institution.

(a) This must now be construed as a reference to Part VI. of the Education Act, 1921. See s. 171 (2) of that Act.

3.—(1) The governing body of the institution may be any body corporate, council, public authority, local authority, commissioners, directors, committee, trustees, or other body of persons, corporate or unincorporate, willing to undertake, or elected or appointed for the purpose of undertaking, or having, the government and management of the institution (a).

Governing body.

(2) The governing body may make byelaws and rules for the management and conduct of the institution (b).

(a) Any sanitary authority may be a governing body within the meaning of this definition.

(b) Such byelaws and rules if made by virtue of this Act will not require confirmation by any central authority.

4. The Lands Clauses Consolidation Act, 1845 (a), and the Lands Clauses Consolidation Acts Amendment Act, 1860 (b) (except the provisions of those Acts relating to the purchase and taking of lands otherwise than by agreement, and with respect to the entry upon lands by promoters of the undertaking, and with respect to determining the amount of purchase money by valuation of surveyors), are hereby incorporated in this Act.

Incorporation of 8 & 9 Vict. c. 18, 23 & 24 Vict. c. 106.

(b) Ante, p. 2260.

5. The governing body of the institution may by agreement enter on, take, and use any land required by them for the purposes of the institution, and such land may be conveyed either to the governing body or to trustees for the governing body.

Power to take land by agreement.

6.—(1) A conveyance of land may be made to the governing body of the institution or to trustees for the governing body either for valuable consideration in money, or in consideration of a rentcharge, or by way of exchange for other land, or, subject as in this Act provided, by way of free gift, and without any consideration (a).

Conveyance may be by way of sale, exchange, or gift.

(2) A conveyance under this Act by a person having an equitable estate shall operate to pass any bare outstanding legal estate vested in a trustee.

7.—(1) A conveyance under this Act by a person not entitled to dispose absolutely for his own benefit of the land proposed to be conveyed (other than a conveyance on a sale or exchange for the best consideration in money, or by way of rentcharge, or in land to be reasonably obtained) shall be subject to the following restrictions and provisions:

Conveyances by limited owners.

(a) It shall not in itself, or in addition to any land conveyed under this Act by the same person, comprise more than two acres in the whole in any one county, city, or borough:

(b) It shall be made either with the consent of the person, if any, entitled to the next estate of freehold in remainder for the time being, or with the approval of the High Court of Justice.

(2) Every application to the court for an order approving a conveyance under this Act shall be by summons in chambers, and shall, subject to the Acts regulating the court, be assigned to the Chancery Division.

(3) On any such application the court may direct notice to be served on such persons, if any, as it thinks fit.

(4) On any such application the court shall have regard to the circumstances of the settled estate, the wants of the neighbourhood and the interests of the persons entitled in remainder, and the court, if it thinks fit under all the circumstances of the case, may make an order approving the proposed conveyance. Such order, if the court thinks fit, may be made on such terms and conditions, if any, as the court thinks proper; but no such order shall be made if the application is opposed by any person entitled in remainder, unless the court is of opinion that the opposition is unreasonable, or the interest of the person opposing so remote that it may properly be disregarded.

Institution to be public.

8. Every institution for which land has been acquired under an exercise of the powers conferred by this Act shall be open generally either to all persons or to all persons within specified limits as to age, qualification, or otherwise, and either without payment or on specified terms as to times of attendance and payment of subscriptions or fees, or otherwise, but so that no preference be given to any person or class of persons within the specified limits.

Site may be sold or exchanged.

9.—(1) Land acquired under the powers of this Act shall not be used otherwise than for the purposes of an institution within the meaning of this Act, but, with the consent of the Charity Commissioners, may be sold or may be exchanged for other land.

(2) The governing body or their trustees may execute conveyances and do all acts necessary to effectuate the sale or exchange.

(3) On a sale, the receipt of the governing body or of the trustees for the governing body shall be sufficient discharge for the purchase money, and such money shall, as soon as convenient, be invested in the purchase of other land.

(4) Land purchased or taken in exchange under this section shall be devoted to the same purposes and be liable to the same incidents as originally were applicable to or affected the land sold or given in exchange.

(5) Money arising by sale may, until reinvested in the purchase of land, be invested in the names of the governing body or of trustees for the governing body in any manner in which trust money is for the time being by law authorised to be invested; and all dividends and income on investments so made and all the resulting income shall be invested in like manner so as to accumulate in the way of compound interest, and be added to capital until the capital is reinvested in the purchase of land.

Parts I. and II. of 51 & 52 Vict. c. 42, and part of 54 & 55 Vict.

10.—(1) Parts I. and II. of the Mortmain and Charitable Uses Act, 1888, and so much of the Mortmain and Charitable Uses Act, 1891 (a), as requires that land assured by will shall be sold within one year from the death of the testator, shall not apply to conveyances or to assurances by will made under or for the purposes of this Act, . . . (b). Section 10.

(2) Any corporate body may acquire and shall be entitled to hold and retain land for the purposes of this Act without any licence in mortmain. c. 73, not to apply.

(a) Ante, pp. 2516, 2536.

(b) Words omitted here were repealed by the Education Act, 1918, but see now generally as to assurances for educational purposes s. 117 of the Education Act, 1921.

11. This Act shall not extend to Scotland. Extent of Act.

THE FORGED TRANSFERS ACT, 1892.

(55 & 56 VICT. C. 36) (a).

An Act to remove doubts as to the meaning of the Forged Transfers Act, 1891
[27th June, 1892.]

1. This Act may be cited as "The Forged Transfers Act, 1892," and this Act and the Forged Transfers Act, 1891, may be cited together as the Forged Transfers Acts, 1891 and 1892. Short title. 54 & 55 Vict. c. 43.

(a) This Act amends the Forged Transfers Act, 1891, ante, p. 2532. As to the omission of the clause of enactment, see s. 4 of the S. L. R. A., 1894.

2. Whereas (a) . . . Removal of doubt as to the operation of 54 & 55 Vict. c. 43.

The Forged Transfers Act, 1891, shall have effect as if at the end of sub-section one of section one of that Act, there were added the words "whether such loss arises, and whether the transfer or power of attorney was forged before or after the passing of this Act, and whether the person receiving such compensation, or any person through whom he claims, has or has not paid any fee or otherwise contributed to any fund out of which the compensation is paid."

(a) The preamble to this section (repealed by the S. L. R. A., 1908), after referring to s. 1 (1) of the Forged Transfers Act, 1891, recited that it was expedient to remove doubts as to the application of that Act to losses and forgeries before its passing.

3. Sub-section two of section one of the said Act shall be read as if, after the words "on any one hundred pounds transferred," were inserted the words "with a minimum charge equal to that for twenty-five pounds." Amendment of 54 & 55 Vict. c. 43, s. 1 (2).

4. Where the shares, stock, or securities of a company or local authority have by amalgamation or otherwise become the shares, stock, or securities of another company or local authority, the last-mentioned company and authority shall have the same power under the Forged Transfers Act, 1891, and this Act, as the original company or authority would have had if it had continued. Provision where one company takes over shares, &c., of another company.

THE RAILWAY AND CANAL TRAFFIC ACT, 1892.

(55 & 56 VICT. c. 44) (a).

An Act to amend the Railway and Canal Traffic Act, 1888.

[27th June, 1892.]

51 & 52 Vict. c. 25.

Whereas by section twenty-four of the Railway and Canal Traffic Act, 1888, it is provided that after the commencement of the session of Parliament next after that in which the report of the Board of Trade with respect to a classification of traffic and schedule of rates and charges has been submitted to Parliament, the Board of Trade may embody in a provisional order such classification and schedule as in the opinion of the Board of Trade ought to be adopted, and procure a Bill to be introduced to confirm the order, and it is expedient to amend this provision :

Time for application for provisional order.

1. A provisional order in pursuance of sub-section seven of section twenty-four of the Railway and Canal Traffic Act, 1888, may be made, and a Bill to confirm the same may be introduced at any time after hearing the parties as provided in sub-section four of the said section.

Short title.

2. This Act may be cited as "The Railway and Canal Traffic Act, 1892."

THE PUBLIC LIBRARIES ACT, 1892.

(55 & 56 VICT. c. 53) (a).

An Act to consolidate and amend the Law relating to Public Libraries.

[27th June, 1892.]

ADOPTION OF ACT AND CONSTITUTION OF LIBRARY AUTHORITY.

Extent and application of Act.

1.—(1) This Act shall extend to every library district for which it is adopted.

(2) For the purposes of this Act and subject to the provisions thereof every urban district (b) and every parish in England and Wales which is not within an urban district shall be a library district (c).

. . . . . .

(a) This Act repeals and consolidates all the previous Acts relating to public libraries, a list of which will be found in the Schedule. As to the omission of the clause of enactment, see preceding note. This Act has been amended by the Public Libraries (Amendment) Act, 1893, the Public Libraries Act, 1901, and the Public Libraries Act, 1919, post, pp. 2552, 2616 and 2777. See also the Libraries Offences Act, 1898, post, p. 2568.

(b) See the definition of an urban district in s. 27, post, p. 2550.

(c) The next sub-section is repealed by s. 89 of the L. G. A., 1894. See s. 7 of that Act.

Limitations on expenditure for purposes of Act.

2.—(1) A rate or addition to a rate shall not be levied for the purposes of this Act for any one financial year (a) in any library district to an amount exceeding one penny in the pound (b).

(2) This Act may be adopted for any library district subject to a condition that the maximum rate or addition to a rate to be levied for the purposes of this Act in the district or in any defined portion of the district in any one financial year shall not exceed one halfpenny or shall not exceed three farthings in the pound, but such limitation if fixed at one halfpenny may be subsequently raised to three farthings, or altogether removed, or where it is for the time being fixed at three farthings may be removed.

(a) This means the period of twelve months for which the accounts of the authority are made up. See s. 27, post, p. 2550.

(b) This section has now ceased to have effect, see s. 4 of the Act of 1919, post, p. 2779.

3 (a). [Proceedings for adoption of Act.]

(a) This section was repealed so far as it relates to urban districts by s. 2 (2) of the Act of 1893. Section 3 of that Act which prescribed the procedure to be adopted in urban districts was in turn repealed by s. 7 of the 1919 Act, which provides that any resolution passed in accordance with the ordinary procedure of the council concerned shall have full effect for purposes of the Act of 1893.

Act when adopted to be executed by library authority.

4. This Act when adopted for any library district shall be carried into execution, if the library district is an urban district, by the urban authority and, if it is a parish, by the commissioners appointed under this Act (a); and any such authority or commissioners executing this Act are hereinafter referred to as a "library authority" (b).

(a) If there is a parish council for the parish, the authority for the execution of the Act is now that council (see the L. G. A., 1894, s. 7 (5), (7); see also s. 53). If there is no parish council, it is still commissioners appointed under this Act, but appointed by the parish meeting under 56 & 57 Vict. c. 73, s. 19 (4), instead of by the vestry. The first thing the library authority has to do is to send notice of the adoption of the Act to the Ministry of Health and Board of Education. See the Public Libraries Act, 1901, s. 8, post, p. 2618, and M. of H. (Public Libraries, etc.) Order, 1920, in App. II., post, p. 3451.

(b) In every rural parish the parish meeting have had since 1894, exclusively, the power of adopting this Act. See s. 7 (1) of the L. G. A., 1894. But see now the Act of 1919 under which the County Council may adopt the Libraries Acts for areas within the county not included in any existing library area.

Constitution of commissioners for executing Act in parish.

5.—(1) Where this Act is adopted for any parish the vestry shall forthwith appoint not less than three nor more than nine voters in the parish to be commissioners for carrying this Act into execution (a).

(2) The commissioners shall be a body corporate by the name of "The Commissioners for Public Libraries and Museums for the parish of , in the county of ," and shall have perpetual succession and a common seal, with power to acquire and hold lands for the purposes of this Act, without any licence in mortmain (b).

(a) This sub-section only applies in parishes not having a parish council. As to the qualification of commissioners, see now s. 2 of the L. G. A., 1894, as amended by the Representation of the People Acts.

(b) The parish council will be a body corporate, with power to hold lands for the purposes of this Act without a licence in mortmain (see the L. G. A., 1894, s. 3 (9)). As to parishes without a parish council, see ibid., s. 19 (7).

Rotation of commissioners.

6.—(1) The commissioners shall, as soon as conveniently may be after their appointment, divide themselves by agreement, or in default of agreement by ballot, into three classes, one-third or as nearly as may be one-third of them being in each class.

(2) The offices of the first class shall be vacated at the expiration of one year, the offices of the second class at the expiration of two years, and the offices of the third class at the expiration of three years from the time of appointment.

(3) The offices of vacating commissioners shall be filled by an equal number of new commissioners to be appointed by the vestry from among the voters in the parish; and every newly elected commissioner shall hold his office for the term of three years from the date when the office became vacant, and

Section 6. no longer, unless re-elected; but a person, on ceasing to be a commissioner, shall, unless disqualified, be re-eligible.

(4) Any casual vacancy among the commissioners, whether arising by death, resignation, incapacity, or otherwise, shall as soon as may be after the occurrence thereof be filled up by the vestry; but the term of office of a commissioner appointed to fill up a casual vacancy shall expire at the date at which the term of office of the commissioner in whose place he is appointed would have expired (a).

Meetings of commissioners.

7. The commissioners shall meet at least once in every month, and at such other times as they shall think fit, at some convenient place; and any one commissioner may summon a special meeting by giving three clear days' notice in writing to each commissioner, specifying therein the purpose for which the meeting is called. Business shall not be transacted at any meeting of the commissioners unless at least two of them are present.

Proceedings of commissioners to be recorded.

8. All orders and proceedings of the commissioners shall be entered in books to be kept for that purpose, and shall be signed by the commissioners or any two of them; and all such orders and proceedings so entered, and purporting to be so signed, shall be deemed to be original orders and proceedings, and such books may be produced and read as evidence of all such orders and proceedings upon any judicial proceeding.

Power to vestries of neighbouring parishes to combine (a).

9.—(1) Where this Act is adopted for any two or more neighbouring parishes, the vestries of those parishes may by agreement (b) combine for any period in carrying this Act into execution, and the expenses of carrying this Act into execution shall be defrayed by the parishes in such proportions as may be agreed on by the vestries.

(2) The vestry of each of the said parishes shall appoint not more than six commissioners in accordance with the provisions of this Act and the commissioners so appointed for the several parishes shall form one body of commissioners, and shall act accordingly in the execution of this Act (c).

(a) As to the combination of urban districts, see the Public Libraries (Amendment) Act, 1893, s. 4, post, p. 2552.

(b) The vestries were not corporate bodies, and the only evidence of an agreement between them would be the resolutions appearing on the minutes, but parish councils are corporate bodies and can enter into formal agreements.

(c) See now the L. G. A., 1894, s. 53 (2), as to the compulsory transfer of the powers and duties of any commissioners appointed under this sub-section.

Power to annex parish to adjoining district.

10. Where the voters in a parish adjoining or near any library district for which either this Act has been adopted, or the adoption thereof is contemplated, consent to such parish being annexed to the said district, such parish, subject to the consent of the library authority of the said district being also given, shall be annexed to and form part of that district for the purposes of this Act; the vestry of such parish shall appoint not more than six commissioners in accordance with the provisions of this Act, and the commissioners so from time to time appointed shall during their respective terms of office be deemed for all the purposes of this Act to be members of the library authority of the said district.

EXECUTION OF ACT.

Provision of libraries, museums, and schools of science and art.

11.—(1) The library authority of any library district for which this Act has been adopted may, subject to the provisions of this Act, provide all or any of the following institutions, namely, public libraries, public museums, schools for science, art galleries, and schools for art, and for that purpose may purchase and hire land, and erect, take down, rebuild, alter, repair, and extend buildings, and fit up, furnish, and supply the same with all requisite furniture, fittings, and conveniences (a).

(2) Where any of the institutions mentioned in this section has been established either before or after the passing of this Act by any library authority under this Act or the Acts hereby repealed, that authority may establish in connexion therewith any other of the said institutions without further proceedings being taken with respect to the adoption of this Act.

(3) No charge shall be made for admission to a library or museum provided under this Act for any library district, or, in the case of a lending library, for the use thereof by the inhabitants of the district; but the library authority, if they think fit, may grant the use of a lending library to persons not being inhabitants of the district, either gratuitously or for payment.

(a) It is now provided by the Act of 1919, 9 & 10 Geo. 5, c. 93, s. 8, post, p. 2780, that the powers of providing schools for science and schools of art conferred by this section shall cease, without prejudice, however, to the power of maintaining any such school established under this section before the passing of the Act of 1919. A free library, established by a library authority under this Act, is a building which is the property of a literary or scientific institution within r. VI. of 5 & 6 Vict. c. 35, and is, therefore, exempt from assessment to income tax under Sched. A. (Manchester Corporation v. Macadam, [1896] A. C. 500; 61 J. P. 100, practically overruling Andrews v. Bristol Corporation (1890), 61 L. J. Q. B. 715; 56 J. P. 615).

A museum provided under this Act in an urban district may be appropriated under 1 Edw. 7, c. 19, s. 7, post, p. 2618, for the purposes of the Museums and Gymnasiums Act, 1891, ante, p. 2528, thus relieving the library rate from the expense of maintaining it.

The council of a metropolitan borough in which this Act was in force in the course of demolishing some old premises, for the purpose of erecting a free library, made a hole in the wall of an adjoining owner's premises and did damage. In an action for damages brought by the adjoining owner it was held that the Public Authorities Protection Act did not apply (Walsh v. Southwark Borough Council (1908), 72 J. P. 71).

Provision as to acquisition and disposal of land.

12.—(1) For the purpose of the purchase of land under this Act by a library authority the Lands Clauses Acts (a), with the exception of the provisions relating to the purchase of land otherwise than by agreement, shall be incorporated with this Act.

(2) The library authority of any library district which is an urban district may with the sanction of the Local Government Board (b) appropriate for the purposes of this Act any land which is vested in that authority (c).

(3) A library authority may with the sanction of the Local Government Board (d) sell any land vested in them for the purposes of this Act, or exchange any such land for other land better adapted for those purposes, and the money arising from the sale or received by way of equality of exchange shall be applied in or towards the purchase of other land better adapted for the said purposes, or may be applied for any purpose for which capital money may be applied, and which is approved by the Local Government Board (d).

(4) A library authority may let a house or building, or any part thereof, or any land vested in them for the purposes of the Act, which is not at the time of such letting required for those purposes, and shall apply the rents and profits thereof for the purposes of this Act (e).

(a) 8 & 9 Vict. c. 18, ante, p. 2088; 23 & 24 Vict. c. 106, ante, p. 2260; 46 & 47 Vict. c. 15, ante, p. 2460. The exception of the provisions relating to the purchase of land otherwise than by agreement, leaves the authority without power to give compensation for injuriously affecting lands. See Ferrar v. London Commissioners of Sewers (1869), L. R. 4 Ex. 227. As to disregard of restrictive covenants, see Kirby v. Harrogate School Board, [1896] 1 Ch. 437; 60 J. P. 182.

(b) The powers of the L. G. B. were transferred to the Minister of Health, and are now vested in the Board of Education in addition to the Ministry of Health by his order of the 17th May, 1920, in App. II., post, p. 3451.

Note to Section 12.

(c) And see Att.-Gen. v. Corporation of Sunderland, ante, p. 389.

(d) The powers of the L. G. B. under this sub-section were transferred to the Board of Education by Order in Council of 17 May, 1920, in App. II., post, p. 3451.

(e) The powers granted by this sub-section are ancillary to and not in contradiction of the powers conferred by the preceding sub-section. The object of the sub-section is to confer on a library authority the right to let for temporary purposes land which is not at the time of the letting required for library purposes.

Where a local authority appropriated premises provided for library purposes for administrative purposes without the consent of the Board of Education an injunction was granted at the suit of the Attorney-General (A.-G. v. Westminster City Council, [1924] 2 Ch. 416; 88 J. P. 145).

Power to grant charity land for purposes of this Act.

13.—(1) Any person holding land for ecclesiastical, parochial, or charitable purposes may, subject as hereinafter provided, grant, or convey, by way of gift, sale, or exchange, for any of the purposes of this Act any quantity of such land, not exceeding in any one case one acre, in any manner vested in such person.

(2) Provided that—

(a) ecclesiastical property shall not be granted or conveyed for those purposes without the consent of the Ecclesiastical Commissioners; and

(b) parochial property shall not be so granted or conveyed save by the board of guardians of the poor law union comprising the parish to which the property belongs, or without the consent of the Local Government Board (a); and

(c) other charitable property shall not be so granted or conveyed without the consent of the Charity Commissioners; and

(d) the land taken in exchange or the money received for such sale shall be held on the same trusts as the land exchanged or sold; and

(3) Any land granted or conveyed to any library authority under this section may be held by that authority without any licence in mortmain.

(a) Words in italics repealed by Sched. XII., Pt. VII., L. G. A., 1929. As to the transfer of parish property vested in boards of guardians at April 1st, 1930, see L. G. A., 1929, s. 115, ante, p. 1973, and as to dealing with such property after that date, see Sched. VII., ibid. The consent of the M. of H. must still be obtained under the provision in the text.

Vesting of property in library authority.

14.—All land appropriated, purchased, or rented, and all other real and personal property presented to or purchased or acquired for any library, museum. art gallery, or school under this Act shall be vested in the library authority.

Management of libraries, &c. by library authority or committee.

15.—(1) The general management, regulation, and control (a) of every library, museum, art gallery, and school provided under this Act shall be vested in and exercised by the library authority, and that authority may provide therein books, newspapers, maps, and specimens of art and science, and cause the same to be bound and repaired when necessary.

(2) The library authority may also appoint salaried officers and servants, and dismiss them, and make regulations for the safety and use of every library, museum, gallery, and school under their control, and for the admission of the public thereto.

(3) Provided that a library authority being an urban authority may if they think fit appoint a committee and delegate to it all or any of their powers and duties under this section, and the said committee shall to the extent of such delegation be deemed to be the library authority. Persons appointed to be members of the committee need not be members of the urban authority (b).

(a) As to offences, see the Libraries Offences Act, 1898, post, p. 2568. As to making byelaws, see the Public Libraries Act, 1901, s. 3, post, p. 2617.

(b) No qualification is prescribed for these persons. Delegation does not relieve the urban authority from their liability for negligence on the part of those having control of the library (Bungary v. Wellingborough U. D. C. (1903), 67 J. P. N. 304).

Power to library authorities to make agreement for use of library.

16.—(1) (a).

(2) The library authority of any library district may with the consent of the voters (b) in the district and of the Charity Commissioners make the like agreement with the governing body of any library established or maintained out of the funds subject to the jurisdiction of the Charity Commissioners, and situate in or near the library district, and, in case of inability, objection, or failure on the part of the governing body to enter into such agreement, the Charity Commissioners may, if they think fit, become party to the agreement on behalf of the governing body.

(3) This section shall apply, with the necessary modifications, to a museum, school for science, art gallery, or school for art in like manner as to a library.

(a) This sub-section is repealed by 1 Edw. 7, c. 19, s. 14, and Sched., post, p. 2619, and s. 5 of that Act now makes other provision for library authorities to share the cost of a library by agreement.

Power to library authority to accept parliamentary grant.

17. Where a library authority accept a grant out of money provided by Parliament from the Department of Science and Art towards the purchase of the site, or the erection, enlargement, or repair, of any school for science and art, or school for science, or school for art, or of the residence of a teacher in any such school, or towards the furnishing of any such school, that authority may accept the grant upon the conditions prescribed by the Department of Science and Art, and may execute any instruments required by that Department for carrying into effect those conditions, and upon payment of the grant shall be bound by such conditions and instruments, and have power and be bound to fulfil and observe the same (a).

FINANCIAL PROVISIONS.

Expenses of library authority, how defrayed.

18.—(1) The expenses incurred (a) in a library district in and incidental to the execution of this Act, including all expenses in connexion with ascertaining the opinion of the voters in the district, may be defrayed,—

(a) where the library district is a municipal borough, out of the borough fund or borough rate, or a separate rate to be made, assessed, and levied in like manner as the borough rate (b); and

(b) where the library district is an urban district other than a borough, out of the rate applicable to the general expenses incurred in the execution of the Public Health Acts (c), or a separate rate to be made, assessed, and levied in like manner as the rate so applicable (d);

. . . . . .

(3) Where a parish or a part of a parish is annexed in pursuance of this Act to any library district, so much of the said expenses as is chargeable to such parish or part shall be defrayed in like manner as if such parish or part were a separate library district (e).

Note to Section 18.

(a) The L. G. B. once stated that in their view if a library authority levy during one year the full rate which they are authorised to levy for library purposes, but do not expend the whole amount, they may, under the Public Libraries Act, 1892, carry forward the balance to the next year's library account and spend it in that year for library purposes, together with the sum which they can raise by another full rate. The Board did not consider, however, that a district council could properly require money to be paid to them over and above their actual expenses with the express object of accumulating it for purposes to be carried out at some future time.

(c) This will be the general rate. See the P. H. A., 1875, s. 207, ante, p. 495, and the R. and V. Act, 1925, ante, p. 1633.

(d) The following sub-paragraph was repealed by the R. and V. Act, 1925, s. 69, and Sched. VIII., from April 1st, 1927 (the Rating and Valuation (Repeals, etc.) Order, 1927). Section 2 (6) of the R. and V. Act, 1925, ante, p. 1641, now provides that expenses incurred under the Public Libraries Acts by the library authority (not being a county council) a of library district being a parish shall be levied in the library district by the rating authority together with and as an additional item of the general rate. As to the expenses of the county council, see s. 4 (2) of the Act of 1919, post, p. 2779.

(e) The remainder of this sub-section is repealed by 1 Edw. 7, c. 19, s. 14, and Sched., post, p. 2619.

Borrowing by library authority.

19.—(1) Every library authority, with the sanction of the Local Government Board (a), and in the case of a library authority being commissioners appointed for a parish, with the sanction also of the vestry (b) of such parish, may borrow money for the purposes of this Act on the security of any fund or rate applicable for those purposes.

38 & 39 Vict. c. 55.

(2) Sections two hundred and thirty-three, two hundred and thirty-four, and two hundred and thirty-six to two hundred and thirty-nine, both inclusive, of the Public Health Act, 1875 (c), relating to borrowing by a local authority shall apply, with the necessary modifications, to all money borrowed by any library authority for the purposes of this Act, as if the library authority were an urban authority, and as if references to this Act were substituted in those sections and in the forms therein mentioned for references to the Public Health Act, 1875.

38 & 39 Vict. c. 89.

(3) The Public Works Loan Commissioners may in manner provided by the Public Works Loans Act, 1875 (d), lend any money which may be borrowed by a library authority for the purposes of this Act.

(a) Now the M. of H.

(b) See s. 6 and note (a) thereto, ante, p. 2543, as to substituting the consent of the parish meeting. By s. 12 (1) (b) of the L. G. A., 1894, a parish council may borrow for the purposes of this Act, but, by sub-s. (3) of the same section, not otherwise than in accordance with that Act, and the charge for such purpose shall ultimately be on the rate applicable to the purposes of this Act. As to borrowing by a County Council, see the Act of 1919, 9 & 10 Geo. 5, c. 93, s. 1 (3), post, p. 2777.

Accounts and audit.

20.—(1) Separate accounts shall be kept of the receipts and expenditure under this Act of every library authority and their officers, and those accounts shall be audited in like manner and with the like incidents and consequences, in the case of a library authority being an urban authority, and of their officers, as the accounts of the receipts and expenditure of that authority and their officers under the Public Health Acts (a).

(2) The accounts of the receipts and expenditure of a library authority being commissioners appointed under this Act, and of their officers, shall be audited yearly by a district auditor in like manner and with the like incidents and consequences as in the case of an audit under the Acts relating to the relief of the poor, and those commissioners shall be a local authority within the meaning of the District Auditors Act, 1879 (b).

42 & 43 Vict. c. 6.

(3) The accounts of the receipts and expenditure under this Act of any library authority other than the council of a municipal borough shall be open at all reasonable times to the inspection, free of charge, of any ratepayer in the library district, and any such ratepayer may without charge make copies of and extracts from those accounts; and if any library authority or any person being a member thereof or employed by them and having the custody of the accounts fails to allow the accounts to be inspected, or copies or extracts to be made, as required by this section, such authority or person shall for each offence be liable on summary conviction in manner provided by the Summary Jurisdiction Acts to a fine not exceeding five pounds.

(a) See the P. H. A., 1875, ss. 246, 247, ante, pp. 539, 540, and the Audit (Local Authorities) Act, 1927, ante, p. 1818.

(b) The form of financial statement to be submitted to the district auditor by the commissioners was prescribed by Order of the L. G. B., dated November 26th, 1892 (Stat. R. & O., p. 243). See the District Auditors Act, 1879, ante, p. 2404.

PROVISIONS AFFECTING LONDON ONLY.

Application of Act to city of London.

21.—(1) The city of London shall be a library district, and on this Act being adopted for the city, the common council shall be the library authority.

(2) The opinion of the voters in the city of London with respect to any question under this Act shall be ascertained by the mayor on the requisition of the common council.

(3) The expenses incurred in the city of London in and incidental to the execution of this Act, including all expenses in connexion with ascertaining the opinion of the voters, shall be defrayed out of the consolidated rate levied by the commissioners of sewers, or a separate rate to be made, assessed, and levied by those commissioners in like manner as the consolidated rate.

(4) So much of this Act as limits the rate or addition to a rate to be levied in any library district for any one financial year to one penny in the pound shall not extend to the city of London (a).

(a) This sub-section was repealed by the Act of 1919, 9 & 10 Geo. 5, c. 93.

22. [Power for district in London to adopt Act] (a).

(a) This section was repealed by the L. G. A., 1899, s. 35 (2), and Third Schedule. See now ss. 4 and 34 of that Act as to the adoption of this Act in a metropolitan borough

Power to vestry or district board in London to appropriate land for library, etc.

23. The vestry or district board constituted under the Metropolis Management Act, 1855, for any parish mentioned in Schedule A. or district mentioned in Schedule B. to that Act, as amended by any subsequent Acts, may, if this Act is in force in such parish or district, appropriate with the sanction of the Local Government Board (a) for the purposes of this Act any land which is vested in such vestry or board.

(a) Now the M. of H.

SUPPLEMENTAL PROVISIONS.

Adjustment of interest on termination of agreement.

24. Any agreement under this Act between two or more vestries or library authorities, or between a library authority and any other body, may provide that on the termination of the agreement an adjustment shall be made of the interests of the several parties thereto in any property to the provision of which they have contributed, and as to the mode in which the adjustment shall be arrived at, and in the event of any dispute the adjustment shall on the application of any of the parties be made by an arbitrator appointed by the Local Government Board (a).

(a) Now the M. of H.

Saving for Oxford.

25. Nothing in this Act shall interfere with the operation of the Act of the session of the twenty-eighth and twenty-ninth years of the reign of her present Majesty, chapter one hundred and eight, so far as it relates to the collection of a rate for a public library in Oxford.

Constitution and proceedings of vestry for purposes of Act.

26. For the purposes of this Act the vestry of a parish shall be any body of persons acting by virtue of any Act of Parliament as or instead of a vestry, and, where there is no such body, shall be the inhabitants of the parish in vestry assembled, but in the latter case the persons registered as county electors in respect of the occupation of property situate in the parish, and no other persons, shall be members of the vestry.

Definitions.

27. In this Act, unless the context otherwise requires,—

The expression "urban district" means a municipal borough, Improvement Act district, or local government district; and "urban authority" means, as regards each such district, the council improvement commissioners, or local board:

The expression "financial year" means the period of twelve months for which the accounts of a library authority are made up (a):

The expression "overseers" includes any persons authorised and required to make and levy poor rates in a parish, and acting instead of overseers (b):

The expression "common council" means in relation to the city of London the mayor, commonalty, and citizens, acting by the mayor, aldermen, and commons in common council assembled.

(a) The definition of a voter here following was repealed by the Public Libraries Act, 1901, s. 14, and Sched., post, p. 2619, and is now supplied by s. 9 of that Act.

(b) Overseers were abolished by the R. and V. Act, 1925, s. 62, ante, p. 1741. All rates are now levied by the rating authority.

Repeal.

28.—(1) (a) The Acts mentioned in the Second Schedule to this Act shall be repealed as from the commencement of this Act, save so far as any of them extend beyond England and Wales; and where those Acts have been adopted for any library district, that adoption shall be deemed to have been an adoption of this Act, and this Act shall apply accordingly.

(2) (a) For the purpose of this section the said Acts shall be deemed to have been adopted for any district in which they were in force immediately before the commencement of this Act.

Saving as any local Act.

29. Nothing in this Act shall be deemed to limit, or to reduce or alter the limit of any rate which any library authority is authorised to levy under or by virtue of any local Act.

30. [Commencement of Act, October 1, 1892.] (a)

Schedule.

SCHEDULES.

FIRST SCHEDULE (a).

Section 3.

(a) This schedule ("Regulations for ascertaining the opinion of the voters in a library district") was repealed, so far as it applied to rural parishes, by the L. G. A., 1894, s. 89. So far as it applied to urban parishes, it became practically obsolete in 1893, for the Public Libraries (Amendment) Act, 1893, s. 2, post, p. 2552, substituted the consent of the urban authority for the consent of the voters. It remained, however, in force in the Metropolis until it was finally repealed by the Public Libraries Act, 1901, post, p. 2616. And see now the Act of 1919, 9 & 10 Geo. 5, c. 93, s. 7, post, p. 2780.

SECOND SCHEDULE (a).

Section 28.

(a) This Schedule of Acts repealed (itself repealed by the S. L. R. A., 1908) included the following Public Libraries Acts and Amendment Acts,—1855, 1866, 1871, 1884, 1887, 1889, and 1890.

2. Section ten of the Public Works Loans Act, 1875 (b), and section two of the Public Works Loans Act, 1879 (c) (which sections fix the minimum rate of interest on loans), shall, in their application to loans granted after the passing of this Act, have effect as if four per cent. were therein substituted for five per cent.

Reduction of minimum rate of interest on loans.
38 & 39 Vict. c. 89.
42 & 43 Vict. c. 77.

An Act to amend the Police Acts. [9th June, 1893.]

* * * * * *

2.—(1) The council of a borough may by resolution delegate to the watch committee its powers under sections thirty-two and thirty-three of the Town Police Clauses Act, 1847 (a), or under any similar enactments in any local Act; and where such resolution has been passed, the watch committee may employ constables wholly or partially as firemen:

Borough police may be employed as fire brigade.
10 & 11 Vict. c. 89.

Provided that no constable, who at the passing of this Act is not employed to act as fireman, shall be so employed without his consent.

Section 2.

(2) The pay of constables exclusively so employed, and the allowances of constables partially so employed, shall be defrayed from the fund or rate which is applicable to the purposes of the fire brigade or fire police (b).

(a) See these sections, ante, pp. 2237, 2238.

(b) Ordinarily the general rate fund or general rate. See s. 207 of the P. H. A., 1875, ante, p. 495, and the R. and V. Act, 1925, ante, p. 1633. Section 2 (3) and ss. 3 to 8 inclusive of this Act were repealed by 11 & 12 Geo. 5, c. 31 (the Police Pensions Act, 1921). For the provisions now in force with reference to fire brigades and fire police, see ss. 32, 33 of that Act. See also the Fire Brigades (Pensions) Act, 1925, post, p. 3033.

* * * * * *

Short title.

9. This Act may be cited as "The Police Act, 1893"; and the Police Acts, 1839 to 1890, and this Act may be cited together as the Police Acts, 1839 to 1893.

THE PUBLIC LIBRARIES (AMENDMENT) ACT, 1893.

(56 & 57 VICT. c. 11) (a).

An Act to amend the Public Libraries Act, 1892. [9th June, 1893.]

Short title. 55 & 56 Vict. c. 53.

1. This Act may be cited as "The Public Libraries (Amendment) Act, 1893," and shall be construed as one with the Public Libraries Act, 1892 (in this Act referred to as the principal Act), and these two Acts may be together cited as the Public Libraries Acts, 1892 and 1893.

Modification as to adoption, etc., in urban districts.

2.—(1) Where a library district is an urban district—

(i) The principal Act may, subject to the conditions contained in the second section of that Act be adopted, and the limitation of the maximum rate to be levied for the purposes of that Act may within the limits fixed by that Act be fixed, raised, or removed (a), by a resolution of the urban authority under this Act:

(ii) The consent of the urban authority given by a resolution of that authority under this Act shall be substituted in an urban district for the consent of the voters in any case when the consent of the voters is required under the principal Act.

(2) Section three of the principal Act is hereby repealed, so far as it relates to an urban district.

(a) The words in italics were repealed by 9 & 10 Geo. 5, c. 93, post, p. 2777.

3. (a).

(a) Section 3, which contained provisions for a resolution of an urban authority for the adoption, etc., of the principal Act, was repealed by 9 & 10 Geo. 5, c. 93, s. 7, post, p. 2780. A simple resolution is alone required in an urban district.

Power to two or more library authorities to combine.

4.—(1) Where the principal Act is adopted for two or more neighbouring urban districts, the library authorities of those districts may by agreement combine (a) for any period for carrying the Act into execution; and the expenses of carrying the Act into execution shall be defrayed by such authorities in such proportions as may be agreed on by them.

(2) For the purposes of the Act a joint committee may be formed, the members whereof shall be appointed by the several combining authorities in such proportions as may be agreed on, but need not be members of any of the combining authorities. Any such committee shall have such of the powers of a library authority under the principal Act, except the power of borrowing money (b), as the combining authorities may agree to confer upon them.

(3) Where any of the combining authorities are improvement commissioners or a local board the provisions of the principal Act with respect to accounts and audit shall apply to such committee as if they were a local board who were a library authority under the Act (c).

THE BARBED WIRE ACT, 1893.

(56 & 57 VICT. c. 32) (a).

An Act to prevent the use of Barbed Wire for Fences in Roads, Streets, Lanes, and other Thoroughfares (b). [27th July, 1893.]

Short title.

1. This Act may be cited for all purposes as "The Barbed Wire Act, 1893."

(a) This Act concerns urban district councils more in their capacity as highway authorities than sanitary authorities.

A landowner erected upon his own land by the side of a public road in Scotland a fence of barbed wire, and the road trustees brought an action to have it removed on the ground that it was dangerous to persons and cattle lawfully using the road. The fence was placed about three feet from the boundary line between the road and the landowner's property, and stood entirely upon his land :—Held, that the action lay, but upon the defender undertaking so to alter and protect the fence as to remove the danger, the action was dismissed (Elgin Road Trustees v. Innes (1886), 14 Ct. Sess. Cas. (4th ser.) 48). The occupier of certain land adjoining a public footpath fenced it off from the footpath by barbed wire set back nine feet from the path :—Held, that he was liable in damages to a man who tore his clothes on the barbs whilst making way for other persons to pass him on the footpath (Bird v. Frost (1892), 56 J. P. 164). Plaintiff and defendant were adjoining landowners, and defendant was bound to maintain a boundary fence between their lands for their mutual benefit. Defendant caused a gap in the fence to be made up with barbed wire which was placed three feet within his own boundary. Plaintiff afterwards put a mare into his field, and she injured herself on the wire :—Held, that the wire was so placed as to be dangerous to cattle lawfully put by the plaintiff into his field, and that defendant was liable in damages for the injury to the mare (Bennett v. Blackmore (1890), 26 L. J. Newsp. 228 ; 90 L. T. Journ. 395 (Crediton County Court)). Defendants erected a fence of barbed wire between their railway line and plaintiff's farm. Sheep grazing on plaintiff's farm were injured by coming in contact with the wire :—Held, that the defendants were liable for the damage occasioned to the sheep (M'Quillan v. Crommelin Iron Ore Co. (1892), 26 Ir. L. T. Rep. 15). Lands belonging to plaintiff and defendant, who were adjoining owners, were separated by an old quickset fence. This hedge the defendant dug up and replaced by a new one of young quicks, which he protected by a barbed wire fence of a very severe character, set up with the plaintiff's acquiescence on plaintiff's land. Plaintiff then turned out a mare to graze on his land, and she was injured :—Held, that the defendant was liable (Shipton v. Lucas (1892), 92 L. T. Jo. 297). Defendant put up a barbed wire fence separating his land from a public footpath, and plaintiff was walking along the footpath when a sudden gust of wind blew his coat against the fence and it was torn. No negligence or want of skill or care in the erection of the fence was imputed to the defendant, but the county court judge held that the fence as constructed and placed was dangerous to the public using the footpath and a nuisance. This decision was affirmed on appeal to the High Court (Stewart v. Wright (1893), 57 J. P. 137 ; affirmed 9 T. L. R. 480). And in an Irish case of Collen v. Ellis (1893), 32 L. R. Ir. 491, it was held that a barbed wire fence by the side of a highway may be an obstruction to the free passage thereof.

A valuable collection and review of the American cases on the subject will be found in 95 L. T. Jo. 419.

Note to Section 1.

Upon similar principles a rotten fence abutting a highway is a nuisance, and if it be the cause of any accident, the owner of the fence is liable (Harrold v. Watney, [1898] 2 Q. B. 320). But a defendant is not liable in respect of a nuisance created on his premises by trespassers (Barker v. Herbert, [1911] 2 K. B. 633; 75 J. P. 481), if he does not, and cannot reasonably be expected to know of its existence. This case was distinguished in Horridge v. Makinson (1915), 84 L. J. K. B. 1294. And see Robbins v. Jones, ante, p. 2210.

(b) This title must not be taken to limit the meaning of the term "highway" as used in the Act. A cul-de-sac may be a highway (Bateman v. Bluck (1853), 18 Q. B. 870; Young v. Cuthbertson (1854), 1 Macq. H. L. Cas. 455).

Interpretation.

2. In this Act—

The expression "barbed wire" means any wire with spikes or jagged projections; and the expression "nuisance to a highway" as applied to barbed wire, means barbed wire which may probably be injurious to persons or animals lawfully using such highway:

In England and Wales the expression "local authority" means any county council, any urban sanitary authority, any sanitary authority in London, any highway board, and any other local authorities existing, or that may be hereafter created by Parliament, having control over highways (a).

. . . . . .

(a) Italicised words repealed by S. L. R. A., 1908. The remainder of this section only applies to Scotland and Ireland. The Act no longer applies to rural district councils whose highway functions ceased on their transference to county councils by the L. G. A., 1929, s. 30, ante, p. 1886.

Removal of barbed wire where nuisance to highway.

3.—(1) Where there is on any land adjoining a highway within the county or district of a local authority a fence made with barbed wire, or in or on which barbed wire has been placed, and such barbed wire is a nuisance to such highway, it shall be lawful for such local authority to serve (a) notice in writing upon the occupier of such land requiring him within a time therein stated (not to be less than one month nor more than six months after the date of the notice) to abate such nuisance.

(2) If on the expiration of the time stated in the notice the occupier shall have failed to comply therewith, it shall be lawful for the local authority to apply to a court of summary jurisdiction (b), and such court, if satisfied that the said barbed wire is a nuisance to such highway, may by summary order (c) direct the occupier to abate such nuisance; and on his failure to comply with such order within a reasonable time the local authority may do whatever may be necessary in execution of the order, and recover in a summary manner the expenses incurred in connexion therewith (d).

(a) As to service of notices, see s. 26 of the Highway Act, 1864. And upon the whole text compare s. 94 of the P. H. A., 1875, ante, p. 187.

(b) As defined by s. 13 (11) of the Interpretation Act, 1889.

(c) Without appeal, except by case stated under s. 33 of the S. J. A., 1879.

(d) The next sub-section relates only to Ireland.

Proceedings where local authority is occupier of the land.

4. Where the local authority are the occupiers of the land, proceedings under this Act may be taken by any ratepayer within the district of the local authority, and a notice to the local authority to abate the nuisance shall be deemed to be properly served if it is served upon the clerk of the local authority, and any ratepayer taking proceedings may do all acts and things which a local authority is empowered to do.

Expenses of local authority.

5. Any expenses incurred by a local authority in the execution of this Act shall be defrayed in like manner as the expenses of the local authority incurred in respect of any highways (a).

(a) In the case of an urban authority out of the general rate, see the note to s. 216 of the P. H. A., 1875, ante, p. 507.

THE LAW OF COMMONS AMENDMENT ACT, 1893.

(56 & 57 VICT. C. 57.)

An Act to amend the Law relating to Commons (a). [22nd September, 1893.]

1. This Act may be cited for all purposes as the "Law of Commons Amendment Act, 1893." Short title of Act.

(a) See the Commons Act, 1876, ante, p. 2375. Reference may also be made to the Law of Property Act, 1925, ss. 193 and 194, post, pp. 2880, 2881.

2. An inclosure or approvement of any part of a common purporting to be made under the Statute of Merton (a) and the Statute of Westminster the Second (b), or either of such statutes, shall not be valid unless it is made with the consent of the Board of Agriculture (c). Consent of Board of Agriculture essential to inclosure.

(c) Now Minister of Agriculture and Fisheries.

3. In giving or withholding their consent under this Act, the Board (a) shall have regard to the same considerations, and shall, if necessary, hold the same inquiries as are directed by the Commons Act, 1876 (b), to be taken into consideration, and held by the Board before forming an opinion whether an application under the Inclosure Acts shall be acceded to or not. Conditions of consent.

(b) 39 & 40 Vict. c. 56, ante, p. 2375.

4. Nothing in this Act shall preclude his Majesty, his heirs and successors, or any person whatsoever whose rights or interests are affected by any inclosure or approvement, from taking any proceedings by way of information, action, or otherwise, for the abatement of such inclosure or approvement, and the protection of such rights and interests. Saving of existing rights.

THE PUBLIC WORKS LOANS ACT, 1894.

(57 & 58 VICT. C. 11) (a).

An Act to grant Money for the purpose of certain Local Loans, and for other purposes relating to Local Loans. [18th June, 1894.]

* * * * * *

3. In the First Schedule to the Public Works Loans Act, 1875 (specifying the works for the purpose of which the Public Works Loan Commissioners may lend money), the expression "main drainage" shall be construed as including works or underground drainage. Explanation of Schedule. 38 & 39 Vict. c. 89.

(a) This Act amends the Public Works Loans Act, 1875, Schedule I., ante, p. 2373.

* * * * * *

5. This Act may be cited as "The Public Works Loans Act, 1894." Short title.

THE MERCHANT SHIPPING ACT, 1894.

(57 & 58 VICT. c. 60.)

An Act to consolidate Enactments relating to Merchant Shipping.

[25th August, 1894.]

* * * * * *

PART II.

MASTERS AND SEAMEN.

* * * * * *

Protection of seamen from Imposition.

Seamen's lodging-houses (a).

214.—(1) A local authority hereinafter mentioned (b) whose district (b) includes a seaport may, with the approval of the Board of Trade, make byelaws relating to seamen's lodging-houses in their district, and those byelaws shall be binding upon all persons keeping houses in which seamen (c) are lodged and upon the owners thereof and persons employed therein.

(2) The byelaws shall amongst other things provide for the licensing, inspection, and sanitary conditions of seamen's lodging-houses, for the publication of the fact of a house being licensed, for the due execution of the byelaws, for preventing the obstruction of persons engaged in securing that execution, for the preventing of persons not duly licensed holding themselves out as keeping or purporting to keep licensed houses, and for the exclusion from licensed houses of persons of improper character, and shall impose sufficient fines not exceeding fifty pounds for the breach of any byelaw (d).

(3) The byelaws shall come into force from a date therein named, and shall be published in the London Gazette (e) and in one newspaper at the least circulating in the district, and designated by the Board of Trade.

(4) If the local authority do not within a time in each case named by the Board of Trade make, revoke, or alter, any byelaws under this section, the Board of Trade may do so (f).

(5) Whenever her Majesty in Council orders (g) that in any district or any part thereof none but persons duly licensed in pursuance of byelaws under this section shall keep seamen's lodging-houses or let lodgings to seamen from a date therein named, a person acting in contravention of that order shall for each offence be liable to a fine not exceeding one hundred pounds (h).

(6) A local authority may defray all expenses incurred in the execution of this section out of any funds at their disposal as sanitary authority (i), and fines recovered for a contravention of this section or of any byelaw under this section shall be paid to such authority and added to those funds.

(7) In this section the expression "local authority" means in the administrative county of London the county council, and elsewhere in England the local authority under the Public Health Acts (k) . . . and the expression "district" means the area under the authority of such local authority.

(a) This section takes the place of s. 48 of the Merchant Shipping (Fishing Boats) Act, 1883, now repealed by this Act.

(c) Defined by s. 742, post, p. 2561.

(d) By s. 680 (2) of this Act, any offence committed or fine recoverable under a byelaw made in pursuance of this Act may be prosecuted or recovered in the same manner as an offence or fine under this Act. By s. 680 (1) (b) an offence under this Act, punishable by a fine not exceeding £100, shall be prosecuted summarily in manner provided by the Summary Jurisdiction Acts. Section 682 gives an appeal to quarter sessions in case the fine inflicted exceeds five pounds; s. 683 limits the time for commencing proceedings to within six months after the commission of the offence; s. 684 gives jurisdiction not only in the place where the offence was actually committed, but also in any place where the offender may happen to be. Sub-section (6) of the present section deals with the application of fines recovered.

(f) This power has not yet been exercised, nor has there been any exercise of the corresponding power under the repealed statute.

(g) No such Order in Council has yet been made, either under the present Act, or under the corresponding provision in the repealed statute.

Section 738 of this Act gives power to revoke, alter, or add to any Order in Council, when made, and provides for the publication of Orders in Council in the London Gazette, for laying them before Parliament, and for their taking effect.

(h) As to recovery of such fine, see ss. 680—684 of the Act, and as to its application, when recovered, see ss. 699, 716.

(i) As to these funds, in the case of an urban sanitary authority, see s. 207 of the P. H. A., 1875, ante, p. 495. In a rural district it is not clear whether it is intended that the expenses shall be general or special, i.e., chargeable only to the contributory place comprising the town. See s. 229 of the same Act, ante, p. 514.

(k) That is, presumably, under the P. H. A., 1875, and amending Acts. See the Short Titles Act, 1896.

Words relating to Scotland and Ireland only are here omitted.

* * * * * *

PART III.

PASSENGER AND EMIGRANT SHIPS.

* * * * * *

3. EMIGRANT SHIPS.

Passage Brokers (a).

341.—(1) Any person who sells or lets or agrees to sell or let, or is anywise concerned in the sale or letting of steerage passages (b) in any ship proceeding from the British Islands to any place out of Europe not within the Mediterranean Sea shall for the purposes of this Part of this Act be a passage broker. Passage broker.

(2) The acts and defaults of any person acting under the authority, or as an agent, of a passage broker, shall for the purposes of this Act, be deemed to be also the acts and defaults of the passage broker.

(a) The sections under this heading take the place of ss. 66—69, inclusive, and 81 of the Passengers Act, 1855, now repealed by this Act.

By s. 23 of the Merchant Shipping Act, 1906, the provisions of Part III. of the principal Act (i.e., this Act) relating to passage brokers shall apply to any person who at any place in the British Isles sells or lets or agrees to sell or let or is anywise concerned in the sale or letting of steerage passages from any place in Europe not within the Mediterranean Sea.

(b) Defined by s. 268. The selling or letting intended by this section is a selling or letting in a named ship of a passage to commence at a definite time for a specified voyage, and therefore that a person who agrees to procure a passage for another, no ship or time being specified, has not acted as a passage broker (Morris v. Howden, [1897] 1 Q. B. 378; 61 J. P. 246).

342.—(1) A person shall not act directly or indirectly as a passage broker unless he— Passage brokers to enter into bond and obtain licence.

(a) has entered, with two good and sufficient sureties approved by the emigration officer nearest to his place of business, into a joint and several bond (a) to the Crown, in the sum of one thousand pounds; and

(b) holds a licence for the time being in force to act as passage broker.

(2) The bond shall be renewed on each occasion of obtaining a licence, and shall not be liable to stamp duty; it shall be executed in duplicate, and one part shall be deposited at the office of the Board of Trade, and the other part with the said emigration officer.

(3) The emigration officer may, in lieu of two securities, accept the bond of any guarantee society approved by the Treasury.

Section 342.

(4) There shall be exempted from this section—

(a) the Board of Trade, and any person contracting with them or acting under their authority; and

(b) any passage broker's agent duly appointed under this Act (b).

(5) If any person fails (c) to comply with any requirement of this section, he shall for each offence be liable to a fine not exceeding fifty pounds (d).

(a) The form of bond is prescribed by s. 360 and Schedule XIV., post, pp. 2560, 2562.

(b) A passage broker's agent, in order to be duly appointed under this Act, must, under s. 345, hold an appointment in writing from the passage broker, in the form required by the Act, and countersigned by the emigration officer at the port nearest to the place of business of the passage broker.

(c) Includes refusal; see s. 742, post, p. 2561.

Granting of licences to passage brokers.

343.—(1) Application for a licence to act as passage broker shall be made to the licensing authority for the place in which the applicant has his place of business.

(2) The licensing authority, upon the applicant proving to their satisfaction that he—

(a) has entered into and deposited one part of such bond as is required by this Act; and

(b) has given to the Board of Trade at least fourteen days' clear notice (a) of his intention to apply for a licence, may grant the licence (a), and shall forthwith send to the Board of Trade notice (a) of such grant.

(3) The licensing authority shall be—

(a) in the administrative county of London the justices of the peace at petty sessions;

(b) elsewhere in England, the council of a county borough or county district (b); . . .

(a) A form is prescribed by s. 360 and Schedule XIV, post, pp. 2560, 2562.

(b) Under the repealed statutes it was the justices in petty sessions who were the licensing authority, but their powers were transferred to district councils by ss. 27 and 32 of the L. G. A., 1894, ante, pp. 992, 994.

The remainder of this section relates to Scotland and Ireland only, and is, therefore, omitted.

Forfeiture of licence.

344.—(1) A passage broker's licence shall, unless forfeited, remain in force until the thirty-first day of December in the year in which it is granted, and for thirty-one days afterwards.

(2) Any Court (a), when convicting a passage broker of an offence under this Part of this Act or of any breach or non-performance of the requirements thereof, may order that his licence be forfeited and the same shall be forfeited accordingly.

(3) The Court shall forthwith send to the Board of Trade a notice of any such order.

(a) Defined by s. 742, post, p. 2561.

345. [Passage broker's agents.]

346. [List of agents and runners to be exhibited by brokers, and sent to emigration officers.]

Emigrant Runners (a).

Emigrant runner.

(a) The sections under this heading take the place of ss. 75—79, inclusive, and 80 of the Passengers Act, 1855, now repealed by this Act.

(b) Defined by s. 742, post, p. 2561.

(c) This word is not defined by the Act, and so probably would include any person proposing to take a steerage passage on board an emigrant ship as defined by s. 268.

Emigrant runner's licence.

348.—(1) The licensing authority (a) for passage brokers for the place in which a person wishes to act as an emigrant runner, and to carry on his business, may, upon his application and on the recommendation in writing of an emigration officer, or of the chief constable or other head officer of police in such place (but not otherwise), grant, if they think fit, to the applicant a licence to act as emigrant runner.

(2) The emigrant runner shall, within forty-eight hours after his licence is granted, lodge the same with the nearest emigration officer, and that officer shall—

(a) register the name and abode of the emigrant runner in a book to be kept for the purpose, and number each name in arithmetical order; and

(b) upon receipt of a fee, not exceeding seven shillings, supply to the emigrant runner a badge of such form and description as the Board of Trade approve, but in case of a renewed licence, the officer need only note the renewal and its date in his registry book against the original entry of the emigrant runner's name.

(3) An emigrant runner's licence shall remain in force until the thirty-first day of December in the year in which it is granted, unless sooner revoked by any justice for any offence against this Act or for any other misconduct committed by the holder of such licence, or unless forfeited under the provisions hereinafter contained (b).

(4) When an emigrant runner changes his abode, the emigration officer shall register the change in his registry book.

349. [Renewal of badge.]

Penalties on persons acting without licence or badge, using badge not lawfully issued, or employing unlicensed person.

350.—(1) A person shall not—

(a) act as an emigrant runner without being duly licensed and registered; or

(b) retain or use any emigrant runner's badge not issued to him in manner by this Act required; or

(c) counterfeit or forge any emigrant runner's badge; or

(d) employ as an emigrant runner any person not duly licensed and registered.

(2) If any person acts in contravention of this section, he shall for each offence be liable to a fine not exceeding five pounds (a).

(a) This fine cannot be sued for and recovered by the licensing authority, but only by the persons authorised under s. 356, post, p. 2560.

351. [Penalties on emigrant runners for certain acts of misconduct.]

352. [Emigrant runner's commission and fees.]

* * * * * *

Legal Proceedings (a).

Recovery of fines.

356. All fines and forfeitures under the provisions of this Part of the Act (other than the provisions relating to passenger steamers only) shall be sued for by the following officers; that is to say,

(a) Any emigration officer;
(b) Any chief officer of customs; and also
(c) In the British Islands, any person authorised by the Board of Trade and any officer of customs authorised by the Commissioners of Customs.

(a) The following section takes the place of s. 84 of the Passengers Act, 1855, now repealed by this Act, and is here inserted merely for the purpose of showing that the licensing authority cannot take proceedings for the recovery of fines.

Application of Part III. as regards Emigrant Ships (a).

Application to certain voyages.

364. The provisions of this Part of this Act respecting emigrant ships shall apply to all voyages from the British Islands to any port out of Europe and not within the Mediterranean Sea.

(a) The following sections are here inserted for the purpose of explaining the limits of application of the foregoing sections as to passage brokers and emigrant runners.

Limited application of Part III. of Act to colonial voyages.

365.—(1) This Part of this Act, so far as the same is applicable, shall apply to every ship carrying steerage passengers on a colonial voyage as defined (a) by this Part of this Act, provided that the enactments thereof relating to—

. . . . . .

(d) passage brokers;
(e) emigrant runners;

. . . . . .

shall not apply.

(a) By s. 270, for the purposes of this Part of this Act, a colonial voyage means a voyage from any port in a British possession, other than British India and Hong Kong, to any port whatever, where the distance between such ports exceeds 400 miles, or the duration of the voyage, as determined under this Part of this Act, exceeds three days.

Transmission and Publication of Documents.

Publication in London Gazette.
56 & 57 Vict. c. 66.

740. Where a document is required by this Act to be published in the London Gazette (a), it shall be sufficient if notice thereof is published in accordance with the Rules Publication Act, 1893 (b).

(a) See s. 214 (3), ante, p. 2556, as to publication of byelaws.

(b) By s. 3 (3) of that Act, where any statutory rules are required by any Act to be published or notified in the London Gazette a notice in the Gazette of the rules having been made, and of the place where copies of them can be purchased, shall be sufficient compliance with the said requirement.

SCHEDULES.

FOURTEENTH SCHEDULE.

FORMS UNDER PART III. (PASSENGER AND EMIGRANT SHIPS.)

FORM IV.

FORM OF PASSAGE BROKER'S BOND.

[S. 342.] KNOW all men by these presents, that we, A. B. [insert names and surnames in full, with occupation and address of each of the parties], of , C. D., of, etc., and E. F., of, etc., are held and firmly bound unto our Sovereign , by the grace of God of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland , defender of the faith, in the sum of one thousand pounds of good and lawful money of Great Britain, to be paid to our said Sovereign, her [his] heirs and successors; to which payment well and truly to be made we bind ourselves and every of us, jointly and severally, and our heirs, executors, and administrators, and every of them, firmly by these presents. Sealed with our seals. Dated this day of , one thousand eight hundred and .

Whereas by Part III. of the Merchant Shipping Act, 1894, it is amongst other things enacted, that a person shall not, save as therein excepted, directly or indirectly act as a passage broker in respect of steerage passages from the British Islands to any port out of Europe, and not within the Mediterranean Sea, unless such person has entered, with two good and sufficient sureties, to be approved by the emigration officer nearest to his place of business, into a joint and several bond to the Crown, in the sum of one thousand pounds; and whereas the said C. D. and E. F. have been duly approved by the proper emigration officer as sureties for the said A. B.:

Now the condition of this obligation is such, that if the above bounden A. B., and every agent whom he may employ in his business of a passage broker, shall well and truly observe and comply with all the requirements of the said Act, so far as the same relate to passage brokers, and further shall well and truly pay all fines and forfeitures, and also all sums of money, by way of subsistence money, or of return of passage money or compensation, to any steerage passenger, or on his account, together with all costs which the above bounden A. B., or any of his agents as aforesaid, may at any time be adjudged to pay under or by virtue of the said Act, then and in such case this obligation to be void, otherwise to remain in full force.

Signed, sealed, and delivered by the above bounden A. B., C. D., and E. F., in the presence of [insert the names and addresses in full of the witnesses].

N.B.—This bond is to be executed in duplicate, in the presence of and to be attested by an emigration officer or his assistant, or an officer of Customs, or a magistrate, or a notary public. One part is to be deposited with the Board of Trade, and the other part with the emigration officer at the port nearest to the place of business of the broker.

Each member of a firm or partnership who acts as a passage broker must give a separate bond with two sureties.

The bond is exempt from stamp duty, but must be renewed annually with the licence.

FORM V.

FORM OF PASSAGE BROKER'S LICENCE.

B. is to carry on his business*]: the said council [or I, the sheriff, or we, the under-mentioned justices], having no sufficient cause shown and seeing no valid reason why the said A. B. should not receive such licence, do hereby grant to him this licence for the purposes aforesaid, subject nevertheless to be revoked for misconduct on the part of the said A. B., as provided in the Merchant Shipping Act, 1894.

(Signatures, and authenticating seal.)

TWENTY-SECOND SCHEDULE (a).

THE LANDS CLAUSES (TAXATION OF COSTS) ACT, 1895.

(58 & 59 VICT. c. 11) (a).

An Act to amend the Law relating to the Taxation of Costs under the Lands Clauses Acts. [14th May, 1895.]

Fees for taxing costs in compensation inquiries and arbitrations.

8 & 9 Vict. c. 18.

1.—(1) Where under the Lands Clauses Consolidation Act, 1845, or any Act incorporating the same, any question of disputed compensation is determined by the verdict of a jury, or by arbitration, the costs of and incidental to the inquiry or to the arbitration and award (as the case may be), shall, if either party so requires, be taxed and settled as between the parties by one of the masters of the Supreme Court (b), and such fees shall be taken in respect of the taxation as may be fixed in pursuance of the enactments relating to the fees to be taken in the offices of those masters; and all those enactments (including the enactments relating to the taking of fees by means of stamps) shall extend to the fees in respect of such taxation (c).

31 & 32 Vict. c. 119.

32 & 33 Vict. c. 18.

(b) See 8 & 9 Vict. c. 18, s. 52, ante, p. 2104, which is thus extended to costs of arbitration. The decision of the master cannot be reviewed (Sandback Charity Trustees v. North Staffordshire Rail. Co. (1878), 3 Q. B. D. 1) (and see In re Cannings, Ltd. and Middlesex C. C., [1907] 1 K. B. 51; 71 J. P. 46), nor can it be removed by certiorari (R. v. Goff, [1905] 2 I. R. 121). But when the successful party has to pay the arbitrators and umpire excessive fees in order to obtain delivery of the award, he may recover back from them by action such sum as the Court thinks improperly charged, and in such action the certificate of the Taxing Master under this section is primâ facie evidence of the unreasonableness of the fees (Llandrindod Wells Water Co. v. Hawksley (1903), 67 J. P. 439).

(c) See s. 213 of the Supreme Court of Judicature (Consolidation) Act, 1925, and Treasury Order, dated 4th July, 1884, made thereunder as to fees to be taken by stamps.

(d) This enactment related to the fees payable to the masters for determining questions of disputed compensation under the provisions of the Lands Clauses Consolidation Act, 1845, or of any Act incorporating, altering, or amending the same.

(e) This enactment corresponded to the first part of sub-s. (1) so far as it relates to the taxation of costs of arbitration.

An Act to grant moneys for the purpose of certain Local Loans, and for other purposes relating to Local Loans. [14th August, 1896.]

*   *   *   *   *   *

Addition to purposes for which Public Works Loan Commissioners may lend. 38 & 39 Vict. c. 89.

2. There shall be added to the works for the purpose of which the Public Works Loan Commissioners may lend in Great Britain under the Public Works Loans Act, 1875, the following works, namely,—

Any work for which the council of a county, borough, district, or parish are authorised to borrow;

The construction or improvement of any canal;

Provided that where the repayment of a loan for the construction or improvement of a canal is collaterally secured to the satisfaction of the Public Works Loan Commissioners, the rate of interest on the loan may be three and a quarter per cent. per annum instead of the rate of four per cent. per annum authorised by the Public Works Loans Act, 1892.

THE DISTRICT COUNCILS (WATER SUPPLY FACILITIES) ACT, 1897.

(60 & 61 VICT. c. 44) (a).

An Act for giving Facilities for a Pure Water Supply in Rural Districts. [6th August, 1897.]

Lands may be charged by owners for water supply. 27 & 28 Vict. c. 114.

1. Where any person who is a landowner within the meaning of the Improvement of Land Act, 1864 (b) (in this Act referred to as the principal Act), contributes any money towards the expenses incurred by a district council for the purpose of supplying water to any lands of such landowner, whether together with other lands or not, the amount so contributed may, with the sanction of the Board of Agriculture (c) given under this Act, be charged on the land of the landowner so supplied with water in the same manner (d), as nearly as may be, and with the like effect as in the case of a charge under the principal Act.

(a) As to this Act and its bearing on the law of public health, see s. 51 of the P. H. A., 1875, and notes thereon, ante, p. 126. See also the Limited Owners' Reservoirs and Water Supply Further Facilities Act, 1877, ante, p. 2393, and the Improvement of Land Act, 1899, s. 1 (3), as amended by 15 & 16 Geo. 5, c. 48.

(b) By s. 8 of that Act, "the word 'landowner' shall mean . . . as to lands in England, the person who shall be in the actual possession or receipt of the rents or profits of any land, whether of freehold, copyhold, customary, or other tenure, except where such person shall be a tenant for life or lives holding under a lease for life or lives not renewable, or shall be a tenant for years holding under a lease or an agreement for a lease for a term of years not renewable, whereof less than twenty-five years shall be unexpired at the time of making any application to the Minister of Agriculture and Fisheries, without regard to the real amount of the interest of any person so excepted; and in the case where the person in the actual possession or receipt of the rents or profits of any land shall fall within the above exceptions, then the person who for the time being shall be in the actual receipt of the rent payable by the person so excepted, unless he shall also fall within the above exceptions, shall, jointly with the person who shall be liable to the payment thereof, be deemed for the purposes of this Act to be the owner of such lands; . . . and as to lands in any part of the United Kingdom, the word 'landowner' shall include a corporation, and also such persons as are empowered by the 23rd section hereof." This reference seems to be an obvious mistake for the 24th section, whereby it is provided that all husbands, guardians committees, feoffees, trustees, executors, and administrators, shall respectively have the same rights and powers of making applications and signifying dissents and taking other proceedings under this Act as their respective wives, infants, lunatics and idiots, would have had if free from disability, or as such feoffees, trustees, executors or administrators respectively would have had if the estates or interests of which they shall be such feoffees or trustees, or which shall be vested in them as such executors or administrators, had been vested in them in their own right; but no guardian, committee, feoffee, trustee, executor or administrator, shall be in anywise compelled or obliged to signify a dissent from any application under this Act, or be in anywise responsible for the consequences of such application, or of any charge made in pursuance thereof.

(c) Now the Minister of Agriculture and Fisheries (9 & 10 Geo. 5, c. 91).

(d) But see s. 5, infra.

Charge to be in favour of district council.

2. Where the landowner and the district council agree that the contribution shall be payable by half-yearly instalments, the charge under this Act may be granted in favour of the district council, to secure the payment to them of such contribution (a), and the sums payable in respect of the charge shall be in addition to any sums which may be payable for the water supply by way of water rate or water rent.

(a) By s. 63 of the Improvement of Land Act, 1864, every rent-charge on land by virtue of this Act may be recovered by the person or company for the time being entitled to the same as to lands in England by the same means, and with the like powers and in like manner in all respects as a rent-charge in lieu of tithes would be recoverable if charged on the same land under the Tithe Act, 1836, and the several Acts passed for amending the same, and as if such rent-charge, by virtue of this Act, were a rent-charge in lieu of tithes made payable to such person or company under the said Acts respectively.

By s. 81 of the Tithe Act, 1836, a rent-charge in lieu of tithes is recoverable by distress and by s. 82, in default of distress by delivery of the land charged in satisfaction.

A charge in favour of the district council must be registered as a local land charge under s. 15 of the Land Charges Act, 1925, ante, p. 1519.

Time limit for charge.

3. A charge under this Act shall not be made for any term exceeding twenty-five years.

Sanctioning of charge by Board of Agriculture (a)

4. When the supply of water to the lands of the landowner will be beneficial to persons residing or engaged in labour on such lands, the Board (a) may, if they think fit, sanction the charge, although it may not be shown that the supply of water will effect a direct yearly increase in the value of the lands or be productive of a yearly revenue to the owner of the lands exceeding the yearly amount proposed to be charged thereon (b).

(a) See note (c) to s. 1, supra.

(b) Cf. the last clause of 40 & 41 Vict. c. 31, s. 5, ante, p. 2394. This section alters the application of 27 & 28 Vict. c. 114, s. 25, to the cases coming within its purview.

Power of Board of Agriculture (a) to execute charge.

5. Where the annual sum to be made payable under a charge proposed to be granted by virtue of this Act in respect of the supply of water to any house or houses does not exceed the amount payable at the date of the charge for such water supply by way of water rate or water rent, the Board of Agriculture (a) may execute the charge upon such information as they think fit to require, and in such case the requirements of the principal Act (b) with respect to matters and proceedings previous to the execution of a charge shall not apply.

(a) See note (c) to s. 1, supra.

(b) See 27 & 28 Vict. c. 114, ss. 11—24 inclusive, noting that ss. 17 and 18 have been repealed by the Settled Land Act, 1882, and s. 21 extended by the Improvement of Lands (Ecclesiastical Benefices) Act, 1884.

Extent of Act.

6. This Act shall not extend to Scotland or Ireland.

Short title.

7. This Act may be cited as "The District Councils (Water Supply Facilities) Act, 1897," and shall be read with the Improvement of Land Act, 1864.

THE PUBLIC WORKS LOANS ACT, 1897.

(60 & 61 VICT. c. 51) (a).

An Act to grant Moneys for the purpose of certain Local Loans, and to amend the Law respecting the Local Loans Fund and Loans made thereout, and for other purposes relating to Local Loans. [6th August, 1897.]

AMENDMENT OF ACTS.

Reduction of interest on future local loans on the security of local rates.

1. The rates of interest at which loans may be made out of the Local Loans Fund on the security of local rates may be fixed by the Treasury, from time to time, having regard to the duration of the loans, and shall be such rates not less than two and three quarters per cent. per annum as in the opinion of the Treasury are sufficient to enable such loans to be made without loss to the Local Loans Fund (b).

(b) This provision supersedes the provisions of s. 243 of the P. H. A., 1875, repealed by s. 12 (4), and the Second Schedule of this Act. Reference must be made to two later enactments, viz., By s. 4 of the Public Works Loans Act, 1917, it is enacted as follows: "Notwithstanding anything in any other Act the provisions of s. 1 of the Public Works Loans Act, 1897 (which relates to the rates of interest on future local loans on the security of local rates) shall apply to a loan made out of the local loans fund otherwise than on the security of local rates as they apply to a loan made out of that fund on such security, and where under any special Act any loan made out of the said fund is repayable by means of an annuity or rent-charge payable for any period the amount of the periodical payment on account of the annuity or rent-charge, and the redemption value of the loan, shall in the case of a loan made after the commencement of this Act be calculated by reference to the rate of interest payable in respect of the loan as fixed by the Treasury under the said section as amended by this section."

And by s. 4 of the Public Works Loans Act, 1918, it is enacted as follows: "For the purpose of removing doubts it is hereby declared that the power of the Treasury under s. 1 of the Public Works Loans Act, 1897, as amended by s. 4 of the Public Works Loans Act, 1917, to fix rates of interest on loans made out of the local loans fund otherwise than on the security of local rates includes (subject always to the provisions of the said sections) a power to fix rates of interest differing from the rates fixed for loans made out of that fund on the security of local rates, and a power to fix different rates of interest in respect of different loans, and that in fixing the rate of interest the Treasury may take into account the nature and value of the security for the loan." See the latest scale prescribed by the Treasury (14th Oct., 1929) in App. I. at p. 3454, post.

Abolition of maximum of loan. 42 & 43 Vict. c. 77.

3. (a) The limit imposed by section three of the Public Works Loans Act, 1879, on the amount which can be advanced by the Public Works Loan Commissioners under any one Act in any one year to one borrower shall be repealed.

(a) Sections 3, 12 (4), and Schedule II. are repealed by the S. L. R. A., 1908. They repealed two provisions germane to the matter in the text, viz., s. 3 of the Public Works Loans Act, 1879, and s. 243 of the P. H. A., 1875, from "at the rate of three and a half" down to "loss to the Exchequer."

MISCELLANEOUS.

Definitions, repeal, construction, and short title.

12.—(1) The expression "local rate" means any rate levied or assessed, the proceeds of which are applicable to public local purposes, and which is levied on the basis of a valuation of property, and includes any sum which, though obtained in the first instance by a precept, certificate, or other instrument requiring payment from some authority or officer, is or can be ultimately raised out of a rate as before defined.

(2) The expression "security of a local rate" includes a security guaranteed by any such local rate.

(3) This Act shall be deemed to be a special Act within the meaning of the Public Works Loans Act, 1875.

THE LIBRARIES OFFENCES ACT, 1898.

(61 & 62 VICT. c. 53) (a).

An Act to provide for the Punishment of Offences in Libraries.

[12th August, 1898.]

Short title.

1. This Act may be cited as "The Libraries Offences Act, 1898."

(a) See the Public Libraries Act, 1892, ante, p. 2542, and the amending Acts of 1893, 1901 and 1919, post, pp. 2552, 2616 and 2777. By s. 15 of the 1892 Act, ante, p. 2546, the general management, regulation, and control of libraries under that Act was vested in the library authority, but there was no power to enforce their regulations by any penalty except, perhaps, by expulsion or exclusion from the library. Actual breach of the peace in a library was, and still is, punishable in the ordinary way. A library is a public place within the meaning of s. 8 of the Licensing Act, 1902, for the purpose of s. 12 of the Licensing Act, 1872, as to drunk and disorderly persons. Profane swearing, whether in a library or not, would be punishable under the Profane Oaths Act, 1745. Obscene language might be punishable in some cases under byelaws (Mantle v. Jordan, [1897] 1 Q. B. 248; 61 J. P. 119; Brabham v. Wookey (1902), 18 T. L. R. 99; Airton v. Scott (1909), 100 L. T. 393; 73 J. P. 148). A library is probably not a "public place" or "place of public resort" within the meaning of the Vagrancy Act, 1824, s. 4 (as to indecent exhibitions), nor an "open and public place" within the Vagrant Act Amendment Act, 1873, s. 3 (as to gaming in a public place). See Langrish v. Archer (1883), 10 Q. B. D. 44; 47 J. P. 295. And, of course, apart from this Act, remaining in a library after closing hours was a mere trespass, unless some unlawful purpose, sufficient to bring the case within s. 4 of the Vagrancy Act, 1824, could be proved, as to which, see Haynes or Hayes v. Stevenson (1860), 25 J. P. 39; 3 L. T. 296.

Penalty for offences.

2. Any person who, in any library or reading-room to which this Act applies, to the annoyance or disturbance of any person using the same,—

(1) behaves in a disorderly manner;

(2) uses violent, abusive, or obscene language;

(3) bets or gambles;

(4) or who, after proper warning, persists in remaining therein beyond the hours fixed for the closing of such library or reading-room, shall be liable on summary conviction to a penalty not exceeding forty shillings.

Application of Act.

56 & 57 Vict. c. 39.

59 & 60 Vict. c. 25.

3. This Act shall apply—

(a) to any library (a) under the Public Libraries Act, 1892; and

(b) to any library or reading-room maintained by a society registered under the Industrial and Provident Societies Act, 1893, or under the Friendly Societies Act, 1896, or by any registered trade union.

(a) The application of this Act is extended by the Public Libraries Act, 1901, s. 4, post, p. 2617, to any museum, art gallery, or school, provided under the Public Libraries Act, 1892, s. 11, ante, p. 2554.

Extent of Act.

4. This Act shall not apply to Scotland or Ireland.

THE ELECTRIC LIGHTING (CLAUSES) ACT, 1899.

(62 & 63 VICT. c. 19) (a).

An Act for incorporating in one Act certain provisions usually contained in Provisional Orders under the Acts relating to Electric Lighting.

[9th August, 1899.]

Provisions in Schedule to be incorporated in Electric Lighting Orders.

1. The provisions (b) contained in the Schedule to this Act shall be incorporated with and form part of every provisional order made by the [Minister of Transport] after the commencement of this Act under the Electric Lighting Acts, save so far as they are expressly varied or excepted by the order, and shall, subject to any such variations or exceptions, apply, so far as applicable, to the undertaking authorised by the order.

The said provisions shall also, with the necessary modifications, and in particular with the substitution of the words "special Act" for "special order," be incorporated with any special Act, save so far as they are expressly varied or excepted thereby.

The expression "Electric Lighting Acts" means in this Act the Electric Lighting Acts, 1882 and 1888, and, so far as respects Scotland, the Electric Lighting Acts, 1882 and 1888, and the Electric Lighting (Scotland) Act, 1890.

45 & 46 Vict. c. 56.
51 & 52 Vict. c. 12.
53 & 54 Vict. c. 13.

The expression "special Act" means in this Act any Act passed after the commencement of this Act authorising the supply of electricity for any public or private purposes within any area (c).

(a) See the Electric Lighting Acts, 1882 and 1888, ante, and the Electric Lighting Act, 1909, post. See also the Electricity Supply Acts, 1919, 1922, 1926 and 1928, post. The powers and duties of the Board of Trade under these Acts were transferred to the Minister of Transport by s. 39 of the Electricity Supply Act, 1919, and the Ministry of Transport (Electricity Supply) Order, 1920, as from 23rd January, 1920.

(b) See note to 45 & 46 Vict. c. 56, s. 6, ante, p. 2441.

(c) A local Act authorising the construction of a generating station was held by LORDS SUMNER and BLANESBURGH, LORD DUNEDIN dissenting, not to be a special Act within this definition (Farnworth v. Manchester Corporation (1929), 27 L. G. R. 709).

Short title, extent, and commencement.

2.—(1) This Act may be cited as "The Electric Lighting (Clauses) Act, 1899."

(2) Except so far as any of the provisions contained in the Schedule to this Act are incorporated with any provisional order made by the [Minister of Transport] under the Electric Lighting Acts extending to the county of London, or with any special Acts so extending, this Act shall not apply to the county of London.

(3) This Act shall come into operation on the first day of October, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-nine.

SCHEDULE (a).

Interpretation.

1. The provisions of this Schedule are to be read and construed subject in all respects to the provisions of the Electric Lighting Acts, and of any other Acts or parts of Acts incorporated therewith, and those Acts and parts of Acts are in this Schedule collectively referred to as "the principal Act"; and the several words, terms, and expressions to which by the principal Act meanings are assigned, shall have in this Schedule the same respective meanings, provided that in this Schedule—

The expression "the special order" means any provisional order made by the [Minister of Transport] under the principal Act with which the provisions of this Schedule are incorporated and includes those provisions as so incorporated:

The expression "energy" means electrical energy, and for the purposes of applying the provisions of the principal Act to the special order electrical energy shall be deemed to be an agency within the meaning of electricity as defined in the Electric Lighting Act, 1882 (b):

(a) As to the application of the Schedule to this Act to the Central Electricity Board, see the Regulations of 1927 in App. II., post, p. 3276.

(b) See 45 & 46 Vict. c. 56, s. 32, ante, p. 2453.

Schedule.

The expression "power" means electrical power or the rate per unit of time at which energy is supplied:

The expression "main" means any electric line which may be laid down by the undertakers in any street or public place, and through which energy may be supplied or intended to be supplied by the undertakers for the purposes of general supply:

The expression "service line" means any electric line through which energy may be supplied or intended to be supplied by the undertakers to a consumer either from any main or directly from the premises of the undertakers:

The expression "distributing main" means the portion of any main which is used for the purpose of giving origin to service lines for the purposes of general supply:

The expression "general supply" means the general supply of energy to ordinary consumers, and includes, unless otherwise specially agreed with the local authority, the general supply of energy to the public lamps, where the local authority are not themselves the undertakers, but shall not include the supply of energy to any one or more particular consumers under special agreement:

The expression "area of supply" means the area within which the undertakers are, for the time being, authorised to supply energy under the special order:

The expression "county council" means the county council of the county in which the area of supply is situated:

The expression "consumer" means any body or person supplied or entitled to be supplied with energy by the undertakers:

The expression "consumer's terminals" means the ends of the electric lines situate upon any consumer's premises and belonging to him, at which the supply of energy is delivered from the service lines:

41 & 42 Vict, c. 76.

The expression "telegraphic line," when used with respect to any telegraphic line of the Postmaster-General, has the same meaning as in the Telegraph Act, 1878 (a), and any such telegraphic line shall be deemed to be injuriously affected where telegraphic communication by means of that line is, whether through induction or otherwise, in any manner affected:

The expression "railway" includes any tramroad, that is to say, any tramway other than a tramway as hereinafter defined:

The expression "tramway" means any tramway laid along any street:

The expression "daily penalty" means a penalty for each day on which any offence is continued after conviction therefor (b):

The expression "Board of Trade regulations" means any regulations or conditions affecting the undertaking made by the [Minister of Transport] under the principal Act or the special order, for securing the safety of the public or for insuring a proper and sufficient supply of energy:

The expression "deposited map" means the map of the area of supply deposited at the [Ministry of Transport] by the undertakers together with the special order, and signed by an assistant secretary to the [Ministry of Transport]:

The expression "plan" means a plan drawn to a horizontal scale of at least one inch to eighty-eight feet, and where possible a section drawn to the same horizontal scale as the plan and to a vertical scale of at least one inch to eleven feet, or to such other scale as the [Ministry of Transport] may approve of for both plan and section, together with such detail plan and sections as may be necessary.

PROVISIONS AS TO UNDERTAKERS.

Description of undertakers.

2.—(1) The undertakers shall be the authority, company, or other person named for that purpose in the special order.

(2) If, in a case where the undertakers are not the local authority, the under-

(a) By s. 2 of the Telegraph Act, 1878, the expression "telegraphic line" means telegraphs, posts, and any work within the meaning of the Telegraph Act, 1863, and also any cables, apparatus, pneumatic or other tube, pipe, or thing whatsoever used for the purpose of transmitting telegraphic messages or maintaining telegraphic communication, and includes any portion of a telegraphic line as defined by this Act. By s. 3 of the Telegraph Act, 1863, the term "work" includes telegraphs and posts.

Schedule.

taking or any part thereof is at any time purchased by the local authority in accordance with the special order or the principal Act the local authority shall from the date on which the purchase takes effect be the undertakers in relation to the undertaking or part thereof for the purposes of the special order in lieu of the persons mentioned therein as undertakers.

Undertakers not to purchase other undertakings.

3.—(1) The undertakers shall not purchase or acquire the undertaking of or associate (a) themselves with any company or person supplying energy under any licence, provisional order, or special Act, unless the undertakers are authorised by Parliament to do so (b).

(2) If in contravention of this section the undertakers purchase or acquire any such undertaking, or associate (a) themselves with any such other company or person, the [Ministry of Transport] may, if they think fit, revoke the special order upon such terms as they think just.

AREA OF SUPPLY.

Area of supply and prohibition of supply beyond area.

4.—(1) The area of supply shall be the area named for that purpose in the special order.

(2) The undertakers shall not at any time after the commencement of the special order supply energy or (except for the purposes of that order) erect or lay down any electric lines or works beyond the area of supply otherwise than under the authority of Parliament, or under a licence granted by the [Ministry of Transport] under the principal Act (c).

(3) If the undertakers supply energy or erect or lay down electric lines or works in contravention of this section, the [Ministry of Transport] may, if they think fit, revoke the special order on such terms as they think just (d).

SECURITY AND ACCOUNTS (e).

APPLICATION OF MONEY AND PURCHASE OF LAND, ETC., BY LOCAL AUTHORITY.

Application of money received by local authority as undertakers.

7. Where a local authority are the undertakers the following provisions shall have effect :—

(1) All moneys received by the undertakers in respect of the undertaking except (a) borrowed money, (b) money arising from the disposal of land acquired for the purposes of the special order, and (c) other capital money received by them in respect of the undertaking, shall be applied by them as follows :—

(a) This prohibition against "association" does not prohibit undertakers from taking a supply of electricity in bulk from any company or persons authorised to give such a supply: see Electric Lighting Act, 1909, s. 20, post, p. 2701. But see now the provisions of the Electricity Supply Acts, 1919, 1922, 1926 and 1928, post, as to the creation of electricity districts and the constitution of joint electricity authorities and particularly s. 19 of the 1919 Act which enables undertakers to enter into agreements for mutual assistance pending the formation of joint electricity districts.

(c) The prohibition does not operate merely in connection with and relation to the particular area in question, but is of universal application, so that the undertakers may be restrained by injunction from carrying on business and supplying energy in any other place whatsoever, however far removed from the area of supply, and although such business is carried on and supply furnished quite independently of any of the special statutory powers of the undertakers (Att.-Gen. v. Metropolitan Electric Supply Co., [1905] 1 Ch. 757 ; 69 J. P. 169).

Of late years it has become a common practice to include in special Acts of local authorities a section authorising them to supply electricity in bulk to adjoining districts. As to connecting two areas of supply under the London Electric Supply Act, 1908, see Battersea Borough Council v. County of London Electric Supply Co., Ltd., [1913] 2 Ch. 248 ; 77 J. P. 297, 325.

(e) Clauses 5 and 6 relating to security for execution of works and to audit are expressly inapplicable where the undertakers are a local authority, because the Electric Lighting Act, 1882, s. 8, and the schedule to that Act, ante, pp. 2443, 2456, makes special provision for the like purposes.

(a) In payment of the working and establishment expenses and cost of maintenance of the undertaking, including all costs, expenses, penalties, and damages incurred or payable by the undertakers consequent upon any proceedings by or against the undertakers, their officers or servants, in relation to the undertaking;

(b) In payment of the interest or dividend on any mortgages, stock, or other securities granted and issued by the undertakers in respect of money borrowed for electricity purposes;

(c) In providing any instalments or sinking fund (a) required to be provided in respect of moneys borrowed for electricity purposes;

(d) In payment of all other their expenses of executing the special order not being expenses properly chargeable to capital (b);

(e) In providing a reserve fund, if they think fit, by setting aside such money as they think reasonable, and investing the money and the resulting income thereof in Government securities, or in any other securities in which trustees are by law for the time being authorised to invest other than stock or securities of the undertakers, and accumulating it at compound interest until the fund so formed amounts to one-tenth of the aggregate capital expenditure on the undertaking.

The reserve fund shall be applicable to answer any deficiency at any time happening in the income of the undertakers from the undertaking, or to meet any extraordinary claim or demand at any time arising against the undertakers in respect of the undertaking, and so that if that fund is at any time reduced it may thereafter be again restored to the prescribed limit, and so on as often as the reduction happens.

[The undertakers shall apply the net surplus remaining in any year and the annual proceeds of the reserve fund when amounting to the prescribed limit—

(a) in reduction of the charges for the supply of energy; or

(b) in reduction of the capital moneys borrowed for electricity purposes; or

(c) with the consent of the Electricity Commissioners in payment of expenses chargeable to capital; or

(d) in aid of the local rate:

Provided that—

(i) The amount which may be applied in aid of the local rate in any year shall not exceed one and a half per cent. of the outstanding debt of the undertaking; and

(ii) After the thirty-first day of March nineteen hundred and thirty, no sum shall be paid in aid of the local rate unless the reserve fund amounts to more than one-twentieth of the aggregate capital expenditure on the undertaking (c)].

(a) Payments into the sinking fund may be suspended under s. 2 of Electricity Supply Act, 1922, whilst the expenditure of the capital monies remains unremunerative (see the section set out at p. 2836, post).

(b) The cost of providing a new generating engine at a cost of £20,000 is an expense properly chargeable to capital and is not authorised by this provision (A.-G. v. Ealing Corporation, [1924] 2 Ch. 545; 88 J. P. 153), see now the provision in (d) of the substituted words and note (c), infra.

(c) The words in brackets were substituted for the words:—

> "The undertakers shall carry the net surplus remaining in any year and the annual proceeds of the reserve fund when amounting to the prescribed limit, to the credit of the local rate as defined by the principal Act or at their option shall apply that surplus, or any part thereof, to the improvement of the district for which they are the local authority, or in reduction of the capital moneys borrowed for electricity purposes.
> "Provided always that if the surplus in any year exceed five pounds per centum per annum upon the aggregate capital expenditure on the undertaking, the undertakers shall make such a rateable reduction in the charge for the supply of energy as in their judgment will reduce the surplus to that maximum rate of profit."

by s. 43 and Sched. V., Electricity (Supply) Act, 1926, post, p. 2934. The amended provisions will apply whether incorporated before or after the passing of the 1926 Act and are also to be substituted for provisions similar to those repealed in any special Act or Order passed or confirmed before the passing of the 1926 Act.

The new provisions enable a local authority undertaker to apply the surplus for the Schedule.

Any deficiency of income in any year when not answered out of the reserve fund shall be charged upon and payable out of the local rate.

(2) All moneys arising from the disposal of lands acquired by the undertakers for the purposes of the special order, and all other capital moneys received by them, in respect of the undertaking, shall be applied by them as follows:—

(a) In the reduction of the capital moneys borrowed by them for electricity purposes;

(b) In the reduction of the capital moneys borrowed by them for other than electricity purposes.

Purchase and use of lands by local authority.

8. Where a local authority are the undertakers the following provisions shall have effect:—

(1) Subject to the provisions of the special order and the principal Act the undertakers may acquire by purchase or on lease and use any lands for the purposes of the special order (a), and may also for those purposes use any other lands for the time being vested in or leased by them, but subject as to the last-mentioned lands to the approval of the [Minister of Health], and may dispose of any lands acquired by them under the provisions of this section which may not for the being be required for the purposes of the special order: Provided that the amount of land so used by them shall not at any one time exceed in the whole five acres except with the consent of the [Minister of Transport].

(2) The undertakers shall not purchase or acquire for the purposes of the special order ten or more houses which on the fifteenth day of December last before the commencement of the special order, or in the case of the transfer of an undertaking to a local authority before the date of the transfer, were occupied either wholly or partially by persons belonging to the labouring class as tenants or lodgers, or except with the consent of the [Minister of Health], ten or more houses which were not so occupied on the said fifteenth day of December but have been or shall be subsequently so occupied.

(3) For the purposes of this section the expression "labouring class" means mechanics, artisans, labourers, and others working for wages, hawkers, costermongers, persons not working for wages, but working at some trade or handicraft without employing others except members of their own family, and persons other than domestic servants whose income does not exceed an average of thirty shillings a week, and the families of any of those persons who may be residing with them (b).

Incorporation of 38 & 39 Vict. c. 55, s. 265.

9. Where a local authority are the undertakers section two hundred and sixty-five of the Public Health Act, 1875 (c), shall be incorporated with the special order, and in the construction of that section "this Act" shall not mean the Public Health benefit of consumers under (a) or to meet with the consent of the Electricity Commissioners expenses properly chargeable to capital (see A.-G. v. Ealing Corporation, supra) under (c), and limits the amount which can be applied in aid of the local rate. After March 31st, 1930, no surplus may be applied in aid of the local rate until the reserve fund amounts to more than one-twentieth of the aggregate capital expenditure on the undertaking. Both before and after that date the amount of surplus which may be applied in aid of the local rate must not exceed 1½ per cent. of the outstanding debt of the undertaking.

(a) It is ultra vires for the local authority having acquired land for these purposes to use them for any other though within their statutory powers under other Acts, as, for instance, to use lands acquired for the purposes of the special order as a site for a refuse destructor although connected in such a way with the generating station that the refuse could be used as fuel for the purpose of generating electrical energy (Att.-Gen. v. Pontypridd U. D. C., [1906] 2 Ch. 257; 70 J. P. 394). And see Att.-Gen. v. Bradford Corporation (1911), 75 J. P. 553; 55 Sol. J. 715.

As to the power to acquire land compulsorily, see the Act of 1909, s. 1, post. And as to the use of the land, see s. 2 of the same Act as amended by s. 15 (3) of the Electricity (Supply) Act, 1919, 9 & 10 Geo. 5, c. 100, s. 15 (3), post.

(b) As to the general restriction on the purchase under statutory powers of houses occupied by the working classes, see s. 98 and Sched. V., Housing Act, 1925, ante, p. 1461.

(c) Ante, p. 583. See also the Public Authorities Protection Act, 1893, ante, p. 939. As regards the county of London, the corresponding section is s. 124 of the P. H. (London) A., 1891.

Schedule.

Act, 1875, but shall mean the principal Act and the special order, and the "local authority" shall mean the local authority as such undertakers.

NATURE AND MODE OF SUPPLY.

Systems and mode of supply.

10. Subject to the provisions of the special order and the principal Act, the undertakers may supply energy within the area of supply for all public and private purposes as defined by the said Act, provided as follows:—

(a) The energy shall be supplied only by means of some system approved in writing by the [Minister of Transport (a)], and subject to the [Ministry Transport] regulations; and

(b) The undertakers shall not, without the express consent (a) of the [Ministry of Transport], and, where the local authority are not themselves the undertakers of the local authority also (b), place any electric line above ground except within premises in the sole occupation or control of the undertakers, and except so much of any service line as is necessarily so placed for the purpose of supply; and

(c) The undertakers shall not permit any part of any circuit to be connected with earth except so far as may be necessary for carrying out the provisions of the [Ministry of Transport] regulations, unless the connection is for the time being approved by the [Minister of Transport], with the concurrence of the Postmaster-General, and is made in accordance with the conditions, if any, of that approval.

WORKS.

Additional provisions as to works.

11. The provisions of the special order as to works shall be in addition but subject to those of the principal Act, and in particular those of the Gasworks Clauses Act, 1847, with respect to breaking up streets, incorporated in the principal Act and set out in the Appendix to this Schedule (c).

Powers for execution of works.

12.—(1) Subject to the provisions of the principal Act and the special order, the undertakers may exercise all or any of the powers conferred on them by that Act and order, and may break up such streets not repairable by the local authority and such railways and tramways (if any) as they are specially authorised to break up by the special order, so far as those streets, railways, and tramways may for the time being be included in the area of supply, and be, or be upon, land dedicated to public use: Provided, however, as respects any such railway, that the powers hereby granted shall extend only to such parts thereof as pass across or along any highway on the level.

(2) Nothing in the special order shall authorise or empower the undertakers to break up or interfere with any street or part of a street not repairable by the local authority or any railway or tramway, except such streets, railways or tramways (if any), or such parts thereof, as they are specially authorised to break up by the special order, without the consent of the authority, company, or person, by whom

(a) In determining whether or not to give consent or approval under this section, the Minister must have regard to the provisions of the Electricity (Supply) Act, 1926.

(b) See the Electric Lighting Act, 1882, s. 14, ante, p. 2447. A derrick used in putting up a house in one of the streets of Montreal was brought into contact with the overhead wires of the respondent company, with the result that a current of electricity was diverted to the street and killed the appellant's husband. Held, that the respondents being authorised by the Quebec Act (1901), s. 10, in the alternative to place their wires either overhead or underground were not guilty of negligence in adopting one alternative rather than the other, or in neglecting to insulate or guard the wires in the absence of evidence that such precaution would have been effectual to avert the accident (Dumphy v. Montreal Light, Heat, and Power Co., [1907] A. C. 454). The consent of the local authority is now dispensed with by s. 21 of the Electricity Supply Act, 1919.

(c) See 45 & 46 Vict. c. 56, s. 12, ante, p. 2446; 10 & 11 Vict. c. 15, ss. 6—12, 18—20, ante, pp. 2167—2171; 34 & 35 Vict. c. 41, ss. 38—42, 45, and 46, ante, pp. 2324, 2325. To save space these enactments, having been already fully set out once in this Work, are not repeated here.

By agreement the telegraphs of the Postmaster-General or his licensee may be placed in the trenches, tubes, pipes, or apparatus of an electric company or "person." (See s. 6 of the Telegraph Act, 1892.) In that section the word "person" includes any body of persons corporate or unincorporate (Interpretation Act, 1889, s. 19).

Schedule.

that street, railway, or tramway is repairable, or of the [Ministry of Transport] under section thirteen of the Electric Lighting Act, 1882 (a), and where the [Ministry of Transport] give that consent, the provisions of the special order shall apply to the street, railway, or tramway to which the consent relates as if the undertakers had been specially authorised to break it up by that order (b).

Street boxes.

13.—(1) Subject to the provisions of the principal Act, and the special order and the [Ministry of Transport] regulations, the undertakers may construct in any street such boxes (c) as may be necessary for purposes in connection with the supply of energy, including apparatus for the proper ventilation of the boxes: Provided that, where the local authority are not themselves the undertakers, no such box or apparatus shall be placed above ground, except with the consent of the authority, body, or person, by whom the street is repairable.

(2) Every such box shall be for the exclusive use of the undertakers and under their sole control, except so far as the [Minister of Transport] otherwise order, and shall be used by the undertakers only for the purpose of leading off service lines and other distributing conductors, or for examining, testing, regulating, measuring, directing, or controlling, the supply of energy, or for examining or testing the condition of the mains or other portions of the works, or for other like purposes connected with the undertaking, and the undertakers may place therein meters, switches, and any other suitable and proper apparatus, for any of the above purposes.

(3) Every such box, including the upper surface or covering thereof, shall be constructed of such materials, and shall be constructed and maintained by the undertakers in such manner, as not to be a source of danger, whether by reason of inequality of surface or otherwise.

(4) Where the local authority are not themselves the undertakers, they may, with the approval of the [Minister of Transport], prescribe the hours during which the (b) A company to which the London Electric Supply Act, 1908, applied, had one area of supply north of and one south of the Thames, and wished to connect them by mains running through streets outside either area, which included a bridge belonging to the corporation as trustees of the Bridge House estates, and repairable by them as trustees and not by any local authority. It was held that s. 4 (3) (B) of the Act of 1908 gave power to the company to break up the intervening streets and bridge for the purpose of laying therein the connecting mains, subject to the consent either of the corporation or of the Board of Trade under s. 13 of the Electric Lighting Act, 1882, and this sub-section (London Corporation v. County of London Electric Supply Co., [1910] 2 Ch. 208; 74 J. P. 268).

Under ss. 6 and 7 of the Gasworks Clauses Act, 1847, as adapted to electric light undertakings by the Electric Lighting Act, 1882, the undertakers are empowered to break up streets subject to certain restrictions. By s. 13 of the Act of 1882 (which is substantially repeated in this sub-section) nothing in that Act or in any Act incorporated therewith shall authorise the undertakers to break up any street which is not repairable by the local authority without the consent of the person by whom such street is repairable or the written consent of the Board of Trade. It was held by the Court of Appeal (KENNEDY, L.J., dissentiente) that where there was no person by whom the street was repairable, the section operated as an absolute prohibition against the breaking up of the street by the undertakers, and that therefore where a strip of land adjoining a street repairable by the local authority had been dedicated to the public by the owner and had become part of the street but was not repairable either by the local authority or anyone else, the local authority as undertakers had no power to break up that portion of the street (Andrews v. Abertillery U. D. C., [1911] 2 Ch. 398; 75 J. P. 449).

(c) Such boxes are "buildings, structures, or works" within s. 145 of the London Building Act, 1894, and notice under that section must be served on the district surveyor before they are commenced (Whitechapel Board of Works v. Crow (1901), 65 J. P. 549; 84 L. T. 595). The circumstance that the undertakers are required by their Provisional Order to give notice of the construction of such boxes to the local authority and to the Postmaster-General, and to construct boxes in accordance with plans approved by those authorities, does not relieve the undertakers from the obligation of giving notice to the district surveyor under s. 145 of the Act of 1894 (Charing Cross and Strand Electric Supply Corporation v. Woodthorpe (1903), 67 J. P. 286; 88 L. T. 772). These cases were followed again in County of London Electric Supply Co., Ltd. v. Perkins (1908), 72 J. P. 133; 6 L. G. R. 344. As to the liability of undertakers for damage caused by explosions of gas in such chambers, see cases in note (b) at p. 2599, post.

Schedule.

undertakers are to have access to the boxes, and if the undertakers during any hours not so prescribed remove or displace or keep removed or displaced the upper surface or covering of any box without the consent of the local authority, they shall be liable for each offence to a penalty not exceeding five pounds, and to a daily penalty not exceeding five pounds: Provided that the undertakers shall not be subject to any such penalties as aforesaid if the court are of opinion that the case was one of emergency, and that the undertakers complied with the requirements of this section so far as was reasonable under the circumstances.

Notice of works, with plan, to be served on Postmaster-General and local authority.

14 (a).—(1) Where the exercise of any of the powers of the undertakers in relation to the execution of any works (including the construction of boxes) will involve the placing of any works in, under, along or across any street or public bridge, the following provisions shall have effect:—

(a) One month [or in the case of service lines, seven days (b)] before commencing the execution of the works (not being repairs, renewals, or amendments of existing works of which the character and position are not altered), the undertakers shall serve a notice upon the Postmaster-General and the local authority describing the proposed works, together with a plan (c) of the works showing the mode and position in which the works are intended to be executed, and the manner in which it is intended that the street or bridge, or any sewer, drain, or tunnel, therein or thereunder, is to be interfered with, and shall, upon being required to do so by the Postmaster-General or the local authority, give him or them any such further information in relation thereto as he or they desire.

No part of the month of August shall be included in calculating the above-mentioned period of one month.

(b) The Postmaster-General or the local authority may, in his or their discretion, approve any such works or plan, subject to such amendments or conditions as may seem fit, or may disapprove them, and may give notice of that approval or disapproval to the undertakers.

(c) Where the Postmaster-General or the local authority approve any such works or plan, subject to any amendments or conditions with which the undertakers are dissatisfied, or disapprove any such works or plan, the undertakers may appeal to the [Minister of Transport], and the [Minister of Transport] may inquire into the matter, and allow or disallow the appeal, and may approve any such works or plan, subject to such amendments or conditions as seem fit, or may disapprove them.

(d) If the Postmaster-General or the local authority fail to give any such notice of approval or disapproval to the undertakers within one month after the service of the notice upon them, he or they shall be deemed to have approved the works and plan.

(e) Notwithstanding anything in the special order or the principal Act, the undertakers shall not be entitled to execute any such works as above specified, except so far as they may be of a description and in accordance with a plan which has been approved, or is to be deemed to have been approved, by the Postmaster-General and the local authority, or by the [Minister of Transport], as above mentioned; but where any such works, description, and plan are so approved, or to be deemed to be approved, the undertakers may cause those works to be executed in accordance with the description and plan, subject in all respects to the provisions of the special order and the principal Act.

(f) If the undertakers make default in complying with any of the requirements or restrictions of this section, they shall (in addition to any other compensation which they may be liable to make under the provisions of the special order or the principal Act) make full compensation to the Postmaster-General and the local authority for any loss or damage which he or they may incur by reason thereof, and in addition thereto, they shall be liable for each default to a penalty not exceeding ten pounds, and to a daily penalty not exceeding five pounds: Provided that the undertakers shall not be subject to any such penalty as aforesaid if the court are of opinion that the case was one of emergency, and that the undertakers complied with the requirements of this section so far as was reasonable under the circumstances.

(2) In the application of this section to a street or public bridge (not within a county borough) which is repairable by the county council, a reference to the county council shall be substituted for a reference to the local authority.

(3) In the application of this section within any area where the undertakers are the local authority, the reference to the local authority and to sewers, drains, or tunnels in or under streets or bridges shall not apply, except so far as a reference to the county council is substituted for a reference to the local authority.

(4) Nothing in this section shall exempt the undertakers from any penalty or obligation to which they may be liable under the special order or otherwise by law in the event of any telegraphic line of the Postmaster-General being at any time injuriously affected by the undertakers' works or their supply of energy.

As to streets not repairable by local authority, railways, tramways, and canals (a).

15 (a). Where the exercise of the powers of the undertakers in relation to the execution of any works will involve the placing of any works in, under, along, or across any street or part of a street not repairable by the local authority, including, where the area of supply is not wholly in a county borough, the county council, or over or under any railway, tramway or canal, the following provisions shall have effect (b) unless otherwise agreed between the parties interested:—

(a) One month before commencing the execution of the works (not being repairs, renewals, or amendments of existing works of which the character and position are not altered) the undertakers shall, in addition to any othe notices which they may be required to give under the special order, or the principal Act, serve a notice upon the body or person liable to repair the street or part of a street, or the body or person for the time being entitled to work the railway or tramway, or the owners of the canal (as the case may be), in this section referred to as the "owners," describing the proposed works, together with a plan of the works showing the mode and position in which the works are intended to be executed and placed, and shall, upon being required to do so by any such owners, give them any such further information in relation thereto as they desire.

(b) Every such notice shall contain a reference to this section, and direct the attention of the owners to whom it is given to the provisions thereof.

(c) Within three weeks after the service of any such notice and plan upon any owners, those owners may, if they think fit, serve a requisition upon the undertakers requiring that any question in relation to the works, or to compensation in respect thereof, and any other question arising upon the notice or plan, shall be settled by arbitration: and thereupon that question, unless settled by agreement, shall be determined by arbitration accordingly.

(d) In settling any question under this section an arbitrator shall have regard to any duties or obligations which the owners may be under in respect of the street, railway, tramway, or canal, and may, if he thinks fit, require the undertakers to execute any temporary or other works so as to avoid any interference with any traffic so far as may be possible.

(e) Where no such requisition as in this section mentioned is served upon the undertakers, or where after any such requisition has been served upon them any question required to be settled by arbitration has been so settled, the undertakers may, upon paying or securing any compensation which they may be required to pay or secure, cause to be executed the works specified in such notice and plan as aforesaid, and may repair, renew, and amend them (provided that their character and position are not altered), but subject in all respects to the provisions of the special order and the principal Act, and only in accordance with the notice and plan so served by them as aforesaid, or such modifications thereof respectively as may have been determined by arbitration as hereinbefore mentioned, or as may be agreed upon between the parties.

(f) All works to be executed by the undertakers under this section shall be carried out to the reasonable satisfaction of the owners, and those owners shall have the right to be present during the execution of the works.

(g) Where the repair, renewal, or amendment of any existing works, of which the character or position is not altered, will involve any interference with any railway or with any tramway over or under which those works have been placed, the undertakers shall, unless it is otherwise agreed between the parties, or in cases of emergency, give to the owners not less than twenty-four hours' notice before commencing to effect the repair, renewal, or amendment, and the owners shall be entitled by their officer to superintend the works, and the undertakers shall conform to such reasonable requirements as may be made by the owners or that officer. The notice shall be in addition to any other notices which the undertakers may be required to give under the special order or the principal Act.

(h) If the undertakers make default in complying with any of the requirements or restrictions of this section they shall (in addition to any other compensation which they may be liable to make under the provisions of the special order or the principal Act) make full compensation to the owners affected thereby for any loss or damage which they may incur by reason thereof, and in addition thereto they shall be liable for each default to a penalty not exceeding ten pounds and to a daily penalty not exceeding five pounds: Provided that the undertakers shall not be subject to any such penalty as aforesaid if the court are of opinion that the case was one of emergency, and that the undertakers complied with the requirements of this section so far as was reasonable under the circumstances.

Street authority, etc., may give notice of desire to break up streets, etc., on behalf of undertakers (a).

16. Any body or person for the time being liable to repair any street or part of a street, or entitled to work any railway or tramway which the undertakers are empowered to break up for the purposes of the special order, may, if they think fit, serve a notice upon the undertakers stating that they desire to exercise or discharge all or any part of any of the powers or duties of the undertakers as therein specified in relation to the breaking up, filling in, reinstating, or making good any streets, bridges, sewers, drains, tunnels, or other works vested in or under the control or management of that body or person, and may amend or revoke any such notice by another notice similarly served.

Where any such body or person (in this section referred to as the "givers of the notice") have given notice that they desire to exercise or discharge any such specified powers and duties of the undertakers, then so long as that notice remains in force the following provisions shall have effect, unless it is otherwise agreed between the parties interested:—

(b) In addition to any other notices which they are required to give under the provisions of the special order or the principal Act, the undertakers shall, not more than four days and not less than two days before the exercise or discharge of any such powers or duties so specified as aforesaid is required to be commenced, serve a requisition upon the givers of the notice stating the time when that exercise or discharge is required to be commenced, and the manner in which any such powers or duties are required to be exercised or discharged.

(c) Upon receipt of any such requisition as last aforesaid, the givers of the notice may proceed to exercise or discharge any such powers or duties as required by the undertakers, subject to the like restrictions and conditions, so far as they are applicable, as the undertakers would themselves be subject to in that exercise or discharge.

(d) If the givers of the notice decline or, for twenty-four hours after the time when any such exercise or discharge of any powers or duties is by any requisition required to be commenced, neglect to comply with the requisition, the undertakers may themselves proceed to exercise or discharge the powers or duties therein specified in like manner as they might have done if such notice as aforesaid had not been given to them by the givers of the notice.

(e) In any case of emergency the undertakers may themselves proceed at once to exercise or discharge so much of any such specified powers or duties as aforesaid as may be necessary for the actual remedying of any defect from which the emergency arises without serving any requisition on the givers of the notice: but in that case the undertakers shall, within twelve hours after they begin to exercise or discharge such powers or duties as aforesaid, give information thereof in writing to the givers of the notice.

(f) If the undertakers exercise or discharge any such specified powers or duties as aforesaid otherwise than in accordance with the provisions of this section, they shall be liable for each offence to a penalty not exceeding ten pounds, and to a daily penalty not exceeding five pounds: Provided that the undertakers shall not be subject to any such penalties as aforesaid if the court are of opinion that the case was one of emergency, and that the undertakers complied with the requirements of this section so far as was reasonable under the circumstances.

(g) All expenses properly incurred by the givers of the notice in complying with any requisition of the undertakers under this section shall be repaid to them by the undertakers, and may be recovered summarily.

(h) The givers of the notice may, if they think fit, require the undertakers where the local authority are not themselves the undertakers, to give them such security for the repayment to them of any expenses incurred or to be incurred by them under this section as may be determined in manner provided by this Schedule. If the undertakers fail to give any such security within seven days after being required to do so, or in case of difference after the difference has been determined by a court of summary jurisdiction, they shall not be entitled to serve any further requisition upon the givers of the notice requiring them to exercise or discharge any powers or duties under this section until the security has been duly given.

Provided that nothing in this section shall in any way affect the rights of the undertakers to exercise or discharge any powers or duties conferred or imposed upon them by special order or the principal Act in relation to the execution of any works beyond the actual breaking up, filling in, reinstating or making good any such street or part of a street, or any such bridges, sewers, drains, tunnels, or other works, or railway or tramway as in this section mentioned.

As to alteration of pipes, wires, etc., under streets.

(b) See s. 149 of the P. H. A., 1875, ante, p. 289, and Southwark and Vauxhall Water Co. v. Wandsworth District Board of Works, ante, p. 297.

Schedule.

(a) One month before commencing any such alterations the undertakers, or the body or person (as the case may be,) in this section referred to as the "operators," shall serve a notice upon the body or person for the time being entitled to the pipes, wires, electric lines, or works (as the case may be), in this section referred to as the "owners," describing the proposed alterations, together with a plan showing the manner in which it is intended that the alterations shall be made, and shall, upon being required to do so by any such owners, give them any such further information in relation thereto as they may desire.

(c) In settling any question under this section an arbitrator shall have regard to any duties or obligations which the owners may be under in respect of the pipes, wires, electric lines, or works, and may, if he thinks fit, require the operators to execute any temporary or other works, so as to avoid interference with any purpose for which the pipes, wires, electric lines, or works are used so far as possible.

(d) Where no such requisition as in this section mentioned is served upon the operators, the owners shall be held to have agreed to the notice or plan served on them as aforesaid, and in that case, or where, after any such requisition has been served upon them, any question required to be settled by arbitration has been so settled, the operators, upon paying or securing any compensation which they may be required to pay or secure, may cause the alterations specified in such notice and plan as aforesaid to be made, but subject in all respects to the provisions of the principal Act and the special order, and only in accordance with the notice and plan so served by them as aforesaid, or such modifications thereof respectively as may have been determined by arbitration as hereinbefore mentioned or as may be agreed upon between the parties.

(f) Where any such statement as last aforesaid has been served upon the operators, they shall, not more than forty-eight hours and not less than twenty-four hours before the execution of the alterations is required to be commenced, serve a notification upon the owners stating the time when the alterations are required to be commenced, and the manner in which the alterations are required to be made.

(g) Upon receipt of any such notification as last aforesaid, the owners may proceed to execute the alterations as required by the operators, subject to the like restrictions and conditions, so far as they are applicable, as the operators would themselves be subject to in executing the alterations.

(h) If the owners decline or, for twenty-four hours after the time when any such alterations are required to be commenced, neglect to comply with the notification, the operators may themselves proceed to execute the alterations in like manner as they might have done if no such statement as aforesaid had been served upon them.

(i) All expenses properly incurred by any owners in complying with any notification of any operators under this section shall be repaid to them by the operators, and may be recovered summarily.

(j) Any owners may, if they think fit, by any statement served by them under this section upon any operators, not being a local authority, require the operators to give them such security for the repayment to them of any expenses to be incurred by them in executing any alterations as above mentioned as may be determined in manner provided by the special order, and where any operators have been so required to give security, they shall not be entitled to serve a notification upon the owners requiring them to execute the alterations until the security has been duly given.

Laying of electric lines, etc., near sewers, etc., or gas or water pipes, or other electric lines.

18.—(1) Where the undertakers require to dig or sink any trench for laying down or constructing any new electric lines (other than service lines) or other works near to which any sewer, drain, watercourse, defence, or work under the jurisdiction or control of the local authority, or any main, pipe, syphon, electric line, or other work belonging to any gas, electric supply, or water company has been lawfully placed, or where any gas or water company require to dig or sink any trench for laying down or constructing any new mains or pipes (other than service pipes) or other works near to which any lines or works of the undertakers have been lawfully placed, the undertakers or the gas or water company (as the case may be), in this section referred to as the "operators," shall, unless it is otherwise agreed between the parties interested, or in case of a sudden emergency, give to the local authority or to the gas, electric supply, or water company, or to the undertakers (as the case may be), in this section referred to as the "owners," not less than three days' notice before commencing to dig or sink such trench as aforesaid, and those owners shall be entitled by their officer to superintend the work, and the operators shall conform with such reasonable requirements as may be made by the owners or the officer for protecting from injury every such sewer, drain, watercourse, defence, main, pipe, syphon, electric line, or work, and for securing access thereto, and they shall also, if required by the owners thereof, repair any damage that may be done thereto (a).

(2) Where the operators find it necessary to undermine but not alter the position of any pipe, electric line, or work, they shall temporarily support it in position during the execution of their works, and before completion provide a suitable and proper foundation for it where so undermined.

(3) Where the operators (being the undertakers) lay any electric line, crossing or liable to touch any mains, pipes, lines, or services belonging to any gas, electric supply, or water company, the conducting portion of the electric line shall be effectively insulated in a manner approved by the [Minister of Transport]; and the undertakers shall not, except with the consent of the gas, electric supply, or water company, as the case may be, and of the [Minister of Transport], lay their electric lines so as to come into contact with any such mains, pipes, lines, or services, or, except with the like consent, employ any such mains, pipes, lines, or services as conductors for the purposes of their supply of energy (b).

(4) Any question or difference which may arise under this section shall be determined by arbitration (c).

(a) For a case in which the Postmaster-General was held entitled to recover, under the provisions of a local tramway Act, for injury to a telephone cable through a leakage of electricity, see Postmaster-General v. Blackpool, etc. Tramroad Co., [1921] 1 K. B. 114; 37 T. L. R. 20. As to the effect of an agreement between a corporation and the National Telephone Company, whereby the company agreed to hold the corporation free from liability for damage to the wires of the company arising from the existence in the streets of the mains and services of the corporation, see Postmaster-General v. Liverpool Corporation, 86 J. P. 157; affirmed in H. of L., [1923] A. C. 587; 87 J. P. 157.

(c) As to appointment of arbitrator, see s. 28 of Electric Lighting Act, 1882, ante, p. 2452.

Schedule.

(5) If the operators make default in complying with any of the requirements of this section they shall make full compensation to all owners affected thereby for any loss, damage, penalty, or costs which they may incur by reason thereof; and in addition thereto they shall be liable for each default to a penalty not exceeding ten pounds, and to a daily penalty not exceeding five pounds (a): Provided that the operators shall not be subject to any such penalty if the court are of opinion that the case was one of emergency, and that the operators complied with the requirements of this section so far as was reasonable under the circumstances, or that the default in question was due to the fact that the operators were ignorant of the position of the sewer, drain, watercourse, defence, main, pipe, syphon, electric line, or work affected thereby, and that that ignorance was not owing to any negligence on the part of the operators.

(6) For the purposes of this section the expression "gas company" shall mean any body or person lawfully supplying gas; the expression "water company" shall mean any body or person lawfully supplying water or water power; and the expression "electric supply company" shall mean any body or person supplying energy in pursuance of the principal Act but not in pursuance of the special order.

(7) Where the local authority are themselves the undertakers, the references in this section to the local authority, and to sewers, drains, watercourses, defences, or works under the jurisdiction or control of that local authority, shall not apply.

For protection of railway and canal companies.

19. In the exercise of any of the powers of the special order relating to the execution of works, the undertakers shall not in any way injure the railways, tunnels, arches, works, or conveniences belonging to any railway or canal (b) company, nor obstruct or interfere with the working of the traffic passing along any railway or canal.

For protection of telegraphic and telephonic wires (c).

20.—(1) The undertakers shall take all reasonable precautions in constructing, laying down, and placing their electric lines and other works of all descriptions, and in working their undertaking so as not injuriously to affect, whether by induction or otherwise, the working of any wire or line used for the purpose of telegraphic, telephonic, or electric signalling communication, or the currents in that wire or line, whether that wire or line be or be not in existence at the time of the laying down or placing of the electric lines or other works.

If any question arises between the undertakers and the owner of any such wire or line as to whether the undertakers have constructed, laid down, or placed their electric lines or other works or worked their undertaking in contravention of this sub-section, and as to whether the working of that wire or line or the current therein is or is not injuriously affected thereby, that question shall be determined by arbitration; and the arbitrator (unless he is of opinion that the wire or line, not having been so in existence at such time as aforesaid, has been placed in unreasonable proximity to the electric lines or works of the undertakers) may direct the undertakers to make any alterations in, or additions to, their system, so as to comply with the provisions of this section, and the undertakers shall make those alterations or additions accordingly.

(2) Seven days before commencing to lay down or place any electric line, or to use any electric line in any manner whereby the work of telegraphic or telephonic or electric signalling communication through any wire or line lawfully laid down or placed in any position may be injuriously affected, the undertakers shall, unless otherwise agreed between the parties interested, give to the owner of the wire or line notice in writing specifying the course, nature and gauge of the electric line, and the manner in which the electric line is intended to be used, and the amount and nature of the currents intended to be transmitted thereby, and the extent to and manner in which (if at all) earth returns are proposed to be used; and any owner entitled to receive that notice may serve a requisition on the undertakers, requiring them to adopt such precautions as may be therein specified in regard to the laying, placing, or user of the electric line for the purpose of preventing the injurious affection; and the undertakers shall conform with such reasonable requirements as may be made by the owner for the purpose of preventing the communication through the wire or line from being injuriously affected as aforesaid.

(a) As to recovery of penalties, see s. 76, post, p. 2598. The offence of non-compliance with the requirements of the section is a continuing offence, and therefore s. 11 of the S. J. A., 1848, does not apply. The right to recover penalties is not barred by the reference to arbitration and the award (Chepstow Electric Light and Power Co. v. Chepstow Gas and Coke Consumers Co., [1905] 1 K. B. 198; 69 J. P. 72).

If any difference arises between any such owner and the undertakers with respect to the reasonableness of any requirements so made, that difference shall be determined by arbitration.

Provided that nothing in this sub-section shall apply to repairs or renewals of any electric line so long as the course, nature, and gauge of the electric line, and the amount and nature of the current transmitted thereby, are not altered.

(3) If in any case the undertakers make default in complying with the requirements of this section, they shall make full compensation to every such owner as aforesaid for any loss or damage which he may incur by reason thereof, and in addition thereto they shall be liable for each default to a penalty not exceeding five pounds, and to a daily penalty not exceeding forty shillings: Provided that the undertakers shall not be subject to any such penalty as aforesaid if the court are of opinion that the case was one of emergency and that the undertakers complied with the requirements of this section so far as was reasonable under the circumstances, or that the default was due to the fact that the undertakers were ignorant of the position of the wire or line affected thereby, and that that ignorance was not owing to any negligence on the part of the undertakers.

(4) Nothing in this section contained shall be held to deprive any owner of any existing rights to proceed against the undertakers by indictment, action, or otherwise, in relation to any of the matters aforesaid.

COMPULSORY WORKS.

Mains, etc., to be laid down in streets specified in special order and in remainder of area of supply.

21.—(1) The undertakers shall, within a period of two years after the commencement of the special order, lay down suitable and sufficient distributing mains for the purposes of general supply throughout every street or part of a street specified in that behalf in the special order, and shall thereafter maintain those mains.

(2) In addition to the mains hereinbefore specified the undertakers shall, at any time after the expiration of eighteen months after the commencement of the special order, lay down suitable and sufficient distributing mains for the purposes of general supply throughout every other street or part of a street within the area of supply, upon being required to do so in manner provided by the special order.

All such mains as last above mentioned (unless already laid down) shall be laid down by the undertakers within six months after any requisition in that behalf served upon them in accordance with the provisions of the special order has become binding upon them, or within such further time as may in any case be approved by the [Ministry of Transport].

(3) When any such requisition is made in respect of any street not repairable by the local authority, which the undertakers are not specially authorised to break up by the special order, the undertakers shall (unless the authority, or person by whom that street is repairable, consent to the breaking up thereof) forthwith apply to the [Ministry of Transport] under section thirteen of the Electric Lighting Act, 1882 (a), for the written consent of the [Minister] authorising and empowering the undertakers to break up that street, and the requisition shall not be binding upon them if the [Ministry of Transport] refuse their consent in that behalf.

As to laying of electric line under special agreement.

22. Where the local authority are not themselves the undertakers, the undertakers shall, twenty-eight days at least before commencing to lay in any street any electric line which is intended for supplying energy to any particular consumer, and not for the purposes of general supply, serve upon the local authority, and upon the owner or occupier of all premises abutting on so much of the street as lies between the points of origin and termination of the electric line so to be laid, a notice stating that the undertakers intend to lay the electric line, and setting forth the effect of this section, and if within that period any two or more of those owners or occupiers require in accordance with the provisions of the special order that a supply shall be given to their premises, the necessary distributing main shall be laid by the undertakers at the same time as the electric line intended for the particular consumer.

If undertakers fail to lay down mains, etc., order may be revoked.

23.—(1) If the undertakers, not being a local authority, make default in laying down any distributing mains in accordance with the provisions of the special order within the periods prescribed in that behalf respectively, they shall be liable for each default to a penalty not exceeding five pounds for each day during which the default continues, and if the [Ministry of Transport] are of opinion in any case that the default is wilful and unreasonably prolonged they may, after considering any representations of the local authority, deal with the special order in manner provided by this section.

(2) If the local authority are themselves the undertakers, and make default in laying down any distributing main in accordance with the provisions of the special order, within the periods prescribed in that behalf respectively, the [Ministry of Transport] may deal with the special order in manner provided by this section.

(3) Where the [Ministry of Transport] are authorised under this section to deal with a special order, they may either revoke the order as to the whole or any part of the area of supply, or, if the undertakers so desire, suffer it to remain in force as to that area or part thereof, subject to such conditions as they think fit to impose, and any conditions so imposed shall be binding on and observed by the undertakers, and shall be of the like force and effect in every respect as though they were contained in the special order: Provided that the [Ministry of Transport] shall not revoke the special order as to part only of the area of supply where the undertakers make a representation that they desire to be relieved of their liabilities as respects the rest of the area of supply, and in that case the [Ministry of Transport] shall not under this section revoke the special order otherwise than as to the whole of the area of supply.

Manner in which requisition is to be made.

24.—(1) Any requisition requiring the undertakers to lay down distributing mains for the purposes of general supply throughout any street or part of a street may be made by six or more owners or occupiers of premises along that street or part of a street, or, where the local authority are not themselves the undertakers and have the control and management of the public lamps in that street or part of a street, by the local authority.

(2) Every such requisition shall be signed by the persons making it, or by the local authority (as the case may be), and shall be served upon the undertakers.

(3) Forms of requisition shall be kept by the undertakers at their office, and a copy shall, on application, be supplied free of charge to any owner or occupier of premises within the area of supply and, where necessary, to the local authority, and any requisition so supplied shall be deemed valid in point of form.

Provisions on requisition by owners or occupiers.

25.—(1) Where any such requisition is made by any such owners or occupiers as aforesaid, the undertakers (if they think fit) may, within fourteen days after the service of the requisition upon them, serve a notice on all the persons by whom the requisition is signed, stating that they decline to be bound by the requisition unless those persons or some of them will bind themselves to take, or will guarantee that there shall be taken, a supply of energy for a period of three years at least, of such amount in the aggregate (to be specified by the undertakers in the notice) as will, at the rates of charge for the time being charged by the undertakers for a supply of energy from distributing mains to the ordinary consumers within the area of supply, produce annually such reasonable sum as is specified by the undertakers in the notice: Provided that in the notice the undertakers shall not, without the authority of the [Minister of Transport], specify any sum exceeding twenty per centum upon the expense of providing and laying down the required distributing mains and any other mains or additions to existing mains which may be necessary for the purpose of connecting those distributing mains with the nearest available source of supply.

(2) Where such a notice is served the requisition shall not be binding on the undertakers unless, within fourteen days after the service of the notice on all the persons signing the requisition has been effected, or in case of difference within fourteen days after the delivery of the arbitrator's award, there be tendered to the undertakers an agreement severally executed by those persons or some of them, binding them to take or guaranteeing that there shall be taken a supply of energy for a period of three years at the least of such amount as will in the aggregate at the rates of charge above specified produce an annual sum amounting to the sum specified in the notice or determined by arbitration under this section, nor unless sufficient security for the payment to the undertakers of all moneys which may become due to them from those persons under the agreement is offered to the undertakers (if required by them by such notice as aforesaid) within the period limited for the tender of the agreement as aforesaid.

(3) If the undertakers consider that the requisition is unreasonable, or that, under the circumstances of the case, the provisions of this section ought to be varied, they may, within fourteen days after the service of the requisition upon them, appeal to the [Minister of Transport], and [the Minister] after such inquiry (if any) as [he] think[s] fit, may, by order, either determine that the requisition is unreasonable, and shall not be binding upon the undertakers, or may authorise the undertakers by their notice to require a supply of energy to be taken for such longer period than three years, and to specify such sum or percentage, whether calculated as hereinbefore provided or otherwise, as is fixed or directed by the order, and the terms of the abovementioned agreement shall be varied accordingly.

(4) In case of any appeal to the [Minister of Transport] under this section, any notice by the undertakers under this section may be served by them within fourteen days after the decision of the [Minister of Transport].

Provisions on requisition by local authority.

26. Where any such requisition is made by the local authority it shall not be binding on the undertakers, unless at the time when the service is effected, or within fourteen days thereafter, there be tendered to the undertakers (if required by them) an agreement executed by the local authority, and binding them to take for a period of three years at the least a supply of energy for lighting such public lamps in the street or part of a street in respect of which the requisition is made as may be under their management or control.

SUPPLY (a).

Undertakers to furnish sufficient supply of energy to owners and occupiers within the area of supply.

27.—(1) The undertakers shall, upon being required to do so by the owner or occupier of any premises situate within fifty yards from any distributing main of the undertakers in which they are, for the time being, required to maintain or are maintaining a supply of energy for the purposes of general supply to private consumers under the special order or the [Ministry of Transport] regulations, give and continue to give a supply of energy for those premises in accordance with the provisions of the special order and of the said regulations, and they shall furnish and lay any electric lines (b) that may be necessary for the purpose of supplying the maximum power with

(a) See also as to the application of this section to lines across railways, etc., the Electricity (Supply) Act, 1919, s. 22, post, p. 2795. Undertakers were under a contract to supply light to the inhabitants of a district and to the streets, public places and private property therein, and in order to carry out the undertaking to do certain specified things and to provide everything which might be necessary whether specified or not for the purpose of supplying electric light to the street lamps. In consideration of these requirements the appellants who were consumers were bound to pay " at such rates as will yield to the contractors a return equal to 10 per cent. over the actual cost of generating the light." It was held that the words " generating the light " covered the whole series of operations leading up to the production of light in the lamps and the " actual cost " included depreciation of plant, rent, rates, taxes and insurance (Bulawayo Municipality v. Bulawayo Waterworks Co., Ltd., [1908] A. C. 241).

Schedule. which any such owner or occupier is entitled to be supplied under the special order subject to the conditions following: (that is to say,)—

The cost of so much of any electric line for the supply of energy to any owner or occupier as may be laid upon the property of that owner or in the possession of that occupier, and of so much of any such electric lines as it may be necessary to lay for a greater distance than sixty feet from any distributing main of the undertakers, although not on that property, shall, if the undertakers so require be defrayed by that owner or occupier.

(2) Every owner or occupier of premises requiring a supply of energy shall—

(a) Serve a notice upon the undertakers specifying the premises in respect of which the supply is required and the maximum power required to be supplied, and the day (not being an earlier day than a reasonable time after the date of the service of the notice) upon which the supply is required to commence; and

(b) If required by the undertakers, enter into a written contract with them to continue to receive and pay for a supply of energy for a period of at least two years of such an amount that the payment to be made for the supply, at the rate of charge for the time being charged by the undertakers for a supply of energy to ordinary consumers within the area of supply, shall not be less than twenty per centum per annum on the outlay incurred by the undertakers in providing any electric lines required under this section to be provided by them for the purpose of the supply, and if required by the undertakers give to them security for the payment to them of all moneys which may become due to them by the owner or occupier in respect of any electric lines to be furnished by the undertakers, and in respect of energy to be supplied by them (a).

(4) Provided also, that if the owner or occupier of any such premises as aforesaid uses any form of lamp or burner, or uses the energy supplied to him by the undertakers for any purposes, or deals with it in any manner so as to interfere unduly or improperly with the efficient supply of energy to any other body or person by the undertakers, the undertakers may, if they think fit, discontinue to supply energy to those premises so long as the lamp or burner is so used, or the energy is so used or dealt with.

(5) Provided also, that the undertakers shall not be compelled to give a supply of energy to any premises unless they are reasonably satisfied that the electric lines, fittings, and apparatus therein are in good order and condition, and not calculated to affect injuriously the use of energy by the undertakers or by other persons.

(6) If any difference arises under this section as to any improper use of energy or as to any alleged defect in any electric lines, fittings, or apparatus, that difference shall be determined by arbitration.

Clarke's Settlement, [1902] 2 Ch. 327); see also Re Blagrave's Settled Estates (1902), 87 L. T. 62. For a case in which undertakers were held liable for injury resulting to a workman owing to a live wire being left upon premises when they had previously disconnected the installation, see Wheeler v. Marylebone Corporation (1910), 32 M. C. C. 223.

(a) Where an owner who had complied with all the statutory conditions demanded a supply it was held that the undertaker could not successfully set up by way of defence to an information that certain trade unions would not permit the work to be done and that they were prevented by force majeure from providing a supply (Hackney B. C. v. Dore, [1922] 1 K. B. 431; 86 J. P. 45). As to the liability of the members of an electricity committee of a council for failure to supply during the general strike, see Scammell & Nephew, Ltd. v. Hurley, [1929] 1 K. B. 419; 93 J. P. 99. As to persons requiring a stand-by supply, see s. 23, Electricity (Supply) Act, 1919.

(b) See also the power of refusing a supply given by s. 18, Electric Lighting Act, 1909.

Maximum power.

28.—(1) The maximum power with which any consumer shall be entitled to be supplied shall be of such amount as he may require to be supplied with, not exceeding what may be reasonably anticipated as the maximum consumption on his premises: Provided that where any consumer has required the undertakers to supply him with a maximum power of any specified amount he shall not be entitled to alter that maximum except upon one month's notice to the undertakers, and any expenses reasonably incurred by the undertakers in respect of the service lines by which energy is supplied to the premises of that consumer, or any fittings or apparatus of the undertakers upon those premises, consequent upon the alteration, shall be paid by him to the undertakers, and may be recovered summarily as a civil debt.

(2) If any difference arises between any such owner or occupier and the undertakers as to what may be reasonably anticipated as the consumption on his premises or as to the reasonableness of any expenses under this section, that difference shall be determined by arbitration.

Supply of energy to public lamps.

29. Where the local authority are not themselves the undertakers, the undertakers shall, upon receiving reasonable notice from the local authority requiring them to supply energy to any public lamps within the distance of seventy-five yards from any distributing main of the undertakers in which they are for the time being required to maintain a current of energy for the purposes of general supply under the special order, or the [Ministry of Transport] regulations, give and continue to give a supply of energy to those lamps in such quantities as the local authority may require to be supplied.

Penalty for failure to supply (a).

30.—(1) Whenever the undertakers make default in supplying energy to any owner or occupier of premises to whom they may be and are required to supply energy under the special order, they shall be liable in respect of each default to a penalty not exceeding forty shillings for each day on which the default occurs.

(2) Where the local authority are not themselves the undertakers, and the undertakers make default in supplying energy to the public lamps to which they may be and are required to supply energy under the special order, the undertakers shall be liable in respect of each default to a penalty not exceeding forty shillings for each lamp, and for each day on which the default occurs.

(3) Whenever the undertakers made default in supplying energy in accordance with the terms of the [Ministry of Transport] regulations they shall be liable to such penalties as are prescribed by the regulations in that behalf.

(4) Provided that the penalties to be inflicted on the undertakers under this section shall in no case exceed in the aggregate in respect of any defaults not being wilful defaults on the part of the undertakers the sum of fifty pounds for any one day, and provided also that in no case shall any penalty be inflicted in respect of any default if the court are of opinion that the default was caused by inevitable accident or force majeure or was of so slight or unimportant a character as not materially to affect the value of the supply (b).

PRICE (c).

Methods of charging.

31.—(1) The undertakers may charge for energy supplied by them to any ordinary consumer (otherwise than by agreement)—

(a) See Clegg, Parkinson & Co. v. Earby Gas Co., ante, p. 2324. But this section only applies in the case of consumers to whom the undertakers are bound to make a supply. In the case of other consumers supplied by special agreement an action is maintainable for breach of the agreement (Morris and Bastert v. Loughborough Corporation, [1908] 1 K. B. 205; 71 J. P. 521). An injunction was granted to restrain a corporation from discontinuing or curtailing a supply under an agreement owing to increased cost of production (Taylor v. West Bromwich Corporation (1916), 38 M. C. C. 13).

(b) As to what amounts to force majeure within the meaning of this clause, see Hackney B. C. v. Doré, ante, p. 2586. Where a corporation had made an agreement for the supply of energy for power purposes, an interim injunction was granted to restrain them from discontinuing or curtailing the supply on the ground of the enhanced cost of production consequent on the war (Taylor v. West Bromwich Corporation (1916), 38 M. C. C. 13). And see note (c), post, p. 2588.

(c) See the Electric Lighting Act, 1882, ss. 19–21, ante, pp. 2449—2450, and notes, and s. 42, Electricity (Supply) Act, 1926, post, p. 2933. Orders authorising municipal electrical undertakings now frequently contain what is known as the Bermondsey clause. See The Times, June 29th, 1904.

Schedule.

(1) By the actual amount of energy so supplied; or

(2) By the electrical quantity contained in the supply; or

(3) By such other method as may for the time being be approved by the [Minister of Transport].

(2) . . . (a).

(3) Provided also, that before commencing to supply energy through any distributing main for the purposes of general supply, the undertakers shall, if the local authority are not themselves the undertakers, give notice to the local authority, and, if the local authority are themselves the undertakers, by public advertisement, by what method they propose to charge for energy supplied through that main; and, where the undertakers have given any such notice, they shall not be entitled to change that method of charging except after one month's notice of the change has been given by them, if the local authority are not themselves the undertakers to the local authority, and in any case to every consumer of energy who is supplied by them from the main.

Maximum prices.

32.—(1) The prices to be charged by the undertakers for energy supplied by them shall not exceed those stated in that behalf in the special order or in the case of a method of charge approved by the [Minister of Transport], such price as the [Minister of Transport] determine[s] on approving the method.

(2) (b) Provided that if, in a case where the local authority are not themselves the undertakers, either the local authority or the undertakers, at any time after the expiration of seven years after the commencement of the special order, make a representation to the [Minister of Transport] that the prices or methods of charge stated in the special order or approved by the [Minister of Transport] ought to be altered, the [Ministry of Transport], after such inquiry as they may think fit, may make an order varying the prices or methods of charge stated in the special order or so approved as aforesaid, or substituting other prices or methods of charge in lieu thereof, and the prices or methods of charge so varied or substituted shall have effect on and after such day as may be mentioned in the order, as if they had been stated in the special order: Provided also that the prices and methods of charge for the time being in force may be altered in like manner at any time after the expiration of any or every period of seven years after they were last altered.

Other charges by agreement.

33. Subject to the provisions of the special order and of the principal Act, and to the right of the consumer to require that he shall be charged according to some one or other of the methods above mentioned, the undertakers may make any agreement with a consumer as to the price to be charged for energy, and the mode in which those charges are to be ascertained, and may charge accordingly (c).

Price to public lamps.

(b) A new sub-section making three years the ordinary period of revision of prices and allowing representations by undertakers, consumers, local authorities not undertakers and in certain cases in the county of London the London County Council has been substituted for this sub-section by s. 22 (2), Electricity Supply Act, 1922. The new provision is set out at p. 2848, post.

(c) If persons who are not entitled to require a supply under the Act make an agreement with the undertakers for a supply of electrical energy, they may bring an action against the undertakers to recover damages for an alleged breach of the agreement, there being no clear words in the statute confining the remedy to proceedings to recover a penalty under clause 30, ante p. 1823 (Morris and Bastert, Ltd. v. Loughborough Corporation, [1908] 1 K. B. 205; 71 J. P. 521). See also Taylor v. West Bromwich Corporation, ante, p. 2587.

As to stamp duty, see the Electric Lighting Act, 1909, s. 19, post, p. 2701.

ELECTRIC INSPECTORS.

Appointment of electric inspectors.

35.—(1) The local authority, so long as they are not themselves the undertakers, and, while the local authority are themselves the undertakers, the [Minister of Health], on the application of any consumer or of the undertakers, may appoint and keep appointed, one or more competent and impartial person or persons to be electric inspectors under the special order (a).

(2) If, in a case where the local authority are not themselves the undertakers, no electric inspector is appointed by the local authority, or the inspection of electric lines and works is imperfectly attended to by the local authority, or the local authority themselves become the undertakers for the purposes of the special order, the [Minister of Transport], on the application of any consumer, or of the undertakers, may appoint and keep appointed, one or more competent and impartial person or persons to be electric inspectors under the special order.

Duties of electric inspectors.

36.—(1) The duties of an electric inspector under the special order shall be as follows :—

(a) The inspection and testing, periodically and in special cases, of the undertakers' electric lines and works and the supply of energy given by them ;

(b) The certifying and examination of meters : and

(c) Such other duties in relation to the undertaking as may be required of him under the provisions of the special order or of the [Ministry of Transport] regulations.

(2) The local authority, with the approval of the [Minister of Transport], or the [Minister of Transport], if the inspector is appointed by [him], may prescribe the manner in which and the times at which any such duties are to be performed by an electric inspector, and also the fees to be taken by him, and those fees shall be accounted for and applied as may be directed by the local authority or the [Minister of Transport], as the case may be.

Remuneration of electric inspectors.

37.—(1) The local authority may pay to any electric inspector appointed by them under the special order such reasonable remuneration (if any) as they may determine, and that remuneration may be in addition to, or in substitution for, any fees directed to be paid to electric inspectors in respect of their duties under the special order or the [Ministry of Transport] regulations, according as the local authority determine.

(2) Where the local authority are themselves the undertakers, they shall pay to every electric inspector appointed under the provisions of the special order such reasonable remuneration (if any) as may be determined by the [Minister of Transport], and that remuneration may be in addition to, or in substitution for, any fees which are directed to be paid to electric inspectors for services rendered by them under the special order or the [Ministry of Transport] regulations, as may be settled by [the Minister]; and where any such remuneration is settled to be in substitution for fees, any fees payable by any party other than the undertakers, shall, in lieu of being paid to the electric inspector for his own use, be due and paid to him on behalf and for the use of the undertakers, and shall be carried by them to the credit of the local rate.

Notice of accidents and inquiries by [Minister of Transport].

38.—(1) The undertakers shall send to the [Minister of Transport] notice of any accident by explosion, or fire, and also of any other accident of such kind as to have caused, or to be likely to have caused, loss of life, or personal injury which has occurred in any part of the undertakers' works or their circuits, or in connection with those works or circuits, and also notice of any loss of life or personal injury occasioned by any such accident. The notice shall be sent by the earliest practicable post after the accident occurs, or, as the case may be, after the loss of life or personal injury becomes known to the undertakers (b).

(a) Where a dispute arises between the undertakers and a consumer as to whether a meter is not in proper order for correctly registering the amount of electricity supplied such dispute is to be determined under clause 57, post, by the inspector appointed under the clause. If no inspector has been appointed, no cause of action arises against the consumer for electricity supplied (Hendon Electric Supply Co. v. Banks (1917), 87 L. J. K. B. 790; 82 J. P. 228).

Schedule.

If the undertakers fail to comply with the provisions of this sub-section they shall be liable, for each default, to a penalty not exceeding twenty pounds.

(2) The [Minister of Transport] may also, if [he] deem[s] it necessary, appoint any electric inspector or other fit person to inquire and report as to the cause of any accident affecting the safety of the public, which may have been occasioned by or in connection with the undertakers' works, whether notice of the accident has or has not been received from the undertakers, or as to the manner and extent in and to which the provisions of the special order and the principal Act, and of the [Ministry of Transport] regulations, so far as those provisions affect the safety of the public, have been complied with by the undertakers; and any person appointed under this section, not being an electric inspector, shall for the purposes of his appointment have all the powers of an electric inspector under the special order.

TESTING AND INSPECTION.

Testing of mains.

39. On the occasion of the testing of any main of the undertakers reasonable notice thereof shall be given to the undertakers by the electric inspector, and the testing shall be carried out at such suitable hours as, in the opinion of the inspector, will least interfere with the supply of energy by the undertakers, and in such manner as the inspector thinks expedient, but, except under the provisions of an order made in each case in that behalf by the [Minister of Transport], he shall not be entitled to have access to or interfere with the mains of the undertakers at any points other than those at which the undertakers have reserved for themselves access to the said mains: Provided that the undertakers shall not be held responsible for any interruption in the supply of energy which may be occasioned by or required by the inspector for the purpose of any such testing as aforesaid. Provided also that the testings shall not be made in regard to any particular portion of a main oftener than once in any three months, unless in pursuance of an order made in each case in that behalf by the [Minister of Transport].

Testing of works and supply on consumer's premises.

40. An electric inspector, if and when required to do so by any consumer, shall, on payment by the consumer of the prescribed fee, test the variation of electric pressure at the consumer's terminals, or make such other inspection and testing of the service lines, apparatus, and works of the undertakers upon the consumer's premises as may be necessary for the purpose of determining whether the undertakers have complied with the provisions of the special order and the [Ministry of Transport] regulations.

Undertakers, not being local authority, to establish testing stations.

41.—(1) Where the local authority are not themselves the undertakers, the undertakers shall at such places, within a reasonable distance from a distributing main, establish at their own cost and keep in proper condition such reasonable number of testing stations, as the local authority think proper and sufficient for testing the supply of energy by the undertakers through the main, and shall place thereat proper and suitable instruments of a pattern to be approved by the [Minister of Transport], and shall connect those stations by means of proper and sufficient electric lines with the mains, and supply energy thereto for the purpose of the testing.

(2) If any dispute arises between the local authorities and the undertakers as to whether the number of the testing stations and the distance from the main at which they are established is reasonable or excesssive, or as to any excessive or improper use of energy for the testing, or as to the performance by the undertakers of their duties under this section, that dispute shall be determined by arbitration.

(3) Where the local authority are themselves the undertakers, a court of summary jurisdiction may upon the application of any ten consumers direct the undertakers, at their own cost, to establish at such places, within a reasonable distance from a distributing main, and keep in proper condition, such reasonable number of testing stations, as the court think proper and sufficient for testing the supply of energy by the undertakers through the main, and thereupon (a) the undertakers shall establish such testing places, and provide thereat such proper and suitable instruments of a pattern to be approved by the [Minister of Transport] as the court direct, and they shall connect those stations by means of proper and sufficient electric lines with the mains, and supply energy thereto for the purpose of the testing.

Schedule.

Undertakers to keep instruments on their premises.

42. The undertakers shall set up and keep upon all premises from which they supply energy by any distributing mains such suitable and proper instruments of such pattern and construction as may be approved or prescribed by the [Minister of Transport], and shall take and record, and keep recorded, such observations as the [Minister of Transport] may prescribe, and any observations so recorded shall be receivable in evidence.

Readings of instruments to be taken.

43.—(1) The undertakers shall keep in efficient working order all instruments which they are required by or under the special order to place, set up, or keep at any testing station or on their own premises, and any electric inspector appointed under the special order may examine and record the readings of those instruments, and any readings so recorded shall be receivable in evidence.

(2) Where the local authority are not themselves the undertakers, the examinations and readings under this section must be made at such times and in such manner as may be directed by the authority by whom the inspector is appointed.

Electric inspector may test undertakers' instruments.

44. Any electric inspector appointed under the special order shall have the right to have access at all reasonable hours to the testing stations and premises of the undertakers for the purpose of testing the electric lines and instruments of the undertakers, and ascertaining if they are in order, and in case they are not in order he may require the undertakers forthwith to have them put in order.

Representation of undertakers at testings.

45. The undertakers may, if they think fit, on each occasion of the testing of any main or service line, or the testing or inspection of any instruments of the undertakers by any electric inspector, be represented by some officer or other agent, but that officer or agent shall not interfere with the testing or inspection.

Undertakers to give facilities for testing.

46. The undertakers shall afford all facilities for the proper execution of the special order with respect to inspection and testing and the readings and inspection of instruments, and shall comply with all the requirements of or under the special order in that behalf; and in case the undertakers make default in complying with any of the provisions of this section they shall be liable in respect of each default to a penalty not exceeding five pounds, and to a daily penalty not exceeding one pound.

Report of results of testing.

47.—(1) Every electric inspector shall, on the day immediately following that on which any testing has been completed by him under the special order, make and deliver a report of the results of his testing to the authority or person by whom he was required to make the testing, and to the undertakers, and that report shall be receivable in evidence.

(2) If the undertakers or any such authority or person are or is dissatisfied with any report of any electric inspector, they or he may appeal to the [Minister of Transport] against the report, and thereupon the [Minister of Transport] shall inquire into and decide upon the matter of the appeal, and [his] decision shall be final and binding on all parties.

Expenses of electric inspector.

48.—(1) Save as otherwise provided by the special order or by the [Ministry of Transport] regulations, all fees and reasonable expenses (a) of an electric inspector shall, unless agreed be ascertained by a court of summary jurisdiction, or (where the inspector is appointed by them) by the [Minister of Transport], and shall be paid by the undertakers, and if a local authority are the undertakers may be recovered summarily as a civil debt (b).

(2) Provided that where the report of an electric inspector, or the decision of the [Minister of Transport], shows that any consumer was guilty of any default or negligence, the fees and expenses shall, on being ascertained as above mentioned, be paid by the consumer as the court or the [Minister], by whom the fees are ascertained, having regard to the report or decision, direct, and may be recovered summarily as a civil debt.

(a) That is, expenses specifically incurred by an electric inspector in making tests and inspections, but not salary appointed to him, nor the general expenses of his laboratory and staff (Crawford v. City of London Electric Lighting Co. (1899), 67 L. J. Q. B. 942; 78 L. T. 841); and compare s. 49 of the City of London Electric Lighting Order, 1899, confirmed by 62 & 63 Vict. c. cclxxv.

(3) Provided also, that in any proceedings for penalties under the special order the fees and expenses of an electric inspector incurred in connection with the proceedings shall be payable by the complainant or defendant as the court direct.

METERS.

Meters to be used except by agreement.

49 (a). The amount of energy supplied by the undertakers to any ordinary consumer under the special order, or the electrical quantity contained in the supply (according to the method by which the undertakers elect to charge), hereinafter referred to as "the value of the supply," shall, except as otherwise agreed (b) between the consumer and the undertakers, be ascertained by means of an appropriate meter duly certified under the provisions of the special order.

Meter to be certified.

50 (a). A meter shall be considered to be duly certified under the provisions of the special order if it be certified by an electric inspector appointed under the special order to be a correct meter, and to be of some construction and pattern, and to have been fixed and to have been connected with the service lines in some manner approved by the [Minister of Transport], and every such meter is hereinafter referred to as a "certified meter": Provided that where any alteration is made in any certified meter, or where any meter is unfixed or disconnected from the service lines, that meter shall cease to be a certified meter unless and until it is again certified as a certified meter under the provisions of the special order.

Inspector to certfy meter.

51 (a). An electric inspector, on being required to do so by the undertakers or by any consumer, and on payment of the prescribed fee (c) by the party so requiring him, shall examine any meter intended for ascertaining the value of the supply, and shall certify it as a certified meter if he considers it entitled to be so certified.

Undertakers to supply meters if required to do so.

52. Where the value of the supply is under the special order required to be ascertained by means of an appropriate meter, the undertakers shall, if required by any consumer, supply him with an appropriate meter, and shall, if required, fix it upon the premises of the consumer and connect the service lines therewith and procure the meter to be duly certified under the provisions of the special order, and for those purposes may authorise and empower any officer or person to enter upon the premises at all reasonable times and execute all necessary works and do all necessary acts; provided that previously to supplying any such meter the undertakers may require the consumer to pay to them a reasonable sum in respect of the price of the meter, or to give security therefor, or (if he desires to hire the meter) may require him to enter into an agreement for the hire of the meter as hereinafter provided.

Meters not to be connected or disconnected without notice.

53 (a). No consumer shall connect any meter used or to be used under the special order for ascertaining the value of the supply with any electric line through which energy is supplied by the undertakers, or disconnect any such meter from any such electric line, unless he has given to the undertakers not less than forty-eight hours' notice in writing of his intention to do so, and if any person acts in contravention of this section he shall be liable for each offence to a penalty not exceeding forty shillings.

Consumer to keep his meter in proper order.

54.—(1) Every consumer shall at all times at his own expense keep all meters belonging to him (d), whereby the value of the supply is to be acertained, in proper order for correctly registering the value, and in default of his so doing the undertakers may cease to supply energy through the meter.

(2) The undertakers shall have access to and be at liberty to take off, remove, test, inspect, and replace any such meter at all reasonable times. Provided that all reasonable expenses of and incident to any such taking off, removing, testing, inspecting, and replacing, and the procuring the meter to be again duly certified where the re-certifying is thereby rendered necessary, shall, if the meter is found to be not in proper order, be paid by the consumer, but if it is found to be in proper order all expenses connected therewith shall be paid by the undertakers.

Power to the undertakers to let meters.

55. The undertakers may let for hire any meter for ascertaining the value of the supply, and any fittings thereto, for such remuneration in money and on such terms with respect to the repair of the meter and fittings, and for securing the safety and return to the undertakers of the meter and fittings, as may be agreed upon between the hirer and the undertakers, or, in case of difference, determined by the [Minister of Transport], and that remuneration shall be recoverable by the undertakers summarily as a civil debt (a).

Undertakers to keep meters let for hire in repair.

56. The undertakers shall, unless the agreement for hire otherwise provides, at all times, at their own expense, keep all meters let for hire by them to any consumer, whereby the value of the supply is ascertained, in proper order for correctly registering that value, and in default of their doing so the consumer shall not be liable to pay rent for the meters during such time as the default continues. The undertakers shall, for the purposes aforesaid, have access to and be at liberty to remove, test, inspect, and replace any such meter at all reasonable times: Provided that the expense of procuring any such meter to be again duly certified, where that re-certifying is thereby rendered necessary, shall be paid by the undertakers.

Differences as to correctness of meter to be settled by inspector.

57. If any difference arises between any consumer and the undertakers as to whether any meter, whereby the value of the supply is ascertained (whether belonging to the consumer or to the undertakers), is or is not in proper order for correctly registering the value, or as to whether that value has been correctly registered in any case by any meter, that difference shall be determined upon the application of either party by an electric inspector or, where the local authority are the consumers, by an inspector to be appointed by the [Minister of Transport], and that inspector shall also order by which of the parties the costs of and incidental to the proceedings before him shall be paid, and the decision of the inspector shall be final and binding on all parties (b).

Subject as aforesaid, the register of the meter shall be conclusive evidence (c) in the absence of fraud of the value of the supply.

Undertakers to pay expenses of providing new meters where method of charge altered.

58. Where any consumer who is supplied with energy by the undertakers from any distributing main is provided with a certified meter for the purpose of ascertaining the value of the supply and the undertakers change the method of charging for energy supplied by them from the main, the undertakers shall pay to that consumer the reasonable expenses to which he may be put in providing a new meter for the purpose of ascertaining the value of the supply according to the new method of charging, and those expenses may be recovered by the consumer from the undertakers summarily as a civil debt (d).

Undertakers may place meters to measure supply or to check measurement.

59. In addition to any meter which may be placed upon the premises of any consumer to ascertain the value of the supply, the undertakers may place upon his premises such meter or other apparatus as they may desire for the purpose of ascertaining or regulating either the amount of energy supplied to the consumer or the number of hours during which the supply is given, or the maximum power taken by the consumer, or any other quantity or time connected with the supply: Provided that the meter or apparatus shall be of some construction and pattern and shall be fixed and connected with the service lines in some manner approved by the [Minister of Transport], and shall be supplied and maintained entirely at the cost of the undertakers, and shall not, except by agreement, be placed otherwise than between the mains of the undertakers' and consumer's terminals.

(a) That is, under ss. 6 and 35 of the S. J. A., 1879.

(b) If no Inspector has been appointed the undertakers cannot in case of dispute recover the value of electricity consumed. See Hendon Electric Supply Co. v. Banks, ante, p. 2589.

(c) Compare the Gasworks Clauses Act, 1871, s. 20, ante, p. 2302, as to registers of gas meters.

(d) That is, under ss. 6 and 35 of the S. J. A., 1879.

MAPS.

Map of area of supply to be made.

60.—(1) The undertakers shall forthwith after commencing to supply energy under the special order cause a map to be made of the area of supply, and shall cause to be marked thereon the line and depth below the surface of all their then existing mains, service lines, and other underground works and street boxes, and shall once in every year cause that map to be duly corrected so as to show the then existing lines. The undertakers shall also, if so required by the [Minister of Transport] or the Postmaster-General, cause to be made sections showing the level of all their existing mains and underground works other than service lines. The said map and sections shall be made on such scale or scales as the [Minister of Transport] prescribe.

(3) The undertakers shall, if required by the [Minister of Transport] or the Postmaster-General, or, where the local authority are not themselves the undertakers, by the local authority, supply to them or him a copy of any such map or section and cause that copy to be duly corrected so as to agree with the original or originals thereof as kept for the time being at the office of the undertakers.

(4) If the undertakers fail to comply with any of the requirements of this section they shall for each default be liable to a penalty not exceeding ten pounds, and to a daily penalty not exceeding two pounds.

NOTICES, ETC.

Notices, etc., may be printed or written.

61. Notices, orders, and other documents under the special order may be in writing or in print, or partly in writing and partly in print, and where any notice, order, or document requires authentication by the local authority, the signature thereof by the clerk or surveyor to the local authority shall be sufficient authentication.

Service of notices, etc.

62.—(1) Any notice, order, or document required or authorised to be served upon any body or person under the special order or the principal Act may be served by being addressed to that body or person, and being left or transmitted through the post to the following addresses respectively:

(a) in the case of the [Minister of Transport], the [Ministry of Transport].
(b) in the case of the Postmaster-General, the General Post Office:
(c) in the case of any county council, the office of that council;
(d) in the case of any local authority, the office of that local authority;
(e) in the case of the undertakers, where the undertakers are not a local authority, the registered office of the undertakers;
(f) in the case of a company having a registered office, at that registered office, and in the case of a company having an office or offices, but no registered office, the principal office of that company;
(g) in the case of any other person, the usual or last-known place of abode of that person.

(2) A notice, order, or document by this Schedule required or authorised to be served on the owner or occupier of any premises shall be deemed to be properly addressed if addressed by the description of the "owner" or "occupier" of the premises (naming the premises) without further name or description.

(3) A notice, order, or document by the special order required or authorised to be served on the owner or occupier of premises may be served by delivering it, or a true copy thereof, to some person on the premises, or, if there is no person on the premises to whom the same can with reasonable diligence be delivered, by fixing it on some conspicuous part of the premises.

Schedule.

(4) Subject to the provisions of the special order as to cases of emergency, where the interval of time between the service of any notice or document under the provisions of the special order and the execution of any works, or the performance of any duty or act, is less than seven days, the following days shall not be reckoned in the computation of that time: that is to say, Sunday, Christmas Day, Good Friday, any bank holiday under and within the meaning of the Bank Holiday Act, 1871, and any Act amending that Act, and any day appointed for public fast, humiliation, or thanksgiving.

34 & 35 Vict. c. 17.

REVOCATION OF SPECIAL ORDER.

Revocation of order where undertakers are insolvent.

63. If the [Minister of Transport], in any case where a local authority are not the undertakers, at any time after the commencement of the special order, have reason to believe that the undertakers have made any default in executing works or supplying energy in accordance with the provisions of that order, and that that default is in consequence of the insolvency of the undertakers, and that by reason of that insolvency the undertakers are unable fully and efficiently to discharge the duties and obligations imposed upon them by that order, the [Minister of Transport] may after such inquiry as they may think necessary, and after considering any representations of the local authority, revoke that order as to the whole or (with the consent of the undertakers) as to any part of the area of supply.

Revocation of order where undertaking cannot be carried on with profit.

64. If in any case where a local authority are not the undertakers, the undertakers at any time after the commencement of the special order represent to the [Minister of Transport] that the undertaking cannot be carried on with profit, and ought to be abandoned, the [Minister of Transport] shall inquire into the truth of the representation, and if upon that inquiry they are satisfied of the truth of the representation they may, if in their discretion they think fit, revoke the special order as to the whole or (with the consent of the undertakers and of the local authority) as to any part of the area of supply.

Revocation where local authority are undertakers and works are not executed.

65. If in a case where the local authority are themselves the undertakers, the [Minister of Transport], at any time after the commencement of the special order, have reason to believe that the undertakers have made default in executing works or supplying energy in accordance with the provisions of the special order, the [Minister of Transport] may, after such inquiry as they may think necessary, revoke the special order as to the whole or (with the consent of the undertakers) any part of the area of supply upon such terms as the [Minister of Transport] think just.

Revocation of order with consent.

66. In addition to any other powers which the [Minister of Transport] may have in that behalf, they may revoke the special order at any time with the consent and concurrence of the undertakers, and, where the local authority are not themselves the undertakers, also of the local authority upon such terms as the [Minister of Transport] think just.

Provisions where order revoked.

67. If the [Minister of Transport], in any case where the local authority are not themselves the undertakers, at any time revoke the special order as to the whole or any part of the area of supply, under any of the provisions of the special order, the following provisions shall have effect:

(a) The [Minister of Transport] shall serve a notice of the revocation upon the undertakers and upon the local authority, and shall in that notice fix a date at which the revocation shall take effect, and from and after that date all the powers and liabilities of the undertakers under the special order or this Act, for the supply of energy within such area, or part thereof as aforesaid, shall absolutely cease and determine.

(b) Within two months after the service of the notice by the [Minister of Transport] upon the local authority, the local authority, if they think fit, may by notice in writing require the undertakers to sell, and thereupon the undertakers shall sell, to them so much of the undertaking or such part thereof as aforesaid as is within the district of the local authority, upon terms of paying the then value of all land, buildings, works, materials, and plant of the undertakers suitable to and used by them for the purposes of the undertaking or such part thereof as aforesaid, that value being agreed or estimated in manner directed by the Electric Lighting Act, 1888, in the case of purchases effected by the local authority under section two of that Act (a).

If the undertakers fail to pay such reasonable costs as aforesaid within one month after the service upon them of the notice, or the delivery of the award of the arbitrator (as the case may be) the local authority, or other such body or person as aforesaid may, without any previous notice to the undertakers (but without prejudice to any other remedy which they may have for the recovery of the amount), sell and dispose of any such works as aforesaid, either by public auction or private sale, and for such sum or sums and to such person or persons as they may think fit; and may, out of the proceeds of the sale, pay and reimburse themselves the amount of the costs so specified or settled as aforesaid and of the costs of sale and the balance (if any) of the proceeds of the sale shall be paid over by them to the undertakers.

Provisions where local authority are undertakers and order is revoked.

68.—(1) If the [Minister of Transport], in a case where the local authority are themselves the undertakers, at any time revoke the special order as to the whole or any part of the area of supply, any persons who may be liable to repair any street or part of a street within that area or part thereof in which any works of the undertakers have been placed, may forthwith remove those works with all reasonable care, and the undertakers shall pay to those persons such reasonable costs of the removal as are specified in a notice to be served on the undertakers by those persons, or if so required by the undertakers within one week after the service of the notice upon them as may be determined by arbitration.

(2) If the undertakers fail to pay such reasonable costs as aforesaid within one month after the service upon them of such notice or the delivery of the award of the arbitrator (as the case may be), such persons as aforesaid may without any previous notice to the undertakers (but without prejudice to any other remedy which they may have for the recovery of the amount), sell and dispose of any such works as aforesaid either by public auction or private sale, and for such sum or sums and to such person or persons as they think fit, and may out of the proceeds of the sale pay and reimburse themselves the amount of the costs so specified or determined as aforesaid, and of the costs of sale, and the balance (if any) of the proceeds of the sale shall be paid over by them to the undertakers.

GENERAL.

Remedying of system and works.

69.—(1) If at any time it is established to the satisfaction of the [Minister of Transport]—

(a) that the undertakers are supplying energy otherwise than by means of a system which has been approved by the [Minister of Transport] or (except in accordance with the provisions of the special order) have permitted any part of their circuits to be connected with earth or placed any electric line above ground; or

(b) that any electric lines or works of the undertakers are defective, so as not to be in accordance with the provisions of the special order or the [Minister of Transport] regulations; or the [Minister of Transport] may by order specify the matter complained of, and require the undertakers to abate or discontinue it within such period as is therein limited in that behalf, and if the undertakers make default in complying with the order they shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding twenty pounds for every day during which the default continues.

(2) The [Ministry of Transport] may also if they think fit by the same or any other order forbid the use of any electric line or work as from such date as may be specified in that behalf until the order is complied with, or for such time as may be so specified, and if the undertakers make use of any such electric line or work while the use thereof is so forbidden they shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding one hundred pounds for every day during which the user continues.

(3) In any case of non-compliance with an order under this section, whether a pecuniary penalty has been recovered or not the [Ministry of Transport], if in their opinion the public interest so requires, may revoke the special order on such terms as they think just.

Publication of regulations.

70.—(1) The [Ministry of Transport] regulations for the time being in force shall within one month after they have come into force, as made or last altered, be printed at the expense of the undertakers, and a true copy thereof, certified by or on behalf of the undertakers, shall be kept by the undertakers at their principal office within the area of supply, and supplied to any person demanding them at a price not exceeding sixpence for each copy, and where the local authority are not themselves the undertakers, a like copy shall also be forthwith served upon the local authority.

(2) If the undertakers make default in complying with the provisions of this section they shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding five pounds, and to a daily penalty not exceeding five pounds.

Nature and amount of security.

71. Where any security is required under the special order to be given to or by the undertakers, that security may be by way of deposit or otherwise, and of such amount as may be agreed upon between the parties, or as in default of agreement may be determined, on the application of either party, by a court of summary jurisdiction, and that court may also order by which of the parties the costs of the proceedings before them shall be paid, and the decision of the court shall be final and binding on all parties: Provided that where any such security is given by way of deposit the party to whom the security is given shall pay interest at the rate of four per centum per annum on every sum of ten shillings so deposited for every six months during which it remains in their hands.

Schedule.

Proceedings of [Minister of Transport].

72.—(1) All things required or authorised under the special order to be done by, to, or before the [Minister of Transport], may be done by, to, or before the [Minister] or secretary or assistant secretary of the [Ministry].

(2) All documents purporting to be orders made by the [Minister of Transport] and to be sealed with the seal of the [Ministry]; or to be signed by a secretary or assistant secretary of the [Ministry], or by any person authorised in that behalf by the [Minister]. shall be received in evidence, and shall be deemed to be those orders without further proof, unless the contrary is shown.

(3) A certificate, signed by the [Minister of Transport], that any order made or act done is the order or act of the [Minister], shall be conclusive evidence of the order or act so certified.

Approval or consent of [Minister of Transport].

73.—(1) Where the special order provides for any consent or approval of the [Minister of Transport], the [Minister] may give that consent or approval subject to terms or conditions, or may withhold [his] consent or approval, as in [his] discretion [he] may think fit.

(2) All costs and expenses of or incident to any approval, consent, certificate, or order of the [Minister of Transport] or of any inspector or person appointed by the [Minister of Transport], including the cost of any inquiry or tests for the purpose of determining whether the same should be given or made, to such an amount as the [Minister of Transport] certify to be due, shall be borne and paid by the applicant therefor.

Provided that where the approval is given by the [Minister of Transport] to any plan, pattern, or specification, they may require such copies of the plan, pattern, or specification as they think fit to be prepared and deposited at their office at the expense of the applicant, and may, as they think fit, revoke any approval so given, or permit the approval to be continued, subject to such modifications as they think necessary.

Notice of approval of [Minister of Transport], etc., to be given by advertisement

74. Where the [Minister of Transport]—

(1) upon the application of the undertakers, give any approval or grant any extension of any time limited for the performance of any duties by the undertakers; or

(2) in a case where the local authority are not themselves the undertakers, revoke the special order upon the application of the local authority or the undertakers as to the whole or any part of the area of supply; or

notice that the approval has been given, or the extension of time granted, or the revocation made, shall, if the [Minister of Transport] so direct, be published by public advertisement once at least in each of two successive weeks in some one and the same local newspaper by the undertakers, or, where the application for revocation has been made by the local authority, by the local authority.

Notice of application for extension of time, etc., to be given to local authority.

75. If, in a case where the local authority are not themselves the undertakers, any application is made to the [Minister of Transport] to extend any time limited for the performance of any duties by the undertakers, notice of the application shall be served on the local authority by the undertakers, and an opportunity shall be given to the local authority to make representations or objections with reference thereto.

Recovery and application of penalties.

76.—(1) All penalties, fees, expenses, and other moneys recoverable under the special order, or under the [Minister of Transport] regulations, the recovery of which is not otherwise specially provided for, may be recovered summarily in manner provided by the Summary Jurisdiction Acts.

(2) Any penalty recovered on prosecution by an officer of the local authority, in a case where the local authority are not themselves the undertakers, shall, if there is an electric inspector for the time being appointed by the local authority, be paid to that officer and by him to the local authority, and shall be applied in aid of the local rate.

Schedule.

(3) Any penalty recovered on prosecution by any other body or person, or any part thereof, may, if the court so direct, be paid to that body or person.

Undertakers to be responsible for all damages.

77. The undertakers shall be answerable for all accidents, damages, and injuries happening through the act or default of the undertakers, or of any person in their employment, by reason of or in consequence of any of the undertakers' works, and shall save harmless all authorities, bodies, and persons by whom any street is repairable, and all other authorities, companies, and bodies collectively and individually, and their officers and servants, from all damages and costs in respect of those accidents, damages and injuries (a).

As to mortgages.

78. Nothing in the special order shall prevent the undertakers, in a case where a local authority are not the undertakers, from borrowing money on the security of mortgages of the undertaking, or shall make the consent or approval of the [Minister of Transport] necessary to the validity or effect of any such mortgage:

Provided that every mortgage of the undertaking shall be deemed to comprise all purchase money which may be paid to the undertakers in the event of any sale or transfer of the undertaking or any part thereof, under section two of the Electric Lighting Act, 1888, or under the special order, and that any mortgage granted by the undertakers shall not be a charge upon the undertaking, or any part thereof, in the event of the undertaking or that part being sold or transferred as aforesaid, and that every mortgage deed granted by the undertakers shall be endorsed with notice to that effect.

Saving for Postmaster-General.

79. Nothing in the special order shall affect any right or remedy of the Postmaster-General under the principal Act or the Telegraph Acts, 1863 to 1897, and all provisions contained in the special order in favour of the Postmaster-General shall be construed to be in addition to and not in modification of the provisions of those Acts.

Saving rights of the Crown in the aforeshore.

80. Although any shore, bed of the sea, river, channel, creek, bay, or estuary is included in the area of supply, nothing in the special order shall authorise the undertakers to take, use, or in any manner interfere with any portion of that shore or bed of the sea, or of the river, channel, creek, bay, or estuary, or any right in respect thereof belonging to the Queen's most Excellent Majesty in right of her Crown, and under the management of the Board of Trade, without the previous consent in writing of the Board of Trade on behalf of her Majesty (which consent the Board of Trade may give), neither shall anything in the special order contained extend to take away, prejudice, diminish, or alter any of the estates, rights, privileges, powers, or authorities vested in or enjoyed or exercisable by the Queen's Majesty.

Undertakers not exempted from proceedings for nuisance.

81. Nothing in the special order shall exonerate the undertakers from any indictment, action, or other proceedings for nuisance in the event of any nuisance being caused or permitted by them (b).

(a) See Holliday v. National Telephone Co., [1899] 2 Q. B. 392; Solomons v. Stepney Borough Council (1905), 69 J. P. 360; 3 L. G. R. 912. A plaintiff when walking in the public highway passed close to an electric lamp-post beside which was a chamber sunk into the street. As he passed, an explosion took place under ground which caused the metal plate to open and a flash to emanate. It was held that the fact of an explosion having happened was primâ facie evidence of negligence (Farrell v. Limerick Corporation (1912), 45 Ir. L. T. 169). But in England at any rate negligence need not be proved. Thus where a municipal corporation supplied electricity under a provisional order under the Electric Lighting Acts, 1882 and 1888, and containing a clause in the terms of this section, it was held that they were liable in damages for an explosion occasioned by a leakage of electricity from one of their mains which generated a gas escaping into the plaintiff's premises in an adjoining street (Midwood v. Manchester Corporation, [1905] 2 K. B. 597; 60 J. P. 348).

The plaintiffs were the owners of electric cables which had been laid under certain public streets. The defendants were the owners of hydraulic mains which had been laid

Schedule.

Provisions as to general Acts.

82. Nothing in the special order shall exempt the undertakers or their undertaking from the provisions of, or deprive the undertakers of the benefits of, any general Act relating to electricity, or to the supply of, or price to be charged for, energy, which may be passed after the passing of the Act confirming the special order (a).

under the same streets under statutory powers. The mains burst in four different places, in each case damaging the plaintiff's cables. No negligence was attributed to the defendants. It was held that the doctrine of Rylands v. Fletcher ((1868), L. R. 3 H. L. 330; 33 J. P. 70) applies not only to cases in which the dangerous thing has escaped from the defendant's land on to the plaintiff's land and done damage there, but also to cases in which the site of the plaintiff's injury was occupied by him only under a licence and not under any right of property in the soil, and that in the absence of statutory authorisation of the nuisance the defendants were liable for the damage caused by the bursting of their mains, notwithstanding that they had not been guilty of any negligence (Charing Cross, West End and City Electricity Supply Co. v. London Hydraulic Power Co., [1914] 3 K. B. 772). Cf. Goodbody v. Poplar Borough Council (1914), 79 J. P. 218; Miles v. Forest Rock Granite Co., Ltd. (1918), 34 T. L. R. 500; Belvedere Fish Guano Co. v. Rainham Chemical Works, Ltd., [1920] 2 K. B. 487; 84 J. P. 185; affirmed, H. L., [1921] 2 A. C. 465.

The effect of this clause was considered by the Court of Appeal in Farnworth v. Manchester Corporation, [1929] 1 K. B. 533; 93 J. P. 73. In the House of Lords it was held that this clause did not apply, but the corporation were none the less held liable for a nuisance caused by the emission of fumes from a generating station ([1929], 94 J. P. 62, 27 L. G. R. 709).

(a) Clauses 83 and 84 relate to only the application of this Schedule to Scotland and Ireland, and are therefore omitted.

As to the omission of the Appendix, see note (c), ante, p. 2574.

THE BODIES CORPORATE (JOINT TENANCY) ACT, 1899.

(62 & 63 VICT. c. 20) (a).

An Act for enabling Bodies Corporate to hold Property in Joint Tenancy.

Power for corporations to hold property as joint tenants.

1.—(1) A body corporate shall be capable of acquiring and holding any real or personal property in joint tenancy in the same manner as if it were an individual; and where a body corporate and an individual, or two or more bodies corporate, become entitled to any such property under circumstances or by virtue of any instrument which would, if the body corporate had been an individual, have created a joint tenancy, they shall be entitled to the property as joint tenants.

Provided that the acquisition and holding of property by a body corporate in joint tenancy shall be subject to the like conditions and restrictions (b) as attach to the acquisition and holding of property by a body corporate in severalty.

(2) Where a body corporate is joint tenant of any property, then on its dissolution the property shall devolve on the other joint tenant.

(a) This statute altered the law as it had existed ever since Litt. ss. 281, 296, 297; Co. Litt. 182, 189 b., 190; 2 Bla. Com. 184; Bennet v. Holbech (1672), 2 Saund. 316 a.; Law Guarantee and Trust Society v. Bank of England (1890), 24 Q. B. D. 406. But by s. 264 of the Lunacy Act, 1890, it had already been enacted that lands acquired for the purposes of that Act might be conveyed where more than one local authority was interested to all the local authorities interested as joint tenants; and by s. 6 of the National Debt (Stockholders Relief) Act, 1892, that stock [i.e. stock transferable in the books of the Bank of England] may be transferred to and held in the names of an individual and a body corporate, or of two or more bodies corporate, and any such holding shall in its relation to the Bank be deemed a joint tenancy.

(b) E.g., in certain cases the necessity for a licence in mortmain. See the Mortmain and Charitable Uses Act, 1888, ante, p. 2516, and note (a) thereto.

Short title.

2. This Act may be cited as "The Bodies Corporate (Joint Tenancy) Act, 1899."

THE BATHS AND WASHHOUSES ACT, 1899.

(62 & 63 VICT. c. 29) (a).

An Act to amend the Baths and Washhouses Acts. [9th August, 1899.]

41 & 42 Vict. c. 14.

Whereas it is expedient to amend the provisions of the Baths and Washhouses Act, 1878, with respect to the use which may be made of baths provided under the Baths and Washhouses Acts, 1846 to 1896 :

. . . . . .

Short title.

1. This Act may be cited for all purposes as "The Baths and Washhouses Act, 1899," and this Act and the Baths and Washhouses Acts, 1846 to 1896, may be cited together for all purposes as the Baths and Washhouses Acts, 1846 to 1899.

(a) See 9 & 10 Vict. c. 74, ante, p. 2143 ; 10 & 11 Vict. c. 61, ante, p. 2213 ; 41 & 42 Vict. c. 14, ante, p. 2402 ; 45 & 46 Vict. c. 30, ante, p. 2413 ; and the P. H. A., 1925, Pt. IX., ante, p. 1627.

Amendment 41 & 42 Vict. c. 14, s. 5.

2. From and after the passing of this Act the following proviso to section five of the Baths and Washhouses Act, 1878 (a), viz.,—

"Provided always, that no covered or open swimming bath, when closed, may be used for music or dancing," shall be repealed.

Provided always—

(a) That the commissioners appointed under the Baths and Washhouses Acts, 1846 to 1899, or any other body for the time being acting in the execution of those Acts, which commissioners or other body are hereinafter referred to as "such commissioners," shall, before any such bath is used for music or dancing, obtain such licence as may be required for the use of a place for that purpose under any enactment in force in the area for which such commissioners act, or, if no such enactment is in force, obtains a licence from the county council of the county in which the district of such commissioners is situate (b) :

(b) . . . (c).

(c) That such commissioners be responsible for any breach of the conditions on which the licence is granted, which may occur during any entertainments given on such premises by their permission.

(a) Ante, p. 2402.

(b) The effect of the proviso appears to be that in places to which the provisions of the Home Counties (Music and Dancing) Licensing Act, 1926, as to music and dancing apply, viz., places within twenty miles of the cities of London and Westminster, and not within the county of Middlesex, before the bath can be used for music or dancing, a licence must be obtained under that Act ; that where Part IV. of the P. H.A., 1890, ante, p. 9071, is in force a licence must be obtained from the licensing justices ; and that in any other place in an administrative county the county council are empowered to grant the necessary licence, unless there is some special enactment in operation making other provision for the grant of licences for music or dancing (e.g., the Music and Dancing Licences (Middlesex) Act, 1894).

(c) This proviso, which prohibited the letting of closed baths other than occasionally and forbade the taking of money for admission at the doors was repealed by s. 9 and Sched. V. of the P. H. A., 1925. Local authorities have now a discretion as to the leasing of closed baths and as to the purposes for which they may be used, see s. 87, ibid., ante, p. 1628.

Licence by county council. 25 Geo. 2, c. 36.

3. In places (a) in which the Disorderly Houses Act, 1751, is in force, a licence under that Act for music or dancing, or for both purposes, may be granted to such commissioners at any annual licensing meeting of the council

Section 3. authorised to grant such a licence, or at any other meeting of such council duly convened with fourteen days' previous notice.

(a) The Disorderly Houses Act, 1751, which applied to places in the cities of London or Westminster or within twenty miles thereof, but not in the administrative county of Middlesex, was repealed in so far as it related to music and dancing licences by the Home Counties (Music and Dancing) Licensing Act, 1926, 16 & 17 Geo. 5, c. 31, under which such licences are now granted in the same area.

Extent of Act. 4. This Act shall not apply to the administrative county of London (a).

(a) As to the administrative county of London, see the Baths and Washhouses Act, 1896.

THE COMMONS ACT, 1899.

(62 & 63 VICT. c. 30) (a).

An Act to amend the Inclosure Acts, 1845 to 1882, and the Law relating to Commons and Open Spaces. [9th August, 1899.]

(a) See the Commons Act, 1876, ante, p. 2375. See further as to waste lands and commons the provisions of ss. 193 and 194 of the Law of Property Act, 1925, post, pp. 2880, 2881.

PART I.

REGULATION OF COMMONS.

Power for district council to make scheme for regulation of common.

1.—(1) The council of an urban or rural district (a) may make (b) a scheme for the regulation and management of any common (c) within their district (d) with a view to the expenditure of money (e) on the drainage, levelling, and improvement (f) of the common, and to the making of byelaws (g) and regulations for the prevention of nuisances and the preservation of order on the common.

39 & 40 Vict. c. 56.

(2) The scheme may contain any of the statutory provisions for the benefit of the neighbourhood mentioned in section seven of the Commons Act, 1876 (h).

(3) The scheme shall be in the prescribed (i) form, and shall identify by reference to a plan the common to be thereby regulated, and for this purpose an ordnance survey map shall, if possible, be used.

(a) As to county boroughs, see s. 13, post, p. 2605.

(b) As to amending or supplementing schemes, see s. 9, post, p. 2604.

(c) For definition of "common," see s. 15, post, p. 2605, and as to excepted commons, see s. 14, post, p. 2605,

(d) In a case of a common extending into two or more districts the powers of s. 57 of the L. G. A., 1894, ante, p. 1022, might be useful in relation to a joint scheme.

(e) As to expenses, see ss. 5, 11, and 12, post.

(f) This word is not defined, nor is s. 5 of the Commons Act, 1876, ante, p. 2377, expressly incorporated.

(g) As to byelaws, see s. 10, post, p. 2604.

(h) Ante, p. 2377.

(i) See s. 15, post, p. 2605. The Ministry of Agriculture and Fisheries have prescribed a form of scheme, and a form of notice of intention to make such scheme, by Commons Regulations, dated October 4th, 1924 (Stat. R. & O., 1924, No. 1157), in Appendix II., post, p. 3117, As to whether a scheme will be conclusive as to the limits and extent of the common, see Cook v. Conservators of Mitcham Common, [1901] 1 Ch. 387.

Procedure for making scheme.

2.—(1) Not less than three months before the making of a scheme under this Part of this Act the council shall give the prescribed (a) notice of their intention to make it, and shall state thereby where copies of the draft of the scheme may be obtained, and where the plan therein referred to may be inspected. They shall also send to the Board of Agriculture (b) as soon as possible a copy of the draft and plan.

Section 2.

(2) During the three months aforesaid any person may obtain copies of the draft on payment of a sum not exceeding sixpence per copy, and may inspect the plan at the prescribed place, and may make in writing to the Board of Agriculture (b) any objection or suggestion with respect to the scheme or plan.

(3) After the expiration of the said three months the Board of Agriculture (b) shall take into consideration any objections or suggestions so made, and for that purpose may, if they think fit, direct that an inquiry be held by an officer of the Board.

(4) The Board of Agriculture (b) may by order approve of the scheme, subject to such modifications, if any, as they may think desirable, and thereupon the scheme shall have full effect.

Provided that if, at any time before the Board have approved of the scheme, they receive a written notice of dissent either—

(a) from the person entitled as lord of the manor or otherwise to the soil of the common; or

(b) from persons representing at least one-third in value of such interests in the common as are affected by the scheme, and such notice is not subsequently withdrawn, the Board shall not proceed further in the matter (c).

(a) See note (i) to s. 1, ante, p. 2602.

(b) The Board of Agriculture has now been superseded by the Minister of Agriculture and Fisheries.

(c) Note the differences from an application for regulation under s. 12 (5) of the Commons Act, 1876, ante, p. 2383, and note (c) thereon.

Management of regulated common.

3. The management of any common regulated by a scheme made by a district council under this Part of this Act shall be vested in the district council.

Provision for delegation of powers of district council to parish council.

4. A rural district council may delegate to a parish council any powers of management conferred by this Part of this Act on the district council in relation to any commons within the parish, and thereupon the Public Health Acts shall apply as if the parish council were a parochial committee (a).

(a) See P. H. A., 1875, s. 202, ante, p. 492. The power of delegation can only be exercised after the scheme is made, as the scheme itself cannot confer rights on a parish council. A rural district council may delegate its powers for a specified period, only resuming them at such time or under such conditions as it may prescribe. The Board of Agriculture and Fisheries were of opinion that the power to make byelaws under a scheme is not a power of management which can be delegated under this section.

Power for parish council to contribute to expenses.

5. A parish council may agree to contribute the whole or any portion of the expenses of and incidental to the preparation and execution of a scheme for the regulation and management of any common within their parish (including any compensation paid under this Act), and the provisions of section eleven of the Local Government Act, 1894 (a), shall apply to the expenses incurred by the parish council for the purposes of such contribution.

56 & 57 Vict. c. 73.

(a) This section provides as follows: (1) A parish council shall not, without the consent of a parish meeting, incur expenses or liabilities which will involve a rate exceeding fourpence in the pound for any local financial year, or which will involve a loan. (2) A parish council shall not, without the approval of the county council, incur any expense or liability which will involve a loan. (3) The sum raised in any local financial year by a parish council for their expenses (other than expenses under the adoptive Acts), shall not exceed a sum equal to a rate of eightpence in the pound on the rateable value of the parish at the commencement of the year, and for the purpose of this enactment the expression "expenses" includes any annual charge, whether of principal or interest, in respect of any loan.

Note to Section 5.

(4) Subject to the provisions of this Act, the expenses of a parish council and of a parish meeting, including the expenses of any poll, shall be paid out of the general rate; and where there is a parish council that council shall pay the said expenses of the parish meeting of the parish; and the parish council, and where there is no parish council the chairman of the parish meeting, shall, for the purpose of obtaining payment of such expenses, have the same powers as a board of guardians have for the purpose of obtaining contributions to their common fund. (5) The demand note for any rate levied for defraying the expenses of a parish council or a parish meeting, together with other expenses, shall state in the prescribed form the proportion of the rate levied for the expenses of the council or meeting and the proportion (if any) levied for the purpose of any of the adoptive Acts. See also the R and V. Act, 1925, ante, p. 1633.

As to the limits of amount laid down by this section, see R. v. Stoke Parish Council (1900), 64 J. P. 343; 82 L. T. 198. The amounts as set out above are the amended limits provided by the L. G. A., 1929, s. 75. These limits may in special cases be increased by an order of the Minister, ibid., ante, p. 1940.

The usual way in which the amounts will be collected is by precept to the rating authority under s. 9, R. and V. Act, 1925, at p. 1653.

An alternative method by which the expenses of promoting a scheme for the regulation of a common in a rural district can be thrown upon the parish or parishes more particularly benefiting is for the rural district council to apply to the Minister of Health for a "special expenses" order (see P. H. A., 1875, s. 229, and P. H. A., 1890, s. 49, ante, pp. 514, 906). The Minister would probably not issue such an order, however, unless the parish council or councils had unreasonably refused to contribute.

Provision for compensation.

6. No estate, interest, or right (a) of a profitable or beneficial nature in, over, or affecting any common shall, except with the consent of the person entitled thereto, be taken away or injuriously affected by any scheme under this Part of this Act without compensation being made or provided for the same by the council making the scheme, and such compensation shall, in case of difference, be ascertained and provided in the same manner as if it were for the compulsory purchase and taking, or the injurious affecting, of lands under the Lands Clauses Acts (b).

(a) The right of maintaining a publichouse sign-post in a spot where it had stood for over forty years was held to be a right of a profitable or beneficial nature within the words of a similar enactment (Hoare v. Metropolitan Board of Works (1874), L. R. 9 Q. B. 296; 38 J. P. 535). See generally on this subject Att.-Gen. v. Amhurst (1879), 23 Sol. J. 443, and judgment in full, Hunter on Open Spaces, 2nd ed., App. III., p. 468.

(b) See 8 & 9 Vict. c. 18, s. 68, ante, p. 2108. Sections 25—57 of the same Act, ante, pp. 2097—2105, provide for settling cases of disputed compensation.

Power for district council to acquire property in regulated common.

7. A district council may acquire the fee simple or any estate in or any rights in or over any common regulated by a scheme under this Part of this Act by gift or by purchase by agreement, and hold the same without licence in mortmain (a) for the purposes of the scheme, and the expenses thereby incurred by the district council shall be part of their expenses of executing the scheme (b).

(a) See note (a), ante, p. 2516.

(b) As to expenses, see ss. 5, 11 and 12. It has been suggested that the power of acquiring the fee, etc., may be exercised by one council in respect of a common regulated by another council, and that this may be found useful in the case of a common in a rural district near to a town in an urban district.

Digging of gravel. 39 & 40 Vict. c. 56.

8. Section twenty of the Commons Act, 1876 (which relates to the digging of gravel) (a), shall apply to any common regulated by a scheme under this Part of this Act.

(a) Ante, p. 2387.

Power to amend scheme.

9. The power to make a scheme under this Part of this Act shall include power to amend or supplement any such scheme.

Provisions as to byelaws.

10. The provisions with respect to byelaws contained in sections one hundred and eighty-two to one hundred and eighty-six, both inclusive, of the Public Health Act, 1875 (a), and any enactment amending or extending those sections, shall apply to all byelaws made in pursuance of a scheme under this Part of this Act, and any fine imposed by any such byelaw shall be recoverable summarily and be payable to the council in whom the management of the common is vested.

Section 10.

(a) Ante, pp. 453—468. Sections 16 and 17 of the Commons Act, 1876, ante, p. 2386, do not apply to these byelaws.

Expenses

11.—(1) All expenses incurred by the Board of Agriculture (a) in relation to a scheme under this Part of this Act, and all expenses of and incidental to the preparation and execution of the scheme (including any compensation paid under this Act) (b) shall be paid by the district council.

(2) All expenses incurred by a district council under this Part of this Act shall be treated as part of the expenses of the district council in the execution of the powers conferred by the Public Health Acts (c).

(3) A district council may for the purposes of this Act borrow money in like manner and subject to the like conditions as they may borrow for defraying expenses incurred in the execution of the Public Health Acts, and the said Acts shall apply accordingly (d).

(a) Now Minister of Agriculture and Fisheries.
(b) See s. 6, ante, p. 2604.
(c) And will, therefore, be payable out of the general rate (see P. H. A., 1875, s. 207, ante, p. 495) and the R. and V. Act, 1925, ante, p. 1633. See, however, note (a) to s. 5, ante, p. 2603.
(d) See P. H. A., 1875, ss. 233 et seq., ante, p. 519.

Power for urban district council to contribute towards expenses.

12. The council of any urban district may, with a view to the benefit of the inhabitants of their district, and subject to the approval of the Local Government Board (a), enter into an undertaking with any other council making or having made a scheme under this Part of this Act to contribute any portion of the expenses incurred by that council in executing the scheme.

(a) Now Minister of Health.

Application to county boroughs.

13. This Part of this Act shall apply to the council of a county borough in like manner as if that council were the council of an urban district.

Saving for commons regulated under other Acts.

14. A scheme under this Part of this Act shall not apply to any common which is or might be the subject of a scheme made under the Metropolitan Commons Acts, 1866 to 1878, or is regulated by a provisional order under the Inclosure Acts, 1845 to 1882, or has been acquired, or managed as an open space, under the powers of the Corporation of London (Open Spaces) Act, 1878, or any Act therein referred to, or is the subject of any private or local and personal Act of Parliament having for its object the preservation of the common as an open space (a), or is subject to byelaws made by a parish council under section eight of the Local Government Act, 1894 (b).

41 & 42 Vict. c. cxxvii.

(b) This section enables a parish council to exercise with respect to any recreation ground, village green, open space, or public walk which is for the time being under their control or to the expense of which they have contributed, powers similar to those of local authorities under the P. H. A., 1875, s. 164, ante, p. 388, and the P. H. A., 1890, s. 44, ante, p. 904.

Definitions.

15. In this Part of this Act, unless the context otherwise requires,—

The expression "common" shall include any land subject to be inclosed under the Inclosure Acts, 1845 to 1882, and any town or village green (a);

The expression "prescribed" shall mean prescribed by regulations made by the Board of Agriculture (b).

(a) As to town or village greens, see the Commons Act, 1876, s. 29, ante, p. 2390, and notes.
(b) See the Commons Regulations, dated October 4th, 1924 (Stat. R. & O., 1924, No. 1157), post, App. II., p. 3117. For Board of Agriculture now read Minister of Agriculture and Fisheries.

PART II.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Surplus rents from field gardens and recreation grounds.

16.—(1) Surplus rents arising from field gardens may, in addition to the purposes for which they are now applicable (a), be applied for any of the purposes for which surplus rents arising from recreation grounds may be applied.

(2) Surplus rents arising from any field garden or recreation ground may be applied towards the redemption of any land tax, tithe rentcharge, or other charge on the garden or ground.

(a) See the Commons Act, 1876, s. 27, ante, p. 2389. The same section regulates the application of surplus rents arising from recreation grounds.

17. [Amendment of 50 & 51 Vict. c. 32 as to open spaces] (a),

(a) This section is repealed by s. 23 and the schedule to the Open Spaces Act, 1906, other provision having been made by that Act to the like effect.

Power to modify provisions as to recreation grounds, etc.

18. Any provisions with respect to allotments for recreation grounds, field gardens, or other public or parochial purposes contained in any Act relating to inclosure or in any award or order made in pursuance thereof, and any provisions with respect to the management of any such allotments contained in any such Act, order, or award, may, on the application of any district or parish council interested in any such allotment, be dealt with by a scheme of the Charity Commissioners in the exercise of their ordinary jurisdiction, as if those provisions had been established by the founder in the case of a charity having a founder (a).

The Charity Commissioners are of opinion that the restrictive provisions of s. 19 of the Commons Act, 1876 (ante, p. 2387), are not affected by s. 18 of the Commons Act, 1899, and that accordingly the Charity Commissioners are not at liberty to sanction the sale or letting on building lease of any part of an allotment falling within the section first above mentioned. Hunter on Open Spaces, 2nd ed., p. 231, note.

Amendment of 8 & 9 Vict. c. 118.

19. Section one hundred and fifty of the Inclosure Act, 1845 (a), shall have effect as if "two successive weeks" were therein inserted instead of "three successive weeks," and as if "one month" were therein inserted instead of "three calendar months."

(a) This section relates to notices of divisions of intermixed lands under s. 148 and exchanges of inconvenient allotments under s. 149 of the same Act.

Amendment of law as to adjournment of meetings.

20. Where notice has been given of any sitting, whether original or by adjournment, to be held by an officer of the Board of Agriculture (a) under the Metropolitan Commons Acts, 1866 to 1878, that officer may, by notice to be published in such manner as the Board direct, adjourn the sitting without attending for the purpose of the adjournment (b).

Annual report to Parliament. 29 & 30 Vict. c. 122.

21. (a) Section twenty of the Metropolitan Commons Act, 1866, is hereby repealed, and the Board of Agriculture (nn) shall include in an annual report to Parliament a statement of their proceedings under Part I. of this Act and under the Metopolitan Commons Acts, 1866 to 1878, during the year ending the thirty-first day of December then last past, with such particulars as to their proceedings under the last-mentioned Acts as are required by section twenty-one of the Metropolitan Commons Act, 1866 (b).

Note to Section 21.

(a) The S. L. R. A., 1908, repealed the italicised words in s. 21, the opening words of s. 23 and Schedule II. The Acts repealed (as having "been made unnecessary by" or being "inconsistent with subsequent enactments") were the Inclosure Acts, 1756 and 1757, the Inclosure (Consolidation) Act, 1801, the Inclosure Act, 1821, the Common Fields Exchange Act, 1834, the Inclosure Acts, 1836 and 1840, and the Inclosure Act, 1845, ss. 121, 122.

(b) By this section the Minister must, in his annual report, set forth in full every scheme certified by him during the year to which the report relates, and state the grounds of his approval, and the objections (if any) made to it and overruled, and all proceedings had in respect of these objections and the grounds on which they were overruled.

Restrictions on inclosures under scheduled Acts (a).

22.—(1) A grant or inclosure of common purporting to be made under the general authority of any of the Acts mentioned (b) in the First Schedule hereto or any Act incorporating the same, or any provisions thereof, shall not be valid unless it is either—

(a) specially authorised by Act of Parliament; or

(b) made to or by any Government Department; or

(c) made with the consent of the Board of Agriculture (c).

(2) The Board of Agriculture (c), in giving or withholding their consent under this section, shall have regard to the same considerations, and shall, if necessary, hold the same inquiries as are directed by the Commons Act, 1876, to be taken into consideration and held by the Board before forming an opinion whether an application under the Inclosure Acts shall be acceded to or not.

39 & 40 Vict. c. 56

(a) See also the restrictions on inclosure of commons in s. 194 of the Law of Property Act, 1925, post, p. 2881.

(b) These include the Lands Clauses Consolidation Act, 1845. See ss. 99—107 of that Act as to extinction of commoners' rights, ante, pp. 2124—2126.

(c) Now Minister of Agriculture and Fisheries.

Repeal.

23. [Repeal of Acts in second Schedule.] (a)

This repeal shall not affect the construction or effect of any local and personal Act of Parliament passed before the commencement of this Act, whereby any provisions of the said enactments are intended to be incorporated.

(a) See note (a) to s. 21, supra.

THE TELEGRAPH ACT, 1899.

(62 & 63 VICT. c. 38) (a).

An Act to make further Provisions for the Improvement of Telephonic Communication, and otherwise with respect to Telegraphs. [9th August, 1899.]

* * * * * *

Payment of expenses of exercise of powers under telephone licence.

2.—(1) Where the council of a borough or an urban district are licensed (b) by the Postmaster-General to provide a system of public telephonic communication, they may defray the expenses of exercising the powers conferred by the licence in the case of a borough out of the borough fund or borough rate (c), and in the case of an urban district not a borough out of the rate out of which the general expenses of the council in the execution of the Public Health Acts are defrayed (d), and may borrow money for the purpose in accordance with the Public Health Acts (e), but in the case of a borough any money so borrowed shall be borrowed on the security of the borough fund or borough rate (c); and the council may, subject to the provisions of the Telegraph Acts, 1863 to 1897, and of the licence, exercise their powers under the licence throughout the area for which it is granted, although part of that area may be outside the borough or urban district (f).

(a) In Att.-Gen. v. Edison Telephone Co. of London (1880), 6 Q. B. D. 244, it was held that the terms "telegrams" and "telegraphs" as used in the Telegraph Acts include telephonic messages and telephones, so that it is necessary for the purpose of setting up telephones and transmitting telephone communications to obtain a licence from the Postmaster-General under s. 5 of the Telegraph Act, 1869, in order to avoid the infringement of his exclusive privilege under s. 4 of that Act. Moreover, the Electric Lighting Act, 1882, whilst it authorises local authorities to undertake the supply of electricity in certain cases for certain purposes, excludes from those purposes "the transmission of any telegram" (s. 3 (4), ante, p. 2499), and contains in s. 35, ante, p. 2454, a special saving for the exclusive privileges of the Postmaster-General. Consequently a licence from him is necessary in all cases where local authorities desire to provide a system of telephonic communication. This Act provides for their expenses when they have obtained such a licence. Section 1 relates merely to the grant of public moneys to the Postmaster-General for the purposes of the Telegraph Acts, and is therefore omitted.

By s. 5 of the Telegraph Act, 1892, (1) Where the Postmaster-General has, either before or after the passing of this Act, licensed any company or person to transmit any telegrams within the meaning of the Telegraph Acts, 1863 to 1889, he may by the same or any other licence, authorise such company or person (in this Act referred to as "the licensee") during the time and within the area specified in the licence, to exercise the powers which are conferred on the Postmaster-General by the Telegraph Acts, 1863 and 1878, and by the provisions of this Act relating to provisional orders, or such of those powers as are specified in the licence, and thereupon the enactments conferring those powers or relating to the exercise thereof, including any penal provisions, shall apply accordingly: (2) Provided as follows:—(a) A licensee shall not exercise any powers under the said enactments except in an urban sanitary district or such area adjoining an urban sanitary district as is described in the licence: (b) Notwithstanding anything in the Telegraph Act, 1878, a licensee shall not exercise any powers under the said enactments without the consent, in London of the county council, and in any urban sanitary district outside London of the urban sanitary authority, and elsewhere of the county council, and shall be subject to any terms and conditions which the county council or urban sanitary authority may attach to any such consent, and shall comply with any regulations of such council or authority from time to time in force in relation to telegraphic lines.

The refusal of their consent by the urban sanitary authority under this section is not a "difference" between that body and the Postmaster-General which may be referred to a stipendiary magistrate or county court judge under s. 4 of the Telegraph Act, 1878 (National Telephone Co. v. Tunbridge Wells Corporation (1901), 85 L. T. 368, affirming 64 J. P. 756; 48 W. R. 686). The conditions which the urban authority are entitled to impose must not relate to matters entirely outside the scope of their duty as road authority. For instance, a condition that the wires should not be laid unless the licensees were prepared to provide an improved service at a reduced cost is not within the power of the urban authority to impose (Postmaster-General v. London Corporation (1898), 62 J. P. 380; 78 L. T. 120). But in the case of overhead wires they may impose conditions for securing the public safety (Wandsworth District L. B. v. Postmaster General (1884), 4 Rail. & Can. Cas. 301). The regulations referred to in the latter part of the above section seem to mean byelaws under Part II., ss. 13 et seq. of the P. H. A., 1890, ante, p. 873, or s. 25 of P. H. A., 1925, ante, p. 1564.

(c) Now the general rate fund and general rate, see the R. and V. Act, 1925, ante, p. 1633.

(d) These expenses will now be defrayed out of the general rate fund or general rate. See the P. H. A., 1875, s. 207, ante, p. 495, and the R. and V. Act, 1925, ante, p. 1633.

(f) Sub-sections (2) and (3) relate to Scotland and Ireland only, and are therefore omitted.

Provisions as to existing companies.

3.—(1) Where any existing company have before the passing of this Act, under a licence from the Postmaster-General, provided a system of public telephonic communication in any exchange area (a), and it is proposed to grant a new licence to a local authority or to another company to provide public telephonic communication in the same exchange area, or any part thereof, then, if the existing company consent to it being made a condition of their licence—

(a) that they will not give favour or preference (b) to any person whomsoever within the area specified in the new licence, and will not, within that area, as a condition of giving a service, require from any person the grant of any facility except for the purpose of supplying telephonic communication to that person; and

(b) that their charges shall not, within the area specified in the new licence, exceed the maximum rates or fall below the minimum rates authorised in that behalf by the Postmaster-General within that area (c), it shall be a condition of the grant of the new licence, that where it is proved to the satisfaction of the Postmaster-General that the existing company have incurred or contracted to incur, in the area specified in the new licence, material expenditure in laying down underground wires, and have by agreement with any local authority within that area acquired powers for that purpose, those powers shall continue for the period specified in the new licence for the duration thereof (d), but, subject as aforesaid, on the terms and conditions specified in the agreement (including any provisions thereof for determination on breach of covenant), except so far as they may be varied by any subsequent agreement with the local authority.

(2) Where an existing company is at the passing of this Act under a licence from the Postmaster-General supplying public telephonic communication in any exchange area, a licence to provide a system of public telephonic communication within the same area, or any part thereof, shall not be granted by the Postmaster-General to any person or body other than the council of a borough or urban district, unless it is shown to the satisfaction of the Postmaster-General that the application for the licence is approved by the council of each borough or urban district within which it is proposed by the application to establish a telephonic exchange.

(3) An existing company shall not, without the consent of the Postmaster-General given after the passing of this Act in each case, open an exchange in any exchange area in which they had not, before the passing of this Act, established an effective exchange.

(4) Where a local authority or a new company, under a licence from the Postmaster-General, provides a system of public telephonic communication in the whole or any part of an exchange area in competition with an existing company licensed by the Postmaster-General before the passing of this Act,

Section 3. then, if the existing company consent to it being made a condition of their licence—

(a) that they will not give favour or preference to any person whomsoever within the whole of the exchange area in question, and will not, within that exchange area as a condition of giving a service, require from any person the grant of any facility except for the purpose of supplying telephonic communication to that person; and

(b) that their charges shall not within the whole of the exchange area in question exceed the maximum rates and (where the company are empowered by agreement with the local authority to lay underground wires) shall not fall below the minimum rates authorised in that behalf by the Postmaster-General within the area specified in the new licence, the licence of the existing company shall within the whole of the exchange area in question be extended and continue for the period specified in the new licence of the local authority or new company for the duration of such new licence, but, except as varied by this Act, the provisions of the licence of the existing company (including any provisions thereof for determination on breach of covenant) shall remain in force.

(5) If the licence of an existing company is, under the provisions of this section, extended in respect of any exchange area for a period of not less than eight years beyond the term existing at the passing of this Act, the company shall, at the request of any other licensee of the Postmaster-General providing public telephonic communication in the whole or any part of that exchange area, and under such circumstances and on such terms and conditions as may, within six months from the passing of this Act, be prescribed by an order of the Postmaster-General, made with the approval of the Treasury, afford all proper facilities for the transmission of telephonic messages between persons using the system of the company (either in the whole or in part of the exchange area, as the Postmaster-General may prescribe) and persons using the system of such other licensee, provided that the licensee so requiring intercommunication shall in any such case afford similar facilities.

(6) For the purposes of this section the expression " exchange area " means an exchange area as defined by an agreement made by an existing company with the Postmaster-General before the passing of this Act.

(a) Defined in sub-s. (6).

(b) The allowance of a commission for collecting messages is not a preference (Reuter v. Electric Telegraph Co. (1857), 6 E. & B. 341; 26 L. J. Q. B. 46).

In connection with the subject of charges the following cases should be noted.

A telephone company supplied the use of a telephone wire and apparatus under an agreement for three years at a rent payable quarterly. After the expiration of the three years the parties continued the agreement by mutual consent, but on the last day of a full quarter the company gave the customer notice determining the agreement forthwith and stating their intention to cut off the wire and remove the apparatus, at the same time demanding rent up to one day beyond the quarter. This rent was duly paid to and accepted by them, and the customer moved for an injunction to restrain the company from interfering with the wire and apparatus:—Held, that the agreement created the relation of landlord and tenant, and therefore the acceptance of the rent for the extra day was a waiver of the notice to determine the contract, and the injunction was granted (Keith, Prowse & Co. v. National Telephone Co., [1894] 2 Ch. 147; 58 J. P. 373).

As to stamp duty on the ordinary form of agreement with a customer, see National Telephone Co. v. Inland Revenue Commissioners, [1900] A. C. 1; 64 J. P. 420.

(c) Section 2 of the Telegraph Act, 1885, gave the Postmaster-General general power for fixing the sums to be from time to time paid on account of the transmission of telegrams, which include telephonic communications.

(d) That is, of the powers, not of the licence (National Telephone Co. v. Kingston-upon-Hull Corporation (1903), 68 J. P. 62; 89 L. T. 291). An action by the telephone company against the local authority for the purpose of raising the question whether the duration of the powers conferred by the agreement was extended is not within the Public Authorities Protection Act, 1893, and consequently the defendants succeeding were only entitled to party and party costs (National Telephone Co. v. Kingston-upon-Hull Corporation (1904), 52 W. R. 26).

4. This Act may be cited as the Telegraph Act, 1899, and may be cited with the Telegraph Acts, 1863 to 1897. Short title.

THE BURIAL ACT, 1900.

An Act to amend the Law relating to Burial Grounds. [10th July, 1900.]

1.—(1) The burial authority for any burial ground (b) may, if they think fit, apply to the bishop to consecrate any portion of the burial ground approved in that behalf by the Secretary of State. Consecration.

(2) If the burial authority do not make the application within a reasonable time after a request in that behalf, and the Secretary of State is satisfied that a reasonable number of the persons for whom, or within the area for which, the burial ground is provided desire that a portion of it be consecrated, and that the consecration fees have been paid or reasonably secured, the Secretary of State may make the application in respect of an approved portion of the burial ground, and the bishop may consecrate accordingly, and it shall be the duty of the burial authority to make such arrangements as may be necessary for the consecration (c).

(a) This being one of the Burial Acts, it is strictly outside the scope of the present work, except so far as it affects the powers and duties of urban and rural councils who provide and maintain cemeteries under the powers of the Public Health (Interments) Act, 1879, ante, p. 751.

For a form of petition, see Enc. of Forms and Precedents, vol. II., p. 611, Form No. 22.

(c) The local authority had previously a discretion as to whether they should apply for consecration. See the Cemeteries Clauses Act, 1847, s. 23, ante, p. 2219. The text practically gives an appeal against the refusal of the local authority to make the application.

It seems that the persons who make the request of the Secretary of State under this section must themselves pay or secure the consecration fees. A table of those fees will be found in Mr. Brooke Little's work on the Burial Acts (3rd ed.), p. 739.

2.—(1) A burial authority may at their own cost erect on any part of their burial ground, which is not consecrated or set apart for the exclusive use of any particular denomination, any chapel which they consider necessary for the due performance of funeral services, but any chapel so erected after the passing of this Act shall not be consecrated or reserved for the exclusive use of any denomination. Chapels.

(2) A burial authority may at the request and cost of the residents within their district belonging to any particular denomination, erect, furnish, and maintain a chapel for funeral services according to the rites of that denomination on the ground appropriated to their use.

(3) Where such a request is made and the estimated costs are tendered to the burial authority or reasonably secured, then, if the burial authority refuse to grant the request or fail to give effect to it within a reasonable time, a Secretary of State may, if he thinks fit, by order in writing, require the burial authority to erect, furnish, and maintain, or to give facilities for

Section 2. erecting, furnishing, and maintaining, such a chapel in accordance with directions given in the order, and the burial authority shall comply with the order.

(4) Subject to the provisions of this section the obligation of a burial authority to build a chapel within the consecrated part of a burial ground provided under the Public Health (Interments) Act, 1879, shall cease (a). 42 & 43 Vict. c. 31.

(a) This section had an important effect on the powers and duties of a local authority who provide a cemetery under the Act of 1879. They are not bound to build a chapel on the consecrated portion of the cemetery as formerly under s. 25 of the Cemetery Clauses Act, 1847, ante, p. 2220. And they cannot erect a chapel on the consecrated portion (see sub-s. (1) of this section) except at the cost of residents under sub-s. (2).

Fees.

3.—(1) Every burial authority shall submit to the Secretary of State a table of fees to be received by them in respect of services rendered by any minister of religion or sexton, and the Secretary of State may approve the table with or without modifications. Provided that such fees shall be of the same amount in respect of burial service in the consecrated and the unconsecrated parts of a burial ground (a).

(2) If the burial authority fail to submit such a table on being requested to do so by the Secretary of State, he may make a table of fees.

(3) The fees fixed by the table shall be payable to and collected by the burial authority, together with the other fees payable to them, and shall be paid by the burial authority to the minister or sexton in such manner as may be agreed on, or as in default of agreement may be directed by the Secretary of State (b).

(4) Subject to the provisions of this section, no fee shall be payable to any incumbent of a parish in respect of any right of exclusive burial, or the erection of a monument, or any other matter whatsoever, in any burial ground maintained by a burial authority, except for services rendered by him (c), and this enactment shall apply to any such fee which is by law or custom payable to the churchwardens of any parish or to trustees or other persons for any parochial purpose, or for the discharge of any debt or liability, in like manner as it applies to fees payable to an incumbent.

Provided as follows:

(i) Where, at the passing of this Act, fees other than for services rendered are payable in respect of any matter arising in any burial ground attached to or used for the purposes of a parish, and laid out and used before the passing of this Act (d), the like fees shall continue to be paid during the incumbency of the person who, at the passing of this Act, is the incumbent of the parish, or during a period of fifteen years from the passing of this Act, whichever is longer, or if the fees are not paid to the incumbent, or to any person claiming through or under him, then during the said period of fifteen years, and shall be applicable to the like purposes as heretofore, and the burial authority shall collect and pay these fees in like manner as the fees to be paid for services rendered;

(ii) The Ecclesiastical Commissioners may at the request and subject to the approval of the incumbent, or other person interested, agree with any burial authority for such payment, periodical or otherwise, as may be thought equitable in commutation of the fees other than those claimed for services rendered, and an agreement so approved shall be binding on the persons for the time being interested, and the burial authority may make accordingly any payment so agreed upon. Where the fees are paid to an incumbent, or to any person claiming through or under him, the Ecclesiastical Commissioners shall apply the commutation money in the first instance to such compensation of the existing incumbent as they may deem equitable, regard being had to all the circumstances of the case; and the residue, if any, for the augmentation of the benefice (e).

(5) No fee, other than fees payable to a sexton for services rendered by him, shall be paid to any clerk or other ecclesiastical officer in respect of interments in a burial ground maintained by a burial authority. Provided that any clerk or other ecclesiastical officer who at the passing of this Act is entitled to fees in respect of interments in any such burial ground may apply to the burial authority for compensation for the pecuniary loss caused to him by the foregoing enactment, and the burial authority shall receive and consider the application, and pay to him such sum of money as equitable compensation for his loss and in such manner as may be agreed on, or in default of agreement may be directed by the Secretary of State (f).

(6) For the purposes of this section, a burial authority may borrow in like manner and subject to the like conditions as they may borrow for the provision of a burial ground (g).

(7) The provisions of this section, except those as to collection, shall apply to any fixed annual sum substituted for fees in pursuance of section thirty-seven of the Burials Act, 1852 (h), in like manner as they apply to fees.

(a) As to fees in respect of a burial service before, at, or after cremation, see s. 12 of the Cremation Act, 1902, post, p. 2657.

(b) In a cemetery provided by a local authority under the Public Health (Interments) Act, 1879, it appears that no fees were payable to an incumbent under the Cemeteries Clauses Act, 1847, s. 52. Such fees will now be payable under s. 7, post, p. 2614, according to the table fixed as stated in the text.

(c) Thus no fees can be due in respect of burials of non-conformists in consecrated ground conducted without any service in respect of burial being rendered by the incumbent (Williams v. Briton Ferry Burial Board, [1905] 2 K. B. 565; 69 J. P. 313).

(d) An addition to a burial ground purchased before the passing of this Act, although laid out and adapted for burial purposes, but not consecrated nor actually used until after the passing of the Act, was held not to come within this proviso (Young v. Kingston-on-Thames, etc. Joint Burials Committee, [1907] 1 K. B. 416; 71 J. P. 121). But where before the passing of the London Government Act, 1899, separate burial grounds had been provided for parishes which after the passing of that Act were united by a scheme made in pursuance of that Act into one parish, it was held that the rector of one of these parishes was not entitled to fees other than for services actually rendered in respect of interments in these burial grounds, after the passing of the Burial Act, 1900, in respect of which he was not before the passing of this Act entitled (Anderson v. Wandsworth Borough Council, [1908] W. N. 118).

(e) These provisions cannot apparently apply in the case of a cemetery provided by a local authority; for, as already stated, no fees were payable to incumbents under the Public Health (Interments) Act, 1879, or, consequently, under s. 52 of the Cemeteries Clauses Act, 1847.

(f) A clerk might be appointed in a cemetery under the Cemeteries Clauses Act, 1847, s. 34, ante, p. 2221, but he was paid by stipend, not by fees, and the provision in the text does not appear to apply to such a clerk.

(g) In the case of a local authority the borrowing powers depend on ss. 233, 234 of the P. H. A., 1875, ante, pp. 519, 526.

(h) This section enables a vestry with the consent of the bishop to substitute a fixed payment for fees payable to the incumbent, clerk, and sexton and other persons and bodies under the Act of 1852.

Transfer of powers to [Ministry of Health].

4. The powers and duties of the Secretary of State under or referred to in the enactments in the First Schedule to this Act shall be transferred to the [Ministry of Health] (a), and those enactments shall have effect as if any reference therein to a Secretary of State were a reference to the [Ministry of Health] (a).

(a) The L. G. B. has now been superseded by the Ministry of Health (Ministry of Health Act, 1919). Speaking generally, all questions relating to sanitation, and to the constitution, powers, and finances of burial authorities, are now matters for the Ministry of Health, whilst matters affecting the interests of the church and other religious denominations and their officers are referred to the Secretary of State, whether such matters arise in connection with burial grounds under the Burial Acts or with cemeteries under the Public Health (Interments) Act, 1879.

Note to Section 4.

The transfer hereby effected related principally to the following matters :—

The closing of burial grounds and the prohibition of the opening of new ones.

The approval of new burial grounds, and of additions to existing grounds.

The adoption of the Burial Acts and the constitution, powers, and areas of burial authorities.

The inspection and regulation of burial grounds.

Certain provisions as to the borrowing powers and expenses of burial authorities.

Fees other than Ecclesiastical Fees to be taken by burial authorities.

The purchase, sale, and letting of land.

The sanitary regulation of vaults and places of burial.

The grant of licences for interment in closed burial grounds.

The Secretary of State remains the central authority regarding the consecration of burial grounds, the allotment of parts thereof for the use of particular denominations, the building of chapels, and the removal of human remains; and new functions are entrusted to him by this Act, with respect to the fixing, varying, or commutation of, or compensation for, fees payable to ministers of religion, ecclesiastical officers, and sextons.

Inquiries by Secretary of State.

5.—(1) The Secretary of State may, if he thinks fit, appoint any person to inquire into any matter relating to the consecration of any part of a burial ground, or the building of any chapel therein, or the fixing, varying, or commutation of or compensation for any fees payable to ministers of religion, ecclesiastical officers, and sextons in connection therewith.

(2) The Secretary of State may make such order as he thinks just as to the payment by the burial authority or other parties of the whole or any part of the costs of the inquiry, including the remuneration and expenses hereinafter mentioned. Any such order may direct payment to be made to the Exchequer or other parties, and may be enforced as if it were an order of the High Court.

(3) The Secretary of State may assign to any person appointed under this section such remuneration not exceeding five guineas a day as he may think fit, and a suitable allowance for expenses, and the remuneration and allowance so assigned shall, except so far as otherwise provided, be paid out of moneys provided by Parliament.

Protection of unconsecrated burial ground.

6. Unconsecrated ground which is maintained by a burial authority and set apart for the purposes of burial (a) shall not be applied to any other purpose except by leave of the [Ministry of Health] (b).

(a) As to what is meant by "set apart for the purposes of burial," see Re Ponsford and Newport District School Board, [1894] 1 Ch. 454; Nicholl v. Llantwit Major Parish Council, [1924] 2 Ch. 214; London C. C. v. Greenwich Corporation, [1929] 1 Ch. 305. See also the Disused Burial Grounds Act, 1884, ante, p. 2484, as amended by the Open Spaces Act, 1887, s. 4, ante, p. 2493, s. 17 of the Burial Act, 1855, s. 177 of the P. H. A., 1875, ante, p. 443, and s. 95 of the P. H. A., 1907, ante, p. 1161. Difficult questions arise from time to time as to whether pieces of unconsecrated land vesting in burial authorities which it is proposed to devote to other purposes are "set apart for the purposes of burial," and as to the precise statutory provisions governing the proposed appropriation. In such cases it is advisable to consult the Ministry of Health in the matter. And see St. George's, Hanover Square (Rector and Churchwardens) v. Westminster Corporation, [1910] A. C. 225; 74 J. P. 153.

(b) See note (a), to s. 4, ante, p. 2613.

Obligation of incumbent as to burial.
42 & 43 Vict. c. 31.

7. The incumbent of any ecclesiastical parish situate wholly or partly within the area for which a burial ground is provided under the Public Health (Interments) Act, 1879, shall, with respect to his own parishioners, and persons dying in his parish, be under the same obligation to perform funeral services in that burial ground as he is to perform funeral services in a burial ground provided under the Burial Acts, and the power of the burial authority to appoint a chaplain for a burial ground provided under the Public Health (Interments) Act, 1879, shall cease, and where there is no chaplain for a burial ground so provided, burials in the consecrated part of the ground shall be registered in like manner, and subject to the like provisions as burials in the unconsecrated part (a).

42 & 43 Vict. c. 31.

(a) The duty of appointing a chaplain was imposed by the Cemeteries Clauses Act, 1847, s. 27, ante, p. 2220. The registration of burials in the consecrated portion of the cemetery is regulated by the Cemeteries Clauses Acts, 1847, s. 32, ante, p. 2220. When in future there is no chaplain the registration of all burials in the cemetery will be regulated by the Registration of Burials Act, 1864. Under the Births and Deaths Registration Act, 1926, s. 1 (1), the body of a deceased person shall not be disposed of before a certificate of the registrar given in pursuance of that Act or an order of the coroner has been delivered to the person by whom or whose officer the register of burials in which the disposal is to be registered is kept, subject to a proviso that a written declaration that a certificate or order has been issued may be accepted in lieu of such certificate or order. See also s. 5 of the same Act as to the burial of still-born children and the Cremation Regulations, 1927, made under s. 10, ibid., and set out in App. II., post, p. 3137.

Generally as to the duty of an incumbent to perform funeral services, see note to s. 11 of the Cremation Act, 1902, post, p. 2657.

Notice of intention to bury. 43 & 44 Vict. c. 41.

8. The notice to be given of intention to bury in a burial ground maintained by a burial authority shall be given at such time and to such person as the burial authority may direct, and so much of section one of the Burial Laws Amendment Act, 1880, as requires forty-eight hours' notice to be given in any such case shall be repealed (a).

Application of certain provisions of Burial Acts to cemeteries under 42 & 43 Vict. c. 31.

9. The provisions of section seven of the Burial Act, 1853, as to allotment of the unconsecrated part of a burial ground, and the Burial Laws Amendment Act, 1880, as amended by this Act, shall apply to burial grounds provided under the Public Health (Interments) Act, 1879, as if the burial authority were a burial board (a).

(a) The Burials Act, 1853, s. 7, provides that in all cases in which any burial board shall provide a new burial ground, that new burial ground shall be divided into consecrated and unconsecrated parts in such proportions, and the unconsecrated part thereof shall be allotted in such manner and in such portions as may be allowed by one of her Majesty's principal Secretaries of State. The application of this section to a cemetery provided by a local authority takes away from such authority the unfettered discretion which they formerly had under the Cemeteries Clauses Act, 1847, s. 35, ante, p. 2221. Where part of a burial ground has been allotted under s. 7 of the 1853 Act to a particular denomination, an injunction will be granted at the suit of the Att.-Gen. to restrain the burial of persons not of that denomination in the part so allotted (Preston Corporation v. Pyke, [1929] W. N. 105; 45 T. L. R. 398).

Boundary fences. 10 & 11 Vict. c. 65.

10. Section fifteen of the Cemeteries Clauses Act, 1847 (relating to boundary fences), shall not apply to a burial ground provided under the Public Health (Interments) Act, 1879.

Meaning of burial authority. 42 & 43 Vict. c. 31.

11. In this Act the expression "burial authority" shall mean any burial board, any council, committee, or other local authority having the powers and duties of a burial board, and any local authority maintaining a cemetery under the Public Health (Interments) Act, 1879, or under any local Act.

Repeal.

12. [Repeal of Acts in Schedule II] (a).

(a) Sections 12, 13 (2) and Schedule II., repealed by S. L. R. A., 1908.

Short title and commencement.

13.—(1) This Act may be cited as "The Burial Act, 1900," and may be cited and shall be construed with the Burial Acts, 1852 to 1885.

(2) [Commencement of Act, January 1st, 1901] (a).

THE PUBLIC LIBRARIES ACT, 1901.

(1 EDW. 7, C. 19) (a).

An Act to amend the Acts relating to Public Libraries, Museums, and Gymnasiums. [17th August, 1901.]

AMENDMENT OF PUBLIC LIBRARIES ACTS, 1892 AND 1893.

Short title and construction. 55 & 56 Vict. c. 53. 56 & 57 Vict. c. 11.

1. This Act may be cited as "The Public Libraries Act, 1901," and shall be construed as one with the Public Libraries Act, 1892 (hereinafter referred to as the principal Act), and the Public Libraries (Amendment) Act, 1893, and those Acts and this Act may be together cited as the Public Libraries Acts, 1892 to 1901.

(a) See the Public Libraries Act, 1892, and the Public Libraries (Amendment) Act, 1893, ante, pp. 2542, 2562. As to the omission of the clause of enactment, see s. 4 of the S. L. R. A., 1894. Part of the title of this Act as to the liability of managers of libraries to proceedings for libel was repealed by S. L. R. A., 1927. Reference should also be made to the Public Libraries Act, 1919, post, p. 2777. Under s. 1 of that Act power is given to county councils to adopt the Public Libraries Acts, and where a county council become the library authority for any area the power of adoption of the council of a district comprised in that area is to cease. Section 2 of the same Act enables a district council to relinquish to a county council its powers and duties under the Public Libraries Acts. Section 3 provides for the reference and delegation of library powers to education committees.

Qualification of library commissioners.

2.—(1) Any commissioners appointed for a library district under the principal Act (a) may be either voters in the district or persons who, though not voters, would, if the district were a rural parish having a parish council, be qualified for election as parish councillors.

56 & 57 Vict. c. 73.

(2) Section forty-six of the Local Government Act, 1894 (b), relating to disqualifications for election to, or membership of, certain authorities, shall have effect as if a library authority, being a body of commissioners appointed under the principal Act, were one of the authorities mentioned in that section

(a) See s. 5 (1) of that Act, ante, p. 2543.
(b) Ante, p. 1002.

Power to library authority to make byelaws.

3.—(1) A library authority may make byelaws (a) for all or any of the following purposes relating to any library, museum, art gallery, or school, which by virtue of the principal Act or this Act is under their control, that is to say:

(a) for regulating the use of the same and of the contents thereof, and for protecting the same and the fittings, furniture, and contents thereof from injury, destruction or misuse;

(b) for requiring from any person using the same any guarantee or security against the loss of, or injury to, any book or other article;

(c) for enabling the officers and servants of the library authority to exclude or remove therefrom persons committing any offence against the Libraries Offences Act, 1898 (b), or against byelaws.

61 & 62 Vict. c. 53.

(2) All byelaws under this section shall be made subject and according to the provisions respecting byelaws contained in sections one hundred and eighty-two to one hundred and eighty-six of the Public Health Act, 1875 (c), and those sections shall apply as if the expression "local authority" therein included in every case a library authority.

38 & 39 Vict. c. 55.

(3) All offences and penalties under any such byelaw may be prosecuted and recovered in manner provided by the Summary Jurisdiction Acts (d).

(a) The power of making byelaws conferred by this section is not in substitution for the power of making regulations conferred by s. 15 of the Public Libraries Act, 1892, ante, p. 2546, which is still retained. Such regulations do not require confirmation by the Ministry of Health, but are not enforceable by penalties. In ordinary cases, however, regulations are sufficient for the attainment of the objects for which they are made; and it is not anticipated that library authorities will be desirous of making byelaws except where experience has shown them to be required.
(c) Ante, pp. 453—468. The power to confirm, allow or disallow byelaws hereunder is now transferred to the Board of Education, see Order in Council, 17th May, 1920, in App. II., post, p. 3451.
(d) Defined by the Interpretation Act, 1889, s. 13 (10).

Extension of 61 & 62 Vict. c. 53.

4. The Libraries Offences Act, 1898 (a), shall apply to any museum, art gallery or school provided under the Public Libraries Act, 1892.

(a) This Act originally extended only to libraries and reading rooms. See s. 2, ante, p. 2568.

Power to library authorities to make agreements for use of library

5.—(1) The library authorities of two or more library districts may agree to share, in such proportions and for such period as may be determined by the agreement, the cost of the purchase, erection, repair and maintenance of any library building in one of those districts, and also the cost of the purchase of books and newspapers for such library, and all other expenses connected with the same, and may also agree as to the management and use of the library, and as to the interchange, hire and use of books and newspapers belonging to such authorities respectively (a).

(2) This section shall apply, with the necessary modifications, to a museum, school for science, art gallery or school for art in like manner as to a library.

(a) This provision is in substitution for s. 16 (1) of the Public Libraries Act, 1892, which is repealed by s. 14, and Sched., post, and any library authority, including an urban authority or a parish council, may enter into an agreement as contemplated by the section with any other library authority whether commissioners or other. Moreover, the agreement may relate to a museum, school for science or art, or art gallery as well as to a library.

Amendment of 55 & 56 Vict. c. 53, s. 18, as to expenses in parishes.

6. In a library district, being a parish, the sanction of the parish meeting or vestry shall not be required annually (a) for raising the sums from time to time due from the parish for defraying the expenses incurred by the library authority, and those sums shall be paid by the overseers (b) on the order of the library authority. But in any parish in a rural district the sanction of the parish meeting shall be required in the year one thousand nine hundred and eleven, and in every tenth year thereafter · Provided that nothing in this section shall affect the operation of section eleven of the Local Government Act, 1894 (c).

56 & 57 Vict. c. 73.

(a) This was formerly necessary under the Public Libraries Act, 1892, s. 18 (2), as affected by s. 7 (3) of the L. G. A., 1894.

(b) Overseers were abolished by the R. and V. Act, 1925, s. 62, ante, p. 1741, and their duties in respect to rates are now exercised by the rating authorities.

(c) See note (a) to s. 5 of the Commons Act, 1899, ante, p. 2603.

The adoptive Acts in the above section include the Public Libraries Acts. The limitation on the amount of the rate imposed by s. 2 of the 1892 Act was repealed by s. 11 and Sched. of the 1919 Act, post, p. 2781.

Application of 54 & 55 Vict. c. 22, to museum provided under principal Act.

7. An urban authority for whose district the Museums and Gymnasiums Act, 1891 (a), has been adopted, either wholly or so far as it relates to museums only, may appropriate for the purposes of that Act a museum provided for the district under the principal Act, and thereupon the Museums and Gymnasiums Act, 1891, shall apply to the museum, as if it were provided under that Act (b).

(b) See, however, s. 9 of the 1919 Act, post, p. 2780.

Notice to Local Government Board (a).

8. On the adoption of the principal Act for any library district, the library authority shall forthwith give notice in writing of such adoption to the Local Government Board (a). The library authority of every district in which the Act has already been adopted shall give the like notice within three months after the passing of this Act.

(a) Now the M. of H. Notice must also be given to the Board of Education, see Order in Council, 17th May, 1920, in App. II., post, p. 3451.

Definition of "voter."

56 & 57 Vict. c. 73.

9. In any library district every person who is a parochial elector within the meaning of the Local Government Act, 1894 (a), shall be a voter for the purposes of the principal Act and this Act ; and parochial electors shall for all the purposes of the principal Act, be substituted for county electors (b).

(a) For "parochial electors" now read "local government electors." See Representation of the People Act, 1918, Sched. VI., 2, and s. 3, ante, pp. 1264, 1246. The expression "local government elector" when used with reference to a parish in an urban district, or in the county of London or any county borough, means any person who would be a local government elector of the parish if it were a rural parish (L. G. A., 1894, s. 75 (2), ante, p. 1036).

(b) The definition of the expression "votor" in s. 27 of the principal Act is consequently repealed.

10. . . . (a).

(a) This section was repealed by s. 11 and the Schedule to the Public Libraries Act, 1919, post, p. 2781. That Act repealed s. 2 of the Public Libraries Act, 1892, and other enactments relating to the limitations on the rate.

EXTENT OF ACT.

Act not to apply to Scotland.

11. This Act shall not apply to Scotland.

APPLICATION OF ACT TO IRELAND.

Section 12.

12. [Application of certain provisions to Ireland. Repealed and replaced by the Public Libraries (Ireland) Act, 1902 (2 Edw. 7, c. 20).]

APPLICATION OF THE MUSEUMS AND GYMNASIUMS ACT, 1891, AND PUBLIC LIBRARIES (AMENDMENT) ACT, 1893, TO LONDON.

Application to London of 54 & 57 Vict. c. 22 and 56 & 57 Vict. c. 11.

13. The Museums and Gymnasiums Act, 1891 (a), and the Public Libraries (Amendment) Act, 1893 (b), shall extend to the administrative county of London, and for the purpose of such extension shall be modified as follows:

The expression "urban authority" shall include the common council of the city of London (c) and a metropolitan borough council, and the expression "district" or "urban district" shall include the city of London and a metropolitan borough;

Any expenses incurred by the common council of the city of London or by a metropolitan borough council under the Museums and Gymnasiums Act, 1891, so far as they are not defrayed by fees and other money received under the said Act, shall be defrayed in the manner in which expenses incurred by that council under the principal Act are payable (d).

(b) Ante, p. 2552.

(c) As to the city of London, see s. 21 of the principal Act, ante, p. 2549.

REPEAL.

14. The Acts mentioned in the schedule to this Act are hereby repealed to the extent specified in the third column of that schedule (a). Repeal.

(a) This section and the Schedule were repealed by S. L. R. A., 1927.

THE FACTORY AND WORKSHOP ACT, 1901.

(1 EDW. 7, c. 22) (a).

An Act to consolidate with Amendments the Factory and Workshop Acts.
[17th August, 1901.]

PART I.

HEALTH AND SAFETY.

(i) Health.

Sanitary conditions of factory (b).

1.—(1) The following provisions shall apply to every factory as defined by this Act (c), except a domestic factory (d):

(a) It must be kept in a cleanly state;

(b) It must be kept free from effluvia rising from any drain, watercloset, earth closet, privy, urinal, or other nuisance;

(c) It must not be so overcrowded while work is carried on therein as to be dangerous or injurious to the health of the persons employed therein (e):

(d) It must be ventilated in such a manner as to render harmless, so far as is practicable, all the gases, vapours, dust or other impurities generated in the course of the manufacturing process or handicraft carried on therein, that might be injurious to health (f).

38 & 39 Vict. c. 55.

(2) The provisions of section ninety-one of the Public Health Act, 1875 (g), with respect to a factory, workshop or workplace not kept in a cleanly state, or not ventilated, or overcrowded, shall not apply to any factory to which this section applies.

(3) For the purpose of securing the observance of the requirements in this section as to cleanliness in factories, all the inside walls of the rooms of a factory, and all the ceilings or tops of those rooms (whether those walls, ceilings, or tops are plastered or not), and all the passages and staircases of a factory, if they have not been painted with oil or varnished once at least within seven years, shall (subject to any special exceptions made in pursuance of this section) be limewashed once at least within every fourteen months, to date from the time when they were last limewashed; and, if they have been so painted or varnished, shall be washed with hot water and soap once at least within every fourteen months, to date from the time when they were last washed.

(4) Where it appears to the Secretary of State that in any class of factories or parts thereof the provisions of this section with respect to limewashing or washing are not required for the purpose of securing therein the observance of the requirements of this Act as to cleanliness, or are by reason of special circumstances inapplicable, he may, if he thinks fit, by special order (h) grant to that class of factories or parts thereof a special exception that the said provisions shall not apply thereto.

(5) A factory in which there is a contravention of this section shall be deemed not to be kept in conformity with this Act.

(a) This Act has been amended by the Factory and Workshop Act, 1907, post, p. 2688, and the Factory and Workshop (Cotton Cloth Factories) Act, 1929, post, p. 3020. Only those sections of this Act which bear upon the duties of sanitary authorities are here set out. The definitions of "factory" and "workshop" in this Act are of particular importance to urban authorities and rural district councils as rating authorities because of their application to the definition of "industrial hereditaments" under the R. and V. Acts, 1925—1929. These definitions will be found set out, post, at p. 2646.

(b) This section reproduces 41 & 42 Vict. c. 16, ss. 3 and 23, as amended by 54 & 55 Vict. c. 75, ss. 3 and 5, and 58 & 59 Vict. c. 37, ss. 1 and 24.

Note to Section 1.

(c) See s. 149, post, p. 2646. As to tenement factories, see s. 87, post, p. 2628, and as to laundries, see the Factory and Workshop Act, 1907, ss. 3 and 4, post, p. 2689.

(d) Defined by s. 115, post, p. 2637. See also s. 111 (5), post, p. 2636.

(e) See s. 3, infra, as to overcrowding.

(f) See s. 7, post, p. 2623, as to means of ventilation.

(g) Ante, p. 174.

Sanitary condition of workshops and workplaces. 38 & 39 Vict c. 55.

2.—(1) The provisions of section ninety-one of the Public Health Act, 1875 (a), with respect to a factory, workshop or workplace not kept in a cleanly state, or not ventilated, or overcrowded, shall apply to every factory, workshop and workplace, except any factory to which the last preceding section applies.

(2) Every workshop and every workplace within the meaning of the Public Health Act, 1875, must be kept free from effluvia arising from any drain, watercloset, earthcloset, privy, urinal or other nuisance, and, unless so kept, shall be deemed to be a nuisance liable to be dealt with summarily under the law relating to public health.

(3) Where, on the certificate of a medical officer of health or inspector of nuisances, it appears to any district council that the limewashing, cleansing or purifying of any such workshop or of any part thereof is necessary for the health of the persons employed therein, the council shall give notice in writing to the owner or occupier of the workshop to limewash, cleanse or purify the same or part thereof, as the case may require.

(4) If the person to whom notice is so given fails to comply therewith within the time therein specified, he shall be liable to a fine not exceeding ten shillings for every day during which he continues to make default, and the council may, if they think fit, cause the workshop or part to be limewashed, cleansed, or purified, and may recover in a summary manner the expenses incurred by them in so doing from the person in default.

(5) This section shall not apply to any workshop or workplace to which the Public Health (London) Act, 1891, applies. 54 & 55 Vict. c. 76

(a) Ante, p. 174.

Overcrowding of factory and workshop.

3.—(1) A factory shall, for the purposes of this Act, and a workshop shall, for the purposes of the law relating to public health, be deemed to be so overcrowded as to be dangerous or injurious to the health of the persons employed therein, if the number of cubic feet of space in any room therein bears to the number of persons employed at one time in the room a proportion less than two hundred and fifty or, during any period of overtime, four hundred cubic feet of space to every person (a).

(2) Provided that the Secretary of State may, by special order (b), modify this proportion for any period during which artificial light other than electric light is employed for illuminating purposes, and may, by like order, as regards any particular manufacturing process or handicraft, substitute for the said figures of two hundred and fifty and four hundred respectively any higher figures, and thereupon this section shall have effect as modified by the order.

(3) Where a workshop or workplace, not being a domestic workshop (c), is occupied by day as a workshop and by night as a sleeping apartment, the Secretary of State may, by special order (d) modify the proportion of cubic feet of space prescribed by this section and substitute therefor any higher figures, and thereupon this section shall have effect as modified by the order.

(4) There shall be affixed in every factory and workshop a notice specifying the number of persons who may be employed in each room of the factory or workshop by virtue of this section.

Note to Section 3.

(a) It had been found by experience previous to the passing of the Factory and Workshop Act, 1895, s. 1, from which this enactment is taken, that the limits here prescribed afforded a good general working rule, and the then Home Secretary so stated in the House of Commons before the passing of that Act.

(b) Defined in s. 156, post, p. 2649. See Order dated 30th December, 1903, as to certain bakehouses, in App. II., post, p. 3300.

(c) Defined by s. 115, post, p. 2637.

(d) Defined by s. 156, post, p. 2649. See Order dated 17th January, 1902, as to workshops used as sleeping places, in App. II., post, p. 3300.

Power of Secretary of State to act in default of local authority (a).

4.—(1) If the Secretary of State is satisfied that the provisions of this Act, or of the law relating to public health in so far as it affects factories, workshops and workplaces, have not been carried out by any district council, he may, by order, authorise an inspector to take, during such period as may be mentioned in the order, such steps as appear necessary or proper for enforcing those provisions.

(2) An inspector authorised in pursuance of this section shall, for the purpose of his duties thereunder, have the same powers with respect to workshops and workplaces as he has with respect to factories, and he may, for that purpose, take the like proceedings for enforcing the provisions of this Act or of the law relating to public health, or for punishing or remedying any default, as might be taken by the district council; and he shall be entitled to recover from the district council all such expenses in and about any proceedings as he may incur and as are not recovered from any other person (b).

(a) This section reproduces and extends the Factory and Workshop Act, 1891, s. 2, except as to laundries, as to which see the Act of 1907, post, p. 2688.

It does not appear how the Secretary of State is to be satisfied of the default, but no doubt opportunity will be given to the district council alleged to be in default, to answer the case against them before any order under this section is made.

The provisions of this section should be compared with those of s. 299 of the P. H. A., 1875, ante, p. 634, and s. 57 (3) of the L. G. A., 1929, ante, p. 1921, and the differences noted.

(b) There are no provisions as to recovery of these expenses like those contained in s. 300 of the P. H. A., 1875, ante, p. 637. It would seem, therefore, that in order to recover them, the inspector must bring his action on the statute against the defaulting district council and prove his case in the ordinary way.

Powers of inspector as to sanitary defects in factory or workshop remediable by sanitary authority (a).

5.—(1) Where it appears to an inspector that any act, neglect or default in relation to any drain, watercloset, earthcloset, privy, ashpit, water-supply, nuisance or other matter in a factory or workshop is punishable or remediable under the law relating to public health, but not under this Act, that inspector shall give notice in writing of the act, neglect or default, to the district council in whose district the factory or workshop is situate, and it shall be the duty of the district council to make such inquiry into the subject of the notice, and take such action thereon, as seems to that council proper for the purpose of enforcing the law, and to inform the inspector of the proceedings taken in consequence of the notice.

(2) An inspector may, for the purposes of this section, take with him into a factory or a workshop a medical officer of health, inspector of nuisances or other officer of the district council.

(3) Where notice of an act, neglect or default is given by an inspector under this section to a district council, and proceedings are not taken within one month for punishing or remedying the act, neglect or default, the inspector may take the like proceedings for punishing or remedying the same as the district council might have taken, and shall be entitled to recover from the district council all such expenses in and about the proceedings as the inspector incurs and as are not recovered from any other person and have not been incurred in any unsuccessful proceedings (b).

Note to Section 5.

(a) This section reproduces the Factory and Workshop Act, 1878, s. 4, as amended by the Factory and Workshop Act, 1891, s. 2, and the Factory and Workshop Act, 1895, s. 3. An inspector has power to make such examination and inquiry as may be necessary to ascertain whether the enactments for the time being in force relating to public health are complied with so far as respects a factory or workshop, and the persons employed therein. See s. 119 (1) (d), post, p. 2638.

(b) See note (b) to s. 4 on p. 2622.

Temperature in factories and workshops (b).

6.—(1) In every factory and workshop adequate measures (a) must be taken for securing and maintaining a reasonable temperature in each room in which any person is employed ; but the measures so taken must not interfere with the purity of the air of any room in which any person is employed.

(2) The Secretary of State may, by special order (c), direct, with respect to any class of factories or workshops, that thermometers be provided, maintained and kept in working order, in such place and position as may be specified in the order.

(3) A factory or workshop in which there is any contravention of this section, or of any order under this section, shall be deemed not to be kept in conformity with this Act.

(a) See Peter Robinson, Ltd. v. Plowden (1903), 67 J. P. 152.

(b) This section reproduces the Factory and Workshop Act, 1895, s. 32, adding the amendment embodied in sub-s. (2), but that sub-section does not apply to domestic factories or domestic workshops. See s. 111 (4) (e), post, p. 2636. As to laundries, see the Factory and Workshop Act, 1907, s. 3, post, p. 2689. This section does not apply to men's workshops. See s. 157, post, p. 2649.

(c) Defined by s. 156, post, p. 2649. No such order has as yet been made.

Ventilation (a).

7.—(1) In every room in any factory or workshop sufficient means of ventilation shall be provided, and sufficient ventilation shall be maintained.

(2) The Secretary of State may, by special order (b), prescribe a standard of sufficient ventilation for any class of factories or workshops, and that standard shall be observed in all factories and workshops of that class ; and an order made under this power may supersede any provision of this Act or order of the Secretary of State with respect to ventilation in cotton cloth factories (c).

(3) A factory in which there is a contravention of the provisions of this section shall be deemed not to be kept in conformity with this Act, and a workshop in which there is a contravention of the provisions of this section shall be deemed to be a nuisance liable to be dealt with summarily under the law relating to public health.

(4) If the occupier of a factory or workshop (including a cotton cloth factory in which humidity of the atmosphere is artificially produced) alleges that the whole or part of the expenses of providing the means of ventilation required by this Act ought to be borne by the owner (d), he may, by complaint, apply to a court of summary jurisdiction, and that court may make such order concerning the expenses or their apportionment as appears to the court to be just and equitable under the circumstances of the case, regard being had to the terms of any contract between the parties (e).

(a) This section does not apply to domestic factories or domestic workshops (see s. 111 (4) (e), post, p. 2636), nor to men's workshops (see s. 157, post, p. 2649). As to laundries, see the Factory and Workshop Act, 1907, s. 3, post, p. 2689.

(b) Defined by s. 156, post, p. 2649. See Order dated 4th February, 1902, as to certain humid textile factories other than cotton cloth factories (Stat. R. & O. Rev., 1904, vol. 4, tit. Factory and Workshop, p. 4), in App II., post, p. 3300.

(c) See ss. 90—96.

(e) Compare ss. 14 (4) and 101 (8), post, pp. 2625, 2632.

Drainage of floors (a).

8.—(1) In every factory or workshop or part thereof in which any process is carried on which renders the floor liable to be wet to such an extent that

Section 8. the wet is capable of being removed by drainage, adequate means shall be provided for draining off the wet.

(2) A factory in which there is a contravention of the provisions of this section shall be deemed not to be kept in conformity with this Act, and a workshop in which there is a contravention of the provisions of this section shall be deemed to be a nuisance liable to be dealt with summarily under the law relating to public health.

Sanitary conveniences in factories and workshops (a).

9.—(1) Every factory and workshop must be provided with sufficient and suitable accommodation in the way of sanitary conveniences, regard being had to the number of persons employed in, or in attendance at, the factory or workshop, and also where persons of both sexes are, or are intended to be, employed or in attendance, with proper separate accommodation for persons of each sex.

(2) The Secretary of State shall, by special order (b), determine what is sufficient and suitable accommodation within the meaning of this section.

(3) A factory or workshop in which there is a contravention of this section shall be deemed not to be kept in conformity with this Act.

(4) This section does not apply to the administrative county of London, or to any place where section twenty-two of the Public Health Acts Amendment Act, 1890, is in force (c).

53 & 54 Vict. c. 59.

(b) Defined by s. 156, post, p. 2649. See the Sanitary Accommodation Order of the 4th February, 1903 (Stat. R. & O. Rev., 1904, vol. 4, tit. Factory and Workshop, p. 5, and Appendix II., post, p. 3301), and accompanying Home Office Circular, 16th February, 1903; 1 L. G. R., Part III., p. 57.

Provision of means of escape in case of fire (a).

14.—(1) Every factory of which the construction was not commenced on or before the first day of January one thousand eight hundred and ninety-two and in which more than forty persons are employed and every workshop of which the construction was not commenced before the first day of January one thousand eight hundred and ninety-six and in which more than forty persons are employed must be furnished with a certificate from the district council of the district in which the factory or workshop is situate that the factory or workshop is provided with such means of escape in case of fire for the persons employed therein as can reasonably be required under the circumstances of each case, and if the factory or workshop is not so furnished it shall be deemed not to be kept in conformity with this Act; and it shall be the duty of the council to examine every such factory and workshop and, on being satisfied that the factory or workshop is so provided, to give such a certificate as aforesaid. The certificate must specify in detail the means of escape so provided.

(2) With respect to all factories and workshops to which the foregoing provisions of this section do not apply and in which more than forty persons are employed (b), it shall be the duty of the district council of every district from time to time to ascertain whether all such factories and workshops within their district are provided with such means of escape as aforesaid and, in the case of any factory or workshop which is not so provided, to serve on the owner (c) of the factory or workshop a notice in writing specifying the measures necessary for providing such means of escape as aforesaid and requiring him to carry them out before a specified date, and thereupon the owner shall, notwithstanding any agreement with the occupier, have power to take such steps as are necessary for complying with the requirements (d); and, unless the requirements are complied with, the owner shall be liable to a fine not exceeding one pound for every day that the non-compliance continues.

(3) In case of a difference of opinion between the owner (c) of the factory or workshop and the council under the last foregoing sub-section, the difference shall, on the application of either party, to be made within one month after the time when the difference arises, be referred to arbitration, and thereupon the provisions of the First Schedule to this Act shall have effect, and the award on the arbitration shall be binding on the parties thereto, and the notice of the council shall be discharged, amended or confirmed in accordance with the award.

(4) If the owner (c) alleges that the occupier of the factory or workshop ought to bear or contribute to the expenses of complying with the requirements, he may apply to the county court having jurisdiction where the factory or workshop is situate, and thereupon the county court, after hearing the occupier, may make such order as appears to the court just and equitable under all the circumstances of the case (e).

(5) For the purpose of enforcing the foregoing provisions of this section, an inspector may give the like notice and take the like proceedings as under the foregoing provisions of this Act with respect to matters punishable or remediable under the law relating to public health but not under this Act, and those provisions shall apply accordingly (f).

(6) The means of escape in case of fire provided in any factory or workshop shall be maintained in good condition and free from obstruction, and if it is not so maintained the factory or workshop shall be deemed not to be kept in conformity with this Act.

(7) For the purposes of this section the whole of a tenement factory or workshop shall be deemed to be one factory or workshop, and the owner shall be substituted for the occupier (g).

(8) All expenses incurred by a district council in the execution of this section shall be defrayed—

(a) In the case of an urban district council, as part of their expenses of the general execution of the Public Health Act, 1875 (h); and

38 & 39 Vict. c. 55.

(b) In the case of a rural district council, as special expenses incurred in the execution of the Public Health Act, 1875 (i);

and those expenses shall be charged to the contributory place in which the factory or workshop is situate.

(a) This section reproduces with amendments embodied in sub-ss. (6) and (7) the provisions of the Factory and Workshop Act, 1891, s. 7, as amended by the Factory and Workshop Act, 1895, ss. 10 and 11. It seems to extend to movable as well as to fixed fire-escapes. As to the application of this section to the administrative county of London see s. 153.

(b) Adjoining houses let on separate leases by the same owner to the same tenant, who occupied them as one set of manufacturing premises, although in one of them less than forty persons were employed, more than forty being employed in the other, were held to have been rightly dealt with as a single factory under this section (Re Tubbs and London C. C. (1904), 68 J. P. 29; 1 L. G. R. 746).

(c) Defined by s. 156, post, p. 2649. See London C. C. v. Leyson (1914), 78 J. P. 91; 110 L. T. 200.

(d) This gives the owner the right to enter and do works required in respect of the property included in his demise.

Whether the works are reasonably required or not is to be determined in manner directed by the Act (Toller v. Spiers and Pond, Ltd., [1903] 1 Ch. 362; 67 J. P. 234).

(e) The effect of this sub-section is to exclude the jurisdiction of the High Court in any action upon any covenant by the lessee to pay these expenses, and notwithstanding any such covenant the county court judge may apportion the expenses as may seem to him just and equitable under the circumstances, though he may take into consideration the terms of the tenancy as part of the circumstances (Horner v. Franklin, [1905] 1 K. B. 479; 69 J. P. 117). This case apparently overrules Shephard v. Barber (1903), 67 J. P. 238; 1 L. G. R. 157; and approves Monk v. Arnold, [1902] 1 K. B. 761. Cf. Monro v. Lord Burghclere (1917), 82 J. P. 86, a case decided under the London Building Acts (Amendment) Act, 1905, s. 20. Compare also s. 7 (4), ante, p. 2623, and s. 101 (8), post, p. 2632.

(f) See s. 5, ante, p. 2622.

(g) "Tenement factory" is defined by s. 149, post, p. 2646. This sub-section does not meet the defect in the previous Acts disclosed by London C. C. v. Lewis, [1900] 69 L. J. Q. B. 277; 64 J. P. 39, where the upper floors of a building were "factories" within the meaning of the Acts, but the first floor and basement were not and were let to other tenants, and it was held that the owner of the whole building could not be required to provide as a means of escape in case of fire for the persons employed in such factories, a staircase which would encroach on the lower floors of the building. See also London C. C. v. Brass (1902), 17 T. L. R. 504, where it was held that a notice to provide means of escape specifying works that would involve a trespass, was held not sufficient to justify a conviction for non-compliance; and see Toller v. Spiers and Pond, Ltd., ante, p. 2625.

(h) See s. 207 of the P. H. A., 1875, ante, p. 495, as amended by the R. and V. Act, 1925.

Byelaws for means of escape from fire.

15. Every district council shall, in addition to any powers which they possess with reference to the prevention of fire (a), have power to make byelaws providing for means of escape from fire in the case of any factory or workshop, and sections one hundred and eighty-two to one hundred and eighty-six of the Public Health Act, 1875 (b), shall apply to any byelaws so made.

Doors of factory or workshop to open from inside (a).

16.—(1) While any person employed in a factory or workshop is within the factory or workshop for the purpose of employment or meals, the doors of the factory or workshop, and of any room therein in which any such person is, must not be locked or bolted or fastened in such a manner that they cannot be easily and immediately opened from the inside.

(2) In every factory or workshop the construction of which was not commenced before the first day of January one thousand eight hundred and ninety-six, the doors of each room in which more persons than ten are employed shall, except in the case of sliding doors, be constructed so as to open outwards.

(3) A factory or workshop in which there is a contravention of this section shall be deemed not to be kept in conformity with this Act.

(a) This section reproduces and extends 58 & 59 Vict. c. 37, s. 10 (2) and (3).

* * * * * *

Power to make order as to unhealthy or dangerous factory or workshop (a).

18.—(1) A court of summary jurisdiction may, on complaint by an inspector, and on being satisfied that any place used as a factory or workshop or as part of a factory or workshop is in such a condition that any manufacturing process or handicraft carried on therein cannot be so carried on without danger to health or to life or limb, by order, prohibit the use of that place for the purpose of that process or handicraft, until such works have been executed as are, in the opinion of the court, necessary to remove the danger.

(2) Provided that proceedings shall not be taken under this section in case where proceedings might be taken by or at the instance of any district council under the provisions of the law relating to public health, unless the inspector is authorised to take proceedings under the foregoing provisions of this Act (b) with respect to the enforcement of sanitary provisions in workshops or with respect to matters punishable or remediable under the law relating to public health but not under this Act.

(3) If there is any contravention of an order under this section, the occupier of the place shall be liable to a fine not exceeding forty shillings a day during the contravention.

(b) See ss. 4 and 5, ante, p. 2622.

PART II.

EMPLOYMENT.

* * * * * *

Supplemental.

Power to impose sanitary requirements as condition of special exceptions (a).

58.—(1) Where it appears to the Secretary of State—

(a) That the adoption of any special means or provision for the cleanliness or ventilation of a factory or workshop is required for the protection of the health of women, young persons or children employed, in pursuance of an exception under this part of this Act, either for a longer period than is otherwise allowed by this Act or at night; or

(b) That the adoption of a special provision as to the total number of hours of employment in each week, the periods of employment and the intervals between such periods is required for the protection of the health of any women or young persons employed in pursuance of such an exception at night, he may, by special order (b), direct that the adoption of the means or provision shall be a condition of such employment.

(2) If it appears to the Secretary of State that the adoption of any such means or provision is no longer required or is, having regard to all the circumstances, inexpedient, he may, by special order, rescind the order directing the adoption, without prejudice to the subsequent making of another order.

(a) This section reproduces the provisions of the Factory and Workshop Act, 1878, s. 63, as amended by the Factory and Workshop Act, 1895, s. 14 (3).

(b) Defined by s. 156, post, p. 2649. See Order dated 20th December, 1882, as to fish-curing shops made under s. 43 of the Factory and Workshop Act, 1878 (Stat. R. & O. Rev., 1904, vol. 4, tit. Factory and Workshop, p. 6). See also Order dated 15th April, 1884, as to workrooms in connection with drapers' actual establishments in the Boroughs of Manchester and Salford (ibid., p. 8), and Order dated 27th April, 1887, as to factories and workshops for the manufacture of straw hats and bonnets (ibid., p. 9).

By another Order dated the 20th December, 1882 (ibid., p. 31) (App. II., post, p. 3303), it was imposed as a condition of the employment in any factory or workshop mentioned in Part III. of Schedule III. of the Act of 1878 of any young person or woman in pursuance of an exception under s. 53 of that Act that there shall be a cubic space of at least 400 feet for every young person and woman so employed.

So far as factories are concerned, s. 1 of the Act of 1895, superseded the provisions of this last-mentioned Order. In the case of workshops, however, the effect of that section was not to supersede the Order, but to give the local sanitary authority a co-ordinate power to deal with overcrowding under the law relating to public health. See now s. 3 of the present Act. The Order therefore remains in full force as to workshops, and the conditions which it imposes as to the working of overtime in workshops are enforceable by the factory inspectors.

Power to rescind orders as to special exceptions (a).

59. Where an exception has been granted or extended under this Act by an order of the Secretary of State and it appears to the Secretary of State that the exception is injurious to the health of the women, young persons or children employed in, or is no longer necessary for the carrying on of the business in, the class of factories or workshops or parts thereof to which the exception was so granted or extended, he may, by special order, rescind the grant or extension, without prejudice to the subsequent making of another order.

Notices, registers, etc., relating to special exceptions (a).

60.—(1) An occupier of a factory or workshop, not less than seven days before he avails himself of any special exception made by or in pursuance of this Act, shall serve (b) on the inspector for the district, and affix in his factory or workshop notice of his intention so to avail himself and, whilst he avails himself of the exception, shall keep the notice so affixed.

(2) Before the service of the notice on the inspector, the special exception shall not be deemed to apply to the factory or workshop and, after the service of the notice on the inspector, it shall not be competent in any proceeding under this Act for the occupier to prove that the exception does not apply to his factory or workshop, unless he has previously served on the inspector for the district notice that he no longer intends to avail himself of the exception.

(3) The notice so served and affixed must, except as otherwise provided by this Act, specify the hours for beginning and end of the period of employment and the times to be allowed for meals to every woman, young person and child, where they differ from the ordinary hours or times.

(4) An occupier of a factory or workshop shall enter in the prescribed (c) register and report to the inspector for the district the prescribed (c) particulars respecting the employment of a woman, young person or child in pursuance of a special exception ; and, in the case of employment overtime, he shall also cause a notice containing the prescribed (c) particulars respecting the employment to be kept affixed in the factory or workshop during the prescribed (c) time, and he shall send the report required by this subsection to the inspector not later than eight o'clock in the evening on which any woman, young person or child is employed overtime in pursuance of the exception.

(5) Where the occupier of a factory or workshop avails himself of a special exception made by or in pursuance of this Act and a condition for availing himself of that exception (whether specified in this Act, or in an order of the Secretary of State made under this Act) is not observed in that factory or workshop, then

(a) If the condition relates to the cleanliness, ventilation or overcrowding of the factory or workshop, the factory or workshop shall be deemed not to be kept in conformity with this Act ; and

(b) In any other case a woman, young person or child employed in the factory or workshop, in alleged pursuance of the exception, shall be deemed to be employed contrary to the provisions of this Act.

(6) Where an occupier of a factory or workshop has served on an inspector a report, in pursuance of this section, of his intention to employ any persons overtime by virtue of a special exception, the report shall, unless withdrawn, be primâ facie evidence, in any proceedings under this Act, that the occupier has in fact employed persons overtime in accordance with the report.

PART V.

SPECIAL MODIFICATIONS AND EXTENSIONS.

(i) Tenement Factories.

Duties of owner of tenement factory (b).

87.—(1) The owner (a) (whether or not he is one of the occupiers) of a tenement factory (c) shall, instead of the occupier, be liable for the observance and punishable for non-observance of the following provisions of this Act, namely, the provisions with respect to— Section 87.

(i) the cleanliness, freedom from effluvia, overcrowding and ventilation of factories, contained in section one of this Act, including, so far as they relate to any engine-house, passage or staircase or to any room which is let to more than one tenant, the provisions with respect to limewashing and washing of the interior of a factory;

(ii) the fencing of machinery and penal compensation for neglect to fence machinery in a factory, except so far as relates to such parts of the machinery as are supplied by the occupier;

(iii) the notices to be affixed in a factory with respect to the period of employment, times for meals and system of employment of children;

(iv) the prevention of the inhalation of dust, gas, vapour or other impurity, so far as that provision requires the supply of pipes or other contrivances necessary for working the fan or other means for that purpose; and

(v) the fixing of an abstract and notices in a factory.

Provided that any occupier may affix in his own tenement the notice with respect to the period of employment, times for meals and system of employment of children, and thereupon that notice shall, with respect to persons employed by that occupier, have effect in substitution for the corresponding notice affixed by the owner.

(2) The provisions of this Act with respect to the power to make orders in the case of dangerous premises shall apply in the case of a tenement factory as if the owner were substituted for the occupier.

(3) In the case of any tenement factory or class of tenement factories used wholly or partly for the weaving of cotton cloth, the owner shall, if the Secretary of State by order so directs, be substituted for the occupier for the purpose of the requirements of section seven and section ninety-four of this Act or of any order of the Secretary of State with respect to ventilation.

(4) Where, by or under this section, the owner of a tenement factory is substituted for the occupier with respect to any provisions of this Act, any summons, notice or proceeding, which for the purpose of any of those provisions is by this Act required or authorised to be served on or taken in relation to the occupier, is hereby required or authorised (as the case may be) to be served on or taken in relation to the owner.

(a) Defined by s. 156, post, p. 2649.

(b) This section reproduces 58 & 59 Vict. c. 37, s. 24, with certain amendments.

(c) Defined by s. 149, post, p. 2646. Note the omission of the former provision as to occupiers paying a rent in excess of £200 a year.

* * * * * *

(ii) Cotton Cloth and other Humid Factories.

* * * * * *

94. In every cotton cloth factory the following regulations (a) for the protection of health shall have effect, viz.: Regulations for the protection of health.

(1) The water used for the purpose of producing humidity shall either be taken from a public supply of drinking water or other source of pure water or shall be effectively purified to the satisfaction of the inspector before being introduced in the form of steam into the factory, and all ducts for the introduction of humidified air shall be kept clean.

(2) The pipes for the introduction of steam into a cotton cloth factory in which the temperature is seventy degrees Fahrenheit or over shall, so far as they are within the shed, be as small both in diameter and length as is reasonably practicable and shall be effectively covered with non-conducting material to the satisfaction of the inspector, so as to minimise the amount of heat thrown off by them into the shed.

(3) In the case of a cotton cloth factory in which humidity of the atmosphere is produced by any artificial means whatsoever (except by gas used for lighting purposes only), the arrangements for ventilation shall be such that during working hours in no part of the cotton cloth factory shall the proportion of carbonic acid (carbon dioxide) in the air be greater than nine volumes of carbonic acid to every ten thousand volumes of air.

(4) Unless some other method certified by the inspector to be equally satisfactory is adopted, the outside of the roof of every cotton cloth factory shall be whitewashed every year before the thirty-first day of May, and such whitewash shall be effectively maintained until the thirty-first day of August.

(5) In every cotton cloth factory erected after the second day of February one thousand eight hundred and ninety-eight, a sufficient and suitable cloak room, or cloak rooms, shall be provided for the use of all the persons employed therein, and shall be ventilated and kept at a suitable temperature.

(a) Under the Factory and Workshop (Cotton Cloth Factories) Act, 1929, post, p. 3020, the Secretary of State has made regulations (S. R. & O., 1929, No. 300) which are to be substituted for the provisions in the text in so far as they relate to cotton cloth factories.

And a local authority may not approve plans for the erection of or conversion of a building for use as a cotton cloth factory until they have a certificate of the superintending inspector of factories that the building will comply with the regulations.

Penalties for non-compliance (a).

95. If in the case of any cotton cloth factory there is a contravention of or non-compliance with any of the foregoing provisions with regard to cotton cloth factories, the inspector shall give notice in writing to the occupier (b) of the factory of the acts or omissions constituting the contravention or non-compliance and, if those acts or omissions or any of them are continued or not remedied or are repeated within twelve (c) months after the notice has been given, the occupier of the factory shall be liable, for the first offence, to a fine not less than five pounds and not exceeding ten pounds and, for every subsequent offence, to a fine not less than ten pounds and not exceeding twenty pounds.

(b) As to the liability of the owner in certain cases, see s. 87 (3) and (4), ante, p. 2629.

(c) Twenty-four months under the Factory and Workshop (Cotton Cloth Factories) Act, 1929, s. 1 (2), post, p. 3020.

Application of foregoing provisions to other humid factories (a).

96. The foregoing provisions of this Act with respect to cotton cloth factories shall apply to every textile factory in which atmospheric humidity is artificially produced by steaming or other mechanical appliances and in which regulations under Part IV. of this Act with respect to humidity are not for the time being in force, but subject to the following qualifications, namely:

(a) The Secretary of State may, by special order, modify the provisions of the Fourth Schedule to this Act with respect to the maximum limits of humidity;

(b) The reading of the thermometer between seven and eight o'clock in the forenoon shall not be required; and

(c) Section ninety-four, respecting regulations for the protection of health in cotton cloth factories, shall not apply; and

(d) The regulations in section ninety-two distinguished as (b), (c), (d), and (e), which are required to be observed with reference to the employment of thermometers, shall not apply to cotton spinning mills.

(a) This section reproduces the Factory and Workshop Act, 1895, s. 31, with certain amendments. It is here inserted simply for the purpose of showing that the application of s. 94 of this Act to other humid factories other than cotton cloth factories is excluded. A special order, dated 24th December, 1898, made under the corresponding provisions of s. 31 of the Factory and Workshop Act, 1895, now repealed, is in force with regard to factories where the spinning of merino, cashmere, and wool by the French or dry process is carried on.

(iii) Bakehouses (a).

(a) The M. of H., is now the central department in relation to ss. 97—100. (Order of 27 July, 1921, in App. II., post, p. 3306).

Sanitary regulations for bakehouses (a).

97.—(1) It shall not be lawful to let or suffer to be occupied or to occupy any room or place as a bakehouse, unless the following regulations are complied with:

(a) A watercloset, earthcloset, privy or ashpit must not be within or communicate directly with the bakehouse;

(b) Every cistern for supplying water to the bakehouse must be separate and distinct from any cistern for supplying water to a watercloset;

(c) A drain or pipe for carrying off fæcal or sewage matter must not have an opening within the bakehouse.

(2) If any person lets or suffers to be occupied or occupies any room or place as a bakehouse in contravention of this section he shall be liable to a fine not exceeding forty shillings, and to a further fine not exceeding five shillings for every day during which any room or place is so occupied after a conviction under this section.

Penalty for bakehouse being unfit on sanitary grounds (a).

98.—(1) Where a court of summary jurisdiction is satisfied, on the prosecution of an inspector or a district council, that any room or place used as a bakehouse is in such a state as to be on sanitary grounds unfit for use or occupation as a bakehouse, the occupier of the bakehouse shall be liable to a fine not exceeding, for the first offence, forty shillings and, for any subsequent offence, five pounds.

(2) The court of summary jurisdiction, in addition to or instead of inflicting a fine, may order means to be adopted by the occupier, within the time named in the order, for the purpose of removing the grounds of complaint. The court may, on application, enlarge the time so named; but, if after the expiration of the time as originally named or enlarged by subsequent order the order is not complied with, the occupier shall be liable to a fine not exceeding one pound for every day that the non-compliance continues.

Limewashing, painting, and washing of bakehouses (a).

99.—(1) All the inside walls of the rooms of a bakehouse, and all the ceilings or tops of those rooms (whether those walls, ceiling or tops are plastered or not) and all the passages and staircases of a bakehouse must either be painted with oil or varnished or be limewashed, or be partly painted or varnished and partly limewashed; and

(a) where the bakehouse is painted with oil or varnished, there must be three coats of paint or varnish and the paint or varnish must be renewed once at least in every seven years and must be washed with hot water and soap once at least in every six months; and

Section 99.

(b) where the bakehouse is limewashed, the limewashing must be renewed once at least in every six months.

(2) A bakehouse in which there is a contravention of this section shall be deemed not to be kept in conformity with this Act.

Provision as to sleeping places near bakehouses (a).

100.—(1) A place on the same level with the bakehouse and forming part of the same building may not be used as a sleeping place, unless it is constructed as follows; that is to say,

(a) is effectually separated from the bakehouse by a partition extending from the floor to the ceiling; and

(b) has an external glazed window of at least nine superficial feet in area, of which at the least four and a half superficial feet in area are made to open for ventilation.

(2) If any person lets or occupies or continues to let or knowingly suffers to be occupied any place contrary to this section, he shall be liable to a fine not exceeding, for the first offence, twenty shillings and, for any subsequent offence, five pounds.

Prohibition of underground bakehouses (a).

101.—(1) An underground bakehouse shall not be used as a bakehouse unless it was so used at the passing of this Act (b).

(2) Subject to the foregoing provision, after the first day of January one thousand nine hundred and four an underground bakehouse shall not be used unless certified by the district council to be suitable for that purpose (c).

(3) For the purpose of this section an underground bakehouse shall mean a bakehouse any baking room of which is so situate that the surface of the floor is more than three feet below the surface of the footway of the adjoining street or of the ground adjoining or nearest to the room. The expression "baking room" means any room used for baking or for any process incidental thereto.

(4) An underground bakehouse shall not be certified as suitable unless the district council is satisfied that it is suitable as regards construction, light, ventilation and in all other respects.

(5) This section shall have effect as if it were included among the provisions relating to bakehouses which are referred to in section twenty-six of the Public Health (London) Act, 1891.

54 & 55 Vict. c. 76.

(6) If any place is used in contravention of this section, it shall be deemed to be a workshop not kept in conformity with this Act.

(7) In the event of the refusal of a certificate by the district council, the occupier of the bakehouse may, within twenty-one days from the refusal, by complaint apply to a court of summary jurisdiction, and, if it appears to the satisfaction of the court that the bakehouse is suitable for use as regards construction, light, ventilation and in all other respects, the court shall thereupon grant a certificate of suitability of the bakehouse, which shall have effect as if granted by the district council.

(8) Where any place has been let as a bakehouse, and the certificate required by this section cannot be obtained unless structural alterations are made, and the occupier alleges that the whole or part of the expenses of the alterations ought to be borne by the owner, he may by complaint apply to a court of summary jurisdiction, and that court may make such order concerning the expenses or their apportionment as appears to the court to be just and equitable, under the circumstances of the case, regard being had to the terms of any contract between the parties; or in the alternative the court may, at the request of the occupier, determine the lease (d).

(a) The first sub-section of this section reproduced the Factory and Workshop Act, 1895, s. 27 (3), but the rest was new.

(b) Premises which have been long used as an underground bakehouse, although vacant at the passing of this Act, may, if the owner was then seeking a tenant for them as a bakehouse, be considered to be used as a bakehouse within the meaning of this sub-section (Schwerzerhof v. Wilkins, [1898] 1 Q. B. 641; 62 J. P. 247).

(c) This sub-section absolutely prohibits the use of underground bakehouses after 1st January, 1904, unless certified as structurally suitable for the purpose by the local authority (Evans v. Gallon (1904), 68 J. P. 537; 2 L. G. R. 1004).

(d) Compare s. 7 (4), and s. 14 (4), ante, pp. 2623, 2625. The jurisdiction of the High Court in an action on a covenant in a lease by the lessee to pay expenses under this section is excluded by this sub-section (Stuckey v. Hooke, [1906] 2 K. B. 20; 70 J. P. 393). As to whether the court of summary jurisdiction in making an apportionment can disregard a covenant by the tenant to pay outgoings, etc., see Goldstein v. Hollingsworth, [1904] 2 K. B. 578; 68 J. P. 383; Morris v. Beal, [1904] 2 K. B. 585; 68 J. P. 542, and Stuckey v. Hooke, supra (per Moulton, L.J.). Cf. Monro v. Lord Burghclere (1917), 82 J. P. 86, a case decided under the London Building Acts (Amendment) Act, 1905, s. 20.

Enforcement of law as to retail bakehouses by sanitary authorities (a).

102. As respects every retail bakehouse, the provisions of this Part of this Act shall be enforced by the district council of the district in which the retail bakehouse is situate, and not by an inspector; and for the purposes of this section the medical officer of health of the district council shall have and may exercise all the powers of entry, inspection, taking legal proceedings and otherwise of an inspector (b).

In this section the expression "retail bakehouse" means any bakehouse or place, not being a factory, the bread, biscuits or confectionery baked in which are sold, not wholesale, but by retail, in some shop or place occupied with the bakehouse.

(a) This section reproduces the Factory and Workshop Act, 1883, s. 17, and the definition of "retail bakehouse" in s. 18 of that Act.

(b) See s. 119, post, p. 2638. It is very questionable, however, whether a medical officer of health can be authorised to conduct proceedings under s. 120, post, p. 2639, like an inspector.

PART VI.

HOME WORK.

List of outworkers to be kept in certain trades (b).

107. (a) In the case of persons employed in such classes of work as may from time to time be specified by special order (c) of the Secretary of State—

(1) The occupier of every factory and workshop and every contractor employed by any such occupier in the business of the factory or workshop shall—

(a) keep in the prescribed (d) form and manner and with the prescribed particulars lists showing the names and addresses of all persons directly employed by him, either as workmen or as contractors, in the business of the factory or workshop outside the factory or workshop and the places where they are employed; and

(b) send to an inspector such copies of or extracts from those lists as the inspector may from time to time require; and

(c) send on or before the first day of February and the first day of August in each year copies of those lists to the district council of the district in which the factory or workshop is situate (e).

(2) Every district council shall cause the lists received in pursuance of this section to be examined and shall furnish the name and place of employment of every outworker included in any such list whose place of employment is outside its district to the council of the district in which his place of employment is.

(3) The lists kept by the occupier or contractor shall be open to inspection by any inspector under this Act and by any officer duly authorised by the district council, and the copies sent to the council and the particulars furnished by one council to another shall be open to inspection by any inspector under this Act.

(4) This section shall apply to any place from which any work is given out and to the occupier of that place and to every contractor employed by any such occupier in connexion with the said work, as if that place were a workshop.

(5) In the event of a contravention of this section by the occupier of a factory, workshop or place or by a contractor, the occupier or contractor shall be liable to a fine not exceeding forty shillings and, in the case of a second or subsequent offence, not exceeding five pounds.

(a) For the effect of s. 157, post, p. 2649, on this section, see Seal v. Alexander (1912), 76 J. P. 156.

(b) This section reproduces with amendments the Factory and Workshop Act, 1891, s. 27, as amended by the Factory and Workshop Act, 1895, s. 42.

(d) Defined by s. 156, post, p. 2649.

(e) Together with the provisions of the following sub-section and sub-s. (3), this provision will enable the district council to perform their duties under s. 108, infra.

Employment of person in unwholesome premises (a).

108.—(1) If the district council within whose district is situate a place in which work is carried on for the purpose of or in connexion with the business of a factory or workshop give notice in writing to the occupier of the factory or workshop or to any contractor employed by any such occupier that that place is injurious or dangerous to the health of the persons employed therein, then, if the occupier or contractor, after the expiration of one month from receipt of the notice, gives out work to be done in that place, and the place is found by the court having cognisance of the case to be so injurious or dangerous, he shall be liable to a fine not exceeding ten pounds.

(2) This section shall apply in the case of the occupier of any place from which any work is given out as if that place were a workshop.

(3) This section shall not apply except in the case of persons employed in such classes of work as the Secretary of State may specify by special order (b).

(a) This section reproduces the Factory and Workshop Act, 1895, s. 5, but with this difference, that the execution of the law is now made the duty of the district council, and not of the inspector.

(b) Defined by s. 156, post, p. 2649. See the Home Work Order, s. of 1911, 1912 and 1913, in App. II., post, pp. 3303 et seq.

Making of wearing apparel where there is scarlet fever or small-pox (a).

(a) This section reproduces 58 & 59 Vict. c. 37, s. 6.

Section 110.

Prohibition of home work in places where there is infectious disease.

110.—(1) If any inmate of a house is suffering from an infectious disease to which this section applies, the district council of the district in which the house is situate may make an order forbidding any work to which this section applies to be given out to any person living or working in that house or such part thereof as may be specified in the order, and any order so made may be served on the occupier of any factory or workshop or any other place, from which work is given out or on the contractor employed by any such occupier (a).

(2) The order may be made notwithstanding that the person suffering from an infectious disease may have been removed from the house (b), and the order shall be made either for a specified time or subject to the condition that the house or part thereof liable to be infected shall be disinfected to the satisfaction of the medical officer of health (c) or that other reasonable precautions (d) shall be adopted.

(3) In any case of urgency the powers conferred on the district council by this section may be exercised by any two or more members of the council acting on the advice of the medical officer of health.

(4) If any occupier or contractor on whom an order under this section has been served contravenes the provisions of the order, he shall be liable to a fine not exceeding ten pounds.

(5) The infectious diseases to which this section applies are the infectious diseases required to be notified under the law for the time being in force in relation to the notification of infectious diseases (e), and the work to which this section applies is the making, cleaning, washing, altering, ornamenting, finishing and repairing of wearing apparel and any work incidental thereto and such other classes of work as may be specified by special order (f) of the Secretary of State (g).

(b) Either under s. 124 of the P. H. A., 1875, ante, p. 244, or otherwise.

(c) Disinfection may also be separately ordered under s. 120 of the P. H. A., 1875, ante, p. 240, or s. 5 of the Infectious Disease (Prevention) Act, 1890, ante, p. 856.

(d) For example, disinfection of bedding, etc., which may be separately ordered under s. 6 of the Infectious Disease (Prevention) Act, 1890, ante, p. 858.

(e) See s. 6 of the Infectious Disease (Notification) Act, 1889, ante, p. 847.

(f) See note (b) to s. 108, ante, p. 2634.

(g) Now the M. of H. who is the central department for this and the last section, see the Order of 27 July, 1921, in App. II., post, p. 3306.

Application of Act to domestic factories and workshops (a).

111. The application of this Act to domestic factories and domestic workshops (b) shall be subject to the following provisions:

(1) The regulations with respect to the hours of employment of women, young persons and children shall not apply to any such factory or workshop, and in lieu thereof the following regulations shall be observed therein:

(a) A young person or child shall not be employed in the factory or workshop except during the period of employment hereinafter mentioned; and

(b) The period of employment for a young person shall, except on Saturday, begin at six o'clock in the morning and end at nine o'clock in the evening and shall, on Saturday, begin at six o'clock in the morning and end at four o'clock in the afternoon; and

(c) There shall be allowed to every young person for meals and absence from work during the period of employment not less, except on Saturday, than four hours and a half and, on Saturday than two hours and a half; and

(d) The period of employment for a child on every day either shall begin at six o'clock in the morning and end at one o'clock in the afternoon or shall begin at one o'clock in the afternoon and end at eight o'clock in the evening, or, on Saturday, at four o'clock in the afternoon; and for the purpose of the provisions of this Act respecting education such child shall be deemed, according to circumstances, to be employed in a morning or afternoon set; and

(e) A child shall not be employed before the hour of one in the afternoon in two successive periods of seven days, nor after that hour in two successive periods of seven days; and a child shall not be employed on Saturday in any week before the hour of one in the afternoon if on any other day in the same week he has been employed before that hour, nor after that hour if on any other day of the same week he has been employed after that hour; and

(f) A child shall not be employed continuously for more than five hours without an interval of at least half an hour for a meal.

(2) The requirement as to making certain entries and reports when a woman, young person or child is employed in pursuance of an exception shall not apply except so far as may be prescribed from time to time by the Secretary of State.

(3) The provisions of this Act with respect to certificates of fitness for employment shall apply to a domestic factory as if it were a workshop and not a factory.

(4) The following provisions shall not apply to a domestic factory or to a domestic workshop, namely:

(a) the provisions as to meal hours being simultaneous and as to prohibition of employment during meal times;

(b) the provisions as to affixing notices and abstracts and as to specifying certain matters in notices so affixed;

(c) the provisions as to holidays;

(d) the provisions as to notices of accidents;

(e) the provisions as to means of ventilation (c), the drainage of floors (d), and thermometers (e);

(f) the provisions as to the keeping of a general register (f).

(5) The provisions of section one of this Act (relating to the sanitary condition of a factory) shall not apply to a domestic factory (g).

(a) This section reproduces the Factory and Workshop Act, 1878, ss. 16, 61, with amendments.

(b) "Domestic factory" and "domestic workshop" are defined in s. 115, post, p. 2637.

(c) See s. 7, ante, p. 2623.

(d) See s. 8, ante, p. 2623.

(e) See s. 6, ante, p. 2623.

(f) See s. 129, post, p. 2640.

(g) Domestic factories and domestic workshops also are, however, subject to the provisions of ss. 91 et seq. of the P. H. A., 1875, ante, p. 174.

Dangerous processes in domestic factories and workshops.

112. If any manufacture, process or description of manual labour, which in pursuance of this Act has been certified by the Secretary of State to be dangerous (a), is carried on in a domestic factory or workshop, all the provisions of this Act shall apply, as if the place were a factory or workshop other than a domestic factory or workshop.

(a) By s. 79 of this Act, where the Secretary of State is satisfied that any manufacture, machinery, plant, process, or description of manual labour, used in factories or workshops is dangerous or injurious to health, or dangerous to life or limb, either generally or in the case of women, children, or any other class of persons, he may certify that manufacture, machinery, plant, process, or description of manual labour, to be dangerous.

Note to Section 112.

Under the corresponding provisions of the Factory and Workshop Act, 1891, s. 8, the Secretary of State has certified various processes as dangerous, but there is no express provision that such certificates remain in force under this Act.

Abstracts for domestic factories and workshops.

113. The Secretary of State shall give notice of the provisions of this Act relating to domestic factories and workshops by the publication of the prescribed (a) abstract or otherwise, as he thinks fit.

(a) Defined by s. 156, post, p. 2649. No such order has as yet been made.

Non-application of Act to certain domestic workshops (a).

114.—(1) The exercise in a private house or private room by the family dwelling therein or by any of them (b) of manual labour by way of trade or for purposes of gain in or incidental to any of the following handicrafts, namely—

(i) straw plaiting, or
(ii) pillow-lace making, or
(iii) glove making,

shall not of itself constitute the house or room a workshop within the meaning of this Act.

When it is proved to the satisfaction of the Secretary of State that, by reason of the light character of the handicraft carried on in any private house or private room by the family dwelling therein, or by any of them, it is expedient to extend the provisions of this sub-section to that handicraft, he may, by special order (c) extend the same accordingly. Part Two of this Act shall apply so far as circumstances admit, as if the order were an order extending an exception.

(2) The exercise in a private house or private room by the family dwelling therein or by any of them of manual labour for the purposes of gain in or incidental to any of the following purposes, namely—

(i) the making of any article or part of any article; or
(ii) the altering, repairing, ornamenting (d) or finishing of any article; or
(iii) the adapting for sale of any article, shall not of itself constitute that house or room a workshop (e), where the labour is exercised at irregular intervals, and does not furnish the whole or principal means of living to the family.

(a) This section reproduces 41 & 42 Vict. c. 16, ss. 97, 98.

(b) The labour must be exercised only by members of the family living in the house, and plaiting and lace-making schools are not within the section. See Beadon v. Parrott (1871), L. R. 6 Q. B. 718; 39 J. P. 647.

(c) See note (a) to s. 113, supra.

(d) As applied to laundries, the words "washing, cleaning" should be read in here (see the Factory and Workshop Act, 1907, s. 4, post, p. 2689).

(e) See definitions of "non-textile factory" and of "workshop" in s. 149, post, p. 2646.

Definitions of "domestic factory" and "domestic workshop" (a).

(b) See s. 149, post, p. 2646.

PART VIII.

ADMINISTRATION.

(i) Inspection.

* * * * * *

Powers of inspectors (a).

119.—(1) An inspector shall, for the purpose of the execution of this Act, have power to do all or any of the following things; namely,—

(a) To enter, inspect and examine at all reasonable times, by day and night, a factory and a workshop and every part thereof, when he has reasonable cause to believe that any person is employed therein, and to enter by day any place which he has reasonable cause to believe to be a factory or workshop; and

(b) To take with him in either case a constable into a factory or workshop in which he has reasonable cause to apprehend any serious obstruction in the execution of his duty; and

(c) To require the production of the registers, certificates, notices and documents kept in pursuance of this Act, and to respect, examine and copy the same; and

(d) To make such examination and inquiry as may be necessary to ascertain whether the enactments for the time being in force relating to public health and the enactments of this Act are complied with, so far as respects the factory or workshop and the persons employed therein; and

(e) To enter any school in which he has reasonable cause to believe that children employed in a factory or workshop are for the time being educated; and

(f) To examine, either alone or in the presence of any other person, as he thinks fit, with respect to matters under this Act, every person whom he finds in a factory or workshop or such a school as aforesaid or whom he has reasonable cause to believe to be or to have been within the preceding two months, employed in a factory or workshop, and to require every such person to be so examined and to sign a declaration of the truth of the matters respecting which he is so examined; and

(g) To exercise such other powers as may be necessary for carrying this Act into effect.

(2) The occupier of every factory and workshop, his agents and servants, shall furnish the means required by an inspector as necessary for an entry, inspection, examination, inquiry or the exercise of his powers under this Act in relation to that factory or workshop.

(3) If any person wilfully delays an inspector in the exercise of any power under this section or fails to comply with the requisition of an inspector in pursuance of this section or to produce any certificate or document which he is required by or in pursuance of this Act to produce or conceals or prevents or attempts to conceal or prevent a woman, young person or child from appearing before or being examined by an inspector, that person shall be deemed to obstruct an inspector in the execution of his duties under this Act:

Provided that no one shall be required under this section to answer any question or to give any evidence tending to criminate himself.

(4) Where an inspector is obstructed in the execution of his duties under this Act, the person obstructing him shall be liable to a fine not exceeding five pounds; and where an inspector is so obstructed in a factory or workshop, other than a domestic factory or a domestic workshop, the occupier of that factory or workshop shall be liable to a fine not exceeding five, or where the offence is committed at night twenty pounds; and, where an inspector is so obstructed in a domestic factory or a domestic workshop, the occupier shall be liable to a fine not exceeding one pound or, where the offence is committed at night, five pounds; and, in the case of a second or subsequent conviction under this section in relation to a factory within two years from the last conviction for the same offence, a fine not less than one pound shall be imposed for each offence.

(a) This section reproduces the Factory and Workshop Act, 1878, s. 68, as amended by the Factory and Workshop Act, 1891, s. 28, and the Factory and Workshop Act, 1895, ss. 22, 23, 45.
It is here inserted for the elucidation of s. 102, ante, p. 2633, and s. 125, infra.

Right of inspector to conduct proceedings before magistrates (a).

120. An inspector, if so authorised in writing under the hand of the Secretary of State, may, although he is not a counsel or solicitor or law agent, prosecute, conduct or defend before a court of summary conviction or justice, any information, complaint or other proceeding arising under this Act or in the discharge of his duty as inspector.

(a) This section reproduces the Factory and Workshop Act, 1895, s. 51. It is here inserted with reference to s. 102, ante, p. 2633, and s. 125, infra, but it is very doubtful if it applies to every officer of a district council acting under those sections.

Certificate of appointment of inspector (a).

121. Every inspector shall be furnished with the prescribed certificate of his appointment and, on applying for admission to a factory or workshop, shall, if so required, produce the said certificate to the occupier.

(a) This section reproduces the first paragraph of the Factory and Workshop Act, 1878, s. 70. It is here inserted with reference to s. 102, ante, p. 2633, and s. 125, infra, but it is very doubtful whether any officer of the district council acting under those sections can be required to produce any certificate or other evidence of his appointment on applying for admission to a retail bakehouse, or to a workshop or workplace.

* * * * * *

(iii) Local Authorities.

Powers of local authorities and their officers.

125. For the purpose of their duties with respect to workshops and workplaces under this Act and under the law relating to public health, the district council and their officers shall, without prejudice to their other powers, have all such powers of entry, inspection, taking legal proceedings or otherwise as an inspector under this Act (a).

(a) As to the powers of an inspector, see ss. 119—121, ante, pp. 2638, 2639. It will be observed that the powers hereby conferred are conferred without prejudice to their other powers. See, as to powers of entry, note (a) to s. 305 of the P. H. A., 1875, ante, p. 642, and as to legal proceedings, s. 259 of that Act, ante, p. 579.

(iv) Special Orders.

Provisions as to special orders of Secretary of State (a).

126. The following provisions shall apply to such orders made by the Secretary of State in pursuance of this Act as are in this Act referred to as special orders:

(1) The order shall be under the hand of the Secretary of State and shall be published in such manner as the Secretary of State thinks best adapted for the information of all persons concerned and shall come into operation at the date of its publication or at any later date mentioned in the order:

(2) The order may be temporary or permanent, conditional or unconditional and, whether granting or extending an exception or prohibition or directing the adoption of any special means or provision or rescinding a previous order or effecting any other thing, may do so either wholly or partly :

(3) The order shall be laid as soon as may be before both Houses of Parliament and, if either House of Parliament, within the next forty days after the order has been so laid before that House, resolves that the order ought to be annulled, it shall, after the date of that resolution, be of no effect, without prejudice to the validity of anything done in the meantime under the order or to the making of a new order :

(4) The order, while it is in force, shall, so far as is consistent with the tenor thereof, apply, as if it formed part of the enactment which provides for the making of the order.

(a) This section reproduces 41 & 42 Vict. c. 16, s. 65, as amended by 58 & 59 Vict. c. 37, s. 47. It is here inserted with reference to ss. 1 (4), 3 (2), (3), 6 (2), 7 (2), 9 (2), 58 (1), 59, 107, 108 of this Act.

(v) Notices, Registers and Returns.

Notice of occupation of factory or workshop (a).

127.—(1) Every person shall, within one month after he begins to occupy a factory or workshop, serve on the inspector for the district a written notice containing the name of the factory or workshop, the place where it is situate, the address to which he desires his letters to be addressed, the nature of the work, the nature and amount of the moving power therein and the name of the person or firm under which the business of the factory or workshop is to be carried on.

(2) In the event of a contravention of this section by the occupier of a factory or workshop, he shall be liable to a fine not exceeding five pounds.

(3) Where an inspector receives notice in pursuance of this section with respect to a workshop, he shall forthwith forward the notice to the district council of the district in which the workshop is situate.

General registers (a).

129.—(1) In every factory and workshop there shall be kept a register, called the general register, showing in the prescribed form the prescribed particulars as to—

(a) the children and young persons employed in the factory or workshop ; and

(b) the lime-washing of the factory or workshop ; and

(c) every accident occurring in the factory or workshop of which notice is required to be sent to an inspector ; and

(d) every special exception of which the occupier of the factory or workshop avails himself ; and

(e) such other matters as may be prescribed.

(2) Where any entry is required by this Act to be made in the general register, the entry made by the occupier of a factory or workshop on his behalf shall, as against him, be admissible as primâ facie evidence of the facts therein stated, and the failure to make any entry so required with respect to the observance of any provision of this Act shall be admissible as primâ facie evidence that that provision has not been observed.

(3) The register shall at all reasonable times be open to inspection by the certifying surgeon of the district.

(4) The occupier of a factory or workshop shall send to an inspector such extracts from the general register as the inspector from time to time requires for the execution of his duties under this Act.

(5) If in any factory or workshop any requirement of this section is not complied with, the occupier shall be liable to a fine not exceeding five pounds.

(a) This section reproduces the Factory and Workshop Act, 1878, s. 77, as amended by the Factory and Workshop Act, 1895, ss. 15 and 43, with amendments.

Registers of workshops.

131. Every district council shall keep a register of all workshops situate within their district.

Report of medical officer of health on administration of Act (a).

132. The medical officer of health of every district council shall, in his annual report to them, report specifically on the administration of this Act in workshops and workplaces, and he shall send a copy of his annual report or so much of it as deals with this subject to the Secretary of State.

(a) This section was new. As to the annual report of the medical officer of health, see the Sanitary Officers Order, 1926, set out in Appendix II., post, p. 3612.

Miscellaneous Provisions.

Notice by medical officer of health of employment of woman, young person or child in workshops (a).

133. Where any woman, young person or child is employed in a workshop in which no abstract of this Act is affixed as by this Act required, and the medical officer of the district council becomes aware thereof, he shall forthwith give written notice thereof to the inspector for the district.

(a) This section reproduces the Factory and Workshop Act, 1891, s. 3 (3).

Certificate of birth in case of young person under 16 and children.

134. Where the age of any young person under the age of sixteen years or child is required to be ascertained or proved for the purposes of this Act, or for any purpose connected with the employment in labour or elementary education of the young person or child (a), any person shall on presenting a written requisition in such form and containing such particulars as may be from time to time prescribed by the [Minister of Health], and on payment of a fee of sixpence, be entitled to obtain a certified copy under the hand of a registrar or superintendent registrar of the entry in the register, under the Births and Deaths Registration Acts, 1836 to 1874, of the birth of that young person or child; and such form of requisition shall on request be supplied without charge by every superintendent registrar and registrar of births deaths, and marriages.

(a) Words in italics, repealed by Education Act, 1921.

PART IX.

Legal Proceedings.

Fine for not keeping factory or workshop in conformity with Act (a).

135.—(1) If a factory or workshop is not kept in conformity with this Act, the occupier (b) thereof shall be liable to a fine not exceeding ten pounds, and, in the case of a second or subsequent conviction in relation to a factory within two years from the last conviction for the same offence, not less than one pound for each offence.

(2) The court of summary jurisdiction, in addition to or instead of inflicting a fine, may order certain means to be adopted by the occupier, within the time named in the order, for the purpose of bringing his factory or workshop into conformity with this Act. The court may, on application, enlarge the time so named, but if, after the expiration of the time as originally named or enlarged by subsequent order the order is not complied with, the occupier shall be liable to a fine not exceeding one pound for every day on which the non-compliance continues.

Note to Section 135.

(a) This section reproduces the Factory and Workshop Act, 1878, s. 81, as amended by the Factory and Workshop Act, 1891, s. 28.

(b) In the case of a tenement factory the owner is under s. 87, ante, p. 2628, made liable for certain offences instead of the occupier. The occupier may also, under s. 141, post, p. 2643, exempt himself on conviction of the actual offender. As to the time within which proceedings must be taken, see s. 146, post, p. 2644.

Fines in case of death or injury (b).

136. (a) If any person is killed or dies or suffers any bodily injury or injury to health, in consequence of the occupier (c) of a factory or workshop having neglected to observe any provision of this Act or any regulation made in pursuance of this Act, the occupier of the factory or workshop shall be liable (d) to a fine not exceeding one hundred pounds and, in the case of a second or subsequent conviction in relation to a factory within two years from the last conviction for the same offence, not less than one pound for each offence; and the whole or any part of the fine may be applied for the benefit of the injured person or his family or otherwise, as the Secretary of State determines:

Provided as follows:

(a) In the case of injury to health the occupier shall not be liable under this section, unless the injury was caused directly by the neglect (e):

(b) The occupier shall not be liable to fine under this section if an information against him for not observing the provision or regulation to the breach of which the death or injury was attributable has been heard and dismissed previous to the time when the death or injury was inflicted (f).

(a) See the case of R. v. Taylor, in the notes to s. 146, post, p. 2645.

(b) This section reproduces the Factory and Workshop Act, 1878, s. 82, as amended by the Factory and Workshop Act, 1895, s. 13, with the further amendments embodied in the proviso.

(c) In the case of a tenement factory the owner is, under s. 87, ante, p. 2628, made liable instead of the occupier.

(d) Notwithstanding the penalty imposed by this section, an action for damages will also lie in respect of personal injuries received by a workman through a breach by the employer of his statutory duty to fence; and in such action the defence of common employment is not applicable (Groves v. Lord Wimborne, [1898] 2 Q. B. 402).

(e) In the case of bodily injury it was held in Blenkinsop v. Ogden, [1898] 1 Q. B. 783, that contributory negligence was no answer to a complaint under the Factory and Workshop Act, 1878, s. 82.

(f) It appears to make no difference whether the information was dismissed on the merits or not.

* * * * * *

Forgery of certificates, false entries, and false declarations (a).

139. If any person—

(a) forges or counterfeits any certificate for the purposes of this Act (for the forgery or counterfeiting of which no other punishment is provided); or

(b) gives or signs any such certificate, knowing the same to be false in any material particular; or

(c) knowingly utters or makes use of any certificate so forged, counterfeited or false as aforesaid; or

(d) knowingly utters or makes use of, as applying to any person, a certificate which does not so apply; or

(e) personates any person named in a certificate; or

(f) falsely pretends to be an inspector; or

(g) wilfully connives at the forging, counterfeiting, giving, signing, uttering, making use, or personating as aforesaid; or

(h) wilfully makes a false entry in any register, notice, certificate or document required by this Act to be kept or served or sent; or

(i) wilfully makes or signs a false declaration under this Act; or
(j) knowingly makes use of any such false entry or declaration, he shall be liable to a fine not exceeding twenty pounds, or to imprisonment for a term not exceeding three months, with or without hard labour.

(a) This section reproduces the Factory and Workshop Act, 1878, s. 85.

Fine on person actually committing offence for which occupier is liable (a).

140. Where an offence for which the occupier of a factory or workshop is liable under this Act to a fine has in fact been committed by some agent, servant, workman or other person, that agent, servant, workman or other person shall be liable to the like fine as if he were the occupier.

(a) This section reproduces the Factory and Workshop Act, 1878, s. 86.

Power of occupier to exempt himself from fine on conviction of the actual offender (a).

141.—(1) Where the occupier of a factory or workshop is charged with an offence against this Act, he shall be entitled, upon information duly laid by him, to have any other person whom he charges as the actual offender brought before the court at the time appointed for hearing the charge; and if, after the commission of the offence has been proved, the occupier of the factory or workshop proves to the satisfaction of the court—

(a) that he has used due diligence to enforce the execution of this Act; and
(b) that the said other person had committed the offence in question without his knowledge, consent or connivance, that other person shall be summarily convicted of the offence, and the occupier shall be exempt from any fine. The person so convicted shall, in the discretion of the court, be also liable to pay any costs incidental to the proceedings.

(2) When it is made to appear to the satisfaction of an inspector at the time of discovering an offence—

(a) that the occupier of the factory or workshop has used all due diligence to enforce the execution of this Act; and
(b) by what person the offence has been committed; and
(c) that it has been committed without the knowledge, consent or connivance of the occupier and in contravention of his orders, the inspector shall proceed against the person whom he believes to be the actual offender without first proceeding against the occupier of the factory or workshop.

(a) This section reproduces the Factory and Workshop Act, 1878, s. 87, as amended by the Factory and Workshop Act, 1895, s. 50. Cf. the Locomotives Act, 1898, s. 13 (2), ante, p. 1067, and the Food and Drugs (Adulteration) Act, 1928, s. 27 (6), post, p. 2978.

* * * * * *

Limit to cumulative fines (a).

143. A person shall not be liable, in respect of a repetition of the same kind of offence from day to day, to any larger amount of fines than the highest fine fixed by this Act for the offence, except—

(a) where the repetition of the offence occurs after an information has been laid for the previous offence; or
(b) where the offence is one of employing two or more persons, contrary to the provisions of this Act.

(a) This section reproduces the Factory and Workshop Act, 1878, s. 88.

Prosecution of offences and recovery and application of fines (a).

144.—(1) All offences under this Act shall be prosecuted and all fines under this Act shall be recovered, on summary conviction, before a court of summary jurisdiction in manner provided by the Summary Jurisdiction Acts.

Section 144.

(2) A summary order may be made for the purposes of this Act by a court of summary jurisdiction in manner provided by the Summary Jurisdiction Acts.

(3) All fines imposed in pursuance of this Act shall, save as otherwise expressly provided for by this Act (b), be paid into the Exchequer.

(4) Where a proceeding is taken before a court of summary jurisdiction with respect to an offence against this Act alleged to be committed in or with reference to a factory or workshop the occupier of the factory or workshop, and the father, son or brother of the occupier of the factory or workshop shall not be qualified to act as a member of the court (c).

(5) A person engaged in, or being an officer of any association of persons engaged in, the same trade or occupation as a person charged with any offence under this Act shall not act as a justice of the peace in hearing and determining the charge (c).

(a) This section reproduces 41 & 42 Vict. c. 16, s. 89, with the amendment embodied in sub-s. (5).

(b) See s. 136, ante, p. 2642.

(c) With reference to the subject of this sub-section, see also s. 258 of the P. H. A., 1875, ante, p. 574, and the notes thereto.

Appeal to quarter sessions (a).

145. If any person feels aggrieved by a conviction or order made by a court of summary jurisdiction on determining an information or complaint under this Act, he may appeal therefrom to quarter sessions.

(a) This section reproduces the Factory and Workshop Act, 1878, s. 90, as amended by the Factory and Workshop Act, 1883.

Limitation of time and general provisions as to summary proceeding (a).

146. The following provisions shall have effect with respect to summary proceedings for offences and fines under this Act:

(1) The information shall be laid within three months after the date at which the offence comes to the knowledge of the inspector for the district within which the offence is charged to have been committed, or, in case of an inquest being held in relation to the offence, then within two months after the conclusion of the inquest, so, however, that it be not laid after the expiration of six months from the commission of the offence (b):

(2) It shall be sufficient to allege that a factory or workshop is a factory or workshop within the meaning of this Act, without more:

(3) It shall be sufficient to state the name of the ostensible occupier of the factory or workshop or the title of the firm by which the occupier employing persons in the factory or workshop is usually known:

(4) A conviction or order made in any matter arising under this Act, either originally, or on appeal, shall not be quashed for want of form, and a conviction or order made by a court of summary jurisdiction, against which a person is authorised by this Act to appeal, shall not be removed by certiorari or otherwise, either at the instance of the Crown or of any private person, into a superior court, except for the purpose of the hearing and determination of a special case (c).

(a) This section reproduces the Factory and Workshop Act, 1878, s. 91, as amended by the Factory and Workshop Act, 1883, and the Factory and Workshop Act, 1891, s. 29.

(b) On January 21st, the fact that certain machinery was unfenced, in contravention of s. 10, came to the knowledge of the inspector of the district. On July 31st, in consequence of the machinery still being unfenced, a person suffered bodily injury. On October 24th, an information was laid charging that on July 31st the defendant's factory was not kept in conformity with the Act whereby a person suffered bodily injury. The magistrate dismissed the information on the ground that it was out of time, inasmuch as it had not been laid within three months of January 21st. It was held that ss. 135 and

Note to Section 146.

136 create separate and distinct offences; that the offence with which the defendants were charged was the offence under s. 136; and that, that offence having been committed on July 31st, the information had been laid in time (R. v. Taylor, [1908] 2 K. B. 237; 72 J. P. 238). In May, 1905, and again on March 12th, 1908, an inspector visited the respondents' factory, and found that the flywheel of an engine was not fenced as required by s. 10 (1). He again visited the factory on July 1st, 1908, and found that the flywheel was still unfenced. On July 22nd, 1908, he laid an information against the respondents under s. 135, ante, for that the factory was on July 1st, 1908, not kept in conformity with the Act in that the flywheel was not securely fenced as required by s. 10. It was held that the information had been laid within three months after the date at which the offence charged in the information came to the knowledge of the inspector within s. 146 (Verney v. Mark Fletcher & Sons, Ltd., [1909] 1 K. B. 445; 73 J. P. 131), In the case of an inquest being held, the information is in time if it is laid within three months after the offence has come to the knowledge of the inspector, or within two months after the conclusion of the inquest, whichever period is the longer, provided it is laid within six months after the commission of the offence (Boydel v. Levant Mine Adventurers, [1916] 1 K. B. 692; 80 J. P. 151).

(c) With this sub-section compare s. 262 of the P. H. A., 1875, ante, p. 581, and notes thereon.

Evidence in summary proceedings.

147.—(1) If a person is found in a factory or workshop, except at meal times, or while all the machinery of the factory or workshop is stopped, or for the sole purpose of bringing food to the persons employed in the factory or workshop between the hours of four and five o'clock in the afternoon, he shall, until the contrary is proved, be deemed for the purposes of this Act to have been then employed in the factory or workshop:

Provided that the yards, playgrounds, and places open to the public view, schoolrooms, waiting rooms, and other rooms belonging to the factory or workshop in which no machinery is used or manufacturing process carried on, shall not be taken to be any part of the factory or workshop within the meaning of this enactment; and this enactment shall not apply to a domestic factory or workshop.

(2) Where a young person or child is, in the opinion of the court, apparently of the age alleged by the informant, it shall lie on the defendant to prove that the young person or child is not of that age.

(3) A declaration in writing by a certifying surgeon for the district that he has personally examined a person employed in a factory or workshop in that district, and believes him to be under the age set forth in the declaration, shall be admissible in evidence of the age of that person.

(4) A copy of a conviction for an offence against this Act, purporting to be certified under the hand of the clerk of the peace having the custody of the conviction to be a true copy shall be receivable as evidence, and every such clerk of the peace shall, on the written request of an inspector and payment of a fee of one shilling, deliver to him a copy of the conviction so certified.

Service of notices and documents, etc. (a).

148. Any notice, order, requisition, summons and document required or authorised to be served or sent for the purposes of this Act—

(a) may be served and sent by post or by delivering the same to or at the residence of the person on or to whom it is to be served or sent or (where he is the owner of a factory or workshop) by delivering the same or a true copy thereof to his agent or (where he is the occupier of a factory or workshop) by delivering the same or a true copy thereof to his agent or to some person in the factory or workshop; and

(b) where it is required to be served on or sent to the occupier of a factory or workshop, shall be deemed to be properly addressed if addressed to the occupier of the factory or workshop at the factory or workshop with the addition of the proper postal address, but without naming the person who is the occupier.

PART X.

SUPPLEMENTARY.

(i) Application and Definitions.

Factories and workshops to which Act applies (a).

149.—(1) Subject to the provisions of this section, the following expressions have in this Act the meanings hereby assigned to them; that is to say:

The expression "textile factory" (b) means any premises wherein or within the close or curtilage of which steam, water or other mechanical power is used to move or work any machinery employed in preparing, manufacturing or finishing or in any process incident to the manufacture of cotton, wool, hair, silk, flax, hemp, jute, tow, china-grass, cocoa-nut fibre or other like material, either separately or mixed together, or mixed with any other material, or any fabric made thereof:

Provided that print works, bleaching and dyeing works, lace warehouses, paper mills, flax scutch mills, rope works and hat works shall not be deemed to be textile factories:

The expression "non-textile factory" means—

(a) any works, warehouses, furnaces, mills, foundries or places named in Part One of the Sixth Schedule to this Act; and

(b) any premises or places named in Part Two of the said schedule wherein or within the close or curtilage or precincts of which steam, water or other mechanical power is used in aid of the manufacturing process (c) carried on there; and

(c) any premises wherein or within the close or curtilage or precincts of which any manual labour is exercised by way of trade or for purposes of gain in or incidental to any of the following purposes, namely—

(i) the making of any article or of part of any article; or

(ii) the altering, repairing, ornamenting or finishing (d) of any article; or

(iii) the adapting for sale (e) of any article, and wherein or within the close or curtilage or precincts of which steam, water or other mechanical power is used in aid of the manufacturing process carried on there:

The expression "factory" means textile factory and non-textile factory or either of those descriptions of factories:

The expression "tenement factory" means a factory where mechanical power is supplied to different parts of the same building occupied by different persons for the purpose of any manufacturing process or handicraft, in such manner that those parts constitute in law separate factories; and for the purpose of the provisions of this Act with respect to tenement factories, all buildings situate within the same close or curtilage shall be treated as one building (f).

The expression "workshop" means—

(a) any premises or places named in Part Two of the Sixth Schedule to this Act, which are not a factory; and

(b) any premises, room or place, not being a factory, in which premises, room or place or within the close or curtilage or precincts of which premises any manual labour is exercised by way of trade or for purposes of gain in or incidental to any of the following purposes, namely—

(i) the making of any article or of part of any article; or
(ii) the altering, repairing, ornamenting or finishing of any article; or
(iii) the adapting for sale of any article, and to or over which premises, room or place the employer of the persons working therein has the right of access or control:

The expression "workshop" includes a tenement workshop.

The expression "tenement workshop" means any workplace in which, with the permission of or under agreement with the owner or occupier, two or more persons carry on any work which would constitute the workplace a workshop if the persons working therein were in the employment of the owner or occupier.

(2) A part of a factory or workshop may, with the approval in writing of the chief inspector, be taken for the purposes of this Act to be a separate factory or workshop (g).

(3) A room solely used for the purpose of sleeping therein shall not be deemed to form part of the factory or workshop for the purposes of this Act.

(4) Where a place situate within the close, curtilage or precincts forming a factory or workshop is solely used for some purpose other than the manufacturing process or handicraft carried on in the factory or workshop, that place shall not be deemed to form part of the factory or workshop for the purposes of this Act, but shall, if otherwise it would be a factory or workshop, be deemed to be a separate factory or workshop and be regulated accordingly.

(5) A place or premises shall not be excluded from the definition of a factory or workshop by reason only that the place or premises is or are in the open air (h).

(6) The exercise by any young person or child in any recognised efficient school, during a portion of the school hours, of any manual labour for the purpose of instructing the young person or child in any art or handicraft, shall not be deemed to be an exercise of manual labour for the purpose of gain within the meaning of this Act.

(a) This section reproduces the Factory and Workshop Act, 1878, s. 93, as amended by the Factory and Workshop Act, 1891, s. 31.

(b) On this definition reference may be made to the following cases decided under repealed Acts, viz., Taylor v. Hickes (1862), 12 C. B. (n.s.) 152; 31 L. J. M. C. 242; Howarth v. Coles (1862), 12 C. B. (n.s.) 139; 31 L. J. M. C. 262; Haydon v. Taylor (1864), 4 B. & S. 519; 33 L. J. M. C. 30; Whymper v. Harney (1865), 18 C. B. (n.s.) 243; 34 L. J. M. C. 113.

(c) Rags were purchased and then sorted by hand. In some cases they were first dusted by a shaker driven by electric power. They were then sold wholesale. It was held that this did not constitute a manufacturing process (Paterson v. Hunt (1909), 73 J. P. 496; 101 L. T. 571). These words do not necessarily refer to something being produced, but to the business carried on; a laundry which is carried on for the purpose of gain and in which mechanical power is used for driving the machines, is a non-textile factory (Owner v. Cottenham Sanitary Steam Laundry Co., Ltd. (1910), 74 J. P. 219; 102 L. T. 571). Premises in which carpets are beaten by the aid of mechanical power are a "factory" inasmuch as carpet beating is a "manufacturing process" (Johnston v. Lalonde Brothers and Parham, [1912] 3 K. B. 218; 76 J. P. 379).

(d) As to finishing of cotton fabrics, see Howarth v. Coles, supra, finishing of bricks, Squire v. Stanley (1901), 65 J. P. 467; 84 L. T. 535.

P. 342; and of bonbons, Fullers v. Squire, [1901] 2 K. B. 209; 65 J. P. 660. See further as to the expression "non-textile factory," Keith Ltd. v. Kirkwood (1914), S. C. (J.) 150, and as to "factory," Vines v. Inglis, [1915] S. C. (J.) 18.

(f) A building in which the mechanical power employed in the different parts of the building occupied by different persons is derived from separate sources situated upon those parts respectively is not "a tenement factory," inasmuch as mechanical power is not "supplied to" the different parts (Brass v. London C. C., [1904] 2 K. B. 336; 68 J. P. 365). See also Toller v. Spiers and Pond, Ltd., ante, p. 2625.

Note to Section 149.

(h) See the following cases decided under older statutes: Palmer's Shipbuilding and Iron Co. v. Chaytor (1869), L. R. 4 Q. B. 209; Kent v. Astley (1869), L. R. 5 Q. B. 19; Redgrave v. Lee (1874), L. R. 9 Q. B. 363.

Application to Crown factories and workshops (a).

150.—(1) This Act applies to factories and workshops belonging to the Crown; but in case of any public emergency the Secretary of State may, by order, to the extent and during the period named by him, exempt from this Act any factory or workshop belonging to the Crown or any factory or workshop in respect of work which is being done on behalf of the Crown under a contract specified in the order.

(2) A factory or workshop belonging to or in the occupation of the Crown shall not be excluded from the operation of this Act by reason only that it is not carried on by way of trade or for the purpose of gain.

(3) The powers conferred by this Act on a district council or other local authority shall, in the case of a factory or workshop belonging to or in the occupation of the Crown, be exercised by an inspector under this Act.

(a) This section is taken from the Factory and Workshop Act, 1878, s. 93, with amendments embodied in sub-ss. (2) and (3).

Power to treat separate branches as separate factories or workshops (a).

151. The Secretary of State may, by special order (b), direct, with respect to any class of factories or workshops, that different branches or departments of work carried on in the same factory or workshop shall, for all or any of the purposes of this Act, be treated as if they were different factories or workshops.

(b) Defined by s. 156, post, p. 2649. See also s. 126, ante, p. 2639.

Application of Act to London

153.—(1) In the application to the administrative county of London of the section of this Act relating to the means of escape from fire, the London County Council shall take the place of the district council, and their expenses in the execution of that section shall be defrayed as part of their expenses in the management of the London Building Act, 1894.

(2) In the application to the administrative county of London of the section of this Act, giving power to make byelaws providing for means of escape from fire, the reference to a district council shall be construed as a reference to the London County Council.

(3) The power of the London County Council under section one hundred and sixty-four of the London Building Act, 1894, to make byelaws with respect to the means of escape from fire in buildings exceeding sixty feet in height shall extend to all factories and workshops whether exceeding sixty feet in height or not.

(4) Subject as aforesaid, references in this Act to a district council and the district thereof shall, as regards the city of London, be construed as references to the Court of Common Council and the city, and, as regards any other part of the administrative county of London, as references to the council of a metropolitan borough and the metropolitan borough.

Application of Act to county boroughs (a).

154. References in this Act to a district council and the district thereof shall be construed as including references to the council of a county borough and the county borough.

(a) This section does not alter the law. County boroughs and county borough councils were sanitary districts and authorities respectively within the meaning of the repealed statutes.

Saving for existing powers of district councils (a).

155. The powers conferred by this Act on district councils shall be in addition to, and not in substitution for, any other powers which they may possess.

(a) Cf. s. 341 of the P. H. A., 1875, ante, p. 669, and s. 10 of the P. H. A., 1890, ante, p. 871.

General definitions (a).

156.—(1) In this Act unless the context otherwise requires,—

38 & 39 Vict. c. 13.

The expression "bank holiday" means a holiday under the Holidays Extension Act, 1875:

"Child." The expression "child" means a person who is under the age of fourteen years, and who has not, being of the age of thirteen years, obtained the certificate of proficiency or attendance at school mentioned in Part III. of this Act:

"Machinery." The expression "machinery" includes any driving strap or band:

"Mill-gearing." The expression "mill-gearing" comprehends every shaft, whether upright, oblique or horizontal, and every wheel, drum or pulley, or other appliance by which the motion of the first moving power is communicated to any machine appertaining to a manufacturing process.

"Night." The expression "night" means the period between nine o'clock in the evening and six o'clock in the succeeding morning:

"Owner." The expression "owner" has the meaning given to it by section four of the Public Health Act, 1875 (b):

"Parent." The expression "parent" means a parent or guardian of, or person having the legal custody of, or the control over, or having direct benefit from the wages of, a young person or child:

"Prescribed." The expression "prescribed" means prescribed for the time being by the Secretary of State:

"Process." The expression "process" includes the use of any locomotive:

"Special order." The expression "special order" means an order which is subject to the provisions of section one hundred and twenty-six of this Act (c) with regard to special orders of the Secretary of State:

"Week." The expression "week" means the period between midnight on Saturday night and midnight on the succeeding Saturday night:

"Woman." The expression "woman" means a woman of the age of eighteen years and upwards:

"Young person." The expression "young person" means a person who has ceased to be a child and is under the age of eighteen years:

(2) For the purposes of this Act, employment shall be deemed to be continuous unless interrupted by an interval of at least half an hour.

(3) The factories and workshops named in the Sixth Schedule to this Act are in this Act referred to by the names therein assigned to them.

(4) References in this Act to regulations made under this Act shall be construed as including references to special rules established or requirements made under any previous Act.

(a) This section is taken from the Factory and Workshop Act, 1878, s. 96, with amendments.
(b) Ante, p. 8.
(c) Ante, p. 2639.

"Men's workshops" (a).

157. The following provisions of this Act shall not apply to men's workshops, that is to say, workshops conducted on the system of not employing any woman, young person or child therein:

(1) The sections in Part I. relating to temperature (b), thermometers (c), means of ventilation (d), drainage of floors (e), sanitary conveniences (f), opening of doors (g), power to make orders as to dangerous machinery (h) and inquests (i);

(2) Part II. and Part III.;

(3) The sections in Part IV. relating to fans and to lavatories and meals;

(4) Part VII. (k);

(5) The section of Part VIII. relating to the affixing of abstracts and notices (l) and the keeping of a general register (m), and the first sub-section of the section relating to periodical returns (n).

(a) This section reproduces the effect of the former statutes with regard to workshops of this kind.

(b) Section 6 (1), ante, p. 2623.
(c) Section 6 (2), ante, p. 2623.
(d) Section 7, ante, p. 2623.

(g) Section 9, ante, p. 2624.
(h) Section 16, ante, p. 2626.
(i) Section 17.
(k) Section 21.

(f) In Seal v. Alexander, [1912] 1 K. B. 469; 76 J. P. 156, it was held that in view of the exception contained in this sub-section, no offence was committed by the occupier of a men's workshop who failed to furnish written particulars under s. 116 of the rate of wages paid to an outworker paid by the piece and engaged in making up wearing apparel given out to him from the workshop, notwithstanding the fact that the provisions of s. 107, ante, p. 2633, had been applied by order to this class of work, and that s. 107 is not in Part VII. of the Act.

(m) Section 129, ante, p. 2640.
(n) Section 130.

Saving for young persons employed in repairs (a).

158. Nothing in this Act shall extend to any young person being a mechanic, artisan or labourer working only in repairing either the machinery in, or any part of, a factory or workshop.

(iii) Repeal, etc.

Repeal of Acts.

161 (a). The Acts specified in the Seventh Schedule to this Act are hereby repealed as from the dates and to the extent in that schedule mentioned;

Provided that—

(1) All notices affixed in a factory or workshop in pursuance of any enactment hereby repealed shall, so far as they are in accordance with the provisions of this Act, be deemed to have been affixed in pursuance of this Act; and

(2) All orders and all special rules and requirements made or having effect under any enactment hereby repealed shall continue to have effect as if they had been made under this Act; and nothing in this Act shall be construed as altering the mode of making such special rules or requirements whilst the power to make them continues in force; and

(3) All inspectors, sub-inspectors, certifying surgeons, officers, clerks and servants appointed in pursuance of any enactment hereby repealed shall continue in office and shall be subject to removal and have the same powers and duties as if they had been appointed in pursuance of this Act; and

(4) All certificates of fitness for employment granted in pursuance of any certificate hereby repealed shall have effect as if granted in pursuance of this Act, and all registers kept in pursuance of any enactment hereby repealed shall, until otherwise directed by the Secretary of State, be deemed to be the registers required by this Act.

(a) This section was repealed by S. L. R. A., 1927.

Commencement of Act.

162 (a). This Act shall come into operation on the first day of January one thousand nine hundred and two.

(a) This section was repealed by S. L. R. A., 1927.

Short title.

163. This Act may be cited as "The Factory and Workshop Act, 1901."

SCHEDULES.

Sched. I.

FIRST SCHEDULE.

Provisions as to Arbitrations.

Section 14.

(1) The parties to the arbitrations are in this schedule deemed to be the owner of the factory or workshop on the one hand and the district council on the other hand.

(2) Each of the parties to the arbitration may, within fourteen days after the date of the reference, appoint an arbitrator.

(3) No person shall act as arbitrator or umpire who is employed in, or in the management of, or is interested in, the factory or workshop to which the arbitration relates.

(4) The appointment of an arbitrator must be in writing, and notice of the appointment shall be forthwith sent to the other party to the arbitration, and the appointment shall not be revoked without the consent of that party.

(5) The death or removal of, or other change in, any of the parties to the arbitration shall not affect the proceedings under this schedule.

(6) If within the said fourteen days either of the parties fails to appoint an arbitrator, the arbitrator appointed by the other party may proceed to hear and determine the matter in difference, and in that case the award of the single arbitrator shall be final.

(7) If before an award has been made any arbitrator appointed by either party dies or becomes incapable to act or for seven days refuses or neglects to act, the party by whom that arbitrator was appointed may appoint some other person to act in his place; and, if he fails to do so within seven days after notice in writing from the other party for that purpose, the remaining arbitrator may proceed to hear and determine the matter in difference, and in that case the award of the single arbitrator shall be final.

(8) In either of the foregoing cases where an arbitrator is empowered to act singly, on one of the parties failing to appoint, the party so failing may, before the single arbitrator has actually proceeded in the arbitration, appoint an arbitrator, who shall then act as if no failure had occurred.

(9) If the arbitrators fail to make their award within twenty-one days after the day on which the last of them was appointed, or within such extended time (if any) as has been appointed for that purpose by both arbitrators under their hands, the matter in difference shall be determined by the umpire appointed as hereinafter mentioned.

(10) The arbitrators, before they enter on the matter referred to them, shall appoint by writing under their hands an umpire to decide on points on which they may differ.

(11) If the umpire dies or becomes incapable of acting before he has made his award or refuses to make his award within a reasonable time after the matter has been brought within his cognizance, the persons or person who appointed such umpire shall forthwith appoint another umpire in his place.

(12) If the arbitrators refuse or fail, or for seven days after the request of either party neglect, to appoint an umpire, then on the application of either party an umpire may be appointed by the chairman of the quarter sessions within the jurisdiction of which the factory or workshop is situate.

(13) The decision of every umpire on the matters referred to him shall be final.

(14) If a single arbitrator fails to make his award within twenty-one days after the day on which he was appointed, the party who appointed him may appoint another arbitrator to act in his place.

(15) Arrangements shall, whenever practicable, be made for the matters in difference being heard at the same time before the arbitrators and the umpire.

(16) The arbitrators and the umpire or any of them may examine the parties and their witnesses on oath and may also consult any counsel, engineer or scientific person whom they think it expedient to consult.

(17) The payment, if any, to be made to any arbitrator or umpire for his services shall be fixed by the Secretary of State and, together with the costs of the arbitration and award, shall be paid by the parties or one of them, according as the award may direct. Such costs may be taxed by a master of the Supreme Court or, in Sched. I. Scotland, by the auditor of the Court of Session, and the taxing officer shall, on the written application of either of the parties, ascertain and certify the proper amount thereof. The amount, if any, payable by the Secretary of State shall be paid as part of the expenses of inspectors under this Act. The amount, if any, payable by the occupier of the factory or workshop may, in the event of nonpayment, be recoverable in the same manner as fines under this Act (a).

(a) It is difficult to see what amount can ever be payable by the Secretary of State or by the occupier, as the only parties to the arbitration are the owner and the district council. The references to the Secretary of State and the occupier appear to have been retained from the Factory and Workshop Act, 1891, per incuriam.

(17) "Letter-press printing works," that is to say, any premises in which the process of letter-press printing is carried on;

"Bookbinding works."

(18) "Bookbinding works," that is to say, any premises in which the process of bookbinding is carried on;

"Flax scutch mills."

(19) "Flax scutch mills";

"Electrical stations."

(a) This list reproduces with certain amendments the list contained in 41 & 42 Vict. c. 16, Schedule IV., as amended by 54 & 55 Vict. c. 75.

(b) See Hardcastle v. Jones (1863), 3 B. & S. 153; 32 L. J. M. C. 49; Hoyle v. Oram (1862), 12 C. B. (N.S.) 124; 31 L. J. M. C. 213.

(c) See Rogers v. Manchester Central Packing Co., [1898] 1 Q. B. 344; 62 J. P. 166.

(d) See Coles v. Dickinson (1864), 16 C. B. (N.S.) 604; 33 L. J. M. C. 235.

(e) This is an addition to the old list of non-textile factories. A workhouse is a public building within the meaning of this clause (Mile End Old Town Guardians v. Hoare, [1903] 2 K. B. 483; 67 J. P. 395).

PART II.

Non-Textile Factories and Workshops (a).

"Hat works."

(21) "Hat works," that is to say, any premises in which the manufacture of hats or any process incidental to their manufacture is carried on;

"Rope works."

(22) "Rope works," that is to say, any premises being a ropery, rope-walk or rope work in which is carried on the laying or twisting or other process of preparing or finishing the lines, twines, cords or ropes and in which machinery moved by steam, water or other mechanical power is not used for drawing or spinning the fibres of flax, hemp, jute or tow and which has no internal communication with any buildings or premises joining or forming part of a textile factory, except such communication as is necessary for the transmission of power;

"Bakehouses."

(23) "Bakehouses," that is to say, any places in which are baked bread, biscuits or confectionery from the baking or selling of which a profit is derived;

"Lace warehouses."

(24) "Lace warehouses," that is to say, any premises, room or place not included in bleaching and dyeing works as herein-before defined, in which persons are employed upon any manufacturing process or handicraft in relation to lace, subsequent to the making of lace upon a lace machine moved by steam, water or other mechanical power;

"Shipbuilding yards."

(25) "Shipbuilding yards," that is to say, any premises in which any ships, boats or vessels used in navigation are made, finished or repaired (b);

"Quarries."

(26) "Quarries," that is to say, any place, not being a mine, in which persons work in getting slate, stone, coprolites or other minerals (c);

"Pit banks."

50 & 51 Vict. c. 58.

35 & 36 Vict. c. 77.

(27) "Pit-banks," that is to say, any place above ground adjacent to a shaft of a mine, in which place the employment of women is not regulated by the Coal Mines Regulation Act, 1887, or the Metalliferous Mines Regulation Act, 1872, whether such place does or does not form part of the mine within the meaning of those Acts.

(28) Dry cleaning, carpet beating and bottle washing (d) works.

(a) Amended by the inclusion of laundries under s. 1 of the Factory and Workshop Act, 1907, post, p. 2688.

(c) See Kent v. Astley (1869), L. R. 5 Q. B. 19; Redgrave v. Lee (1874), L. R. 9 Q. B. 363.

(d) See Law v. Graham, Hoare v. Truman, Hanbury and Buxton, Ltd., ante, p. 2647, and Kavanagh v. Caledonian Rail. Co. (1904), 5 F. 1128; Johnston v. Lalonde Brothers and Parham in the notes to s. 149, ante, p. 2647. Where bottle washing was merely incidental to a firm's proper business it was held that premises of the firm where such work was done were not "bottle washing works" within the meaning of this schedule (Keith, Ltd. v. Kirkwood, [1914] S. C. (J.) 150).

(a) This part of the schedule was repealed by S. L. R. A., 1927.

PART II.

Enactments repealed from a Date to be fixed by Order of the Secretary of State.

Session and Chapter.	Short Title.	Extent of Repeal.
54 & 55 Vict. c. 75	The Factory and Workshop Act, 1891.	Sections eight, nine, ten and twelve, and the First Schedule.
58 & 59 Vict. c. 37	The Factory and Workshop Act, 1895.	Section twelve. Sub-section three of section twenty-four. Section twenty-eight.

CREMATION ACT, 1902 (a).

(2 EDW. 7, c. 8.)

An Act for the regulation of the burning of Human Remains, and to enable Burial Authorities to establish Crematoria. [22nd July, 1902.]

Short title.

1. This Act may be cited as the Cremation Act, 1902.

(a) This Act is inserted as applicable under the P. H. (Interments) A., 1879, ante, p. 751. As to the omission of the clause of enactment, see S. L. R. A., 1894, s. 4.

Definitions

2. In this Act—

The expression "burial authority" (a) shall mean any burial board, any council, committee, or other local authority having the powers and duties of a burial board, and any local authority maintaining a cemetery under the Public Health (Interments) Act, 1879, or under any local Act; Section 2. 42 & 43 Vict. c. 31.

The expression "crematorium" shall mean any building fitted with appliances for the purposes of burning human remains, and shall include everything incidental or ancillary thereto.

(a) This definition is taken from s. 11 of the Burial Act, 1900.

3. [Application to Scotland.]

4. The powers of a burial authority to provide (a) and maintain burial grounds or cemeteries, or anything essential, ancillary, or incidental thereto, shall be deemed to extend to and include the provision and maintenance of crematoria (b): Burial authority may provide for cremation.

Provided that no human remains shall be burned in any such crematorium until the plans and site thereof have been approved by the Local Government Board (c) and until the crematorium has been certified by the burial authority to the Secretary of State to be complete, built in accordance with such plans, and properly equipped for the purpose of the disposal of human remains by burning (d).

(a) This will include power to borrow for the purpose of providing a crematorium.

(b) The effect is to make it necessary to obtain for the provision of a crematorium, or for any expenditure for that purpose, or for the acquisition or appropriation of any land for that purpose, the same sanction that would be required by the local authority in the case of the provision of a burial ground or cemetery.

(c) The L. G. B. has now been superseded by the Minister of Health (Ministry of Health Act, 1919).

(d) Apart from this provision the burning of human remains may under certain circumstances amount to a public nuisance. See R. v. Price (1884), 12 Q. B. D. 247. See also Williams v. Williams (1881), 20 Ch. D. 659; 46 J. P. 726. And it is a misdemeanour to burn a dead body with intent to prevent an inquest (R. v. Stephenson (1884), 13 Q. B. D. 331; 49 J. P. 486).

5. No crematorium shall be constructed nearer to any dwelling house than two hundred yards, except with the consent, in writing of the owner, lessee, and occupier of such house, nor within fifty yards of any public highway, nor in the consecrated part of the burial ground of any burial authority (a). Site of crematorium.

6. A burial authority may accept a donation of land for the purposes of a crematorium, and a donation of money or other property for enabling them to acquire, construct, or maintain a crematorium. Donations of land.

7. The Secretary of State shall make regulations (a) as to the maintenance and inspection of crematoria and prescribing in what cases and under what conditions the burning of any human remains may take place, and directing the disposition or interment of the ashes (b), and prescribing the forms of the notices, certificates, and declarations to be given or made before any such burning is permitted to take place, such declarations to be made under and by virtue of the Statutory Declarations Act, 1835, and also regulations as to the registration of such burnings as have taken place. A copy of such regulations shall be laid before both Houses of Parliament, if Parliament be then sitting, or, if not, then within three weeks after the beginning of the next ensuing Session of Parliament; and, after such regulations have lain for forty days before Parliament, then, unless within such forty days an address has been presented by one or other of the Houses praying His Majesty to withhold his assent from such regulations or any part thereof, such regulations shall have the same effect as if they were enacted in this Act (c). All Regulations as to burning. 5 & 6 Will. 4, c. 62.

Section 7.

statutory provisions (d) relating to the destruction and falsification of registers of burials, and the admissibility of extracts therefrom as evidence in courts and otherwise, shall apply to the register of burnings directed by such regulations to be kept, and the Stamp Act, 1891 (e), shall apply to a register under this Act as if it were a register of burials.

54 & 55 Vict. c. 39.

(a) Regulations were made on 31st March, 1903, but they were revoked by later regulations dated 26th April, 1920, and these have been amended by regulations of 23rd June, 1925, and 6th May, 1927. See App. II., post, pp. 3129 et seq. Breach of these regulations is punishable under s. 8, infra. The power to make regulations under this section was extended by s. 10 of the Births and Deaths Registration Act, 1926 (16 & 17 Geo. 5, c. 48), to include a power to make regulations for the purpose of applying that Act to cases where human remains are disposed of by cremation. The latest regulations were accordingly made under the combined Acts.

(b) Such interment of ashes is not a burial within the prohibitions against burial in a church under the Church Building Act, 1818, the P. H. Acts, or the Burial Act, 1853, s. 3, and therefore a faculty may issue for allowing such interment in a church (Re Kerr, [1894] P. 284). There is nothing in the current regulations to prevent such interment.

(c) Consequently no question can arise as to whether any such regulations are ultra vires. See Institute of Patent Agents v. Lockwood, [1894] A. C. 347. See, however, the comments on this case in R. v. Pharmaceutical Society, [1899] 2 I. R. 132, and Waterford v. Murphy, [1920] 2 I. R. 165. Reference may also be made to R. v. Electricity Commissioners, [1924] 1 K. B. per YOUNGER, L.J., at p. 212; R. v. Minister of Health, Ex parte Yaffe (1930), 94 J. P. N. 40; 46 T. L. R. 178, ante, p. 1417; and cf. the Small Holdings and Allotments Act, 1908, s. 39 (3), and notes thereto at p. 1172, ante.

(d) See s. 15 of the Burial Act, 1857, ss. 36 and 37 of the Forgery Act, 1861, as amended by the Forgery Act, 1913.

(e) See ss. 1, 64, and Schedule I. of that Act, which impose a stamp duty of one penny on every certified copy from any register of burials subject to certain exemptions.

Penalties for breach of regulations, &c.

8.—(1) Every person who shall contravene any such regulation as aforesaid, or shall knowingly carry out or procure or take part in the burning of any human remains except in accordance with such regulations and the provisions of this Act, shall (in addition to any liability or penalty which he may otherwise incur) (a) be liable on summary conviction to a penalty not exceeding fifty pounds. Provided that any person aggrieved by any conviction may appeal therefrom to quarter sessions (b).

(2) Every person who shall wilfully make any false declaration or (c) representation, or sign, or utter any false certificate, with a view to procuring the burning of any human remains, shall (in addition to any penalty or liability which he may otherwise incur) (d) be liable to imprisonment with or without hard labour not exceeding two years.

(3) Every person who with intent to conceal the commission or impede the prosecution of any offence (e), procures or attempts to procure the cremation of any body, or with such intent makes any declaration or gives any certificate under this Act, shall be liable to (f) conviction on indictment to penal servitude for a term not exceeding five years.

(a) This refers to the liability to conviction on indictment for a misdemeanour. See R. v. Price and R. v. Stephenson cited in the note to s. 4, ante, p. 2655.

(b) In accordance with the provisions of s. 31 of the S. J. A., 1879, set out in the notes to s. 269 of the P. H. A., 1875, ante, p. 602.

(c) Repealed by Perjury Act, 1911.

(d) See note (d) to s. 7, supra, as to falsification of registers.

(e) How does such a person where the "offence" is a felony differ from an accessory after the fact? In such a case is he punishable still as an accessory after the fact or only under this statute? Is a wife punishable under this statute where she would not be punishable as an accessory after the fact? Compare the history of the law with regard to the punishment of the receiver of stolen goods.

(f) Sic. According to the common form "to" should be "on."

Fees.

9. The burial authority may demand payment of any such charges or fees for the burning of human remains in any crematorium provided by them as may be authorised by any table approved by the Local Government

Board (a), and such charges or fees, and any other expenses properly incurred in or in connection with the cremation of a deceased person, shall be deemed to be part of the funeral expenses of the deceased (b).

(a) Now the Minister of Health (see note (c) on p. 2655, ante).

(b) This section appears to be of general application and to enable the burial authority to enforce payment against any person against whom they might enforce payment of charges or fees under s. 34 of the Burial Act, 1852.

B. 589, decided under the now repealed s. 207 of the Merchant Shipping Act, 1894.

Saving for coroners.
50 & 51 Vict. c. 71.

10. Nothing in this Act shall interfere with the jurisdiction of any coroner under the Coroners Act, 1887, or any Act amending the same, and nothing in this Act shall authorise the burial authority or any person to create or permit a nuisance (a).

(a) See R. v. Price and R. v. Stephenson, cited in the note to s. 4, ante, p. 2655.

Incumbent not to be obliged to perform burial service.

11. The incumbent of any ecclesiastical parish shall not, with respect to his parishioners or persons dying in his parish, be under any obligation to perform a funeral service before, at, or after the cremation of their remains within the ground of a burial authority, but, upon his refusal so to do, any clerk in Holy Orders of the Established Church not being prohibited under ecclesiastical censure, may, with the permission of the bishop and at the request of the executor of the deceased person, or of the burial authority, or other person having charge of the cremation or interment of the cremated remains, perform such service within such ground (a).

(a) Apart from this enactment and from s. 6 of the Burial Laws Amendment Act, 1880, a clergyman of the Church of England is bound to read the burial service in the manner and form prescribed by the Book of Common Prayer over the corpse of any person who has been baptised with water in the name of the Holy Trinity if required so to do, though the deceased was never baptised otherwise than by a layman, unless the special ecclesiastical prohibitions with regard to persons excommunicated and that have laid violent hands on themselves apply (Escott v. Mastin (1842), 4 Moo. P. C. 104). But the ordinary cannot compel an incumbent by excclesiastical censure to perform the burial service on unconsecrated ground (Rugg v. Kingsmill (1868), L. R. 2 P. C. 59). Moreover, it is illegal for any one, unless he is lawfully authorised, to read or assist in reading the burial service in consecrated ground over a dead body (Johnson v. Friend (1860), 6 Jur. (N.S.) 280). And it is a breach of ecclesiastical law on the part of a burial board to permit any person to perform the burial service in the consecrated portion of their burial ground unless such person be authorised by the incumbent to do so, and a fortiori, unless he be a person duly qualified (Wood v. Headingley Burial Board, [1892] 1 Q. B. 713; 56 J. P. 326).

See also s. 7 of the Burial Act, 1900, ante, p. 2614.

Fees may be fixed.

12. In any table of fees respecting burials to be made or approved by the Secretary of State (a), a fee may be fixed in respect of a burial service before, Section 12. at, or after cremation, and if no fee is fixed, the fee, if any, fixed in respect of a burial service shall apply.

(a) As to fees in respect of services rendered by a minister of religion or sexton, see s. 3 of the Burial Act, 1900, ante, p. 2612.

Application of 10 & 11 Vict. c. 65, ss. 52 and 57.

13. Sections fifty-two and fifty-seven of the Cemeteries Clauses Act, 1847 (a), and any similar provisions in any local and personal Act authorising the making of a cemetery, shall apply to the disposition or interment of the ashes of a cremated body as if it were the burial of a body.

(a) These sections have no application to a cemetery provided by a local authority under the P. H. (Interments) A., 1879. See note (a), ante, p. 2224.

Repeal of local Acts.

14. As from the date at which regulations under this Act come into force, any provisions of any local and personal Act for the like purpose as this Act, and any byelaws or regulations made thereunder, shall, so far as they relate to that purpose, cease to be in operation.

15. [Commencement of Act, April 1*st*, 1903.]

Extent of Act.

16. This Act shall not apply to Ireland.

BOROUGH FUNDS ACT, 1903 (a).

(3 EDW. 7, c. 14.)

An Act to amend the Borough Funds Act, 1872. [11th August, 1903.]

Withdrawal of Bill, or part, in case of adverse poll.

1. No expense in relation to the promotion of a Bill in Parliament shall be charged by the council of a borough or urban district under the Borough Funds Act, 1872, unless the requirements contained in the First Schedule to this Act have been observed (b).

(a) See the Borough Funds Act, 1872, ante, p. 2331, the Local Government (County Boroughs and Adjustments) Act, 1926, ante, p. 1794, and the L. G. A., 1929, s. 55, ante, p. 1919. As to the omission of the clause of enactment, see s. 4 of the S. L. R. A., 1894. This Act makes various changes in the procedure attendant upon the promotion of or opposition to a Bill in Parliament on the part of the council of a borough or other urban district. By the Act of 1926 this Act is extended to Bills having as their object the extension of the area of a county borough notwithstanding s. 10 of the 1872 Act, ante, p. 2334.

(b) This section it will be noted is limited to the councils of boroughs and urban districts. It does not extend to county councils, who may therefore promote Bills without the consent of the electors, and subject only to the approval of the Minister of Health under s. 4 of the Act of 1872, as affected by s. 8 of this Act. See note (a), ante, p. 2332. Nor does it or the other provisions of this Act relating to meetings and polls of electors apply to rural district councils (s. 55 L. G. A., 1929, ante, p. 1919).

This section is limited further to expenses in relation to promoting a Bill. It is not necessary to obtain any consent of owners and ratepayers for opposing, see sect. 7 (1), post, p. 2660, but the approval of the Minister of Health must be obtained. The onus of showing statutory authority for payments made by a public body lies on the body making such payments (R. v. Newell, [1911] 2 I. R. 573). This section does not apply where the sole purposes of the bill are to constitute a borough or county borough or to extend the area of a county borough and purposes incidental thereto (Local Government (County Boroughs and Adjustments) Act, 1926, s. 3 (1), ante, p. 1794.

Expense of promoting Bills.

2.—(1) If the result of a poll under this Act, or the decision of a meeting of electors when final, is against the promotion of the Bill, or of a part or parts, or clause or clauses, of the Bill, the council shall forthwith take all necessary steps to withdraw the Bill or the part or parts, or clause or clauses (as the case may be), against which the poll has resulted or the decision of the meeting has been given (a).

(2) In the case of equality of votes on any question of promotion, that question shall be deemed to be decided against the promotion (b).

(a) As to putting the resolutions to a meeting so as to deal with parts or clauses separately, see clause 6 of the First Schedule, post, p. 2662.

The promoting council may withdraw the Bill or any part or parts or clause or clauses at any time before a poll where a poll is demanded at the meeting. Provision in such case for notice to the returning officer, and for notice that no poll will be taken, is contained in Articles 5 and 6 of the Borough Funds Acts (Polls) Order, 1903, set out in Appendix II., post, p. 3078.

(b) The president of the meeting has no casting or second vote, nor has the returning officer in case of a poll. But the sub-section has no application to the decision of questions of promotion in debate at the council, which is governed by the standing orders of the council itself.

Expenses of opposing Bills.

3. Where a Bill, or a part or parts, or clause or clauses of a Bill, is or are withdrawn, no further expense shall be incurred by the council, or mayor or chairman, in or about the promotion of the Bill, or part or parts, or clause or clauses, so withdrawn, but, subject as aforesaid, all costs, charges, and expenses incurred by the council, or mayor or chairman, in or as incidental to the preparation and promotion of the Bill up to and inclusive of its deposit in Parliament and withdrawal (if withdrawal), and in or as incidental to the holding of a meeting or the taking of a poll under this Act, shall, when taxed by a taxing officer of one of the Houses of Parliament (a), and allowed under the Borough Funds Act, 1872 (b), be charged on and payable out of such one or more of the public funds or rates under the control of the council (and, if more than one, then in such proportions) as the council, having regard to the nature and objects of the Bill, may determine to be just and proper.

35 & 36 Vict. c. 91.

(a) See the House of Commons Costs Taxation Act, 1847; the House of Lords Costs Taxation Act, 1849; and the Parliamentary Costs Act, 1865; House of Commons Costs Taxation Act, 1879.

(b) As to allowance, see s. 6 of the Borough Funds Act, 1872, ante, p. 2334.

Saving for special Acts.

4. Nothing in this Act shall extend or be construed to alter or affect any special provision in any local Act for the payment of the costs, charges, and expenses in relation to the promotion by any council of a Bill in Parliament, or to take away or diminish any rights or powers now possessed or enjoyed by any council, or which are or shall be vested in or exercisable by the inhabitants of the district of any council under any general or special Act, but the council may, if they think fit, adopt with respect to the promotion of any Bill the procedure provided by this Act in lieu of that provided by their local Act (a).

(a) See also saving for special Acts in s. 8 of the Borough Funds Act, 1872, ante, p. 2334.

Offences in relation to polls (a).

5.—(1) Any person who at, or for the purposes of, a poll under this Act—

(i) fraudulently signs or forges any signature to a requisition of electors under this Act; or

(ii) applies for a voting paper in the name of some other person, whether that name be the name of a person living or dead, or of a fictitious person (b); or

(iii) having voted once, applies for a second voting paper in his own name; or

(iv) forges or counterfeits, or fraudulently defaces or fraudulently destroys any voting paper; or

(v) without due authority supplies a voting paper to any person; or

Section 5.

(vi) fraudulently puts into any box or other receptacle any paper other than a voting paper supplied to him for the purpose; or

(vii) fraudulently takes out of the polling station any voting paper; or

(viii) without due authority destroys, takes, opens, or otherwise interferes with any box or other receptacle for voting papers or any voting papers then in use; or shall be liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding twenty pounds (d).

(ix) causes any disturbance or disorder in or near any polling station (c);

(2) An attempt (e) to commit any offence specified in this section shall be punishable in the manner in which the offence is punishable.

(a) Compare ss. 3 and 24 of the Ballot Act, 1872.

(b) If a man applies for a voting paper in a name which is not his own name, but is the name under which he is registered, and which was intended to designate him and no other person, he commits no offence (R. v. Fox (1887), 16 Cox, C. C. 166). So also if he honestly believes he is entitled to vote (Gloucester (1873), 2 O'M. & H. 62; Athlone (1880), 3 O'M. & H. 57; Carrickfergus (1880), Parl. Pap. 1880, No. 337, sess. 2, p. 14).

No power of summary arrest is given as in the case of personation at elections.

(c) The party may also be given into custody by the presiding officer (Spilsbury v. Micklethwaite (1808), 1 Taunt. 146).

(d) There is a right of appeal to quarter sessions (see s. 37 of the Criminal Justice Administration Act, 1914), and the court of summary jurisdiction may state a case for the opinion of the High Court.

(e) Aiding and abetting an offence against sub-s. (1) (ii) is not specifically made an offence as in the case of aiding, etc., personation at an election.

Non-compliance with procedure.

6. The failure to comply with the requirements of this Act as to notices or the time within which anything is to be done, or the procedure at a meeting of electors or the mode of taking the poll, shall not render invalid the charge under the Borough Funds Act, 1872, or this Act of any expenses in relation to the promotion of a Bill, if the provisions of this Act have been substantially complied with and the failure has not affected the result of the proceedings under this Act (a).

Expenses of opposing Bills.

7.—(1) The provision contained in section 4 of the Borough Funds Act, 1872 (a), that no expense in opposing a Bill in Parliament shall be charged unless the opposition has had the consent of the owners and ratepayers of the district, shall cease to apply (b).

54 Vict. c. 12.

(2) In section 1 of the Railway and Canal Traffic (Provisional Orders) Amendment Act, 1891 (c), references to the Borough Funds Act shall be construed and have effect as references to the Borough Funds Act, 1872, as amended by this Act.

(a) Ante, p. 2333.

(b) Repealed by S. L. R. A., 1927.

(c) Ante, p. 2528.

Transfer to Local Government Board of certain powers of Secretary of State.

8. The powers conferred upon the Secretary of State by the Borough Funds Act, 1872, or by virtue of any extension or application of that Act, shall be transferred to and exercised by the Local Government Board (a).

(a) Now Minister of Health. The powers referred to are those of approval of promotion and opposition (s. 4); of authorising examination and allowance of costs (s. 6); and of directing a local inquiry (s. 7), ante, pp. 2333, 2334.

Definitions.

9. For the purposes of this Act, the expression "council" (a) includes the council of every borough and of every urban district, the expression "borough" includes a metropolitan borough, and the expression "electors" means the parochial electors for the time being enrolled in the register of parochial electors in force for the parishes in a borough or urban district, and the expression "the mayor or chairman" means the mayor of the borough or the chairman of the urban district council.

(a) This expression includes a rural district council, see s. 55, L. G. A., 1929, ante, p. 1919.

10. The enactments specified in the Second Schedule to this Act are hereby repealed to the extent mentioned in the third column of that schedule (a). Repeals.

(a) Repealed by S. L. R. A., 1927.

11. This Act shall not extend to Scotland or Ireland. Extent of Act.

12.—(1) This Act may be cited as the Borough Funds Act, 1903, and the Borough Funds Act, 1872, and this Act may be cited together as the Borough Funds Acts, 1872 and 1903. Short title and commencement.

(2) [Commencement of Act, October 1st, 1903 (a).]

(a) Repealed by S. L. R. A., 1927.

SCHEDULES.

FIRST SCHEDULE (a).

REGULATIONS FOR MEETING AND POLLING OF ELECTORS.

1. Where the council of a borough or urban district have resolved, in accordance with the provisions of the Borough Funds Act, 1872, to promote a Bill in Parliament, and the Bill has been deposited, notice shall be given by placards and by advertisement in some local newspaper circulating in the borough or district in two successive weeks stating— 35 & 36 Vict. c. 91.

(a) the title of the Bill; and
(b) a brief statement of the objects of the Bill;
(c) that the Bill has been deposited, and the date on which it was first deposited in either House; and
(d) that copies of the Bill may be inspected and purchased at a place within the borough or district specified in the notice, between the hours of ten in the forenoon and five in the afternoon, on every week day for fourteen days after the date of the first advertisement, and that extracts may be taken free of charge; and
(e) That a public meeting of electors will be held on a day named, not being less than fourteen nor more than twenty-eight days after the first advertisement of the notice, for the purpose of considering the question of the promotion of the Bill, and indicating the resolutions which will be submitted to the meeting.

2. The first advertisement under these regulations must be made within seven days from the first deposit of the Bill in either House, and the placards giving notice under these regulations must be posted within the same time.

3. A public meeting of electors shall be held in accordance with the notice, and the mayor or chairman, or, in the event of his being unable or unwilling to preside, any person appointed by the council to perform that duty, shall be president of the meeting; but, if neither the mayor or chairman, nor the person so appointed, is present within ten minutes after the time appointed for the meeting, the meeting shall choose an elector present at the meeting to be president of the meeting.

4. The president of the meeting may, with the consent of the majority of the electors present, adjourn the meeting for not more than seven days.

(a) This schedule does not apply to Bills the sole purposes of which are to constitute a borough a county borough or to extend the area of a county borough (Local Government (County Boroughs and Adjustments) Act, 1926, s. 3 (1), ante, p. 1794).

Sched. I.

5. On opening any such meeting the president of the meeting, or a member or officer of the council, shall give such explanation of the Bill with reference to which the meeting is held as he thinks expedient.

6.—(a) The question of the promotion of the Bill shall be put by the president to the meeting either by a single resolution in favour of the promotion of the whole Bill, or by separate resolutions in favour of the promotion of any part or parts or clause or clauses of the Bill, but together covering the promotion of the whole Bill, and the meeting shall decide for or against any such resolution.

(b) The president shall explain to the meeting the resolution or resolutions he proposes to put to the meeting, and the question of the promotion of the Bill shall be put in the manner proposed;

Provided that, if, before any such resolution is put, the meeting decide to request the president to put separately any resolution or resolutions in favour of the promotion of any part or parts or clause or clauses of the Bill not proposed by him to be put separately, he shall put such further or other resolution or resolutions to the meeting as will, consistently with the provisions of this schedule, give effect to that request.

7. Unless a poll is required in manner provided by this schedule, with respect to any resolution for promotion put to the meeting, the decision of the meeting on that resolution, as declared by the president of the meeting, shall be final.

8. A poll may be required with respect to any such resolution by not less than one hundred electors, or one-twentieth in number of the electors, whichever may be the less, and, if the decision of the meeting on the resolution is against the resolution, by the council.

9. A requisition for a poll by electors must be in writing signed by the persons making it, and must be delivered to the mayor or chairman within seven days after the date of the meeting, or any adjournment thereof.

10. A requisition for a poll by the council must be authorised by a resolution of the council, and a copy of the resolution must be delivered to the mayor or chairman within seven days after the meeting or any adjournment thereof. Provided that, if the regulations governing the meetings of the council do not permit of an ordinary meeting of the council being held within the said seven days, the time for the delivery of a copy of the resolution shall be within three days after the date on which an ordinary meeting of the council can first be held subsequently to the date of the meeting of the electors or any adjournment thereof.

11. The mayor or chairman shall proceed to take the opinion by poll of the electors on the resolution to which any requisition relates, unless a poll is rendered unnecessary by the withdrawal of the requisition for a poll or by a resolution of the council withdrawing the Bill, or the part or parts or clause or clauses to which the resolution with reference to which the poll is required relates.

12. The polls on any number of resolutions may be taken at the same time and by means of the same voting paper.

13. The mayor or chairman shall count, or cause to be counted, the votes given at a poll under this schedule, and shall as soon as practicable declare the result.

14. The decision of the mayor or chairman on any question arising in respect of any voting paper shall be final.

15. Where the mayor or chairman is unable or unwilling to perform any duty or do any act or thing with respect to a poll under this schedule, the council shall appoint some other person to perform the duty or do such act or thing.

16. Subject to the provisions of this schedule the poll shall be taken in accordance with such regulations as may be prescribed by the Local Government Board (a), and the Local Government Board (a) may prescribe forms for requisitions, voting papers, notices, and other documents under this schedule, and those forms, or forms to the like effect, shall be used (b).

(a) Now Minister of Health. See Ministry of Health Act, 1919.

(b) See the Borough Funds Acts (Polls) Order, 1903, printed in Appendix II., post, p. 3078.

ALKALI, ETC., WORKS REGULATION ACT, 1906.

(6 EDW. 7, c. 14) (a).

An Act to consolidate and amend the Alkali, etc., Works Regulation Acts, 1881 and 1892. [4th August, 1906.]

PART I.

ALKALI WORKS AND ALKALI WASTE.

Condensation of muriatic acid gas in alkali works.

1.—(1) Every alkali work (b) shall be carried on in such manner as to secure the condensation, to the satisfaction of the chief inspector (c), of the muriatic acid gas evolved in such work, to the extent of ninety-five per centum, and to such an extent that in each cubic foot of air, smoke, or chimney gases, escaping from the works into the atmosphere, there is not contained more than one-fifth part of a grain of muriatic acid (d).

(2) The owner (b) of any alkali work (b) which is carried on in contravention of this section shall be liable to a fine not exceeding in the case of the first offence fifty pounds, and in the case of every subsequent offence one hundred pounds (e).

(b) Defined by s. 27, post, p. 2673.

(c) See ss. 10—14, post, pp. 2668—2670, as to inspection, and s. 25, post, p. 2673, as to determination of questions by chief inspector.

(d) As to calculation of acid, see s. 16, post, p. 2670.

(e) As to recovery of fines, see ss. 17, 18, post, pp. 2670, 2671. The owner may be discharged on proof against the actual offender, s. 20, post, p. 2672.

Prevention of discharge of noxious and offensive gas in alkali works.

2.—(1) In addition to the condensation of muriatic acid gas as aforesaid the owner (a) of every alkali work (a) shall use the best practicable means (a) for preventing the escape of noxious or offensive gases (a) by the

Section 2. exit flue of any apparatus used in any process carried on in the work, and for preventing the discharge, whether directly or indirectly, of such gases into the atmosphere, and for rendering such gases where discharged harmless and inoffensive, subject to the qualification that, on the basis of the amount of acid gas per cubic foot, no objection shall be taken under this section by an inspector to any muriatic acid gas in the air, smoke, or gases discharged into the atmosphere by a chimney or other final outlet where the amount of such acid gas in each cubic foot of air, smoke, or gases so discharged does not exceed the amount limited by the last preceding section (b).

(2) If the owner of any alkali work fails, in the opinion of the court having cognizance of the matter, to use such means, he shall be liable to a fine not exceeding in the case of the first offence twenty pounds, and in the case of every subsequent offence fifty pounds, with a further sum not exceeding five pounds for every day during which any such subsequent offence has continued (c).

(a) Defined by s. 27, post, p. 2673.

(b) This clause introduces considerable amendments of s. 4 of the repealed Act of 1881. It is extended to all escapes from the exit flue of any apparatus used in any process carried on in the work, and to every discharge of noxious or offensive gases, whether directly or indirectly, into the atmosphere, subject to the qualification mentioned.

(c) See note (e) to s. 1, ante, p. 2663.

Separation of acids and other substances from alkali waste and drainage therefrom.

3.—(1) Every work of whatever description in which any liquid containing either acid or any other substance capable of liberating sulphuretted hydrogen (a) from alkali waste or drainage therefrom is produced or used shall be carried on in such manner that the liquid shall not come in contact with alkali waste, or with drainage therefrom, so as to cause a nuisance.

(2) The owner of any work which is carried on in contravention of this section shall be liable to a fine not exceeding in the case of the first offence fifty pounds, and in the case of every subsequent offence one hundred pounds, with a further sum not exceeding five pounds for every day during which any such subsequent offence has continued (b).

(3) On the request of the owner of any such work as is mentioned in this section the sanitary authority of the district in which such work is situate shall, at the expense of such owner, provide and maintain a drain or channel for carrying off such liquid as aforesaid produced in such work into the sea or into any river or watercourse into which the liquid can be carried without contravention of the Rivers Pollution Prevention Act, 1876, as amended by any subsequent enactment (c); and the sanitary authority shall for the purpose of providing any such drain or channel have the like powers as they have for providing sewers, whether within or without their district, under the Public Health Act (d).

39 & 40 Vict. c. 75.

(4) Compensation (e) shall be made to any person for any damage sustained by him by reason of the exercise by a sanitary authority of the powers conferred by this section, and such compensation shall be deemed part of the expenses to be paid by the owner making the request to the sanitary authority under this section.

(a) The inclusion of works in which any liquid containing any substance other than acid capable of liberating sulphuretted hydrogen from alkali waste is produced or used is a new feature. Section 5 of the repealed Act of 1881 was limited to works in which acid was produced or used.

(b) See note (e) to s. 1, ante, p. 2663.

(c) See the Acts here referred to, ante, p. 706. As to the discharge of solid matter in suspension into any navigable water, see United Alkali Co. v. Simpson, ante, p. 712.

(d) See ss. 16 and 32 of the P. H. A., 1875, ante, pp. 59, 99.

Reference may also be made to St. Helen's Chemical Co. v. St. Helen's Corporation (1876), 1 Ex. D. 196; 40 J. P. 471, where the owners were held liable for a nuisance caused by the evolution of noxious gases in a sewer consequent upon the discharge into the sewer of muriatic acid and sulphur.

(e) The amount will be ascertainable under the P. H. A., 1875, s. 308, ante, p. 644.

Deposit or discharge of alkali waste.

4.—(1) Alkali waste shall not be deposited or discharged without the best practicable means (a) being used for effectually preventing any nuisance arising therefrom (b).

(2) Any person who causes or knowingly permits any alkali waste to be deposited or discharged in contravention of this section shall be liable to a fine not exceeding in the case of the first offence twenty pounds, and in the case of every subsequent offence fifty pounds, with a further sum not exceeding five pounds for every day during which any such subsequent offence has continued (c).

(a) Defined by s. 27, post, p. 2674.

(b) As to the discharge of solid matter in suspension into any navigable water, see United Alkali Co. v. Simpson, ante, p. 712.

(c) As to recovery of fines, see ss. 17, 18, post, pp. 2670, 2671.

Prevention of nuisance from alkali waste already deposited or discharged.

5. Where alkali waste has been deposited or discharged, either before or after the commencement of this Act, and complaint is made to the chief inspector that a nuisance is occasioned thereby, the chief inspector (a), if satisfied of the existence of the nuisance, and that it is within the power of the owner or occupier of the land to abate it, shall serve a notice on such owner or occupier requiring him to abate the nuisance; and, if such owner or occupier fails to use the best practicable and reasonably available means (b) for the abatement thereof, he shall be liable to a fine not exceeding twenty pounds, and, if he does not proceed to use such means within such time as may be limited by the court inflicting such fine, he shall be liable to a further penalty not exceeding five pounds for every day after the expiration of the time so limited during which such failure continues.

(a) See s. 10, post, p. 2668.

(b) "The best practicable means" are defined by s. 27, post, p. 2674. The addition of the words "and reasonably available" introduces an element of uncertainty as to whether that definition is to be adhered to. But probably the intention of the Act is that it shall, subject to the court deciding also the question of reasonable availability for itself.

PART II.

SULPHURIC ACID, MURIATIC ACID, AND OTHER SPECIFIED WORKS.

Condensation of acid gases in sulphuric acid and muriatic acid works.

6.—(1) Every sulphuric acid work as defined in paragraph (1) of the First Schedule to this Act shall be carried on in such manner as to secure the condensation, to the satisfaction of the chief inspector (a), of the acid gases of sulphur or of sulphur and nitrogen which are evolved in the process of the manufacture of sulphuric acid in that work, to such an extent that the total acidity of those gases in each cubic foot of residual gases after completion of the process, and before admixture with air, smoke, or other gases, does not exceed what is equivalent to four grains of sulphuric anhydride.

(2) Every muriatic acid work as defined in paragraph (8) of the First Schedule to this Act shall be carried on in such manner as to secure the condenstion to the satisfaction of the chief inspector (a) of the muriatic acid gas evolved in such work, to such extent that in each cubic foot of air, smoke, or chimney gases escaping from the work into the atmosphere there is not contained more than one-fifth part of a grain of muriatic acid (b).

(3) The owner of any sulphuric acid work or of any muriatic acid work which is carried on in contravention of this section shall be liable to a fine not exceeding in the case of the first offence fifty pounds, and in the case of every subsequent offence one hundred pounds.

(a) See s. 10, post, p. 2668.

(b) As to calculation of acid, see s. 16, post, p. 2670.

Section 7.

Prevention of discharge of noxious or offensive gas in scheduled works.

7.—(1) The owner of any work specified in the First Schedule (a) to this Act (hereinafter referred to as a scheduled work) shall use the best practicable means for preventing the escape of noxious or offensive gases (b) by the exit flue of any apparatus used in the process carried on in the work, and for preventing the discharge, whether directly or indirectly, of such gases into the atmosphere (c), and for rendering such gases where discharged harmless and inoffensive, subject to the qualification that, on the basis of the amount of acid gas per cubic foot, no objection shall be taken under this section by an inspector—

(a) To any muriatic acid gas in the air, smoke, or gases discharged into the atmosphere by a chimney or other final outlet, where the amount of such acid gas in each cubic foot of air, smoke, or gases so discharged does not exceed the amount limited by the last preceding section:

(b) To any acid gases in the air, smoke, or gases discharged into the atmosphere by a chimney or other final outlet receiving the residual gases from any process for the concentration or distillation of sulphuric acid, where the total acidity of such acid gases (including those from the combustion of coal) in each cubic foot of air, smoke, or gases so discharged does not exceed what is equivalent to one grain and a half of sulphuric anhydride.

(2) If the owner of any such work fails, in the opinion of the court having cognizance of the matter, to use such means, he shall be liable to a fine not exceeding in the case of the first offence twenty pounds, and in the case of every subsequent offence fifty pounds, with a further sum not exceeding five pounds for every day during which any such subsequent offence has continued.

(a) See this Schedule at p. 2675, post. The Minister of Health has by an order of 1928 added to the list of works contained in that Schedule under the P. H. (Smoke Abatement) Act, 1926, s. 4 (1), ante, p. 1799.

(b) Defined by s. 27, post, p. 2673.

(c) This clause introduces amendments of s. 9 of the repealed Act of 1881 similar to those introduced by s. 2 as regards s. 4 of the same Act, and it also amends the qualification so as to effect a very considerable alteration of the standard of pollution.

Provisional Order to prevent discharge of noxious or offensive gas in cement and smelting works.

8.—(1) An inspector may inquire whether, in any works in which aluminous deposits are treated for the purpose of making cement (hereinafter called cement works) or in any works in which sulphide ores, including regulus, are calcined or smelted (hereinafter called smelting works) (a), means can be adopted at a reasonable expense for preventing the discharge from the furnaces or chimneys of such works into the atmosphere of any noxious or offensive gas (b) evolved in such works, or for rendering such gas where discharged harmless or inoffensive.

(2) Where it appears to the Local Government Board (c) that such means can be adopted at a reasonable expense, the Board (c) may by Order require the owners of such works to adopt the best practicable means for the purpose, and may by the Order limit the amount or proportion, in the case of cement works or smelting works, of any noxious or offensive gas which is to be permitted to escape from such works into the chimney or into the atmosphere, and may also by the Order extend to such works such provisions of this Act relating to scheduled works as they think fit.

(3) An Order made under this section shall be provisional only, and shall not be of any validity until confirmed by Parliament, but when so confirmed shall have full effect, with such modifications as may be made therein by Parliament; and the expression " this Act " when used in this Act shall be deemed to include an Order so confirmed, so far as is consistent with the tenor of that Order.

(4) The Board (c) shall take such steps as they may think fit for giving notice to persons interested of the provisions of any Order made by them under this section before any Bill for confirming the same is introduced into Parliament.

(5) An order made under this section may impose fines for a breach of its provisions of like amount as any fines imposed by this Act for offences against this Act.

(6) An Order made under this section may be repealed, altered, or amended by any subsequent Order made under this section, and confirmed by Parliament (d).

(a) These works are for the first time brought within the scope of this legislation. Smelting works are to a certain extent exempted from the provisions of the P. H. A., 1875. See s. 334 of that Act, ante, p. 666, and the notes thereto.

Salt works, on the other hand, which were partially exempted from the provisions of the repealed Act of 1881 by the Act of 1892, are not mentioned at all in this Act.

(b) Defined by s. 27, post, p. 2673.

(c) Now the Ministry of Health (Ministry of Health Act, 1919).

(d) No power of repeal, etc., was included in the corresponding s. 10 of the repealed Act of 1881.

PART III.

(i) Registration of Works.

Registration of works and stamp duty.

9.—(1) An alkali work, a scheduled work, a cement work, or a smelting work (a) shall not be carried on unless it is certified to be registered.

(2) The work shall be registered in a register containing the prescribed particulars, and the register shall be conducted and the certificates issued in the prescribed manner (b).

(3) A certificate of registration, if issued at a time when a previous certificate is in force, shall be in force for one year after the time when that certificate ceases to be in force, and if issued at a time when no previous certificate is in force shall be in force until the following first day of April.

(4) An application for a certificate of registration of a work may, in the case of the first registration of that work, be made at any time, and an application for any subsequent certificate in respect of that work shall be made in the month of January or February.

(5) A certificate of registration shall be issued on application being made in the prescribed manner (b) by the owner of the work, if the conditions of registration are complied with, and one of the conditions (c) in the case of the first registration of an alkali or scheduled work, or the registration of such a work if the work has been closed for a period of twelve months previously, shall be that the work is at the time of registration furnished with such appliances as appear to the chief inspector or, on appeal, to the Local Government Board (d) to be necessary in order to enable the work to be carried on in accordance with such of the requirements of this Act as apply to the work.

Provided that the Local Government Board (d) may dispense with the last-mentioned condition in the case of works erected before the commencement of this Act which were not before the commencement of this Act required to be registered.

(6) There shall be charged upon every such certificate a stamp duty of five pounds in the case of an alkali work, and of three pounds in the case of any other work, and the Commissioners of Inland Revenue shall issue stamped forms of certificate for the purpose (e).

(7) Written notice of any change which occurs in the ownership of a work or in the other particulars stated in the register shall within one month after such change be sent by the owner to the Local Government Board (d), and the register and the certificate shall be altered accordingly in the prescribed manner (d) without charge and without the issue of a new certificate. If such notice is not sent as so required the work shall not be deemed to be certified to be registered.

(8) The owner of a work which has been carried on in contravention of this section shall be liable to a fine not exceeding fifty pounds (f).

(a) See note (a) to s. 8, ante, p. 2667.

(b) Prescribed means prescribed by the Ministry of Health. See s. 27, post, p. 2674.

(c) This condition and the proviso which follows are new.

(d) Now the Ministry of Health (Ministry of Health Act, 1919).

(e) The Acts relating to stamp duties are not expressly applied as by s. 13 of the repealed Act of 1881, but they are nevertheless applicable. By s. 47 of the Finance Act, 1922, "five pounds" and "three pounds" are increased respectively to "ten pounds" and "six pounds."

(f) This fine is recoverable under s. 17, post, p. 2670, but is not subject to the three months' limitation thereby imposed.

(ii) INSPECTION.

Appointment of inspectors.

10.—(1) The Local Government Board (a) shall, with the approval of the Treasury as to numbers and salaries or remuneration, appoint such inspectors (under whatever title they may fix) as the Board (a) think necessary for the execution of this Act, and may assign them their duties and award them their salaries or remuneration, and shall constitute a chief inspector, and may regulate the cases and manner in which the inspectors are to execute and perform the powers and duties of inspectors under this Act, and may remove such inspectors.

(2) Notice of the appointment of every such inspector shall be published in the London Gazette, and a copy of the Gazette shall be evidence of the appointment.

(3) The salaries or remuneration of the inspectors, and such expenses of the execution of this Act as the Treasury may sanction, shall be paid out of moneys provided by Parliament.

(4) A person holding the office of chief inspector or inspector shall not be employed in any other work except with the sanction of the Local Government Board (a).

(5) In the case of the illness or other unavoidable absence of the chief inspector, the Local Government Board (a) may appoint any other inspector to act as his deputy, and the inspector so appointed shall, whilst so acting, have all the powers by or under this Act conferred on the chief inspector.

(a) Now the Ministry of Health (Ministry of Health Act, 1919).

Disqualification of certain persons for inspectors.

11. A person who

(a) acts or practices as a land agent (a); or

(c) is employed in or about or in connexion with any work to which this Act applies, or in any other chemical work for gain, shall be disqualified to act as an inspector under this Act.

(a) This is a term of no very definite meaning. A person who manages the landed estate of another is a land agent in common parlance, and such a person is doubtless referred to here, though there are persons in other positions who are called land agents.

Section 12.

Inspection of works.

12 (a).—(1) For the purpose of the execution of this Act, an inspector may at all reasonable times by day and night without giving previous notice, but so as not to interrupt the process of the manufacture,

(a) enter and inspect any work to which, in the opinion of the Local Government Board (b) any of the provisions of this Act applies; and

(b) examine any process causing the evolution of any noxious or offensive gas (c) and any apparatus for condensing any such gas, or otherwise preventing the discharge thereof into the atmosphere, or for rendering any such gas harmless or inoffensive when discharged; and

(c) ascertain the quantity of gas discharged into the atmosphere, condensed or otherwise dealt with; and

(d) enter and inspect any place where alkali is treated or deposited, or where any liquid containing either acid or any other substance (d) capable of liberating sulphuretted hydrogen from alkali waste or drainage (d) therefrom; and

(e) apply any such tests and make any such experiments, and generally make all such inquiries, as seem to him to be necessary or proper for the execution of his duties under this Act (e).

(2) The owner of any such work shall, on the demand of the chief inspector, furnish him within a reasonable time with a sketch plan, to be kept secret, of those parts of such work in which any process causing the evolution of any noxious or offensive gas or any process for the condensation of such gas or for preventing the discharge thereof into the atmosphere, or for rendering any such gas harmless or inoffensive when discharged is carried on.

(3) The owner of every such work and his agents shall render to every inspector all necessary facilities for entry, inspection, examination, and testing in pursuance of this Act.

(4) Every owner of a work in which such facilities are not afforded to an inspector as are required by this Act, or in which an inspector is obstructed in the execution of his duty under this Act, and every person wilfully obstructing an inspector in the execution of his duty under this Act, shall be liable on conviction under the Summary Jurisdiction Acts (f) to a fine not exceeding ten pounds.

(a) This section is by s. 4 (3), P. H. (Smoke Abatement) Act, 1926, ante, p. 1800, extended so as to enable the Minister to authorise the inspection of any work which in his opinion is of such a character as is likely to cause the evolution of any noxious or offensive gas notwithstanding that this Act does not apply to the works. The extension applies only to an inspector specially authorised by the Minister to inspect such works.

(b) Under the repealed statute the opinion of the L. G. B. (now the Ministry of Health) was not referred to. The Minister's opinion is now conclusive for this purpose.

(c) Defined by s. 27, post, p. 2673.

(d) This is an extension of the corresponding provisions of s. 16 of the repealed Act of 1881.

(e) This clause was new. Under the repealed statute there was power simply to inquire into all matters which tended to show compliance or non-compliance with the Act, or which seemed necessary or proper for the execution of his duties, but no specific power to apply tests or make experiments.

(f) The application of the summary process for recovery of this fine was new.

Annual report to Local Government Board (a).

13. The chief inspector shall, on or before the first day of March in every year, make a report in writing to the Local Government Board (a), of the proceedings of himself and of the other inspectors under this Act, and a copy of such report shall be laid before both Houses of Parliament (b).

(a) Now the Ministry of Health (Ministry of Health Act, 1919).

(b) It was thought unnecessary in this section to re-enact that the other inspectors should furnish the chief inspector with a detailed account of the number of inspectors of works in their district, and the recorded escapes of acid gases from such works during the preceding year, having regard to the general powers which the Ministry of Health as successor to the L. G. B. possess under s. 10, ante, p. 2668.

Section 14.

Additional inspector on application of sanitary authorities.

14.—(1) If any sanitary authority apply to the central authority (a) for an additional inspector under this Act, and undertake to pay a proportion of his salary or remuneration, not being less than one half, the Local Government Board (b) may (if they see fit), with the sanction of the Treasury, appoint an additional inspector under this Act, to reside within a convenient distance of the works he is required to inspect; and such inspector shall have the same powers and be subject to the same power of removal and to the same regulations and liabilities as other inspectors under this Act.

(2) The proportion of salary or remuneration aforesaid shall be paid at the prescribed times into the Exchequer, and shall be a debt due from the sanitary authority to the Crown (c).

(a) That is, the Ministry of Health. See s. 27, post, p. 2674.

(b) Now the Minister of Health (Ministry of Health Act, 1919).

(c) The effect is that the debt is recoverable by an immediate extent of the property of the local authority in case of default of payment on demand.

(iii) SPECIAL RULES.

Power of owners of works to make special rules.

15.—(1) The owner of an alkali work or of a scheduled work may, with the sanction of the central authority (a), make special rules for the guidance of his workmen who are employed in or in connexion with any process causing the evolution of any noxious or offensive gas, or in or in connexion with the condensation or other treatment of that gas, and may annex fines to any violation of such rules, so that the fine for any offence do not exceed two pounds.

(2) A printed copy of the special rules in force under this section in any work shall be given by the owner of that work to every person working or employed in or about that work who is affected thereby.

(3) Any fine incurred under this Act in respect of an offence against a special rule may be recovered in accordance with the Summary Jurisdiction Acts.

(a) That is, the Minister of Health. See s. 27, post, p. 2674.

(iv) PROCEDURE.

Provision as to calculation of acid.

16. In calculating the proportion of acid to a cubic foot of air, smoke, or gases, for the purposes of this Act, such air, smoke, or gases shall be calculated at the temperature of sixty degrees of Fahrenheit's thermometer, and at a barometric pressure of thirty inches.

Recovery of fines for offences against Act in county court.

17. The following regulations shall have effect with respect to the recovery of fines for offences under this Act other than fines recoverable summarily:—

(1) Every such fine (a) shall be recovered by action in the county court having jurisdiction in the district in which the offence is alleged to have been committed:

(2) The action shall not be brought without the sanction of the central authority, nor by any person other than the chief inspector or such other inspector as the Local Government Board (b) may in any particular case direct, nor, except as respects a fine for the contravention of the provisions of this Act as to the registration of works (c), after the expiration of three months from the commission of the offence (d), and for the purposes of such action the fine shall be deemed to be a debt due to such inspector (e):

(3) The plaintiff in any action for a fine under this Act shall be presumed to be an inspector authorised under this Act to bring the action, until the contrary is proved by the defendant (f):

(4) The court may, on the application of either party, appoint a person to take down in writing the evidence of the witnesses, and may award to that person such remuneration as the court thinks just; and the amount so awarded shall be deemed to be costs in the action:

(5) If either party in any action under this Act feels aggrieved by the decision or direction of the court in point of law, or on the merits (g), or in respect of the admission or rejection of any evidence, he may appeal to the High Court:

(6) Subject to the provisions of this section, all the enactments, rules, and orders relating to proceedings in actions in county courts, and to enforcing judgments in county courts, and to appeals shall apply as if the action related to a matter within the ordinary jurisdiction of the court.

(a) The word "fine" seems hardly applicable to a sum which is to be recovered by civil proceedings. It is equivalent here to "penalty." This Act provides for maximum and not for fixed penalties, and does not point out who is to decide the proper amount. The fine is to be claimed as a debt, and it seems that the inspector should sue for the maximum amount, the judge of the court giving judgment for the amount he shall deem sufficient.

(b) Now Ministry of Health.

(c) This exception was new. The fine in such case is a sum not exceeding £50, see s. 9 (8), ante.

(d) The offence may be continuing, or there may be a separate offence for every day it is continued. See for continuing offences, ss. 2 (2), 3 (2), 4 (2), 7 (2), ante, and ss. 1 (2), 6 (3), ante, and 18, post.

(e) As to the application of the fine, see s. 19, post, p. 2672. There is no express provision for the costs of the inspector, but as he will be acting officially, it is presumed that the costs so far as not recovered from the defendant will be paid by the Treasury.

(f) It will therefore not be necessary for the inspector to produce the Gazette which according to s. 10 (2), ante, p. 2668, will be evidence of his appointment.

(g) This appears to signify the effect of the facts proved in evidence, but the term though in common use is indefinite, and may perhaps be considered to include the amount of the penalty.

Further provisions as to recovery of fines in county court.

18.—(1) In any proceeding under this Act in relation to a fine for an offence other than an offence against a special rule (a)—

(a) It shall be sufficient to allege that any work is a work to which this Act applies, without more; and

(b) It shall be sufficient to state the name of the registered or ostensible owner of the work, or the title of the firm by which the employer of persons in such work is usually known.

(2) A person shall not be subject to a fine under this Act for more than one offence in respect of the same work or place in respect of any one day.

(3) Not less than twenty-one days before the hearing of any proceeding against an owner (b) to recover a fine under this Act for failing to secure the condensation of any gas to the satisfaction of the chief inspector, or for failing to use the best practicable means (b) as required by this Act, an inspector shall serve on the owner (b) proceeded against a notice in writing stating, as the case requires, either the facts on which such chief inspector founds his opinion, or the means which such owner has failed to use, and the means which, in the chief inspector's opinion, would suffice, and shall produce a copy of such notice before the court having cognisance of the matter.

(4) A person shall not be liable under this Act to an increased fine in respect of a second offence, or in respect of a third or any subsequent offence, unless a fine has been recovered within the preceding twelve months against such person for the first offence, or for the second or other offence, as the case may be.

(a) As to special rules, see s. 15, ante, p. 2670.

(b) Defined by s. 27, post, p. 2674.

Application of fines.

19. All fines recovered under this Act, other than those recovered summarily (a), shall be paid into the Exchequer.

(a) Fines recovered summarily include all fines in respect of offences against a special rule under s. 15, ante, p. 2670, or for obstruction under s. 12 (4), ante, p. 2669. The fines so recovered not being appropriated, must be paid to the county or borough treasurer under the S. J. A., 1848, s. 31, and the Criminal Justice Administration Act, 1851, s. 11.

Receipts for fines whether recovered in the County Court, or summarily, are exempt from stamp duty (see the Revenue Act, 1898, s. 8; amending the Stamp Act, 1891, Schedule I.).

Discharge of owner on conviction of actual offender.

20. The owner (a) of a work in which an offence under this Act other than an offence against a special rule has been proved to have been committed shall in every case be deemed to have committed the offence, and shall be liable to pay the fine, unless he proves to the satisfaction of the court before which any proceeding is instituted to recover such fine, that he has used due diligence to comply with and to enforce the execution of this Act, and that the offence in question was committed, without his knowledge, consent, or connivance, by some agent servant or workman, whom he shall charge by name as the actual offender; in which case such agent servant or workman shall be liable to pay the fine, and proceedings may be taken against him for the recovery thereof and of the costs of all proceedings which may be taken either against himself or against the owner under this Act:

Provided that it shall be lawful for the inspector to proceed against the person whom he believes to be the actual offender, without first proceeding against the owner, in any case where the inspector is satisfied that the owner has used all due diligence to comply with and to enforce the provisions of this Act, and that the offence has been committed by that person without the knowledge, consent, or connivance of the owner (b).

(b) Compare the Locomotives Act, 1898, s. 13 (2), ante, p. 1067, the Factory and Workshop Act, 1901, ss. 140 and 141, ante, p. 2643, and the Food and Drugs (Adulteration) Act, 1928, s. 27 (6), post, p. 2978.

Service of notices.

21. Any notice, summons, or other document required or authorised for the purposes of this Act to be delivered to or served on or sent to the owner of any work, may be served by post or by delivering the same to the owner or at his residence or works; and the document shall be deemed to be properly addressed if addressed to the registered address of an owner, or, when required to be served on or sent to the owner of any works, if addressed to the owner of the works at the works, with the addition of the proper postal address, but without naming the person who is the owner (a).

(a) Compare s. 267 of the P. H. A., 1875, ante, p. 593.

Complaint by sanitary authority in cases of nuisances.

22.—(1) Where complaint is made to the central authority (a) by any sanitary authority (a), on information given by any of their officers, or any ten inhabitants of their district, that any work to which this Act applies is carried on (either within or without the district) in contravention of this Act, or that any alkali waste is deposited or discharged (either within or without the district) in contravention of this Act, and that a nuisance is occasioned thereby to any of the inhabitants of their district, the central authority shall make such inquiry into the matters complained of, and after the inquiry may direct such proceedings to be taken by an inspector as they think fit and just.

(2) The sanitary authority (a) complaining shall, if so required by the central authority, pay the expense of any such inquiry (b).

(a) Defined by s. 27, post, p. 2674.

(b) As to the fund out of which these expenses are payable, see s. 24, post, p. 2673.

Section 23.

Actions in case of contributory nuisance.

23.—(1) Where a nuisance arising from the discharge of any noxious or offensive gas (a) or gases is wholly or partially caused by the acts or defaults of the owners (a) of several works to which any of the provisions of this Act applies, any person injured by such nuisance may proceed against any one or more of such owners, and may recover damages from each owner made a defendant in proportion to the extent of the contribution of that defendant to the nuisance, notwithstanding that the act or default of that defendant would not separately have caused a nuisance (b).

(2) This section shall not authorise the recovery of damages from any defendant who can produce a certificate from the chief inspector that in the works of that defendant the requirements of this Act have been complied with and were complied with when the nuisance arose.

(a) Defined by s. 27, infra.
(b) See note (m), ante, p. 708.

(v) MISCELLANEOUS.

Expenses of sanitary authorities.

24. Any expenses incurred by a sanitary authority (a) under this Act shall be defrayed as general expenses incurred by the authority in the execution of the Public Health (b).

(a) Defined by s. 27, post, p. 2674.
(b) That is, if an urban district council, out of the general rate fund or rate (see the P. H. A., 1875, s. 207, ante, p. 495); and if a rural district council, then as general expenses under s. 229 of the same Act, ante, p. 514, as amended by the R. and V. Act, 1925, ante, p. 1633.

Determination of questions by chief inspector.

25. In determining any matter which under this Act is to be determined by the chief inspector, the chief inspector may found his opinion on facts disclosed by his own examination, or by an examination by any other inspector.

26.—[Temporary provision as to the over-heat pan process (a).]

(a) This section which was spent was repealed by S. L. R. A., 1927.

Interpretation of terms.

27.—(1) In this Act, unless the context otherwise requires—

The expression "alkali work" means every work for—
- (a) the manufacture of sulphate of soda or sulphate of potash, or
- (b) the treatment of copper ores by common salt or other chlorides whereby any sulphate is formed, in which muriatic acid gas is evolved:

The expression "noxious or offensive gas" includes the following gases and fumes (a):—

Muriatic acid;
Sulphuric acid;
Sulphurous acid, except that arising solely from the combustion of coal;
Nitric acid and acid-forming oxides of nitrogen;
Sulphuretted hydrogen;
Chlorine, and its acid compounds;
Fluorine compounds;
Cyanogen compounds;
Bisulphide of carbon;
Chloride of sulphur;
Fumes from cement works;
Fumes containing copper, lead, antimony, arsenic, zinc, or their compounds;
Fumes from tar works:

Section 27.

The expression "owner" includes any lessee, occupier, or any other person carrying on any work to which this Act applies:

The expression "best practicable means," where used with respect to the prevention of the escape of noxious and offensive gases, has reference not only to the provision and the efficient maintenance of appliances adequate for preventing such escape, but also to the manner in which such appliances are used and to the proper supervision, by the owner, of any operation in which such gases are evolved:

The expression "prescribed" means prescribed by the Local Government Board (b):

34 & 35 Vict. c. 70.

The expression "Local Government Board" means the Local Government Board established by the Local Government Board Act, 1871 (b):

The expression "central authority" means as regards England the Local Government Board (c):

The expression "sanitary authority" means any local authority entrusted with the execution of the Public Health Act:

38 & 39 Vict. c. 55. 54 & 55 Vict. c. 76.

The expression "the Public Health Act" means as regards England the Public Health Act, 1875, or in the case of London the Public Health (London) Act, 1891 (c); and includes any enactment amending those Acts.

(2) Nothing in this Act shall be construed as exempting any work from any of the provisions of this Act applicable to the work as being a work of a certain class or description by reason only that the work is subject to other provisions of this Act as being a work of some other class or description.

(a) The list contained in this section has been extended by order of the Minister of Health under the P. H. (Smoke Abatement) Act, 1926, s. 4 (1), ante, p. 1799.

(b) The Local Government Board has now been superseded by the Minister of Health (Ministry of Health Act, 1919, and Order in Council made thereunder). The definition in the text was accordingly repealed by S. L. R. A. 1927.

(c) Words here following are omitted as relating only to Scotland or Ireland.

28. [Application to Scotland] (a).

(a) See note (c) to s. 27, supra.

Saving as to general law.

29. Nothing in this Act shall legalise any act or default that would, but for this Act, be deemed to be a nuisance, or otherwise be contrary to law, or deprive any person of any remedy by action, indictment, or otherwise, to which he would have been entitled if this Act had not passed (a).

(a) Compare the Gasworks Clauses Act, 1847, s. 29, ante, p. 2173.

Repeals.

30. The Acts specified in the second schedule to this Act are hereby repealed to the extent mentioned in the third column of that schedule (a).

Provided that—

(a) Nothing in this Act shall affect any certificate, special rule, or notice issued, made, or served before the commencement of this Act in pursuance of any enactment so repealed, but every such certificate, special rule, and notice shall continue in force as if issued, made, or served in pursuance of this Act; and

(b) Nothing in this Act shall affect the tenure of office of any inspector appointed under any enactment so repealed, but every such inspector shall hold office as if appointed under this Act; and

(c) Nothing in this Act shall affect any liability of a sanitary authority incurred under any enactment so repealed to pay any proportion of the salary or remuneration of an additional inspector.

(a) Words in italics repealed by S. L. R. A., 1927.

Section 31.

Short title and commencement.

31. This Act may be cited as the Alkali, etc., Works Regulation Act, 1906, and shall come into operation on the first day of January nineteen hundred and seven (a).

(a) Words in italics repealed by S. L. R. A., 1927.

SCHEDULES.

FIRST SCHEDULE.

Sections, 6, 7.

List of Works (a).

1. Sulphuric acid works, that is to say, works in which the manufacture of sulphuric acid is carried on by the lead chamber process, namely, the process by which sulphurous acid is converted into sulphuric acid by the agency of oxides of nitrogen and by the use of a lead chamber.

2. Sulphuric acid (Class II.) works, that is to say, works in which the manufacture of sulphuric acid is carried on by any process other than the lead chamber process, and works for the concentration or distillation of sulphuric acid.

3. Chemical manure works, that is to say, works in which the manufacture of chemical manure is carried on, and works in which any mineral phosphate is subjected to treatment involving chemical change through the application or use of any acid.

4. Gas liquor works, that is to say, works (not being sulphate of ammonia works or muriate of ammonia works) in which sulphuretted hydrogen or any other noxious or offensive gas is evolved by the use of ammoniacal liquor in any manufacturing process, and works in which any such liquor is desulphurised by the application of heat in any process connected with the purification of gas.

5. Nitric acid works, that is to say, works in which the manufacture of nitric acid is carried on and works in which nitric acid is recovered from oxides of nitrogen.

6. Sulphate of ammonia works and muriate of ammonia works, that is to say, works in which the manufacture of sulphate of ammonia or of muriate of ammonia is carried on.

7. Chlorine works, that is to say, works in which chlorine is made or used in any manufacturing process.

8. Muriatic acid works, that is to say—
   - (a) Muriatic acid works, or works (not being alkali works as defined in this Act) where muriatic acid gas is evolved either during the preparation of liquid muriatic acid or for use in any manufacturing process;
   - (b) Tin plate works, that is to say, works in which any residue or flux from tin plate works is calcined for the utilisation of such residue or flux, and in which muriatic acid gas is evolved; and
   - (c) Salt works, that is to say, works (not being works in which salt is produced by refining rock salt, otherwise than by the dissolution of rock salt at the place of deposit) in which the extraction of salt from brine is carried on, and in which muriatic acid gas is evolved.

9. Sulphide works, that is to say, works in which sulphuretted hydrogen is evolved by the decomposition of metallic sulphides, or in which sulphuretted hydrogen is used in the production of such sulphides.

10. Alkali waste works, that is to say, works in which alkali waste or the drainage therefrom is subjected to any chemical process for the recovery of sulphur or for the utilisation of any constituent of such waste or drainage.

11. Venetian red works, that is to say, works for the manufacture of Venetian red, crocus, or polishing powder, by heating sulphate or some other salt of iron.

12. Lead deposit works, that is to say, works in which the sulphate of lead deposit from sulphuric acid chambers is dried or smelted.

13. Arsenic works, that is to say, works for the preparation of arsenious acid, or where nitric acid or a nitrate is used in the manufacture of arsenic acid or an arseniate.

14. Nitrate and chloride of iron works, that is to say, works in which nitric acid or a nitrate is used in the manufacture of nitrate or chloride of iron.

Sched. I.

15. Bisulphide of carbon works, that is to say, works for the manufacture of bisulphide of carbon.

16. Sulphocyanide works, that is to say, works in which the manufacture of any sulphocyanide is carried on by the reaction of bisulphide of carbon upon ammonia or any of its compounds.

17. Picric acid works, that is to say, works in which nitric acid or a nitrate is used in the manufacture of picric acid.

18. Paraffin oil works, that is to say, works in which crude shale oil is refined.

19. Bisulphite works, that is to say, works in which sulphurous acid is used in the manufacture of acid sulphites of the alkalis or alkaline earths.

20. Tar works, that is to say, works where gas tar or coal tar is distilled or is heated in any manufacturing process.

21. Zinc works, that is to say, works in which, by the application of heat, zinc is extracted from the ore, or from any residue containing that metal.

(a) This list has been added to by an order of 1928 made by the Minister of Health under the P. H. (Smoke Abatement) Act, 1926, s. 4 (1), ante, p. 1799.

OPEN SPACES ACT, 1906.

(6 EDW. 7, c. 25) (a).

An Act to consolidate Enactments relating to Open Spaces. [4th August, 1906.]

LOCAL AUTHORITIES.

Local authorities.

1. Each of the following bodies shall be a local authority for the purposes of this Act, namely—

The council of any county, of any municipal or metropolitan borough, or of any district:

The common council of the city of London:

Any parish council invested with the powers of this Act by an order of the council of the county within which the parish is situate.

(a) This Act repeals and consolidates with amendments the whole of the previous legislation on the subject except so much of s. 4 of the Open Spaces Act, 1887, as amends the Disused Burial Grounds Act, 1884, ante, pp. 2493, 2484.

POWER TO TRANSFER OPEN SPACES AND BURIAL GROUNDS TO LOCAL AUTHORITIES.

Power of trustees under local Act to transfer

2.—(1) Where an open space (b) is, in pursuance of a local or private Act of Parliament, placed under the care and management of trustees or other persons (in this section referred to as trustees), with a view to the preservation and regulation thereof as a garden or open space, the trustees may, in pursuance of a special resolution (c), and with the consent, signified by a special resolution (c), of the owners (b) and occupiers (b) of any houses which front upon the open space, or of which the owners and occupiers are liable to be specially rated for the maintenance of the open space—open spaces to local authority or admit other persons to enjoyment thereof (a).

(a) convey, for or without any consideration, to any local authority, their estate or interest in the open space or, if they have no such estate or interest, transfer to any local authority the entire care and management of the open space, to the end that the space may be preserved for the enjoyment of the public; or

(b) grant, for or without any consideration, to any local authority any term of years or other limited interest in or any right or easement over the open space; or

(c) make any agreement with any local authority for the opening to the public of the open space and the care and management thereof by the local authority, either at all times or at any specified time or times; or

(d) notwithstanding anything in the Act or any instrument under which the trustees are constituted or act, admit persons not owning, occupying, or residing in any house fronting on the open space to the enjoyment of the open space, either at all times or at any specified time or times, and regulate the admission of such persons thereto on such terms and conditions as the trustees think proper.

(2) Where the freehold of the open space and the freehold of all or the greater part of the houses round the open space are vested in the same person the powers conferred by this section shall not be exercised without the consent of that person.

(3) Any such conveyance, transfer, grant, or agreement shall be made, if the trustees are a corporation, by an instrument under the common seal of the trustees, and if the trustees are not a corporation, by an instrument under the hands and seals of any five of the trustees, or of all the trustees if for the time being they are less than five in number.

(4) Any conveyance, transfer, grant, or agreement under this section shall be deemed a good execution of the trusts, powers, and duties imposed or conferred upon the trustees by the Act or instrument under which they are constituted or act, and where the trustees convey their entire interest in, or transfer the entire care and management of, the open space they shall, on the execution of the conveyance or transfer, be relieved and discharged from all trusts, powers, and duties under the Act or instrument or otherwise with reference to the open space.

(5) The trustees shall hold any purchase money or rent paid for or in respect of the open space in trust for the benefit of the persons or class of persons for whose benefit the open space was previously preserved and managed by the trustees, or, as the case may be, for the benefit of the objects to which any rates previously imposed in respect of the open space had been applied, and such persons or class of persons shall be discharged either absolutely, or, if the grant was for a term of years or other limited interest, during the continuance of that interest, from any special rate or other obligation previously imposed on them in respect of the open space.

(b) Defined by s. 20, post, p. 2684.

(c) As to special resolutions and consents, see s. 8, post, p. 2680.

Transfer to local authority

3.—(1) Where any land is held by trustees (not being trustees elected or appointed under any local or private Act of Parliament) upon trust for the of spaces held by trustees for purpose of public recreation (a).

purposes of public recreation, the trustees may, in pursuance of a special resolution (b), transfer the land to any local authority by a free gift absolutely or for a limited term, and, if the local authority accept the gift, they shall hold the land on the trusts and subject to the conditions on and subject to which the trustees held the same, or on such other trusts and subject to such other conditions (so that the land be appropriated to the purposes of public recreation) as may be agreed on between the trustees and the local authority with the approval of the Charity Commissioners.

(2) Subject to the obligation of the land so transferred being used for the purposes of public recreation, the local authority may hold the land as and for the purposes of an open space under this Act.

(a) This section reproduces s. 3 of the Open Spaces Act, 1890.

(b) See s. 8, post, p. 2680.

Transfer by charity trustees of open space to local authority (a).

4.—(1) Where an open space is vested in trustees, other than such as are mentioned in the foregoing provisions of this Act, for any charitable purpose and as part of their trust estate, and it appears to the majority of the trustees that the open space is no longer required for the purposes of their trust, or may with advantage to the trust be dealt with under this section, the trustees may, in pursuance of a special resolution (b), and where the open space is subject to the Charitable Trusts Acts, 1853 to 1894 (c), with such authority or approval (d) as is required by those Acts for a sale of the open space, and in other cases in pursuance of an order of the court to be obtained as hereinafter provided, convey or demise the open space to any local authority on such terms as they may agree, and the local authority shall thenceforth be entitled to hold the same as an open space on the terms and under the conditions specified in the conveyance or demise, or on such terms or under such conditions as may be so authorised or approved, or as the court may from time to time order, as the case may be.

(2) The court for the purposes of this section shall be either the High Court or the county court of the district in which the whole or any part of the open space is situate.

(3) An order of the court for the purposes of this section may be made upon application by the trustees, in manner directed by rules of court, and the court, before making any order, may direct such inquiries to be made, such consents to be obtained, and notice to be given to such persons, as to the court seem expedient, and may make such order thereon as in the discretion of the court appears proper.

(a) This section reproduces s. 4 of the Open Spaces Act, 1890.

(b) See s. 8, post, p. 2680.

(c) These Acts are as follows: the Charitable Trusts Acts, 1853; 1855; 1860; 1862; 1869; 1887, and the Charity Trusts (Recovery) Act, 1891. Trustees of charities also have the powers of a tenant for life under a settlement subject to the jurisdiction of the court, the charity commissioners, or other competent authority (Settled Land Act, 1925, s. 29 (3).

(d) The authority or approval required seems to be that of the Charity Commissioners under s. 24 of the Charitable Trusts Act, 1853, or under an Act of Parliament or under the authority of a court or according to a scheme legally established (s. 29 of the Charitable Trusts Act, 1855, and In re Masons Orphanage, [1896] 1 Ch. 596, per LINDLEY, L.J., at p. 601).

Transfer to local authority by owners of open spaces subject to rights of user (a).

5.—(1) Where any open space (b) is subject to rights of user for exercise and recreation in the owners (b) or occupiers (b), or both, of any houses round or near the same, whether the rights are secured by covenant or not, the owner of the open space may, with the consent, signified by a special resolution (c), of such owners or occupiers, or both, as the case may require,—

(a) convey to any local authority his estate or interest in the open space in trust for the enjoyment of the public; or

Section 5.

(b) grant to any local authority in trust as aforesaid any term of years or other limited interest in or any right or easement over the open space; or

(c) make an agreement with any local authority for the opening to the public of the open space and the care and management thereof by the local authority either at all times or at any specified times:

and thereupon the owner shall be discharged from any liability to any person entitled to any right of user in respect of any act done in accordance with the consent so given.

(2) Where any person has any term of years or other limited interest in any such open space this section shall apply to him with reference to that interest in like manner as it applies to the owner of the open space.

(3) Where any open space is used as a place of exercise and recreation for the inhabitants of certain houses, and the property and right of user is vested in one or more persons as owners or occupiers of the houses, those owners and occupiers (if any) may convey to a local authority in trust for the public a right to enter upon, use, and enjoy the open space subject to such terms and conditions as may be agreed upon.

(a) Sub-ss. (1) and (2) of this section are taken from s. 3 of the Metropolitan Open Spaces Act, 1881, as extended by the Open Spaces Act, 1887.

Sub-s. (3) is taken from s. 2 of the Metropolitan Open Spaces Act, 1877, as extended by the Open Spaces Act, 1887.

(b) Defined by s. 20, post, p. 2684.

(c) See s. 8, post, p. 2680.

Transfer of disused burial grounds to local authority (b).

6. The owner (a) of any disused burial ground (a) may convey the burial ground to, or grant any term of years or other limited interest therein to, or make any agreement with, any local authority for the purpose of giving the public access to the burial ground, and preserving the same as an open space accessible to the public and under the control of the local authority, and for the purpose of improving and laying out the same.

(a) Defined by s. 20, post, p. 2684.

(b) This section is taken from s. 4 of the Metropolitan Open Spaces Act, 1881, as extended by the Open Spaces Act, 1887.

A faculty was granted and a transfer made under the earlier Act in Re Mount Street Burial Ground (1888), 4 T. L. R. 661.

For a case in which terms were imposed upon the grant of a faculty, see Bermondsey B. C. v. Mortimer, [1926] P. 87.

Power of corporation &c., to convert land for open space (a).

7.—(1) Any corporation (other than a municipal corporation) or persons having power, either with or without the consent of any other corporation or persons, to sell any land may, but with the like consent (if any), convey, for or without any consideration, to any local authority that land, or any part thereof, for the purpose of the same being preserved as an open space for the enjoyment of the public under this Act, and may so convey the same with or without conditions, and the local authority may accept the land for that purpose, and, if conditions are imposed, subject to such conditions.

(2) Where a corporation having power under this section to convey land are themselves a local authority, this section shall enable the authority to appropriate their land as an open space for the enjoyment of the public, and shall, with the necessary modifications, apply to the appropriation in like manner as it applies to the conveyance.

(3) Every parish council shall be a local authority for the purposes of this section.

(a) This section is taken from s. 7 of the Open Spaces Act, 1887, as extended by s. 17 (3) of the Commons Act, 1899.

Note to Section 7. Sanitary authorities have power to sell land under s. 175 of the P. H. A., 1875, ante, p. 431. Instead of selling such land they may under this section appropriate it as an open space. As to education authorities appropriating land for non-educational purposes, see s. 114, Education Act, 1921.

Special resolutions and consents (a).

8.—(1) A resolution shall for the purposes of this Act be a special resolution (a) when it has been—

(a) passed by a majority of at least two-thirds of the persons present at a meeting summoned as hereinafter provided; and

(b) confirmed by another resolution passed by a majority of at least two-thirds of the persons present at a meeting summoned as hereinafter provided and held after an interval of not less than one month from the first meeting.

(2) A meeting of trustees for the purposes of this Act shall be summoned by a notice stating generally the object of the meeting, which notice shall be left at, or sent by post, at least one month before the date of the meeting, to the last known or usual place of abode of each trustee.

(3) A meeting of owners and occupiers of houses under this Act shall be summoned by a notice stating generally the object of the meeting, which notice shall be left at, or sent through the post to, each of such houses, at least one month before the date of the meeting, and shall be inserted as an advertisement at least three times in any two or more papers circulating in the neighbourhood.

(4) If at any meeting of trustees or of owners and occupiers under this Act a resolution with respect to an open space is rejected, no meeting of the trustees, or, as the case may be, the owners or occupiers, shall be called or held with the same object and with respect to the same open space until the expiration of three years from the date of the rejection.

(5) A meeting of owners or occupiers of houses for the purposes of this Act shall not be held between the first day of August in one year and the thirty-first day of January in the following year.

(a) Special resolutions are required under ss. 2, 3, 4 and 5, ante.
This section re-enacts similar provisions of s. 2 of the Metropolitan Open Spaces Act, 1881, as extended by the Open Spaces Act, 1887.

POWERS OF LOCAL AUTHORITIES WITH RESPECT TO OPEN SPACES AND BURIAL GROUNDS.

Power of local authority to acquire open space or burial ground (a).

9. A local authority may, subject to the provisions of this Act,—

(a) acquire by agreement and for valuable or nominal consideration by way of payment in gross, or of rent, or otherwise, or without any consideration, the freehold of, or any term of years (b) or other limited estate or interest in or any right or easement in or over, any open space or burial ground (c), whether situate within the district of the local authority or not; and

(b) undertake the entire or partial care, management, and control of any such open space or burial ground, whether any interest in the soil is transferred to the local authority or not; and

(c) for the purposes aforesaid, make any agreement with any person authorised by this Act or otherwise to convey or to agree with reference to any open space or burial ground, or with any other persons interested therein.

(a) This section is taken from the first paragraph of s. 5 of the Metropolitan Open Spaces Act, 1881, as extended by the Open Spaces Act, 1887.

(b) Where a vestry acquired the residue of a term of twenty-six years in an open space by assignment of the lease creating the term, it was held that they were "owners" within the meaning of s. 250 of the Metropolis Management Act, 1855 (St. Mary Islington Vestry v. Cobbett, [1895] 1 Q. B. 369).

Note to Section 9.

On the other hand, in London C. C. v. Wandsworth Borough Council, [1903] 1 K. B. 797; 67 J. P. 215, the Court of Appeal held that the county council were not owners of a common vested in them by statute as a public recreation ground, and overruled the case of Fulham Vestry v. Minter, [1901] 1 K. B. 501; 65 J. P. 180, where it had been held that the vestry were owners of an open space acquired by them under the powers conferred by the Open Spaces Acts, 1877 and 1881.

(c) Defined by s. 20, post, p. 2685.

Maintenance of open spaces and burial grounds by local authority (a).

10. A local authority who have acquired any estate or interest in or control over any open space or burial ground (b) under this Act shall, subject to any conditions under which the estate, interest, or control was so acquired—

(a) hold and administer the open space or burial ground in trust to allow, and with a view to, the enjoyment thereof by the public as an open space within the meaning of this Act and under proper control and regulation and for no other purpose; and

(b) maintain and keep the open space or burial ground in a good and decent state, and may inclose it or keep it inclosed with proper railings and gates, and may drain, level, lay out, turf, plant, ornament, light, provide with seats, and otherwise improve it, and do all such works and things and employ such officers and servants as may be requisite for the purposes aforesaid or any of them.

(a) This section is taken from the second paragraph of s. 5 of the Metropolitan Open Spaces Act, 1881, as amended by s. 7 of the Open Spaces Act, 1890, and extended by the Open Spaces Act, 1887.

But there is also an important amendment here introduced for the first time by the omission of the words "free from buildings," which occurred in the original enactment. These words had given rise to considerable litigation in the case of Paddington Borough Council v. Att.-Gen., [1906] A. C. 1; 70 J. P. 41, where it was held that the local authority were entitled, notwithstanding those words, to prevent by the erection of a screen or other suitable means anything which might interfere with the free use by the public of the open space, and to prevent the acquisition of an easement of light or other adverse right over such space by an adjoining owner. The effect of the omission of these words, "free from buildings," is to leave the local authority clearly at liberty to erect on an open space buildings conducive to the public enjoyment of the open space as such, but presumably (see s. 20), such buildings should not occupy more than one-twentieth of the whole area. The restriction as to the erection of buildings on disused burial grounds imposed by s. 3 of the Disused Burial Grounds Act, 1884, ante, p. 2484, is still, however, in force (Bermondsey B. C. v. Mortimer, [1926] P. 87).

(b) Defined by s. 20, post, p. 2685.

Special provisions as to management of burial grounds and removal of tombstones.

11.—(1) A local authority shall not exercise any of the powers of management under this Act with reference to any consecrated burial ground (a) unless and until they are authorised to do so by the licence or faculty of the bishop (b).

(2) The playing of any games or sports shall not be allowed in any burial ground in or over which a local authority have acquired any estate, interest, or control under this Act, except that—

(a) in the case of a consecrated burial ground, the bishop by licence or faculty; and

(b) in the case of any burial ground which is not consecrated, the persons from whom the local authority have acquired the estate, interest, or control in or over the same may expressly sanction any such use of the burial ground, and may specify any conditions as to the extent or nature of such use (c).

(3) In the case (d) of any disused burial ground (e), at least three months before removing or changing the position of any tombstone or monument, a local authority shall—

(a) prepare a statement sufficiently describing by the name and date appearing thereon the tombstones and monuments standing or being in the ground, and such other particulars as may be necessary, and shall cause this statement to be deposited with the clerk of the local authority, and to be open to inspection by all persons; and

(b) insert an advertisement of the intention to remove or change the position of such tombstones and monuments three times at least in some newspaper circulating in the neighbourhood, and by that advertisement give notice of the deposit of the statement hereinbefore described, and of the place at which and the hours within which the same may be inspected; and

(c) place a notice in terms similar to the advertisement on the door of the church (if any) to which the burial ground is attached, and deliver or send by post a notice to any person known or believed by the local authority to be a near relative of any person whose death is recorded on any such tombstone or monument.

(4) In the case of a consecrated ground, no tombstone or monument shall be removed or its position changed without a licence or faculty from the bishop, and no application for such licence or faculty shall be made until the expiration of one month at least after the appearance of the last of such advertisements as aforesaid:

Provided that on an application for a licence or faculty nothing shall prevent the bishop from directing or sanctioning the removal or change of position of any tombstone or monument, if he is of opinion that reasonable steps have been taken to bring the intention to effect such removal or change of position to the notice of some person having a family interest in the tombstone or monument.

(5) A licence or faculty for the purposes of this section may be granted by the bishop of the diocese within which the consecrated burial ground is situate on the application of the local authority who have acquired any estate, interest, or control in or over the burial ground, and may be granted subject to such conditions and restrictions as to the bishop may seem fit (f).

(a) Defined by s. 20, post, p. 2685.

(b) This sub-section is taken from the proviso to s. 5 of the Metropolitan Open Spaces Act, 1881.

Faculties were granted under that section in Re Mount Street Burial Ground (1888), 4 T. L. R. 661; Re St. George's Burial Ground (1888), 4 T. L. R. 703, and for filling up vaults out of repair in Vicar of St. Botolph-without-Aldgate v. Parishioners, [1892] P. 173.

(c) This sub-section is taken from sub-s. (2) of s. 2 of the Open Spaces Act, 1887. See Re Camden Town Burial Ground (1888), 5 T. L. R. 311, and Bermondsey B. C. v. Mortimer, ante, p. 2681.

(d) This sub-section is taken from s. 3 of the Open Spaces Act, 1887.

(e) See note (a) to s. 10, ante, p. 2681.

(f) This sub-section is taken from the proviso to s. 5 of the Metropolitan Open Spaces Act, 1881.

Powers over open spaces and burial grounds already vested in local authority.

12. A local authority may exercise all the powers given to them by this Act respecting open spaces and burial grounds transferred to them in pursuance of this Act in respect of any open spaces and burial grounds of a similar nature which may be vested in them in pursuance of any other statute, or of which they are otherwise the owners (a).

Provision for compensation.

13. No estate, interest, or right of a profitable or beneficial nature in, over, or affecting an open space or burial ground shall, except with the consent of the person entitled thereto, be taken away or injuriously affected by anything done under this Act without compensation being made for the same; and such compensation shall be paid by the local authority by whom the estate, interest, or right is taken away or injuriously affected, and shall, in case of difference, be ascertained and provided in the same manner as if the same were compensation for lands purchased and taken otherwise than by agreement of injuriously affected under the Lands Clauses Acts (a).

See the Lands Clauses Consolidation Act, 1845, ante, p. 2088, and notes.

Power of county councils as to public walks or pleasure grounds.

14. A county council may purchase or take on lease, lay out, plant, improve, and maintain lands for the purpose of being used as public walks or pleasure grounds, and may support or contribute to the support of public walks or pleasure grounds provided by any person whomsoever (a).

(a) This section is an extension of s. 12 of the Open Spaces Act, 1887.

Byelaws (a).

15.—(1) A local authority may, with reference to any open space or burial ground in or over which they have acquired any estate, interest, or control under this Act, make byelaws for the regulation thereof, and of the days and times of admission thereto, and for the preservation of order and prevention of nuisances therein, and may by such byelaws impose penalties recoverable summarily for the infringement thereof, and provide for the removal of any person infringing any byelaw by any officer of the local authority or police constable.

(2) All byelaws made under this Act by any local authority shall be made—

(a) in the case of a county council other than the London County Council, subject and according to the provisions of section sixteen of the Local Government Act, 1888; and [51 & 52 Vict. c. 41.]

(b) in the case of the London County Council, subject and according to the provisions of sections two hundred and two and two hundred and three of the Metropolis Management Act, 1855, as modified with respect to parks and open spaces by the London Council (General Powers) Act, 1890, and the London County Council (General Powers) Act, 1898; and [18 & 19 Vict. c. 120. 53 & 54 Vict. c. ccxliii. 61 & 62 Vict. c. ccxxi.]

(c) in the case of the Common Council of the City of London, subject and according to the Corporation of London (Open Spaces) Act, 1878; and [41 & 42 Vict. c. cxxvii.]

(d) in the case of a council of a metropolitan borough, subject and according to the provisions of sections two hundred and two and two hundred and three of the Metropolis Management Act, 1855; and

(e) in the case of a municipal borough or district or parish council, subject and according to the provisions with respect to byelaws contained in sections one hundred and eighty-two to one hundred and eighty-six of the Public Health Act, 1875 (b), and those sections shall apply to a parish council in like manner as if they were a local authority within the meaning of that Act, except that byelaws made by a parish council need not be under common seal. [38 & 39 Vict. c. 55.]

(3) The trustees or other persons having the care and management of any open space, who in pursuance of this Act admit to the enjoyment of the open space any persons not owning, occupying, or residing in any house fronting thereon, shall have the same powers of making byelaws as are conferred on a committee of the inhabitants of a square by section four of the Town Gardens Protection Act, 1863 (c), and that section shall apply accordingly. [26 & 27 Vict. c. 13.]

(a) This section is taken from s. 1 of the Metropolitan Open Spaces Act, 1877, as extended by s. 6 of the Metropolitan Open Spaces Act, 1881, and by s. 5 of the Open Spaces Act, 1887.

Section 16.

Power of local authorities to act jointly.

16. Any two or more local authorities may jointly carry out the provisions of this Act and may make any agreement on such terms as may be arranged between them for so doing and for defraying the expenses of the execution of this Act, and any local authority may defray the whole or any part of the expenses incurred by any other local authority in the execution of this Act (a).

(a) This section is taken from s. 7 of the Metropolitan Open Spaces Act, 1881, as extended by the Open Spaces Act, 1887.

Expenses of local authorities.

17. The expenses of a local authority incurred in the execution of this Act may be defrayed—

(a) in the case of a county council, out of the county fund (a);

(b) in the case of a metropolitan borough council, as expenses of that council;

(c) in the case of the council of a municipal borough or urban district, as part of the general expenses incurred in the execution of the Public Health Acts (b);

(d) in the case of a rural district council, as special expenses incurred in the execution of the Public Health Acts, and such expenses shall in accordance with the provisions of those Acts be charged to the contributory place, or apportioned among the contributory places, on account of which the expense was incurred (c);

56 & 57 Vict. c. 73.

(e) in the case of a parish council, subject and according to the Local Government Act, 1894.

(a) This section is taken from s. 8 of the Open Spaces Act, 1887.
(b) See s. 207 of the P. H. A., 1875, ante, p. 495, as amended by the R. and V. Act, 1925.
(c) See s. 229 of the P. H. A., 1875, ante, p. 514, as amended by the R. and V. Act, 1925.

Borrowing.

18. A local authority may borrow for the purposes of this Act in the case of a county council as for the purposes of the Local Government Act, 1888; in the case of a metropolitan borough council as for the purposes of the Metropolis Management Acts, 1855 to 1893; in the case of a municipal borough or urban or rural district council as for the purposes of the Public Health Acts (a); and in the case of a parish council as for the purposes of the Local Government Act, 1894.

(a) See ss. 233—244 of the P. H. A., 1875, ante, pp. 519—537.

SUPPLEMENTAL.

Savings.

19. This Act shall not apply to—

(a) the royal parks; nor

(b) any land belonging to His Majesty in right of His Crown or of His Duchy of Lancaster; nor

14 & 15 Vict. c. 95.

(c) any garden, ornamental ground, or ornamental land for the time being under the management of the Commissioners of Works or of the Commissioners for the time being acting under the Crown Estate Paving Act, 1851; nor

(d) any metropolitan common within the meaning of the Metropolitan Commons Acts, 1866 to 1898; nor (e) any land belonging to either of the honourable Societies of the Inner Temple and Middle Temple.

Definitions.

20. In this Act, unless the context otherwise requires,—

The expression "open space" (a) means any land, whether inclosed or not, on which there are no buildings or of which not more than one-twentieth part is covered with buildings, and the whole or the remainder of which is laid out as a garden or is used for purposes of recreation, or lies waste and unoccupied :

The expression "common council of the city of London" means the mayor, aldermen, and commons of the city of London in common council assembled :

The expression "owner" (b)—

(a) used in relation to an open space (not being a burial ground), means any person in whom the open space is vested for an estate in possession during his life or for any larger estate ;

(b) used in relation to a house, includes any person entitled to any term of years in the house ;

(c) used in relation to a burial ground, means the person in whom the freehold of the burial ground is vested whether as appurtenant or incident to any benefice or cure of souls or otherwise :

The expression "occupier" (c), used in relation to a house, means the person rated to the relief of the poor (d) in respect of the house :

The expression "burial ground" (e) includes any churchyard, cemetery, or other ground, whether consecrated or not, which has been at any time set apart for the purpose of interment :

The expression "disused burial ground" (f) means any burial ground which is no longer used for interments, whether or not the ground has been partially or wholly closed for burials under the provisions of a statute or Order in Council :

The expression "building" (f) includes any temporary or movable building (g).

(o) This definition differs slightly in wording from that contained in s. 1 of the Metropolitan Open Spaces Act, 1881, as amended by s. 2 of the Open Spaces Act, 1887, and s. 7 of the Open Spaces Act, 1890, but the effect appears to be the same.

(b) This definition is taken from Metropolitan Open Spaces Act, 1881, ss. 1, 2, and 3.

(c) This definition is taken from Metropolitan Open Spaces Act, 1881, ss. 2 and 3.

(d) I.e. to the general rate, see s. 69 (2), R. and V. Act, 1925, ante, p. 1752.

(e) This definition is taken from Metropolitan Open Spaces Act, 1881, s. 1.

The site of a church where intra-mural burial has taken place was held not to be ground which had been set apart for purposes of interment under the repealed definition (Re Ecclesiastical Commissioners and New City of London Brewery Company's Contract, [1895] 1 Ch. 702). But that definition was held to include ground set apart though never actually used for interments (Re Ponsford and Newport District School Board, [1894] 1 Ch. 454). See also s. 4 of the Open Spaces Act, 1887, ante, p. 2493, and Re Bosworth and Gravesend Corporation, cited in the note. Doubt was, however, expressed as to the correctness of those decisions in Nicholl v. Llantwit Major Parish Council, [1924] 2 Ch. 214. In that case it was held that land purchased for use as a burial ground but never fenced off, consecrated or used for interments, had never been "set apart for the purpose of interment." Nicholl v. Llantwit Major Parish Council was, however, distinguished, and the earlier cases applied in London C. C. v. Greenwich Corporation, [1929] 1 Ch. 305.

(f) This definition is identical with that contained in Open Spaces Act, 1887, s. 4, ante, p. 2493. See the cases cited in the notes thereto.

(g) Sections 21 and 22 apply to Ireland and Scotland only, and are therefore omitted.

23. The Acts mentioned in the schedule to this Act are hereby repealed to the extent specified in the third column of that schedule : (a) Repeal.

Provided that—

(a) Nothing in this repeal shall affect the validity or operation of any byelaw made under any enactment so repealed, but all such byelaws shall continue in force as if made under that Act, and may be revoked and altered accordingly ; and

(b) Nothing in this repeal shall affect any order of a county council under any enactment repealed investing a parish council with the powers of the Open Spaces Acts, 1877 to 1890, and every parish council in respect of which such an order has before the commencement of this Act been made, shall be deemed to be a parish council invested with the powers of this Act by an order of the council of the county within which the parish is situate.

BURIAL ACT, 1906.

(6 EDW. 7, C. 44) (a).

An Act to amend the Law with respect to the consents required for the use of ground for Burials and the construction of Cemeteries.

[21st December, 1906.]

Consents under 18 & 19 Vict. c. 128, s. 9.

1. The consent of the owner, lessee, and occupier of a dwelling-house to the use for burials of any ground used or appropriated for a burial ground or cemetery, mentioned in section nine of the Burial Act, 1855, shall not be and shall be deemed never to have been required in any case where the dwelling-house is or was begun to be erected or is or was erected or completed after any part of that ground has or had been so used or appropriated:

63 & 64 Vict. c. 15.

Provided (b) that nothing in this section shall affect any rights acquired before the twenty-seventh day of November one thousand nine hundred and six under any judgment or order of a court of competent jurisdiction or under any agreement in writing, but if a dispute, one of the parties to which is a burial authority within the meaning of the Burial Act, 1900 (c), arises under such an agreement as to any such right, the dispute shall, if either party so requires, be determined by the Local Government Board (d) either as arbitrators or otherwise at the option of the Board, in like manner as if it were a difference which the Board are authorised to determine under the Local Government Act, 1888, and section sixty-three and sub-sections (1) and (5) of section eighty-seven of that Act (e), as amended by any subsequent enactment (f), shall apply accordingly.

Section 1.

51 & 52 Vict. c. 41.

(a) This Act was passed in consequence of the decision in Godden v. Hythe Burial Board, [1906] 2 Ch. 270; 70 J. P. 285, to the effect that s. 9 of the Burials Act, 1855, prevented burials in a burial ground laid out since 1855 within 100 yards of a dwelling-house erected after the burial ground had been laid out without the consent of the owner, lessee, and occupier of such dwelling-house. A somewhat similar provision is contained in s. 10 of the Cemeteries Clauses Act, 1847, ante, p. 2217, with regard to cemeteries under that Act, and in s. 5 of the Cremation Act, 1902, ante, p. 2655, with regard to a crematorium.

(b) This proviso secured the rights of the plaintiff in Godden v. Hythe Burial Board, supra, under the judgment as well as similar rights acquired by agreement.

2. In section ten of the Cemeteries Clauses Act, 1847 (a), as incorporated with the Public Health (Interments) Act, 1879, " one hundred yards " shall be substituted for " two hundred yards " as the distance from a dwelling-house within which no part of a cemetery may be constructed without the consent of the owner, lessee, and occupier of the house.

STAMPS.

Reduction of duty on loan capital issued for the purpose of the conversion or consolidation of existing capital. 62 & 63 Vict. c. 9.

10.—(1) Where it is shown to the satisfaction of the Commissioners that the loan capital issued (a) by any local authority, corporation, company, or body of persons, in respect of which a statement has, after the commencement of this Act, been delivered to the Commissioners under section eight of the Finance Act, 1899 (b), has been wholly or partly applied for the purpose of the conversion or consolidation of then existing loan capital, that authority, corporation, company, or body of persons, as the case may be, shall be entitled to repayment in respect of the duty charged on the statement so delivered at the rate of two shillings for every hundred pounds of the capital to which the statement relates which is so shown to have been applied for the purpose of the conversion or consolidation of then existing loan capital; but this section shall not apply to any duty payable in respect of a mortgage or market-

Section 10. able security which has been paid on any trust deed or other document securing the loan capital which has been issued.

(2) If it is represented to the Commissioners by any such local authority, corporation, company, or body of persons that loan capital about to be issued by them is to be applied, in whole or in part, for the purpose of the conversion or consolidation of existing loan capital, the Commissioners may postpone the time for the delivery of the statement and the payment of duty under section eight of the Finance Act, 1899 (b), until the capital has been issued or until such other time as the Commissioners think fit for the purpose of enabling the payment and repayment of the duty to take place as one transaction.

(a) Loan capital may be issued by urban district councils under s. 52 of the P. H. A., 1890, ante, p. 914.

FACTORY AND WORKSHOP ACT, 1907.

(7 EDW. 7, C. 39) (a).

An Act to amend the Factory and Workshop Act, 1901, with respect to Laundries, and to extend that Act to certain Institutions and to provide for the inspection of certain premises. [28th August, 1907.]

LAUNDRIES.

Application of 1 Edw. 7, c. 22, to laundries.

1. The Factory and Workshop Act, 1901 (which Act, as amended by any subsequent enactment, including this Act, is hereinafter referred to as the principal Act), shall, subject to the provisions of this Act, apply to laundries as if at the end of Part II. of the Sixth Schedule (b) to that Act, enumerating non-textile factories and workshops, the following paragraph were added :—

"(29) Laundries carried on by way of trade or for the purpose of gain, or carried on as ancillary to another business (c) or incidentally to the purposes of any public institution (d)."

(a) See the Factory and Workshop Act, 1901, ante, p. 2620.

(b) Ante, p. 2653.

(c) A laundry in which table-linen, sheets and blankets are washed and which is carried on by a hotel proprietor is ancillary to the hotel business, although no visitors' washing is done there (Sadler v. Roberts (1911), 75 J. P. 342 ; 105 L. T. 106).

(d) A home for orphan children was held to be a public institution in Seal v. British Orphan Asylum (1911), 75 J. P. 152 ; 104 L. T. 424 ; so was an institution maintained by the voluntary subscriptions of Freemasons, although no public appeal for funds was made (Royal Masonic Institution Trustees v. Parkes, [1912] 3 K. B. 212 ; 76 J. P. 218).

2. [Hours of employment of women and young persons in laundries] (a). Section 2.

(a) This section does not concern sanitary authorities.

Special regulations to be complied with in laundries.

3. In every laundry—

(a) If mechanical power is used, a fan or other efficient means shall be provided, maintained, and used for regulating the temperature (a) in every ironing room, and for carrying away the steam in every washhouse;

(b) All stoves for heating irons must be sufficiently separated from any ironing room or ironing table, and gas irons emitting any noxious fumes must not be used; and

(c) The floors must be kept in good condition and drained in such manner as will allow the water to flow off freely (b).

A laundry in which there is a contravention of any of these provisions shall be deemed to be a factory or workshop not kept in conformity with the principal Act (c).

(a) The provisions of this section are additional to those of ss. 6 and 7 of the principal Act, ante, p. 2623, as regards temperature and ventilation.

(b) The provisions of this section are additional to those of s. 8 of the principal Act, ante, p. 2623, as regards drainage of floors.

(c) See s. 135 of that Act, ante, p. 2641.

Application of provisions as to domestic workshops.

4. Subsection (2) of section one hundred and fourteen (a) of the principal Act (which provides that certain domestic workshops are not to be deemed workshops within the meaning of the Act) shall apply to laundries as if for the words "altering, repairing, ornamenting, or finishing of any article" there were substituted the words "the altering, repairing, ornamenting, washing, cleaning, or finishing of any article."

(a) Ante, p. 2637.

INSTITUTIONS.

Application of Factory and Workshop Acts to certain institutions.

5.—(1) Where in any premises forming part of an institution carried on for charitable or reformatory purposes, and not being premises subject to inspection by or under the authority of any Government Department, any manual labour is exercised in or incidentally to the making, altering, repairing, ornamenting, finishing, washing, cleaning, or adapting for sale, of articles not intended for the use of the institution, the provisions of the principal Act shall, subject to the provisions of this Act, apply to those premises notwithstanding that the work carried on therein is not carried on by way of trade or for the purposes of gain, or that the persons working therein are not working under a contract of service or apprenticeship.

(2) If in any institution to which this section applies the persons having the control of the institution (hereinafter referred to as the managers) satisfy the Secretary of State that the only persons working therein are persons who are inmates of and supported by the institution, or persons engaged in the supervision of the work or the management of machinery, and that such work as aforesaid is carried on in good faith for the purposes of the support, education, training, or reformation of persons engaged in it, the Secretary of State may by order direct that so long as the order is in force the principal Act shall apply to the institution subject to the following modifications:—

(a) The managers may submit for the approval of the Secretary of State a scheme for the regulation of the hours of employment, intervals for meals, and holidays of the workers, and of the education of children, and, if the Secretary of State is satisfied that the provisions of the scheme are not less favourable than the corresponding provisions of the principal Act, the Secretary of State may approve the scheme, and upon the scheme being so approved the principal Act shall, until the approval is revoked, apply as if the provisions of the scheme were substituted for the corresponding provisions of the principal Act; any scheme when so approved shall be laid as soon as possible before both Houses of Parliament, and if either House, within the next forty days after such scheme has been laid before that House, resolve that the scheme ought to be annulled, the scheme shall, after the date of the resolution, be of no effect without prejudice to the validity of anything done in the meantime thereunder, or to the making of any new scheme;

(b) The medical officer of the institution (if any) may, on the application of the managers, be appointed by the chief inspector of factories to be the certifying surgeon for the institution;

(c) The provisions of section one hundred and twenty-eight of the principal Act as to the affixing of an abstract of the principal Act and of notices shall not apply, but amongst the particulars required to be shown in the general register there shall be included the prescribed particulars of the scheme, or where no scheme is in force the prescribed particulars as to hours of employment, intervals for meals, and holidays, and education of children, and other matters dealt with in the principal Act;

(d) In the case of premises forming part of an institution carried on for reformatory purposes, if the managers of the institution so give notice to the chief inspector of factories, an inspector shall not, without the consent of the managers or of the person having charge of the institution under the managers, examine an inmate of the institution save in the presence of one of the managers or of such person as aforesaid:

Provided that the Secretary of State, on being satisfied that there is reason to believe that a contravention of the principal Act is taking place in any such institution, may suspend the operation of this provision as respects that institution to such extent as he may consider necessary;

(e) The managers shall not later than the fifteenth day of January in each year send to the Secretary of State a correct return in the prescribed form, specifying the names of the managers and the name of the person (if any) having charge of the institution under the managers, and such particulars as to the number, age, sex, and employment of the inmates and other persons employed in the work carried on in the institution as the Secretary of State may require, and shall, if any requirement of this paragraph is not complied with, be liable to a fine not exceeding five pounds.

SUPPLEMENTAL.

Inspection of certain premises.

6. Where in any premises which are subject to inspection by or under the authority of any Government department any manual labour is exercised, otherwise than for the purposes of instruction, in or incidental to the making, altering, repairing, ornamenting, finishing, washing, cleaning, or adapting for sale, of any article, and the premises do not constitute a factory or workshop by reason that the work carried on therein is not carried on by way of trade or for the purposes of gain, or by reason that the persons employed in the work are not working under a contract of service or apprenticeship, the Secretary of State may arrange with the department that the premises shall, as respects the matters dealt with by the principal Act, be inspected by an inspector appointed under that Act, and where such an arrangement is made, inspectors appointed under the principal Act shall have, as respects such matters as aforesaid, the like right of entry and inspection as is conferred on inspectors of the department concerned.

Section 6.

Short title, construction, commencement, and repeal.

7.—(1) This Act may be cited as the Factory and Workshop Act, 1907, and shall be construed as one with the Factory and Workshop Act, 1901, and the Factory and Workshop Act, 1901, and this Act may be cited together as the Factory and Workshop Acts, 1901 and 1907.

(2) This Act shall come into operation on the first day of January one thousand nine hundred and eight.

(3) Section one hundred and three of the Factory and Workshop Act, 1901, is hereby repealed (a).

PART III.

Local Taxation Licences.

Collection of duties on certain local taxation licences by county councils.

6.—(1) The power to levy the duties on local taxation licences to which this section applies shall, as from the date to be fixed by Order in Council under this section, be transferred (a) in England and Wales to county councils, and section seventeen of the Finance Act, 1907, shall, as from the date of the transfer, cease to apply to or in respect of any such duties or the proceeds thereof.

(2) His Majesty may, by Order in Council, fix the date of the transfer under this section, and make any such further provisions as it appears necessary or expedient to make in order to give full effect to the transfer, and may make provision for the furnishing by county councils of returns to the Local Government Board (c) as to the amounts levied under the power transferred by this section.

The transfer under this section shall not affect any equitable adjustment respecting the distribution of the proceeds of the local taxation licences made under the Local Government Act, 1888, or otherwise, but provision may be made by Order in Council under this section for any alteration which it appears necessary or expedient to make in consequence of the transfer in the procedure for making any payments, or otherwise giving effect to any such adjustment.

Sub-sections (3) (4) and (5) of section twenty of the Local Government Act, 1888, and any other provisions of that Act relating to the levy of the duties on local taxation licences by county councils shall, as respects the duties to which this section applies, have effect as if the power to levy those duties had been transferred under subsection (3) of section twenty of that Act.

(3) When the transfer under this section takes effect there shall be charged on and paid annually out of the Consolidated Fund or the growing produce thereof to the Local Taxation Account a sum of forty thousand pounds, and the sum so

Section 6. paid shall be distributed amongst the county councils in England and Wales in proportion to the proceeds of the duties to which this section applies collected in each county during the preceding year (d).

(4) The duties on local taxation licences to which this section applies are the duties on licences to deal in game, licences for dogs, killing game, guns, carriages (including duties charged under subsection (1) of section eight of the Locomotives on Highways Act, 1896) (e), armorial bearings, and male servants:

Provided that if the rate of any such duty is altered, that duty shall, unless Parliament makes provision to the contrary, cease to be a duty to which this section applies (f.)

(5) The expressions "county" and "county council" in this section respectively include a county borough and the council of a county borough.

(a) The transfer contemplated by this section was effectuated by an Order in Council, dated October 19th, 1908. See the Order, a Circular of the L. G. B., and a memorandum of the Inland Revenue Commissioners at 6 L. G. R., Part III., pp. 169 et seq. No officer of the local authority can take proceedings for the recovery of a fine under any Act relating to inland revenue without an order from the local authority directing him to take proceedings in the particular case, and a general direction to take proceedings in such cases is sufficient (Jones v. Wilson, [1918] 2 K. B. 36; 82 J. P. 277).

(c) Now the M. of H.

(d) This subsection was repealed by the L. G. A., 1929, Sch. XII., Pt. VI. The amount formerly payable under this subsection as amended by s. 62 of the Finance Act, 1921, is among the grants discontinued by s. 85 and Sch. II. of the 1929 Act. As to the new grants substituted for those discontinued, see Pt. VI. of the L. G. A., 1929, ante, p. 1947, and the M. of H. Circular, L. G. A., 17, in App. II., post, p. 3499.

THE POST OFFICE ACT, 1908.

(8 EDW. 7, c. 48.)

An Act to consolidate Enactments relating to the Post Office.

[21st December, 1908.]

* * * * * *

POSTMASTER-GENERAL AND OFFICERS.

Exemption of officers of Post Office from certain offices.

43 (a). Notwithstanding anything in any other Act, neither the Postmaster-General nor any officer of the Post Office (b) shall be compelled to serve as a mayor or sheriff, or in any ecclesiastical or corporate or parochial or other public office or employment, or on any jury or inquest, or in the militia.

(a) This section reproduces s. 12 of the Post Office (Management) Act, 1837, repealed by the present Act. Other statutes containing exemptions couched in varying terms are: as to Registrars of Births and Marriages, the Births and Deaths Registration Act, 1837, s. 18 ("parochial or corporate office"); as to medical practitioners, the Medical Act, 1858, s. 35 ("corporate, parochial, ward, hundred and township offices"); as to dentists, the Dentists Act, 1878, s. 30 (similarly worded); as to customs officers and servants, the Customs Consolidation Act, 1876, s. 9 ("corporate, parochial or other public office"); as to inland revenue officers and servants, the Inland Revenue Regulation Act, 1890, s. 8 (similarly worded); as to army reservists, the Reserve Forces Act, 1882, s. 7 ("parochial, township or borough office"); as to territorials, the Territorial and Reserve Forces Act, 1907, s. 23 (4) ("peace officer or parish officer"); as to factory inspectors, the Factory and Workshop Act, 1901, s. 118 (6) ("parochial or municipal office"); as to full pay and half-pay officers, and persons employed in military or naval establishments, etc., the Municipal Corporations Act, 1882, s. 253 ("any office or duty in any borough"). Most of the above exemptions extend also to jury service and inquests.

(b) By s. 89, the expression "officer of the post office" includes, unless the context otherwise requires, the Postmaster-General, and any person employed in any business of the Post Office, whether employed by the Postmaster-General, or by any person under him or on behalf of the Post Office.

Note to Section 43.

EXTENSION OF POSTAL FACILITIES AND ACCOMMODATION.

Indemnity on account of extending post office accommodation

48. The Postmaster-General may contract with, or take security from, any person applying to him to establish any post or telegraph office or to extend the accommodations of the postal or telegraphic service to any place, for indemnifying the Postmaster-General against any loss he may sustain thereby, and the indemnity may be either for the whole or any part of the loss sustained, and for such time as the Postmaster-General may think necessary.

Power for local authority to contribute towards new post office, or undertake to pay loss on extra postal facilities.

49.—(1) (a) Where the council of any borough or any urban district consider that it would be beneficial to the inhabitants of the borough or district that any new post office (b) should be on a more expensive site, or of a larger size or of a more ornate building, or otherwise of a more expensive character than the Postmaster-General would otherwise provide, the council may contribute towards the new post office, either by a grant of money, or, with the consent of the [Minister of Health], by the appropriation of land belonging to the council, or by the purchase of land for the purpose.

(3) (e) Where the council of any rural district, or the parish council of a parish, or in the case of a parish not having a parish council the parish meeting, consider that it would be for the benefit, in the case of a rural district council, of any contributory place or places (f) within their district, and in the case of a parish council or parish meeting of their parish, that any post or telegraph office (b) should be established or any additional postal or other facilities (d) provided by the Postmaster-General whether within or without the area to be benefited, that council or meeting may undertake to pay to the Postmaster-General any loss he may sustain by reason of the establishment or maintenance of the office, or the provision of the facilities:

Provided that a rural district council shall not exercise their powers under this provision as respects any office established or facilities provided outside the contributory place proposed to be charged unless the parish council, or if there is no parish council the parish meeting, of any parish wholly or partly situated in the contributory place consent to the exercise of the powers.

(4) (g) Any expenses incurred by the council of a borough under this section may be paid out of the borough fund or borough rate, and any expenses incurred by the council of an urban district (not a borough) may be paid out of the rate (h) out of which the general expenses of the council under the Public Health Act, 1875, are defrayed.

(5) (g) Any expenses incurred by the rural district council in pursuance of an undertaking under this section may be defrayed as special expenses legally incurred in respect of the contributory place or places, and shall be apportioned between those places if more than one, and sections two hundred and twenty-nine, two hundred and thirty, and two hundred and thirty-one of the Public Health Act, 1875, shall apply accordingly (i).

Section 49.

(6) (g) Any expenses incurred by a parish council or meeting in pursuance of an undertaking under this section shall be defrayed as expenses of that council or meeting, as the case may be, within the provisions of the Local Government Act, 1894 (k).

(7) (a) The council of a borough may borrow for the purposes of sub-section (1) of this section under section one hundred and six of the Municipal Corporations Act, 1882, and any enactment amending the same, and the council of an urban district (not a borough) may borrow for the purposes of the same sub-section in like manner as if these purposes were purposes of the Public Health Act, 1875, and the provisions of that Act with respect to borrowing shall apply accordingly (e).

(8), (9), (10), (11) [Scotland, Ireland, Channel Islands, Isle of Man.]

(a) Sub-sections (1) and (7) reproduce in practically identical words s. 7 of the Post Office Act, 1891, repealed by the present Act.

(b) By s. 89, unless the context otherwise requires, the expression " post office " includes any house, building, room, carriage, or place used for the purpose of the Post Office and any post office letter box, and the expression " post office letter box " includes any pillar box, wall box, or other box or receptacle provided by the permission or under the authority of the Postmaster-General for the purpose of receiving postal packets, or any of them, for transmission by or under the authority of the Postmaster-General.

(c) This sub-section reproduces in practically identical words s. 1 of the Post Office Guarantee (No. 2) Act, 1898, repealed by the present Act.

(d) Including telephone facilities.

(f) As to a " contributory place," see the P. H. A., 1875, s. 229, ante, p. 514.

(g) The incidence of the expenses was the same under the various repealed Acts referred to in the preceding notes.

(h) I.e., the general rate ; see the P. H. A., 1875, s. 207, ante, p. 495, as amended by the R. and V. Act, 1925, ante, p. 1633.

(i) S. 229 is set out at p. 514, ante. Sections 230 and 231 were repealed by the R. and V. Act, 1925, q.v. at p. 1633, ante. As to such apportionments, see now s. 56 of the L. G. A., 1929, ante, p. 1919.

PUBLIC MEETING ACT, 1908.

(8 EDW. 7, C. 66.)

An Act to prevent Disturbance of Public Meetings. [21st December, 1908.]

Penalty on endeavour to break up public meeting.

1.—(1) Any person who at a lawful public meeting (a) acts in a disorderly manner for the purpose of preventing the transaction of the business for which the meeting was called together shall be guilty of an offence, and, if the offence is committed at a political meeting held in any parliamentary constituency between the date of the issue of the writ for the return of a member of Parliament for such constituency and the date at which a return to such writ is made, he shall be guilty of an illegal practice within the meaning of the Corrupt and Illegal Practices Prevention Act, 1883, and in any other case shall, on summary conviction, be liable to a fine not exceeding five pounds, or to imprisonment not exceeding one month.

46 & 47 Vict. c. 51.

(2) Any person who incites others to commit an offence under this section shall be guilty of a like offence.

(a) Reference may be made to a definition of "public meeting" in s. 4 of the Law of Libel Amendment Act, 1888. Whether a meeting of a council to which the public are admitted can be said to be a public meeting within the meaning of this Act is at any rate doubtful; but presumably a parish meeting falls within it. A meeting is not "unlawful" merely because it is held upon a highway (Burden v. Rigler, [1911] 1 K. B. 337); see as to such meetings the cases there cited in argument, and M'Ara v. Edinburgh Magistrates, 1913] S. C. 1059.

Note to Section 1.

2. This Act may be cited as the Public Meeting Act, 1908.

Short title.

THE ELECTRIC LIGHTING ACT, 1909.

(9 EDW. 7, c. 34) (a).

An Act to amend the Acts relating to Electric Lighting. [25th November, 1909.]

Compulsory acquisition of land for generating stations.

1.—(1) The [Minister of Transport] may by Provisional Order authorise any local authority, company, or person, who is authorised by the same or any previous Provisional Order or by Act of Parliament to supply electricity in any area, to acquire compulsorily (b), or to use, for the purpose of a generating station any land specified in the Order, whether situated within or without the area of supply, and, in the case of a local authority, whether situated within or without their district.

(2) For the purpose of the acquisition of land authorised to be taken compulsorily under any such Provisional Order, the provisions of the Lands Clauses Acts which relate to the purchase and taking of lands otherwise than by agreement, and to the entry upon lands by the promoters of the undertaking, are, subject to the modifications set out in the First Schedule (c) to this Act, incorporated with the Electric Lighting Acts, as well as the provisions of those Acts already incorporated by the Electric Lighting Act, 1882.

(3) Rules (d) made by the [Minister of Transport] under section five of the Electric Lighting Act, 1882, shall provide for proper notice being given of an application for a Provisional Order, by which it is proposed to authorise the compulsory acquisition or use of land for the purpose of a generating station, to owners, lessees, and occupiers of land, and also for public notice being given of the proposal by advertisement.

(a) This Act amends the Electric Lighting Acts, 1882 and 1888, ante, pp. 2437, 2495. See also the Electricity (Supply) Acts, 1919, 1922, 1926 and 1928, post. The powers and duties of the Board of Trade under these Acts have been transferred to the Minister of Transport by s. 39 of the Electricity Supply Act, 1919, and the Ministry of Transport (Electricity Supply) Order, 1920, as from January 23rd, 1920.

(b) Under the previous Acts there was no power to acquire land compulsorily; for definition of "generating station," see s. 25, post, p. 2703. See s. 24, post, p. 2702, as to land belonging to gas or water undertakers. The purposes for which a joint electricity authority may be authorised to acquire compulsorily or to use land under this section, now include the development of water power for the generation of electricity. See the Electricity (Supply) Act, 1919 (9 & 10 Geo. 5, c. 100), s. 15 (3), post, p. 2790.

(c) See this Schedule, post, p. 2703.

(d) See the rules in App. II., post, p. 3251.

Construction of generating station on land acquired by agreement.

2. It shall not be lawful for any undertakers after the passing of this Act, except with the consent of the [Minister of Transport], to construct any generating station on any land acquired by them after the thirty-first day of March one thousand nine hundred and nine unless the construction is authorised and the land is specified in a special Act or Provisional Order, and the [Minister of Transport] shall not in any case give such consent until notice has been given, by advertisement or otherwise, as the [Minister of Transport] may direct, to Section 2. the local authority of the district in which the land is situate, and to owners and lessees of land situate within three hundred yards of the land upon which the generating station is to be constructed, and an opportunity has been given to such local authority, owners, and lessees, of stating any objections they may have thereto (a).

This section shall not apply to any station for transforming, converting or distributing electrical energy (b).

(a) Formerly, though undertakers had no powers of compulsory purchase, they were under no such restriction so long as they could purchase by agreement. But see now the restrictions on the establishment of new generating stations imposed by the Act of 1919, s. 11, post, p. 2786.

Breaking up streets, &c., outside area of supply.

3. For the purpose of enabling electricity to be brought into an area of supply from a generating station belonging to any undertakers situated outside that area, the [Minister of Transport] may by Provisional Order apply to any roads, railways, or tramways situated outside that area the provisions of the Electric Lighting Acts which authorise, or enable the [Minister of Transport] to authorise, the breaking up of any road, railway, or tramway, so far as those provisions do not already so apply (a):

Provided that a Provisional Order authorising the breaking up of roads outside the area of supply shall not be granted by the [Minister of Transport] except with the consent of the local authority in whose district the road is situate, unless the [Minister of Transport] in any case in which the consent of any such local authority is refused, [is] of opinion that, having regard to all the circumstances of the case, such consent ought to be dispensed with, and in that case [he] shall make a special report to Parliament stating the grounds on which [he has] dispensed with the consent.

(a) See ss. 12 et seq. of the Electric Lighting Act, 1882, ante, p. 2446; for definition of "road," see s. 25, post, p. 2703.

Supply in bulk.

4.—(1) The [Minister of Transport] unless [he is] of opinion that, by reason of the character or magnitude of the proposed undertaking, the matter ought to be dealt with by private Bill, may by Provisional Order—

(a) authorise any local authority or company to supply electricity in bulk (a);

(b) provide for any supply so authorised being compulsory; and

(c) make such other provisions as appear to [him] necessary for adapting the Electric Lighting Acts to any case where a local authority or company are authorised to supply electricity in bulk, including the application to roads, railways, and tramways along the route along which lines are authorised to be laid for the purpose of giving the supply in bulk of the provisions of those Acts which authorise or enable the [Minister of Transport] to authorise the breaking up of any road, railway, or tramway:

Provided that a Provisional Order authorising the breaking up of roads outside the area of supply of the local authority or company by whom the supply is to be given shall not be granted by the [Minister of Transport] except with the consent of the local authority in whose district the road is situate, unless the [Minister of Transport], in any case in which the consent of any such local authority is refused, [is] of opinion that, having regard to all the circumstances of the case, such consent ought to be dispensed with, and in that case [he] shall make a special report to Parliament stating the ground on which [he has] dispensed with the consent.

(2) If the [Minister of Transport] refuse to grant a Provisional Order under this section, on the ground that the matter ought to be dealt with by a private Bill, the notices published and served for the purposes of the proposed Order shall, subject to Standing Orders, be held to have been published and served for a private Bill applying for similar powers:

Provided that the applicants for the Order shall, by notice served in the prescribed manner and within the prescribed time, inform all opponents of their intention to proceed by way of private Bill, and, subject to Standing Orders, the application for a Provisional Order shall be deemed and taken to be a petition for leave to bring in a private Bill, and the applicants shall also give such additional notice (if any) as may be required by Standing Orders.

(3) The [Minister of Transport] may, if [he] think[s] fit, by order permit any undertakers to supply electricity in bulk to any other undertakers upon such terms and subject to such conditions as may be specified in the order, if the supply can be given without breaking up any streets except such as the undertakers giving or the undertakers receiving the supply are authorised to break up; but the [Minister of Transport] shall not in any case make such an order until notice of the intention to make the order has been given by advertisement or otherwise as the [Minister of Transport] may direct, and an opportunity has been given to any person who appears to the [Minister] to be affected of stating any objections he may have thereto.

(a) See s. 25, post, p. 2703, for definition of "supply in bulk"; and see s. 20, post, p. 2701, as to the construction of provisions prohibiting association where undertakers desire to take a supply in bulk from other undertakers.

Supply of electricity to railways, tramways, and canals partly outside area of supply.

5.—(1) Any local authority, company, or person authorised to supply electricity in any area may, with the consent of the [Minister of Transport], supply at any point within that area electricity for the purposes of haulage or traction on any railway, tramway, or canal situate partly within and partly without that area, and for the purposes of lighting vehicles and vessels used on any such railway, tramway, or canal; but the [Minister of Transport] shall not in any case give any such consent until notice of the application for the consent has been given by advertisement or otherwise in such manner as the [Minister of Transport] may direct, and an opportunity has been given to any person who appears to the [Minister] to be affected of stating any objections he may have thereto.

(2) The [Minister of Transport] may by Provisional Order authorise any such local authority, company, or person so to supply electricity to be used for purposes incidental to the working or lighting of the railway, tramway, or canal, other than the purposes aforesaid (a).

(3) A company, local authority, or body receiving a supply of electricity under this section shall not use the electricity in such manner as to cause or to be likely to cause any interference with Government observatories or laboratories, or observatories or laboratories now or hereafter erected, owned, or managed in pursuance of any present or future statutory enactment, but this subsection shall not apply to any such company, local authority, or body who, by any Act of Parliament, or Order confirmed by or having the effect of an Act of Parliament, containing provisions for the protection of such observatories, or laboratories, are authorised to use electricity for the purposes for which a supply is authorised to be given under this section.

(a) See now s. 47, Electricity (Supply) Act, 1926, post, p. 2935, which enables undertakers to supply and railway companies to use electricity for purposes other than haulage or traction with the consent of the Minister and without the necessity for a special order.

Supply to premises outside area of 6.—(1) Where it is proved to the satisfaction of the [Minister of Transport] that the occupier of any premises is desirous of obtaining a supply of electricity supply in certain cases.

from any undertakers within whose area of supply those premises are not situate, the [Minister of Transport] may if the local authority within whose district the premises are situate, and the undertakers (if any) authorised to supply electricity to such premises, consent, by order permit the first-mentioned undertakers to give a supply to those premises on such terms and subject to such conditions as the [Minister] think[s] fit (a) :

Provided that, if in the opinion of the [Minister of Transport] any consent required by this subsection is unreasonably withheld, the [Minister of Transport] may proceed as if such consent had been given.

(2) An order given by the [Minister of Transport] under this section may, for the purpose of enabling a supply to be given thereunder, confer any such powers and impose any such duties on the undertakers as would have been conferred or imposed by the Electric Lighting Acts and as might have been conferred or imposed by Provisional Order if the premises and the route along which lines are to be laid for the purpose of giving the supply were within the area of supply of the undertakers, anything in the special Act or Order relating to the undertaking to the contrary notwithstanding.

(3) If the undertakers on whom powers are conferred by an order under this section are not a local authority, the works and lines erected and laid under the powers so conferred shall, so long as the order remains in force, be deemed, for the purposes of the provisions as to purchase applicable to the undertaking to form part of the undertaking within the district of the local authority which comprises the area of supply of the undertakers, or, if that area is comprised within the districts of more than one local authority, within such of those districts as the [Minister of Transport] may determine.

(4) Nothing in this section shall enable the [Minister of Transport], without the consent of the undertakers within whose area of supply the premises are situate, to give such permission as aforesaid to any undertakers where the last-mentioned undertakers are by any Act of Parliament specifically prohibited from supplying electricity within the area of the first-mentioned undertakers.

(a) Where the undertakers obtained an order under this section to supply electricity to consumers outside the area of supply and obtained the supply therefor from an outside source, it was held to be a breach of an agreement between the undertakers and another statutory company under which a joint generating station had been provided (Kensington Electric Light Co. v. Notting Hill Electric Light Co. (1918), 82 J. P. 197).

Provisions as to right of local authority to purchase.

7.—(1) Where the generating station, mains, or other works of a company used solely for supplying electricity within the district of a local authority are situated outside the district of that local authority, the generating station, mains, and other works so used shall for the purposes of the provisions of the Electric Lighting Acts, and any Provisional Order conferring on local authorities power to purchase undertakings (a), be deemed to be situated within the district of that local authority, and, where any generating station, mains, and other works are used solely for supplying electricity within the districts of two or more local authorities, but are not situated within any of those districts, the [Minister of Transport] may, on the application of all or any of those authorities, by Provisional Order apply this provision subject to such adaptations as the circumstances of the case may require :

Provided that this subsection shall not, except by agreement between the local authority and the company concerned, apply to any generating station, mains, or other works authorised by a special Act passed before the passing of this Act.

(2) Any local authority having power under the Electric Lighting Acts or any Provisional Order to purchase so much of the undertaking of a company as is within the district of that local authority may, with the consent of and upon such terms and conditions as may be approved by the [Minister of Transport], and, in the case of an undertaking authorised before the commencement of this Act, with the consent of the company, transfer their rights of purchase to any other local authority having power to purchase so much of the same undertaking as is within the district of that last-mentioned local authority, and the deed of transfer may contain such consequential provisions as may be necessary for giving effect to the transfer.

(a) As to an authority's power to purchase, see s. 2 of the Electric Lighting Act, 1888, ante, p. 2495. This power may be transferred to a joint electricity authority under s. 13 (2), Electricity Supply Act, 1919, post, p. 2788.

Exercise of electric lighting powers by authorities jointly.

8. The [Minister of Transport] may, with the concurrence of the [Minister of Health], by Provisional Order make such provisions as appear to them necessary or expedient, by the constitution of a joint committee or joint board or otherwise, for the joint exercise of all or any of the powers under the Electric Lighting Acts, or this Act, or any Provisional Order, by two or more local authorities as respects any area of supply consisting of the whole or parts of the districts of those authorities, in any case where it appears to them that the joint exercise of those powers would be expedient, and any such Provisional Order may contain such provisions as may appear necessary or proper for adapting any of the provisions of the Electric Lighting Acts, or this Act, or any such Provisional Order to the case of any committee or board so constituted (a).

(a) See also s. 39, Electricity (Supply) Act, 1926, post, p. 2931, and the definition of "local authority" in s. 51, ibid., post, p. 2937.

July notices.

9. The [Minister of Transport] may grant a Provisional Order notwithstanding that the notice required by section four (a) of the Electric Lighting Act, 1882, to be given to a local authority on or before the first day of July has not been given in the case of any local authority which waives its right to receive such a notice, and no such notice need be given to the local authority of a district in which it is not intended to take power to distribute electricity.

(a) See this section, ante, p. 2440.

10. (a).

(a) This section, which related to the revision of maximum price, was repealed by s. 22 (6) of the Electricity (Supply) Act, 1922. See now s. 22 of that Act, post, p. 2845, as to methods of charging and revision of prices.

Certification of meters.

11.—(1) The sections set out in the Second Schedule (a) to this Act shall be substituted for sections forty-nine, fifty, fifty-one, and fifty-three of the Schedule to the Electric Lighting (Clauses) Act, 1899, as incorporated with any Act or Order passed or confirmed after the commencement of this Act.

(2) The provisions contained in the sections so set out shall, subject to such adaptations (if any) as may be necessary, be substituted for any corresponding provisions as to the use, examination, and certification of meters, and their connection and disconnection with electric lines, contained in or incorporated with any special Act or Provisional Order relating to the supply of electricity passed or confirmed before the commencement of this Act.

Accounts of local authorities.

12. For the purposes of section nine (a) of the Electric Lighting Act, 1882, the accounts of any undertakers being a local authority shall be made up to the thirty-first day of March in each year, and accordingly as respects

Section 12.

those accounts the thirtieth day of June shall be substituted in that section for the twenty-fifth day of March, and the thirty-first day of March for the thirty-first day of December: Provided that, if any such undertakers show to the [Minister of Transport] that some other dates are, owing to special circumstances, more convenient in their case than the thirty-first day of March and the thirtieth day of June, the [Minister of Transport] may substitute such other dates for the said thirty-first day of March and thirtieth day of June, and this section shall as respects those undertakers be construed with the substituted dates.

Return by [Minister of Transport] as to auditors' reports.

13. The [Minister of Transport] shall from time to time make a return to Parliament giving such particulars as [he] may think proper with regard to the reports (a) made by any auditors appointed by [him] to audit the accounts of any undertakers, and any action taken in such reports by the [Minister] and by the undertakers.

(a) See s. 30 of the Electric Lighting Act, 1882, ante, p. 2453, as to the annual report to be made by the Minister.

Restriction on transfer of powers, &c., of undertakers.

14.—(1) A local authority, company, or person who have obtained a licence, order, or special Act for the supply of electricity shall not, by transfer or otherwise, divest themselves of any of the powers, rights, or obligations conferred or imposed upon them by the Electric Lighting Acts, or by any licence, order, or special Act, otherwise than under and in accordance with a provision contained in a licence, order, or special Act authorising such a divestiture.

(2) Section eleven (a) of the Electric Lighting Act, 1882, shall be repealed from "but no local authority" to the end of the section.

(a) See s. 11 of the Electric Lighting Act, 1882, and note thereto, ante, p. 2445. But see now the powers for selling and leasing conferred by the Electricity (Supply) Acts, 1919 and 1922, post, pp. 2782, 2835.

15. [Supply of electricity to premises having separate supply] (a).

(a) Repealed by s. 23 (2), Electricity Supply Act, 1922, and in lieu thereof, see s. 23 (1) of that Act, post, p. 2846.

Electric lines, &c., let on hire, though fixed to premises, to remain the property of undertakers.

16. All electric lines, fittings, apparatus, and appliances let by any undertakers on hire or belonging to any undertakers, but being in or upon premises of which the undertakers are not in possession, shall, whether they be or be not fixed or fastened to any part of any premises in or upon which they may be situate, or to the soil under any such premises, at all times continue to be the property of, and be removable by the undertakers, and sections twenty-four and twenty-five of the Electric Lighting Act, 1882, shall extend and apply to all such electric lines, fittings, apparatus, and appliances: Provided that such electric lines, fittings, apparatus, or appliances have upon them respectively a distinguishing metal plate affixed to a conspicuous part thereof, or a distinguishing brand or other mark conspicuously impressed or made thereon, sufficiently indicating the undertakers as the actual owners thereof.

For the purposes of this section, electric lines, fittings, apparatus, and appliances disposed of by the undertakers on terms of payment by instalments shall, until the whole of the instalments have been paid, be deemed to be electric lines, fittings, apparatus, and appliances let on hire by the undertakers.

Nothing in this section shall affect the amount of the assessment for rating of any premises upon which any electric lines, fittings, apparatus, or appliances are or shall be fixed.

17.—(1) Twenty-four hours' notice in writing shall be given to the undertakers by every consumer before he quits any premises supplied with electrical energy by the undertakers, and, in default of such notice, the consumer so quitting shall be liable to pay to the undertakers the money accruing due in respect of such supply up to the next usual period for ascertaining the register of the meter on such premises, or the date from which any subsequent occupier of such premises may require the undertakers to supply electrical energy to such premises, whichever shall first occur.

Section 17.

Notice to be given to undertakers before removing.

(2) Notice to the effect of this section shall be endorsed upon any demand note for charges for electrical energy.

18. The undertakers may refuse (a) to supply electrical energy to any person whose payments for the supply of electrical energy are for the time being in arrear (not being the subject of a bonâ fide dispute), whether any such payments be due to the undertakers in respect of a supply to the premises in respect of which such supply is demanded or in respect of other premises.

Power to refuse to supply electrical energy in certain cases.

(a) As to the general obligation to supply, see s. 19 of the Electric Lighting Act, 1882, and notes thereto, ante, p. 2449.

19. Electrical energy shall be deemed to be goods, wares, or merchandise for the purposes of section fifty-nine of the Stamp Act, 1891 (a) (which makes certain contracts chargeable with stamp duty as conveyances on sale), and also for the purposes of the exemption numbered 3 under the heading "Agreement or any memorandum of an agreement" contained in the First Schedule to that Act.

Exemption of agreements for the supply of electricity from stamp duty.

(a) As to the stamping of agreements for the supply of electricity, see also County of Durham Electrical Power Co., Ltd. v. Inland Revenue Commissioners, [1909] 2 K. B. 604; British Electric Traction Co., Ltd. v. Inland Revenue Commissioners, [1902] 1 K. B. 441.

20. For removing doubts, it is hereby declared that so much of any Provisional Order or special Act, or of the Schedule to the Electric Lighting (Clauses) Act, 1899 (a), as incorporated with any such Order or Act, as prohibit undertakers from associating themselves with any company or person supplying energy under any licence, Provisional Order, or special Act unless the undertakers are authorised by Parliament to do so, shall not be construed as prohibiting the undertakers from taking a supply of electricity in bulk (b) from any company or person authorised to give such a supply.

Construction of provisions prohibiting association.

(a) See s. 3 (1), p. 2571, ante.
(b) As to the meaning of a "supply in bulk," see s. 25, post, p. 2703.

21. Money borrowed (a) under the Electric Lighting Acts shall not be reckoned as part of the total debt of a local authority for the purpose of any limitation on borrowing under the enactments relating to borrowing by the local authority.

Provision as to borrowing by local authorities.

(a) As to borrowing powers, see s. 8 of the Electric Lighting Act, 1882, ante, p. 2443. Local authorities may borrow for the purpose of lending money to, subscribing for securities issued by or guaranteeing interest on money borrowed by joint electricity authorities under s. 5 of Electricity Supply Act, 1922, post, p. 2837.

22.—(1) With a view to the protection of the royal palaces, parks, and gardens, museums, and other public buildings, and their contents (in this section referred to as "the protected premises"), the Commissioners of Works and their engineer, or other officer duly authorised in writing under the hand of their secretary, may from time to time enter upon and inspect any generating station of any undertakers, and, if on such inspection it should appear to the Commissioners that proper precautions are not being adopted for the due consumption of smoke, and for preventing as far as reasonably practicable the evolution of oxides of sulphur, and generally for the prevention of nuisance in relation to the protected premises, they may, without prejudice to any other remedy, require the undertakers forthwith to carry out such works and to do such things as are necessary in the circumstances.

(2) The undertakers shall give all reasonable facilities for such inspection to the Commissioners and their engineer or other officer as aforesaid.

(3) Any dispute arising between the Commissioners and the undertakers in relation to any of the provisions of this section shall be determined by arbitration.

This section shall not apply to the station of the Westminster Electric Supply Corporation, Limited, at Horseferry Road, in the city of Westminster.

Prohibiting unauthorised undertakers from competing with statutory undertakers.

23. (a) Where in any area a local authority, company, or person is authorised to supply electricity under Act of Parliament or under licence or Provisional Order granted under the Electric Lighting Acts, it shall not, after the passing of this Act, be lawful for any other local authority, company, or person to commence to supply (b) or distribute electricity within the same area unless such supply or distribution is authorised by Act of Parliament, or by licence or Provisional Order granted in terms of the Electric Lighting Acts: Provided that this section shall not prevent any company or person from affording a supply of electrical energy to any other company or person where the business of the company or person affording the supply is not primarily that of the supply of electrical energy to consumers (c):

Provided also that this section shall not prevent any company who at the passing of this Act are empowered by their memorandum of association to generate electrical energy from affording a supply to a railway company for purposes incidental to that company's undertaking other than the conveyance of public traffic.

(b) The word "supply" was held to include a case where the supplier and consumer were the same body and the electrical energy was required for the supplier's own purposes (Southport Corporation v. Attorney-General, [1924] A. C. 909; 88 J. P. 181).

Where a supply was given to a firm part only of whose works were in the area of the undertaker's supplying and the energy so supplied was used throughout the works the greater part of which were within the relators' area of supply, it was held that the supply was given at the consumer's terminals, and as these were within the area of supply of the undertaker's who gave the supply there was no breach of the prohibition in this section (A.-G. v. County of London Electric Supply Co., Ltd., [1926] Ch. 542; 95 L. J. Ch. 357).

(c) Where a draper and property owner generated electricity and supplied the energy to light his own business and adjoining premises owned by him he was held to be protected by this proviso (Caerphilly U. D. C. v. Griffin, "Times," 8th December, 1927).

For the protection of gas undertakers.

24. Nothing in this Act shall enable the [Minister of Transport] by Provisional Order to authorise the compulsory acquisition of any land which, at the date of the first publication of the notice for the Order, belongs to any gas or water undertakers and is used or authorised to be used by them for the purposes of their undertaking.

Definitions.

25. In this Act, unless the context otherwise requires,—

The expression "Provisional Order" means a Provisional Order under the Electric Lighting Acts:

The expression "Electric Lighting Acts" means—

(a) As respects England and Ireland, the Electric Lighting Acts 1882 and 1888; and ,

(b) As respects Scotland, the Electric Lighting Acts, 1882 and 1888, the Electric Lighting (Scotland) Act, 1890, and the Electric Lighting (Scotland) Act, 1902:

The expression "authorised" means authorised by Act of Parliament or Provisional Order (a):

The expression "area of supply" means any area within which any local authority, company, or person is authorised to supply electricity:

The expression "undertakers" means any local authority, company, or person, authorised to supply electricity to whom the Electric Lighting Acts apply:

The expression "road" includes any street (b) as defined by the Electric Lighting Act, 1882:

The expression "generating station" includes any station for generating, transforming, converting, or distributing electricity:

The expression "to supply electricity in bulk" means to supply electricity—

(a) to any local authority, company, or person authorised to distribute electricity to be used for the purposes of distribution; or

(b) to any local authority authorised by any general or special Act to undertake or contract for the lighting of streets, bridges, or public places, to be used for the purposes of lighting streets, bridges, and public places.

(a) Licences to supply electricity under the Act of 1882 are practically obsolete.
(b) See definition of "street" in s. 32, ante, p. 2454.

26. [Application to Scotland and Ireland.]

Short title, construction, and commencement.

27.—(1) This Act may be cited as the Electric Lighting Act, 1909.

(2) This Act and the Electric Lighting Acts (a) shall be construed together as one Act, and may be cited as the Electric Lighting Acts, 1882 to 1909.

(3) This Act shall come into operation on the first day of April nineteen hundred and ten.

(a) I.e., the Acts of 1882 and 1888, ante, pp. 2437, 2495 (see s. 25, supra).

SCHEDULES.

FIRST SCHEDULE.

(Section I.)

MODIFICATIONS OF THE LANDS CLAUSES ACTS.

The following modifications shall have effect in the construction of the provisions of the Lands Clauses Acts incorporated by this Act for the purposes of the Electric Lighting Acts:—

(a) The expression "special Act" means the Electric Lighting Acts, inclusive of any Provisional Order authorising the compulsory acquisition of land, except that the period of three years mentioned in section one hundred and twenty-three of the Lands Clauses Consolidation Act, 1845 (8 & 9 Vict. c. 18), shall be calculated from the passing of the Act confirming the Provisional Order; and

(b) The expressions "the promoters" and "the undertaking" mean respectively the undertakers and the undertaking under the Electric Lighting Acts, and the expression "company" in the Railways Act (Ireland), 1851, the Railways Act (Ireland), 1860, and the Railways Act (Ireland), 1864, means the undertakers under the Electric Lighting Acts; and

(c) The expression "land" includes easements in or relating to land.

SECOND SCHEDULE.

(Section XI.)

SECTIONS TO BE SUBSTITUTED FOR SECTIONS 49, 50, 51, AND 53 OF THE SCHEDULE TO THE ELECTRIC LIGHTING (CLAUSES) ACT, 1899.

Meters to be used except by agreement.

"49. The amount of energy supplied by the undertakers to any ordinary consumer under the special Order, or the electrical quantity contained in the supply (according to the method by which the undertakers elect to charge), hereinafter referred to as 'the value of the supply,' shall, except as otherwise agreed between the consumer and the undertakers, be ascertained by means of an appropriate meter duly certified under the provisions of the special Order, and fixed and connected with the service lines in some manner approved by the [Minister of Transport].

Meter to be certified.

"50. A meter shall be considered to be duly certified under the provisions of the special Order if it be certified by an electric inspector appointed under the special Order to be a meter capable of ascertaining the value of the supply within such limits of error as may, as respects meters of the class to which the meter belongs, be allowed by the [Minister of Transport], and to be of some construction and pattern approved by the [Minister of Transport], and every such meter is hereinafter referred to as a 'certified meter': Provided that, where any alteration is made in any certified meter, that meter shall cease to be a certified meter unless and until it is again certified as a certified meter under the provisions of the special Order.

Inspector to certify meter.

"51. An electric inspector, on being required to do so by the undertakers or by any consumer, and on payment of the prescribed fee by the party so requiring him, shall examine any meter used or intended to be used for ascertaining the value of the supply, and shall certify it as a certified meter if he considers it entitled to be so certified, and the inspector shall, on the like requisition and payment, examine the manner in which any such meter has been fixed and connected with the service lines, and shall certify that it has been fixed and connected with the service lines in some manner approved by the [Minister of Transport], if he considers that it is entitled to be so certified.

Meters not to be connected or disconnected without notice.

"53. The undertakers shall not, nor shall any consumer, connect any meter used or to be used under the special Order for ascertaining the value of the supply with any electric line through which energy is supplied by the undertakers, or disconnect any such meter from any such electric line, unless the one has given to the other not less than forty-eight hours' notice in writing of the intention to do so, and the undertakers or any consumer acting in contravention of this section shall be liable for each offence to a penalty not exceeding forty shillings."

THE FINANCE (1909–10) ACT, 1910.

(10 EDW. 7, c. 8.)

PART I.

DUTIES ON LAND VALUES.

* * * * * *

SUPPLEMENTAL.

Exemption for land held by rating authorities.

35.—(1) No duty under this Part of this Act (a) shall be charged in respect of any land or interest in land held by or on behalf of a rating authority or any statutory combination representative of two or more local or rating authorities, . . . (b).

(2) For the purposes of this section the expression "rating authority" means any body who have power to raise a rate or administer money raised by a rate; and the expression "rate" means a rate the proceeds of which are applicable to public local purposes, and which is leviable on the basis of an assessment in respect of the yearly value of property, and includes any sum which, though obtained in the first instance by a precept, certificate, or other instrument, requiring payment from some authority or officer, is or can be ultimately raised out of a rate as before defined.

(a) The duties under Part I. were the "Duties on Land Values," viz. Increment Value Duty (ss. 1—12), Reversion Duty (ss. 13—15), Undeveloped Land Duty (ss. 16—19), and Mineral Rights Duty (ss. 20—24). All these duties, except the Mineral Rights Duty, ceased to be chargeable from 4th August, 1920 (Finance Act, 1920, s. 57).

(b) The remainder of this sub-section was repealed by s. 64 (3) and Sched. IV., Finance Act, 1920.

* * * * * *

PART VI.

CUSTOMS AND EXCISE OTHER THAN LIQUOR LICENCE DUTIES.

* * * * * *

85. (a) [Exemptions and allowances in respect of the duty on motor spirit.]

(a) Repealed as from 1st July, 1921, by s. 64 (3) and Sched. IV., Finance Act, 1920. The customs duty on motor spirit was repealed by s. 12 of Finance Act, 1920.

86. (a) [Duty on licences for motor cars.]

(a) Repealed as from 1st January, 1921, by s. 64 (3) and Schedule IV., Finance Act, 1920. The excise duty on licences for mechanically propelled vehicles was repealed by s. 12 of Finance Act, 1920, and fresh duties were imposed by s. 13 of the same Act. See, however, the Roads Act, 1920 (ante, p. 1292).

PART VII.

PROVISIONS AS TO PAYMENTS TO LOCAL AUTHORITIES AND TO ROAD IMPROVEMENT ACCOUNT.

Payments in respect of monopoly value to go to Exchequer.

87.—(1) All payments made in pursuance of conditions attached by licensing justices to the grant of new licences under section four of the Licensing Act, 1904 (a), shall, notwithstanding anything in that or any other Act, be paid into the Exchequer.

(a) See also s. 14 (3) of the Licensing (Consolidation) Act, 1910.

Payments into local taxation account in respect of liquor licences and provisions as to duties on motor car licences.

88.—(1) For the purpose of subsection (3) of section seventeen of the Finance Act, 1907 (which makes provision with respect to the method of calculating proceeds of duties in the event of any alteration of the rate of duties), the proceeds of the duties on the licences for the sale of intoxicating liquor and on licences for motor cars imposed by this Act shall, so far as respects the sums to be paid into any local taxation account out of the Consolidated Fund in respect thereof, be deemed notwithstanding anything in that subsection to be the amount of the proceeds of the duties on those licences during the year ending the thirty-first day of March nineteen hundred and nine (a).

(2) Notwithstanding the proviso to subsection (4) of section six of the Finance Act, 1908 (b), the duties on licences for motor cars in England and Wales shall continue to be duties to which that section applies, but any sum by which the proceeds of those duties levied in any financial year by the council of any county or county borough exceed the amount of the proceeds of those duties certified by the Local Government Board to have been collected in that county or county borough during the year ending the thirty-first day of March nineteen hundred and nine shall be paid into the Exchequer, and a council shall be entitled to be paid any sum by which the proceeds of those duties levied by them in any year are less than that amount, and the sums so to be paid shall be charged on and paid out of the Consolidated Fund or the growing produce thereof.

(3) Any reference in this section to duties on licences for motor cars or to the proceeds of those duties shall be construed to be a reference only to the duties on the licences which are affected by this Act (c).

(a) The words "and on licences for motor cars" were repealed by the Revenue Act, 1911, post. As to such duties, see next sub-section. The remainder of the sub-section and s. 17 of the Finance Act, 1907, referred to therein were repealed by the L. G. A., 1929, Sch. XII., Pt. VI., consequent upon the winding up of the local taxation accounts, and the discontinuance of the grants out of the Consolidated Fund by s. 85 and Sch. II., ibid., ante, p. 1948.

(b) See this sub-section, ante, p. 2692. By virtue of s. 18 (1) of the Revenue Act, 1911, post, p. 2707, the present sub-section now applies to the duties on all carriage licences (including motor cars), and stereotypes the portion thereof applicable to local purposes.

(c) Repealed by the Revenue Act, 1911, post, p. 2707.

* * * * * *

Payment of duties on motor spirit and motor car licences to road improvement account.

90.—(1) There shall be charged on and paid out of the Consolidated Fund or the growing produce thereof a sum (in this Act referred to as the road improvement grant) (a) equal to the net proceeds of the duties on motor spirit and the net proceeds of the duties on licences for motor cars which are affected by this Act.

(2) The road improvement grant shall be carried to a separate account to be established under regulations made by the Treasury for the purpose, and, subject to such regulations as may be made by the Treasury with respect to accounts and accumulations of moneys standing to the account, be administered and applied in manner provided by the Development and Road Improvement Funds Act, 1909.

(3) The expression "the net proceeds of the duties" means the amount of those duties paid into the Exchequer, after deducting such sums as are certified by the Commissioners to be the cost of collecting the duties, and after deducting in the case of duties payable on licences for motor cars any sum which is payable to any local taxation account in respect of the proceeds of those duties, or to any council in respect of any deficiency in the proceeds of those duties.

(a) This is now the Road Fund. See the Development and Road Improvement Funds Act, 1909, as amended by the Roads Act, 1920, and notes thereto, ante, p. 1200. By s. 18 (3) of the Revenue Act, 1911, post, p. 2707, the provisions of this section were extended to the duties on carriage licences generally.

Payment of half the proceeds of the duties on land values for benefit of local authorities.

91. (a)—(1) There shall be charged on and paid out of the Consolidated Fund or the growing produce thereof a sum equal to one-half of the net proceeds of the duties on land values under Part I. of this Act (including mineral rights duties).

(2) The sums so charged shall be carried to a separate account, to be established under regulations made by the Treasury for the purpose, and, subject to such regulations as may be made by the Treasury in respect of accounts, audit, and accumulation of moneys standing to the account, be appropriated for the benefit of local authorities in the United Kingdom in such manner as Parliament may hereafter determine.

(a) The operation of this section is suspended until Parliament otherwise determines, see Revenue Act, 1911, s. 16, post, p. 2707, as amended by s. 16, Finance Act, 1914 (Sess. 2). The Act of 1911 repealed it, but such repeal was annulled by s. 21 of the Finance Act, 1911, post, p. 2710.

THE REVENUE ACT, 1911.

(1 GEO. 5, c. 2.)

PART V.

PROVISIONS AS TO PAYMENTS FOR LOCAL AUTHORITIES.

Repeal of s. 91 of 10 Edw. 7, c. 8.

16. Section ninety-one (a) of the principal Act (which provides for the payment of half the proceeds of the duties on land values for the benefit of local authorities) shall be suspended in its operation as from the date of the principal Act until Parliament shall otherwise determine (b).

(a) See this section, ante, p. 2706.

(b) The closing words of this section which limited the suspension to 31st March, 1914, were repealed by s. 16 of Finance Act, 1914 (Sess. 2). The next section which dealt with certain payments into the Local Taxation Account was repealed by the L. G. A., 1929, Sch. XII., Pt. VI., see note (a) to s. 88 of the Finance Act, 1910, ante, p. 2706.

* * * * * *

Extension of s. 88 of 10 Edw. 7, c. 8, to all carriage licences.

18.—(1) So much of subsection (2) of section eighty-eight (a) of the principal Act as provides for the payment of a part of the proceeds of the duties on licences for motor cars in England and Wales into the Exchequer, and for the payment out of the Consolidated Fund to the council of a county or county borough of any deficiency in the proceeds of those duties, shall extend to the proceeds of the duties on all carriage licences (whether licences for motor cars or not), and that provision shall be construed accordingly.

(2) [Scotland.]

(3) Section ninety (b) of the principal Act (which relates to the payment out of the Consolidated Fund of a sum equal to the net proceeds of the duties on motor spirit and motor car licences as the road improvement grant) shall be construed as it a reference to the duties on carriage licences were substituted in that section for the references to the duties on licences for motor cars which were affected by that Act and to the duties payable on licences for motor cars.

(4) In this section, the expression " duties on carriage licences " means the duties on all licences for carriages, including any duty charged under subsection (1) of section eight of the Locomotives on Highways Act, 1896, and any duty charged under section eighty-six of the principal Act in respect of motor cars.

59 & 60 Vict. c. 36.

(a) See this sub-section, ante, p. 2705.

(b) See this section, ante, p. 2706.

PART VII.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Repeal, construction, and short title.

20.—(1) The enactments specified in the Schedule to this Act are hereby repealed to the extent mentioned in the third column of that Schedule (a).

(a) This sub-section and the Schedule referred to therein were repealed by S. L. R. A., 1927.

THE MUNICIPAL ELECTIONS (CORRUPT AND ILLEGAL PRACTICES) ACT, 1911.

(1 & 2 GEO. 5, C. 7.)

An Act to amend the Municipal Elections (Corrupt and Illegal Practices) Act, 1884 (a). [18th August, 1911.]

Certain false statements concerning a candidate to be an illegal practice.

Injunction against person making false statement.

47 & 48 Vict. c. 70.

1.—(1) Any person who, or the directors of any body or association corporate which, before or during any municipal election, shall, for the purpose of affecting the return of any candidate at such election, make or publish any false statement of fact in relation to the personal character (b) or conduct of such candidate shall be guilty of an illegal practice within the meaning of the provisions of the Municipal Elections (Corrupt and Illegal Practices) Act, 1884 (c), and shall be subject to all the penalties for and consequences of committing an illegal practice in the said Act mentioned, and the said Act shall be taken to be amended as if the illegal practice defined by this Act had been contained therein.

(2) No person shall be deemed to be guilty of such illegal practice if he can show that he had reasonable grounds for believing and did believe, the statement made by him to be true.

(3) Any person who shall make or publish any false statement of fact as aforesaid may be restrained by interim or perpetual injunction by the High Court of Justice from any repetition of such false statement or any false statement of a similar character in relation to such candidate, and, for the purpose of granting an interim injunction, prima facie proof of the falsity of the statement shall be sufficient (d).

(4) A candidate (e) shall not be liable nor shall be subject to any incapacity, nor shall his election be avoided, for any illegal practice under this Act committed by his agent, unless it can be shown that the candidate has authorised or consented to the committing of such illegal practice, or has paid for the circulation of the false statement constituting the illegal practice, or unless upon the hearing of an election petition the election court shall find and report that the election of such candidate was procured or materially assisted in consequence of the making or publishing of such false statements.

(a) It appears that this Act will apply to elections of urban and rural district councillors conducted under the L. G. A., 1894, s. 48, and the rules made thereunder, see s. 2, post, p. 2709.

(b) A statement that a candidate is a "Communist" is not a statement as to personal character within this section (Burns v. Associated Newspapers, Ltd. (1925), 89 J. P. 205; 42 T. L. R. 37).

Note to Section 1.

(c) See this Act, ante, p. 2460; see s. 7 thereof for the punishment on conviction for an illegal practice.

(d) Where justification is pleaded, an interlocutory injunction will not be granted unless defendants have no reasonable prospect of success at the trial (Burns v. Associated Newspapers, Ltd., supra).

(e) As to the liability of a candidate, see ss. 8, 19, of the principal Act, ante, pp. 2463, 2467.

2. This Act may be cited as the Municipal Elections (Corrupt and Illegal Practices) Act, 1911, and shall be construed as one with the Municipal Elections (Corrupt and Illegal Practices) Act, 1884, and that Act and this Act may be cited together as the Municipal Elections Corrupt and Illegal Practices Acts, 1884 and 1911.

COAL MINES ACT, 1911 (a).

(1 & 2 GEO. 5, c. 50.)

An Act to consolidate and amend the Law relating to Coal Mines and certain other mines. [16th December, 1911.]

APPLICATION OF ACT.

Application of Act.

1. The mines to which this Act applies (b) are mines of coal, mines of stratified ironstone, mines of shale, and mines of fire-clay ; and in this Act the expression "mine," unless the context otherwise requires, means a mine to which this Act applies.

Note to Section 1.

(a) This Act repealed the provisions of the Coal Mines Regulation Act, 1887, as to the matters dealt with in the text.

(b) Shafts of abandoned mines of a kind to which this Act does not apply are dealt with by the Metalliferous Mines Regulation Act, 1872, ante, p. 2329 ; and reference should be made to the cases cited in the notes thereto.

* * * * * *

Fencing in case of abandoned mine.

26.—(1) Where any mine (a) is abandoned or the working thereof discontinued (b), at whatever time the abandonment or discontinuance occurred, it shall be the duty of the owner (a) thereof, and of every other person interested in the minerals of the mine, to cause the top or entrance of every (c) shaft and outlet to be kept surrounded by a structure of a permanent character sufficient to prevent accidents :

Provided that—

(i) Subject to any contract to the contrary, the owner of the mine shall, as between himself and any other person interested in the minerals of the mine, be liable to carry this section into effect, and to pay any costs, charges and expenses incurred by any other person interested in the minerals of the mine in carrying this section into effect :

(ii) Nothing in this section shall exempt any person from any liability under any other Act, or otherwise.

(2) No person shall be precluded by any agreement or otherwise from doing, or be liable to any injunction, damages, penalty, or forfeiture in respect of, such acts as may be necessary in order to comply with the provisions of this section.

(3) Any shaft or outlet which is not kept surrounded by a structure as required by this section shall be deemed to be a nuisance within the meaning of section ninety-one of the Public Health Act, 1875 (d).

38 & 39 Vict. c. 55.

(a) See definitions in s. 122, infra.

(b) Where a shaft is abandoned or working thereof discontinued, notice must be given to the Inspector of Mines (s. 19). Section 37 deals with the fencing of shafts not abandoned or permanently out of use.

(c) This provision applies to all shafts and outlets and is no longer restricted as under the repealed Act to such as are within fifty yards of a highway, road, footpath, or place of public resort, or are in open or uninclosed land.

(d) For the effect of this provision see note (a) to the Quarry Fencing Act, 1887, ante, p. 2488. There appears to be no longer any penalty for mere neglect to fence before service of a " nuisance " notice.

* * * * * *

PART III.

PROVISIONS AS TO HEALTH.

Provisions as to sanitary conveniences.

76. General regulations shall be made under this Act with respect to the provision and use of sanitary conveniences in mines, both above and below ground (a).

(a) As to this section, see note to s. 38 of the P. H. A., 1875, ante, p. 107. The general regulations referred to are made by the Home Secretary (s. 86).

* * * * * *

Interpretation.

122. In this Act, unless the context otherwise requires,—

" Mine " includes every shaft in the course of being sunk, and every level and inclined plane in the course of being driven, and all the shafts, levels, planes, works, tramways, and sidings, both below ground and above ground, in and adjacent to and belonging to the mine, but does not include any part of such premises on which any manufacturing process is carried on other than a process ancillary to the getting, dressing or preparation for sale of minerals :

Section 122.

"Owner," when used in relation to any mine, means any person or body corporate who is the immediate proprietor or lessee, or occupier of any mine, or of any part thereof, and in the case of a mine the business whereof is carried on by a liquidator or receiver includes such liquidator or receiver, but does not include a person or body corporate who merely receives a royalty, rent, or fine from a mine, or is merely the proprietor of a mine subject to any lease, grant, or licence for the working thereof, or is merely the owner of the soil, and not interested in the minerals of the mine; but any contractor for the working of any mine, or any part thereof, shall be subject to this Act in like manner as if he were an owner, but so as not to exempt the owner from any liability:

THE RAG FLOCK ACT, 1911.

(1 & 2 GEO. 5, c. 52.)

An Act to prohibit the sale and use for the purpose of the manufacture of certain articles of unclean Flock manufactured from Rags.

[16th December, 1911.]

Prohibition of sale and use for the purpose of manufacture of certain articles of unclean flock manufactured from rags.

1.—(1) It shall not be lawful for any person to sell or have in his possession for sale flock manufactured from rags (a) or to use for the purpose of making (b) any article of upholstery, cushions, or bedding flock manufactured from rags or to have in his possession flock manufactured from rags intended to be used for any such purpose, unless the flock conforms to such standard of cleanliness as may be prescribed by regulations (c) to be made by the [Minister of Health], and, if any person sells or uses or has in his possession flock in contravention of this Act, he shall be liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding, in the case of a first offence, ten pounds, or in the case of a second or subsequent offence fifty pounds.

56 & 57 Vict. c. 66.

(2) All regulations made by the [Minister of Health] under this Act shall be laid before Parliament as soon as may be after they are made, and the Rules Publication Act, 1893 (d), shall apply to such regulations as if they were statutory rules within the meaning of section one of that Act.

(3) Where, in any proceedings against a person charged with an offence under this Act, it is proved that an offence under this Act has been committed, but that the person charged with the offence—

(a) purchased the flock in respect of which the offence was committed from a person resident within the United Kingdom who sold the flock under a warranty that it complied with the prescribed standard of cleanliness; and

(b) took reasonable steps to ascertain, and did in fact believe in, the accuracy of the statement contained in the warranty;

the person so charged shall be entitled upon an information duly laid by him to have the person who gave the warranty brought before the court, and that person may be summarily convicted of the offence, and the person originally charged shall be exempt from any fine, and the person so convicted shall, in the discretion of the court, also be liable to pay any costs incidental to the proceedings.

(4) Where a person is charged with having flock in his possession in contravention of this Act any flock proved in the proceedings to have been found in his possession shall be deemed to be intended for sale or for use in the manufacture of such articles as aforesaid, unless the contrary is proved.

(5) It shall be the duty of a sanitary authority to enforce the provisions of this Act within their district, and for that purpose the medical officer of health, the inspector of nuisances or sanitary inspector, or any other officer whom the sanitary authority may appoint, shall have power, if so authorised (e) by the sanitary authority, to institute and carry on any proceedings which the sanitary authority is authorised to institute and carry on under this Act, and to enter at all reasonable times any premises in which he has reasonable cause to believe that an offence under this Act is being committed, and to examine and take samples for the purposes of analysis of any flock found therein:

Provided that, where a sample is so taken, the occupier of the premises may require the officer taking the sample to divide it into two parts and to mark, seal, and deliver to him one part.

If any person wilfully obstructs any such officer in the execution of his powers under this section, he shall be liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding five pounds.

(6) The expenses of sanitary authorities under this Act shall be defrayed—

(a) in the case of the mayor, aldermen and commons of the city of London in common council assembled, out of the general rate;

(b) in the case of the council of a metropolitan borough, as part of the expenses incurred by the council in the execution of the Public Health (London) Act, 1891; 54 & 55 Vict. c. 76.

(c) in the case of any other sanitary authority, namely the council of a municipal borough or urban or rural district, as part of the general expenses incurred in the execution of the Public Health Acts.

(7) All fines imposed in any proceedings instituted by a sanitary authority in pursuance of their powers and duties under this Act shall be paid to the sanitary authority and carried to the credit of the fund out of which the expenses incurred by the authority under this Act are defrayed.

(8), (9) [Application to Scotland and Ireland.]

(a) Flock consisting of jute refuse, composed partly of waste fluff from the machines, and partly of cuttings from woven jute fabric trimmed away in manufacture, was held to be within the Act (Cooper v. Swift, [1914] 1 K. B. 253; 78 J. P. 57). This case was followed in Balmforth v. Chadburn, [1927] 1 K. B. 663; 91 J. P. 21, where it was held that the word "rags" in the section was not limited to rags which have become polluted through association with human or animal life, but included flock made from new and uncontaminated material.

In order to remove doubts, the Rag Flock Act (1911) Amendment Act, 1928, post, p. 3019, was passed, which declares that the expression "flock manufactured from rags" means "flock which has been produced wholly or partly by tearing up woven or knitted or felted materials whether old or new, but does not include flock obtained wholly in the processes of the scouring and finishing of newly woven or newly knitted or newly felted fabrics."

(b) The restuffing of a mattress with flock—the flock being taken from the same cover and put back again without any addition—is not the "making any article of bedding" within the meaning of this sub-section (Gamble v. Jordan, [1913] 3 K. B. 149; 77 J. P. 269). But putting a new cover in place of an old one on a mattress containing rag flock is "making any article of bedding" within the sub-section (Guildford Corporation v. Brown, [1915] 1 K. B. 256; 79 J. P. 143). The sub-section does not apply to the mere sale of second-hand articles which contain rag flock (Cooper v. Evan Cook's Depositories, Ltd., [1915] 1 K. B. 344; 79 J. P. 159).

(c) Regulations, citable as "The Rag Flock Regulations, 1912," were issued on June 8th, 1912, and provide as follows:—"Flock shall be deemed to conform to the standard of cleanliness for the purposes of sub-section (1) of section 1 of the Act when the amount of soluble chlorine, in the form of chlorides, removed by thorough washing with distilled water at a temperature not exceeding 25 degrees Centigrade from not less than 40 grammes of a well-mixed sample of flock, does not exceed 30 parts of chlorine in 100,000 parts of the flock."

(d) In the case of rules to which s. 1 of the Rules Publication Act, 1893, applies, notice of the intention to make rules and of the place where copies of the draft rules may be obtained must be published in the Gazette at least forty days before the rules are made, and during those forty days any public body may make representations or suggestions. There is, however, power to make provisional rules without such notice in cases of urgency.

Note to Section 1.

(e) Presumably a general authority will suffice. It should be by resolution (cf. Duchesne v. Finch (1912), 76 J. P. 377; Watt v. Hegarty (1913), 47 Ir. L. T. 86).

Short title and commencement.

2. This Act may be cited as the Rag Flock Act, 1911, and shall come into operation on the first day of July nineteen hundred and twelve.

THE NATIONAL INSURANCE ACT, 1911.

(1 & 2 GEO. 5, c. 55.)

An Act to provide for Insurance against Loss of Health and for the Prevention and Cure of Sickness and for Insurance against Unemployment and for purposes incidental thereto (a). [16th December, 1911.]

(a) This Act was for the most part repealed by the National Health Insurance Act, 1924, post, p. 2867. The only provisions unrepealed and pertinent to this work is s. 64.

SUPPLEMENTARY PROVISIONS.

Provision of sanatoria, &c.

64 (a).—(1) If under any other Act of the present session any sum is made available for the purposes of the provision of or making grants in aid to sanatoria and other institutions for the treatment of tuberculosis or such other diseases as the Local Government Board (b) with the approval of the Treasury may appoint, such sum shall be distributed by the Local Government Board (b) with the consent of the Treasury in making grants for those purposes, and the Treasury before giving their consent shall consult with the Insurance Commissioners:

Provided that such sum shall be apportioned between England, Wales, Scotland, and Ireland in proportion to their respective populations ascertained in accordance with the returns of the census taken in the year nineteen hundred and eleven.

(2) If any such grant is made to a county council, the Local Government Board (b) may authorise the county council to provide any such institution, and, where so authorised, the county council shall have power to erect buildings and to manage and maintain the institution and for that purpose to enter into agreements and make arrangements with Insurance Committees and other authorities and persons, and to do all such things as may be necessary for the purposes aforesaid, and any expenses of the county council, so far as not defrayed out of the grant, shall be defrayed out of the county fund as expenses for general county purposes, or, if the order of the Local Government Board (b) so directs, as expenses for special county purposes charged on such part of the county as may be provided by the order.

(3) For the purpose of facilitating co-operation amongst county councils, county borough councils, and other local authorities (not being Poor Law authorities) for the provision of such sanatoria and other institutions as aforesaid, the Local Government Board (b) may by order make such provisions as appear to them necessary or expedient, by the constitution of joint committees, joint boards, or otherwise, for the joint exercise by such councils and authorities of their powers in relation thereto, and any such order may provide how, in what proportions, and out of what funds or rates the expenses of providing such institutions, so far as they are not defrayed out of grants under this section, are to be defrayed, and may contain such consequential, incidental, and supplemental provisions as may appear necessary for the purposes of the order, and an order so made shall be binding and conclusive in respect of the matters to which it relates.

(4) (c).

(a) See the Finance Act, 1911, s. 16 (1) (b), ante, p. 2710, and the P. H. (Tuberculosis) Act, 1921, ante, p. 1305.

THE SHOPS ACT, 1912.

(2 GEO. 5, C. 3.)

An Act to consolidate the Shops Regulation Acts, 1892 to 1911 (a).

[29th March, 1912.]

Conditions of Employment.

Hours of employment and meal times (b).

1.—(1) On at least one week day in each week (c) a shop assistant (c) shall not be employed about (d) the business of a shop (d) after half-past one o'clock in the afternoon:

Provided that this provision shall not apply to the week preceding a bank holiday (c) if the shop assistant is not employed on the bank holiday, and if on one week day in the following week in addition to the bank holiday the employment of the shop assistant ceases not later than half-past one o'clock in the afternoon (e).

(2) The occupier (f) of a shop shall fix, and shall specify in a notice in the prescribed form (g) which must be affixed in the shop in such manner (h) and at such time (i) as may be prescribed, the day of the week on which his shop assistants are not employed after half-past one o'clock, and may fix different days for different shop assistants.

(3) Intervals for meals shall be allowed to each shop assistant in accordance with the First Schedule (k) to this Act:

Provided that this provision shall not apply to a shop if the only persons employed as shop assistants are members of the family of the occupier of the shop, maintained by him, and dwelling in his house (l).

(4) In the case of any contravention of, or failure to comply with, the provisions of this section, the occupier (m) of the shop shall be guilty of an offence against this Act, and shall be liable to a fine (n) not exceeding:—

(a) in the case of a first offence, one pound;

(b) in the case of a second offence, five pounds; and

(c) in the case of a third or subsequent offence, ten pounds—

unless, in the case of a shop assistant employed after half-past one o'clock in contravention of this section, he proves that the shop assistant was employed merely for the purpose of serving a customer whom he was serving at the time, or, where the time of the closing of the shop was also half-past one o'clock (o), that the shop assistant was employed merely for the purpose of serving customers who were in the shop at that time.

(a) See also the Shops Act, 1913, post, p. 2730, and the Shops (Hours of Closing) Act, 1928, post, p. 3013. Under the last-named Act hours of closing of general application were prescribed, subject to the right of local authorities to vary these hours within limits prescribed by the Act.

Note to Section 1.

These three Acts are to be construed together and may be cited as the Shops Acts, 1912 to 1928 (see s. 10 of the 1928 Act).

(b) This section substantially re-enacts ss. 1, 8 (1), 13 (2), Schedule I., of the Shops Act, 1911, which never came into operation, being repealed by s. 22, post. There had been no earlier legislation on the subject.

Generally speaking, this section does not, if the employer so elects and takes certain steps, apply to shop assistants employed in the sale of "refreshments"; as to them, see the Shops Act, 1913, post, p. 2730. With one other exception, viz., under certain conditions and for limited periods in holiday resorts (s. 11, post, p. 2724), sub-s. (1) applies to the shop assistants in every shop, even though the shop itself may be one which need not be closed for a weekly half-holiday, and even though the assistants be members of the shopkeeper's family. The shopkeeper fixes the day (which may not be Sunday) on which each assistant is to have his half-holiday; he may fix different days for different assistants, and may vary the days fixed as often as he likes, so long as he complies with sub-s. 2 as to giving notice thereof.

(c) See definition in s. 19 (1), post, p. 2728. A firm gave no half-holiday in the week ending December 21st, but gave whole holidays in the following week on Christmas Day and Boxing Day. It was held that no offence was committed, Christmas Day being a weekday on which (in addition to one Bank Holiday—Boxing Day) the assistant was not employed after 1.30 p.m. (Todd Burns & Co., Ltd. v. Dublin Corporation, [1913] 2 I. R. 397).

(d) "Employed about" means "busy about" or "engaged in": therefore where a bookstall assistant, though ordered to take his weekly half-holiday on a certain afternoon, busied himself on that afternoon about the business of the bookstall, the employers, who had taken no steps under s. 14 (3), post, were held liable (Ward v. W. H. Smith & Sons, [1913] 3 K. B. 154; 77 J. P. 370). The appellant was manager of a shop at B. belonging to a company which owned many similar shops in different parts of the country. The appellant employed his shop assistants in consideration of extra remuneration to distribute certain handbills in the neighbourhood in their spare time. The handbills consisted of an advertisement of the company's margarine, but contained no mention of their particular shop at B. The assistants distributed the handbills to passers-by in the streets and at houses in the neighbourhood on the afternoon of the day of the week fixed under the Act for the weekly half-holiday for that shop. It was held that in order to constitute a breach of the above section it was not necessary that the handbills should specially refer to the shop at B., and that the assistants delivering them were not the less employed about the business of that shop because they were also thereby advertising the business of the company's other shops; and further that the employment of the assistants to do the work in their spare time generally included an employment to do it on the half-holiday afternoon which was their principal spare time (George v. James, [1914] 1 K. B. 278; 78 J. P. 156).

Where an employer has two shops an assistant at one shop cannot lawfully be employed during the time when one shop is closed under this section, at the other shop (London C. C. v. Wettman, [1922] 1 K. B. 153; 86 J. P. 4).

(e) An employer may fix an assistant's weekly half-holiday to coincide with a bank holiday. If, however, he fixes it for another day in that week, and if he does not employ the assistant at all on the bank holiday, he need not give him a half-holiday in the preceding week.

(f) A brewery company owned a public-house which was in charge of a manager who held the licence. The Liverpool stipendiary convicted the company for not as "occupiers" specifying in a notice the day on which a "shop assistant"—i.e., the licence-holder—was to take his half-holiday. The licence-holder had signed and posted a notice dealing with all other persons employed on the premises ((1913), 77 J. P. N. 402). In a similar case, Hancock & Co. v. Nicholas (18th November, 1925, unreported), a Divisional Court upheld the conviction.

(g) For the prescribed form of notice, see Regulation No. 1 and Form I., post, App. II., p. 3747.

(h) As to the prescribed manner of affixing, see Regulation No. 2, post, App. II., p. 3747.

(i) The employer may vary the day of his assistants' weekly half-holiday as often as he likes; but notice must be affixed before assistants to whom it relates cease work on the Saturday preceding the week during which it is to have effect; see Regulation 3, post, App. II., p. 3747.

(k) See this Schedule, post, p. 2729.

(l) If any assistant is not a member of the family, the provision applies to all assistants, whether members or not.

(m) As to the liability of other persons, and as to an occupier shifting the liability on to some one else, see s. 14 (2), (3), post, p. 2726. As to a limited company being an occupier, see note (t) to s. 4, post, p. 2720.

(n) As to the recovery of penalties, see s. 14 (1), post, p. 2726.

(o) As it may be under s. 4 (4), post, p. 2718.

Hours of employment of young persons (a).

2.—(1) No person under the age of eighteen years (in this Act referred to as a "young person") shall be employed in or about (b) a shop (c) for a longer period than seventy-four hours, including meal times, in any one week (d).

(2) No young person shall, to the knowledge of the occupier of the shop, be employed in or about a shop—

(a) having been previously on the same day employed in any factory or workshop, as defined by the Factory and Workshop Act, 1901 (e), for the number of hours permitted by that Act; or

1 Edw. 7, c. 22.

(b) for a longer period than will, together with the time during which he has been previously employed on the same day in a factory or workshop, complete such number of hours as aforesaid.

(3) In every shop in which a young person is employed a notice shall be kept exhibited by the occupier of the shop in a conspicuous place referring to the provisions of this section and stating the number of hours in the week during which a young person may lawfully be employed in or about the shop (f).

(4) Where a young person is employed in or about a shop contrary to the provisions of this section, the occupier (g) of the shop shall be guilty of an offence against this Act, and liable to a fine (h) not exceeding one pound, or, where more than one young person is so employed, one pound for each young person, and, if the occupier (g) of a shop fails to comply with the provisions of this section with respect to notices, he shall be guilty of an offence against this Act, and liable to a fine (h) not exceeding forty shillings.

(5) This section (i) shall apply to wholesale shops, and to warehouses in which assistants are employed for hire, in like manner as if they were shops within the meaning of this Act, and the provisions of sections thirteen and fourteen of this Act shall, for the purposes of the enforcement of this section, be construed accordingly.

(6) This section shall not apply to any person wholly employed as a domestic servant (k).

(a) This section substantially reproduces the provisions of the Shop Hours Act, 1892, repealed by s. 22, post. As to restrictions on the employment of children under fourteen, see the Education Act, 1921, Part VIII.

(b) A boy employed by a newsagent fetched newspapers to the shop, delivered them at customers' houses, and sold them inside and outside the shop; he also worked in the shop, folding newspapers, tying up parcels, sweeping and cleaning windows; it was held under the Act of 1892, that the whole of his employment was "in or about" the shop (Collman v. Roberts, [1896] 1 Q. B. 457).

(c) For definition of "shop," see s. 19, post, p. 2728, but this section applies to wholesale shops and warehouses (sub-s. (5)). It applies too to members of a shopkeeper's family.

(d) Note that unless sub-s. (2) applies there is no limit to the length of employment on any one day; for definition of "week," see s. 19, post, p. 2728.

(e) See s. 149 of that Act, ante, p. 2646.

(f) For a form of notice suggested, but not prescribed, by the Home Office, see App. II., post, p. 3758.

(g) See note (m) to s. 1, ante, p. 2716.

(h) As to the recovery of penalties, see s. 14 (1), post, p. 2726.

(i) The general definition of "shop" appears in s. 19, post, p. 2728.

(k) A page boy at an hotel slept on the premises; in the mornings he helped to dust the reception rooms, but he was principally employed as a messenger; the High Court approved a finding that he was not "wholly employed as a domestic servant" (Savoy Hotel Co. v. London C. C., [1900] 1 Q. B. 665).

Seats for female shop assistants (a).

3.—(1) In all rooms of a shop (b) where female shop-assistants (b) are employed in the serving of customers, the occupier of the shop shall provide seats behind the counter, or in such other position as may be suitable for the purpose, and such seats shall be in the proportion of not less than one seat to every three female shop-assistants employed in each room.

(2) Any person (c) failing to comply with the provisions of this section shall be guilty of an offence against this Act, and liable for a first offence to Section 3. a fine (d) not exceeding three pounds, and for a subsequent offence to a fine not less than one pound and not exceeding five pounds.

(a) This section reproduces in slightly varied language the provisions of the Seats for Shop Assistants Act, 1899, repealed by s. 22, post.

(b) See definitions in s. 19, post, p. 2728.

(c) See note (m) to s. 1, ante, p. 2716.

(d) As to the recovery of penalties, see s. 14 (1), post, p. 2726.

Closing of Shops.

Closing of shops on weekly half-holiday.

4.—(1) Every shop (a) shall, save as otherwise provided by this Act (b), be closed for the serving of customers (c) not later than one o'clock in the afternoon of one week day in every week (a).

(2) The local authority (d) may (e), by order (f), fix the day on which a shop is to be so closed (in this Act referred to as "the weekly half-holiday"), and any such order may either fix the same day for all shops, or may fix—

(a) different days for different classes of shops (g); or
(b) different days for different parts of the district; or
(c) different days for different periods of the year:

Provided that—

(i) where the day fixed is a day other than Saturday, the order shall (h) provide for enabling Saturday to be substituted for such other day; and
(ii) where the day fixed is Saturday, the order shall (h) provide for enabling some other day specified (i) in the order to be substituted for Saturday;

as respects any shop in which notice (k) to that effect is affixed by the occupier, and that no such order shall be made unless the local authority, after making such inquiry as may be prescribed (l), are satisfied that the occupiers of a majority of each of the several classes of shops affected by the order approve the order (m).

(3) Unless and until such an order is made affecting a shop, the weekly half-holiday as respects the shop shall be such day as the occupier may specify in a notice affixed in the shop, but it shall not be lawful for the occupier of the shop to change the day oftener than once in any period of three months (n).

(4) Where the local authority (d) have reason to believe that a majority of the occupiers of shops of any particular class in any area are in favour of being exempted from the provisions of this section, either wholly or by fixing as the closing hour instead of one o'clock some other hour not later than two o'clock, the local authority, unless they consider that the area in question is unreasonably small, shall take steps to ascertain the wishes of such occupiers, and, if they are satisfied that a majority of the occupiers of such shops are in favour of the exemption, or, in the case of a vote being taken, that at least one half of the votes recorded by the occupiers of shops within the area of the class in question are in favour of the exemption, the local authority shall make an order exempting the shops of that class within the area from the provisions of this section either wholly or to such extent as aforesaid (o).

(5) Where a shop is closed during the whole day on the occasion of a bank holiday (p), and that day is not the day fixed for the weekly half-holiday, it shall be lawful for the occupier of the shop to keep the shop open for the serving of customers after the hour at which it is required under this section to be closed either on the half-holiday immediately preceding, or on the half-holiday immediately succeeding, the bank holiday.

(6) This section shall not apply to any shop in which the only trade or business carried on is trade or business of any of the classes mentioned in the Second Schedule (q) to this Act, but the local authority may, by order (r) made and revocable in the manner hereinafter provided with respect to closing orders (s), extend the provisions of this section to shops of any class exempted under this provision if satisfied that the occupiers of at least two-thirds of the shops of that class approve the order.

(7) In the case of any contravention of or failure to comply with any of the provisions of this section, the occupier (t) of the shop shall be guilty of an offence against this Act, and shall be liable to a fine (u) not exceeding—

(a) in the case of a first offence, one pound ;

(b) in the case of a second offence, five pounds ; and

(c) in the case of a third or subsequent offence, ten pounds :

Provided that the occupier of a shop shall not be guilty of an offence against this Act when a customer is served at any time at which the shop is required to be closed under this section if he proves either that the customer was in the shop before the time when the shop was required to be closed (v), or that there was reasonable ground for believing that the article supplied to the customer was required in the case of illness.

(8) Nothing in this section shall prevent customers from being served at a time when the shop in which they are sold is required to be closed with victuals, stores, or other necessaries for a ship, on her arrival at or immediately before her departure from a port (x).

(a) See definition in s. 19, post, p. 2728. Where a dairyman had affixed an automatic machine to the door of his shop so that milk could be obtained by putting a penny in a slot while the shop was closed, it was held that the place where the sale of milk occurred was a shop within the meaning of the Act (Willesden U. D. C. v. Morgan, [1915] 1 K. B. 349 ; 79 J. P. 166).

(b) Certain shops are or may be exempted from this provision, see sub-ss. (4), (6), but assistants employed in them must nevertheless have a half-holiday on some week-day in every week (see s. 1, ante, p. 2715). There are also special provisions as to bank holidays (sub-s. (5)) and emergency sales (sub-ss. (7), (8)), and as to shops in holiday resorts (s. 11, post, p. 2724).

(c) This means the personal serving of customers and does not apply to trade or business carried on by means of an automatic machine (Willesden U. D. C. v. Morgan, supra). Other work (e.g., tidying up) may be done, but assistants taking their half-holiday on that day must leave by 1.30 p.m. As to sales after 1 p.m. to customers in the shop at that hour, or in cases of illness, see sub-s. (7) and s. 1 (4), ante, p. 2715.

(e) If they do not, a shopkeeper fixes his own day (sub-s. (3)).

(f) The order does not require confirmation. As to revocation of such an order, see s. 18 (2), post, p. 2727. For a model form of order, see Form C, post, App. II., p. 3756. An order under s. 11, post, exempting shopkeepers in holiday resorts from the obligation to close for the weekly half-holiday during a portion of the year should not be incorporated in an order under this sub-section. As to publication of such an order, see Regulation 22, post, App. II. There was power to order a weekly half-holiday under the Shops Act, 1904 ; see s. 22, post, as to how far existing orders under that Act were continued in force. The weekly half-holiday must be fixed on some day other than the "late day" under s. 1 of the 1928 Act (s. 1 (2), ibid., post, p. 3013). A large firm of drapers carried on a hairdressing business in a small portion of their premises for the convenience primarily of customers shopping in the various departments of their warehouse. The whole premises were closed every Tuesday afternoon for the statutory weekly half-holiday. The local authority made an order under sub-s. (2) fixing Wednesday as the day on which hairdressers' shops should be closed for the weekly half-holiday. It was held that the hairdressing department in the warehouse in question was not a hairdresser's shop within the meaning of the Act and order, and accordingly did not require to be closed on Wednesday (Thomson v. Somerville, [1917] S. C. (J.) 3). This case was followed in MacDonald v. Groundland, [1923] S. C. (J.) 28, where a jewellery and tobacconist's shop occupied the front of the premises and a barber's shop belonging to the owner occupied a back portion of the premises.

(g) As to a butcher selling dripping on a day when provision and grocery shops (but not butchers' shops) ought to be closed, see Schuck v. Banks, [1914] 2 K. B. 491 ; 78 J. P. 229.

(h) The authority cannot insert conditions fettering a shopkeeper's right to elect between two days.

(i) The alternative day must be specified, and not left to the discretion of each shopkeeper.

Note to Section 4.

(k) No special form of notice has been prescribed.

(l) Regulation 4, post, App. II., p. 3747, prescribes the inquiries to be made by an authority who contemplate making an order under this sub-section. As to the necessary register to be prepared, see Regulation 19, post, App. II., p. 3749; as to the method of taking a vote of occupiers, see Regulation 20, post, App. II., p. 3750.

(m) A person occupying more shops than one, has a vote in respect of each. As to "classes" of shops, see Att.-Gen. v. Brighton Corporation, post, p. 2721.

(n) Where no weekly half-holiday order has been made by a local authority, and the shopkeepers of a town have themselves fixed the day and specified it in notices affixed on their shops in accordance with this sub-section, a change of the day in one week and the reversion in the subsequent week back to the original closing day is a contravention of the concluding words of the section (Owen v. Parry (1914), 79 J. P. 64; 12 L. G. R. 1228).

(o) Such an order does not require confirmation. As to revocation of such an order, see s. 18 (2), post, p. 2727. For a model form of order, see Form D, post, App. II., p. 3757. No hour later than 2 p.m. can be fixed; effect can only be given to a desire for a later closing hour by complete exemption.

There is apparently no power to make an order for part only of a year; but it would be possible to make and revoke orders at the beginning and end of every "season." The sub-section does not allow a general exemption of all shops; each class of shop must be dealt with separately. As to "classes," see Att.-Gen. v. Brighton Corporation, post, p. 2721.

Semble, whether an area is "unreasonably small" is not a question only of superficial area, but may partly depend upon whether out of similar shops of the same class, some are just within and others just without the proposed boundary (R. v. Manchester City Council, Ex parte Batty (1912), 77 J. P. 43, per CHANNELL, J.).

A council after ascertaining the wishes of the shopkeepers, of whom a majority desired exemption, rescinded their former resolution approving of the area selected and consenting to grant exemption; an application for a mandamus directing the council to make an exemption order was refused on the ground that, if the court could grant a mandamus, they ought not to do so in view of the circumstances under which the two resolutions were passed (ibid.).

The "steps" to be taken by the authority are in their discretion; the majority required is a majority of occupiers, not of shops as under sub-s. 2; and if a vote is taken, one-half of the votes recorded (not of the persons entitled to vote) is sufficient.

(q) See this Schedule, post, p. 2729; as to mixed businesses, see s. 10 (1), post, p. 2723, and Schuck v. Banks, ante, p. 2719; as to post office shops, see s. 12, post, p. 2725.

(r) For model form of order, see Form E, post, App. II., p. 3757. It will be noticed that this does not merely declare the provisions of s. 4 to be extended to the particular class of shop, leaving the authority to make and revoke further orders under sub-s. (2), and (if necessary) sub-s. (4), as to the day and hour for closing. It appears to contemplate that the shopkeepers will ask for a particular day (and perhaps hour) and that any subsequent variation must be sanctioned by the Home Secretary. An order was made under this sub-section extending the provisions of the section to such parts of the retail businesses of pork butchers as are exempted by Schedule II., post, p. 2729. The respondents were confectioners and refreshment-room proprietors, and as incidental to this trade they sold, on the afternoon of the weekly half-holiday, pork sausages for consumption off the premises. It was held that they had not committed an offence against the Act (Margerison v. Wilson (1914), 79 J. P. 38; 112 L. T. 76). Where an order under this sub-section extended the provisions of this Act to the sale by retail of confectionery (including sweets and chocolates), it was held that the order included shops in which sweets and chocolates only were sold, and not only those in which they were sold in addition to pastry and confectionery (Gee v. Davies (1916), 85 L. J. K. B. 1431; 80 J. P. 285). An order extending the provisions of sub-s. (2) to the sale of tobacco and smokers' requisites does not apply to a railway bookstall at which a substantial part of the business consists in the sale of these articles (Fyfe v. Menzies, [1920] S. C. (J.) 7).

(s) See ss. 5, 8, post, pp. 2721, 2723.

(t) As to the liability of other persons, and as to an occupier shifting the liability on to some one else, see s. 14 (2), (3), post, p. 2726. A limited company can be fined as an "occupier" under this section (Evans & Co., Ltd. v. London C. C., [1914] 3 K. B. 315; 78 J. P. 345).

(u) As to recovery of penalties, see s. 14 (1), post, p. 2726.

(v) This proviso applies only to the case of a customer who has accidentally failed to complete a purchase by the closing hour. It does not enable a shopkeeper to collect persons on the premises before the closing hour so as to carry on business after that hour by inviting them to bid for articles which they had not set out to purchase and which were not in process of being sold before the closing hour (Salford Cattle Market Salerooms, Ltd. v. Osborne (1923), 87 J. P. 134; 21 L. G. R. 468).

(x) In a sea-port town it will probably be advisable to insert a similar provision in closing orders under s. 5, post, p. 2721.

Closing orders.

5 (a).—(1) An order (in this Act referred to as "a closing order") made by a local authority (b), and confirmed by the Secretary of State in manner provided by this Act, may fix the hours on the several days of the week at which, either throughout the area of the local authority or in any specified part thereof, all shops (c) or shops of any specified class are to be closed for serving customers (d).

(2) The hour fixed by a closing order (in this Act referred to as "the closing hour") shall not be earlier than seven o'clock in the evening on any day of the week.

(3) The order may—

(a) define the shops and trades to which the order applies; and

(b) authorise sales after the closing hour in cases of emergency and in such other circumstances as may be specified or indicated in the order; and

(c) contain any incidental, supplemental, or consequential provisions which may appear necessary or proper (e).

(4) (f). . . .

(5) . . .

(a) Closing orders made under this section and in force on 3rd August, 1928, which fix earlier closing hours than those prescribed by or under the Shops (Hours of Closing) Act, 1928, post, p. 3013), continue in force, but any order which fixes hours later than those so prescribed or any provision in any closing order inconsistent with the Act of 1928, has ceased to have effect. The power to make closing orders under the section in the text is now severely limited by the Act of 1928, s. 4. As to orders by local authorities varying the general hours of closing prescribed by the Act of 1928 see s. 2 (as to confectionery), s. 3 (as to tobacco, etc.), s. 5 (as to exhibitions), and s. 6 (as to holiday resorts, etc.). Nothing in any closing order made under this Act is to prevent the serving of a customer already in the shop at the closing hour, or in case of illness or any transaction mentioned in Sched. I. of the 1928 Act (s. 1 (3), ibid.). Any closing order made under this Act may be suspended by the Home Secretary or by local authorities on special occasions. The power to suspend in the case of local authorities is limited to an aggregate of not more than seven days in any one year (s. 7 of the 1928 Act, post, p. 3016).

(b) See s. 13, post, p. 2725.

(c) See definition in s. 19, post, p. 2728.

(d) For model forms of closing orders, see App. II., post, p. 3754. Under similar words in the Shop Hours Act, 1904, it was held that an authority might fix a closing hour to be observed on one or more days of the week, and need not fix one for every day (Att.-Gen. v. Brighton Corporation (1908), 77 L. J. Ch. 603). In the same case it was held in the court below, that barbers and hairdressers formed one sufficiently specific "class," and that an authority were not bound to distinguish between the different requirements of different shopkeepers in the same trade (77 L. J. Ch. 6); see also as to this point the Home Office Circular of April 4th, 1912.

Semble, when once an authority have made an order and submitted it for approval, the court will not interfere by injunction to restrain the authority from acting upon it (Att. Gen. v. Brighton Corporation, supra).

See s. 22, post, p. 2729, as to how far existing orders made under the Shops Act, 1904, were continued in force. As to revocation of closing orders, see s. 8, post, p. 2723.

(e) See, e.g., note (x) to s. 4, ante, p. 2720, and s. 10 (2), and s. 12 (1) (c), post, pp. 2724, 2725.

(f) These two subsections which dealt with exemptions from and penalties for contravention of a closing order were repealed by s. 10 (4) and Sch. IV. of the Act of 1928. As to exemptions see now s. 1 (3), ibid., and as to penalties for contravention of a closing order see s. 8, ibid., post, pp. 3013, 3016.

Procedure for making orders (a).

6.—(1) Whenever a local authority (b) are satisfied that a primâ facie case is made out for making a closing order (c), the authority shall give public notice in the prescribed manner and in the prescribed form (d) of their intention to make an order, specifying therein a period (not being less than the prescribed period (e)) within which objections may be made to the making of the proposed order, and, if after taking into consideration any objections they may have received the local authority are satisfied (f) that it is expedient to make the order and that the occupiers of at least two-thirds in number of the shops to be affected by the order approve the order, they may make the order.

(2) Notice of the provisions of the order shall be given, and copies thereof shall be supplied in the prescribed manner (g), and the order shall be submitted to the Secretary of State (h), and the Secretary of State shall consider any objections to the order, and may either disallow the order or confirm the order with or without amendment.

(3) As soon as the Secretary of State has confirmed any order (i), the order shall become final and have the effect of an Act of Parliament (k):

Provided that every closing order shall be laid before each House of Parliament as soon as may be after it is confirmed, and, if an address is presented to His Majesty by either House within the next subsequent forty days on which that House has sat after any such order is laid before it praying that the order may be cancelled, His Majesty in Council may annul the order, and any order so annulled shall thenceforth become void and of no effect, but without prejudice to any proceedings which may in the meantime have been taken under the order and without prejudice to the power of making any new closing order.

(a) As to revoking orders, see s. 8, post, p. 2723.

(b) See s. 13, post, p. 2725.

(c) As soon as they are so satisfied they must cause the necessary register to be prepared: see Regulations 6, 19, post, App. II., pp. 3748, 3749.

(d) As to the prescribed manner and form, see Regulation 7, and Form A, post, App. II., pp. 3748, 3754.

(e) The prescribed period is four weeks (Regulation 8, post, App. II., p. 3748).

(f) Regulation 9, post, App. II., p. 3748, prescribes how they are to satisfy themselves as to the wishes of the occupiers concerned; as to the method of taking a vote of occupiers, see Regulation 20, post, App. II., p. 3750.

(g) As to the giving of this notice, see Regulation 10, post, App. II., p. 3748.

(h) As to the documents, etc., to be submitted with the order, see Regulation 11, post, App. II., p. 3749.

(i) As to publication of such an order, see Regulation 22, post, App. II., p. 3750.

(k) As to the meaning of this expression, see Institute of Patent Agents v. Lockwood, [1894] A. C. 347, and comments thereon in R. v. Pharmaceutical Society, [1899] 2 I. R. 132; Waterford v. Murphy, [1920] 2 I. R. 165. See also per YOUNGER, L.J., in R. v. Electricity Commissioners, [1924] 1 K. B. at p. 212. Notwithstanding this provision a closing order fixing hours of closing later than the general closing hours fixed by the 1928 Act will be of no effect, see s. 4 of the 1928 Act, post, p. 3014.

As to the suspension of a closing order, see s. 7 of the 1928 Act, post, p. 3016.

Local inquiries for the purpose of promoting and facilitating early closing (a).

7.—(1) Where it appears to the Secretary of State, on the representation of the local authority (b) or a joint representation from a substantial number of occupiers of shops and shop assistants in the area of the local authority, that it is expedient to ascertain the extent to which there is a demand for early closing in any locality, and to promote and facilitate the making of a closing order therein, the Secretary of State may appoint a competent person to hold a local inquiry.

(2) If, after holding such an inquiry and conferring with the local authority, it appears to the person holding the inquiry that it is expedient that a closing order should be made, he shall prepare a draft order and submit it to the Secretary of State together with his report thereon.

(3) If the Secretary of State, after considering the draft order and report, and any representations which the local authority may have made in respect thereof, is of opinion that it is desirable that a closing order should be made, he may communicate his decision to the local authority, and thereupon there shall be deemed to be a primâ facie case for making a closing order in accordance with the terms of the draft order, subject to such modifications (if any) as the Secretary of State may think fit.

(4) The person who held the inquiry shall, if so directed by the Secretary of State on the application of the local authority, assist and co-operate with the local authority in taking the steps preliminary to making the order.

Note to Section 7.

(a) Regulations 12—18, post, App. II., p. 3749, provide for the holding of such local inquiries. See further as to their object a Home Office Circular of April 4th, 1912. As to the expenses, see s. 15, post, p. 2727.

(b) See s. 13, post, p. 2725.

Revocation of closing orders (a).

8. The Secretary of State may, at any time on the application of the local authority, revoke a closing order either absolutely or so far as it affects any particular class of shops, and, if at any time it is made to appear to the satisfaction of the local authority that the occupiers of a majority of any class of shops to which a closing order applies are opposed to the continuance of the order, the local authority shall apply to the Secretary of State to revoke the order in so far as it affects that class of shops, but any such revocation shall be without prejudice to the making of any new closing order.

(a) Orders made under s. 4 (6), ante, p. 2718, are on the same footing as closing orders. Other orders may be revoked by the local authority, see s. 18, post, p. 2727. Before asking the Home Secretary to revoke an order the authority must ascertain the wishes of the shopkeepers concerned: see Regulation 23, post, App. II., p. 3750.

As to publication of notice of revocation, see Regulation 24, post, App. II., p. 3750.

Provisions with respect to Special Classes of Trade or Business.

Provisions as to trading elsewhere than in shops.

9. It shall not be lawful in any locality to carry on in any place not being a shop (a) retail trade or business of any class at any time when it would be unlawful in that locality to keep a shop open for the purposes of retail trade or business of that class, and, if any person carries on any trade or business in contravention of this section, this Act shall apply as if he were the occupier of a shop and the shop were being kept open in contravention of this Act:

Provided that—

(a) the prohibition imposed by this section shall, as respects any day other than the weekly half-holiday, be subject [in so far as the prohibition is affected by any closing order, to such exemptions and conditions, if any, as may be contained in the order)] (b); and

(b) nothing in this section shall be construed as preventing a barber or hairdresser from attending a customer in the customer's residence, or the holding of an auction sale of private effects in a private dwelling-house; and

(c) nothing in this section shall apply to the sale of newspapers.

(a) E.g., in the streets, or in a house temporarily used for the purpose (Cowden v. McEvoy, [1914] 3 K. B. 108; 78 J. P. 336). For definitions of "shop," "retail trade or business," see s. 19, post, p. 2728. As to the sale of milk by means of an automatic machine affixed to the door of a closed shop, see Willesden U. D. C. v. Morgan, ante, p. 2719. Semble, this section cannot apply to the weekly half-holiday where each shopkeeper fixes his own half-holiday at will. But, when an order fixes (say) Thursday for the half-holiday, trading in the streets, or in places not being shops, on that afternoon is forbidden, although an individual shopkeeper might elect to substitute Saturday for his own shop (Cowden v. McEvoy, supra). As to weekly half-holidays, see s. 4, and as to closing orders, see s. 5, ante, pp. 2718, 2721.

(b) Words in brackets were substituted for the words "to such exemptions and conditions (if any) as may be contained in closing orders" by s. 9 and Sch. III. of the Act of 1928.

Provisions as respects shops where more than one business is carried on.

10.—(1) Where several trades or businesses are carried on in the same shop, and any of those trades or businesses is of such a nature that, if it were the only trade or business carried on in the shop, the shop would be exempt from the obligation to be closed on the weekly half-holiday, the exemption shall apply to the shop so far as the carrying on of that trade or business is concerned, subject, however, to such conditions as may be prescribed (a).

[" (1a) Where several trades and businesses are carried on in the same " shop and any of those trades or businesses consist only of transactions of

Section 10.

" such a nature that if they were the only transactions carried on in the shop " the provisions of this Act relating to general closing hours would not apply " to the shop, the shop may be kept open after the general closing hour for " the purposes of those transactions alone, subject, however, to such con- " ditions as may be prescribed " ;] (b)

(2) Where several trades and businesses are carried on in the same shop and any of those trades or businesses are of such a nature that if they were the only trades or businesses carried on in the shop a closing order would not apply to the shop, the shop may be kept open after the closing hour for the purposes of those trades and businesses alone, but on such terms and under such conditions as may be specified in the order (c).

(3) Where several trades or businesses are carried on in the same shop, the local authority may require the occupier of the shop to specify which trade or business he considers to be his principal trade or business, and no trade or business other than that so specified shall, for the purpose of determining a majority [or any proportion or number of occupiers or of shops for the purposes of] (d) this Act, be considered as carried on in the shop unless the occupier of the shop satisfies the local authority that it forms a substantial part of the business carried on in the shop (e).

(a) This sub-section relates to s. 4, ante, p. 2718. For the prescribed conditions, see Regulation 5, post, App. II., p. 3748; certain notices must be affixed, and, as far as reasonably practicable, no goods connected with a business not exempted may be exhibited.

(b) This sub-section was added by s. 9 and Sch. III. of the 1928 Act. As to transactions which are excluded from the operation of the general closing hours, see Sch. I., ibid., post, p. 3017.

(c) This sub-section relates to s. 5, ante, p. 2721.

(d) These words were substituted for " under " by s. 9 and Sch. III. of the 1928 Act. The added words were included to meet the cases provided for by s. 3 of the 1928 Act, post, p. 3014.

(e) The effect of this provision is that a shopkeeper selling a little drapery as a mere adjunct to a distinct business, but being in no real sense a draper, will not be entitled to vote on questions affecting drapers. In connection with this sub-section, see Regulations 4 (1), 6 and 19, post, App. II., p. 3747, as to preparation of a register of occupiers of shops.

Special provisions as to holiday resorts.

11 (a).—(1) In places frequented as holiday resorts (b) during certain seasons of the year, the local authority may by order (c) suspend, for such period or periods as may be specified in the order, not exceeding in the aggregate four months in the year, any obligation imposed by this Act to close shops on the weekly half-holiday (d).

[(1A) Any order made under this section may be made so as to apply to the whole or to any part of the area of the local authority, and to all shops, or to shops of any class, within that area or part.] (e)

(2) Where the occupier of any shop in any place in which any such order of suspension is in force satisfies the local authority that it is the practice (f) to allow all his shop assistants a holiday on full pay of not less than two weeks in every year, and keeps affixed in his shop a notice to that effect, the requirement (g) that on one day in each week a shop assistant shall not be employed after half-past one o'clock shall not apply to the shop during such period or periods as aforesaid.

(a) As to the alteration of general closing hours under the 1928 Act in case of holiday resorts and sea fishing centres, see s. 6, ibid., post, p. 3015.

(b) " Holiday resort " is not defined: presumably it means a resort frequented by holiday makers at particular seasons of the year as opposed to one where the influx of visitors is not appreciably greater at one time than at another. If an authority wrongly treat their town as a holiday resort, the validity of their order could apparently be impugned in the courts.

(c) As to revocation of such an order, see s. 18 (2), post, p. 2727. For a model form of order, see Form F, post, App. II., p. 3757. The order, if made at all, must apparently apply to all classes of shops. For this reason it should be kept distinct from orders under s. 4, ante, p. 2718, fixing the day and hour for half-holiday closing.

Note to Section 11.

(d) I.e., under s. 4, ante, p. 2718.

(e) This sub-section was added by s. 9 and Sch. III. of the 1928 Act in order to make the power of suspension under the section in the text consistent with the power of altering the general closing hours given by s. 6 of that Act, post, p. 3015.

(f) The authority must be satisfied as to the shopkeeper's practice on the point. See as to this the Home Office Circular of April 4th, 1912. Semble, the holiday must be one of two consecutive weeks.

(g) I.e., in s. 1, ante, p. 2715.

Application to Post Office business.

12.—(1) Where Post Office business is carried on in any shop in addition to any other business, this Act shall apply to that shop subject to the following modifications :—

(a) If the shop is a telegraph office, the obligation to close on the weekly half-holiday shall not apply to the shop so far as relates to the transaction of Post Office business thereat :

(b) Where the Postmaster-General certifies that the exigencies of the postal service require that Post Office business should be transacted in any such shop at times when under the provisions of this Act relating to the weekly half-holiday the shop would be required to be closed, or under conditions not authorised by section one of this Act, the shop shall, for the purpose of the transaction of Post Office business, be exempted from the provisions of this Act to such extent as the Postmaster-General may certify to be necessary for the purpose :

Provided that in such cases the Postmaster-General shall make the best arrangements that the exigencies of the postal service allow with a view to the conditions of employment of the persons employed being on the whole not less favourable than those secured by this Act :

(c) The provisions contained in any closing order imposing terms or conditions on the keeping open of any such shop after the closing hour for the transaction of Post Office business shall be subject to the approval of the Postmaster-General (a).

(2) Save as aforesaid, nothing in this Act shall apply to Post Office business, or to any premises in which Post Office business is transacted.

(a) This sub-section was repealed by s. 10 (4) and Sch. IV. of the 1928 Act.

Enforcement of Act.

Powers and duties of local authorities.

13.—(1) It shall be the duty of every local authority (a) to enforce within their district the provisions of this Act, and of the orders made thereunder or under any enactment repealed by this Act (b), and for that purpose to institute and carry on such proceedings in respect of failures to comply with or contraventions of this Act and such orders as aforesaid as may be necessary to secure the observance thereof, and to appoint inspectors (c) ; and an inspector so appointed shall, for the purposes of his powers and duties, have in relation to shops all the powers conferred in relation to factories and workshops on inspectors by section one hundred and nineteen of the Factory and Workshop Act, 1901 (d), and that section and section one hundred and twenty-one (e) of the same Act shall apply accordingly ; and an inspector may, if so authorised by the local authority, institute and carry on any proceedings under this Act on behalf of the authority (f). 1 Edw. 7, c. 22.

(2) In this Act the expression " local authority " means—

as respects the city of London, the common council ;

as respects any municipal borough, the council of the borough ;

Section 13.

as respects any urban district with a population according to the returns of the last published census for the time being of twenty thousand or upward, the district council;

elsewhere, the county council:

Provided that a county council may, with the approval of the Secretary of State, make arrangements with the council of an urban district in the county with a population of less than twenty thousand, or with the council of a rural district, for the exercise by the council of that district as agents for the county council, on such terms and subject to such conditions as may be agreed on, of any powers of the county council under this Act within the district, and the council of the district may, as part of the agreement, undertake to pay the whole or any part of the expenses incurred in connection with the exercise of the powers delegated to them, and the London County Council may, with the like approval, make similar arrangements with the council of any metropolitan borough.

(3) The expenses of a local authority under this Act (including any expenses which a council undertake to pay as aforesaid) shall be defrayed—

in the case of the common council of the city of London, out of the general rate; in the case of the council of a borough, out of the borough fund or borough rate (g);

in the case of a district council, as part of the general expenses incurred in the execution of the Public Health Acts (h);

in the case of a county council, as expenses for special county purposes;

in the case of a metropolitan borough council, as part of the expenses of the council.

(a) For definition of "local authority," see sub-s. (2).

(b) As to closing orders made under the repealed Shops Act, 1904, continuing in force until expressly revoked, see proviso to s. 22, post, p. 2729.

(c) The Home Secretary deprecated the appointment of police officers as whole time or part time inspectors under this Act, see Home Office Circular of June 28th, 1912. See the same Circular for suggestions as to how the police may nevertheless render assistance in enforcing the Act.

(d) This section (see ante, p. 2638) gives to an inspector wide powers of entering and inspecting shops and of questioning persons found therein.

(e) This section (see ante, p. 2639) requires an inspector on applying for admission to produce a certificate of his appointment if it be asked for. A form of certificate is prescribed, see Regulation 25 and Form V., post, App. II., pp. 3750, 3752.

(f) Presumably a general authority will suffice. It should be by resolution: cf. Duchesne v. Finch (1912), 76 J. P. 377; Watt v. Hegarty (1913), 47 Ir. L. T. 86.

(g) Now the general rate fund and general rate. See the R. & V. Act, ante, p. 1633.

(h) See s. 207, P. H. A., 1875, ante, p. 495, as amended by the R. and V. Act, 1925.

Provisions with respect to offences.

14.—(1) All offences against this Act shall be prosecuted, and all fines under this Act shall be recovered in like manner as offences and fines are prosecuted and recovered under the Factory and Workshop Act, 1901, and sections one hundred and forty-three to one hundred and forty-six of that Act, and so much of section one hundred and forty-seven thereof as relates to evidence respecting the age of any person, so far as those provisions are applicable, shall have effect as if re-enacted in this Act and in terms made applicable thereto (a):

Provided that all fines imposed in any proceedings instituted by or on behalf of a local authority in pursuance of their powers and duties under this Act shall be paid to the local authority and carried to the credit of the fund out of which the expenses incurred by the authority under this Act are defrayed.

(2) Where an offence for which the occupier of a shop is liable under this Act, has, in fact, been committed by some manager, agent, servant, or other person, the manager, agent, servant, or other person shall be liable to the like penalty as if he were the occupier. Section 14.

(3) Where the occupier of a shop is charged with an offence against this Act, he shall be entitled upon information duly laid by him to have any other person whom he charges as the actual offender brought before the court at the time appointed for hearing the charge; and if, after the commission of the offence has been proved, he proves to the satisfaction of the court that he has used due diligence to enforce the execution of the Act, and that the said other person has committed the offence in question without his knowledge, consent, or connivance, the said other person shall be summarily convicted of such offence, and the occupier shall be exempt from any fine.

(a) See these sections, ante, pp. 2614, 2645.

General Provisions.

Expenses of Secretary of State.

15. Any expenses incurred by the Secretary of State under this Act, including the remuneration of any person holding a local inquiry under section seven of this Act, shall, to such extent as may be sanctioned by the Treasury, be paid out of moneys provided by Parliament.

Local inquiries.

16. In addition to the local inquiries which the Secretary of State is empowered to hold under section seven of this Act, the Secretary of State may cause a local inquiry to be held for the purposes of any of his powers and duties under this Act, and the costs incurred in relation to any such last-mentioned inquiry, including the salary of any officer engaged in the inquiry, not exceeding three guineas a day, shall be paid by the local authority concerned, and the Secretary of State may certify the amount of the costs incurred. Any sums so certified shall be a debt to the Crown from the local authority (a).

(a) They would therefore be recoverable by an extent of the authority's property.

Regulations.

17. The Secretary of State may make regulations (a)—

(a) for prescribing anything which under this Act is to be prescribed; and

(b) as to the mode of ascertaining the opinion of occupiers of shops; and

(c) as to conduct of local inquiries and matters incidental thereto; and

(d) as to the procedure for obtaining the revocation of a closing order; and

(e) generally for carrying into effect the provisions of this Act.

(a) Regulations (see post, App. II., p. 3747) dated April 1st, 1912 (Stat. R. & O., No. 316 of 1912), have been made under this section.

By Regulation 21 (post, App. II., p. 3750) no informality in complying with the Regulations is to frustrate the making of, or invalidate, any order.

Proof and revocation of orders.

18.—(1) Any order made by a local authority under this Act may be proved by the production of a copy thereof certified to be a true copy by a person purporting to be the clerk of the local authority by whom the order is made.

(2) Any order made by a local authority under this Act may, unless some other method of revocation is provided by this Act, be revoked by an order made in the like manner and subject to the like approval, if any, as the original order (a).

(a) Closing orders under s. 5 and orders made under s. 4 (6), which require confirmation by the Home Secretary, can only be revoked by him, see s. 8, ante, p, 2723. The authority may themselves revoke the orders: cf. Interpretation Act, 1889. s. 32 (3). Before doing so, they must ascertain the wishes of the shopkeepers concerned: see Regulation 23, post, App. II.. p. 3750.

As to publication of notice of revocation, see Regulation 24, post, App. II.. p. 3750.

Section 19.

Interpretation and saving.

19.—(1) In this Act (a)—

The expression " shop " (b) includes any premises where any retail trade or business is carried on (c) ;

The expression " retail trade or business " includes the business of a barber or hairdresser, the sale of refreshments or intoxicating liquors, and retail sales by auction, but does not include the sale of programmes and catalogues and other similar sales at theatres and places of amusement ;

The expression " shop assistant " means any person wholly or mainly employed in a shop in connexion with the serving of customers or the receipt of orders or the despatch of goods (a) ;

The expression " bank holiday " includes any public holiday or day of public rejoicing or mourning ;

The expression " week " means the period between midnight on Saturday night and midnight on the succeeding Saturday night.

(2) Nothing in this Act shall apply to any fair lawfully held or any bazaar or sale of work for charitable or other purposes from which no private profit is derived.

(a) As to these definitions, see the Home Office Memorandum of March, 1912.

(b) In the Shop Hours Act, 1892, unless the context otherwise required, " shop " meant " retail and wholesale shops, markets, stalls, and warehouses in which assistants are employed for hire," and included " licensed public houses and refreshment houses of any kind." A building used solely as a high-class hotel and restaurant, having no bar or counter for the sale of liquor, and not being in the ordinary sense of the term a " public house," although fully licensed under the Alehouse Act, 1828, was held to be a " public house," and therefore a " shop " within this definition (Savoy Hotel Co. v. London C. C., ante, p. 2717). See, however, as to refreshment houses the Act of 1913, post, p. 2730. A boy employed at the railway bookstall at R. went every morning to the village two miles off to deliver newspapers ; he then sold newspapers for a short time at the station before returning to R. ; for the purposes of such sale, he erected each day a stall consisting of a board upon trestles. It was held that the stall was probably a " shop " for some purposes of the Act, but not for the purposes of s. 4 (see s. 2 (3) of this Act), as to exhibiting a notice, because the boy was really employed at R., where a notice was duly exhibited (Smith & Son v. Kyle, [1902] 1 K. B. 286). See also Ward v. Smith & Son, ante, p. 2716. Where milk was procured from an automatic machine attached to the door of a closed shop it was held that the place where the sale occurred was a shop within the meaning of the Act (Willesden U. D. C. v. Morgan, ante, p. 2719). A hotel is not a shop, nor are the waiters employed therein shop assistants within the meaning of this definition (Gordon Hotels, Ltd. v. London C. C., [1916] 2 K. B. 27 ; 80 J. P. 266). But a coal merchant's branch office in which no coal is kept and only orders are dealt with is a shop, and the attendant in it who takes the orders is a shop assistant (Wallace v. Dixon, [1917] 2 Ir. 236).

A booth or stall erected on a beach and used only for mechanical games of chance or skill, in which members of the public are invited to participate on payment of an entrance fee is not a shop within the above definition (Dennis v. Hutchinson, [1922] 1 K. B. 693 ; 86 J. P. 85). As to a kitchenmaid in a restaurant being a " shop assistant," see Melhuish v. London C. C., [1914] 3 K. B. 325 ; 78 J. P. 441. As to the employment of a potman on licensed premises whose duties were regarded by the court as sufficiently proximate to the serving of customers, see Prance v. London C. C., [1915] 1 K. B. 688 ; 79 J. P. 242.

For the purposes of s. 2, wholesale shops and warehouses are to be treated as shops (see s. 2 (5)), ante, p. 2717.

(c) An order under the Act fixed the closing hours for shops " in which the retail trade or business of a jeweller, gold or silversmith, ironmonger, hardware merchant, or tool dealer is carried on." The respondent, who was an auctioneer, and who sold on his premises, being a shop, all kinds of articles, including articles of jewellery entrusted to him for sale by auction and pawnbrokers' pledges, sold by auction in the ordinary way, on certain days after the closing hours fixed by the order, articles of jewellery. It was held that the respondent had not thereby carried on the retail business of a jeweller within the meaning of the order (Lucas v. Reubens, [1921] 2 K. B. 482 ; 85 J. P. 166).

Short title, commencement, and repeal.

22.—(1) This Act may be cited as the Shops Act, 1912.

(3) The Shops Regulation Acts, 1892 to 1911 (a), are hereby repealed : (b)

4 Edw. 7, c. 31.

Provided that any closing order made under the Shop Hours Act, 1904 (c), which is in force at the commencement of this Act, shall continue in force until revoked in accordance with the provisions of this Act, except in so far as it fixes a closing hour earlier than seven o'clock for any shop to which the provisions of this Act with respect to the weekly half-holiday apply.

(a) The Shops Regulation Acts, 1892 to 1911, were : (i.) the Shop Hours Act, 1892, as to hours of employment of young persons, substantially re-enacted in s. 2, ante ; (ii.) the Shop Hours Act, 1893, as to salaries of inspectors ; (iii.) the Shop Hours Act, 1895, passed merely to remedy a draftsman's omission disclosed by Hammond v. Pulsford, [1895] 1 Q. B. 223 ; (iv.) the Seats for Shop Assistants Act, 1899, substantially re-enacted in s. 3, ante ; (v.) the Shop Hours Act, 1904, as to closing orders, substantially re-enacted in ss. 5 et seq., ante ; and (vi.) the Shop Hours Act, 1911, as to hours of employment and meal times and weekly half-holidays, see now ss. 1, 4, ante. This last Act never came into operation.

(c) Such orders could combine weekly half-holiday and ordinary closing provisions.

SCHEDULES.

FIRST SCHEDULE.

Section 1.

Intervals for Meals.

Intervals for meals shall be arranged so as to secure that no person shall be employed for more than six hours without an interval of at least twenty minutes being allowed during the course thereof.

Without prejudice to the foregoing provision—

(1) where the hours of employment include the hours from 11.30 a.m. to 2.30 p.m., an interval of not less than three-quarters of an hour shall be allowed between those hours for dinner ; and

(2) where the hours of employment include the hours from 4 p.m. to 7 p.m., an interval of not less than half-an-hour shall be allowed between those hours for tea ; and the interval for dinner shall be increased to one hour in cases where that meal is not taken in the shop, or in a building of which the shop forms part or to which the shop is attached :

Provided that an assistant employed in the sale of refreshments or in the sale by retail of intoxicating liquors need not be allowed the interval for dinner between 11.30 a.m. and 2.30 p.m., if he is allowed the same interval so arranged as either to end not earlier than 11.30 a.m. or to commence not later than 2.30 p.m., and the same exemption shall apply to assistants employed in any shop on the market day in any town in which a market is held not oftener than once a week, or on a day on which an annual fair is held.

SECOND SCHEDULE (a).

Section 4.

Trades and Businesses exempted from the Provisions as to Weekly Half-Holiday.

The sale by retail of intoxicating liquors.

The sale of refreshments, including the business carried on at a railway refreshment room.

The sale of motor, cycle, and air-craft supplies and accessories to travellers (b).

The sale of newspapers and periodicals.

The sale of meat, fish, milk, cream, bread, confectionery, fruit, vegetables, flowers, and other articles of a perishable (c) nature.

Sched. II.

The sale of tobacco and smokers' requisites.

The business carried on at a railway bookstall on or adjoining a railway platform.

The sale of medicines and medical and surgical appliances.

Retail trade carried on at an exhibition or show, if the local authority certify that such retail trade is subsidiary or ancillary only to the main purpose of the exhibition or show.

(a) See as to this schedule generally, the notes to s. 4, ante, p. 2719, and the cases therein cited.

(b) This provision only includes the sale of supplies and accessories for motors, cycles, and air-craft and not the sale of other supplies or accessories to travellers (Williams v. Gosden, [1914] 1 K. B. 35; 77 J. P. 464).

(c) The Home Secretary has been advised that "preserved" foods, etc., are not "of a perishable nature." Butter has been held to be "perishable" (London C. C. v. Welford's Surrey Dairies, Ltd., [1913] 2 K. B. 529; 77 J. P. 206). Semble, "run honey" is not confectionery (ibid.). As to the sale of sweets and chocolates, see Gee v. Davies, ante, p. 2720.

Section 5.

THIRD SCHEDULE.

TRADES AND BUSINESSES EXEMPTED FROM PROVISIONS OF CLOSING ORDERS (a).

(a) This schedule was repealed by s. 10 (4) and Sch. IV. of the 1928 Act. As to transactions exempted from the provisions of closing orders see now Sch. I. of that Act, post, p. 3017.

FIFTH SCHEDULE.

[Ireland.]

THE SHOPS ACT, 1913.

(2 & 3 GEO. 5, c. 24.)

An Act to amend the Shops Act, 1912, in its application to premises for the sale of refreshments. [7th March, 1913.]

Amendment of 2 Geo. 5, c. 3, in its application to premises for the sale of refreshments.

1.—(1) The provisions of section one (a) of the Shops Act, 1912, shall not apply to shop assistants employed in any premises for the sale of refreshments, whether licensed for the sale of intoxicating liquor or not, if their employment is wholly or mainly in connexion with the sale of intoxicating liquors or refreshments for consumption on the premises, and if the occupier of the premises, by such notice as is hereinafter mentioned, signifies that he elects that instead of those provisions the following provisions shall apply :—

(a) No such assistant shall be employed for more than sixty-five hours in any week exclusive of meal times.

(b) Provision shall be made for securing to every such assistant—

(i) thirty-two whole holidays on a week day in every year, of which at least two shall be given within the currency of each month and which shall comprise a holiday on full pay of not less than six consecutive days;

(ii) twenty-six whole holidays on Sunday in every year, so distributed that at least one out of every three consecutive Sundays shall be a whole holiday:

Provided that two half holidays on a week day shall be deemed equivalent to one whole holiday on a week day.

Section 1.

(c) Intervals for meals shall be allowed to every such assistant amounting on a half holiday to not less than three-quarters of an hour, and on every other day to not less than two hours, and no assistant shall be employed for more than six hours without being allowed an interval of at least half an hour:

Provided that this provision shall not apply if the only persons employed as such shop assistants are members of the family of the occupier of the premises maintained by him and dwelling in his house.

(d) The occupier shall affix and constantly maintain in a conspicuous position in the premises a notice in the prescribed form referring to the provisions of this section, and stating the steps taken with a view to compliance therewith.

(2) Where the occupier of any premises has signified as aforesaid that he elects that the foregoing provisions shall apply, and any of those provisions are not complied with, the occupier of the premises shall be guilty of an offence against the Shops Act, 1912, and shall be liable to a fine not exceeding:—

(a) in the case of a first offence, one pound;
(b) in the case of a second offence, five pounds; and
(c) in the case of a third or subsequent offence, ten pounds.

(3) For the purposes of this section, the expression "half holiday" means a day on which the employment of an assistant ceases not later than three o'clock in the afternoon and on which he is not employed for more than six hours including meal time.

(4) A notice under this section may be withdrawn by the occupier of the shop at the expiration of a year from the date when it was given, and thereafter at the expiration of any succeeding year, and upon any such withdrawal section one of the Shops Act, 1912, shall apply to the shop in like manner as before the notice was given.

(5) The Shops Act, 1912, as amended by this Act, shall, in its application to any premises in respect to which a notice under this section is in force, have effect as though the definition of "shop assistant" included all persons wholly or mainly employed in any capacity at the premises in connexion with the business there carried on (b).

(a) See this section, ante, p. 2715.

(b) Where the occupier of premises elects to apply this Act to such premises he must be taken to elect to adopt the definition of "shop assistant" contained in this sub-section and cannot be heard to say that any one who falls within that definition is not a shop assistant (Rutherford v. Trust Houses, Ltd., [1926] 1 K. B. 321; 90 J. P. 62).

Short title and extent.

2.—(1) This Act may be cited as the Shops Act, 1913, and shall be construed as one with the Shops Act, 1912; and the Shops Act, 1912, and this Act may be cited together as the Shops Acts, 1912 and 1913.

(2) This Act shall not extend to shops in Ireland in which the business of the sale by retail of intoxicating liquors is carried on.

THE FABRICS (MISDESCRIPTION) ACT, 1913.

(3 & 4 GEO. 5, c. 17.)

An Act to prevent the Misdescription of Fabrics. [15th August, 1913.]

Prohibition of sale with misleading description as to inflammability.

1. It shall not be lawful for any person to sell, or expose, or have in his possession for sale, any textile fabric either in the piece, or made up into garments, or in any other form, to which is attributed expressly or inferentially the quality of non-inflammability, or safety from fire, or any degree of such quality of non-inflammability or safety from fire—

Section 1.

(1) by wording or marking, descriptive or otherwise—
(a) upon the material; or
(b) upon any wrapper or band; or
(c) contained in any letterpress or writing referring to the material; or
(2) by verbal representation at the time of sale;

unless such textile fabric conforms to such standard of non-inflammability as may be prescribed by regulations (a) to be made by the Secretary of State, and, if any person sells, or has in his possession, textile fabric in contravention of this Act, he shall be liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding, in the case of a first offence, ten pounds, or, in the case of a second or subsequent offence, fifty pounds.

(a) On January 20th, 1914, the Home Secretary made the following regulations under this section:—1. A textile fabric shall be deemed to conform to the standard of non-inflammability if, when tested in accordance with the prescribed method of testing, it is not set alight, or, if set alight, burns without a flame or with a flame which does not spread but converges and dies out. 2. The prescribed method of testing shall be as follows:—A sample of the fabric measuring not less than one square yard shall be taken, and, after it has been four times in succession thoroughly washed with soap and water, dried and ironed, shall be suspended vertically without folds or creases and so that the lower edge shall not be a selvedge or a folded edge. The flame of a wax taper not less than $\frac{1}{8}$ inch or more than $\frac{3}{16}$ inch in thickness shall then be brought in contact with the fabric at its lower edge and shall be kept in contact for not less than twelve or more than fifteen seconds.

Power of Secretary of State to make regulations. 56 & 57 Vict. c. 66.

2. All regulations made by the Secretary of State under this Act shall be laid before Parliament as soon as may be after they are made, and the Rules Publication Act, 1893, shall apply to such regulations as if they were statutory rules within the meaning of section one of that Act.

Cases where vendors purchase under warranty.

3. Where in any proceedings against a person charged with an offence under this Act, it is proved that an offence under this Act has been committed, but that the person charged with the offence—
(a) purchased the textile fabric in respect of which the offence was committed from a person resident within (a) the United Kingdom who sold the textile fabric under a warranty that it complied with the prescribed standard of non-inflammability; and
(b) took reasonable steps to ascertain, and did in fact believe in the accuracy of the statement contained in the warranty;

the person so charged shall be entitled upon an information duly laid by him to have the person who gave the warranty brought before the court, and that person may be summarily convicted of the offence, and the person originally charged shall be exempt from any fine, and the person so convicted shall, in the discretion of the court, also be liable to pay any costs incidental to the proceedings.

(a) If the fabric is purchased from a person outside the United Kingdom, the purchaser must take all responsibility for it.

Material found in possession deemed to be for sale.

4. Where a person is charged with having textile fabric in his possession in contravention of this Act, any such material proved in the proceedings to have been found in his possession shall be deemed to be intended for sale as aforesaid unless the contrary is proved.

Powers and duties of local authorities.

5.—(1) It shall be the duty of every local authority to enforce the provisions of this Act within their district, and for that purpose any male or female person or officer whom the local authority may appoint shall have power, if so authorised by the local authority, to institute and carry on any proceedings which the local authority is authorised to institute and carry on under this Act.

(2) In this Act the expression "local authority" meons—
as respects the city of London the common council;
as respects any municipal borough, the council of the borough;
as respects any urban district, the district council;
elsewhere, the county council:

Provided that the London County Council may, with the approval of the Secretary of State, make arrangements with the council of any metropolitan borough for the exercise by the metropolitan borough as agents for the London County Council, on such terms and subject to such conditions as may be agreed on, of any powers of the London County Council under this Act within the district of the metropolitan borough, and the council of the metropolitan borough may, as part of the agreement, undertake to pay the whole or any part of the expense incurred in connection with the exercise of the powers delegated to them.

(3) The expenses of a local authority under this Act shall be defrayed,— in the case of the common council of the city of London, out of the general rate; in the case of the council of a borough, out of the borough fund or borough rate (a);
in the case of a district council, as part of the general expenses incurred in the execution of the Public Health Acts (b);
in the case of a county council, as expenses for special county purposes;
in the case of a metropolitan borough council, as part of the expenses of the council.

(a) Now general rate fund or general rate, see the R. & V. Act, 1925, ante, p. 1633.
(b) See s. 207 of the P. H. A., 1875, as amended by the R. & V. Act, 1925, ante, p. 495.

6. All fines imposed in any proceedings instituted by a local authority in pursuance of their powers and duties under this Act shall be paid to the local authority and carried to the credit of the fund out of which the expenses incurred by the authority under this Act are defrayed. Fines imposed to be paid to local authorities.

7. 8. [Scotland; Ireland.]

9. This Act may be cited as the Fabrics (Misdescription) Act, 1913, and shall come into operation on the first day of January nineteen hundred and fourteen. Short title and commencement of Act.

Miscellaneous.

18. Where it appears to the council of a borough or a district, which expression in this Act shall include the Common Council of the City of London, that the erection of buildings of a style of architecture in harmony with other buildings of artistic merit existing in the locality is impeded in consequence of any byelaws (a) with respect to new streets or buildings in force in the borough or district, the council may, with the consent of the Local Government Board (b), relax the byelaws so far as may be necessary to allow the erection of such buildings, provided that the council is satisfied that such buildings can be erected with due regard to safety from fire and to sanitation: Provided Relaxation of byelaws.

Section 18. also that no byelaws in force in the city of London shall be relaxed under this section except such as are administered by the Common Council of the city of London.

(a) As to such byelaws, see the P. H. A., 1875, ss. 157 et seq., ante, pp. 346 et seq.
(b) Now the M. of H. (see M. of H. Act, 1919).

Power of councils to make byelaws regulating advertisements.

19. The Advertisements Regulation Act, 1907 (a), shall be construed as if the powers of the local authority as defined by that Act included a power to make byelaws prohibiting or restricting the display of advertisements or notices of such a nature or in such a manner as to be deterimental to the amenities of any ancient monument specified in the byelaw. Any power to make byelaws given by this section shall be in addition to and not in derogation of, the powers to make byelaws given by the Advertisements Regulation Act, 1907, or by any other Act. 7 Edw. 7, c. 27.

THE BANKRUPTCY ACT, 1914.

(4 & 5 Geo. 5, c. 59.)

An Act to consolidate the Law relating to Bankruptcy (a).

[10th August, 1914.]

* * * * * *

Priority of debts.

33.—(1) In the distribution of the property of a bankrupt there shall be paid in priority to all other debts (b)—

(a) All parochial or other local rates (c) due from the bankrupt at the date of the receiving order, and having become due and payable within twelve months next before that time, and all assessed taxes, land tax, property or income tax, assessed on the bankrupt up to the fifth day of April next before the date of the receiving order, and not exceeding in the whole of one year's assessment (d);

(b) All wages or salary of any clerk or servant in respect of services rendered to the bankrupt during four months before the date of the receiving order, not exceeding fifty pounds (e);

(c) All wages of any labourer or workman not exceeding twenty-five pounds, whether payable for time or for piece work, in respect of services rendered to the bankrupt during two months before the date of the receiving order: Provided that, where any labourer in husbandry has entered into a contract for the payment of a portion of his wages in a lump sum at the end of the year of hiring, the priority under this section shall extend to the whole of such sum, or a part thereof, as the court may decide to be due under the contract, proportionate to the time of service up to the date of the receiving order;

6 Edw. 7, c. 58.

(d) All amounts, not exceeding in any individual case one hundred pounds (f), due in respect of compensation under the Workmen's Compensation Act, 1906, the liability wherefor accrued before the date of the receiving order, subject nevertheless to the provisions of section five of that Act (g); and

1 & 2 Geo. 5, c. 55.

(e) All contributions payable under the National Insurance Act, 1911, by the bankrupt, in respect of employed contributors or workmen in an insured trade during four months before the date of the receiving order (h).

Section 33.

(2) The foregoing debts shall rank equally between themselves and shall be paid in full, unless the property of the bankrupt is insufficient to meet them, in which case they shall abate in equal proportions between themselves.

(3) Subject to the retention of such sums as may be necessary for the costs of administration or otherwise, the foregoing debts shall be discharged forthwith so far as the property of the debtor is sufficient to meet them.

(4) In the event of a landlord or other person distraining or having distrained on any goods or effects of a bankrupt within three months next before the date of the receiving order the debts to which priority is given by this section shall be a first charge on the goods or effects so distrained on, or the proceeds of the sale thereof:

Provided that in respect of any money paid under any such charge the landlord or other person shall have the same rights of priority as the person to whom such payment is made (i).

(5) This section shall apply, in the case of a deceased person who dies insolvent, as if he were a bankrupt, and as if the date of his death were substituted for the date of the receiving order (k).

(6) In the case of partners the joint estate shall be applicable in the first instance in payment of their joint debts, and the separate estate of each partner shall be applicable in the first instance in payment of his separate debts. If there is a surplus of the separate estates, it shall be dealt with as part of the joint estate. If there is a surplus of the joint estate, it shall be dealt with as part of the respective separate estates in proportion to the right and interest of each partner in the joint estate.

(7) Subject to the provisions of this Act, all debts proved in the bankruptcy shall be paid pari passu.

(8) If there is any surplus after payment of the foregoing debts, it shall be applied in payment of interest from the date of the receiving order at the rate of four pounds per centum per annum on all debts proved in the bankruptcy.

(9) Nothing in this section shall alter the effect of section three of the Partnership Act, 1890, or shall prejudice the provisions of the Friendly Societies Act, 1896, or of section fourteen of the Trustee Savings Banks Act, 1863, or the provisions of any enactment relating to deeds of arrangement respecting the payment of expenses incurred by the trustee under a deed of arrangement which has been avoided by the bankruptcy of the debtor (l).

53 & 54 Vict. c. 39.
59 & 60 Vict. c. 25.
26 & 27 Vict. c. 87.

* * * * * *

(a) This Act repeals the Bankruptcy Act, 1883, and the sections which are here set out are in substance a re-enactment of those of the earlier Act relating to the preferential payments in bankruptcy.

For the corresponding provisions of the Companies Act, 1929, relating to preferential payments in the winding-up of companies, see that Act, post, p. 3021.

As to when a bankruptcy commences, see In re Bumpus, Ex parte White, [1908] 2 K. B. 330.

(b) These words must be read subject to s. 130 (6) of the Act, which provides that in the administration of the property of a deceased debtor under an order of administration the official receiver or trustee shall have regard to any claim by the legal personal representative of the deceased debtor to payment of the proper funeral and testamentary expenses incurred by him in and about the debtor's estate, and such claims shall be deemed a preferential debt under the order, and shall, notwithstanding anything to the contrary in the provisions of the Act relating to the priority of other debts, be payable in full out of the debtor's estate in priority to all other debts.

(c) This expression would include general rates made by an urban or rural authority. It does not include harbour dues (In re H. & Co. (1890), 27 L. R. Ir. 271). It was held In re Mannesman Tube Co., [1901] 2 Ch. 93; 65 J. P. 377 (apparently without argument), to include meter charges for water: sed quære. The Mannesman Tube case was not followed by a county court judge in Worthing Corporation v. Orbell (1923), 45 M. C. C. 217, who applied the definition of "local rate" contained in the Local Loans Act, 1875,

Note to Section 33.

s. 34, ante, p. 2354, and held that a water rate was not a "local rate" within the Act since it was not applicable for public local purposes. See also In re an arranging debtor, [1921] 2 Ir. R. 1.

(d) A. was assessed to a local rate as the occupier of certain premises, and his rate was payable in advance for half a year on October 8th, 1886. On January 17th, 1887, A. became bankrupt, and at that time the rate remained unpaid. On February 1st, 1887, the official receiver, as trustee, sold A.'s interest in the premises to B., who allowed A. to remain in occupation as his tenant. The rate was claimed from the trustee for the whole half-year; the trustee offered to pay the proportion of it up to February 1st, being for the period during which he continued occupier. Held, that the bankrupt had not ceased to be occupier, and that the trustee was liable for the rate for the whole half-year (Ex parte Ystradyfodwg L. B., Re Thomas (1888), 57 L. J. Q. B. 39; 58 L. T. 113). See also in Re Smith, Ex parte Mason, ante, p. 2318. Where a trustee in bankruptcy entered upon the premises of the bankrupt and subsequently disclaimed the tenancy under s. 54 of the Bankruptcy Act, 1914, the trustee was held personally liable for the rates on the premises during the period between his entry and the subsequent disclaimer (In re Lister, Ex parte Bradford Overseers and Bradford Corporation, [1926] 1 Ch. 149; 90 J. P. 33).

(e) See Re Smith, Ex parte Fox (1886), 17 Q. B. D. 4; Re Klein, Ex parte Goodwin, [1906] W. N. 148; 22 T. L. R. 664; Cairney v. Back, [1906] 2 K. B. 746; Re Newspaper Proprietary Syndicate, Ltd., [1900] 2 Ch. 349; Winter German Opera, Ltd. (1907), 23 T. L. R. 662. The wages or salary referred to in this paragraph apply to the said wages or salary whether or not earned wholly or in part by way of commission (Bankruptcy (Amendment) Act, 1926, s. 2).

(f) Words in italics repealed by the Workmen's Compensation Act, 1923, s. 31 and Sch. II.

(g) This exception is taken from the Workmen's Compensation Act, 1906 (6 Edw. 7, c. 58), s. 5 (3). The costs of obtaining an award under that Act are not, however, a priority payment. See In re Jinks, [1914] W. N. 337.

(h) This exception was taken from the National Insurance Act, 1911, s. 110, see now s. 106 of the National Health Insurance Act, 1924.

(i) This sub-section was an addition to the previous law. The landlord who has distrained within the three months herein mentioned, must, out of the proceeds of his distress, pay the rates and other preferential debts mentioned in the section, but he, in turn, will have the right to be repaid before other creditors.

(k) The priority as to rates, etc., applies in the case of a deceased insolvent whose estate is being administered in the Chancery Division (In re Heywood, Parkington v. Heywood, [1897] 2 Ch. 593).

(l) The 28 & 29 Vict. c. 86 ("Bovills" Act) was repealed by the Partnership Act, 1890; but s. 5 was, in effect, reproduced by ss. 2 (3) (d) (e) and 3 thereof. By s. 2, in determining whether a partnership does or does not exist, regard shall be had to the following rules: (3) The receipt by a person of a share of the profits of a business is primâ facie evidence that he is a partner in the business, but the receipt of such a share or of a payment contingent on or varying with the profits of a business does not of itself make him a partner in the business; and in particular (d) the advance of money by way of loan to a person engaged or about to engage in any business on a contract with that person that the lender shall receive a rate of interest varying with the profits, or shall receive a share of the profits arising from carrying on the business, does not of itself make the lender a partner with the person or persons carrying on the business or liable as such. Provided that the contract is in writing, and signed by or on behalf of all the parties thereto; (e) a person receiving by way of annuity or otherwise a portion of the profits of a business in consideration of a sale by him of the goodwill of the business is not by reason only of such receipt a partner in the business or liable as such. And by s. 3 of the same Act, in the event of any person to whom money has been advancd by way of loan upon such a contract as is mentioned in the last foregoing section, or of any buyer of a goodwill in consideration of a share of the profits of the business, being adjudged a bankrupt, entering into an arrangement to pay his creditors less than twenty shillings in the pound, or dying in insolvent circumstances, the lender of the loan shall not be entitled to recover anything in respect of his loan; and the seller of the goodwill shall not be entitled to recover anything in respect of the share of profits contracted for until the claims of the other creditors of the borrower or buyer for valuable consideration in money or money's worth have been satisfied. But this section does not deprive the lender of his right to retain any security he may have taken for his money nor to foreclose his security (Ex parte Shiel, [1877] 4 Ch. D. 789; Badeley v. Consolidated Bank (1887), 34 Ch. D. 536).

The Friendly Societies Act, 1875, is now repealed by the Friendly Societies Act, 1896, but the provisions of s. 15 (7) are reproduced by s. 35 of that Act as follows, viz. (1) In the following cases, namely, (a) upon the death or bankruptcy of any officer of a registered society or branch having in his possession by virtue of his office any money or property belonging to the society or branch; or (b) if any execution, attachment, or other process is issued, or action or diligence raised against any such officer or against his property, his heirs, executors, or administrators, or trustee in bankruptcy; or the sheriff or other person executing the process, or the party using the action or diligence respectively, shall, upon demand in writing of the trustees of the society or branch, or of any two of them, or of any person authorised by the society or branch, or by the committee thereof, to make the demand, pay the money, and deliver over the property to the trustees of the society or branch in preference to any other debt or claim against the estate of the officer. (2) In this section the expression "bankruptcy" shall include liquidation of a debtor's affairs by arrangement in England, Cessio bonorum of a debtor in Scotland, and a petition for arrangements with creditors in Ireland; and the expression "trustee in bankruptcy" shall include a judicial factor in Scotland, and an assignee in Ireland. Upon the bankruptcy of an officer of a friendly society the trustees are, under this sub-section, entitled to preferential payment of sums received by him by virtue of his office, notwithstanding that these sums cannot be specifically traced, and are not at the time of the bankruptcy in his actual possession (In re Miller, Ex parte Official Receiver, [1893] 1 Q. B. 327; 57 J. P. 469, applied to the case of an ex-officer in In re Eilbeck, [1910] 1 K. B. 136).

The Trustee Savings Bank Act, 1863 (26 & 27 Vict. c. 87), s. 14, provides that the executors, trustees in bankruptcy, etc., of officers of savings banks shall pay any money due to savings banks before any other debts.

THE GAS (STANDARD OF CALORIFIC POWER) ACT, 1916.

(6 & 7 GEO. 5, c. 25.)

An Act to authorise as respects gas undertakings the substitution of a standard of calorific power for a standard of illuminating power (a).

[3rd August, 1916.]

Power to substitute standard of carlorific power for standard of illuminating power.

1.—(1) Where, by virtue of any Act or Order confirmed by Act of Parliament regulating the undertaking of any company, authority, or person authorised to supply gas in any area in the United Kingdom (hereinafter referred to as the undertakers), the gas supplied by the undertakers is required to be of a prescribed illuminating power, and the undertakers are liable to penalties in the case of the illuminating power of the gas provided by them being less than, or being less by a prescribed extent than, such prescribed illuminating power, then on application being made by the undertakers the appropriate Government department (b) may, if they think it expedient, and subject to such conditions, if any, as they consider proper, including such variation as they may think desirable of the prescribed pressure at which the gas is to be supplied, by order—

(a) substitute for the prescribed standard of illuminating power a prescribed standard of calorific power;

(b) exempt the undertakers from penalties in respect of a deficiency in illuminating power and substitute for the provisions imposing such penalties provisions imposing penalties in the case of deficiency in calorific power; and

(c) substitute for the provisions as to testing for illuminating power provisions as to testing for calorific power; and on the making of such an order the Act or Order regulating the undertaking shall have effect as amended by the order.

(2) In considering the expediency of making such an order the department shall have special regard to whether the undertakers have erected and worked, or are prepared to erect and work, suitable crude benzol recovery plant for the production of benzol and toluol.

(3) Before making an order under this section the appropriate Government department (b) shall require the undertakers to give public notice, in such manner as the department may consider best adapted for informing persons affected, of the application for an order under this section, and of the calorific standard proposed to be adopted, and as to the manner in which and time within which objections may be made, and shall consider any objections which may be duly made, and shall, where they think it expedient to do so, hold an inquiry, and the costs (if any) incurred by the department in connection with the inquiry shall be borne by the undertakers.

(4) For the purposes of this section " the appropriate Government department " means—

(a) in cases where the undertakers are a local authority, the Local Government Board (c), or the Secretary for Scotland, or the Local Government Board for Ireland, as the case may be ; and (b) in any other case, the Board of Trade.

(a) The special Act or order applicable to a gas undertaking makes provision for a standard of illuminating power, the minimum power usually required being a light equal to fourteen sperm candles. For some time past, however, conditions have changed, consequent on the introduction of the incandescent gas mantle and the development of the use of gas for cooking, heating, and power, whereby the importance of a high illuminating power is greatly lessened. The Act provides that, subject to certain conditions, a standard of calorific power may be substituted for the prescribed standard of illuminating power. See generally as to the latter standard the provisions of the Gasworks Clauses Act, 1871, ante, p. 2315.

See further as to the power of the Board of Trade to make orders providing for the repeal of any enactments or other provisions requiring the undertakers to supply gas of any particular illuminating or calorific value, and for substituting power to charge for thermal units supplied in the form of gas, the Gas Regulation Act, 1920 (10 & 11 Geo. 5, c. 28), post, p. 2807. The Gas Undertakings Act, 1929, post, p. 3025, requires the Board of Trade to make such orders in the case of undertakers supplying more than 20 million cubic feet of gas in any year subsequent to 1927.

(b) See the definition of this expression in sub-s. (4).

(c) The powers under this Act were transferred to the Ministry of Health by 9 & 10 Geo. 5, c. 21, s. 3 (1), post, p. 2751. They have again been transferred to the Board of Trade by an Order in Council made on November 9th, 1920, under sub-ss. (3) and (4) of the same section.

Short title.

2. This Act may be cited as the Gas (Standard of Calorific Power) Act, 1916.

THE WAR CHARITIES ACT, 1916.

(6 & 7 Geo. 5, c. 43.)

An Act to provide for the Registration of Charities for purposes connected with the present War (a). [23rd August, 1916.]

Prohibition against raising money for war charities unless registered.

1.—(1) It shall not be lawful to make any appeal to the public for donations or subscriptions in money or in kind to any war charity as herein-after defined, or to raise or attempt to raise money for any such charity by promoting any bazaar, sale, entertainment or exhibition, or by any similar means, unless the charity is registered under this Act and the approval in writing of the committee or other governing body of the charity has been obtained, either directly or through any person duly authorised to give such approval on behalf of such governing body, and if any person contravenes the provisions of this section he shall be guilty of an offence against this Act :

Provided that this Act shall not apply to any collection at divine service in a place of public worship nor to any charity which may, under any regulations made under this Act, be exempted by the registration authority from the provisions of this section.

(2) This section, so far as it relates to registration, shall not apply to any charity until the expiration of one month after the passing of this Act, nor to any charity pending the decision of the registration authority on an application for the registration of such charity made within such month (b).

(a) This Act is included in the present volume because of the duties it imposes on the councils of boroughs and urban districts in connection with the registration of war charities as defined by s. 10, post, p. 2742. It has been extended to charities for the blind by 10 & 11 Geo. 5, c. 49, s. 3.
(b) Repealed by S. L. R. A., 1927

Note to Section 1.

Registration of war charities.

2.—(1) The registration authority shall —
(a) as respects the City of London, be the Mayor, Aldermen, and Commons of the City of London in common council assembled;
(b) as respects a municipal borough or urban district, be the council of the borough or district;
(c) elsewhere, be the county council:

Provided that any such council may act through a committee of the council, which may, if the council think fit, comprise persons (including women) who are not members of the council.

(2) Applications for registration or exemption under this Act shall be sent to the registration authority for the area in which the administrative centre of the charity is situate, and any question as to where the administrative centre of any charity is situate shall be finally determined by the Charity Commissioners.

(3) The registration authority may, before registering any charity, make such inquiries with respect to the charity as they think fit, but shall not refuse to register any charity having its administrative centre within the area of the authority unless they are satisfied that the charity is not established in good faith for charitable purposes, or will not comply with the conditions imposed by this Act, or that it will not be properly administered.

(4) An appeal from a refusal by a registration authority to register any charity shall lie to the Charity Commissioners, and, if as the result of such appeal the Charity Commissioners determine that the application for registration ought not to be refused, the registration authority shall register the charity.

(5) Every registration authority shall give to each charity registered or exempted a certificate of registration or exemption, and shall keep a register of the charities registered by them under this Act, and lists of all charities registration of which has been refused by them and of all charities which have been exempted from registration by them, and shall send to the Charity Commissioners a copy of such register and such lists, and shall from time to time notify the Charity Commissioners of any changes in the particulars entered in the register and of changes in such lists.

(6) The Charity Commissioners shall keep a combined register of all charities registered under this Act, and a combined list of all charities in respect of which applications for registration under this Act have been refused, and a combined list of all charities which have been exempted from registration under this Act.

(7) Any expenses incurred by a council as registration authority under this Act may be paid out of any fund or rate out of which the expenses of the council are payable (a).

(8) Any expenses incurred by the London County Council under this Act shall be defrayed out of the county fund as expenses for general county purposes.

(a) In the case of an urban authority the expenses will be paid out of the general rate or general rate fund. See the P. H. A., 1875, s. 207, ante, p. 495, as amended by the R. & V. Act, 1925, ante, p. 1633.

Conditions to be complied with by registered charities.

3. Charities registered under this Act shall comply with the following conditions—
(i) the charity shall be administered by a responsible committee or other body consisting of not less than three persons; and minutes

Section 3.

shall be kept of the meetings of the committee or other body in which shall be recorded the names of the members of the committee or other body attending the meetings;

(ii) proper books of account shall be kept, and such accounts shall include the total receipts and the total expenditure of any collection, bazaar, sale, entertainment, or exhibition held with the approval of the governing body of the charity, and the accounts shall be audited at such intervals as may be prescribed by regulations under this Act by some person or persons approved by the registration authority, and copies of the accounts so audited shall be sent to the registration authority;

(iii) all moneys received by the charity shall be paid into a separate account at such bank or banks as may be specified as respects the charity in the register;

(iv) such particulars with regard to accounts and other records as the registration authority or the Charity Commissioners may require shall be furnished to the registration authority or the Charity Commissioners, and the books and accounts of the charity shall be open to inspection at any time by any person duly authorised by the registration authority or by the Charity Commissioners.

Regulations.

4. The Charity Commissioners may, subject to the approval of the Secretary of State, make regulations (a)—

(a) prescribing the forms for applications under this Act and the particulars to be contained therein;

(b) prescribing the form of the registers to be kept under this Act and the particulars to be entered therein;

(c) providing for the inspection of registers and lists kept under this Act, and the making and the furnishing and certification of copies thereof and extracts therefrom;

(d) prescribing the fee (not exceeding ten shillings) to be paid on registration, and the fees for making or obtaining copies of, and extracts from, registers and lists;

(e) requiring notification to the registration authority of any changes requiring alterations in the particulars entered in the register;

(f) providing for the exemption of charities from this Act and prescribing the grounds of exemption;

(g) generally for carrying this Act into effect.

(a) Various regulations under this section relating to war charities and to charities for the blind (to which this Act has been extended) have been made by the Commissioners. These are too long for insertion here, but they will be found in the annual volumes on Local Government published by Butterworth & Co.

Removal from the register.

5.—(1) The registration authority, if satisfied that any charity registered under this Act is not being carried on in good faith for charitable purposes, or is not complying with any of the conditions imposed under this Act, or is not being properly administered, may remove the charity from the register, and shall notify such removal to the Charity Commissioners, and if they so remove it shall give public notice of its removal:

Provided that an appeal shall lie to the Charity Commissioners against the decision of the registration authority to remove a charity from the register.

(2) Where any charity is removed from the register the Charity Commissioners may, notwithstanding that an appeal is pending,—

(a) order any bank or other person who holds money or securities on behalf of the charity not to part with such money or securities without the authority of the Commissioners;

Section 5.

(b) order any cash or securities held for any such charity to be paid or transferred to the Official Trustees of Charitable Funds and for that purpose may make, without any application to them for the purpose, any such order as they are authorised under section two of the Charitable Trusts Act, 1860, to make;

23 & 24 Vict. c. 136.

and if any person fails to comply with any such order he shall, without prejudice to any other liability, be guilty of an offence against this Act.

(3) The Charity Commissioners may also, where a charity is removed from the register, establish a scheme for the regulation of the charity in accordance with their ordinary jurisdiction under the Charitable Trusts Acts, 1853 to 1914, as if the charity were a charity within the jurisdiction of the Commissioners under those Acts, but without the necessity of any application being made for the purpose.

Powers of Charity Commissioners for purposes of appeals.

6. For the purposes of an appeal under this Act the Charity Commissioners shall, in relation to charities registered or applying to be registered under this Act, have all such powers with respect to requiring accounts, statements, written answers to inquiries, the attendance of persons for examination on oath or otherwise, the production of documents, the furnishing of copies and extracts from documents, the examination of registers and records, and the transmission of documents for examination, as are exercisable by them under the Charitable Trusts Acts, 1853 to 1914, in relation to charities within the jurisdiction of the Commissioners under those Acts, and those Acts shall apply accordingly.

Powers as to unregistered war charities.

7.—(1) Where the Charity Commissioners are satisfied on the representation of the registration authority or a chief officer of police that there is reasonable ground for believing that any unregistered war charity is not being or has not been carried on in good faith for charitable purposes, or is not complying or has not complied with conditions substantially corresponding with the conditions imposed on registered charities under this Act, or is not being or has not been properly administered, the Commissioners may exercise as respects the charity any of the powers which are exercisable by them with respect to a charity which, having been registered under this Act, has been removed from the register, and for the purpose of an inquiry into any charity under this section the Charity Commissioners shall have such powers in relation to the charity as are conferred by this Act on the Commissioners for the purposes of appeals:

Provided that the Charity Commissioners shall not exercise the power of establishing a scheme for the regulation of any charity under this section without giving the charity a full opportunity of being heard.

(2) This section shall apply to unregistered war charities whether or not an application for registration has been made, and to war charities registration of which has been refused.

False statements, etc.

8. If any person in any application for registration or exemption or in any notification of any change requiring alterations in the registered particulars makes any false statement or false representation, or if any person falsely represents himself to be an officer or agent of a war charity, or if he fails to send any notification which he is required under this Act to send, he shall be guilty of an offence against this Act.

Penalties for offences.

9.—(1) Any person guilty of an offence against this Act shall be liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding one hundred pounds, or to imprisonment with or without hard labour for a term not exceeding three months.

(2) No proceedings for an offence against this Act shall be instituted except by or with the consent of the Charity Commissioners.

Section 10.

Interpretation.

10. For the purposes of this Act—

The expression "war charity" means any fund, institution, or association (whether established before or after the commencement of this Act) having for its object or amongst its objects the relief of suffering or distress, the supply of needs or comforts, or any other charitable purpose connected with the present war, but shall not include any fund, institution or association established before the commencement of the present war where any such object as aforesaid is subsidiary only to the principal purposes of the charity (a), nor shall it include the Royal Patriotic Fund Corporation or the Statutory Committee or any local or district committee established under the Naval and Military War Pensions, etc., Act, 1915.

5 & 6 Geo. 5, c. 83.

Any question whether a charity is a war charity shall be finally determined by the Charity Commissioners.

(a) A registered trade union may be a "war charity" within this Act as extended by 10 & 11 Geo. 5, c. 49 (Barber v. Chudley (1923), 87 J. P. 69).

THE DEFENCE OF THE REALM (ACQUISITION OF LAND) ACT, 1916.

(6 & 7 GEO. 5, C. 63.)

An Act to make provision with respect to the possession and acquisition of land occupied or used for the Defence of the Realm in connection with the present War and for other purposes connected therewith (a).

[22nd December, 1916.]

1 (b).—[Continuation of possession of land occupied for the purposes of the defence of the realm.]

(a) This Act is amended by 10 & 11 Geo. 5, c. 79, post, p. 2823. Those parts of the Act which are now spent have been repealed by the S. L. R. A., 1927.
(b) Repealed by S. L. R. A., 1927.

2 (a).—[Power to remove buildings and works.]

(a) Repealed by S. L. R. A., 1927.

3 (a).—[Power to acquire land permanently.]

(a) This section with the exception of sub-s. (7) was repealed by S. L. R. A., 1927.

(7) Any person having power (whether subject to any consent or conditions or not) to sell land authorised to be acquired by any Government department may, subject to the like consent and conditions, grant or demise the land in perpetuity or for any term of years to the Government department at such fee farm or other rent, secured by such condition of re-entry or otherwise as may be agreed upon, and with or without a right of renewal, or grant to the Government department an option to acquire the land:

Provided that, where the power to sell arises under the Settled Lands Acts, 1882 to 1890, the powers conferred by this section shall be exercised only with the consent of the trustees of the settlement for the purposes of those Acts, or with the sanction of the court.

User of land acquired.

4. Any land which, or an interest in which, has been acquired under this Act may be used by any Government department for the purpose for which it was used during the war or for any other purpose for which it could have been used had the land been acquired under the Defence Acts, 1842 to 1873 (a), or the Military Lands Acts, 1892 to 1903 (b), notwithstanding that such user could, but for this Act, have been restrained as being in contravention of any covenant or for any other reason, and no person interested in any adjoining or neighbouring land or entitled to any riparian rights shall be entitled to restrain such user; but if, apart from this Act, any such person would have been entitled to restrain such user, then, if application for the purpose is made within three years after the date of the acquisition of the land under this Act or after the commencement of the user causing the depreciation, whichever may be the later, he shall,—

(i) if the land is used for a purpose for which it could have been used had the land been acquired under the Defence Acts, 1842 to 1873, or the Military Lands Acts, 1892 to 1903, be entitled to such compensation in respect of any breach of a restrictive covenant or damage caused by the pollution, abstraction, or diversion of water, or by the emission of noxious fumes, as in default of agreement may be determined in manner provided by this Act (c); and

(ii) if the land is used for any other purpose, be entitled to such compensation in respect of any damage occasioned by such user as in default of agreement may be determined in manner provided by this Act (c):

Provided that—

(a) where such compensation is claimed in respect of any land, the department may, at any time before such claim is determined, and on payment of all costs properly incurred by the claimant in respect of his claim, require the claimant to sell the land or his interest therein at such price as would have been proper if the value of the land had not been so depreciated, such price in default of agreement to be determined in like manner as if the land had been acquired under section three of this Act; and

(b) nothing in this section shall be construed as depriving any person of any right to recover damages in respect of any injury to property caused by accident due to such user as aforesaid; and

(c) in the user of land or an interest in land acquired under this Act the provisions of the Alkali, &c. Works Regulation Act, 1906 (d), and the Rivers Pollution Prevention Acts, 1876 and 1893 (e), and of any local Act dealing with the like matters, shall be complied with, and those Acts shall apply accordingly, and nothing in this section shall affect the powers conferred by any Act, whether public, general or local, on any local authority, board of conservancy, or other public authority, with respect to the prevention of the pollution of rivers, or the abatement of nuisances caused by the emission of smoke or other noxious fumes.

(a) The Defence Acts are 5 & 6 Vict. c. 94; 23 & 24 Vict. c. 112; 36 & 37 Vict. c. 72.

(b) The Military Lands Acts are 55 & 56 Vict. c. 43; 60 & 61 Vict. c. 6; 63 & 64 Vict. c. 56; and 3 Edw. 7, c. 47.

(c) See s. 8, post, p. 2746. See also the provision in 10 & 11 Geo. 5, c. 79, s. 1 (2), post, p. 2823, as to compensation in respect of the sale of land free from restrictive covenants.

(d) See the Act referred to, 6 Edw. 7, c. 14, ante, p. 2663.

(e) These Acts are 39 & 40 Vict. c. 75, ante, p. 706, and 56 & 57 Vict. c. 31, ante, p. 939.

Power to sell land acquired under Act.

5.—(1) Where any land or any interest therein has by virtue of this Act been acquired by any Government department, the department may at any time thereafter sell, lease, or otherwise dispose of the land or interest (a).

Section 5.

(2) Where any such land is disposed of, then on the execution and delivery to the purchaser by the Government department concerned of the necessary or proper assurance of the land disposed of, the purchaser shall notwithstanding any defect in the title of such Government department thereto stand possessed thereof for such estate or interest as may be expressed or intended to be assured to him, freed and absolutely discharged (save as in the assurance may be expressed) from all prior estates, interests, rights, and claims therein or thereto:

Provided that if at any time after such disposition any such prior estate, interest, right, or claim as aforesaid is established by the person entitled thereto, there shall be paid to such person compensation to be determined in manner provided by the Lands Clauses Acts, as modified by this Act, with respect to interests in lands which by mistake have been omitted to be purchased (b).

(3) Before any Government department sell any land so acquired or interest therein they shall, unless such land is land upon which buildings of a permanent nature have been erected wholly or partly at the expense of the State or at the request of, or by arrangement with, any Government department, or is land used in connection with such buildings, first offer to sell the same to the person then entitled to the lands (if any) from which the same were originally severed; or if such person refuse to purchase the same, or cannot after diligent inquiry be found, then the like offer shall be made to the person or to the several persons whose lands shall immediately adjoin the lands so proposed to be sold (c).

(4) If any such persons be desirous of purchasing such lands, then within six weeks after such offer they shall signify their desire in that behalf to the Government department concerned, or if they decline such offer, or if for six weeks they neglect to signify their desire to purchase such lands, the right of pre-emption of every such person so declining or neglecting in respect of the lands included in such offer shall cease.

(5) If any person entitled to such pre-emption be desirous of purchasing any such lands and such person and the Government department concerned do not agree as to the price thereof, or other consideration therefor, then such price or other consideration shall be determined in manner provided by this Act (d).

(6) The provisions of the last three foregoing subsections shall apply in the case of a lease of land for a term exceeding twenty-one years in like manner as they apply to a sale of land, except where the land is leased for the purpose of the development thereof in connection with any factory, building, camp, or other premises erected or established on land retained by the Government.

(a) As to the power to dispose of land free from restrictive covenants, see 10 & 11 Geo. 5, c. 79, s. 1, post, p. 2823.

(b) The provisions of the Lands Clauses Act, 1845, as to interest in lands which by mistake have been omitted to be purchased, are contained in ss. 124–126 of that Act, ante, p. 2132. The schedule to this Act does not modify these provisions, except in so far as it affects compensation generally.

(c) This provision, and that in each of the three following sub-sections, take the place of the sections of the Lands Clauses Act, ss. 128–131 (ante, p. 2133), which were expressly excluded from incorporation in this Act by rule 2 of the schedule. The words in italics are repealed by 10 & 11 Geo. 5, c. 79, s. 2 (1), post, p. 2823.

(d) See s. 8, post, p. 2746.

Provisions as to highways.

6.—(1) Where, in the exercise or purported exercise of any prerogative right of His Majesty or any powers conferred by or under any enactment relating to the defence of the realm, or by agreement, or otherwise, for purposes connected with the present war, any railway or tramway or any cable line or pipes have been laid along, across, over, or under any public highway, it shall be lawful after the termination of the war (a) for the railway or tramway or the cable line or pipes to continue to be used and maintained along, across, over, or under the highway, subject to such conditions as the Board of Trade (b), in the case of railways and tramways, and in other cases as the Commission (c) after giving the local authority (d) and the authority or person responsible for the maintenance of the highway or of any other railway or tramway laid thereon an opportunity of being heard, may by order prescribe, and any such authority or person may apply to the Board or Commission to make such an order :

Provided that where any such railway or tramway crosses the roadway on the level it shall not be lawful to use the crossing after the expiration of two years from the termination of the present war (a) without the consent of the local authority (e).

(2) In the event of the use of any such railway or tramway (f) being discontinued, the Government department by whom it was laid down or used shall take up and remove the rails and restore the highway on which they are laid to the satisfaction of the authority or person responsible for the maintenance of such highway.

(3) Where in exercise of any such right or powers as aforesaid any public highway has been closed, it may be kept closed after the termination of the present war (a), but not, by virtue of this section, beyond the expiration of twelve months after such termination unless the consent of the Commission is obtained (g), and the Commission before giving such consent shall give to the local authority and the authority or person responsible for the maintenance of the highway an opportunity of being heard, and the Commission may require as a condition of their consent the provision of another highway in the place of the highway so closed, and any person interested in any land adjoining any highway so closed who suffers loss or damage in consequence of the closing thereof shall be entitled to such compensation as, in default of agreement, may be determined in manner provided by this Act to be the amount of such loss or damage (h).

(4) For the purposes of this section the expression "local authority" means, in the case of a borough or urban district, the council of the borough or urban district, and elsewhere the county council.

(5) Where any such railway, tramway, cable line, or pipes have been laid along, across, over, or under any public highway, or a public highway has been closed, in pursuance of an agreement with, or subject to any undertaking given to, the authority or person responsible for the maintenance of the highway, nothing in this section shall authorise the continuance of the user of the railway, tramway, cable line, or pipes, or the continuance of the closing of the highway beyond the time specified in the agreement or undertaking without the consent of the authority or person so responsible.

(a) As to the date of the termination of the war see the Termination of the Present War (Definition) Act, 1918 (8 & 9 Geo. 5, c. 59). By an Order in Council under that Act dated August 10th, 1921, the date fixed was August 31st, 1921 (S. R. & O. (1921), No. 1276).

(b) Now M. of T. (see 9 & 10 Geo. 5, c. 50, and orders made thereunder).

(c) That is the Railway and Canal Commission.

(d) See sub-s. (4).

(e) See sub-s. (4). As to the right of appeal where the consent is unreasonably withheld see s. 4 (2) of the Act of 1920, post, p. 2825. See also the power of the Commission to grant an extension of time under this section in s. 1 (1) of the Railway and Canal Commission (Consents) Act, 1922, post, p. 2849.

Section 7.

7 (a).—[Provisions as to water, light, heat, and power companies and authorities.]

(a) Repealed by S. L. R. A., 1927.

Determination of questions by Railway and Canal Commission.

8.—(1) All questions as to compensation or as to the purchase price of land or any interest therein to be paid under this Act shall,—

(a) if both parties agree within such time as may be allowed by the Commission, be determined by a single arbitrator agreed by the parties;

(b) if either party so requires within such time as may be allowed by the Commission, be referred to such one of a panel of referees to be appointed in like manner as the panel appointed under Part I. of the Finance (1909–10) Act, 1910, as may be selected by the Reference Committee as defined by section thirty-three of that Act, whose decision shall, subject to an appeal to the Commission on any question of law, be final (a);

10 Edw. 7, c. 8.

(c) in any other case, be determined by the Commission.

51 & 52 Vict. c. 25.

(2) The provisions of the Railway and Canal Traffic Act, 1888 (b), as amended by any subsequent enactment, relating to the procedure for the determination of questions by the Commission under that Act, including the provisions relating to appeals, shall apply to the determination of questions, including appeals from referees, referred to the Commission under this Act, as if they were herein re-enacted and in terms made applicable to this Act: Provided that—

(a) the Commission may in any case in which they think it expedient to do so call in the aid of one or more assessors specially qualified, and hear the case wholly or partially with the assistance of such assessors;

(b) the Commission may hold a local enquiry for the purposes of this Act by any one of their members, or by any officer of the Commission or other person whom they may direct to hold the same, and the said provisions of the Railway and Canal Traffic Act, 1888, except the provisions relating to appeals, shall, so far as applicable, apply to such enquiries, and any officer or person directed to hold an enquiry shall have power to administer an oath and shall report the result of the enquiry to the Commission;

(c) the Commission may act by two of their members, one of whom shall be the judge;

(d) the discretion of the Commission with respect to costs shall be subject to the provisions of the Lands Clauses Acts as modified by this Act as to costs, in cases where those Acts as so modified apply, but shall not be limited in the manner provided by section two of the Railway and Canal Traffic Act, 1894 (c).

57 & 58 Vict. c. 54.

(a) Under the Finance Act, 1910 (10 Edw. 7, c. 8), s. 33, the Reference Committee for England is to consist of the Lord Chief Justice, the Master of the Rolls, and the President of the Surveyors' Institution. By s. 34 of the same Act such number of persons, being persons who have been admitted Fellows of the Surveyors' Institution or other persons having experience in the valuation of land as may be appointed by the Reference Committee, are to form a panel of persons to act as referees for the purposes of Part I. of the Act. The provision that the decisions of the referee shall be final may be compared with 1 & 2 Geo. 5, c. 2, s. 7, under which the Commissioners of Inland Revenue have a right of appeal from the decision of a referee.

(b) See the Act, ante, p. 2499.

(c) Under the Act of 1888, the Commissioners have no power to award costs on either side unless they are of opinion that either the claim or the defence has been frivolous or vexatious (57 & 58 Vict. c. 54, s. 2). But this does not apply to cases under this Act, and in cases where the Lands Clauses Act applies the Commissioners have the powers conferred by rule 10 of the Schedule.

Payment of compensation and purchase money.

9. Until Parliament otherwise determines, all compensation and purchase money payable by a Government department under this Act, and all other expenses incurred by any Government department thereunder, shall be defrayed out of money provided by Parliament.

Evidence of certificate by Government department.

10. For the purposes of this Act a certificate by any Government department—

(a) that possession has been taken of any land for purposes connected with the present war; or

(b) that the department is in possession of such land or is the occupying department within the meaning of this Act; or

(c) that any sums therein specified have been expended by the State in erecting, constructing, or making buildings, works, or improvements for purposes connected with the present war on, over, or under any land; or

(d) that any such buildings, works, or improvements have been erected, constructed, or made with the consent of the occupying department at the expense of a person not being a person interested in the land; or

(e) that a railway or tramway has been laid along, across, over, or under a public highway, or that a public highway has been closed, in the exercise of any prerogative right of His Majesty, or any powers conferred by or under any enactment relating to the defence of the realm for purposes connected with the present war; or shall be primâ facie evidence of the facts therein stated (a).

(f) that water, light, heat, or power has been supplied to any premises on the requisition or at the request of a Government department for purposes connected with the present war;

(a) The certificate is only primâ facie evidence, and it may be rebutted by evidence contradicting it on any of the points above mentioned.

Application of building laws.

11.—(1) Any street, building, or work which has been formed, erected, or constructed otherwise than in accordance with the provisions of any general or local Acts relating to streets or buildings, and with any byelaws or regulations made thereunder on any land to which section one of this Act applies, or which has been acquired under section three thereof, shall, unless the authority by whom such provisions, byelaws, or regulations are enforced consent to the continuance thereof, either be so altered as to comply with such provisions, byelaws, or regulations, or be discontinued or removed within such reasonable time, not being less than two years, after such land or building has ceased to be occupied by a Government department as such authority may order, and the owner (as defined by such Acts, byelaws, or regulations) shall have power to enter upon and carry out any works without the consent of any other person, and if he fails to comply with such order such authority as aforesaid may remove any such building or work and recover the expense incurred in such removal from the owner in a summary manner as a civil debt (a).

(2) If any person feels aggrieved by the neglect or refusal of such authority to give its consent, or by the conditions on which such consent is given, or as to the time within which such discontinuance or removal is ordered, he may appeal to the Local Government Board (b), whose decision shall be final and shall have effect as if it were a decision of the authority: Provided that the Board may before considering any such appeal require the appellant to deposit such sum not exceeding ten pounds to cover the costs of appeal as may be fixed by rules to be made by them.

(a) That is to say, in manner provided by the Summary Jurisdiction Act, 1879, ss. 6, 35.

(b) Now the Ministry of Health.

Section 12.

Interpretation.

12.—(1) For the purposes of this Act, and of the provisions of the Lands Clauses Acts incorporated with this Act, land includes any building or part of a building, any pier, jetty, or other structure on the shore or bed of the sea or any river, and any easement or right over or in relation to land.

(2) Where consideration has been given or an advance made by the State for the erection, construction, or making of any building, work, or improvement on over or under any land for purposes connected with the present war, or where any money which would otherwise have been payable to the State has with the consent of a Government department been applied towards the erection, construction, or making of any such building, work, or improvement, the building, work, or improvement shall for the purposes of this Act be deemed to have been erected, constructed, or made wholly or partly, as the case may be, at the expense of the State.

(3) For the purposes of this Act, except where the context otherwise requires, the expression "building" includes machinery and plant fixed or attached to the building, the expression "common" shall include any land subject to be enclosed under the Inclosure Acts, 1845 to 1882 (a), and any town or village green, and any other land subject to any right of common; the expression "open space" shall mean any land laid out as a public garden or public park or used for the purposes of public recreation; and the expression "allotment" shall mean any allotment set out for any public purpose under an Inclosure Act or award.

(4) For the purposes of this Act references to the Defence Acts, 1842 to 1873, and the Military Lands Acts, 1892 to 1903, shall include references to those Acts as applied by the Naval Works Act, 1895 (b).

58 & 59 Vict. c. 35.

(5) For the purposes of this Act a competent naval or military authority acting under the Acts relating to the Defence of the Realm shall be deemed to be a Government department.

(a) With these Acts must now be read the Commons Act, 1899. See s. 24 of that Act.

(b) See the notes to s. 4, ante, p. 2743, as to the Defence Acts and the Military Lands Acts. The Naval Works Act, 1895 (58 & 59 Vict. c. 35), extends these Acts with some modifications to the Admiralty and His Majesty's Naval Forces.

13 (a).—[Savings.]

(3) Where possession has been taken of any land under any agreement authorising the retention of the land for any period specified in the agreement, nothing in this Act shall authorise the retention of possession after the expiration of such period without the consent of the person with whom the agreement was made or the persons deriving title under him.

(a) This section, with the exception of sub-section (3), was repealed by S. L. R. A., 1927.

Saving of powers.

14. The powers conferred by this Act shall be in addition to and not in derogation of any other right or power of His Majesty (a).

(a) As to the powers of the Crown by virtue of the Royal Prerogative to take possession of land for the defence of the realm without compensation, see Re a Petition of Right, [1915] 3 K. Section 3 (5).

SCHEDULE (a).

(a) This schedule was repealed by S. L. R. A., 1927.

THE STATUTORY UNDERTAKINGS (TEMPORARY INCREASE OF CHARGES) ACT, 1918.

(8 & 9 GEO. 5, c. 34.)

An Act to enable the statutory provisions affecting the charges which may be made in respect of certain undertakings to be temporarily modified (a).

[8th August, 1918.]

Modifications of statutory provisions affecting charges.

1.—(1) Where it appears to the appropriate Government Department (b) that the financial position of any undertaking to which this Act applies (c) has been adversely affected by circumstances arising out of the present war, the Department may, if they think fit, by order provide for the modification of any statutory provisions (b) regulating the charges to be made by the undertakers, and of any statutory provisions consequential on or supplemental to any such provisions as aforesaid, for such period during the continuance of this Act (d), in such manner, and subject to such conditions, as appear to the Department to be just and reasonable:

Provided that (e)—

(a) where the undertakers are a local authority (b) no modification shall be authorised which will increase the statutory maximum charge by more than fifty per cent., or which is more than sufficient so far as can be estimated to enable the undertaking to be carried on without loss; and

(b) in any other case no modification shall be authorised which is more than sufficient to enable with due care and management a dividend on the ordinary stock or shares of the undertaking to be paid at three-quarters of the standard or maximum rate of dividend, if any, prescribed for the undertaking, or at three-quarters of the pre-war rate of dividend, whichever is lower.

(2) An application to a Department for the purposes of this Act shall be accompanied by such information, certified in such manner, as the Department may require with respect to the financial position of the undertaking in question; and before making an order the appropriate Government Department shall require the undertakers to give public notice of the application for an order under this Act, and as to the manner in which, and time within which, representations may be made; and to give a similar notice in writing to the council of each county, borough, or urban or rural district, within which any part of the undertaking, or limits of supply of the undertaking, is situate; and the Department shall consider any representations which may be duly made.

(3) The undertakings to which this Act applies are tramway undertakings (f), including light railways constructed wholly or mainly on public roads, and undertakings for the supply of gas, water, hydraulic power, and electricity (g), and in calculating the maximum charge which may be authorised under this Act in respect of such tramway undertakings fractions of a halfpenny shall be counted as a halfpenny.

(4) For the purposes of this Act—

The expression "statutory provisions" includes the provisions of any order having the force of an Act;

The expression "appropriate Government Department" means, in relation to gas and water undertakings carried on by local authorities, the Local Government Board, and in relation to other undertakings the Board of Trade (h);

The expression "local authority" includes any commissioners, trustees, or other public body of persons carrying on, otherwise than for purposes of private profit, any undertaking to which this Act applies;

The expression "pre-war rate of dividend" means the average rate of dividend for the three financial years immediately preceding the war.

(a) This is a temporary Act. It originally provided that it should be in force only until the expiration of two years after the termination of the war. See s. 3 (2), infra. It was provided, however, by the Expiring Laws Act, 1922, that the Act, with its amending Act, the Tramways (Temporary Increase of Charges) Act, 1920, post, p. 2804, shall remain in force, so far as it relates to tramway undertakings, until March 31st, 1924. The Act has been continued in force by successive Expiring Laws Acts and is now continued in force until 31st December, 1931, by the Expiring Laws Continuance Act, 1928, in so far as it relates to tramway undertakings.

(b) For the definition of this expression, see sub-s. (4).

(c) As to the undertakings to which the Act applies, see sub-s. (3).

(d) See note (a), supra.

(e) The Tramways (Temporary Increase of Charges) Act, 1920 (10 & 11 Geo. 5, c. 14), s. 1, provides that the limitations contained in this proviso shall not apply to orders made by the Minister of Transport in relation to tramway undertakings, but that in lieu thereof the limitations mentioned in the Act of 1920 shall apply. See the Act, post, p. 2804.

(f) Orders are now made by the Ministry of Transport in relation to tramway undertakings. See the Act of 1920, already referred to. And see also the Ministry of Transport Act, 1919 (9 & 10 Geo. 5, c. 50), p. 2757, post.

(g) As stated in note (a), supra, the Act is now only in force as regards tramways.

(h) The only Government department now concerned is the Minister of Transport, see note (e), supra.

2. [Application to Scotland and Ireland.]

Short title and duration.

3.—(1) This Act may be cited as the Statutory Undertakings (Temporary Increase of Charges) Act, 1918.

(2) This Act shall have effect during the continuance of the present war and for a period of two years thereafter, and no longer (a).

(a) This subsection was repealed by S. L. R. A., 1927.

THE TERMINATION OF THE PRESENT WAR (DEFINITION) ACT, 1918.

(8 & 9 GEO. 5, c. 59.)

An Act to make provision for determining the date of the termination of the present war, and for purposes connected therewith.

[21st November, 1918.]

Power to determine date of termination of the present war.

1.—(1) His Majesty in Council may declare what date is to be treated as the date of the termination of the present war, and the present war shall be treated as having continued to, and as having ended on that date for the purposes of any provision in any Act of Parliament, Order in Council, or Proclamation, and, except where the context otherwise requires, of any provision in any contract, deed, or other instrument referring, expressly or impliedly, and in whatever form of words, to the present war or the present hostilities:

Provided that in the case of any such Act conferring powers on any Government Department, or any officer of any Government Department, exercisable during the continuance of the present war, if it appears to His Majesty that it is expedient that the powers shall cease before the date so fixed as aforesaid, His Majesty in Council may fix some earlier date for the termination of those powers (a).

(2) The date so declared shall be as nearly as may be the date of the exchange or deposit of ratifications of the treaty or treaties of peace:

Provided that, notwithstanding anything in this provision, the date declared as aforesaid shall be conclusive for all purposes of this Act (b).

(3) His Majesty in Council may also similarly declare what date is to be treated as the date of the termination of war between His Majesty and any particular State (c).

(a) Words in italics were repealed by S. L. R. A., 1927.

(b) By an Order in Council dated August 10th, 1921 (S. R. & O., 1921, No. 1276). August 31st, 1921, was declared to be the date of the termination of the war generally. See, however, the War Emergency Laws (Continuance) Act, 1920 (10 & 11 Geo. 5, c. 5), which provides for the continuance of various Acts, etc., whose duration depended on that of the war.

(c) Orders have been made under this section in relation to Germany (S. R. & O., 1920, No. 264), Austria (S. R. & O., 1920, No. 1347), Bulgaria (S. R. & O., 1920, No. 1612), Hungary (S. R. & O., 1921, No. 1284), Turkey (S. R. & O., 1924, No. 819).

2. This Act may be cited as the Termination of the Present War (Definition) Act, 1918. Short title.

MINISTRY OF HEALTH ACT, 1919.

(9 & 10 GEO. 5, c. 21.)

An Act to establish a Ministry of Health to exercise in England and Wales powers with respect to Health and Local Government, and confer upon the Chief Secretary certain powers with respect to Health in Ireland, and for purposes connected therewith. [3rd June, 1919.]

1. For the purpose of promoting the health of the people throughout England and Wales, and for the purpose of the exercise of the powers transferred or conferred by this Act, it shall be lawful for His Majesty to appoint a Minister of Health (hereinafter called the "Minister"), who shall hold office during His Majesty's pleasure (a). Establishment of Minister.

2. It shall be the duty of the Minister, in the exercise and performance of any powers and duties transferred to or conferred upon him by or in pursuance of this Act, to take all such steps as may be desirable to secure the preparation, effective carrying out and co-ordination of measures conducive to the health of the people, including measures for the prevention and cure of diseases, the avoidance of fraud in connection with alleged remedies therefor, the treatment of physical and mental defects, the treatment and care of the blind, the initiation and direction of research, the collection, preparation, publication, and dissemination of information and statistics relating thereto, and the training of persons for health services (a). General powers and duties of Minister in relation to health.

(a) An Order in Council of June 25th, 1919, fixed July 1st, 1919, for the coming into operation of this section.

3.—(1) There shall be transferred to the Minister— Transfer of powers and duties to and from Minister.

(a) all the powers and duties of the Local Government Board (a);

(b) all the powers and duties of the Insurance Commissioners and the Welsh Insurance Commissioners (b);

(c) all the powers of the Board of Education with respect to attending to the health of expectant mothers and nursing mothers and of children who have not attained the age of five years and are not in attendance at schools recognised by the Board of Education (c);

Section 3.

(d) . . . (d);

2 Edw. 7, c. 17. 8 & 9 Geo. 5, c. 43.

(e) all the powers of the Privy Council and of the Lord President of the Council under the Midwives Acts, 1902 and 1918 (e);

8 Edw. 7, c. 67.

(f) such powers of supervising the administration of Part I. of the Children Act, 1908 (which relates to infant life protection), as have heretofore been exercised by the Secretary of State (f):

Provided that—

1 & 2 Geo. 5, c. 55.

(i) the power conferred on the Insurance Commissioners by the proviso to subsection (2) of section sixteen of the National Insurance Act, 1911, of retaining and applying for the purposes of research such sums as are therein mentioned shall not be transferred to the Minister, but the duties heretofore performed by the Medical Research Committee shall after the date of the commencement of this Act be carried on by or under the direction of a Committee of the Privy Council appointed by His Majesty for that purpose, and any property held for the purposes of the former Committee shall after that date be transferred to and vested in such persons as the body by whom such duties as aforesaid are carried on may appoint, and be held by them for the purposes of that body (g); and

(ii) . . . (h).

(2) It shall be lawful for His Majesty from time to time by Order in Council to transfer to the Minister (i)—

(a) all or any of the powers and duties of the Minister of Pensions with respect to the health of disabled officers and men after they have left the service; (k)

(b) all or any of the powers and duties of the Secretary of State under the enactments relating to lunacy and mental deficiency (l);

(c) any other powers and duties in England and Wales of any Government department which appear to His Majesty to relate to matters affecting or incidental to the health of the people.

(3) It shall be lawful for His Majesty from time to time by Order in Council to transfer from the Minister to any other Government department any of the powers and duties of the Minister, whether relating to the relief of the poor or otherwise, which appear to His Majesty not to relate to matters affecting or incidental to the health of the people (m).

And it is hereby declared that it is the intention of this Act that, in the event of provision being made by Act of Parliament passed in the present or in any future session for the revision of the law relating to the relief of the poor and the distribution amongst other authorities of the powers exerciseable by boards of guardians, there shall be transferred from the Minister to other Government departments such of the powers and duties under the enactments relating to the relief of the poor then vested in the Minister (not being powers or duties relating or incidental to the health of the people) as appear to His Majesty to be such as could be more conveniently exercised and performed by such other departments.

(4) His Majesty may by Order in Council make such incidental, consequential, and supplemental provisions as may be necessary or expedient for the purpose of giving full effect to any transfer of powers or duties by or under this section, including provisions for the transfer of any property, rights, and liabilities held, enjoyed, or incurred by any Government department in connection with any powers or duties transferred, and may make such adaptations in the enactments relating to such powers or duties as may be necessary to make exerciseable by the Minister and his officers or by such other Government department and their officers, as the case may be, the powers and duties so transferred (n).

(5) In connection with the transfer of powers and duties to or from the Minister by or under this Act, the provisions set out in the First Schedule to this Act shall have effect (n).

(a) An Order in Council of June 25th, 1919, fixed July 1st, 1919, for the coming into operation of this part of this sub-section. Except so far as related to powers and duties conferred or imposed upon the L. G. B. by any Act of Parliament passed, or Provisional Order confirmed or other instrument made, on or after July 1st, 1919, but during the then present session of Parliament, in respect of which powers and duties the appointed day was declared to be the day on which such Act, order or instrument came into operation. The L. G. B. was constituted by 34 & 35 Vict. c. 70, the unrepealed sections of which are set out at p. 2327, ante. By the Ministry of Transport Act, 1919, post, p. 2757, and Orders in Council made thereunder, certain powers of the Ministry of Health in relation to highway and other matters were transferred to the Ministry of Transport.

(b) An Order in Council of June 25th, 1919, fixed July 1st, 1919, for the coming into operation of this part of this sub-section. The Insurance Commissioners and the Welsh Insurance Commissioners were constituted by the National Insurance Act, 1911.

(c) An Order in Council of September 22nd, 1919, fixed October 1st, 1919, for the coming into operation of this part of this sub-section. On this subject, see the Maternity and Child Welfare Act, 1918, ante, p. 1240.

(d) This sub-section is repealed by s. 172 and Sched. VII. of the Education Act, 1921. It provided for the transfer to the Minister of the powers and duties of the Board of Education with respect to medical inspection and treatment of school children. See now Part VII. of the Education Act, 1921.

(e) An Order in Council of June 25th, 1919, fixed July 1st, 1919, for the coming into operation of this part of this sub-section. See the Acts of 1902, 1918 & 1926 at pp. 1084, 1242, & 1790, ante.

(f) An Order in Council of September 22nd, 1919, fixed October 1st, 1919, for the coming into operation of this part of this sub-section.

(g) An Order in Council dated February 9th, 1920, fixed April 1st, 1920, for the coming into operation of this proviso.

(h) This proviso was repealed by s. 133 and Sch. VII. of the National Health Insurance Act, 1924 (14 & 15 Geo. 5, c. 38).

(i) An Order in Council dated June 25th, 1919, fixed July 1st, 1919, for the coming into operation of this and the three following sub-sections. See the Ministry of Health (Factories and Workshops Transfer of Powers) Order, 1921, and the Ministry of Health (Transfer of Powers as to Water Undertakings) Order, 1920.

(k) This paragraph was repealed by the S. L. R. A., 1927. No Order in Council having been made under the provision.

(l) An Order in Council transferred certain of these powers to the Minister as from May 17th, 1920.

(m) See note (i), supra. An Order in Council dated May 17th, 1920, transferred from the Ministry of Health to the Board of Education certain powers and duties in relation to public libraries, museums, and gymnasiums. See also the Ministry of Health (Registration and Elections, Transfer of Power) Order, 1921, the Ministry of Health (Transfer of Powers as to Gas Undertakings) Order, 1920.

(n) See note (g), supra.

Consultative councils.

4.—(1) It shall be lawful for His Majesty by Order in Council to establish consultative councils in England and Wales for giving, in accordance with the provisions of the Order, advice and assistance to the Minister in connection with such matters affecting or incidental to the health of the people as may be referred to in such Order (a).

(2) Every such council shall include women as well as men, and shall consist of persons having practical experience of the matters referred to the council.

(a) An Order in Council of June 25th, 1919, fixed July 1st, 1919, for the coming into operation of this and the six following sections. Consultative Councils were set up on a number of subjects by Order in Council dated August 18th, 1919. See "Local Government, 1919" (published by Butterworth & Co.), p. 395.) This Order was amended by an Order dated June 26th, 1923 (see "Local Government, 1923," p. 320).

Provisions as to Wales.

5. The Minister shall, subject to the provisions of this Act, appoint such officers as he may think fit to constitute a Board of Health in Wales through Section 5. whom he may exercise and perform in Wales in such manner as he may think fit any of his powers and duties ; the Board and any officer who is a member thereof shall act under the directions, and comply with the instructions, of the Minister (a).

(a) See note (a) to s. 4, ante, p. 2753. As from October 1st, 1920, the Minister of Health transferred to a Welsh Board of Health with offices in the City Hall at Cardiff, the functions of the Minister as regards :—(1) Sanction to appointments of Medical Officer of Health and Sanitary Inspectors, (2) Venereal Diseases, (3) Isolation Hospitals, (4) Infectious Diseases (except as to notifications and returns), (5) Maternity and Child Welfare, (6) The Sale of Food and Drugs Act, Milk Supply, Food Inspection, Slaughter-houses, Markets, etc. (except matters directly affecting consumers and public authorities in England or involving relations with the colonies or foreign countries, i.e., imported foodstuffs, shell fish, and statistics from public analysts' reports), and (7) Appointment of Public Analysts and Officers under Food Acts and Regulations.

Staff and remuneration.

6 (a).—(1) The Minister may appoint one parliamentary secretary and such secretaries, officers, and servants as the Minister may, subject to the consent of the Treasury as to number, determine, and in the making of such appointments shall give equal consideration to the suitability of persons of both sexes.

(2) There shall be paid out of moneys provided by Parliament to the Minister an annual salary not exceeding five thousand pounds, and to the secretaries, officers, and servants of the Ministry such salaries or remuneration as the Treasury may from time to time determine.

(3) The expenses of the Ministry, including payments to members of consultative councils and committees thereof, to such amount as may be sanctioned by the Treasury, shall be paid out of moneys provided by Parliament:

Provided that no payments shall be made to members of consultative councils and committees thereof other than the repayment of travelling expenses and payment of subsistence allowance and reasonable compensation for loss of remunerative time.

(4) There shall be transferred and attached to the Ministry the persons employed under the Local Government Board, the Insurance Commissioners and the Welsh Insurance Commissioners, and such of the persons employed under any other Government department in or about the execution of the powers and duties transferred by or under this Act to the Minister, as the Minister and Government department, with the sanction of the Treasury, may determine.

(5) The Minister may from time to time distribute the business of the Ministry amongst the several persons transferred or attached thereto in pursuance of this Act in such manner as he may think right, and those persons shall perform such duties in relation to that business as may be directed by the Minister :

Provided that such persons shall be in no worse position as respects the tenure of office, salary or superannuation allowances than they would have been if this Act had not been passed (a).

(a) See note (a) to s. 4, ante, p. 2753.

Seal, style, and acts of Minister.

7 (a).—(1) The Minister may sue and be sued by the name of the Minister of Health, and may for all purposes be described by that name.

(2) The Minister shall have an official seal, which shall be officially and judicially noticed, and shall be authenticated by the signature of the Minister, or of a secretary, or any person authorised by the Minister to act in that behalf (b).

(3) For the purpose of acquiring and holding land, the Minister for the time being shall be a corporation sole by the name of the Minister of Health, and all land vested in the Minister shall be held in trust for His Majesty for the purposes of the Ministry of Health.

Section 7.

(4) Upon and by virtue of the appointment of any person to be Minister, the benefit of all deeds, contracts, bonds, securities, or things in action vested in his predecessor at the time of his predecessor ceasing to hold office shall be transferred to and vested in and enure for the benefit of the person so appointed, in the same manner as if he had been contracted with instead of his predecessor, and if his name had been inserted in all such deeds, contracts, bonds, or securities instead of the name of his predecessor.

(5) Subsections (2) to (4) of section eleven and section twelve of the New Ministries and Secretaries Act, 1916, shall apply to the Minister and the Ministry of Health, and to the office of the Minister of Health and in like manner as they apply to the Ministers and Ministries mentioned in those sections.

6 & 7 Geo. 5, c. 68.

(a) See note (a) to s. 4, ante, p. 2753.

(a) As to the cases in which the signature of a secretary may be used in place of the seal, see L. G. (Emergency Provisions) Act, 1916, s. 12, ante, p. 1232.

Provisions as to Orders in Council.

8 (a).—(1) Any Order in Council made under this Act may be revoked or varied by a subsequent Order.

(2) Before any Order in Council under this Act (other than an Order appointing a day for the commencement of this Act or any provision thereof) (b) is made, notice of the proposal to make the Order and of the place where copies of a draft of the Order can be obtained shall be published in the London Gazette, and in such other manner as the Minister thinks best adapted for insuring publicity, and a draft of the Order shall be laid before each House of Parliament for not less than thirty days on which such House is sitting.

(3) In the case of a draft of an Order providing for any transfer of powers or duties to or from the Minister under subsections (2) and (3) of section three of this Act, or for the establishment of any consultative council under section four thereof, the Order shall not be made until both Houses by resolution have approved the draft, nor, if any modifications are agreed to by both Houses, otherwise than as so modified, and in the case of a draft of any other Order which is required to be laid as aforesaid, if either House before the expiration of such thirty days presents an Address to His Majesty against the draft, or any part thereof, no further proceedings shall be taken thereon, without prejudice to the making of any new draft Order.

(a) See note (a) to s. 4, ante, p. 2753.

(b) Words in italics repealed by S. L. R. A., 1927.

Consequential modifications of Insurance Acts.

9 (a).

(a) See note (a) to s. 4, ante, p. 2753. Sub-s. (1) deals only with Ireland and is omitted. Sub-s. (2) was repealed by s. 133 and Sch. VII. of the National Health Insurance Act, 1924 (14 & 15 Geo. 5, c. 38).

Section 3

FIRST SCHEDULE.

TRANSITORY PROVISIONS.

1. In the construction and for the purposes of any Act of Parliament, judgment, decree, order, award, deed, contract, regulation, byelaw, or other document passed or made before the transfer to or from the Minister from or to any other Government department of any powers or duties by or under this Act, but so far only as may be necessary for the purpose of such transfer, the name of the Minister or of the other Government department shall be substituted for the name of the other Government department or of the Minister, as the case may require.

2. Where anything has been commenced by or under the authority of any other Government department or the Minister before the transfer to the Minister or another Government department of any powers or duties by or under this Act, and such thing is in relation to the powers or duties so transferred, such thing may be carried on and completed by or under the authority of the Minister or the other Government department, as the case may be.

3. Where at the time of the transfer of any powers or duties by or under this Act any legal proceeding is pending to which any Government department or the Minister is a party, and such proceeding has reference to the powers and duties transferred by or under this Act, the Minister or the other Government department shall be substituted in such proceeding for the other Government department or the Minister, as the case may be, and such proceeding shall not abate by reason of the substitution.

MINISTRY OF TRANSPORT ACT, 1919.

(9 & 10 GEO. 5, c. 50.)

An Act to establish a Ministry of Transport and for purposes connected therewith. [15th August, 1919.]

Appointment of Minister of Transport.

1. For the purpose of improving the means of, and the facilities for, locomotion and transport, it shall be lawful for His Majesty to appoint a Minister of Transport (hereinafter referred to as the Minister), who shall hold office during His Majesty's pleasure.

Powers and duties.

2.—(1) It shall be the duty of the Minister in the exercise and performance of any powers and duties transferred to, or conferred or imposed upon, him by or in pursuance of this Act, to take steps to carry out the purposes aforesaid, and there shall, as from such date or dates as His Majesty in Council may by Order determine, be transferred to the Minister all powers and duties of any Government Department in relation to—

(a) railways;
(b) light railways;
(c) tramways;
(d) canals, waterways, and inland navigations;
(e) roads, bridges and ferries, and vehicles and traffic thereon;
(f) harbours, docks and piers;

including any powers and duties of any Government Department in relation to any railway, light railway, tramway, canal, inland navigation, harbour, dock, pier, or other undertaking concerned with any of the matters aforesaid, and any powers of any Government Department with respect to the appointment of members or the procedure of any commissioners, conservancy board or other body having jurisdiction with respect to any such matters as aforesaid, and any powers of any Government Department with respect to the making, confirming, issuing, granting, or giving (as the case may be) of byelaws, regulations, orders, licences, approvals, or consents relating to any of the matters hereinbefore mentioned:

Provided that—

(i) His Majesty in Council may by Order except from such transfer any particular powers or duties, or provide for the exercise or performance of any power or duty so excepted by the Minister concurrently or in consultation with or at the instance of the Government Department concerned, or by the Government Department concerned concurrently or in consultation with the Minister, or provide for the retransfer to any such Department of any powers and duties transferred to the Minister by this section; and

(ii) Nothing in this section shall transfer to the Minister any powers or duties of the Admiralty exerciseable in or in relation to ports declared under the Dockyard Port Regulation Act, 1865, to be dockyard ports, but His Majesty in Council may by Order transfer to the Admiralty, instead of to the Minister, any of the powers of the Board of Trade with respect to dockyard ports, or with respect to the appointment of members of any commissioners, conservancy board, or other body having jurisdiction in the whole or any part of a dockyard port; and

28 & 29 Vict. c. 125.

(iii) Nothing in this section shall transfer to the Minister the powers of the Board of Trade with respect to the appointment of members or the procedure of the Railway and Canal Commission, but His Majesty in Council may by Order transfer those powers to a Secretary of State instead of to the Minister (a).

(2) His Majesty in Council may by Order make such incidental, consequential and supplemental provisions as may be necessary or expedient for the purpose of giving full effect to any transfer of powers or duties by or under this section, including provisions for the transfer of any property, rights and liabilities held, enjoyed, or incurred by any Government Department in connexion with any powers or duties transferred, and may make such adaptations in the enactments relating to such powers or duties as may be necessary to make exerciseable by the Minister and his officers or by the Admiralty and their officers, as the case may be, the powers and duties so transferred : Provided always that nothing herein contained shall enable the powers so transferred to be increased.

(2) In connexion with the transfer of powers and duties to the Minister, Admiralty, or Secretary of State, by or under this Act, the provisions set out in the First Schedule to this Act shall have effect.

(4) There shall be attached to the Ministry a separate department charged with dealing in the ordinary course of departmental business with road construction, improvement, maintenance, and development.

(a) With certain exceptions, the powers of the Board of Trade in relation to (a) railways; (b) light railways; (c) tramways; (d) canals, waterways, inland navigations; (e) roads, bridges, ferries, vehicles and traffic thereon; and (f) harbours, docks, and piers passed to the Minister of Transport on September 23rd, 1919, by virtue of an Order in Council dated September 22nd, 1919. The exceptions were as follows: (1) All powers and duties under the Lands Clauses Acts; s. 36 of the Railway Companies Act, 1867; ss. 3, 7, 20, 25, and 31 of the Railway and Canal Traffic Act, 1888; and ss. 5 and 13 of the Light Railways Act, 1896; (2) powers and duties so far as they relate to navigation under the Preliminary Enquiries Act, 1851; Harbour Transfer Act, 1862; ss. 7 to 11 of the General Pier and Harbour Acts Amendment Act, 1862, and any local, special, or private Act; and (3) powers and duties under s. 8 (in regard to appointment of commissioners after consultation as therein mentioned) and sub-ss. (1) and (2) of s. 27 of the Port of London Act, 1908.

Further, with certain exceptions, the powers of the Minister of Health in relation to the matters above mentioned passed to the Minister of Transport on September 23rd, 1919, by virtue of an Order in Council dated September 22nd, 1919. The exceptions were: (1) the powers and duties of the Minister of Health in regard to the matters aforesaid of giving sanction to the borrowing of money by local authorities; (2) the powers and duties of the Minister of Health under the Housing Acts, 1890 to 1919; and (3) the powers and duties of the Minister of Health with respect to the confirmation of byelaws made by local authorities other than byelaws made under s. 26 of the Highways and Locomotives (Amendment) Act, 1878, and byelaws made under s. 6 of the Locomotive Act, 1898. There is, however, a proviso in the Order in Council that in the exercise of the powers so excepted so far as they relate to roads, bridges, vehicles, and traffic thereon the Minister of Health shall act in consultation with the Minister of Transport.

By a third Order in Council of the same date the powers and duties of the Roads Board in relation to the matters aforesaid passed to the Minister of Transport on September 23rd, 1919. Under s. 39 (1) of the Electricity (Supply) Act, 1919, and the Ministry of Transport (Electricity Supply) Order, 1920, the powers and duties of the Board of Trade under the Electric Lighting Acts and local Acts relating to the supply of electricity passed to the Minister of Transport on January 23rd, 1920.

Power to control temporarily railways, &c.

3. (a)—(1) With a view to affording time for the consideration and formulation of the policy to be pursued as to the future position of undertakings to which this section applies, the following provisions shall, unless Parliament otherwise determines, have effect for a period of two years after the passing of this Act, or where as respects any particular provision a longer period is expressly provided, for such longer period :—

34 & 35 Vict. c. 86.

(a) Where at the passing of this Act possession has been taken of any railroad undertaking or part thereof in pursuance of section sixteen of the Regulation of the Forces Act, 1871, or otherwise, possession thereof shall be retained without any renewal of the warrant granted by the Secretary of State in pursuance of that section, upon the same terms as to compensation as those heretofore in force, and the Minister may exercise over all such undertakings all such powers as have hitherto been exercised by the Board of Trade under the said Act or with the consent of the owners of the undertakings or otherwise, and such other powers as may be conferred by this section or agreed to by the railway companies concerned : Section 3.

(b) The Minister may, after giving not less than one month's notice in writing, take possession, in the name or on behalf of His Majesty, of the whole or any part of any other statutory railway undertaking or of any light railway or tramway undertaking (other than a tramway or a light railway used as a tramway belonging to a local authority), or of any canal or inland navigation undertaking, and, subject as hereinafter, mentioned, of any harbour, dock or pier undertaking, or of any plant belonging to any such undertaking as aforesaid or used thereon (exclusive of privately owned railway wagons), and of any barges, tugs, and other craft owned or held by the undertaking of which possession has been taken : Provided that such notice as aforesaid shall not, in the event of the matter being referred to an advisory committee as hereinafter provided, be given until the committee has reported :

(c) The directors and other persons concerned with the management, and officers and servants of any undertaking of the whole or part of which, or of the plant whereof, possession is retained or taken shall obey the directions of the Minister as to the user thereof, and any directions of the Minister in relation to the undertaking or part or plant thereof of which possession is retained or taken—

(i) as to the rates, fares, tolls, dues and charges to be charged ; subject, however, to the provisions hereinafter contained respecting references to the advisory committee established for advising as to directions on the matters aforesaid ;

(ii) as to the salaries, wages, and remuneration and conditions of employment of persons employed on or in connexion with the undertaking ;

(iii) as to the working or discontinuance of the working of the undertaking or any part thereof including directions as to keeping open or closing of any stations ;

(iv) for securing that the permanent way, rolling stock, plant, appliances, or equipment, whether fixed or moveable, are satisfactory in type and design ;

(v) as to the carrying out of alterations, improvements, and additions which the Minister considers necessary for the public safety or for the more efficient and economic working of the undertaking ;

(vi) for securing co-operation between undertakings and for securing the common user of facilities, rolling stock and equipment whether fixed or moveable ;

(vii) for affording running powers over their system, or any part thereof, to the owners of any other undertaking ;

(viii) for securing that manufacturing and repairing facilities and auxiliary and ancillary services shall be used, and the purchase and distribution of stores shall be conducted, in such manner as may be most conducive to economy and efficiency.

Nothing in this section shall be construed as authorising the Minister to compel the owners of any such undertaking either to incur capital expenditure, or to draw upon their reserve funds, for new works or capital improvements to an extent which would seriously interfere with their finances, it being the intention that the financing of the undertakings from a capital point of view shall remain as far as possible with the owners.

(d) For enabling any directions given by the Minister under the last foregoing paragraph as to alterations, and improvements and additions to be carried into effect, the Minister may, by order, authorise the owners of any undertaking to acquire any land (or easements) and to construct any works, and the order may incorporate the Lands Clauses Acts, subject to such modifications as may be specified in the order, being modifications of those Acts made or authorised to be made by the Development and Road Improvement Funds Act, 1909, or any other enactment, and may incorporate or apply any of the provisions of any enactment relating to the construction, maintenance, or working of railways, light railways, tramways, canals, harbours, docks, and piers, and any such order shall have effect as if enacted in this Act: Provided that nothing herein contained shall be deemed to empower the Minister to authorise the acquisition, otherwise than by agreement, of any land belonging to the owners of another undertaking to which this section applies, or of a local authority, or of a harbour dock or pier undertaking, but the Minister may authorise the acquisition of an easement or right of using such land for the purposes of any works the construction of which he may authorise under this section.

9 Edw. 7, c. 47.

(e) In the case of any undertaking of which possession is retained or taken by the Minister as aforesaid any rates, fares, tolls, dues and other charges directed by the Minister shall be deemed to be reasonable, and may, notwithstanding any agreement or statutory provisions limiting the amount of such charges or increases therein, be charged in respect of any undertaking during the period for which the Minister retains possession of such undertaking, and for a further period of eighteen months after the expiration of the said period, or until fresh provision shall be made by Parliament with regard to the amount of any such rates, fares, tolls, dues, and other charges, whichever shall first happen:

(f) Notwithstanding anything contained in this Act, the rights of a consignor or consignee of goods or minerals, any trader or class of traders, or any port or harbour authority or dock company to complain to the Railway and Canal Commission under the Railway and Canal Traffic Acts 1854 to 1913 in respect of undue preference or undue disadvantage or allowances or rebates in relation to the provision of station accommodation or terminal services shall not be deemed to be affected, and it shall be no answer to any such complaint that the railway company in respect of which the complaint is made was acting under the directions of the Minister.

(2) Subject as aforesaid, any agreement made between the owners of any undertaking, of the whole or part of which possession has been retained or taken under this section, and any other person shall continue in force in like manner as if such possession had not been so retained or taken, unless the Minister considers that such agreement is contrary to the public interest, and in that case he may suspend or modify the operation of such agreement during the period of such possession and for a period not exceeding eighteen months thereafter, and any party to the agreement who suffers loss or injury by reason of such suspension or modification, and any person who, by virtue of any special statutory provision or agreement, is entitled to the benefit of any special rate, fare, toll, due, or other charge, and whose position relatively to other persons is prejudiced by any direction of the Minister altering such special charge, shall be entitled to receive such compensation as, in default of agreement, may be determined by the Railway and Canal Commission, regard being had to any change in circumstances.

(3) The exercise by the Minister of any of his powers under this section as respects any tramway or light railway used as a tramway which a local authority, or two or more local authorities, have power to purchase under any Act of Parliament or order having the effect of an Act of Parliament shall not affect such right of the local authority, or authorities, and upon the purchase thereof such tramway or light railway shall cease to be in the possession of the Minister.

(4) Nothing in this section shall be deemed to exempt from any local rate or assessment any undertaking to which this section applies.

(5) For the purposes of this Act, possession so taken or retained as aforesaid shall confer on the Minister such rights of control and direction as may be necessary for the exercise of his powers under this Act, but shall not confer on him any rights of ownership.

(a) The operation of this section appears to be now spent, except sub-s. (1) (c), in relation to canals (12 & 13 Geo. 5, c. 27; 19 Geo. 5, c. 3).

4. (a)—[Saving for statutory harbour, dock and pier authorities.]

(a) This section was repealed by S. L. R. A., 1927, being of temporary operation only and then spent.

Power to grant through-runnings on tramways.

5. The Minister shall have the power to require through-runnings on adjoining tramways (a) belonging to different owners, whether local authorities or not, and in default of agreement between such owners to settle the terms of such through-running, after hearing the said owners, in such manner as he thinks fit.

(a) "Tramway" includes a trackless trolly vehicle system. See s. 30 (2), post, p. 2773.

Power to retain lands, &c.

6. Where in pursuance of any direction given by the Minister under this Act the owners of any undertaking shall acquire any lands or easement, or construct any works, or carry out any alteration or improvement of or addition to their undertaking, the owners may, after the expiration of the period of possession, continue to hold and use such lands or easement and maintain and use such works, alteration, improvement, or addition for the purposes of their undertaking, and such land, easement, works, alteration, improvement, and addition shall for all purposes be deemed to form part of their undertaking.

Provisions as to officers and servants.

7.—(1) The following provisions shall apply with respect to officers or servants of any undertaking of which, or of any part or plant of which possession has been retained or taken under this Act (all of which officers and servants are in this Act hereinafter referred to as "existing officers and servants"):—

(i) Where the Minister requires the services of any existing officer or servant, that officer or servant may be transferred to the Minister—

(a) either permanently with the consent of the officer or servant; or

(b) temporarily with the consent (which shall not unreasonably be withheld) of the officer or servant, and of the owners of the undertaking;

(ii) No existing officer or servant so transferred, whether temporarily or permanently, shall without his consent be, by reason of such transfer or anything done under this Act, in any worse position in respect to the conditions of his service (including tenure of office, remuneration, gratuities, pension, superannuation, sick fund or any benefits or allowances, whether obtaining legally or by customary practice), as compared with the conditions of service obtaining with respect to him at the passing of this Act, and, if any question arises as to whether the provisions of this paragraph have been complied with, the question shall be referred to a standing arbitrator or board of arbitration appointed by the Lord Chancellor for the purposes of this section, and, if the arbitrator or board consider that those provisions have not been complied with and that the officer or servant has thereby suffered loss or injury, they shall award him such sum as they think sufficient to compensate him for such loss or injury:

Section 7.

(iii) Where an existing officer or servant has been transferred either temporarily or permanently to the Minister under this section, then, so long as the Minister remains in possession of that undertaking or any part or plant thereof, that officer or servant may remain a full member of any pension or superannuation fund established in connexion with the undertaking with all the rights to which he would be entitled had he continued in the service of the owners of the undertaking, and any contributions payable under the rules of the pension or superannuation fund or by customary practice by the owners of the undertaking may be paid by the Treasury out of moneys provided by Parliament, and he shall be entitled to receive such reasonable allowances for temporary disturbance as the Minister with the consent of the Treasury may determine (including direct pecuniary loss sustained in consequence of the transfer):

(iv) Every existing officer or servant not transferred to the Minister in pursuance of this Act shall, notwithstanding the powers conferred upon the Minister by this Act, continue to hold his office or situation under the owners of the undertaking under the same tenure and upon the same terms and conditions (including all conditions regarding gratuities, pension, superannuation, sick fund, or any benefits or allowances), whether obtaining legally or by customary practice, as he held it on the date of the passing of this Act, and while performing the same duties shall receive not less salary, wages, or remuneration than under existing regulations, agreements, or established customs of the service he would have been entitled to if this Act had not been passed:

(v) The Minister may direct that the office or situation of any existing officer or servant which he deems unnecessary shall be abolished: Provided that the Minister shall not require the abolition of any such office which will, in the opinion of the owners of the undertaking, be essential to them in their conduct of the undertaking at the end of the period of possession:

(vi) If by or in consequence of a direction of the Minister any existing officer or servant is, during the period of possession, required to perform duties such as are not analogous or which are an unreasonable addition to those which he has, prior to the date of the passing of this Act, been required to perform, such officer or servant may relinquish his office or service:

(vii) Every such officer or servant who so relinquishes his office or service as aforesaid, and every such officer or servant whose services by or in consequence of any such direction are dispensed with on the ground that his services are not required, or for any reason not being on account of any misconduct or incapacity, or whose salary, wages, or remuneration are reduced on the ground that his duties have been diminished by or in consequence of any such direction, or who otherwise suffers any direct pecuniary loss in consequence of this Act (including any loss of prospective superannuation or other retiring or death allowances, whether obtaining legally or by customary practice), shall be entitled to be paid by the Minister compensation for such pecuniary loss, to be determined by the Treasury, subject to appeal to such standing arbitrator or board of arbitration as aforesaid, in accordance with the provisions contained in section one hundred and twenty of the Local Government Act, 1888 (a), relating to compensation to existing officers, and those provisions shall apply accordingly as if they were herein re enacted with the necessary modifications:

51 & 52 Vict. c. 41.

Provided that, in the case of any officer or servant who was appointed to his office as a specially qualified person at an age exceeding that at which public service usually begins, or of any officer or servant who suffers any loss of prospective superannuation or other retiring or death allowances as aforesaid, such addition may be made to the amount of compensation authorised under the said provisions as may seem just, having regard to the particular circumstances of such case: Provided further, that the expression in subsection (1) of section one hundred and twenty of the Local Government Act, 1888, "the Acts and Rules relating to Her Majesty's Civil Service" shall mean the Acts and Rules relating to His Majesty's Civil Service which were in operation at the date of the passing of the Local Government Act, 1888.

(2) Any person formerly in the employment of the owners of an undertaking of which or of any part or plant of which possession is retained or taken under this Act, who on the date of the passing of this Act is, though not legally entitled thereto, in receipt of a pension or other superannuation allowance, shall continue to receive from the owners of such undertaking the same pension or allowance on the same terms and conditions as if this Act had not been passed.

(3) Any person who, at the date of the passing of this Act, was in the employment of the owners of an undertaking of which or of any part or plant of which possession is retained or taken under this Act and who, during the period of such possession, would, though not legally entitled thereto, in accordance with customary practice, be granted a pension or superannuation allowance by the owners of such undertaking, shall not be in any worse position in regard thereto by reason of the passing of this Act.

(4) This section shall apply to persons who are, or have been, members of the staff of the Railway Clearing House, or the Irish Railway Clearing House, or any railway conference, in like manner as if they were, or had been, officers or servants of an undertaking of which possession had been taken and the period of possession thereof had been the same as that of a railway undertaking, and to the Railway Clearing System Superannuation Fund, as if it was a pension or superannuation fund established in connexion with an undertaking of which possession has been taken, and as if payments and contributions heretofore made by railway companies thereto were contributions payable by the owners of the undertaking.

Claims against and by the Minister in respect of exercise of powers.

8.—(1) Where at the end of the period of possession by the Government of any undertaking or of any part or plant of an undertaking the value of the undertaking on a revenue-earning basis has been reduced or enhanced

Section 8. as compared with the value at the commencement of such period, or where during that period the income thereof has been reduced or enhanced, after taking into account in either case—

(a) any capital expenditure by the owners of the undertaking on any works brought into use in the interval; and

(b) the natural growth of traffic on the undertaking, then, if and so far as such reduction or enhancement is due to the exercise by the Minister during that period upon the undertaking in question of the powers under section three of this Act (including such powers as have been hitherto exercised by the Board of Trade as mentioned in paragraph (1) (a) of that section) the owners of the undertaking shall, unless such reduction or enhancement is otherwise provided for by the compensation mentioned in paragraph (1) (a) of that section, be entitled to be recouped, or liable to pay, the amount by which that value has been so reduced or enhanced, and if any question arises as to such amount or the liability to pay the same, or otherwise with respect to the financial relations between the Minister and any person affected by the exercise by the Minister of any of his powers under the said section, the question shall be determined by the Railway and Canal Commission having regard to all the circumstances of the case:

Provided that—

(i) no claim in respect of any loss alleged to be due to any direction issued by the Minister shall be entertained if the direction was issued with the concurrence of the owners of the undertaking; and

(ii) if, whilst an undertaking of which or of any part or plant of which possession has been taken remains in the possession of the Government, the State is authorised by Parliament to acquire the undertaking, nothing in this subsection restricting claims for enhancement attributable to the exercise by the Minister of such powers as aforesaid to cases where the value of the undertaking has been enhanced as compared with the value thereof at the commencement of the period of possession shall be held to affect, one way or the other, any question as to the principle on which the price to be paid on such acquisition is to be based.

(2) Without prejudice to any other form of payment or satisfaction, the Treasury, on the recommendation of the Minister, may, as or as part of the consideration for exercising any powers of control under the said section, guarantee the payment of any dividends or interest on any stock or other securities issued by the owners of an undertaking up to such amount as may be agreed, or the payment of any working expenses of the undertaking, and any sums required to fulfil any such guarantee shall be paid out of moneys provided by Parliament.

(3) Wherever the Minister has expended any sum in the capital improvement of any undertaking, the owners of the undertaking shall be liable to pay to the Minister the unexhausted value of such expenditure at the end of the before mentioned period, if and so far as such expenditure is not covered by the payments to be made by the owners under the preceding provisions of this section, and that value shall, in default of agreement, be determined by the Railway and Canal Commission.

(4) The owners of the undertaking may satisfy any payment due from them under this section by creating a charge in favour of the Treasury upon the undertaking to such amount and in such form and with such priority as may be agreed, or, in case of difference, may be settled by the Railway and Canal Commission, who shall have due regard to the rights and interests of all parties concerned, but the charge so created shall in no case take priority to any capital raised by loan or debenture stock issued by the owners of the undertaking,

(5) Any claim by a railway company against the Government for compensation in respect of the exercise by the Board of Trade of any powers over or in respect of the undertaking in pursuance of section sixteen of the Regulation of the Forces Act, 1871, or with the consent of the railway company, or otherwise, may be determined by the Railway and Canal Commission in like manner as if it were a claim arising under this section, and the Minister was the person liable to satisfy the claim.

(6) The Minister shall indemnify, and keep indemnified, the owners of any undertaking of which or of any part of which, or of any plant of which possession has been retained or taken, and the owners of any harbour, dock or pier undertaking, against all actions, claims, and demands made in respect of loss or injury alleged to be caused by the carrying out of any directions given by the Minister under section three of this Act, or, as the case may be, any requirements contained in any order made by the Minister under section four of this Act:

Provided that, where the loss or injury is due to the breach of any contractual obligation, the Minister shall not be liable under this provision unless before carrying out the directions the owners of the undertaking have given written notice to the Minister of the existence of the obligation.

Power to establish transport services.

9.—(1) It shall be lawful for the Minister to establish, and either by himself or through any other person to work, transport services by land or water, and to acquire either by agreement or compulsorily such land or easements, to construct such works, and to do all such other things, as may be necessary for the purpose:

Provided that—

(i) no new transport service shall be established by the Minister until an estimate of the capital expenditure required to complete it, accompanied by details of the scheme for the establishment of the service, has been approved by the Treasury;

(ii) if in the case of any such service such estimate as aforesaid exceeds half a million pounds, or if the establishment of any such service involves the acquisition of land or easements compulsorily, or the breaking up of any roads, the Minister shall not exercise his powers of establishing the service unless authorised to do so by Order in Council a draft whereof has been approved by a resolution passed by both Houses of Parliament, and the Order may incorporate the provisions of the Lands Clauses Acts, subject to such modifications as may be specified in the Order, being modifications of those Acts made or authorised to be made by the Development and Road Improvements Funds Act, 1909, or any other enactment, and the Order may also incorporate or apply any enactments relating to the construction and maintenance of the works in question;

(iii) where it appears to the Minister that the establishment of any such service could properly be undertaken by the owners of any existing undertaking, the Minister shall not himself establish the service without first giving to such owners an opportunity of establishing the service, and, where such an opportunity is given to the owners of an undertaking of which possession has been retained or taken under section three of this Act, and those owners prefer that the establishment of the service should be undertaken by themselves rather than by the Minister, they may require the Minister to give them directions under that section to that effect, but shall not be deemed to have thereby concurred in those directions; and

(iv) the Minister shall not, after two years from the passing of this Act unless Parliament otherwise determines, commence the construction of any new works, or provide equipment for any transport service not established before that date.

(2) The Minister or other person working a service established under this section may charge such rates, fares, tolls, and charges in connexion therewith as may be prescribed by the Minister, subject to reference to the Advisory Committee on Rates hereinafter established, and the expenses of working such services shall be paid out of the revenues derived therefrom, and the Minister shall keep or cause to be kept such accounts of the receipts from and expenditure on the services and in such form, and those accounts shall be audited in such manner as the Treasury may prescribe.

Extraordinary traffic. 41 & 42 Vict. c. 77. 41 & 42 Vict. c. 51. 1 & 2 Geo. 5, c. 45.

10. Any transport service on roads established by the Ministry shall be subject to the provisions relating to extraordinary traffic contained in the Highways and Locomotives (Amendment) Act, 1878 (a), or in Scotland the Roads and Bridges (Scotland) Act, 1878, or in Ireland the Public Roads (Ireland) Act, 1911 (as amended by any subsequent enactment).

(a) For these provisions see s. 23 of the Act of 1878 here referred to, at p. 739, ante, and also s. 12 of the Locomotives Act, 1898, at p. 1066, ante.

Appeal as to bridges.

11. An appeal shall lie to the Minister in respect of any restriction upon any traffic passing over or seeking to cross any bridge or culvert, and the Minister shall have power, notwithstanding any provision in any other statute, to make such order as he may think fit concerning the strengthening, standard of maintenance, and maintenance of any bridge or culvert, the traffic using it or seeking to use it, and apportionment of any expenditure involved, but no order made by the Minister under this section shall enlarge the pecuniary liability of any railway or canal company or impose any new liability upon any such company (a).

(a) In addition to the protection given to railway and canal companies by this section, see the protection given to local authorities by s. 24, post, p. 2771.

6 & 7 Geo. 5, c. 12.

12 (a). [Provisions as to new routes for omnibuses.]

(a) This section is now spent, and was repealed by S. L. R. A., 1927. But see now the right of appeal from a refusal to grant a licence for an omnibus, or against conditions imposed on such a grant given by s. 14 (3) of the Roads Act, 1920, ante, p. 1302. See also the London Traffic Act, 1924, post, p. 2850.

Powers as to railway wagons.

13.—(1) It shall be lawful for the Minister to purchase privately-owned railway wagons required for use on any railway on such terms and conditions as may be authorised by or under an Order in Council, a draft whereof has been approved by a Resolution passed by both Houses of Parliament, and to work or lease any such wagons when so purchased, or to apportion them among the several railway undertakings in such manner, on such terms, and subject to such conditions as may be provided by or under the Order:

Provided that the Minister shall not be entitled to purchase in England and Wales, or Scotland, or Ireland, respectively, wagons used for the conveyance of any particular class of traffic unless he purchases all privately-owned wagons so used which belong to or are used by persons carrying on business therein, and which comply with the regulations with respect to such wagons in force at the date of such purchase.

(2) Where, in the case of any wagon which has been in use on or before the fifteenth day of May, nineteen hundred and nineteen, the wagon has since that date been the subject of a purchase agreement, the price paid on such purchase shall not be evidence of the value of the wagon in determining the price to be paid by the Minister.

(3) Where the Minister has, in pursuance of his powers under this section, purchased any wagon, any contract then in force for the repair of the wagon shall upon the purchase be determined, unless otherwise agreed with the Minister. Section 13.

(4) Where the Minister exercises his powers of purchasing wagons under this section, or of prohibiting or restricting the use of privately-owned wagons, or of limiting the number of wagons to be so used, the following provisions shall have effect:—

(a) The reasonable facilities which every railway company is required to afford under section two of the Railway and Canal Traffic Act, 1854, as amended or explained by any other Act, shall, where the railway wagons of traders of any class have been purchased, include the provision of suitable railway wagons for the use of traders of that class, and it shall be the duty of the Minister so to exercise his powers of working or disposing of the wagons purchased by him as to enable the railway companies to fulfil their obligations under this provision as fully as may be practicable: 17 & 18 Vict. c. 31.

(b) Where the provision of wagons is not included in the authorised maximum rates of conveyance, a railway company may charge for the use of such wagons such sums as may be directed by the Minister under section three of this Act, and, if and so far as no such directions are in force, any sums not exceeding those prescribed for the use of such wagons by any Railway Rates and Charges Order applicable thereto:

(c) Notwithstanding the provisions of any other Act or any decision thereunder, in determining what sum may be charged under the provisions of any Railway Rates and Charges Order for the detention of wagons at the premises of any trader, regard shall be had to the requirements and reasonable usages of the trade carried on at those premises in connexion with which such wagons are used.

(5) Notwithstanding any statutory or other provision to the contrary, it shall be lawful for the Minister to make regulations prohibiting or restricting the use on railways of privately-owned wagons or limiting the number of wagons to be so used and prescribing the type and capacity thereof:

Provided that nothing in this Act shall authorise the prohibition of the use on railways of such wagons as comply with regulations for the time being in force made in pursuance of the Railways Clauses Consolidation Act, 1845, the Railways Clauses Consolidation (Scotland) Act, 1845, or any other enactment in force at the date of the passing of this Act, and as are in use, under repair, or in course of construction at that date. 8 & 9 Vict. c. 20. 8 & 9 Vict. c. 33.

Power to discharge capital liabilities by issue of stock.

14.—(1) Any capital sum payable under this Act for reduction in the value of an undertaking, or for the purchase of privately-owned railway wagons, or any interest therein, may be discharged in whole or in part, if the Treasury so direct, by the issue of securities, and the amount of such securities equivalent to such capital sum shall, in default of agreement, be determined by the Railway and Canal Commission.

For that purpose the Treasury may create and issue securities which shall bear interest at such rate and shall be subject to such conditions and regulations as to repayment, redemption, or otherwise as the Treasury may direct or prescribe, and the regulations may apply with the necessary modifications any of the enactments relating to the local loans stock; the interest on any such securities as aforesaid shall—

(a) in the case of securities issued for the purchase of railway wagons, be charged on the revenues derived from the wagons so acquired after payment thereout of working expenses, and, if and so far as such revenues are insufficient, on the Consolidated Fund of the United Kingdom or the growing produce thereof; and

Section 14.

(b) in the case of other securities, be charged on the Consolidated Fund of the United Kingdom or the growing produce thereof.

(2) Where the whole or any part of the purchase money for the interest in railway wagons belonging to a wagon finance company is discharged by the issue to the company of such securities as aforesaid, and the company in consequence of the exercise by the Minister of his powers under this Act of purchasing railway wagons is wound up voluntarily, the liquidator may present to the court having jurisdiction to wind up the company a scheme for the discharge in whole or in part of the liabilities of the company to the holders of debentures or debenture stock of the company by means of the transfer to them of an amount of the securities so issued to the company, and, if the court sanctions the scheme, those liabilities may be discharged accordingly.

For the purpose of this subsection, "wagon finance company" means a company whose principal business is the advance of money to colliery companies and other persons for the purpose of the acquisition by them of railway wagons.

Incorporation of certain sections.

15. An order made by the Minister authorising the owners of any railway undertaking to acquire any land (including easements), and to construct any works, or an Order in Council authorising the Minister to acquire land compulsorily for the purpose of a railway, shall incorporate sections seventy-seven to eighty-five of the Railways Clauses Consolidation Act, 1845, or, in Scotland, sections seventy to seventy-eight of the Railways Clauses Consolidation (Scotland) Act, 1845 (which relate to the working of mines), subject to any statutory modifications thereof then in force.

5 & 6 Geo. 5, c. 72.

16 (a).—[Amendment of Special Acts (Extension of Time) Act, 1915.]

(a) This section is now spent and was repealed by S. L. R. A., 1927.

Power to make advances for certain purposes.

17.—(1) The Minister may, subject to the approval of the Treasury, make advances out of the moneys provided by Parliament to any authority, company or person, either by way of grant or by way of loan, or partly in one way and partly in another, and upon such terms and conditions as he thinks fit for any of the following purposes:—

(a) The construction, improvement, or maintenance of railways, light railways, or tramways:

(b) The construction, improvement or maintenance of roads, bridges, or ferries:

(c) The construction, improvement or maintenance of harbours, docks or piers:

(d) The construction, improvement or maintenance of canals or inland navigations:

(e) The promotion and improvement of transport services by land or water:

And the power of the Treasury on the recommendation of the Development Commissioners to make advances for any of the purposes aforesaid shall cease and determine, except as respects advances for the construction, improvement, or maintenance of harbours in connexion with the improvement and development of fisheries, in which case the Development Commissioners shall consult with the Minister before reporting on any application referred to them:

Provided that the Minister shall not make an advance exceeding one million pounds at any one time for the purpose of any work, unless specially authorised to do so by a Resolution of the House of Commons.

(2) For the purpose of advances for the construction, improvement, or maintenance of roads, the Minister may, after consultation with the Roads Committee hereinafter referred to and the local authorities affected, classify roads in such manner as he thinks fit (a), and may, by agreement with the local authority, defray half the salary and establishment charges of the engineer or surveyor to a local authority responsible for the maintenance of such roads, subject to the condition that the appointment, retention, and dismissal of such engineer or surveyor, and the amount of such establishment charges, shall be subject to the approval of the Minister.

(a) It is upon the classification of roads under this provision that the transfer of roads in urban districts under s. 31 of the L. G. A., 1929, ante, p. 1888, to county councils depends.

18 (a).—[Accounts, statistics and returns.]

(a) This section is now spent and was repealed by S. L. R. A., 1927.

19. The provisions of the Railway and Canal Traffic Act, 1888, as amended by any subsequent enactment, relating to the procedure for the determination of questions by the Commission under that Act, including the provisions relating to appeals, shall apply to the determination of questions referred to the Commission under this Act, as if they were herein re-enacted and in terms made applicable to this Act:

Provisions as to the Railway and Canal Commission. 51 & 52 Vict. c. 25.

Provided that—

(a) the Commission may, in any case in which they think it expedient to do so, call in the aid of one or more assessors, specially qualified, and hear the case wholly or partially with the assistance of such assessors;

(b) the Commission may hold a local inquiry for the purposes of this section by any one of their members, or by any officer of the Commission or other person whom they may direct to hold the same, and the said provisions of the Railway and Canal Traffic Act, 1888, except the provisions relating to appeals, shall, so far as applicable, apply to such inquiries, and any officer or person directed to hold an inquiry shall have power to administer oaths and shall report the result of the inquiry to the Commission:

(c) the discretion of the Commission with respect to costs shall not be limited in the manner provided by section two of the Railway and Canal Traffic Act, 1894.

20.—(1) The Minister may hold such inquiries as he considers necessary or desirable for the purposes of this Act, and the Minister, and, if authorised by the Minister, the person appointed to hold any such inquiry, may by order require any person, subject to the payment or tender of the reasonable expenses of his attendance, to attend as a witness and give evidence or to produce any documents in his possession or power which relate to any matter in question at the inquiry, and are such as would be subject to production in a court of law, and, if any person fails without reasonable excuse to comply with any of the provisions of any such order, he shall be liable, on summary conviction, to a fine not exceeding five pounds, and the person holding the inquiry shall have power to take evidence on oath and for that purpose to administer oaths.

Power to hold inquiries.

(2) Notices of inquiries may be given and published in accordance with such general or special directions as the Minister may give.

(3) The powers of the Minister under this section shall be in addition to and not in derogation of any powers of holding inquiries transferred to him from any other Government Department under this Act.

21.—(1) For the purpose of giving advice and assistance to the Minister with respect to and for safeguarding any interests affected by any directions

Rates advisory committee.

Section 21. as to rates, fares, tolls, dues, and other charges or special services, a committee shall be appointed consisting of five persons, one being a person of experience in the law (who shall be chairman) nominated by the Lord Chancellor, two being representatives of the trading and agricultural interests nominated by the Board of Trade, after consultation with the Associated Chambers of Commerce, the Central Chamber of Agriculture, and other interests concerned, one being a representative of transportation interests nominated by the Minister, one being a representative of labour interests nominated by the Minister of Labour, after consultation with the Parliamentary Committee of the Trades Union Congress and other interests concerned, together with, if deemed advisable, one additional member who may at the discretion of the Minister be nominated from time to time by him.

(2) Before directing any revision of any rates, fares, tolls, dues, or other charges, or of any special services, the Minister shall refer the matter to the committee for their advice, and they shall report thereon to him, and, where such revision is for the purpose of an increase in the net revenue of any undertakings which the Minister determines to be necessary, the committee shall also advise as to the best methods of obtaining such increase from the different classes of traffic, having due regard to existing contracts and the fairness and adequacy of the methods proposed to be adopted. Before prescribing the limits of rates, tolls, or charges in connexion with a new transport service established under section nine of this Act, the Minister shall refer the matter to the Committee for their advice.

(3) The committee, before reporting or advising on any matters referred to them under this section, shall, unless in their discretion they consider it unnecessary or undesirable to do so, give such public notice as they think best adapted for informing persons affected of the date when and the place where they will inquire into the matter, and any persons affected may make representations to the committee, and, unless in their discretion the committee consider it unnecessary, shall be heard at such inquiry, and, if the committee in their discretion think fit, the whole or any part of the proceedings at such inquiry may be open to the public:

Provided that, for the purpose of this provision, the council of any city, borough, burgh, county, or district shall be deemed to be persons affected in any case where such council or any persons represented by them may be affected by any such proposed revision as aforesaid.

(4) The committee shall hear such witnesses and call for such documents and accounts as they think fit, and shall have power to take evidence on oath, and for that purpose any member of the committee may administer oaths.

(5) There shall be paid out of moneys provided by Parliament to all or any of the members of the committee such salaries or other remuneration as the Minister, with the consent of the Treasury, may determine.

(6) For the purposes of this section, "special services" means the services mentioned in section five of the schedule to the orders relating to railway rates and charges, and in the corresponding sections of the schedules to the orders relating to canal tolls, rates and charges, confirmed by various Acts passed in the years eighteen hundred and ninety-one to eighteen hundred and ninety-four.

Roads advisory committee.

22.—(1) For the purpose of giving advice and assistance to the Minister with respect to and for safeguarding any interests affected by the exercise of the powers and the performance of his duties under this Act in relation to roads, bridges and vehicles and traffic thereon, a committee (hereinafter referred to as the Roads Committee) shall be appointed.

(2) The Roads Committee shall consist of not less than eleven members, of whom five shall be representative of highway authorities, appointed after consultation with such authorities, and five shall be representative of the users of horse and mechanical road traffic, appointed after consultation with the interests concerned, and one shall be a representative of labour appointed after consultation with the interests concerned.

(3) The chairman shall be elected by the members of the Committee from among their own number and the secretary of the Roads Committee shall be appointed by the Minister.

(4) The Roads Committee may make regulations as to their procedure and method of voting, and may at their discretion consider and report to the Minister upon any matters affecting the construction, improvement, or maintenance of roads or bridges or the regulation of traffic thereon.

Advisory committees.

23.—(1) For the purpose of giving advice and assistance to the Minister in connexion with the exercise and performance of his powers and duties, the Minister shall set up a panel of experts, and of impartial persons of wide commercial and trading experience, appointed from nominees, after consultation with the various undertakings and interests concerned, of the various classes of undertakings affected by this Act, and of labour, trading interests, local authorities, and such other interests as he may deem desirable.

(2) Before exercising any of the powers under subsection (1) (b) of section three of this Act, to the exercise of which the owners of the undertaking concerned object, or establishing new transport services by land or water the Minister shall refer the matter to a committee selected by him from the said panel.

(3) The advisory panel or any committee to whom any matter is referred under this section shall, before reporting or advising, if they see fit, give public notice and permit any person affected or likely to be affected to place his views before them either orally or in writing.

(4) Any member of the advisory panel, or any committee thereof, or of any other committee established under this Act, for giving advice and assistance to the Minister, shall be considered to be acting entirely in a confidential capacity.

Consent of local authority.

24. Nothing in this Act shall be construed as giving power to the Minister to impose any conditions upon a local authority which shall entail expenditure without consent of such local authority, or of the Minister of Health, or in Scotland the Secretary for Scotland, or in Ireland the Local Government Board for Ireland.

Staff and remuneration.

25.—(1) The Minister may appoint such secretaries, officers, and servants of the Ministry as the Minister may, subject to the consent of the Treasury as to number, determine:

Provided that there shall not be more than one paid parliamentary secretary of the Ministry.

(2) There shall be paid out of moneys provided by Parliament to the Minister an annual salary not exceeding five thousand pounds, and to the parliamentary secretary of the Ministry an annual salary not exceeding fifteen hundred pounds, and to the other secretaries, officers, and servants of the Ministry such salaries or remuneration as the Treasury may from time to time determine.

(3) The expenses of the Ministry, to such amount as may be sanctioned by the Treasury, shall be paid out of moneys provided by Parliament.

(4) There shall be transferred and attached to the Ministry such of the persons employed under any other Government Department in or about the execution of the powers and duties transferred by or under this Act to the Minister, as the Minister and the other Government Department, with the sanction of the Treasury, may determine.

Section 25.

(5) The Minister may from time to time distribute the business of the Ministry amongst the several persons transferred or attached thereto in pursuance of the foregoing provisions of this section in such manner as he may think right, and those officers shall perform such duties in relation to that business as may be directed by the Minister :

Provided that such persons shall be in no worse position as respects the tenure of office, salary or superannuation allowances than they would have been if this Act had not been passed.

Seal, style and acts of Minister.

26.—(1) The Minister may sue and be sued in respect of matters, whether relating to contract tort or otherwise arising in connexion with his office, by the name of the Minister of Transport, and may for all purposes be described by that name and shall be responsible for the acts and defaults of the officers and servants and agents of the Ministry in like manner and to the like extent as if they were his servants, and costs may be awarded to or against the Minister.

(2) The Minister shall have an official seal, which shall be officially and judicially noticed, and shall be authenticated by the signature of the Minister, or of a secretary, or any person authorised by the Minister to act in that behalf.

(3) For the purpose of acquiring and holding land, the Minister for the time being shall be a corporation sole by name of the Minister of Transport, and all land vested in the Minister shall be held in trust for His Majesty for the purposes of the Ministry of Transport.

(4) Upon and by virtue of the appointment of any person to be Minister, the benefit of all deeds, contracts, bonds, securities or things in action vested in his predecessor at the time of his predecessor ceasing to hold office, shall be transferred to and vested in and enure for the benefit of the person so appointed, in the same manner as if he had been contracted with instead of his predecessor, and if his name had been inserted in all such deeds, contracts, bonds or securities instead of the name of his predecessor.

(5) Subsections (2) to (4) of section eleven, and subsections (2) and (3) of section twelve of the New Ministries and Secretaries Act, 1916, shall apply to the Minister and the Ministry of Transport and to the office of Minister of Transport in like manner as they apply to the Ministers and Ministries mentioned in those sections.

6 & 7 Geo. 5, c. 68.

Ability of Minister and secretaries to sit in Parliament.

27.—(1) The Office of Minister of Transport, or of secretary in the Ministry of Transport, shall not render the holder thereof incapable of being elected to or sitting or voting as a member of the Commons House of Parliament.

(2) The person who is first appointed to be Minister shall not by reason of such appointment, if a member of the Commons House of Parliament, vacate his seat as such member (a).

(a) This subsection was repealed by S. L. R. A., 1927.

Provisions as to Orders in Council.

28.—(1) Before any Order in Council under this Act is made, notice of the proposal to make the Order and of the place where copies of a draft of the Order can be obtained shall be published in the London, Edinburgh, and Dublin Gazette, as the case may require, and in such other manner as the Minister thinks best adapted for ensuring publicity.

(2) An Order in Council under this Act may be altered or revoked by a subsequent order.

Provision as to orders and Orders in Council re-

29.—(1) The Minister may make rules in relation to matters preliminary to the making of Orders and Orders in Council under this Act which authorise the acquisition of land or easements, or the breaking up of road and the construction of works, including the publication of notices and advertisements, and the deposit of plans and sections and books of reference to those plans, and the manner in which and the time within which representations or objections are to be made, and to the holding of local enquiries.

lating to the acquisition of land and the construction of works.

Any rules so made shall be laid before Parliament as soon as they are made and shall have the same effect as if enacted in this Act: Provided that, if an Address is presented to His Majesty by either House of Parliament within twenty-one days on which that House has sat next after any such rules are so laid praying that any such rule may be annulled, His Majesty may annul the rule, and it shall thenceforth be void, but without prejudice to the validity of anything done thereunder.

(2) The rules of procedure set out in the Second Schedule to this Act shall apply to the making of any Order under paragraph (d) of subsection (1) of section three of this Act and of any draft of an Order in Council to be submitted to Parliament under section nine of this Act.

(3) (a) The Minister on publication of notice of a proposal to make an order under paragraph (d) of subsection (1) of section three of this Act, shall, except as hereinafter provided, send to the Chairman of Committees of the House of Lords and the Chairman of Ways and Means in the House of Commons a copy of the draft Order, and if within fourteen days of the receipt of the copy, if Parliament is then sitting, or within one month thereof if Parliament is not then sitting, either such Chairman reports to the Minister that he is of opinion that the proposals of the draft Order are of such a character or magnitude that they ought not to be proceeded with without the authority of Parliament, the Minister shall not make the Order unless or until the draft Order has been approved by a Resolution passed by both Houses of Parliament, and, if the Resolution of either House directs that the proposals shall be dealt with by Private Bill and not by such Order as aforesaid, notices published and served and deposits made for the purpose of the proposed Order shall, subject to standing order, be held to have been published, served and made for a Private Bill applying for similar powers:

Provided that this subsection shall not apply to any Order with respect to which the Minister certifies that the acquisition of the land or easements authorised to be acquired thereunder and the works authorised to be constructed thereunder do not involve an estimated expenditure exceeding one million pounds, nor to any Order of any class which may be exempted from the provisions of this subsection by rules made by the said chairmen.

(a) Words in italics in this subsection repealed by S. L. R. A., 1927.

Short title and interpretation.

30.—(1) This Act may be cited as the Ministry of Transport Act, 1919.

(2) In this Act, unless the context otherwise requires—

The expression "Government Department" includes any Government Department and any Minister of the Crown acting as the head of a Government Department, and for the purposes of this Act the Road Board and the Lord Lieutenant and the Privy Council of Ireland, the Commissioners of Public Works in Ireland, and the Congested Districts Board for Ireland and the Commissioners of the Caledonian Canal and the Commissioners of the Conservancy of the River Mersey shall be deemed to be Government Departments;

The expression "tramway" includes a trackless trolley vehicle system;

The expression "easement" includes any right in or over land;

The expression "undertaking" includes any services carried on as ancillary to the principal business of the undertaking;

The expression "transport services by water" shall not include any transport service by sea other than such as is, or could under their existing statutory powers, or any extension thereof which may hereafter be authorised by Parliament, be established by the owners of any undertaking of which the Minister is for the time being in possession under this Act.

Section 30.

Where an undertaking is leased to or worked by a company or person other than the owners, the expression "the owners of an undertaking" shall include that company or person, except where such an interpretation is inconsistent with the terms of the lease or working agreement, and except for the purposes of the provisions of this Act relating to payments to be made to or by the owners of an undertaking in respect of any reduction or enhancement of the value of the undertaking.

SCHEDULES.

Section 2.

FIRST SCHEDULE.

TRANSITORY PROVISIONS.

1. In the construction and for the purposes of any Act of Parliament, any judgment, decree, order, award, deed, contract, regulation, byelaw, or other document passed or made before the transfer to the Minister, or Admiralty or Secretary of State from any other Government Department of any powers or duties by or under this Act, but so far only as may be necessary for the purpose of such transfer, the name of the Minister or Admiralty or Secretary of State shall be substituted for the name of the other Government Department.

2. Where anything has been commenced by or under the authority of any other Government Department before the transfer to the Minister or Admiralty or Secretary of State of any powers or duties by or under this Act, and such thing is in relation to the powers or duties so transferred, such thing may be carried on and completed by or under the authority of the Minister or Admiralty or Secretary of State.

3. Where at the time of the transfer of any powers or duties by or under this Act any legal proceeding is pending to which any Government Department is a party, and such proceeding has reference to the powers and duties transferred by or under this Act, the Minister or Admiralty or Secretary of State shall be substituted in such proceeding for the other Government Department, and such proceeding shall not abate by reason of the substitution.

Sections 9 and 29.

SECOND SCHEDULE.

1.—(1) Before any Order under section 3 (1) (d) of this Act is made, or any draft Order in Council under section 9 of this Act is submitted to Parliament, notice shall be published in such manner as the Minister may think best adapted for informing persons affected of the proposal to make the Order or Order in Council, and of the place or places where copies of the draft Order or Order in Council may be obtained, and of the place or places where plans of any lands (including easements) proposed to be compulsorily acquired, and plans and sections of any works proposed to be constructed and books of reference to those plans may be inspected and of the time (which shall not be less than twenty-one days) within which any objection made with respect to the draft by or on behalf of persons affected must be sent to the Minister.

(2) Every objection must be in writing, and state—

(a) the specific grounds of objection; and

(b) the omissions, additions, or modifications asked for.

(3) The Minister shall consider any objection made by or on behalf of any person, being in the case of a draft Order a person affected, and in the case of a draft Order in Council a person whose property will be injuriously affected by reason of the acquisition of the land or the construction of the proposed works, if the objection is sent to the Minister within the required time, and may, if thought fit, amend the draft, and shall then cause the amended draft to be dealt with in like manner as an original draft.

(4) Where the Minister does not amend or withdraw a draft to which any objection has been made, then (unless the objection either is withdrawn or appears to him to be frivolous) he shall before making the Order or submitting the draft Order in Council to Parliament direct an inquiry to be held in the manner hereinafter provided, and may, after considering the report of the person who held the inquiry, make the Order or submit the draft Order in Council to Parliament either without modification or subject to such modification as he may think fit, or may refuse to make the Order or submit the draft Order in Council to Parliament.

2.—(1) The Minister may appoint a competent and impartial person to hold an inquiry with regard to any draft and to report to him thereon.

(2) The inquiry shall be held in public, and any person who being entitled to do so has duly made an objection, may appear at the inquiry either in person or by counsel, solicitor, or agent.

(3) The witnesses on the inquiry may, if the person holding it thinks fit, be examined on oath.

(4) Subject as aforesaid, the inquiry and all proceedings preliminary and incidental thereto shall be conducted in accordance with rules made by the Minister.

(5) The fee to be paid to the person holding the inquiry shall be such as the Minister may direct.

THE FERRIES (ACQUISITION BY LOCAL AUTHORITIES) ACT, 1919.

(9 & 10 GEO. 5, c. 75.)

An Act to enable Local Authorities to acquire existing Ferries by Agreement.
[23rd December, 1919.]

Power of local authority to acquire, etc. existing ferries.

1.—(1) A local authority (a) may, with the consent of the Minister of Transport, purchase or accept the transfer of, and the owner of any existing ferry (b) may sell or transfer to a local authority, upon such terms as may be agreed on between the owner and the local authority, any existing ferry which is within the area of that local authority or which serves the inhabitants of that area (c).

(2) Subject to the provisions of any Act of Parliament under which the ferry was established, and to the rights of any other persons, the local authority may work, maintain and improve the ferry and charge such tolls as were legally chargeable in respect of the ferry before the sale or transfer thereof to the local authority, or such other tolls as the local authority, with the approval of the Minister of Transport, may determine, or, with the approval of the Minister of Transport, the local authority may, if they think fit, free the ferry from tolls, and shall have the rights and powers which the owner of the ferry possessed and shall be subject to the obligations and liabilities to which he was subject.

(3) A local authority may join with any other local authority for the purchase or acceptance, working, maintenance, or improvement of a ferry under this Act, or may contribute towards the expenses of the purchase or acceptance, working, maintenance, or improvement of a ferry by another local authority, and any difference which may arise between any local authorities who are acting jointly or jointly bearing any expenses under this subsection shall be determined by the Minister of Transport, or by an arbitrator appointed by him, and such determination shall be final and binding.

(4) In this Act the expression "existing ferry" means any ferry legally established by Act of Parliament or otherwise (d) at the date of the purchase or transfer, and includes all boats and other vessels, landing stages, approaches, apparatus, plant and other property used in connection with the ferry.

Section 1.

51 & 52 Vict. c. 41.

(5) The Minister of Transport shall have the like powers with respect to the holding of local inquiries for the purposes of this Act as are conferred by section eighty-seven of the Local Government Act, 1888, upon the Minister of Health for the purposes of that Act (e).

(6) In this Act the expression "local authority" means and includes a county council, the mayor, aldermen and burgesses of a county or other borough, and the council of any urban or rural district.

(7) Any expenses incurred by a local authority under this Act may be defrayed, in the case of a county council out of the county fund, and in the case of the council of a borough or urban or rural district as part of the general expenses incurred in the execution of the Public Health Acts, 1875 to 1908 (f).

(8) A local authority, if a county council, may borrow for the purposes of this Act under section sixty-nine of the Local Government Act, 1888, as if those purposes were mentioned in that section, and if a council of a county, or other borough, or a district council, shall have the same power of borrowing for the purposes of this Act as they have under the Public Health Acts, 1875 to 1908, for the purpose of defraying any expenses incurred by them in the execution of those Acts (g).

(a) See the definition of a local authority in sub-s. (6).

(b) See the definition of an existing ferry in sub-s. (4).

(c) This is a wide expression. A ferry may serve the inhabitants of an area though it does not adjoin that area.

(d) A ferry is created by Royal grant, or in modern days by Act of Parliament, or exists by prescription which implies a Royal grant. See as to the creation of a ferry and generally as to the law relating to ferries, Halsbury's Laws of England, Vol. XIV., p. 555. Reference may also be made to Layzell v. Thompson (1927), 91 J. P. 129.

(f) As to expenses of an urban district council, see the P. H. A., 1875, s. 207, ante, p. 495; and as to the expenses of a rural district council, see s. 229 of the same Act, ante, p. 514, as amended by the R. & V. Act, 1925, ante, p. 1633.

(g) See the P. H. A., 1875, s. 233, ante, p. 519.

Protection of general public.

2. In the case of every ferry acquired under this Act, regulations with regard to the working shall be made by the local authority for the protection from injury of passengers and the general public: Provided that no such regulation shall have any force or validity until the same have been confirmed by the Minister of Transport with or without amendment. Offenders against such regulations shall be liable on summary conviction to such penalties, not exceeding forty shillings, as may be thereby prescribed.

Crown rights.

3. Nothing in this Act affects prejudicially any estate, right, power, privilege, or exemption of the Crown and in particular nothing herein contained authorises any local authority to take, use, or in any manner interfere with any portion of the shore or bed of the sea or of any river, channel, creek, bay, or estuary or any land, hereditaments, subjects, or rights of whatsoever description belonging to His Majesty in right of His Crown and under the management of the Commissioners of [Crown Lands] (a) or of the Board of Trade respectively without the consent in writing of the Commissioners of [Crown Lands] (a) or the Board of Trade, as the case may be, on behalf of His Majesty first had and obtained for that purpose (which consent the said Commissioners and Board are hereby respectively authorised to give).

(a) Words in brackets substituted for "Woods" in consequence of the Forestry (Title of Commissioners of Woods) Order, 1924. See Crown Lands Act, 1927, s. 1 (4).

Exemption from tolls in case of persons in service of Crown, &c.

4. Without prejudice to any existing right of His Majesty, and save as provided by the Army Act, nothing in this Act shall extend to authorise any tolls to be demanded or received from any person when on duty in the service of the Crown, or for any animal, vehicle, or goods the property of, or when being used in the service of, the Crown, or returning after being so used, or from any police officer acting in the execution of his duty, or for any mail bag as defined by the Post Office Act, 1908 (a). If any person wilfully and with intent to defraud claims or takes the benefit of any such exemption as aforesaid without being entitled thereto, he shall for every such offence be liable, on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding ten pounds. 8 Edw. 7. c 48.

Section 4.

(2) This Act may be cited as the Ferries (Acquisition by Local Authorities) Act, 1919. Extent and short title.

THE PUBLIC LIBRARIES ACT, 1919.

(9 & 10 Geo. 5, c. 93.)

An Act to amend the Public Libraries Acts, 1892 to 1901 (a), and to repeal so much of the Museums and Gymnasiums Act, 1891 (b), as authorises the provision of Museums in England and Wales. [23rd December, 1919.]

1.—(1) The council of any county in England or Wales shall have power by resolution specifying the area to which the resolution extends to adopt the Public Libraries Acts for the whole or any part of their county, exclusive of any part of the county which is an existing library area within the meaning of this Act, as if the area specified in the resolution were a library district for the purposes of those Acts (c). Powers of county councils to adopt the Public Libraries Acts.

(2) Where any resolution is passed by the council of a county under this section, the Public Libraries Acts shall, as respects the area specified in the resolution, be carried into execution by the council as the library authority of the area, and, subject to the provisions of this Act, the power to adopt those Acts for any district comprised in that area, being a library district within the meaning of the Public Libraries Act, 1892, shall cease (d). 55 & 56 Vict. c. 53.

(3) Where the Public Libraries Acts have been adopted by the council of a county, the council may borrow for the purposes of those Acts as for the purposes of the Local Government Act, 1888 (e): 51 & 52 Vict. c. 41.

Provided that money borrowed for the purposes of those Acts shall not be reckoned as part of the total debt of the county for the purposes of subsection (2) of section sixty-nine of the Local Government Act, 1888, and that sixty years shall be substituted for thirty years in subsection (5) of the said section sixty-nine as the maximum period within which money borrowed for the purposes of those Acts is to be repaid (f).

(a) The Acts referred to are the Public Libraries Act, 1892, the Public Libraries (Amendment) Act, 1893, and the Public Libraries Act, 1901. All these Acts are set out in extenso, ante, pp. 2542, 2552, 2616.

(b) See this Act in extenso, ante, p. 2528.

(c) The power of adopting these Acts is extended by the text to a County Council. For the definition of an existing library area, see s. 10, post, p. 2781. And for the definition of a library district, see the Act of 1892, s. 1 (2), ante, p. 2542.

(d) The power to adopt the Public Libraries Acts is that conferred by the Act of 1892, s. 1 (2), on urban districts and parishes not within urban districts. Where the County

Note to Section 1.

Council adopt the Acts for any area under sub-s. (1), the power to adopt by urban districts and parishes will cease.

(e) The power to borrow here referred to is that conferred by the L. G. A., 1888, s. 69.

(f) The L. G. A., 1888, s. 69, authorises a county council to borrow for any purpose for which a county council are authorised by any Act to borrow. But it provided by sub-s. (2) that where the total debt of the county exceeded one-tenth of the rateable value of the county, the amount should not be borrowed save pursuant to a provisional order made by the L. G. B. (now the Ministry of Health), and confirmed by Act of Parliament. This restriction having been removed by s. 74 of the L. G. A., 1929, ante, p. 1940, the words in italics were repealed by Sch. XII, Pt. V., ibid. By sub-s. (5) of s. 69 the loan had to be repaid within thirty years; this is extended to sixty years by the provision in the text in case of loans for the purposes of the Public Libraries Acts.

Arrangements between existing library authorities and county councils.

2.—(1) Any library authority, being the library authority of an existing library area (a) and not being the council of a county borough, may, on such terms as may be agreed upon between the authority and the council of the county and approved by the Board (b), relinquish in favour of the council of the county any of their powers and duties under the Public Libraries Acts, and in that case the powers and duties so relinquished shall cease and the provisions of this Act shall have effect as if the council of the county had passed a resolution under this Act (c) adopting the Public Libraries Acts as respects that area.

(2) Where under the provisions of this Act any existing library authority relinquishes its powers and duties in favour of the council of a county, any property or rights acquired for the purpose of the performance of those powers and duties shall by virtue of this Act be transferred to and become vested in the county council and any liabilities incurred for that purpose shall by virtue of this Act become liabilities of the county council.

(a) See the definition of this expression in s. 10, post, p. 2781.

(b) I.e. the Board of Education. See s. 10, post, p. 2781.

Reference and delegation of library powers to education committees.
2 Edw. 7, c. 42.

3.—(1) Where after the commencement of this Act the Public Libraries Acts are adopted by an authority which is not the library authority of an existing library area (a) and which is the local education authority for the purpose of Part II. of the Education Act, 1902 (b), all matters relating to the exercise by the authority of their powers under the Public Libraries Acts, except the power of raising a rate or borrowing money, shall stand referred to the education committee established under the Education Acts, 1870 to 1918 (c), and the authority before exercising any such powers shall, unless in their opinion the matter is urgent, receive and consider the report of the education committee with respect to the matter in question.

(2) A library authority, being the local education authority for the purpose of Part II. of the Education Act, 1902, may refer any matters relating to the exercise by them of their powers under the Public Libraries Acts to the education committee established under the Education Acts, 1870 to 1918 (c), and may delegate to that committee any of those powers other than the power of raising a rate or borrowing money, and any education committee to which any powers are delegated under this section may, subject to any directions of the council, delegate all or any of those powers to a sub-committee consisting either in whole, or in part, of members of the education committee.

(3) Where any powers stand referred or are delegated to an education committee in pursuance of this section, those powers shall not, by reason of being so delegated, be deemed for any purposes whatsoever to be powers conferred by the Education Acts, 1870 to 1918.

(a) See the definition of this expression in s. 10, post, p. 2781.

(b) Part II. of the Education Act, 1902, related to Higher Education, and the local education authority for that purpose was the council of a county or county borough.

(c) The education committee was established under the Education Act, 1902, 2 Ed. 7, c. 42, s. 17. See now s. 4 of the Education Act, 1921, which repealed the Act of 1902.

Note to Section 3.

Provision as to expenses and audit. 55 & 56 Vict. c. 53.

4.—(1) Section two of the Public Libraries Act, 1892 (which imposes limitations on the amount of the rate which may be levied for the purposes of that Act) shall cease to have effect, and, where the expenses incurred by any library authority for the purposes of the Public Libraries Acts during the financial year current at the commencement of this Act exceed the amount produced by the maximum rate which the authority have power to levy for the purposes of those Acts, no part of those expenses shall be open to objection on the audit of the accounts of the authority on the ground that the statutory limitation on expenditure has been exceeded, if and in so far as the expenses were in the opinion of the Ministry of Health reasonably incurred (a) :

Provided that, if the library authority of any library district, either at the time when the Public Libraries Acts are adopted for the district or at any subsequent time, by resolution declare that the rate to be levied for the purposes of those Acts in the district or any specified portion of the district in any one financial year shall not exceed such sum in the pound as may be specified, the power to raise a rate for the purpose of those Acts in that district shall be limited accordingly, and any such resolution shall not be rescinded until the expiration of twelve months from the date on which it was passed.

(2) Any expenses incurred by the council of a county under the Public Libraries Acts shall be defrayed out of the county fund (b), and the council may, if they think fit, after giving reasonable notice to the overseers of the parish or parishes (c) concerned, and in the case of an area situate within a borough including a metropolitan borough or urban district after consultation with the council of the borough or urban district, charge any expenses incurred by them under those Acts on any parish or parishes which in the opinion of the council of the county are served by any institution which has been provided or is being maintained by that council under those Acts :

Provided that the council of a county shall not charge any expenses so incurred on any parish or parishes within an existing library district without the concurrence of the library authority of that district (d).

(3) The accounts of the receipts and expenditure under the Public Libraries Acts of the council of a county shall be audited in manner provided by section seventy-one of the Local Government Act, 1888 (e).

(a) Words in italics repealed by S. L. R. A., 1927. No statutory limit is now imposed, but the library authority may themselves limit the expenditure in connection with these Acts by resolution.

(b) For the provisions in force as to the county fund, see the L. G. A., 1888, s. 68. The expenses will therefore fall on the county at large, except in cases within the latter part of the section.

(c) Overseers were abolished by s. 62 of the R. & V. Act, 1925, ante, p. 1741. Art. 14 of the Overseers Order, 1927, in App. II., post, p. 3684, provides that notice must now be given in the case of an urban parish to the clerk to the rating authority and in a rural parish to the chairman of the parish council or parish meeting.

(d) See the Act of 1892, s. 1, ante, p. 2542.

(e) That is to say, by the district auditor.

Power to rescind resolutions of county councils adopting the Public Libraries Acts

5.—(1) The council of a county by whom a resolution has been passed under this Act adopting the Public Libraries Acts may, if they think it advisable so to do with a view to the better carrying into effect of those Acts in any district (a), apply to the Board (b) for an order rescinding the resolution as respects that district, and the Board may on any such application, if they think fit, make an order accordingly, and thereupon the Public Libraries Acts shall, as respects that district, have effect as from the date

Section 5. specified in that behalf in the order as though the resolution had not been passed.

(2) Any order made under this section may contain such consequential and supplemental provisions with respect to the transfer of any property or rights acquired or liabilities incurred under the Public Libraries Acts from the council of the county to the library authority of the district concerned as the Board think fit, but no such liabilities shall be transferred to such last-mentioned library authority without their consent.

(3) In this section the expression "district" means, as the case requires, either a library district or a district which would have been a library district if a resolution adopting the Public Libraries Acts had not been passed under this Act by the council of the county (c).

(a) See sub-s. 3.

(b) That is, the Board of Education. See s. 10, post, p. 2781.

(c) For the definition of library district see s. 1 (2) of the 1892 Act, ante, p. 2542. And see s. 1 (2) of this Act, ante, p. 2777, as to the excluding effect of a resolution of the county council.

Power of certain library authorities to purchase land compulsorily.

6. A library authority, being the local education authority for the purpose of Part II. of the Education Act, 1902 (a), may be authorised to purchase land compulsorily for the purpose of any of their powers or duties under the Public Libraries Acts in the same manner as they are authorised to purchase land compulsorily for the purpose of their powers or duties under the Education Acts, 1870 to 1918, and subsection (1) of section thirty-four of the Education Act, 1918, shall apply accordingly with the substitution of a reference to the Public Libraries Acts for references therein to the Education Acts, and with the omission of proviso (b) thereof (b).

8 & 9 Geo. 5, c. 39.

(a) See note (c) to s. 3, ante, p. 2779.

(b) Under s. 34 (1) of the Act of 1918 land might be compulsorily acquired by an order submitted to the Board of Education and confirmed by them. The Act of 1918 was repealed by the Education Act, 1921. See the provisions of ss. 109 et seq. of that Act and the Order of 1925 in App. II., post, p. 3442, as to the acquisition of land.

Repeal of s. 3 of 56 & 57 Vict. c. 11.

7. Section three of the Public Libraries Act, 1893, shall cease to have effect and accordingly any resolution passed in accordance with the ordinary procedure of the council concerned shall have full effect for the purposes of that Act (a).

(a) Sect. 3 of the Act of 1893 provided for the manner in which the Libraries Acts might be adopted. It is now superseded by the provision in the text. Words in italics repealed by S. L. R. A., 1927.

Power of providing schools of science and of art under s. 11 of 55 & 56 Vict. c. 53 to cease.

8. As from the date of the commencement of this Act, the power of providing schools for science and schools for art conferred by section eleven of the Public Libraries Act, 1892, shall cease, without prejudice, however, to the power of maintaining under the Public Libraries Acts any such school established under that section before that date (a).

(a) See the section referred to, ante, p. 2544.

Power of providing museum under 54 & 55 Vict. c. 22 to cease.

9. As from the date of the commencement of this Act, so much of section four of the Museums and Gymnasiums Act, 1891, as authorises the provision of museums in England and Wales shall cease to have effect, without prejudice however, subject as hereinafter provided, to the power of maintaining under that Act any museum established thereunder before the said date (a):

Provided that, where the district for which a museum has been provided under the said Act at the said date is, or is part of, or at any time after the said date becomes, or becomes part of, a district which is a library district (b) within the meaning of the Public Libraries Acts, the museum shall be transferred to the library authority of the district, and be maintained by that authority as though it had been provided under those Acts (c).

(a) See the section of the Act of 1891 referred to in the text, ante, p. 2529. Under s. 11 of the 1892 Act, ante, p. 2544, a library authority had power to provide not only public libraries, but also public museums, schools for science, art galleries, and schools of art. See now, however, as to schools for science and art, s. 8, ante, p. 2780.

(b) See the Act of 1892, s. 1, ante, p. 2542.

(c) I.e., under s. 11 of the 1892 Act, ante, p. 2544.

Interpretation.

10. For the purposes of this Act—

The expression "the Public Libraries Acts" means the Public Libraries Acts, 1892 to 1901 and this Act (a);

The expression "the Board" means the Board of Education;

The expression "existing library area" means a district as respects which the Public Libraries Acts are in force and in which expenses have, within the last preceding financial year, been incurred for the purposes of those Acts, or in which a public library has been established and is being maintained under or by virtue of any local Act;

The expression "financial year" means the year ending on the thirty-first day of March.

(a) The Public Libraries Acts are now 55 & 56 Vict. c. 53; 56 & 57 Vict. c. 11; 61 & 62 Vict. c. 53; 1 Edw. 7, c. 19, and this Act.

Short title and repeal.

11.—(1) This Act may be cited as the Public Libraries Act, 1919, and shall be construed as one with the Public Libraries Acts, 1892 to 1901, and those Acts and this Act may be cited together as the Public Libraries Acts, 1892 to 1919 (a).

(2) The enactments mentioned in the Schedule to this Act are hereby repealed to the extent specified in the third column of that schedule (b).

(a) See note (a) to s. 10, supra.

(b) This subsection and the Schedule referred to therein were repealed by S. L. R. A., 1927.

ELECTRICITY (SUPPLY) ACT, 1919 (a).

(9 & 10 GEO. 5, c. 100.)

An Act to amend the Law with respect to the supply of electricity.
[23rd December, 1919.]

Electricity Commissioners.

Appointment Electricity Commissioners.

1.—(1) For promoting, regulating, and supervising the supply of electricity there shall be established as soon as may be after the passing of this Act, a body to be called the Electricity Commissioners, who shall have such powers and duties as are conferred on them by or under this Act, and, subject thereto, shall act under the general directions of the Board of Trade (b).

(2) The Commissioners, not exceeding five in number, of whom one shall be chairman, shall be appointed by the Board of Trade: in the case of two of the Commissioners the term of office shall be such as may be fixed by the Board of Trade at the time when the appointment is made; the other Commissioners shall hold office during His Majesty's pleasure.

(3) Three of the Commissioners shall be whole-time officers.

(4) Three of the Commissioners shall be selected for practical, commercial, and scientific knowledge and wide business experience, including that of electrical supply.

(5) A person shall be disqualified for being appointed or being a Commissioner if he has, directly or indirectly, any share or interest in any undertaking for the supply of electricity, otherwise than as a ratepayer in the case of an undertaking of a local authority.

(6) The Commissioners may act by two of their number and notwithstanding a vacancy in their number.

(7) The Electricity Commissioners may appoint a secretary and such inspectors, officers and servants as the Commissioners may determine, and there shall be paid out of the fund hereinafter established to the Commissioners, and to the secretary, inspectors, officers and servants of the Commissioners, such salaries and remuneration, and on retirement [or death] (c) such pensions or gratuities as the Board of Trade (d) may determine, and any expenses incurred by the Commissioners in the exercise and performance of their powers and duties under this Act, shall be defrayed out of the said fund.

(8) Every document or instrument purporting to be an order or instrument issued by the Commissioners, and to be signed by the secretary to the Commissioners, or any person authorised to act on behalf of the secretary, shall be received in evidence, and be deemed to be such order or instrument without further proof unless the contrary is shown.

(a) This Act is one of the Electricity (Supply) Acts, 1882–1928, which include the Electric Lighting Acts, 1882, 1888 and 1909, ante, pp. 2437, 2495, and 2695, and the Electricity (Supply) Acts, 1922, 1926 and 1928, post, pp. 2835, 2909, and 3019.

(b) The powers and duties of the Board of Trade under this Act and the Electric Lighting Acts have been transferred to the Minister of Transport by Order in Council made under s. 39 (1) of this Act, but by a proviso to that sub-section it is enacted that the power of appointing Electricity Commissioners shall be exercised by the Minister of Transport with the concurrence of the Board of Trade.

(c) The words in brackets were added by s. 50 and Sch. VI. Electricity (Supply) Act, 1926, post.

(d) For Board of Trade now read Minister of Transport. See note (b), supra.

Exercise of powers through Electricity Commissioners.

2. The Board of Trade (a) may exercise through the Electricity Commissioners any of their powers and duties under the Electric Lighting Acts (b) or the orders or regulations made thereunder or under any local Acts relating to the supply of electricity or under any enactment relating to matters incidental to such supply.

(a) See note (b) to s. 1, ante, p. 2782.

(b) This expression is defined to mean the Electric Lighting Acts, 1882 to 1909 (s. 36).

Power to conduct experiments.

3. The Electricity Commissioners may, either by themselves or through any joint electricity authority established under this Act, or any authorised undertakers (a), or other competent body, conduct experiments or trials for the improvement of the methods of electric supply or of the utilisation of fuel or water-power, and, subject to the approval of the Board of Trade (b), incur such expenditure as may be necessary for the purpose.

(a) This expression includes authorised distributors and power companies (s. 36, post, p. 2802). As to who are authorised distributors and power companies, see the same section.

(b) See note (b) to s. 1, ante, p. 2782.

Advisory Committee.

4. The Electricity Commissioners may appoint a committee or committees consisting of chairmen or other members of joint electricity authorities established under this Act, or representatives of authorised undertakers or other specially qualified persons for the purpose of giving to the Commissioners advice and assistance on such matters connected with the general improvement and development of the supply of electricity as may be referred to the committee by the Commissioners, and the Commissioners shall take into consideration any representations which have been made to them by any such committee.

Reorganisation of Supply of Electricity.

Electricity districts.

5 (a).—(1) The Electricity Commissioners may provisionally determine that any district in the United Kingdom shall be constituted a separate electricity district for the purposes of this Act, and, in considering what areas are to be included in a district, areas shall be grouped in such manner as may seem to the Commissioners most conducive to the efficiency and economy of the supply of electricity and to convenience of administration. Before finally determining the area of any such district, the Electricity Commissioners shall publish notice of their intention so to do and of the area proposed to be included in such district, and shall also give notice thereof to all county councils, local authorities, and authorised undertakers any part of whose county district or area of supply is proposed to be included in the electricity district, and, if any objection or representation be made on account of the inclusion in or the exclusion from the proposed district of any area, the Electricity Commissioners shall hold a local inquiry with reference to the area to be included in the proposed district:

Provided that, where a local inquiry is held as hereinafter provided regarding the improvement of the organisation of the supply of electricity in any district, the area of that district shall not be finally determined until after that inquiry has been held.

(2) Where it appears to the Electricity Commissioners with respect to any electricity district so provisionally determined that the existing organisation for the supply of electricity therein should be improved, the Commissioners shall give notice of their intention to hold a local inquiry into the matter, and shall give to authorised undertakers, county councils, local authorities, railway companies using or proposing to use electricity for traction purposes, large consumers of electricity, and other associations or bodies within the district which appear to

Section 5. the Commissioners to be interested, an opportunity to submit, within such time as the Commissioners may allow, a scheme or schemes for effecting such improvement, including proposals for altering or adjusting the boundaries of the district and, where necessary, the formation of a joint electricity authority [or other body] (b) for the district.

(3) If no such scheme is submitted within the time so allowed, or if no scheme submitted is approved by the Commissioners, the Commissioners may themselves formulate such a scheme.

(4) The Electricity Commissioners shall publish, in such manner as they think best adapted for ensuring publicity, any scheme which they have approved, with or without modifications, or which they have themselves formulated, and shall hold a local inquiry thereon.

(b) These words were added by s. 19 of the Electricity (Supply) Act, 1922.

Joint electricity authorities.

6 (a).—(1) A scheme under the last-foregoing section may provide for the establishment and (where desirable) the incorporation with power to hold land without licence in mortmain, of a joint electricity authority representative of authorised undertakers (b) within the electricity district, either with or without the addition of representatives of the council of any county situate wholly or partly within the electricity district, local authorities, large consumers of electricity, and other interests [(including the persons employed in connection with the supply of electricity)] (c) within the electricity district, and, subject as hereinafter in this Act provided, for the exercise by that authority of all or any of the powers of the authorised undertakers within the electricity district, and for the transfer to the authority of the whole or any part of the undertakings of any of those undertakers, upon such terms as may be provided by the scheme, and the scheme may contain any consequential, incidental, and supplemental provisions which appear to be expedient or proper for the purpose of the scheme (d), including provisions determining the area included in the electricity district : [and the conditions of employment of persons employed by the joint electricity authority] (e).

Provided that no such scheme shall provide for the transfer to the authority of any part of an undertaking except with the consent of the owners thereof.

(2) The scheme may provide for enabling the joint electricity authority to delegate, with or without restrictions, to committees of the authority any of the powers or duties of the authority, and for the payment out of the revenues of the authority of travelling and subsistence expenses of members of the authority, and reasonable compensation for loss of remunerative time.

(a) The construction of this section was considered in R. v. Electricity Commissioners (Ex parte London Joint Committee), [1924] 1 K. B. 171 ; 88 J. P. 13. A scheme which compelled the joint electricity authority to appoint two committees and assigned to each of the committees separate portions of the district and delegated separate powers and duties to each committee was in that case held to be ultra vires.

A joint electricity authority, although authorised by a scheme under this Act to promote " any " bill " for the purposes of this scheme," cannot promote a bill to enlarge the limits of their area as defined by the scheme or to obtain additional powers which might have been but were not conferred by the scheme (Att.-Gen. v. London and Home Counties Joint Electricity Authority, [1929] 1 Ch. 513 ; 93 J. P. 115).

(b) See definition in s. 36, post, p. 2802.

(c) The parenthesis in brackets was added by s. 20 of the Electricity (Supply) Act, 1922, post, p. 2844.

(d) The scheme may also contain provisions (a) for the carrying out by the joint electricity authority for the development of the supply of electricity within the district; and (b) for the subsequent alteration of the constitution of the joint electricity authority (see s. 37, Electricity (Supply) Act, 1926, post, p. 2931).

(e) These words were added by s. 20 of the Electricity (Supply) Act, 1922, post, p. 2844.

Confirmation of schemes.

7.—(1) The Electricity Commissioners may make an order giving effect to the schemes embodying decisions they arrive at as the result of such inquiry as aforesaid, and present the order for confirmation by the Board of Trade (a), who may confirm the order either without modification or subject to such modifications as they think fit (b).

(2) Any such order shall be laid, as soon as may be after it is confirmed before each House of Parliament, but shall not come into operation unless and until it has been approved either with or without modification by a resolution passed by each such House, and when so approved shall have effect as if enacted in this Act (c).

(3) An order made under this section may be altered by a subsequent order made, confirmed, and approved in like manner as the original order (d).

(a) Now M. of T. See note (b) to s. 1, ante, p. 2782.

(b) A writ of prohibition issued to prohibit the commissioners from holding a local inquiry and proceeding further with the consideration of an ultra vires scheme notwithstanding the provisions of this section (R. v. Electricity Commissioners, Ex parte London Joint Committee, [1924] 1 K. B. 171; 88 J. P. 13).

(c) As to the effect of this provision, see Ex parte Ringer and the cases cited therewith at p. 630, ante.

(d) This provision includes power by a subsequent order to constitute a joint electricity authority where the original order did not provide for the constitution of such an authority, and such an order shall apply s. 16 of this Act as amended to the officers and servants of the body displaced by the joint electricity authority (s. 38, Electricity (Supply) Act, 1926, post, p. 2931).

General powers and duties of joint electricity authorities.

8.—(1) It shall be the duty of every joint electricity authority constituted under this Act to provide or secure the provision of a cheap and abundant supply of electricity within their district, and for that purpose every such authority shall have such powers and duties as are conferred or imposed upon them by the scheme under which they are constituted or by this Act with respect to—

(a) the supply of electricity within their district (including the construction of generating stations (a), main transmission lines (a), and other works required for the purpose);

(b) the acquisition of the undertakings or parts of the undertakings of authorised undertakers (a);

and such powers incidental thereto, as are in the scheme or in this Act mentioned, and every such authority shall comply with any general directions given to them by the Electricity Commissioners as to the exercise and performance of their powers and duties (b).

(2) A joint electricity authority may, with the approval of the Electricity Commissioners, establish or join with any other such authority in establishing a scheme for the payment of superannuation allowances and gratuities to any of their officers and servants who become incapable of discharging their duties by reason of permanent infirmity of body and mind or old age upon their resigning or otherwise ceasing to hold office, and the expenses incurred under any such scheme shall be treated as part of the expenses of the authority in carrying out their powers and duties under this Act (c).

(a) See the definitions in s. 36, post, p. 2802.

(b) See the power given to discharge purchase price by the issue of stock by s. 4 of the Electricity (Supply) Act, 1922, post, p. 2837, and see s. 8 of the same Act. See also the power to lease undertakings to joint electricity authorities given by s. 6 of the same Act.

(c) Section 33, Electricity (Supply) Act, 1926, post, p. 2928, gives specific power to a joint electricity authority to adopt the provisions of the Local Government and Other Officers Superannuation Act, 1922, ante, p. 1335, without prejudice to the provisions of this section, so that apparently the approval of the Electricity Commissioners will be required to such adoption.

Generating Stations.

Power to acquire generating stations, &c.

9. A joint electricity authority may, with the consent of the Electricity Commissioners, by agreement with the owners thereof acquire any generating station or any main transmission line from any such station on such terms as may be agreed (a).

(a) See s. 12 of the Electricity (Supply) Act, 1922, post, p. 2841, for a power to make agreements as to working of generating stations. For meanings of "generating station" and "main transmission line," see s. 36, post, p. 2802.

Right to use for generating stations land acquired for that purpose.

10. Where a joint electricity authority or any authorised undertakers (a) are authorised by order made after the passing of this Act to acquire or use any land for the purpose of a generating station (a), no person shall be entitled to restrain the use of the land for that purpose.

(a) See definitions in s. 36, post, p. 2802.

Restrictions on the establishment of new generating stations (a).

11. Notwithstanding anything in any special Act or order in force at the passing of this Act, it shall not be lawful for any authority, company, or person to establish a new or extend (a) an existing generating station (b) or main transmission line (b) without the consent of the Electricity Commissioners (c) (which consent shall not be refused or made subject to compliance with conditions to which the authority, company, or person object, unless a local inquiry (d) has been held), but this restriction shall not apply to the establishment or extension of a private generating station: provided that, in the case of the establishment of a new private generating station, the owner thereof shall comply with any regulations made by the Electricity Commissioners as to the type of current, frequency, and pressure to be used; but such regulations shall be so framed as not to interfere with the economical and efficient working of the business for which the supply is generated:

Provided that, in the case of a railway company using or proposing to use electricity for traction, and in the case of the owners of a dock undertaking regulated by Act of Parliament using or proposing to use electricity for the purposes of their undertaking, consent shall not be refused unless it is proved to the satisfaction of the Electricity Commissioners that a joint electricity authority or authorised undertakers are or will be willing and in a position to give the railway company or owners a supply of electricity, adequate in quantity and regularity to meet the present and prospective demand of the railway company or owners, at a cost not greater than would have been incurred by the railway company or owners in supplying themselves:

Provided also that—

(a) where a group of persons carrying on or intending to carry on businesses in which large quantities of electricity are used for purposes other than for provision of mechanical power or light propose to establish a generating station for the purposes of such businesses; or

(b) where a manufacturer, having a business in which electricity can be generated from energy derived from a process of manufacture carried on in his premises, proposes to establish a generating station for the purpose of supplying electricity not only for his own business but also to other manufacturers whose businesses are associated therewith:

the Electricity Commissioners may authorise the establishment, by or on behalf of those consumers or that manufacturer, of a generating station, subject to the condition that any surplus electricity generated beyond that required by those consumers or, as the case may be, by the business of that manufacturer or the associated businesses shall (if required by the Electricity Commissioners) be supplied to the joint electricity authority, or any authorised undertakers, at such prices as the Electricity Commissioners may think fit and proper, and may by order authorise the exercise of such other powers (including the breaking up of roads, railways, and tramways) as may be necessary for the purpose of such supply, and the generating station shall be treated for the purposes of this Act as though it were a private generating station.

(a) The substitution for existing plant of smaller but more efficient plant in a generating station is an extension of a "generating station" within s. 36 and requires the consent of the commissioners under this section (Att.-Gen. v. Ealing Corpn., [1924] 2 Ch. 545 88 J. P. 153).

(b) See definition in s. 36, post, p. 2802.

(c) See s. 13 of the Electricity (Supply) Act, 1922, post, p. 2841, for conditions under which the restriction on generating stations and obligations to take supplies from same are not to apply. See also s. 25 of the Act of 1922, post, p. 2846, as to the power of persons not being undertakers to supply electricity. In giving consent under this section regard must be had to the provisions of the Electricity (Supply) Act, 1926, and the effect of any scheme or proposed scheme thereunder (see s. 18 (2) of that Act, post, p. 2922).

(d) As to local inquiries, see s. 33, post, p. 2801.

Powers of Joint Electricity Authorities (a).

Powers of joint electricity authorities in respect of the supply of electricity.

12.—(1) A joint electricity authority shall have power to supply electricity within their district subject to the following limitations, that is to say, the authority shall not supply electricity—

(a) in any area which for the time being forms part of the area of supply of any authorised distributors without the consent of those distributors, except to railway, canal, or inland navigation companies or authorities for the purposes of traction or haulage, or for lighting vehicles and vessels for the haulage or traction of which electricity is supplied, or for the purpose of charging or re-charging electric vehicles not running on rails; or

(b) in any part of the area of supply of a power company for any purpose for which the company are therein authorised to supply electricity, without the consent of the company, except to the previous owner of a generating station which has been transferred to the joint electricity authority or for the purpose of charging or re-charging electric vehicles not running on rails (b):

Provided that, where the authorised distributors or power company refuse or withhold their consent, the joint electricity authority may appeal to the Electricity Commissioners as to whether the consent is unreasonably refused or withheld, and the Board of Trade (c) on the recommendation of the Electricity Commissioners may dispense with such consent if in their opinion it is unreasonably refused or withheld, and the consent shall be deemed to be unreasonably refused or withheld if the authorised distributors or power company are not willing and in a position to give the requisite supply upon reasonable terms and within a reasonable time, and in considering what are reasonable terms and what is a reasonable time the Board of Trade (c) shall amongst other things have regard to the terms upon which and the time within which the joint electricity authority and the authorised distributors or power company are respectively willing and able to give the supply, and, where the authorised distributors or power company are themselves supplied by the joint electricity authority, the terms upon which they are so supplied, including the period of time for which such terms are to be binding (d).

(2) This Act shall, in relation to every joint electricity authority, be deemed to be a special Act for the purposes of the Electric Lighting Acts (e),

Section 12. and every joint electricity authority shall be deemed to be undertakers within the meaning of those Acts, and for the purposes of this section there shall be incorporated with this Act the provisions of the Schedule to the Electric Lighting (Clauses) Act, 1899 (f), subject to such exceptions and modifications as may be prescribed by the order constituting the joint electricity authority:

63 & 64 Vict. c. 19.

51 & 52 Vict. c. 12.

Provided that sections two and three of the Electric Lighting Act, 1888 (which relate to the purchase of undertakings by local authorities), shall not apply to the undertakings of joint electricity authorities.

(3) Subject to the limitations hereinbefore contained on the powers of a joint electricity authority to supply electricity, the Electricity Commissioners may by order, after such inquiry as they think fit, impose on any joint electricity authority an obligation to supply electricity in such circumstances within such areas, and on such terms and conditions as to price and otherwise as may be specified in the order (g).

(a) See the provision as to the mode of exercising their powers by joint electricity authorities contained in s. 15 of the Electricity (Supply) Act, 1922, post, p. 2842.

(b) The words in italics were deleted by s. 16 (1) of the Electricity (Supply) Act, 1922.

(c) Now the M. of T. See note (b) to s. 1, ante, p. 2782.

(d) The words in italics were deleted by s. 16 (1) of the Electricity (Supply) Act, 1922, and by the same sub-section the following proviso was inserted at the end of the sub-section in the text: Provided that, if in any particular part of the area of supply of a power company, the power company are not willing and in a position to supply electricity to any local authority, company or person who is prepared to enter into a binding contract with that power company to continue to receive and pay for a supply of electricity upon such terms and conditions (including the payment of a minimum annual sum) as will, in the opinion of the Electricity Commissioners, afford an adequate return to the power company, and is also (in the case of a company or person) prepared to give to the power company (if required by them so to do) security for the payment of all sums which may become due to the power company under the contract, then and in such case the Electricity Commissioners may, by special order under s. 26 of the principal Act, authorise a joint electricity authority to supply electricity in that particular part of the area of supply of the power company without the consent of the power company. In determining what terms and conditions will afford an adequate return to the power company, the Commissioners shall have regard to the following amongst other considerations: (i) The period for which the authority, company or person requiring the supply guarantees to take the supply; (ii) The amount of electricity and the maximum power required; (iii) The hours during which the power company can be called upon to give the supply; (iv) The capital expenditure in connection with the supply; and (v) To what extent capital expended in connection with the supply may become unproductive to the power company upon the discontinuance of the supply.

(e) These are the Electric Lighting Acts, 1882 to 1909 (s. 36). See these Acts at pp. 2437, 2495, 2695, ante.

(f) See this Act at p. 2569, ante.

(g) See the provision contained in s. 18 of the Electricity (Supply) Act, 1922, post, p. 2844, as to the limitation on the prices to be charged.

Transfer of undertakings to joint electricity authorities.

13.—(1) Any local authority being authorised distributors (a) may, with the consent of the Electricity Commissioners, agree with the joint electricity authority of the district in which the area of supply (b) of the local authority or any part thereof is situated for the transfer to the joint electricity authority of the whole or any part of the undertaking of the local authority within that district:

Provided that, where part of the area of supply of the local authority is situated in a locality which is not included in an electricity district, the powers of purchasing that part may, if the Electricity Commissioners consent, be exercised by a joint electricity authority within whose district any part of the area of supply is situated (c).

(2) Where under the Electric Lighting Acts, or under any order made thereunder or under any special or local Act, any right to purchase the whole or any part of the undertaking of any authorised distributors is vested in any local authority (including a county council), the right may, by any order under this Act constituting a joint electricity authority for the district comprising the area of the local authority, [or by any amending order under section seven of this Act] (d), be transferred to and vested in the joint electricity authority, subject to the order providing for adequate representation on the joint electricity authority of the local authority from whom the right is transferred, and, on any such right being so transferred, the order or Act conferring the right shall be construed accordingly, and any question as to the adequacy of such representation shall be determined by the Electricity Commissioners (e):

Provided that, if the area of the local authority is situate partly in the district of one joint electricity authority and partly in that of another, the right shall be transferable to such one of those joint electricity authorities or divisible between them as the Electricity Commissioners may determine, and where part of such area is situate in a locality which is not included in an electricity district the right of purchasing that part may, if the Electricity Commissioners consent, be transferable to a joint electricity authority within whose district any part of such area is situate.

(3) Where any such right as aforesaid becomes exerciseable before the date of the constitution of a joint electricity authority, the right shall not be exercised by the local authority without the consent of the Electricity Commissioners, and such consent may be given subject to such conditions as the Commissioners may think fit, and it shall be lawful for the local authority to comply with any conditions so imposed.

(4) A joint electricity authority with the consent of the Electricity Commissioners may at any time acquire the whole or any part of the undertaking of any authorised undertakers not being a local authority, by agreement, and it shall be lawful for any such undertakers to sell their undertaking or any part thereof to a joint electricity authority.

(a) See definition in s. 36, post, p. 2802.

(b) This expression has the same meaning as in the Electric Lighting Act, 1909 (s. 36). See s. 25 of the Act of 1909, ante, p. 2702.

(c) See with reference to the provisions of this sub-section, note (b) to s. 8, ante, p. 2785.

(d) The words in brackets were added by s. 50 and Sch. VI. Electricity (Supply) Act, 1926, post.

(e) See with reference to this sub-section s. 7 of the Electric Lighting Act, 1909, ante, p. 2698, and see also s. 14 of the Electricity (Supply) Act, 1922, post, p. 2842.

14. [Special provisions as to power companies] (a).

(a) This section was repealed by s. 17 (3) of the Electricity (Supply) Act, 1922. See the substituted provisions in s. 17 (1), (2) of that Act, post, p. 2843.

Subsidiary powers of joint electricity authorities.

15.—(1) The Board of Trade (a) on the representation of the Electricity Commissioners, may by order authorise any joint electricity authority or any authorised undertakers (b) to abstract water from any river, stream, canal, inland navigation or other source, and to do all such acts as may be necessary for the purpose of enabling the joint electricity authority or authorised undertakers to utilise and return the water so abstracted, subject to such conditions as may be specified in the order, but the Board shall not in any case make such an order until notice of their intention to make the order has been given by advertisement or otherwise as the Board may direct and an opportunity has been given to any person who appears to the Board to be affected of stating any objections he may have thereto, and such order may provide for the recovery in a summary manner of penalties for infringement of the order:

Provided that—

(a) where the source from which the water is to be abstracted is a canal, inland navigation, or harbour regulated by Act of

Section 15.

Parliament, or where any existing rights of riparian owners will be affected by the abstraction of the water, the order authorising the abstraction shall be a special order, and shall provide that the water not consumed shall, subject to any agreement to the contrary, be returned at a level not lower than that at which it was abstracted ; and

(b) the order shall require that all water not consumed (and in no case less than ninety-five per centum of the water abstracted) shall be returned in a condition not less pure than when it was abstracted and at a temperature not higher than such as may be specified in the order (which temperature shall be fixed at such a degree as appears to the Board necessary to avoid injury to public health or to fisheries, if any, or in the case of a canal or inland navigation to the works thereof, or to vessels using the same, or to the trade or business carried on by any person using the same for the purposes of or in connection with his trade or business) ; and

(c) no order shall be made authorising the abstraction of water from any dock regulated by Act of Parliament except with the consent of the owners thereof and subject to such terms and conditions as may be agreed.

[(cc) No order authorising the abstraction of water from any reservoir or other works used by any statutory water undertaker for the purposes of the undertaking shall be made without the consent of such undertaker (which consent shall not be unreasonably refused) and if any question arises as to the reasonableness of any refusal or of the terms sought to be imposed as a condition of giving consent the question shall be referred to a single arbitrator nominated by the Lord Chief Justice, or in Scotland by the Lord President of the Court of Session, and in any such order there shall be inserted such provisions as the Minister of Health (or in the case of Scotland, the Scottish Board of Health) may consider proper for safeguarding the interests of the water consumers] (c) ; and

(d) in any order authorising the abstraction of water from the Manchester Ship Canal there shall be inserted such provisions as the Board of Trade may consider adequate for preventing interference with the navigation of the canal.

(2) A joint electricity authority and any local authority, company, or person may, with the consent of the Electricity Commissioners, enter into arrangements for the utilisation, for the purposes of the joint electricity authority, of water power, waste heat, or other form of energy which the local authority, company, or person may be able to dispose of, or for the supply by the joint electricity authority of any form of energy other than electricity, and, where such an arrangement has been made, the joint electricity authority may be authorised by order (d) to exercise such powers (including the power to break up roads, railways, and tramways) as may be necessary for the purpose of conveying such energy :

Provided always that such joint electricity authority, local authority, company, or person shall in no case have the power to enter into arrangements for the supply by the joint electric authority of any form of energy, other than electricity, in any area or district within which any undertakers may be authorised by Parliament to supply such form of energy unless and until such undertakers consent thereto, and then only upon such terms and conditions as may be agreed upon with such undertakers.

(3) The purposes for which a joint electricity authority may be authorised to acquire compulsorily or use land under section one (e) of the Electric 9 Edw. 7, c. 34.

Lighting Act, 1909, shall include the development of water-power for the generation of electricity.

(4) A joint electricity authority may, with the consent of the Electricity Commissioners, erect, maintain, alter, improve, and renew by-product plant with all necessary machinery and apparatus, and do all such acts as may be proper for working up and converting the residual products arising directly or indirectly from the generation of electricity:

Provided that, where it appears to the Electricity Commissioners that the establishment of any such by-product plant could properly be undertaken by any existing company, authority, or person, a joint electricity authority shall not establish such plant without first giving to such company, authority, or person an opportunity for so doing.

(a) By s. 39 (1), post, p. 2803, and an Order in Council made thereunder, the powers of the Board of Trade under this Act have passed to the Minister of Transport.

(b) See definition in s. 36, post, p. 2802.

(c) The words in brackets were added by s. 50 and Sch. VI., Electricity (Supply) Act, 1926, to meet the decision in Metropolitan Water Board v. Minister of Transport (1925), 90 J. P. 52. In that case it was held that an order of the Minister of Transport under this section might authorise the abstraction of water from a reservoir of the Board against the wishes of the Board. The amendment requires the consent of a statutory water undertaker to the making of an order authorising the abstraction of water from a reservoir, etc., of such an undertaker.

(d) See s. 32 (3), post, p. 2801, as amended by the Electricity (Supply) Act, 1926, which provides that an order empowering the breaking up of streets, railways, and tramways, other than such as can be broken up under any order or special Act relating to the particular joint electricity authority or undertakers, shall apply or incorporate the provisions of the Electric Lighting (Clauses) Act, 1899, relating to the breaking up of streets, railways, and tramways. The amending provision dispenses with the necessity for a special order and a departmental order only will now be necessary.

(e) See this section at p. 2695, ante.

Compensation for deprivation of employment.

16. If after the eighth of May nineteen hundred and nineteen, and within five years from the date when under this Act (a) a transfer of the whole or any part of an undertaking has been effected, or a scheme for the improvement of the supply of electricity in any district has come into operation, or an agreement or arrangement between various authorised undertakers for the rendering of mutual assistance to one another has been entered into, any officer or servant who has, before the said eighth day of May (b), been regularly employed in or about the undertaking or any authorised undertaking proves to the satisfaction of a referee or a board of referees appointed by the Minister of Labour that in consequence of this Act (c) he—

(i) has suffered loss of employment, or diminution of salary, wages or emoluments, otherwise than on grounds of misconduct, incapacity, or superannuation; or

(ii) has relinquished his employment in consequence of being required to perform duties such as were not analogous or were an unreasonable addition to those which before the said eighth day of May (b) he had been required to perform; or

(iii) has been placed in any worse position in respect to the conditions of his service (including tenure of office, remuneration, gratuities, pension, superannuation, sick or other fund, or any benefits or allowances, whether obtaining legally or by customary practice), and the body to which the undertaking or part thereof was transferred, or, as the case may be, the authorised undertakers who are affected by the scheme or are parties to the agreement or arrangement, do not show to the satisfaction of the referee or board of referees that equivalent employment on the like conditions as those obtaining with respect to him, at the date when the scheme comes into operation, or the agreement or arrangement is entered into, was available, there shall be paid to him by that body or those undertakers, or such of them as the referee or board of referees may think just, such compensation as the referee or board of referees may award, including any expenses which the officer or servant necessarily incurs in removing to another locality:

51 & 52 Vict. c. 41.

Provided that such compensation shall, in the case of an officer employed on an annual salary, be based on but not exceed the amount which would have been payable to a person on abolition of office under the Acts and rules relating to His Majesty's Civil Service in force at the date of the passing of the Local Government Act, 1888 (d), but, in computing the period of service of any officer, service under any authorised undertakers shall be reckoned as service under the authorised undertaker in whose employment he is at the time that he suffers such loss or diminution as is mentioned in this section; and, where any such officer or servant was temporarily absent from his employment whilst serving in or with His Majesty's Forces or the forces of the Allied or Associated Powers, or in any other employment of national importance during the present war, such service shall be reckoned as service under the authorised undertakers in whose employment he was immediately before and after such temporary absence.

(a) Sect. 21 (1) of the Electricity (Supply) Act, 1922, substituted the words "under or in consequence of this Act" for the words "under this Act." See the full terms of s. 21 (1) at p. 2845, post.

(b) Words in italics repealed by the Electricity (Supply) Act, 1928, s. 1.

(c) Sect. 21 (1) of the Electricity (Supply) Act, 1922, substituted the words "in consequence of any such transfer, scheme, agreement, or arrangement," for the words "in consequence of this Act." See the full terms of s. 21 (1) at p. 2845, post. In a claim under this section as amended it was held that the referee appointed by the Minister of Labour is in the position of an arbitrator and has power to determine whether the transfer giving rise to the claim has been effected "under" this Act. If the claimant fails to satisfy the referee that the transfer was "under" this Act, the question whether it was "in consequence of" this Act must be determined by the Commissioners under the proviso to s. 21, Electricity (Supply) Act, 1922 (R. v. Minister of Labour (Ex parte Torquay Corporation), [1924] 2 K. B. 210; 88 J. P. 131). This defect is now avoided by the amendment of the proviso to s. 21 of the 1922 Act by s. 50 and Sch. VI. of the Electricity (Supply) Act, 1926. The proviso as amended (q.v. at p. 2845, post) provides that any question as to whether a transfer scheme agreement or arrangement was made under or in consequence of this Act is to be determined by the Commissioners.

(d) See the reference to these Acts and rules at p. 1040, ante.

Submission of plans, &c., with respect to capital expenditure.

17. A joint electricity authority before incurring any capital expenditure above such amount as the Electricity Commissioners may prescribe shall submit for approval to the Electricity Commissioners such details, plans, and estimates with respect to the proposed expenditure as the Electricity Commissioners may require.

Transitory Provisions.

Power of Board of Trade (a) to construct interim works.

18.—(1) It shall be lawful for the Board of Trade (a), after consultation with the Electricity Commissioners, at any time after an electricity district has been provisionally determined and before the establishment of a joint electricity authority for the district, and for two years after the establishment of any such authority, with the consent of such authority, to construct any generating station, main transmission line, or other works, and exercise any other powers which a joint electricity authority can or can be authorised to exercise under this Act;

Provided that, where the Board of Trade (a) propose to construct a generating station before the establishment of a joint electricity authority for any district, the Electricity Commissioners shall consult with the county councils, local authorities, and authorised undertakers any part of whose county, district, or area of supply is within the electricity district as provisionally determined as to the site of the proposed station.

(2) The Treasury may issue to the Board of Trade (a) out of the Consolidated Fund of the United Kingdom, or the growing produce thereof, any sums not exceeding in the aggregate twenty million pounds, required for the construction of any such works or the acquisition of land for that purpose, or required for providing working capital for such works, on such terms and conditions as to interest, repayment, and otherwise as the Treasury may think fit.

The Treasury may, if they think fit, at any time for the purpose of providing for the issue of sums out of the Consolidated Fund under this section or for the repayment to that fund of all or any part of the sums so issued, or for the paying off of any security so issued under this subsection so far as that payment is not otherwise provided for, borrow money by means of the issue of Exchequer Bonds, and all sums so borrowed shall be paid into the Exchequer.

Any sums received on account of the payment of principal or interest on the advances made to the Board of Trade (a) shall be paid into the Exchequer, but any part of sums so paid which represents the repayment of principal shall be transferred to the National Debt Commissioners and applied by them as and when they think fit in purchasing or paying off as occasion requires any securities issued under this subsection, and sums so applied shall be invested and accumulated by the said Commissioners.

The principal of and interest on any Exchequer Bonds issued under this subsection shall be charged on and payable out of the Consolidated Fund of the United Kingdom or the growing produce thereof.

(3) At the expiration of two years after the establishment of a joint electricity authority for any district, or at any earlier time which may be agreed on between the Board of Trade (a) and the joint electricity authority, any generating station, main transmission lines and other works, and any land acquired for the purpose thereof for the Board of Trade (a) under this section which are situate within the electricity district, shall vest in that authority, subject to the payment by the joint electricity authority to the Board of Trade (a) of such sum as may be certified by the Treasury to be sufficient to repay the advances made by them to the Board of Trade (a) (including the cost of redeeming any of the securities issued under the preceding subsection) in respect of the construction of and provision of working capital for such works, and the acquisition of such lands, and any interest thereon which may be outstanding, after deducting the amount applied or applicable towards the repayment of the sums issued to the Board of Trade (a) for defraying that cost.

(4) The prices, fixed by the Board of Trade (a) for electricity supplied by them from generating stations established under this section, shall be such that their receipts therefrom will be sufficient to cover their expenditure on income account (including interest and sinking fund charges in respect of such advances as aforesaid) with such margin as the Board may think fit.

(a) By s. 39 (1), post, p. 2803, and an Order in Council made thereunder the powers of the Board of Trade under this Act have passed to the Minister of Transport.

Power of authorised undertakers to render mutual assistance to one another.

19.—(1) During the period between the passing of this Act and the establishment of a joint electricity authority for a district, any two or more of the authorised undertakers (a) within the locality may, with the approval of the Electricity Commissioners (b), and if so required by the Electricity Commissioners shall, enter into and carry into effect arrangements for mutual assistance of the one by the other, with regard to all or any of the following purposes :—

(a) The giving and taking of a supply of electricity and the distribution and supply of the electricity so taken :

Section 19.

(b) The management and working of the generating stations or any part of the several undertakings of the undertakers who are parties to any such arrangement:

(c) The provision of capital required for carrying into effect, and the appropriation and division of receipts arising under, any such arrangement:

(d) Any matters or things incidental or connected with any of the purposes aforesaid :

and the arrangement shall be made on such terms and conditions as may be agreed, or, if the arrangement is made in pursuance of a requirement by the Electricity Commissioners, on such terms and conditions as in default of agreement may be settled by those Commissioners :

Provided that the authorised undertakers entering into any such arrangement shall remain and be subject to all and the same obligations and liabilities to all persons not being parties to the arrangement as they would have been subject to if no such arrangement had been entered into.

(2) Where such an arrangement has been made, any authorised undertakers who are parties to the arrangement may be authorised by order to exercise such powers (including the power to break up roads, railways, and tramways) as may be necessary for the purpose of carrying the arrangement into effect (c).

(3) The provision of capital required for giving effect to any such arrangement, and the payment of interest on any such capital raised for the purpose of effecting intercommunication or development of supply in bulk, whilst the expenditure remains unremunerative, shall be purposes for which a local authority may borrow under the Electric Lighting Acts.

(a) See definition in s. 36, post, p. 2802.

(b) The Commissioners have jurisdiction to refuse to approve an agreement for mutual assistance between authorised undertakers, if the policy embodied in such agreement cuts across the line of policy which the Commissioners propose to adopt under the Act as to the consolidation of areas (R. v. Electricity Commissioners (1922), 86 J. P. 191). In determining whether or not to approve an agreement under this section the Commissioners must have regard to the provisions of the Electricity (Supply) Act, 1926, and the effect of any scheme or proposed scheme thereunder (s. 18 (2) Electricity (Supply) Act, 1926, post, p. 2922).

(c) See note (d) under s. 15 (2), ante, p. 2791.

Amendments of Electric Lighting Acts.

Transfer of powers of certain departments.

20. There shall be transferred to the Electricity Commissioners the powers of the Minister of Health and the Secretary for Scotland and the London County Council with respect to the sanctioning of borrowing by local authorities under the Electric Lighting Acts, or under any special Act or order relating to the supply of electricity, but in exercising the powers so transferred the Electricity Commissioners shall act in consultation with the Department or Council from which the powers were transferred (a).

(a) As to the sanctions hitherto required for borrowing, see s. 8 of the Electric Lighting Act, 1882, ante, p. 2443, and the notes thereto. In March, 1924, the Commissioners issued a memorandum of procedure under this section. The memorandum is set out in App. II. at p. 3246, post.

Overhead wires.

21. Where the consent of the Board of Trade (a) is obtained to the placing of any electric line above ground in any case, the consent of the local authority [(including a county council)] (b) shall not be required, anything in the Electric Lighting Acts, or in any order or special Act relating to the undertaking to the contrary notwithstanding, but the Board of Trade (a) before giving their consent shall give the local authority [and (where it is proposed to place the line along or across any county bridge or any [county road] vested in a county council) the county council] (a) an opportunity of being heard (c).

(a) See note (a) to s. 1, ante, p. 2793.

(b) The words in brackets were inserted by s. 50 and Sch. VI, Electricity (Supply) Act, 1926. The amendment obviates the necessity for obtaining the consent of the county council where such consent would have been necessary, but gives the county council in the circumstances prescribed a right to be heard in objection.

The words "county road" are substituted for "main road" in consequence of L. G. A., 1929, s. 29 (1), ante, p. 1884.

(c) See as to consent of local authority, s. 14 of the Electric Lighting Act, 1882, ante, p. 2447, and clause 10 (b) of the Schedule to the Electric Lighting (Clauses) Act, 1899, ante, p. 2574. The Minister in determining whether to give or withhold consent must have regard to the provisions of the Electricity (Supply) Act, 1926, and the effect of any scheme or proposed scheme thereunder (s. 18 (2), Electricity (Supply) Act, 1926, post, p. 2922). An undertaker may now proceed under this and the following section simultaneously without waiting to obtain the consent of the Minister first (s. 44 (1), Electricity (Supply) Act, 1926, post, p. 2934).

Wayleaves.

22.—(1) A joint electricity authority or any authorised undertakers (a) may place any electric line below ground across any land, and above ground across any land other than land covered by buildings or used as a garden or pleasure ground in cases where the placing of such lines above ground is otherwise lawful, and where any line has been so placed across any land the joint electricity authority or undertakers may enter on the land for the purpose of repairing or altering the line (b):

Provided that, before placing any such line across any land, the joint electricity authority or undertakers shall serve on the owner and occupier of the land notice of their intention, together with a description of the nature and position of the lines proposed to be so placed; and if, within twenty-one days after the service of the notice, the owner and occupier fail to give their consent or attach to their consent any terms or conditions or stipulations to which the joint electricity authority or the undertakers object, it shall not be lawful to place the line across that land without the consent of the Board of Trade (c); and the Board of Trade (c) may, if after giving all parties concerned an opportunity of being heard they think it just, give their consent (d) either unconditionally or subject to such terms, conditions, and stipulations as they think just; and in deciding whether to give or withhold their consent, or to impose any terms, conditions, or stipulations (including the carrying of any portion of the line underground) the Board shall, among other considerations, have regard to the effect, if any, on the amenities or value of the land of the placing of the line in the manner proposed.

(2) The power of placing lines across land conferred by this section shall include the power of placing a line across or along any railway, canal, inland navigation, dock or harbour, subject to the rights of the owners thereof and to the following conditions:—

(a) In respect of any electric lines placed or proposed to be placed across any line of railway from side to side thereof sections fifteen, sixteen, nineteen, twenty, and seventy-seven of the schedule to the Electric Lighting (Clauses) Act, 1899, shall, without prejudice to any protection given to the railway company by the Electric Lighting Acts and this Act, apply as though the said electric lines were placed or proposed to be placed in accordance with powers contained in a special order as defined in the Electric Lighting (Clauses) Act, 1899 (e):

(b) In respect of any electric lines placed or proposed to be placed across any canal or inland navigation from side to side thereof, whether by being carried above or below ground, sections fifteen, nineteen, and seventy-seven of the schedule to the Electric Lighting (Clauses)

Section 22.

Act, 1899, shall, without prejudice to any protection given to the owners of the canal by the Electric Lighting Acts and this Act, apply as though the said electric lines were placed in accordance with powers contained in a special order, as defined in the Electric Lighting (Clauses) Act, 1899 (e):

(c) In respect of any electric lines placed or proposed to be placed over or upon or under any line of railway along its course, the provisions contained in the proviso to subsection (1) of this section shall not apply, and in lieu thereof the following conditions shall apply:—

(i) Failing agreement between the joint electricity authority or authorised undertakers proposing to place such electric lines and the railway company, the joint electricity authority or authorised undertakers may apply to the Board of Trade (f) who may decide either that the lines shall not be so placed or may refer the question to the Railway and Canal Commission, and that Commission may, after an inquiry, make an order for the placing of the electric lines, subject to such pecuniary terms as the Commission think just, or refusing to allow such lines to be placed, and any such inquiry may be held by any one or more of the members of the Commission or by an officer appointed by the Commission for the purpose, and Parts I. and IV. of the Railway and Canal Traffic Act, 1888 (g) (except the sections relating to appeals), shall apply as far as applicable to any such inquiry, and any officer appointed to hold the inquiry shall have power to administer an oath;

51 & 52 Vict. c. 25.

(ii) The joint electricity authority or authorised undertakers shall, upon receiving notice in writing from the railway company, remove or alter within a reasonable time, and to the reasonable satisfaction of the railway company, any such electric lines which shall interfere with the existing or any proposed works of the railway company or the traffic thereon: Provided that, if within twenty-one days after receipt of such notice the joint electricity authority or authorised undertakers object to the removal or alteration required by such notice, a difference shall be deemed to have arisen, which shall be referred to and determined by the Railway and Canal Commission;

(iii) Save as herein provided, sections fifteen, sixteen, nineteen, twenty, and seventy-seven of the schedule to the Electric Lighting (Clauses) Act, 1899, shall, without prejudice to any protection given to the railway company by the Electric Lighting Acts and by this Act, apply as though the said electric lines were placed in accordance with powers contained in a special order as defined in the Electric Lighting (Clauses) Act, 1899 (e):

(d) In respect of any electric lines placed or proposed to be placed over or upon or under any canal or inland navigation along its course, the provisions contained in the proviso to subsection (1) of this section shall not apply, and in lieu thereof the following conditions shall apply:—

(i) The provisions of paragraph (c) (i) and (c) (ii) of this subsection shall apply as in the case of railways and for that purpose the expression "railway company" shall mean the owners of the canal or inland navigation:

(ii) Save as herein provided, sections fifteen, sixteen, nineteen, and seventy-seven of the schedule to the Electric Lighting (Clauses) Act, 1899, shall, without prejudice to any protection given to the owners of canals by the Electric Lighting Acts and this Act, apply as though the said electric lines were placed in accordance with powers contained in a special order as defined in the Electric Lighting (Clauses) Act, 1899 (h):

(e) No electric line shall be placed in the tunnels of any tube railway within the Metropolitan Police area, except with the consent of the company owning such railway:

(f) In respect of any electric lines placed or proposed to be placed across any lands or works forming part of any dock or harbour undertaking regulated by Act of Parliament, whether by being carried above ground or below ground, sections fifteen, sixteen, seventeen, nineteen, and seventy-seven of the schedule to the Electric Lighting (Clauses) Act, 1899, shall, without prejudice to any protection given to the authority owning or managing the undertaking by the Electric Lighting Acts and this Act, apply as though the said electric lines were placed in accordance with powers contained in a special order as defined in the Electric Lighting (Clauses) Act, 1899 (h):

(g) The sections of the schedule to the Electric Lighting (Clauses) Act, 1899, by this subsection applied to canals, inland navigations, docks and harbours, and lands or works forming part thereof, shall apply thereto as if references in those sections to streets and persons liable to repair streets and to canals and canal companies included, respectively, canals, inland navigations, docks and harbours, and lands and works forming part of a dock or harbour, and the authority owning or managing the same.

(3) For the purposes of this section, any company or body or person entitled by virtue of any Act of Parliament to receive tolls or dues in respect of the navigation on or use of any canal, inland navigation, dock or harbour shall be deemed to be owners of such canal, inland navigation, dock or harbour.

(4) Section fourteen of the schedule to the Electric Lighting (Clauses) Act, 1899 (i), so far as it relates to the Postmaster-General, shall be incorporated with this section, and shall apply to the execution of any works which will involve the placing of lines across or along any land, whether below ground or above ground, under this section in like manner as it applies to the execution of works which will involve the placing of lines in, under, along, or across any street or public bridge.

(5) Nothing in this section shall prejudice or affect the rights of the Postmaster-General in relation to railways, canals, docks, and harbours under the Telegraph Acts, 1863 to 1916, or any agreement or award made thereunder, or shall operate in such a manner as to interfere with or involve additional expense in the exercise of any such rights.

(6) A notice under this section may be served on the owner or occupier of any land by delivering it to him, or by leaving it or forwarding it by post addressed to him at his usual or last known place of abode, and may be addressed by the description of the owner or occupier of the lands (naming them) without further name or description.

(a) See definition in s. 36, post, p. 2802.

(b) Sub-sect. 1 in the text is an enabling section, and does not affect the powers which the undertakers have under the Electric Lighting Act, 1882 (incorporating ss. 6 and 7 of the Gasworks Clauses Act, 1847), to do necessary works in a street without the consent of the owner of the subsoil (Porter v. Ipswich Corpn., [1922] 2 K. B. 145). See s. 11 of the Electricity (Supply) Act, 1922, post, p. 2841, for a power to continue wayleaves, which could have been obtained under the provisions of the section in the text. See also s. 34, Electricity (Supply) Act, 1926, post, p. 2928, which enables authorised undertakers to lop trees and hedges obstructing electric lines. Proceedings may now be taken concurrently under this and the preceding section (s. 44 (1), Electricity (Supply) Act, 1926), post, p. 2934.

Note to Section 22.

(c) See note (a) to s. 18, ante, p. 2793.

(d) In determining whether to give or withhold consent, the Minister must have regard to the provisions of the Electricity (Supply) Act, 1926, and the effect of any scheme or proposed scheme thereunder (s. 18 (2) Electricity (Supply) Act, 1926, post, p. 2922). He must also take into consideration recommendations of the Commissioners of Works as to ancient monuments which might be prejudicially affected by the overhead lines (s. 44 (3), Electricity (Supply) Act, 1926, post, p. 2934).

Where supports have been erected under this section, the undertakers are to be deemed persons having an interest in the land on which the supports are erected for the purposes of s. 8, Mines (Working Facilities and Support) Act, 1923 (s. 44 (2), Electricity (Supply) Act, 1926, post, p. 2934).

(e) See the definition in Electric Lighting (Clauses) Act, 1899, Sched., r. 1, ante, p. 2569.

(f) See note (a) to s. 18, ante, p. 2793.

(g) See this Act at p. 2499, ante.

(h) See the definition in Electric Lighting (Clauses) Act, 1899, Sched., r. 1, ante, p. 2569.

(i) See this section, ante, p. 2576.

Supply of apparatus.

23.—(1) A joint electricity authority and any local authority authorised by special Act or by order to supply electricity may provide, let for hire, and in respect thereof may connect, repair, maintain and remove (but shall not, unless expressly authorised to do so by the special Act or order, manufacture or sell) electric lines, fittings, apparatus and appliances for lighting, heating and motive power and for all other purposes for which electricity can or may be used, and with respect thereto may demand and take such remuneration or rents and charges, and make such terms and conditions, as may be agreed upon (a).

(2) Any electric lines, fittings, apparatus, and appliances provided by or on behalf of any authorised distributors (b) on consumers' premises either before or after the passing of this Act, and any lands, buildings, or works held by them in connection therewith shall be deemed to form part of the undertaking authorised by the special Act or order relating to such authorised distributors.

(a) As to the construction of this sub-section, see Att.-Gen. v. Liverpool Corporation, [1922] 1 Ch. 211. See also s. 48, Electricity (Supply) Act, 1926, post, p. 2935, which authorises joint electricity and local authorities to sell electrical fittings, appliances, etc. As to including in a fixed or service charge for electricity, rent or hire-purchase instalments on fittings, etc., leased or sold, see s. 42, Electricity (Supply) Act, 1926, post, p. 2933.

(b) See definition in s. 36, post, p. 2802.

Alteration of type of current, &c.

24. The Electricity Commissioners may require any authorised undertakers to amend or alter the type of current, frequency or pressure employed by them in their undertaking, and the execution of the works necessary to comply with such an order shall be a purpose for which a local authority may borrow under the Electric Lighting Acts: Provided that this section shall not apply to electricity generated at a railway generating station existing at the passing of this Act, and that, if on appeal by any authorised undertakers, the Board of Trade (a) are satisfied that compliance with the order would entail unreasonable expense, the Board of Trade (a) may direct that the order shall not apply to those undertakers, or apply only subject to such conditions as the Board of Trade (a) may prescribe (b).

(a) See note (a) to s. 18, ante, p. 2793.

(b) The powers of the Commissioners under this section will cease to be exercisable in any area in respect of which a scheme under the Electricity (Supply) Act, 1926, has come into force (s. 9 (6), Electricity (Supply) Act, 1926, post, p. 2917).

Amendment of s. 26 of Act of 1882.
45 & 46 Vict. c. 56.

25. Section twenty-six of the Electric Lighting Act, 1882 (a) (which contains provisions for the protection of the Postmaster-General), shall have effect as if the words "or the laying of connections with mains where the direction of the electric lines so laid down crosses the line of the Postmaster-General at right angles at the point of shortest distance, and continues the same for a distance of six feet on each side of such point" were omitted.

and as if for the words "not more than twenty-eight nor less than seven clear days" there were substituted the words "one month, or, in the case of the laying of service lines to consumers' premises, seven clear days."

(a) See this section at p. 2451, ante.

Substitution of special for provisional orders.

26. Anything which under the Electric Lighting Acts may be effected by a provisional order confirmed by Parliament may be effected by a special order (a) made by the Electricity Commissioners and confirmed by the Board of Trade (b) under and in accordance with the provisions of this Act, or by an order establishing a joint electricity authority under this Act (c), and references in those Acts and the Electric Lighting (Clauses) Act, 1899, to provisional orders shall be construed as including references to such special orders and orders as aforesaid, except that the paragraphs numbered (1) to (4) of section four of the Electric Lighting Act, 1882 (d), shall not apply to such special orders as aforesaid, and any provisional order made under the Electric Lighting Acts and confirmed by Parliament may be amended or revoked by any such special order or order as aforesaid:

Provided that a special order made in pursuance of the powers conferred by this section shall be laid before each House of Parliament, and shall not come into force unless and until approved, either with or without modifications, by a resolution passed by each such House.

(a) As to special orders, see s. 35 (1), (2), post, p. 2801.
(b) See note (a) to s. 18, ante, p. 2793.
(c) See hereon ss. 6 and 7, ante, pp. 2784, 2785.
(d) These relate to notice of application for a provisional order and its confirmation by Parliament. See the section set out at p. 2440, ante.

Power to require accounts, statistics, and returns.

27. It shall be the duty of joint electricity authorities and authorised undertakers to furnish to the Electricity Commissioners at such times and in such form and manner as the Commissioners may direct such accounts, statistics, and returns as they may require for the purposes of their powers and duties under this Act.

Financial Provisions (a).

Revenue and expenditure of joint electricity authorities.

28.—(1) Every joint electricity authority shall establish a fund to which all receipts by the authority shall be carried, and out of which all payments by the authority shall be made.

(2) Every joint electricity authority shall annually, at such time as the Electricity Commissioners may fix, submit to the Electricity Commissioners such a statement of income and expenditure on revenue account as the Electricity Commissioners may require.

(3) The accounts of every joint electricity authority and their officers shall be audited by the auditors appointed by the Electricity Commissioners, and the audit shall be conducted in accordance with such regulations as may be prescribed by the Electricity Commissioners, and the regulations may apply with the necessary modifications the provisions relating to the accounts and audit of accounts of county councils and their officers.

(4) Every joint electricity authority shall, annually at such date and in such form as the Electricity Commissioners may prescribe, make to the Electricity Commissioners a report of their proceedings during the preceding year.

(a) See the borrowing powers conferred upon joint electricity authorities by s. 1 and the following sections of the Electricity (Supply) Act, 1922, post, pp. 2835 et seq.

Expenses of Electricity Commissioners.

29.—(1) The Electricity Commissioners shall, at the beginning of each financial year, prepare an estimate of their receipts and expenditure during the year, and submit it for approval by the Board of Trade (a).

Section 29.

(2) The Electricity Commissioners shall apportion the amount by which the estimated expenses so approved exceed the estimated receipts so approved amongst the several joint electricity authorities and authorised undertakers within the United Kingdom in proportion to the number of units of electricity generated by or on behalf of those authorities and undertakers respectively in the preceding year; and every such authority or undertaker shall, on demand from the Electricity Commissioners, pay to them as a contribution towards their expenses the sum so apportioned:

Provided that, during the first two years after the passing of this Act, the amount of such excess shall be paid out of moneys provided by Parliament, but such payments shall be treated as advances and shall be repaid, with interest at such rate as the Treasury may fix, by the Commissioners by equal annual instalments in the next three succeeding years.

(3) All sums received by the Commissioners shall be paid into a separate fund, and out of that fund the salaries, remuneration, pensions and gratuities of the Commissioners, their secretary, officers, and servants and all expenses incurred by the Commissioners shall be paid, and the Treasury may determine that that fund shall be a public fund within the meaning of the Superannuation Act, 1892.

(a) See note (a) to s. 18, ante, p. 2793.

Subscription to associations.

30. Subject to the consent of the Electricity Commissioners, joint electricity authorities or any authorised undertakers may, out of the revenue of their undertakings, pay reasonable subscriptions, whether annual or otherwise, to the funds of any association formed for the purpose of consultation as to their common interests and the discussion of matters relating to the supply of electricity, and to the funds of any recognised association conducted on a non-profit earning basis for developing the use of electricity, and may purchase reports of the proceedings of any conferences or meetings, and may pay the reasonable expenses of attendance of any members or officers of the joint electricity authority or undertaker at conferences or meetings of the said association or any of them.

General.

Application to electricity of 38 & 39 Vict. c. 86, s. 4.

31. Section four of the Conspiracy and Protection of Property Act, 1875 (a) (which relates to breaches of contract by persons employed in the supply of gas or water), shall extend to persons employed by a joint electricity authority or by any authorised undertakers in like manner as it applies to persons mentioned in that section, with the substitution of references to electricity for the references to gas or water.

(a) See this section at p. 2356, ante. See also the provisions of the Emergency Powers Act, 1920.

Provisions as to agreements and arrangements under this Act.

32.—(1) Where under this Act a joint electricity authority are authorised to enter into an agreement or arrangement with any authorised undertakers or any other authority, company, or person for any purpose, it shall be lawful for those undertakers, authority, company, or person to enter into and carry into effect such an agreement or arrangement.

(2) Where a local authority, as authorised undertakers, enter into an agreement or arrangement with a joint electricity authority or any other authorised undertakers in pursuance of this Act, any expenses incurred by the local authority in carrying the agreement or arrangement into effect shall be deemed to be expenses incurred by them under or in pursuance of the Electric Lighting Acts and the provisions of section seven and section eight of the Electric Lighting Act, 1882 (a), shall apply accordingly and any moneys received by any such local authority under any such agreement or arrangement shall be deemed to be moneys received by the local authority in respect of their undertaking.

(3) Where by this Act an order may be made conferring on a joint electricity authority or authorised undertakers or other persons such powers as may be necessary for carrying into effect an agreement or arrangement entered into by them under this Act or for doing anything which under this Act they are authorised to do, and amongst the powers to be conferred by the order are included powers of breaking up streets, railways and tramways other than such as can be broken up under any order or special Act relating to the joint electricity authority or undertakers, the order, unless it is an order made under section seven of this Act, shall be a special order (b), and shall apply or incorporate the provisions of the Electric Lighting Acts and the Electric Lighting (Clauses) Act, 1899, relating to breaking up of streets, railways, and tramways.

(a) See these sections at pp. 2442, 2443, ante.

(b) The words in italics were repealed by s. 50 and Sch. VI., Electricity (Supply) Act, 1926. The effect of the amendment is to do away with the necessity for special orders authorising agreements involving the breaking up of streets, etc. The authorisation will in future be by departmental order.

Power to hold inquiries.

33.—(1) The Electricity Commissioners may hold, or cause to be held, such inquiries as they consider necessary or desirable for the purposes of this Act, and the Commissioners, and, if authorised by the Commissioners, the person appointed to hold any such inquiry may by order require any person, subject to the payment or tender of the reasonable expenses of his attendance, to attend as a witness and give evidence or to produce documents at the inquiry, and, if any person fails without reasonable excuse to comply with any of the provisions of any such order, he shall be liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding five pounds, and the Commissioners or person holding the inquiry shall have power to take evidence on oath and for that purpose to administer oaths.

(2) Notices of inquiries may be given and published in accordance with such general or special directions as the Commissioners may give.

Power to make rules.

34.—(1) The Board of Trade (a) and the Electricity Commissioners may respectively make rules (b) in relation to applications and other proceedings before them under this Act, and to the payments to be made in respect thereof, and to the publication of notices and advertisements and the manner in which and the time within which representations or objections with reference to any application or other proceeding are to be made, and to the holding of inquiries in such cases as they may think it advisable, and to the costs of such inquiries, and to any other matters arising in relation to their powers and duties under this Act.

(2) Any rules made in pursuance of this section shall be laid before Parliament as soon as may be after they are made, and shall have the same effect as if enacted in this Act (c).

(a) See note (a) to s. 18, ante, p. 2793.

(b) See the Rules in App. II. at p. 3251 et seq., post.

(c) As to the effect of this provision, see Ex parte Ringer and the cases cited therewith at p. 630, ante.

Procedure for making special orders.

35.—(1) A special order made under this Act by the Electricity Commissioners shall not have any effect unless and until confirmed by the Board of Trade (a).

1 Edw. 7, c. 22.

(2) Sections eighty and eighty-one of the Factory and Workshop Act, 1901, relating to the making of regulations under that Act, as set out and adapted in the Schedule to this Act, shall apply to the confirmation of special orders made under this Act.

(3) Before any special order, other than a special order which is not valid unless approved by a resolution passed by each House of Parliament, comes into force it shall be laid before each House of Parliament for a period not less than thirty days during which that House is sitting, and, if either of those Houses before the expiration of those thirty days presents an Address to His Majesty against the order or any part thereof, no further proceedings shall be taken thereon without prejudice to the making of any new order.

(4) A special order so made and confirmed as aforesaid shall have effect as if enacted in this Act (b).

(a) See note (a) to s. 18, ante, p. 2237.

(b) See note (c) to s. 34, p. 2801.

Definitions.

36. In this Act, unless the context otherwise requires—

The expression "Electric Lighting Acts," means the Electric Lighting Acts, 1882 to 1909 (a):

The expression "authorised undertakers" includes authorised distributors and power companies:

The expression "authorised distributors" means any local authority, company or person, authorised to supply electricity within any area of supply, but does not include a power company except in relation to any supply given by the company under an order made under the Electric Lighting Acts:

The expression "power company" means any company or person (other than a railway company being the owners or lessees of a railway generating station) authorised by special Act to supply electricity to authorised distributors and lighting authorities or to other persons for power purposes, whether with or without a subsidiary power to supply electricity for lighting purposes:

The expression "lighting authority" means any authority, company or person, authorised by any public general or special Act, to undertake or contract for the lighting of streets, bridges or public places:

The expression "generating station" means any station for generating electricity, including any buildings and plant used for the purpose, and the site thereof, and a site intended to be used for a generating station, but does not include any station for transforming, converting, or distributing electricity:

The expression "railway generating station" means a station for generating electricity for use solely or mainly by a railway company for the purposes of their undertaking:

The expression "private generating station" means a generating station for the generation of electricity for use solely or mainly on the owner's or joint owners' premises or for the purposes of his or their undertaking or undertakings, or, where the owner is a subsidiary company, solely or mainly on the premises or for the purposes of the undertaking of the principal company, in any case where the undertaking of the owner or the principal company is not an undertaking belonging to authorised undertakers or to a railway, tramway, canal, inland navigation, harbour or other undertaking providing facilities for or incidental to the transport of goods or passengers:

The expression "subsidiary company" means a company under the control of some other company or companies, whether by reason of the majority of the voting power being vested in the other company or companies, or their nominees or shareholders, or otherwise, and such other company, or companies, are in relation to the subsidiary company, referred to as the principal company:

Section 36.

The expression "main transmission lines" means all extra high-pressure cables and overhead lines (not being an essential part of an authorised undertaker's distribution system or the distribution system of a railway company or the owners of a dock undertaking) transmitting electricity from a generating station to any other generating station, or to a sub-station, together with any step-up and step-down transformers and switch-gear necessary to, and used for, the control of such cables or overhead lines, and the buildings or such part thereof as may be required to accommodate such transformers and switch-gear:

The expressions "railway company" and "railway" have the same meaning as in the Regulation of Railways Act, 1873: 36 & 37 Vict. c. 48.

The expression "sinking fund charges" includes any charges for the repayment of loans whether by means of a sinking fund or otherwise.

Other expressions have the same meaning as in the Electric Lighting Act, 1909.

References to orders under the Electric Lighting Acts shall include references to deeds of transfer executed in pursuance of powers conferred by those orders.

(a) I.e. the Electric Lighting Act, 1882, ante, p. 2437, the Electric Lighting Act, 1888, ante, p. 2495, and the Electric Lighting Act, 1909, ante, p. 2695.

37 (a). . . .

(a) Section 37 relates to Scotland.

38 (a). . . .

(a) Section 38 relates to Ireland.

Transfer of powers of Board of Trade to Minister of Transport.

39.—(1) All the powers and duties of the Board of Trade under this Act or the Electric Lighting Acts, or the orders and regulations made thereunder, or any local Act relating to the supply of electricity, or any enactment relating to matters incidental to such supply shall, as from such date as His Majesty in Council may fix, be transferred to the Minister of Transport, and accordingly references to the Board of Trade in any such Acts, orders, regulations, or enactments shall be construed as references to the Minister of Transport:

Provided that the power of appointing Electricity Commissioners under this Act shall be exercised by the Minister of Transport with the concurrence of the Board of Trade (a).

(2) The Electricity Commissioners shall be solely responsible to the Minister of Transport and, under his direction, shall carry into effect the powers and duties conferred upon them by this Act, and the Minister of Transport shall refer to the Electricity Commissioners for their advice all matters connected with the exercise and performance of the powers and duties transferred to him under this section, except the appointment of the Commissioners and except where any act of, or order by, the Commissioners is by this Act expressly made subject to the approval of or an appeal to the Minister.

(a) The transfer of the powers of the Board of Trade was effected on January 23rd, 1920, by the Ministry of Transport (Electricity Supply) Order, 1920.

Short title and construction.

40.—(1) This Act may be cited as the Electricity (Supply) Act, 1919, and the Electric Lighting Acts, 1882 to 1909, and this Act may be cited together as the Electricity (Supply) Acts, 1882 to 1919.

(2) This Act shall be construed as one with the Electric Lighting Acts (a).

(a) As to the effect of this provision, see the note under s. 1 of the Private Street Works Act, 1892, at p. 918, ante.

Schedule.

Section 35.

SCHEDULE.

PROVISIONS OF THE FACTORY AND WORKSHOP ACT, 1901, APPLIED TO SPECIAL ORDERS MADE UNDER THIS ACT.

80.—(1) Before the Board of Trade (a) confirm any special order under this Act, they shall publish, in such manner as they may think best adapted for informing persons affected, notice of the proposal to confirm the order, and of the place where copies of the order may be obtained, and of the time (which shall be not less than twenty-one days) within which any objection made with respect to the order by or on behalf of persons affected must be sent to the Board of Trade.

(2) Every objection must be in writing and state—

(a) the order or portions of order objected to;

(b) the specific grounds of objection; and

(c) the omissions, additions, or modifications asked for.

(3) The Board of Trade (a) shall consider any objection made by or on behalf of any persons appearing to them to be affected which is sent to them within the required time, and they may, if they think fit, amend the order, and shall then cause the amended order to be dealt with in like manner as an original order.

(4) Where the Board of Trade (a) do not amend or withdraw any order to which any objection has been made, then (unless the objection either is withdrawn or appears to them to be frivolous) they shall, before confirming the order, direct an inquiry to be held in the manner hereinafter provided, and may, after considering the report of the person who held the inquiry, confirm the order either without modification or subject to such modification as they think fit, or may refuse to confirm the order.

81.—(1) The Board of Trade (a) may appoint a competent and impartial person to hold an inquiry with regard to any order, and to report to them thereon.

(2) The inquiry shall be held in public, and any objector and any other person who, in the opinion of the person holding the inquiry, is affected by the draft order, may appear at the inquiry either in person or by counsel, solicitor, or agent.

(3) The witnesses on the inquiry may, if the person holding it thinks fit, be examined on oath.

(4) Subject as aforesaid, the inquiry and all proceedings preliminary and incidental thereto shall be conducted in accordance with rules made by the Board of Trade (l).

(5) The fee to be paid to the person holding the inquiry shall be such as the Board of Trade (a) may direct.

(a) See note (a) to s. 18, ante, p. 2793.

THE TRAMWAYS (TEMPORARY INCREASE OF CHARGES) ACT, 1920.

(10 & 11 GEO. 5, C. 14.)

An Act to make further provision for the temporary modification of the charges which may be made in respect of and the obligations affecting Tramway Undertakings (a). [20th May, 1920.]

Amendment of s. 1 of 8 & 9 Geo. 5, c. 34, in its application to tramways.

1.—(1) The limitations contained in the proviso to subsection (1) of section one of the Statutory Undertakings (Temporary Increase of Charges) Act, 1918, (hereinafter referred to as the Principal Act) shall not apply in the case of orders made after the passing of this Act by the Minister of Transport in relation to tramway undertakings, but in lieu thereof the following limitations shall apply (b):—

(a) Where the undertakers are a local authority (c), no modification in the statutory provisions regulating the charges to be made by the undertakers shall be authorised which is more than sufficient, so far as can be estimated, to enable the undertaking to be carried on without loss; and

Section 1.

(b) In any other case, no such modification shall be authorised which is more than sufficient to provide, with due care and management, for interest on loan capital and for a reasonable return on share capital, regard being had to the pre-war financial condition of the company, and its prospective development.

(2) An order authorising any increase in the statutory maximum charges (d) applicable to a tramway undertaking (e) may attach such conditions thereto as the Minister may think proper, and may modify any statutory provisions (f), and the provisions of any agreement, whether or not confirmed by an Act or order having the force of an Act, which impose obligations on the undertakers as to the frequency of any tramway service.

(3) Before making an order in pursuance of the powers conferred by the principal Act as amended by this Act the Minister shall refer the matter to the advisory committee hereinafter constituted for their consideration and report (g):

Provided that, if in the case of any tramway undertaking it appears to the Minister that there is ground for making an order and that the case is one of urgency, he may, without any such reference and without any such notices as are required by the principal Act (h), make an interim order increasing the statutory maximum charges by such amount, not exceeding one hundred per cent., and subject to such conditions, as he thinks proper; but an interim order shall not remain in force more than six months, and, where any interim order is made, the Minister shall forthwith refer the matter to the advisory committee (i).

(4) The charges authorised by any order made under the principal Act as amended by this Act may be charged notwithstanding any statutory provisions (k) or any agreement whether or not confirmed by an Act or order having the force of an Act.

(5) If at any time it appears to the Minister of Transport that, owing to changes in the cost of labour (l) or materials or other circumstances affecting a tramway undertaking with respect to which an order has been made, the powers of charging effected by the order are insufficient or excessive for the purposes aforesaid, the Minister may, and, if representations to that effect are made to him by the undertakers or by the local authority (m) of any district served by the tramway, or in case where the local authority are the undertakers by twenty ratepayers in the district, he shall refer the matter to the advisory committee hereinafter constituted (i), and may, after considering any report of the committee, making an order revising the powers of charging so authorised as aforesaid; so, however, that revised maximum charges shall not in any case be less than the statutory maximum charges (n) applicable to the undertaking.

(a) This Act amends, so far as regards tramway undertakings, the Statutory Undertakings (Temporary Increase of Charges) Act, 1918, 8 & 9 Geo. 5, c. 34, ante, p. 2749. That Act was a temporary one, and was to expire at the end of two years after the termination of the war. Its operation with regard to tramways was, however, extended by the Act, s. 4 (infra), to February 15th, 1923. And it has been still further extended by the Expiring Laws Act, 1928 (19 Geo. 5 c. 3), until December 31st, 1931.

(b) These limitations should be compared with those in the Act of 1918, at p. 2749, ante, for which they are substituted.

(c) For the definition of a local authority, see the Act of 1918, s. 1 (4), ante, p. 2749.

(d) See s. 3 (4), post, p. 2806, as to these charges.

(e) See s. 3 (5), post, p. 2806,

(f) See the definition of statutory provisions in the Act of 1918, s. 1 (4), ante, p. 2749.

(g) For the constitution, etc., of the advisory committee, see the next section.

(h) The notices referred to are those mentioned in the Act of 1918, s. 1 (2), ante, p. 2749.

(i) As to the advisory committee, see s. 2, post, p. 2806.

(k) See the definition of "statutory provisions" in s. 1 (4) of the 1918 Act, ante, p. 2749.

Note to Section 1.

(l) As to the determination of the cost of labour, see s. 3 (3), infra.

(m) For the definition of "local authority," see s. 1 (4) of the 1918 Act, ante, p. 2749.

(n) As to these charges, see s. 3 (4), infra.

Advisory committee.

2.—(1) For the purpose of giving advice and assistance to the Minister of Transport with respect to the making of orders in relation to tramway undertakings and for safeguarding the interests of users of tramways, a committee shall be constituted consisting of the Light Railway Commissioners and such members of the panel set up under section twenty-three of the Ministry of Transport Act, 1919 (a), as the Minister may appoint for the purpose, and such member as the Minister may appoint shall be chairman of the committee, and the committee, if so authorised by the Minister of Transport, may delegate to sub-committees thereof any of its powers and duties under this Act.

9 & 10 Geo. 5, c. 50.

(2) The committee, before reporting or advising on any matters referred to them under this Act shall, unless in their discretion they consider it unnecessary or undesirable to do so, give such public notice as they think best adapted for informing persons affected of the date when and the place where they will enquire into the matter, and any person affected may make representations to the committee, and, unless in their discretion the committee consider it unnecessary, shall be heard at such inquiry, and, if the committee in their discretion think fit, the whole or any part of the proceedings at such inquiry may be open to the public:

Provided that, for the purpose of this provision, the council of any city borough, burgh, county, or district shall be deemed to be persons affected in any case where such council or any person represented by them may be affected by any proposed order.

(3) The committee shall hear such witnesses and call for such documents and accounts as they think fit, and shall have power to take evidence on oath, and for that purpose any member of the committee may administer oaths.

(a) Under the section referred to the Minister is to set up a panel of experts and of impartial persons of wide commercial and trading experience appointed from nominees of the various classes of undertakings affected by the Act, and of labour, trading interests, local authorities and such other interests as he may deem desirable.

Supplemental provisions.

3.—(1) The Minister of Transport may, for the purposes of this Act, employ such accountants as he may think fit, and it shall be the duty of tramway undertakers to furnish to any such accountant such information and to produce to him such accounts and books as he may require for the purpose of reporting to the Minister or the Advisory Committee as to the financial position of the undertaking.

(2) The costs incurred by the Minister in connection with any application for an order under this Act, including the remuneration of any such accountant, shall be paid by the undertakers, and the Minister of Transport may certify the amount of the costs incurred, and any sum so certified and directed by the Minister to be paid by the undertakers shall be a debt to the Crown from those undertakers.

(3) For determining the cost of labour for the purposes of this Act, the Minister of Labour shall, at the request of the Minister of Transport, certify what are the rates of wages which have been fixed either by the National Joint Industrial Council for the tramway industry or by an award under the Industrial Courts Act, 1919.

9 & 10 Geo. 5, c. 69.

(4) For the purposes of this Act, statutory maximum charges shall not include any charges authorised by an order under the principal Act or this Act.

(5) For the purposes of this Act, the word "tramway" shall include light railways constructed wholly or mainly on public roads, and, where a tramway undertaking is leased to or worked by a company or person other than the owners thereof, "undertakers" shall, for the purposes of the principal Act and this Act, include that company or person, and, where a tramway undertaking is leased to or worked by a company or person other than the owners thereof, "undertakers" shall, for the purposes of the principal Act and this Act, include that company or person (a).

(a) Words in italics repealed by S. L. R. A., 1927.

Short title, construction and duration.

4.—(1) This Act may be cited as the Tramways (Temporary Increase of Charges) Act, 1920, and shall be construed as one with the principal Act.

(2) Notwithstanding anything in the principal Act, that Act as amended by this Act shall, in relation to tramway undertakings, have effect until the fifteenth day of February nineteen hundred and twenty-three (a).

(a) This subsection was repealed by S. L. R. A. See, however, note (a) to s. 1, ante, p. 2805, as to the temporary character of this Act.

THE GAS REGULATION ACT, 1920.

(10 & 11 Geo. 5, c. 28.)

An Act to amend the Law with respect to the supply of Gas (a).

[4th August, 1920.]

Price and Quality of Gas.

Power to substitute new basis of charges.

1 (b).—(1) The Board of Trade may, on the application of any gas undertakers (c), by order, provide for the repeal of any enactments or other provisions requiring the undertakers to supply gas of any particular illuminating or calorific value (d), and for substituting power to charge for thermal units supplied in the form of gas (e).

(2) An order under this section may provide for modifying the statutory or other provisions affecting the charges which may be made by the undertakers, by substituting for the standard or maximum price authorised under those provisions a standard or maximum price for each hundred thousand British thermal units (in this Act referred to as "a therm").

(3) The standard or maximum price per therm fixed by the order shall be a price corresponding as nearly as may be to that fixed by those provisions for each thousand cubic feet, but with such addition as appears to the Board reasonably required in order to meet the increases (if any) due to circumstances beyond the control of, or which could not reasonably have been avoided by, the undertakers, which have occurred since the thirtieth day of June nineteen hundred and fourteen in the costs and charges of and incidental to the production and supply of gas by the undertakers: and the order may make such modifications of any provisions whereby the rate of dividend payable by the undertakers or any other payment is dependent on the price of gas supplied as appear to the Board to be necessary:

Provided that, if at any time it is shown to the satisfaction of the Board of Trade that the costs and charges of and incidental to the production and supply of gas have substantially altered from circumstances beyond the control of, or which could not reasonably have been avoided by the undertakers, the Board may, if they think fit, on the application of the undertakers or of the local authority, or, where the local authority are the undertakers, of twenty consumers, make an amending order correspondingly revising the powers of charging authorised by the original order.

Section 1.

[If at any time it appears to the Board of Trade, in relation to any undertakers, that there has since the thirtieth day of June, nineteen hundred and fourteen, been any increase or decrease in—

(a) the rate of interest which the undertakers are obliged to pay on capital raised or money borrowed for the purposes of their gas undertaking; or

(b) the cost to the undertakers of providing works, plant or apparatus for the supply of gas; or

(c) the annual output of their gas undertaking; or

(d) the efficiency with which that undertaking has been carried on; the Board may make an amending order under this section revising the powers of charging authorised by the original order with respect to the undertakers, in such manner as to secure that they are not prejudiced by any such increase or benefited by any such decrease.] (f).

(4) An order under this section—

(a) shall prescribe the time when and the manner in which the undertakers are to give notice of the calorific value of the gas which they intend to supply (in this Act referred to as the declared calorific value), and shall require that such notice shall at the same time be published in the London, or Edinburgh, or Dublin Gazette; and

(b) shall require the undertakers, in the case of alteration in the declared calorific value, to take at their own expense such steps as may be necessary to alter, adjust, or replace the burners in consumers' appliances in such manner as to secure that the gas can be burned with safety and efficiency, except in the case of any consumer who objects to such alteration, adjustment, or replacement by the undertakers; and

(c) may prescribe, subject to such conditions as the Board may think necessary, the additional charge per therm which the undertakers may make in respect of gas supplied by means of prepayment meters; and

(d) may make such supplemental and consequential provisions as appear necessary to give full effect to the order; and

(e) shall come into operation on such date as may be fixed by the order; and

(f) shall have effect as if enacted in this Act (g).

(5) If within two years after the passing of this Act any undertakers have not applied to the Board of Trade for an order under this section, the Board of Trade may, after giving not less than three months' notice to the undertakers, make an order applying to those undertakings, which shall have the same effect as an order made on the application of the undertakers.

(6) Before making any order under this section, the Board of Trade shall, where the order is made on the application of undertakers, require the undertakers to give, and in any other case shall themselves give public notice in the London or Edinburgh or Dublin Gazette as the case may be and in such other manner as the Board may consider best adapted for informing persons affected, of the application for or proposal to make an order, and of the maximum or standard price per therm proposed, and as to the manner in which and time within which objections may be made, and shall consider any objection which may be duly made, and shall, where they think it expedient to do so, cause an inquiry to be held. The notice to be given under this section shall include notice to the local authority (h).

(7) The calorific value of gas means, for the purposes of this Act, the number of British thermal units (gross) produced by the combustion of one cubic foot of the gas measured at sixty degrees Fahrenheit under a pressure of thirty inches of mercury and [(except as otherwise prescribed by the gas referees)] (i) saturated with water vapour.

(a) This Act, which is amended by and to be construed as one with the Gas Undertakings Act, 1929, post, p. 3025, affects those local authorities who are gas undertakers, and also those local authorities who are consumers of gas.

(b) See the power to make rules relating to (inter alia) applications for orders under this section contained in s. 16, post. The Rules are set out in App. II., post, p. 3334. The Board of Trade are required to make orders in relation to charges in respect of all undertakers who have supplied in any year since 1927 more than twenty million cubic feet of gas (Gas Undertakings Act, 1929, s. 6, post, p. 3027). Such orders may contain the provisions authorised or required by sub-s. (4) of this section.

(c) See the definition in s. 18, post, p. 2817. The term includes local authorities who supply gas under power conferred by the Public Health Act, 1875, s. 161, or by a private Act or by provisional (now special) order under the Gas and Waterworks Acts, 1870 and 1873.

(d) See this term defined in sub-s. (7) and see the Gas (Standard of Calorific Power) Act, 1916, ante, p. 2737, which enabled a standard of calorific power to be substituted for a standard of illuminating power.

(e) After the lapse of two years from the passing of the Act (i.e. after August 4th, 1922) the Board of Trade is empowered to make an order under this section in respect of any undertaking the undertakers of which have not applied for an order within the two years. See sub-s. (5).

(f) Words in square brackets added by s. 8 and Sch. of the Gas Undertakings Act, 1929.

(g) As to the effect of this provision, see Institute of Patent Agents v. Lockwood, [1894] A. C. 347, and comments thereon in Waterford v. Murphy, [1920] 2 I. R. 165. (h) See the definition of "local authority" in s. 18 at p. 2817, post. It will be observed that a rural district council is not a local authority to whom notice must be given.

(i) Words in square brackets added by s. 8 and Sch. of the Gas Undertakings Act, 1929.

Composition and pressure of gas to be supplied.

2.—(1) Where an order under this Act (a) has been made affecting any undertakers, the gas supplied by those undertakers, in addition to conforming to the conditions prescribed in the order, shall comply with the following conditions, that is to say:—

(i) it shall not contain any trace of sulphuretted hydrogen when tested in accordance with this Act;

(ii) it shall be supplied at not less than the minimum permissible pressure (b):

Provided that the foregoing requirements shall not apply as respects a separate supply of gas by any undertakers for industrial purposes only, but an order may impose such other conditions with regard to gas supplied by those undertakers for those purposes as appear necessary to the Board of Trade.

(2) The minimum permissible pressure shall be such pressure in any main, or in any pipe laid between the main and the meter having an internal diameter of two inches and upwards, as to balance a column of water not less than two inches in height, except as may be otherwise provided by the order relating to any undertaking, and different minima may be specified for different parts of an undertaking, or for gas of different calorific values.

(3) Where any undertakers are, at the time when an order is made with respect to them under this Act, under a statutory obligation to comply with conditions in relation to pressure which are in excess of the provisions as to pressure contained in this section, the order shall make such provisions as appear necessary to the Board of Trade for preserving these conditions, and this Act shall, in its application to those undertakers, have effect as though such last-mentioned provisions were substituted for the provisions of this section as to pressure.

(4) The Board of Trade shall, as soon as may be after the passing of this Act, cause inquiries to be held into the question whether it is necessary or

Section 2. desirable to prescribe any limitations of the proportion of carbon monoxide which may be supplied in gas used for domestic purposes, and into the question whether it is necessary or desirable to prescribe any limitations of the proportion of incombustible constituents which may be supplied in gas and may, if on any such inquiry it appears desirable, make one or more special orders (c) under this Act prescribing the permissible proportion in either case, and any such special order may have effect either generally or as regards particular classes of undertakings, and the provisions of the special order shall have effect as if they were enacted in this section (d).

(a) Or under s. 6 of the Gas Undertakings Act, 1929 (s. 6 (3), ibid., post, p. 3027).

(b) As to this, see the next sub-section, but see also sub-s. (3) for a preservation of statutory obligations as to pressure which are in excess of that specified in sub-s. (2).

(c) The making of special orders is regulated by s. 10, post, p. 2814. See the Gas (Carbon Monoxide) Order, 1922 (S. R. & O., 1922, No. 142).

(d) As to the effect of this provision, see note (g) to s. 1, p. 2809, ante.

Restriction on power to charge for thermal units.

3. It shall not be lawful for any person to charge for the supply of gas according to the number of British thermal units supplied unless authorised to do so under this Act or by special Act of Parliament.

Testing of Gas (a).

Appointment of gas referees and examiners

4.—(1) The Board of Trade shall appoint three persons, at least one of whom shall be a person having practical knowledge and experience in the manufacture and supply of gas, to act as gas referees.

The Board of Trade shall also appoint a competent and impartial person to be chief gas examiner.

The gas referees and the chief gas examiner shall hold office for such time and on such conditions as the Board of Trade may direct, and may, with the consent of the Board of Trade, appoint such assistants as may be necessary for the proper discharge of their duties.

(2) Two of the gas referees shall be a quorum and at least two of the gas referees shall concur in every act or determination of the gas referees.

(3) The local authority (b) may, unless they are themselves the undertakers, appoint a competent and impartial person to be a gas examiner, and subject to the prescription of the gas referees to test the gas and the pressure at which the gas is supplied:

Provided that—

(a) for the purposes of this section, a gas examiner may be appointed to act on behalf of any number of local authorities, and the local authorities may enter into such arrangements as they think fit in regard to the joint appointment and employment of such gas examiner; and

(b) any county council may, if they think fit, with the consent of any other local authority within the county [who are not themselves the undertakers] (c), appoint a gas examiner, who shall have the same powers as if he were appointed by [the] (c) local authority.

(4) Where no gas examiner is appointed by the local authority, or where the testing of gas is imperfectly attended to, quarter sessions, on the application of not less than five consumers, may appoint a competent and impartial person to act as gas examiner, who shall have the same powers and perform the same duties as if he were appointed by the local authority, and the remuneration and expenses of the gas examiner up to the amount approved by quarter sessions, shall be paid by the local authority (d).

(a) The earlier provisions as to the testing of gas are contained in ss. 28—34 of the Gasworks Clauses Act, 1871 (see the Act at p. 2315, ante). Section 19 of the Act in the text provides that any of the provisions of the Act or any order made thereunder shall have effect in lieu of provisions to the same effect or inconsistent therewith in any Act relating to the testing of gas-measuring instruments, or in any Act or order relating to an undertaking with respect to which an order is made under this Act.

(b) See the definition in s. 18 at p. 2817, post.

(c) Words in square brackets added by s. 8 and Sch. of the Gas Undertakings Act, 1929. The word " the " was substituted for " that " by the same provisions.

(d) This sub-section provides machinery whereby a gas examiner may be appointed in a place wherein such an examiner cannot be appointed by a local authority under sub-section (3) because they are themselves the gas undertakers.

Note to Section 4.

Power to prescribe tests.

5 (a).—(1) The gas referees shall prescribe—

(a) the places and times at which and the apparatus and methods by which tests, whether continuous or intermittent, shall be made to ascertain whether any undertakers with respect to whom an order has been made under this Act are supplying gas in accordance with their obligations ; and

(b) the method by which any such apparatus shall be verified ; and

(c) the time and form of the reports to be made by the gas examiner to the gas referees and the local authority or quarter sessions by whom he is appointed, and to the undertakers, and the means by which the results of the tests shall be made available to the public :

Provided that, unless otherwise agreed between the undertakers and the authority by whom the gas examiner is appointed, any testing place provided by the undertakers in pursuance of any special or other Act of Parliament relating to the undertaking shall be deemed to be a prescribed testing place under this section, but the gas referees may, if they think fit, prescribe any additional testing place in respect of that undertaking.

(2) The prescribed apparatus shall, in the case of any undertakers who have sold in the preceding year more than one hundred million cubic feet of gas, and in any other case in which it appears necessary to the gas referees, include a calorimeter for the production of a continuous record of the calorific value of the gas which is being supplied.

(3) Any undertakers with respect to whom an order has been made under this Act shall provide and maintain to the satisfaction of the referees the prescribed testing places and apparatus, and shall give any gas examiner access to any testing place for the proper execution of his duty.

(4) A representative of the undertakers may be present on any occasion on which the gas examiner inspects, or alters, adjusts or replaces the testing apparatus or tests the gas, but shall not interfere with the inspection, alteration, adjustment of replacement, or test.

For the purposes of this subsection, the gas examiner shall, in cases where the testing place is situated elsewhere than on the works of the undertakers, give to the undertakers reasonable notice of the time at which he will attend at the testing place.

(5) The gas referees may, at any time where it appears to them necessary for the proper execution of their duties, enter upon and inspect any of the works of the undertakers, and the undertakers shall afford them and their assistants full facilities for this purpose, and shall furnish the referees with such information with regard to the position of the mains and pipes of the undertakers, and with regard to any other matter as the referees may reasonably require.

(a) This section and sections 6, 7 and 9 will apply to undertakers in respect of whom an order is made under s. 6 of the Gas Undertakings Act, 1929, post, p. 3027.

Appeals to chief gas examiner.

6 (a).—(1) If the undertakers or the local authority (b) think themselves aggrieved by any prescription of the gas referees, they may, within one month from the making of such prescription, appeal to the chief gas examiner, who, Section 6. after hearing the parties and any other body or person appearing to him to be interested, may confirm, with or without amendment, or annul the prescription, and the decision of the chief gas examiner shall be final and conclusive.

(2) If the undertakers think themselves aggrieved by any report of a gas examiner, they may, within [twenty-one days] (c), appeal to the chief gas examiner, who may confirm, with or without amendment, or annûl the report, and whose decision, after hearing the parties, shall be final and conclusive.

(3) The report of a gas examiner (including any such report as amended by the chief gas examiner) showing any failure to comply with the provisions of this Act or any order thereunder as to the calorific value, purity, pressure, or composition of gas, shall be conclusive evidence of the liability of the undertakers to a forfeiture in respect thereof.

(4) Any decision of the chief gas examiner purporting to have been signed by him shall, for all purposes and to all intents, be primâ facie evidence of the due making and signing thereof without proof of such signature.

(a) See note (a) to s. 5, p. 2811, ante.
(b) See the definition in s. 18, at p. 2817, post.
(c) " Twenty-one days " was substituted for " seven days " by s. 8 and Sch. of the Gas Undertakings Act, 1929.

Remuneration and expenses of gas referees.

7 (a).—(1) The salaries, remuneration, pensions, and gratuities of the chief gas examiner and the gas referees and their assistants shall be such as the Board of Trade with the consent of the Treasury may fix.

(2) (a) Any such salaries, remuneration, pensions, or gratuities; and
(b) any expenses of the chief gas examiner and the gas referees in the execution of their duties or powers under this Act; and (c) any expenses of the Board of Trade which in the opinion of the Treasury are directly attributable to the execution of their powers and duties under this Act; shall be paid out of the fund established under this section:

Provided that during the first two years after the passing of this Act the expenditure for the purposes aforesaid shall to the extent that may be necessary be paid out of moneys provided by Parliament, but such payments shall be treated as advances, and shall be repaid out of that fund, with interest at such rate and by such instalments, as the Treasury may fix, in the next three succeeding years (b).

(3) Any undertakers with respect to whom an order under this Act has been made, shall, on or before the first day of April in each year, pay to a fund (to be called the gas fund) a contribution not being at the rate of more than three shillings for each million cubic feet of gas sold by them in the preceding year and the Treasury may determine that that fund shall be a public fund within the meaning of the Superannuation Act, 1892.

55 & 56 Vict. c. 40.

(4) The Board of Trade shall, not later than the fifteenth day of January in each year, prescribe the rate at which such contribution shall be payable for that year (which shall not exceed the rate reasonably required to meet the estimated expenditure for the year), and the manner in which and the account to which the contribution shall be paid, and the amount payable by the undertakers shall be a debt due by the undertakers to the Crown, and shall be recoverable accordingly with costs.

(5) The Board of Trade shall, as soon as may be after the thirty-first day of March in every year, cause the accounts of the gas fund for the preceding year to be laid before Parliament.

(a) See note (a) to s. 5, p. 2811, ante.
(b) Words in italics repealed by S. L. R. A., 1927.

Forfeiture and Penalties.

Penalties for failure to comply with prescription of gas referees.

8. If the undertakers fail to comply with any lawful prescription of the gas referees, or to provide or maintain any testing place, apparatus or materials, or any other matter or thing prescribed therein, or to afford the gas examiner or gas referees access to any testing place or works in accordance with the requirements of this Act, or to afford or furnish any facilities or information in accordance with the requirements of this Act, the undertakers shall be liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding twenty-five pounds, or in the case of a continuing offence twenty-five pounds for each day after such conviction during which such offence continues:

Provided that no proceedings under this section shall be taken—

(a) unless the Board of Trade, after giving the undertakers an opportunity of being heard, consent thereto; and

(b) in the case of the failure to comply with any lawful prescription, until after the expiration of the period within which the undertakers may under this Act appeal against the prescription; or

(c) if the undertakers have appealed as aforesaid, unless or until either such appeal is withdrawn or the chief gas examiner has given a decision thereon.

Forfeiture for deficient calorific value, etc.

9 (a).—(1) If on any day (b) for a period of two hours or upwards the calorific value of gas supplied by any undertakers, ascertained in accordance with the provisions of this Act, is more than five per cent. below the declared calorific value, the undertakers shall be liable on summary conviction to a forfeiture not exceeding five pounds for every complete one per cent. by which the calorific value is deficient in excess of such five per cent.:

Provided that, where there is no continuous record of the calorific value of the gas supplied by any undertakers, if on any occasion of testing the calorific value at any testing-place is found to be more than five per cent. below the declared calorific value a second testing shall be made on the same day (b) after an interval of not less than one hour and the mean of the two testings shall be deemed, for the purposes of this subsection, to be the calorific value of the gas supplied by the undertakers at that testing-place for a period of two hours ascertained as aforesaid.

(2) If on any occasion the gas does not conform to the provisions of this Act or any order made thereunder as to purity or pressure, the undertakers shall be liable on summary conviction to a forfeiture not exceeding ten pounds.

(3) The undertakers shall not be liable to any forfeiture under this section in any case where they show that the deficiency or failure was due to circumstances not within their control, nor shall the undertakers be liable for more than one forfeiture in respect of any one day for any deficiency in calorific value, composition, or pressure of gas supplied from any one works.

(4) If in any quarter the average calorific value of the gas supplied by any undertakers, ascertained in manner prescribed by the gas referees, is less than the declared calorific value, a sum which the chief gas examiner shall determine to be as nearly as may be the amount by which the revenue of the undertakers has been improperly increased shall,—

(a) if the undertakers are a local authority, be applied towards a reduction in the price of gas in the next or some succeeding quarter; and

(b) in any other case, be deducted from the amount applicable to payment of dividend on the ordinary capital of the undertakers for the year or half year in which such quarter occurs, and carried forward to the credit of the revenue account for the next following year or half-year in addition to any other amount which would otherwise have been so carried forward, and the dividend which the undertakers may pay on their ordinary capital in respect of such first-mentioned year or half-year shall be correspondingly reduced; and

(c) in every case the amount so ascertained shall be shown in the accounts of the undertakers as a separate item until the undertakers have shown to the satisfaction of the Board of Trade that it has been applied to a reduction in the price of gas.

For the purposes of this provision, the expression "quarter" means the three months commencing on the first day of January, the first day of April, the first day of July, and the first day of October in any year.

(5) Proceedings against the undertakers in respect of any forfeiture incurred under this Act may be commenced at any time within three months after the date of the report of the gas examiner, or after the date of the report of the chief gas examiner on appeal, or, in the event of the undertakers duly appealing to the chief gas examiner and withdrawing the appeal, within three months after the date of the receipt of notice of such withdrawal.

(6) If, on an appeal to the chief gas examiner, he certifies that the default of the undertakers is not substantial or not due to the careless conduct of the undertakers or of their servants, no summary proceedings shall be taken in respect of the default, but the chief gas examiner may by order determine the amount (not exceeding the amount prescribed by subsection (1) or subsection (2) of this section as the forfeiture for the default) for the forfeiture to be paid by the undertakers, and any such order shall have effect as if it were an order of a court of summary jurisdiction.

(a) See note (a) to s. 5, ante, p. 2811.

(b) Words in italics repealed by s. 8 and Sch. of Gas Undertakings Act, 1929.

Power to make Special Orders (a).

Power to make special orders. 33 & 34 Vict. c. 70.

10.—(1) Anything which under the Gas and Water Works Facilities Act, 1870, or any Act amending the same (b), may be effected by a provisional order confirmed by Parliament may, so far as those enactments relate to gas, be effected by a special order made on the application of any local authority (c), company, or person by the Board of Trade under and in accordance with the provisions of this section, and for the purposes of the powers conferred by this section the Gas and Waterworks Facilities Act, 1870, shall have effect as though section fifteen thereof, which excludes the Metropolis from the operation of the Act, were omitted therefrom.

(2) Without prejudice to the generality of the powers conferred by this section, the Board of Trade may, by any such special order—

(a) empower any undertakers to obtain a supply of gas in bulk from any source whether situated within or without their authorised limits of supply:

(b) empower any undertakers to give a separate supply of gas for industrial purposes within their authorised limits of supply:

(c) authorise any local authority which may be authorised to supply gas within their district to supply gas outside the district in any area which is not supplied with gas by any other undertakers or which is within the area of supply of any undertakers whose undertaking has been acquired by such local authority;

(d) authorise arrangements for the purchase by agreement, joint working or amalgamation of undertakings, including necessary provisions with regard to the capital of the combined undertaking, the vesting of the property and rights of the purchased or amalgamated undertakings, and other necessary incidents and consequences of purchase, amalgamation or joint working:

(e) authorise the establishment of superannuation, pension and other like funds:

(f) authorise the raising of capital or the borrowing of money for any of the purposes aforesaid:

(g) make provision for the purchase or redemption (out of revenue or otherwise) and cancellation of debentures, debenture stock, mortgages or bonds, or of obsolete or unproductive capital, or capital not represented by available assets:

(h) modify or amend the provisions of any special Act or other provision relating to the undertaking affected by the special order as may be necessary to provide for the proper and efficient conduct of the undertaking:

(i) make such supplemental and consequential provisions as appear necessary to give full effect to the order.

(3) Sections eighty and eighty-one of the Factory and Workshop Act, 1901, which relate to the making of regulations under that Act, as set out and adapted in the Schedule to this Act, shall apply to the making of special orders under this Act. 1 Edw. 7, c. 22.

(4) Before any special order under this Act is made, it shall be laid in draft before both Houses of Parliament, and such order shall not be made unless both Houses, by resolution, approve the draft, either without modification or addition or with modifications or additions to which both Houses agree, but upon such approval being given the Board of Trade may make the order in the form in which it has been approved, and the order on being so made shall be of full force and effect.

(5) For the purposes of any Act of Parliament, whether passed before or after this Act, which refers directly or indirectly to a special Act conferring powers on gas undertakers, a special order under this Act shall be deemed to be a special Act.

(a) See the Gas (Special Orders) Rules, 1922, in App. II., post, p. 3334, as to applications for special orders.

(b) Under s. 161 of the P. H. A., 1875, an urban district council might obtain from the Local Government Board (afterwards the Minister of Health) under the Gas and Water Works Facilities Acts, 1870 and 1873, a provisional order authorising a gas undertaking. The power of the Minister of Health in this behalf passed to the Board of Trade under the Ministry of Health (Transfer of Powers as to Gas Undertakings) Order, 1920. But by the section in the text the special order therein mentioned is now substituted for a provisional order. It will be seen on reference to sub-s. (2) that such a special order may have a very wide scope and a far-reaching effect. And the scope of these orders is further extended by s. 7 of the Gas Undertakings Act, 1929, post, p. 3028.

(c) See the definition in s. 18, post, p. 2817.

General.

11. The fees for the examination, comparison and testing, with or without stamping, of meters, shall be such as may be determined from time to time by the Board of Trade, and section nineteen of the Sale of Gas Act, 1859, is hereby repealed: Fees for examination of meters. 22 & 23 Vict. c. 66.

Provided that the fees fixed by the said section shall, notwithstanding such repeal, continue to be chargeable unless and until altered by the Board of Trade under the powers conferred by this section (a).

(a) Words in italics repealed by S. L. R. A., 1927. See the Gas Meter (Fees) Order, 1922 (S. R. & O., 1922, No. 625), and the Standards Dept. Fees Order, 1923 (S. R. & O., 1923, No. 317).

12 The powers and duties of the Board of Trade under sections five and six of the Weights and Measures Act, 1904, in relation to regulations with respect to measuring instruments and certificates of suitability for use of certain appliances, shall extend to instruments for measuring gas and patterns thereof, and those sections shall have effect accordingly (a): Application of ss. 5 & 6 of 4 Edw. 7, c. 28.

Provided that, for the purposes of the said section six as applied by this section, the expression "inspector" shall mean an inspector of gas meters under the Sale of Gas Act, 1859.

(a) See the Gas Meter Regulations, 1920 (S. R. & O., 1920, No. 2354).

Meters to be stamped.

13. All meters by means of which gas is supplied by any undertakers to any consumer shall be stamped in accordance with regulations made by the Board of Trade (a) under their powers in that behalf, and if any undertakers supply gas by means of any meter which is not so stamped, they shall be liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding ten pounds.

(a) See the Gas Meter Regulations, 1920 (S. R. & O., 1920, No. 2354).

Qualification for appointment as inspector of meters.

14.—(1) The Board of Trade shall provide for the holding of examinations for the purpose of ascertaining whether applicants for the post of inspector of meters under section four of the Sale of Gas Act, 1859, nominated by the appointing authority, possess sufficient practical knowledge for the proper performance of the duties of that post, and for the grant of certificates to persons who satisfactorily pass such examination.

(2) A person shall not, after the passing of this Act, be appointed to act as an inspector of meters as aforesaid unless he has obtained such certificate as aforesaid.

(3) If any person, not being an inspector duly appointed under the Sale of Gas Act, 1859, acts as such inspector, he shall be liable to a fine not exceeding ten pounds, or, in the case of a second or subsequent offence, twenty pounds.

(4) There shall be charged in respect of the examinations under this section such fees as the Board of Trade, with the concurrence of the Treasury, from time to time fix, and all such fees shall be dealt with in such manner as the Treasury from time to time direct.

Accounts and returns.

15.—(1) All gas undertakers shall furnish to the Board of Trade at such times and in such form and manner as the Board may direct an annual account, and such statistics and returns as the Board may require.

(2) Within seven days of the date on which the annual account is sent to the Board of Trade the undertakers shall furnish a copy thereof to the local authority, and shall place copies on sale at their principal office at a price not exceeding one shilling per copy.

(3) If any undertakers fail to comply with the provisions of this section, they shall be liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding forty shillings for each day during which the default continues.

(4) The provisions of this section shall be substituted for the provisions of section thirty-eight of the Gasworks Clauses Act, 1847, and of section thirty-five of the Gasworks Clauses Act, 1871, in so far as such provisions are incorporated in the special Act of the undertakers.

34 & 35 Vict. c. 41.

Power to make rules.

16.—(1) The Board of Trade may make rules in relation to applications and other proceedings under this Act and to the payments to be made in respect thereof, and to the publication and service of notices and the publication of advertisements, and the manner in which and the time within which representations or objections with reference to any application or other proceeding are to be made, and to the holding of inquiries in such cases as they may think it advisable and to the costs of such inquiries, and to any other matters arising in relation to their powers and duties under this Act (a).

(2) Any rules made in pursuance of this section shall be laid before Parliament as soon as may be after they are made and shall have the same effect as if enacted in this Act.

(a) See S. R. & Os., 1922, Nos. 380, 403; 1923, No. 439; 1926, No. 978.

Exercise of powers of Board of Trade.

17. All things required or authorised under this Act to be done by the Board of Trade, may be done by the President or Secretary or Assistant Secretary of the Board, or any person authorised in that behalf by the President of the Board.

Section 18.

Definitions.

18. For the purposes of this Act—

The expression "local authority" means the common council of the City of London and any county, county borough, or urban district council, and in relation to any gas undertaking means any such local authority the whole or any part of whose area is within or partly within the limits of supply of the undertakers;

The expression "gas undertakers" or "undertakers" means any local authority, company, body or person authorised to supply gas by any Act of Parliament, or any order having the force of an Act of Parliament;

[The expression "quarter sessions" means the quarter sessions for the area of any local authority which has failed to appoint a gas examiner or for any area in which the testing of gas is imperfectly attended to] (a).

(a) The definition in square brackets was substituted for the definition in the Act by s. 8 and Sch. of Gas Undertakings Act, 1929. The former definition referred to the area in which the gasworks were situated.

Supersession of existing enactments.

19. Any provisions of this Act or any order made thereunder shall have effect in lieu of any provisions to the same effect or inconsistent therewith in any Act relating to the testing of gas-measuring instruments, or in any Act or order having the force of an Act relating to an undertaking with respect to which an order has been made under this Act.

Expenses of local authorities.

20. The expenses of a local authority under this Act shall be defrayed, in the case of the common council of the City of London out of the general rate, in the case of a county council as payments for special county purposes made in respect of the parishes which are wholly or partly within the limits of supply of any gas undertakers in respect of which the county council have power to appoint a gas examiner, and in the case of other councils as expenses incurred in the administration of the Public Health Acts, 1875 to 1908 (a).

(a) As to these expenses, see s. 207 of the P. H. A., 1875, ante, p. 495, as amended by the R. & V. Act, 1925, ante, p. 1633.

21.—(1) [Application to Scotland and Ireland.]

Short title.

22. This Act may be cited as the Gas Regulation Act, 1920.

SCHEDULE.

Section 11.

Provisions of the Factory and Workshop Act, 1901, applied to Special Orders made under this Act.

80.—(1) Before the Board of Trade make any special order under this Act, the undertakers concerned shall publish, in such manner as the Board may think best adapted for informing persons affected, notice of the application for the order, and of the place where copies of the draft order may be obtained, and of the time (which shall be not less than twenty-one days) within which any objection made with respect to the draft order by or on behalf of persons affected must be sent to the Board of Trade.

(2) Every objection must be in writing and state—

(a) the specific grounds of objection; and

(b) the omissions, additions, or modifications asked for.

(3) The Board of Trade shall consider any objection made by or on behalf of any persons appearing to them to be affected which is sent to them within the required time.

(4) Where the Board of Trade do not amend or withdraw any draft order to which any objection has been made, then (unless the objection either is withdrawn or appears to them to be frivolous) they shall, before making the order, direct an inquiry to be held in the manner hereinafter provided, and may, after considering the report of the person who held the inquiry, make the order either without modification or subject to such modification as they think fit, or may refuse to make the order.

81.—(1) The Board of Trade may appoint a competent and impartial person to hold an inquiry with regard to any draft order, and to report to them thereon.

(2) The inquiry shall be held in public, and any objector and any other person who, in the opinion of the person holding the inquiry, is affected by the draft order, may appear at the inquiry either in person or by counsel, solicitor, or agent.

(3) The witnesses on the inquiry may, if the person holding it thinks fit, be examined on oath.

(4) Subject as aforesaid, the inquiry and all proceedings preliminary and incidental thereto shall be conducted in accordance with rules made by the Board of Trade.

(5) The fee to be paid to the person holding the inquiry shall be such as the Board of Trade may direct.

THE CENSUS ACT, 1920.

(10 & 11 Geo. 5, c. 41.)

An Act to make provision for the taking from time to time of a Census for Great Britain or any area therein and for otherwise obtaining Statistical Information with respect to the Population of Great Britain (a).

[16th August, 1920.]

* * * * * *

Provision with respect to local census.

6.—(1) If an application is made to the Minister of Health by a local authority to which this section applies (b) asking that a census may be taken for the whole or any part of the area of the authority, or for an area consisting of the whole or any part of that area and of the whole or any part of an adjoining area, the Minister may, if he thinks fit, submit the application to His Majesty, and His Majesty may by Order in Council, if it appears to His Majesty expedient so to do for the purpose of facilitating the due performance by the local authority of its statutory duties, direct that a census shall be taken for the area specified in the application, or for any part of that area.

(2) The provisions of this Act with respect to the taking of a census for Great Britain (other than the provision with respect to the interval between one census and another) shall, subject to such exceptions, modifications and adaptations as may be specified in the Order, apply to the taking of a census under this section.

(3) The local authorities to which this section applies are the common council of the City of London, metropolitan borough councils, the councils of counties, the councils of boroughs, and urban district councils:

Provided that, without prejudice to the power of any other authority being a local authority to which this section applies to make an application under this section, an application may be made by the council of a county and an order may be made under this section with respect to the whole of the area of the council, including the areas of any authorities which are local authorities for the purposes of this section.

(a) Those sections only which specially affect local authorities are included in this volume.

(b) See sub-s. (3).

Expenses of local authorities.

7. Any expenses incurred in connection with the taking of a census under this Act in pursuance of an application made by a local authority, including the publication of any reports or returns relating to the census, shall be paid by the local authority by which the application for the census was made, and any expenses so incurred, and any other expenses incurred by a local authority under this Act, shall be defrayed in the case of the common council of the City of London and a metropolitan borough out of the general rate, in the case of a county council as expenses for general county purposes, and in the case of other councils as expenses incurred in the administration of the Public Health Acts, 1875 to 1908 (a).

(a) See s. 207 of the P. H. A., 1875, ante, p. 495, as amended by the R. & V. Act, ante, p. 1633.

THE UNEMPLOYMENT (RELIEF WORKS) ACT, 1920.

(10 & 11 GEO. 5, c. 57.)

An Act to make better provision for the employment of unemployed persons by facilitating the acquisition of, and entry on, land required for works of public utility, and for purposes connected therewith (a).

[3rd December, 1920.]

Provision for facilitating the compulsory acquisition of, and entry on, land required for works of public utility.
9 Edw. 7. c. 44.
9 & 10 Geo. 5. c. 35.
53 & 54 Vict. c. 70.

1. Subject as hereinafter provided, the provisions of the Housing, Town Planning, &c. Act, 1909, and of the Housing, Town Planning, &c. Act, 1919, which relate to the procedure for the compulsory acquisition of land for the purposes of Part III. of the Housing of the Working Classes Act, 1890, by the Minister of Health and local authorities, and to entry on land acquired for those purposes (b), shall apply to the compulsory acquisition of land for the purpose of works of public utility (c) and of land which may be acquired in connection with any such works, and to the entry on land acquired for that purpose, as if those enactments were herein re-enacted with the necessary adaptations and modifications and with the substitution of the appropriate Government department (d) for the Minister of Heatlh and of the local authority having power to execute a work of public utility for the local authority within the meaning of the said Part III.:

Provided that—

(a) the powers conferred by this section shall not be exercised except where it is certified by the Minister of Labour that, having regard to the amount of unemployment existing in any area, it is desirable that the provisions of this section should be put into operation with a view to the speedy provision of employment for unemployed persons from that area, and the Minister of Labour shall take into consideration any representations which may be made to him by any local authority to the effect that he should issue a certificate under this section; and

(b) no order authorising the compulsory acquisition of any land for any purpose shall be made under any enactment as applied by this section, unless an order authorising the compulsory acquisition of that land for that purpose could have been made under some enactment in force at the commencement of this Act (e); and

(c) where an enactment in force at the commencement of this Act, which authorises the compulsory acquisition of land for any purpose for which land has been authorised to be acquired compulsorily by an order made under this Act, contains a provision that the arbitrator in determining the amount of any disputed compensation shall have regard to the extent to which the remaining and contiguous lands and hereditaments belonging to the same proprietor may be benefited by the proposed work for which the land is authorised to be acquired, that provision shall have effect as respects land authorised to be acquired compulsorily by the said order (f).

(a) This Act is temporary only. See s. 7 (2) and the note thereto, post. The Act merely expedites procedure and does not give new powers of compulsory purchase (see s. 1, proviso (b)).

(b) The Acts of 1890, 1909 and 1919 have all now been repealed and are consolidated in the Housing Act, 1925. As to the compulsory acquisition of land for the purposes of Part III. of that Act (corresponding to Part III. of the 1890 Act), see s. 64 and Sch. III., ibid., ante, pp. 1437, 1484, and as to entry on land acquired, see s. 106, ibid., ante, p. 1465.

In connection with works for which the Minister of Transport is the appropriate Government department under this Act, the Ministry of Transport (Unemployment Relief Works Procedure) Order, 1925, in App. II. at p. 3439, post, should be referred to.

(c) For the definition of "works of public utility," see s. 5, post, p. 2822.

(d) For the definition of this expression, see s. 5 (2), post, p. 2822.

(e) For example, an order might be made authorising the compulsory acquisition of land for widening or improving streets under the Public Health Act, 1875, ss. 154, 176, ante, pp. 340, 436. As to the compulsory acquisition of land for the construction of new roads see the Development and Road Improvement Funds Act, 1909, s. 11, ante, p. 1206, and s. 4, post, p. 2822.

(f) For cases in which the principle of betterment is applied, see the Development and Road Improvement Funds Act, 1909, 9 Edw. 7, c. 47, Sched. 2 (c), ante, p. 1209; the Housing Act, 1925, s. 20 (6), ante, p. 1397, and the Town Planning Act, 1925, s. 10 (3), ante, p. 1501.

Power to enter on and acquire land for construction and improvement of roads.

2 (a).—(1) If it appears to the Minister of Labour that immediate action is necessary for the purpose of dealing with unemployment, and that land cannot be acquired under the foregoing provisions of this Act with such expedition as the case requires, he may certify accordingly, and thereupon the Minister of Transport (in this section referred to as "the Minister") or, with the approval of the Minister, any local authority, shall, subject to the provisions of this section, have power forthwith to enter upon and take possession of any such land as may be required for or in connection with the construction of any arterial road, being a road which the Minister or the local authority, as the case may be, has or have power to construct or required by the local authority for the improvement of any road, with a view to the employment of unemployed persons in the construction or improvement of the road:

Provided that nothing in the foregoing provision shall authorise the Minister or any local authority to enter on any permanent building or structure, or to enter upon or take possession of any land unless that land could, under some enactment in force at the commencement of this Act, have been authorised to be acquired compulsorily for, or in connection with, the construction or improvement of a road (b).

(2) Before entering on any land under this Act, the Minister or local authority shall give seven days' notice in writing of the intention so to do to the owner and occupier of the land.

A notice for the purposes of this provision may be served either—

(a) by delivering it to or leaving it at the usual or last known place of abode of the person on whom it is to be served; or

(b) by sending it by post in a prepaid letter addressed to that person at his usual or last known place of abode; or

(c) by delivering it to some person on the premises or, if there is no person on the premises who can be so served, by affixing it on some conspicuous part of the premises; and any such notice may be addressed by the description of the "owner" or the "occupier" of the premises (naming them) without further name or description (c).

(3) Where the Minister or a local authority enter upon any land in pursuance of this section, he or they shall, by virtue of this section, have power to acquire the land compulsorily, and for the purpose of the acquisition of any such land the provisions of the Lands Clauses Acts shall, subject to the provisions of this section, be deemed to be incorporated in this Act.

(4) The Minister or local authority shall, as soon as may be after entering on any land under this section, serve notice under section eighteen of the Lands Clauses Consolidation Act, 1845 (d), of the intention to take the land, and shall add to the notice a statement that the entry on the land is made in pursuance of this Act, and shall in all respects be liable as if such notice had been given on the date of entering on the land.

8 & 9 Vict. c. 18.

(5) The power conferred by this section to enter on land may, save as hereinbefore in this section provided, be exercised without notice to or the consent of any person and without compliance with the provisions of sections eighty-four to ninety of the Lands Clauses Consolidation Act, 1845 (e), but such entry shall be without prejudice to the liability to pay compensation for the land and interest thereon as from the date on which entry is made, such compensation and interest to be ascertained in accordance with the provisions of the Acquisition of Land (Assessment of Compensation) Act, 1919 (f).

9 & 10 Geo. 5, c. 57.

(a) This section only applies to the acquisition of land for the construction of "arterial roads" which are nowhere defined and the improvement of any road.

(b) See note (e) to s. 1, ante, p. 2820.

(c) Compare the provisions of the P. H. A., 1875, ss. 266, 267, ante, pp. 592, 593, as to notices.

(d) Ante, p. 2094.

(e) See the sections referred to, ante, pp. 2117 et seq.

(f) See this Act, ante, p. 1271.

Contribution by local authorities to works outside their area.

3.—(1) With a view to the provision of employment for the unemployed persons in their area, a local authority may, subject to the approval of the Minister of Health, enter into agreements with any Government department or local authority by whom any work of public utility is being, or is about to be, constructed for the payment of a contribution by that authority towards the expenses which may be incurred in carrying out that work, and any two or more local authorities may, subject to the like approval, make schemes with a view to providing for the employment of the unemployed persons in their areas on works of public utility and may by any such schemes make arrangements as to the manner in which the expenses incurred in connection with the works are to be defrayed (a).

(2) A local authority shall have power, with the approval of the Minister of Health, to borrow money for the purposes of any agreement entered into or any scheme made by the authority under this section, in the case of the council of a county in the same manner as for the purposes specified in section sixty-nine of the Local Government Act, 1888, in the case of the council of a metropolitan borough under the Metropolis Management Acts, 1855 to 1893, in the case of the Common Council of the City of London under the City of London Sewers Acts, 1848 to 1897, and in the case of any other council in the same manner as for the purposes of the Public Health Acts, 1875 to 1908 (b).

51 & 52 Vict. c. 41.

(3) In this section the expression "local authority" means the council of a county or a county borough, or of an urban or rural district:

Provided that, for the purposes of the application of the provisions of this section to the administrative county of London, the local authorities shall be the London County Council, the councils of metropolitan boroughs, and the Common Council of the City of London.

(a) Section 3 does not increase the powers of a local authority as to the purposes for which they may make agreements and schemes. See note (a) to s. 5, post, p. 2822.

(b) The power of borrowing under the P. H. A., 1875, is contained in ss. 233, 234, ante, pp. 519, 526.

Section 4.

Section 9 (2) of 7 Edw. 7, c. 47, not to apply in certain cases.

4. The provisions of subsection (2) of section nine of the Development and Road Improvement Funds Act, 1909 (a), shall not apply with respect to the construction of any new road where the Minister of Labour certifies that, having regard to the exceptional amount of unemployment in any area, it is desirable that the construction of the new road should be proceeded with forthwith with a view to the speedy provision of employment for unemployed persons from that area.

(a) See this section, ante, p. 1205.

Interpretation and saving.

5.—(1) In this Act the expression "work of public utility" means the construction or improvement of roads (including bridges, viaducts, and subways) or other means of transit, the widening or other improvement of waterways, the construction or improvement of harbours, the construction of sewers or waterworks, afforestation, the reclamation or drainage of land, and any other work, being a work which a local authority has power to execute (a), which is approved for the purposes of this Act by the appropriate Government department as a work of public utility.

(2) If any question arises in any case as to what department is the appropriate Government department within the meaning of this Act, the question shall be referred to and determined by the Treasury.

(3) The provisions of this Act shall be in addition to and not in substitution for any power of any Government department or local authority to enter upon or acquire any land for the purposes of any work of public utility.

(a) It will be observed that the work must be within the powers of the authority. A town council applied to the Ministry of Health for sanction to a loan to defray their share of the cost of straightening and deepening a river running through the borough. The scheme was being carried out under an agreement with the Ministry of Agriculture and Fisheries, and the town council relied for their borrowing power upon the Unemployment (Relief Works) Act, 1920. The Ministry stated that they were advised that there was no authority in the general law which would enable the corporation to carry out the works in question or to borrow for the purpose. In the special circumstances of the case, however, the Ministry were willing to sanction a temporary loan under the Local Authorities (Emergency Provisions) Act, 1923.

6. [Application to Scotland and Ireland.]

Short title.

7.—(1) This Act may be cited as the Unemployment (Relief Works) Act, 1920.

(2) This Act shall continue in force for twelve months and no longer unless Parliament otherwise determines (a):

Provided that the expiry of this Act shall not—

(a) affect the previous operation thereof or of anything duly done or suffered thereunder; or

(b) affect any right, privilege, obligation or liability acquired, accrued or incurred thereunder; or

(c) affect any legal proceeding, arbitration, remedy or investigation in respect of such right, privilege, obligation or liability as aforesaid; and any such legal proceeding, arbitration, remedy or investigation may be instituted, enforced or continued as if this Act had not expired.

(a) This Act has been continued by Expiring Laws Continuance Acts and that of 1929 continues it until 31st December, 1930.

THE DEFENCE OF THE REALM (ACQUISITION OF LAND) ACT, 1920.

(10 & 11 GEO. 5, c. 79.)

An Act to amend the Defence of the Realm (Acquisition of Land) Act, 1916, and to continue certain byelaws (a). [23rd December, 1920.]

Power to dispose of land free from restrictive covenant. 6 & 7 Geo. 5, c. 63.

1.—(1) Where land which, or an interest in which, has been or is hereafter acquired under the Defence of the Realm (Acquisition of Land) Act, 1916 (hereinafter referred to as the principal Act), was immediately before its acquisition subject to a restrictive covenant which before the fourth day of November, nineteen hundred and twenty, had lawfully been contravened, and the land or interest therein is disposed of in pursuance of the powers conferred by section five of that Act (b), it may be disposed of free from the restriction imposed by the covenant, and shall be deemed to have been so disposed of, if expressed to be disposed of in pursuance of the powers conferred by the principal Act and this Act but not otherwise:

Provided that, where the covenant is one entered into for the protection and maintenance of any building scheme, or for the preservation of the amenities of any dwelling-house in the occupation of a person entitled to enforce the covenant, this section shall not apply unless the Railway and Canal Commission, on the application of the occupying department, and having regard to all the circumstances of the case, direct that it shall apply.

(2) Where any such land or interest is disposed of free from such restriction, no person shall have the right of enforcing the covenant against the person to whom the land or interest is disposed of or his successors in title, but if at any time after such disposition any person who, but for this section, would have had a right to enforce the covenant, establishes such right, there shall be paid to him compensation to be determined in manner provided by the Lands Clauses Act as modified by the principal Act and the Acquisition of Land (Assessment of Compensation) Act, 1919 (c), with respect to interests in lands which have been omitted to be purchased, and upon payment of such compensation the right shall, as against him and all persons deriving title through him, be absolutely discharged:

9 & 10 Geo. 5, c. 57.

Provided that, in assessing the compensation, the official arbitrator shall take into consideration any compensation which may have been paid or be payable in respect of the covenant under section four of the principal Act (d).

Any compensation payable under the foregoing provision shall be paid out of moneys provided by Parliament, but the sum to be expended in respect thereof shall not exceed fifty thousand pounds.

(3) [Application of this section to Scotland.]

(a) The principal Act which is amended by this Act is the 6 & 7 Geo. 5, c. 63, and will be found set out in full, ante, p. 2742.

(b) See the section referred to, ante, p. 2743.

(c) See this Act, ante, p. 1271.

(d) See the section referred to, ante, p. 2743.

Provisions as to rights of pre-emption.

2.—(1) The right of pre-emption conferred by section five (a) of the principal Act on any person other than a person entitled to the lands from which the land proposed to be sold was originally severed shall cease to have effect, and accordingly in subsection (3) of that section the words from "or if such person refuse" to the end of that subsection shall be repealed (b).

Section 2.

(2) Where the land from which land acquired under the principal Act was severed is settled land within the meaning of the Settled Land Acts, 1882 to 1890, the tenant for life, or person having the powers of a tenant for life under those Acts with respect to that land, shall, for the purposes of section five of the principal Act and this section, be deemed to be, and always to have been, the person entitled to the settled land.

(3) The person by whom the right of pre-emption conferred by the said section five (a) as amended by this section is or would for the time being be exerciseable in respect of any land if a Government department were offering that land for sale shall have power at any time to release that right so as to discharge in perpetuity the land or any part thereof to which the release relates, from all such right of pre-emption.

(a) See this section at p. 2743, ante.
(b) Repealed by S. L. R. A., 1927.

Provision as to acquisition and possession of land under the principal Act.

3.—(1) It is hereby declared that—

(a) . . . (a)

(b) the expressions "Government department in possession" and "occupying department," where used in the principal Act and this Act mean, and shall be deemed always to have meant, the Government department for the time being in possession of land, notwithstanding that the department so in possession is not the department by which or on whose behalf possession was originally taken, but is in possession by virtue of a transfer from the said department or from some other department to which possession has subsequently been transferred (b):

(c) where the occupying department has created or purported to create any tenancy or other interest in the land of which it is in possession in favour of some other person, or has allowed any other person to use or occupy that land, the occupying department shall, for the purposes of the principal Act and this Act, be deemed to have continued in possession of the land, notwithstanding the interest therein of, or the use or occupation thereof by, such other person:

(d) the possession by an occupying department shall be deemed not to have been affected or prejudiced by reason of the land or any part thereof at any time ceasing or having ceased to be used for the purpose for which possession thereof was originally taken, or otherwise being or having been used for any other purpose:

(e) subsection (4) of section one of the principal Act shall not be construed as limiting the power of one Government department to transfer possession of land to another Government department during the continuance of the present war (c).

(2) A Government Department in possession of land under a lease or tenancy granted or created prior to the commencement of the present war shall have the like power of removing any building or other work which, for purposes connected with the present war, has been erected or constructed on, over, or under that land wholly or partially at the expense of the State as is conferred by section two (d) of the principal Act on an occupying department, and this power shall be exerciseable notwithstanding any provision of the lease or tenancy under which the land is held, and paragraph (b) of the first proviso to subsection (1) of section two of the principal Act shall not apply to any such provision (e).

(a) This paragraph, which related to s. 3 of the principal Act, was with that section repealed by S. L. R. A., 1927.

(b) The expression "Government Department" includes a competent naval or military authority acting under the Defence of the Realm Acts (s. 12 (5) of the 1916 Act, ante, p. 2748).

Note to Section 3.

(c) The sub-section referred to was repealed by S. L. R. A., 1927. As to the continuance of the war, see the Termination of the Present War (Definition) Act, 1918, and the Order in Council of August 10th, 1921, declaring the date of the termination of the war to be August 31st, 1921.

(d) This section was repealed by S. L. R. A., 1927.

(e) Repealed by S. L. R. A., 1927.

Consent under section six of the principal Act.

4.—(1) It is hereby declared that the consent—

(a) of a local authority under the proviso in subsection (1) of section six of the principal Act to the use of a railway or tramway across a roadway on the level being continued after the expiration of two years from the termination of the present war; and

(b) of the commission under subsection (3) of that section as to keeping a public highway closed beyond the expiration of twelve months after the termination of the present war, may be given at any time before the expiration of those two years or those twelve months as the case may be (a).

(2) If any person considers that the consent of a local authority under the said proviso to subsection (1) of section six (a) has been unreasonably withheld, he may appeal to the Minister of Transport whose decision shall be final and shall have effect as if it were a decision of the authority;

Provided that the Minister may, before considering any such appeal, require the appellant to deposit such sum, not exceeding ten pounds, to cover the costs of appeal as may be fixed by rules to be made by him.

(a) See s. 6 of the principal Act, ante, p. 2744. Words in italics repealed by S. L. R. A., 1927.

5 (a).—[Provisions as to retention of possession and acquisition of land belonging to railway companies, etc.]

(a) This section, like s. 13 of the principal Act to which it referred, was repealed by S. L. R. A., 1927.

Easements.

6. For the purposes of section one, two (a), three, ten, and thirteen of the principal Act (b) and for the purposes of this Act, the exercise or enjoyment of any easement or right over or in relation to land shall be deemed to be possession of that easement or right.

(a) Words in italics repealed by S. L. R. A., 1927.
(b) See these sections at pp. 2742, 2747 and, 2748 ante.

7 (a).—[Temporary continuation of existing byelaws as to ranges.]

(a) This section was repealed by S. L. R. A., 1927, its operation being spent.

Short title and construction.

8. This Act may be cited as the Defence of the Realm (Acquisition of Land) Act, 1920, and shall be construed as one with the principal Act, and that Act and this Act may be cited together as the Defence of the Realm (Acquisition of Land) Acts, 1916 and 1920.

THE WATER UNDERTAKINGS (MODIFICATION OF CHARGES) ACT, 1921.

(11 & 12 GEO. 5, c. 44.)

An Act to make provision for the modification of the charges which may be made in respect of water undertakings (a). [17th August, 1921.]

Modification of provisions affecting water charges.

1.—(1) Where on the application of any water undertakers (b) it appears to the Minister (b) that, for the purpose of meeting any increase in the cost and charges of and incidental to the carrying on of the undertaking attributable to circumstances arising since the fourth day of August, nineteen hundred and fourteen, which were beyond the control of, and could not have been reasonably avoided by, the undertakers, an order under this section should be made with regard to the undertaking, the Minister may, if he thinks fit, by order—

(a) provide for modifying any statutory (b) or other provision affecting or regulating charges to be made by the undertakers, and of any statutory or other provisions consequential thereon or supplemental thereto, in such manner and subject to such conditions as may be just and reasonable;

(b) provide for the modification of the provisions of any award or agreement which determine the price to be charged by the undertakers for the supply of water or for any fittings, materials or service in connection therewith:

Provided that no such modification shall be made except such as may be reasonably necessary for the purpose of meeting such increase, and that, where the undertakers are a company, no modification shall be made which, in the opinion of the Minister, would enable the company, with due care and management, to pay a dividend on the ordinary stock or shares of the undertaking in excess of the maximum rates prescribed for the undertaking or to make up the deficiency of any previous dividends which shall have fallen short of such rates (c).

(2) If at any time, on the application of the undertakers or a local authority (b), or, where the local authority are the undertakers, of twenty consumers, it appears to the Minister that the costs and charges of and incidental to the carrying on of the undertaking in respect of which an order has been made have substantially altered, the Minister may make an amending order revising the powers of charging, so, however, that the revised maximum charges shall not in any case be less than the statutory maximum charges applicable to the undertaking on the said fourth day of August, nineteen hundred and fourteen.

(3) An order under this section may—

(a) fix the date as from which the charges authorised by the order shall become operative, being a date not less than four weeks after the order is made;

(b) revoke, vary, or modify, in whole or in part, any order relating to a water undertaking made under the Statutory Undertakings (Temporary Increase of Charges) Act, 1918 (d);

8 & 9 Geo. 5, c. 34.

(c) contains such incidental, supplemental, and consequential provisions as may be necessary to give full effect to the order.

(a) Under the Statutory Undertakings (Temporary Increase of Charges) Act, 1918, 8 & 9 Geo. 5, c. 34, ante, p. 2749, an order might be made for the modification of any statutory provision regulating the charges to be made by the undertakers in relation to undertakings for (inter alia) the supply of water. Such an order was to be made, however, for such period during the continuance of the Act as might be thought just and reasonable. The Act was a temporary Act, and is now in force only as respects tramway undertakings. The present Act is not temporary, and there is no limit to the period during which an order made under it is to be in force. It will be noticed that under s. 1 (3) (b), such an order may revoke, alter, or modify any order made under the Act of 1918.

(c) See as to the amount of profit to be received by the undertakers when the waterworks are carried on for their benefit, the group of sections in the Waterworks Clauses Act, 1847, ss. 75–83.

(d) See note (a), ante, p. 2826.

Note to Section 1.

Procedure for making orders.

2.—(1) Before making an order under this Act the Minister shall require the applicants to serve notice of the application for the order upon any local authority affected (a), and to give, in terms approved by him, and in such manner as he may consider best adapted for informing any other persons affected, public notice of the application for the order, and as to the manner in which and the time within which the objections may be made, and as to the manner in which and the place where any documents submitted to the Minister in connection with the application may be inspected and copies thereof made and purchased, and shall consider any objection which may be duly made, and in the event of any objection being made and not withdrawn shall cause an inquiry to be held.

(2) On the making of an order under this Act, notice shall be given of the making of the order and the effect thereof to any local authority or persons who have objected to the application for an order under the preceding subsection, and if within four weeks from the date of such notice any such local authority, or, where a local authority are the undertakers, twenty consumers, being persons who have so objected as aforesaid, give notice in writing to the Minister that they object to the order, and the objection is not withdrawn, or if for any other reason the Minister thinks it desirable, the order shall be provisional only, and shall not have effect unless and until confirmed by Parliament, but in any other case the order shall have effect as if enacted in this Act (b).

(3) Rules may be made by the Minister with respect to applications and other proceedings under this Act, including the payments to be made by persons making applications or objections, the publication and service of advertisements and notices, the making of representations and objections, the holding of inquiries, and the cost of such inquiries, and with respect to such other matters of procedure as may be necessary, and the rules with respect to the holding of inquiries may apply the provisions of section seventy-two of the Local Government Act, 1894 (c).

56 & 57 Vict. c. 73.

(b) As to provisional orders under the Public Health Act, 1875, see s. 297 of that Act, ante, p. 631.

(c) The rules made under this sub-section, dated October 7th, 1921, will be found set out in Appendix II, post, p. 3909. They include rules for expenses of local inquiries which are adopted from s. 72 of the Local Government Act, 1894, which is set out and annotated at p. 1034, ante.

Interpretation.

3.—(1) For the purposes of this Act—

The expression "the Minister" means the Minister of Health;

The expression "water undertakers" means any local authority, joint board, company, body, or person authorised to supply water by any Act of Parliament or order having the force of an Act of Parliament;

The expression "statutory provision" includes provisions of any order having the force of an Act of Parliament;

The expression "local authority" means the mayor, aldermen, and commons of the city of London in common council assembled, the council of any county or borough (including a metropolitan borough) or urban or rural district, and, in relation to any water undertaking, means any such local authority the whole or any parts of whose area is within the limits of supply of the water undertakers.

Section 3.

(2) For the purpose of any Act of Parliament passed before or after the passing of this Act which refers directly or indirectly to a special Act conferring power on water undertakers, an order made under this Act shall be deemed to be a special Act.

Short title and extent.

4. This Act may be cited as the Water Undertakings (Modification of Charges) Act, 1921.

(2) This Act shall not extend to Scotland or Ireland.

THE SUMMER TIME ACT, 1922.

(12 & 13 Geo. 5, c. 22.)

An Act to provide for the time in Great Britain, Northern Ireland, the Channel Islands, and the Isle of Man being in advance of Greenwich mean time during a certain period of the year (a). [20th July, 1922.]

Advance of time during certain period.

1.—(1) The time for general purposes in Great Britain shall, during the period of summer time, be one hour in advance of Greenwich mean time.

(2) Wherever any reference to a point of time occurs in any enactment, Order in Council, order, regulation, rule, byelaw, deed, notice or other document whatsoever, the time referred to shall, during the period of summer time be deemed, subject as hereinafter provided, to be the time as fixed for general purposes by this Act.

(3) Nothing in this Act shall affect the use of Greenwich mean time for purposes of astronomy, meteorology, or navigation, or affect the construction of any document mentioning or referring to a point of time in connection with any of those purposes.

(a) This Act is printed as amended by the Summer Time Act, 1925 (15 & 16 Geo. 5, c. 64), which is not set out separately in this work. By that Act s. 3 (3) of the Act in the text was repealed and the Act made permanent, and the amendment in s. 3 (1) made. The effect of fixing Easter by the Easter Act, 1928 (18 & 19 Geo. 5, c. 35) for the first Sunday after the second Saturday in April will mean that as from the time when the Easter Act, 1928, is made operative by an Order in Council (which has not yet been issued) Summer Time will last from the day after the third Saturday in April till the day following the first Saturday in October.

The Act is printed as necessary for the interpretation of Acts, byelaws, deeds, notices, etc., see s. 1 (2).

Application to Northern Ireland, Channel Islands and Isle of Man.

2.—(1) This Act shall apply to Northern Ireland, the Channel Islands and the Isle of Man in like manner as it applies to Great Britain.

10 & 11 Geo. 5, c. 67.

(2) For the purposes of section six of the Government of Ireland Act, 1920, this Act in its application to Northern Ireland shall be deemed to be an Act passed before the appointed day.

Interpretation, short title and duration.

3.—(1) For the purposes of this Act, the period of summer time shall be taken to be the period beginning at two o'clock, Greenwich mean time, in the morning of the day next following the third Saturday in April, or, if that day is Easter Day, the day next following the second Saturday in April, and ending at two o'clock Greenwich mean time, in the morning of the day next following the [first Saturday in October.]

(2) This Act may be cited as the Summer Time Act, 1922.

(3) . . .

THE BREAD ACTS AMENDMENT ACT, 1922.

(12 & 13 Geo. 5, c. 28.)

An Act to amend the enactments relating to the provision of regulations for the making and sale of bread, and for preventing the adulteration of meal, flour, and bread (a). [20th July, 1922.]

Amendment of 3 Geo. 4, c. cvi., and 6 & 7 Will. 4, c. 37, so as to permit sale of self-raising flour.

1. Nothing in the Acts relating to the manufacture or sale of bread within or without the City of London and the liberties thereof shall be deemed to prohibit the addition to any flour of any ingredient or mixture for the purpose of making such flour self-raising or the addition to such self-raising flour of ingredients suitable for the making of cakes or puddings, or the sale or offer or exposure for sale of any flour to which any such ingredient or mixture has been added.

(a) There are two Acts relating to the manufacture and sale of bread. One is the London Bread Act, 1822, 3 Geo. 4, c. cvi., which applies only to the City of London and within ten miles of the Royal Exchange. The other is the Bread Act, 1836, 6 & 7 Wm. 4, c. 37, which is a general Act and applies to the whole of England outside the area of the former Act. Both of these Acts contain a provision in identical terms prohibiting the manufacture or mixing of flour with any ingredient or mixture whatever not being the real and genuine produce of the corn or grain ground. And it imposed penalties for breach of this provision. It was found that this enactment would apply so as to prevent the making or sale of self-raising flour and the present Act was passed to remove this restriction subject to the provisions of s. 2.

Power to make regulation prohibiting or restricting the use of prescribed ingredients. 7 Edw. 7, c. 32.

2. The power of the Minister of Health to make regulations under the Public Health (Regulations as to Food) Act, 1907 (a), shall include a power to make regulations prohibiting or restricting the use for the purpose aforesaid of any such ingredient or mixture as may be prescribed, and prescribing the descriptions under which any flour to which any such ingredient or mixture has been added may be sold.

(a) See this Act set out at p. 1098, ante, and notes thereto.

Saving of Sale of Food and Drugs Acts, 1875 to 1907.

3. Nothing in this Act shall prejudice or affect the operation of the Sale of Food and Drugs Acts, 1875 to 1907.

These Acts have now been repealed and consolidated in the Food and Drugs (adulteration) Act, 1928, post, p. 2948.

Scotland.

4. This Act shall apply to Scotland with the substitution for " the Minister of Health " of " the Scottish Board of Health."

Ireland.

5. This Act shall not extend to Ireland.

Short title.

6. This Act may be cited as the Bread Acts Amendment Act, 1922.

THE CELLULOID AND CINEMATOGRAPH FILM ACT, 1922.

(12 & 13 Geo. 5, c. 35.)

An Act to make better provision for the prevention of fire in premises where raw celluloid or cinematograph film is stored or used. [4th August, 1922.]

General safety provisions.

1.—(1) No premises shall be used for any purpose to which this Act applies (a)—

(a) unless the occupier has furnished to the local authority (b) in writing

Section 1.

a statement of his name, the address of the premises, and the nature of the business there carried on ;

(b) unless the premises are provided with such means of escape in case of fire as the local authority may reasonably require, and such means of escape are maintained in good condition and free from obstruction ;

(c) if the premises are situated underneath premises used for residential purposes ;

(d) if the premises are so situated that a fire occurring therein might interfere with the means of escape from the building of which they form part or from any adjoining building ;

(e) where the premises form part of a building, unless such part either—

(i) is separated from any other part of the building by fire-resisting partitions (including fire-resisting ceilings and floors) and fire-resisting self-closing doors ; or

(ii) is so situated and constructed that a fire occurring therein is not likely to spread to other parts of the building, and its use for the purposes to which this Act applies is sanctioned in writing by the local authority and any conditions attached to such sanction are complied with ;

(f) unless the regulations set out in the First Schedule to this Act are duly observed ;

(g) unless any regulations are duly observed which may be made by the Secretary of State (c) with respect to the use upon the premises of any cinematograph or other similar apparatus.

(2) In the case of premises used for any purpose to which this Act applies at the date of the commencement of this Act (d), the provisions of this section requiring the occupier to furnish a statement to the local authority shall take effect at the expiration of two months after the commencement of this Act, and the provisions of this section requiring means of escape in case of fire to be provided shall not take effect until the expiration of such period as may be reasonably necessary for enabling the occupier to comply with any requirements of the local authority in that respect.

(3) Any person aggrieved by any requirement of a local authority, or the refusal of the local authority to grant any sanction, or by the conditions attached to any such sanction, may within, seven days after being notified of such requirement, refusal or conditions, appeal to a court of summary jurisdiction (e), provided that he has given not less than twenty-four hours notice in writing of such appeal and of the grounds thereof to the local authority, and the court on any such appeal may make such order as appears to the court to be just, including any order for the payment of costs.

(4) The Secretary of State may by order, made in accordance with the provisions contained in the Second Schedule to this Act—

(a) make regulations with respect to the use of any cinematograph or similar apparatus upon any premises used for any purpose to which this Act applies (f) ; and

(b) modify or add to the regulations set out in the First Schedule to this Act, and those regulations shall thereupon have effect as so modified or added to.

An order made under this section may apply either generally, or to such classes or descriptions of premises as may be mentioned in the order.

(a) See s. 2, post, p. 2831.

(b) See the definition in s. 9, post, p. 2833.

(c) See sub-s. (4), and the Order of the Secretary of State (S. R. & O., 1924, No. 403) made thereunder.

Note to Section 1.

(d) See s. 11 (1), post, p. 2833.
(e) As to what is a court of summary jurisdiction, see the note in Vol I., p. 38, ante.
(f) See the Order (S. R. & O., 1924, No. 403) made hereunder.

Purposes to which the Act applies.

2. The purposes to which this Act applies are—

(1) the keeping or storing of raw celluloid—

(a) in quantities exceeding at any one time one hundredweight; or

(b) in smaller quantities unless kept (except when required to be exposed for the purpose of the work carried on in the premises) in a properly closed metal box or case; and

(2) the keeping or storing of cinematograph film—

(a) in quantities exceeding at any one time twenty reels, or eighty pounds in weight; or

(b) in smaller quantities unless each reel is kept (except when required to be exposed for the purpose of the work carried on in the premises) in a separate and properly closed metal box or case:

Provided that—

(i) for the purposes of this Act, cinematograph film shall be deemed to be kept in any premises where it is temporarily deposited for the purpose of examination, cleaning, packing, re-winding or repair, but celluloid or cinematograph film shall not be deemed to be kept or stored in any premises where it is temporarily deposited whilst in the course of delivery, conveyance or transport; and

(ii) the provisions of this Act shall not, except in the cases referred to in paragraphs (c), (d) and (e) of sub-section (1) of section one thereof, apply to premises to which the Factory and Workshop Acts, 1901 to 1920, apply (a); and

(iii) the provisions of this Act shall not apply to premises licensed in accordance with the provisions of the Cinematograph Act, 1909 (b). 9 Edw. 7, c. 30.

(a) See the Factories Act, 1901, ss. 149, 150, ante, pp. 2646—2648.
(b) This Act is the 9 Edw. 7, c. 30. It provides that any exhibition of pictures, etc. by means of a cinematograph for the purposes of which imflammable films are used, shall not be given unless the regulations made by the Secretary of State are complied with or elsewhere than on premises licensed for the purpose by the council of a county or county borough. A licence of the Board of Trade is also necessary for the exhibitor (Cinematograph Films Act, 1927 (17 & 18 Geo. 5, c. 29), s. 20).

Penalties for infringement of foregoing provisions.

3.—(1) In the event of any contravention in or in connection with any premises of the foregoing provisions of this Act, the occupier shall be liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding fifty pounds and, in the case of a continuing offence, to a further fine not exceeding ten pounds for each day on which the offence is continued after conviction thereof.

(2) In the event of the contravention by any person employed on any premises of any regulation contained in the First Schedule to this Act or of any regulation made under this Act, he shall be liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding five pounds.

(3) The provisions of section one hundred and forty-one of the Factory and Workshop Act, 1901 (which relates to the power of an occupier to exempt himself from fine on the conviction of the actual offender), shall apply to offences under this Act as it applies to offences under that Act (a). 1 Edw. 7, c. 22.

(a) See the section referred to, ante, p. 2643.

Execution of Act by local authorities.

4.—(1) It shall be the duty of local authorities (a) to see that the provisions of this Act are duly complied with.

(2) The expenses incurred by a local authority in the execution of their powers under this Act shall be defrayed in the same manner as expenses incurred in the administration of the Public Health Acts, 1875 to 1908 (b).

(3) The occupier of premises in respect of which a statement is required (c) to be furnished to the local authority shall pay to the local authority when furnishing such statement and on the first day of January of every year thereafter, so long as the premises are used for any purpose to which this Act applies, such fees as the Secretary of State may prescribe (d).

(a) For the definition of local authority see s. 9, post, p. 2833.

(b) In urban districts the expenses will be defrayed out of the general rate fund or general rate, as to which see the P. H. A., 1875, s. 207, ante, p. 495; in rural districts as general expenses, s. 229, ibid, ante, p. 514, and the R. & V. Act, 1925, ante, p. 1633.

(c) See s. 1 (1) (a), ante, p. 2829.

(d) These fees are prescribed by Order (S. R. & O., 1922, No. 1076).

Power of entry.

5.—(1) An officer duly authorised by a local authority may, at all reasonable times, enter and inspect any premises which are used, or which such officer has reasonable cause to believe are used, wholly or in part for any purpose to which this Act applies.

(2) Every such officer as aforesaid shall be furnished with a certificate of his authorisation by the local authority and when visiting any such premises as aforesaid shall, if so required, produce the said certificate to the occupier of the premises (a).

(a) Compare with this provision that contained in 9 Edw. 7, c. 30, s. 4.

Power to take samples.

6. An officer duly authorised by a local authority may, at any time, take for analysis sufficient samples of any material which he suspects to be or to contain celluloid.

Obstruction of officers.

7. If any person refuses to permit any officer authorised under this Act to enter or inspect any premises, or hinders or obstructs (a) any such officer in the execution of his duty under this Act, or refuses to allow any officer to take samples in pursuance of the last preceding section or to give him facilities for the purpose, that person shall be liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding twenty pounds.

(a) As to what may amount to obstruction see note (a) to P. H. A., 1875, s. 306, ante, p. 643.

Power of county court to modify agreements and to apportion expenses.

8.—(1) If any occupier of premises is prevented by any agreement from carrying out any structural alterations which are necessary to enable him to comply with the provisions of this Act, and is unable to obtain the consent to those alterations of the person whose consent is necessary under the agreement, he may apply, in accordance with rules of court, to the county court, and the court, after hearing the parties and any witnesses whom they may desire to call, may make such an order setting aside or modifying the terms of the agreement as the court considers just and equitable in the circumstances of the case.

(2) Where in any premises any structural or other alterations are required in order to comply with the provisions of this Act and the occupier alleges that the whole or part of the expense of the alterations ought to be borne by the owner, the occupier may apply, in accordance with rules of court, to the county court, and the court, after hearing the parties and any witnesses whom they may desire to call, may make such order concerning the expenses or their apportionment as the court considers just and equitable in the circumstances of the case, regard being had to the terms of any contract between the parties, or in the alternative the court may, at the request of the occupier, determine the lease (a). Section 8.

(a) Compare the somewhat similar provisions in the Factory Act, 1901, s. 14 (4), ante p.2625.

9. For the purposes of this Act— Definitions

The expression "celluloid" means and includes the substances known as celluloid and xylonite and other similar substances, containing nitrated cellulose or other nitrated products, but does not include any substances which are explosives within the meaning of the Explosives Act, 1875: 38 & 39 Vict. c. 17.

The expression "raw celluloid" means—

(a) celluloid which has not been subjected to any process of manufacture; and

(b) celluloid scrap or waste:

The expression "cinematograph film" means any film containing celluloid which is intended for use in a cinematograph or any similar apparatus:

The expression "local authority" means county borough councils, borough councils, urban district councils and rural district councils.

10. [Application to Scotland and Ireland].

11.—(1) This Act may be cited as the Celluloid and Cinematograph Film Act, 1922, and shall come into operation on the first day of October, nineteen hundred and twenty-two. Short title, commencement, &c.

(2) This Act shall not apply to the administrative county of London or to the city and royal burgh of Glasgow.

(3) The Secretary of State may by order direct that any provisions of the Liverpool Corporation Act, 1921, relating to the keeping, storing or manipulation of celluloid and cinematograph films shall cease to have effect as from such date as may be fixed by the order, but so long as those provisions continue to have effect this Act shall not apply to the city of Liverpool. 11 & 12 Geo. 5, c. lxxiv

SCHEDULES.

FIRST SCHEDULE.

Sections 1 and 3.

PART I.

RAW CELLULOID STORES.

The following regulation shall be observed in or in connection with premises where raw celluloid is kept or stored:—

All such celluloid shall be kept or stored in a fire-resisting store-room and, subject to the regulations applying to such store-rooms.

PART II.

PREMISES WHERE CINEMATOGRAPH FILM IS KEPT OR STORED.

The following regulations shall be observed in or in connection with premises where cinematograph film is kept stored or manipulated:—

1. All stock except when actually being used or manipulated shall be kept either in a fire-resisting store-room and subject to the regulations applying to such store-rooms, or in fire-resisting receptacles which shall not be used for any other purpose and shall be plainly marked "Film."

Sched. I.

2. Every reel of film shall, except when required to be exposed for the purposes of the work carried on in the premises, be kept in a separate and properly closed metal box.

3. Not more than 10 reels or 40 pounds of film shall be exposed at any one time.

4. The following provisions shall apply to every room used—

(a) for the storing, or

(b) for the examination, cleaning, packing, re-winding or repair of film :—

(i) the room shall be used for no other purpose ;

(ii) the room shall be kept properly ventilated ;

(iii) adequate means of extinguishing fire, having regard to the amount of film on the premises, shall be kept constantly provided and readily available ;

(iv) the furniture and apparatus shall be so arranged as to afford free egress to persons in the room in the event of fire ;

(v) no open light or fire shall be allowed ;

(vi) the fittings shall, so far as is practicable, be of non-inflammable or fire-resisting material ;

(vii) the doors shall be self-closing, and shall, except in the case of sliding doors, be so constructed as to open outwards ;

(viii) no person shall smoke in or take matches into the room ;

(ix) there shall be kept posted up in large characters in the room—

(a) a printed copy of Parts II. and III. of this Schedule ;

(b) full instructions as to the action to be taken in case of fire ; and

(c) full directions as to the means of escape from the room in case of fire.

5. All celluloid waste and scrap on the premises shall be collected at frequent intervals and placed either in a fire-resisting store-room, or in a strong metal receptacle fitted with a hinged lid and marked "Celluloid Waste."

PART III.

FIRE-RESISTING STORE-ROOMS.

The following regulations shall apply to fire-resisting store-rooms :—

1. The store-room shall be constructed of fire-resisting material in such manner as to prevent as far as is reasonably practicable any fire occurring in the store-room from spreading to other parts of the premises or to other premises, and any fire occurring outside the store-room from reaching the contents thereof.

2. The store-room shall be properly ventilated.

3. The fittings of the store-room shall, so far as is practicable, be of non-inflammable or fire-resisting material.

4. Adequate means of extinguishing fire shall be kept constantly provided and readily available.

5. No open light and no means of heating shall be allowed in the store-room.

6. If electric light is used, all conductors and apparatus shall be so constructed, installed, protected, worked and maintained as to prevent danger. Vacuum-type lamps only shall be used, and shall be in fixed positions and fitted with substantial outer protecting globes.

7. No person shall smoke in or take matches into the store-room.

8. The doors of the store-room shall be self-closing and shall be kept securely locked, except when articles are being placed therein or removed therefrom.

9. The store-room shall not be used for any purpose other than the keeping of celluloid or cinematograph film, and shall be clearly marked "Celluloid" or "Film."

10. Not more than one ton of celluloid and not more than five hundred and sixty reels or one ton of cinematograph film shall be kept in one store-room :

Provided that, where a store-room is divided into separate compartments by separate fire-resisting partitions without any openings therein, each such compartment may, for the purposes of this provision, be regarded as a separate store-room.

11. When both celluloid and cinematograph film are stored in one store-room the aggregate quantity therein shall, at no time, exceed one ton.

Sched. II.

SECOND SCHEDULE.

Section 1.

PROCEDURE FOR MAKING ORDERS, &c.

1. Before the Secretary of State makes any order, he shall publish, in such manner as he may think best adapted for informing persons affected, notice of the proposal to make the order, and of the place where copies of the draft order may be obtained, and of the time (which shall be not less than twenty-one days) within which any objection made with respect to the draft order by or on behalf of persons affected must be sent to the Secretary of State.

2. Every objection must be in writing and state—

(a) the draft order or portions of the draft order objected to;

(b) the specific grounds of objection; and

(c) the omissions, additions, or modifications asked for.

3. The Secretary of State shall consider any objection, made by or on behalf of any persons appearing to him to be affected, which is sent to him within the required time, and he may, if he thinks fit, amend the draft order, and shall then cause the amended draft to be dealt with in like manner as an original draft.

4. Where the majority of the occupiers of the premises affected by the proposed order dispute the reasonableness of the requirements in the proposed order, and the Secretary of State does not amend or withdraw the draft order, he shall, before making the order, direct an inquiry to be held in the manner hereinafter provided. The Secretary of State may also direct an inquiry to be held in regard to any objection, though not made by the majority of the occupiers, if he thinks fit.

5. The Secretary of State may appoint a competent person to hold an inquiry with regard to any draft order, and to report to him thereon.

6. The inquiry shall be held in public, and any person who, in the opinion of the person holding the inquiry, is affected by the draft order, may appear at the inquiry either in person or by counsel, solicitor, or agent.

7. The witnesses on the inquiry may, if the person holding it thinks fit, be examined on oath.

8. Subject as aforesaid, the inquiry and all proceedings preliminary and incidental thereto shall be conducted in accordance with rules made by the Secretary of State.

9. The fee to be paid to the person holding the inquiry shall be such as the Secretary of State may direct.

10. The order shall be laid as soon as possible before both Houses of Parliament, and, if either House within the next forty days after the order has been laid before that House resolve that all or any of the provisions of the order ought to be annulled, the order shall, after the date of the resolution, be of no effect, without prejudice to the validity of anything done in the meantime thereunder or to the making of any new order. If any of the provisions of an order are annulled, the Secretary of State may, if he thinks fit, withdraw the whole order.

11. Notice of any order having been made and of the place where copies of them can be purchased shall be published in the London and Edinburgh Gazettes.

THE ELECTRICITY (SUPPLY) ACT, 1922 (a).

(12 & 13 GEO. 5, c. 46.)

An Act to amend the law with respect to the supply of electricity.

[4th August, 1922.]

Power of authorities to borrow.

1.—(1) For the purposes hereinafter mentioned, a joint electricity authority may, with the consent of the Electricity Commissioners, and subject to regulations to be made by the Minister of Transport with the approval of the Treasury, borrow money, in such manner and subject to such provisions as to the repayment thereof, and with such powers as to reborrowing for the purpose of paying off a loan previously raised, as may be prescribed by the regulations, and such

Section 1. regulations may empower a joint electricity authority to borrow temporarily, to issue bonds and to make arrangements with bankers, and may apply with or without modifications any enactments relating to borrowing by local authorities, including provisions as to the enforcement of the security by the appointment of a receiver or otherwise.

(2) Such powers of borrowing as aforesaid may be exercised for all or any of the following purposes :—

9 & 10 Geo. 5, c. 100.

(a) for the purpose of the payment of the purchase price of any generating station or main transmission line transferred to, acquired by, or vested in a joint electricity authority under the Electricity (Supply) Act, 1919 (b) (hereinafter referred to as "the principal Act"), or of any undertaking or part of an undertaking acquired by the authority under the principal Act ;

(b) for the purpose of any other payment or of any permanent work or other thing which the authority are authorised to execute or do, the cost of which ought, in the opinion of the Electricity Commissioners, to be spread over a term of years (including the payment of interest on money borrowed for capital expenditure whilst the expenditure remains unremunerative, but in no case for a period of more than five years from the commencement of the financial year next after that in which such expenditure commences to be incurred, and the payment of any sum payable under subsection (3) of section eighteen of the principal Act (c)) ;

(c) for the purpose of providing working capital.

(3) Any money borrowed under this section, and the interest thereon, may be charged on the undertaking and all the revenues of the joint electricity authority, or on any specific property forming part of that undertaking, and shall be repaid within such period not exceeding sixty years as the Electricity Commissioners may determine.

(4) A scheme constituting a joint electricity authority shall fix with reference to the estimated capital expenditure of the authority the maximum amount which may be borrowed by the authority, and the authority shall not have power to borrow any sums in excess of the amount so fixed, otherwise than for the purpose of paying off loans previously raised, unless authorised by an order of the Electricity Commissioners confirmed by the Minister and such order shall be provisional only and shall not come into force unless confirmed by Parliament.

This Act for the most part amends the provisions of the 1919 Act.

(b) See this Act, at p. 2782, ante.

(c) See this sub-section at p. 2793, ante.

Sinking fund for new works.

2. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in any Act, whether public general or local and personal, it shall be lawful for the annual provision required to be made by a joint electricity authority or by a local authority for the repayment of money borrowed after the passing of this Act for any of the purposes of the Electricity Supply Acts, 1882 to 1919 (a), or of this Act, to be suspended whilst the expenditure out of such moneys remains unremunerative, for such period and subject to such conditions as the Electricity Commissioners or other authority by whom the borrowing is sanctioned may determine :

Provided that such suspension shall not be for a longer period than five years from the commencement of the financial year next after that in which such expenditure commences to be incurred.

(a) I.e. the Electric Lighting Act, 1882, ante, p. 2437, the Electric Lighting Act, 1888, ante, p. 2495, the Electric Lighting Act, 1909, ante, p. 2695, and the Electricity (Supply) Act, 1919, ante, p. 2782.

Power to authorise issue of stock.

3.—(1) The Electricity Commissioners may, for the purpose of enabling a joint electricity authority to raise money which they are authorised to borrow under this Act, authorise the authority to issue stock bearing interest at such rate as the authority with the consent of the Electricity Commissioners may determine.

(2) All such stock, and interest thereon, shall be charged on the undertaking and all the revenues of the joint electricity authority.

(3) Subject to the provisions of this Act, any stock created by a joint electricity authority under the powers of this Act shall be issued, transferred, dealt with, and redeemed according to regulations made by the Electricity Commissioners, and any such regulations (a) may apply for the purpose of this section, with or without modifications, any provisions of the Local Loans Act, 1875 (b), the Public Health Acts Amendment Act, 1890 (c), and the Acts amending those Acts, and of any Act relating to stock issued by any local authority(d).

38 & 39 Vict. c. 83.
53 & 54 Vict. c. 59.

(a) See the Joint Electricity Authorities Stock Regulations, 1927 (S. R. & O., 1927, No. 433).

(b) See this Act at p. 2343, ante.

(c) See the relevant part (Part V.) of this Act, at p. 914, ante.

(d) See Public Authorities and Bodies (Loans) Act, 1916, as amended by s. 8, Housing (Additional Powers) Act, 1919, ante, p. 1235.

Power to discharge purchase price by issue of stock, &c.

4. A joint electricity authority may, with the consent of the authorised undertakers concerned, discharge the whole or any part of the purchase price payable under the principal Act or this Act (otherwise than by way of annuity) to any authorised undertakers in respect of any undertaking or part thereof, or any generating station or main transmission line transferred to or acquired by the authority under the principal Act, by the issue to, or the creation in favour of, the undertakers of such amount of stock or other securities as may be agreed upon, or determined in manner hereinafter provided, to be equivalent in value to the whole or part of the purchase price in respect of which the stock or other securities are issued or created, and if any difference arises as to the amount of stock or other securities which is so equivalent in value the difference shall be determined by an independent financial expert agreed between the parties or, in default of agreement, appointed by the Treasury.

Power of undertakers, &c. to give financial assistance.

5.—(1) Any authorised undertakers whose area of supply is wholly or partly within the district of any joint electricity authority, and any local authority, company, or person receiving or intending to receive a supply of electricity from the joint electricity authority, and the council of any county or any borough or county district having a population according to the last published census returns for the time being of not less than fifty thousand wholly or partly within the district of the joint electricity authority, shall have power—

(a) to lend any money to the joint electricity authority which the authority is authorised to borrow ; or

(b) to subscribe for any securities issued by the joint electricity authority for the purpose of raising such money ; or

(c) to guarantee or join in guaranteeing the payment of interest on any money borrowed by the joint electricity authority or on any securities issued by that authority ; on such terms (including the payment of consideration for the assistance

Section 5. given) and subject to such conditions, as the authority, company, or person giving such financial assistance may think fit:

Provided that, in the case of the council of a county or borough or county district, whether or not the council are authorised undertakers, or receive or intend to receive a supply of electricity from the joint electricity authority, such powers as aforesaid shall not be exercised (except in the case of the London County Council) without the consent of the Minister of Health:

Provided also that nothing in this section shall authorise the raising of any money or the giving of any guarantee by any such council as aforesaid which would involve the council in an annual liability exceeding—

(a) in cases where the council are not authorised undertakers, the amount which would be produced by a rate of one penny in the pound; such amount to be estimated for the purposes of this section in such manner as may be determined by the Minister of Health; or

(b) in cases where the council are authorised undertakers, the estimated annual amount of any capital charges from which the council will be relieved by reason of taking a supply in bulk from the joint electricity authority; such estimated amount to be determined by the Electricity Commissioners, whose decision shall be final.

(2) The raising of money for the purpose of so lending or subscribing for securities shall be a purpose for which a council, being authorised undertakers, may borrow under the Electricity (Supply) Acts, 1882 to 1919 (a), and for which a council, not being authorised undertakers, may borrow—

51 & 52 Vict. c. 41. (a) in the case of a council of a county, under the Local Government Act, 1888;

(b) in the case of the council of a metropolitan borough, under the Metropolis Management Acts, 1855 to 1893; and

38 & 39 Vict. c. 55. (c) in the case of the council of a municipal borough or county district, under the Public Health Act, 1875 (b); and any money payable by such council under any such guarantee, shall be treated as expenses in the carrying of the said Acts into execution respectively, and in the case of a council of a county shall, if the Minister of Health so directs, be treated as expenses for special county purposes charged on the part of the county within the district of the joint electricity authority.

9 Edw. 7, c. 34. Section twenty-one of the Electric Lighting Act, 1909 (c), shall apply to money borrowed by a council under this section as it applies to money borrowed by a local authority under the Electric Lighting Acts, and accordingly money so borrowed under this section shall not be reckoned as part of the total debt of the council for the purpose of any limitation on borrowing under the enactments relating to borrowing by the council.

(3) Any company, association, or body of persons may exercise any such power as aforesaid, notwithstanding anything contained in any Act, order, or instrument by or under which it is constituted or regulated, and may apply any of their funds for the purpose of lending any such money, subscribing for any such securities, or fulfilling any such guarantee, and may borrow for the purpose of making any such loans or subscriptions.

(4) A scheme under the principal Act constituting a joint electricity authority or other body for the improvement of the organisation of the supply of electricity in any electricity district may include provisions authorising or requiring authorised undertakers, and authorising companies and other bodies represented, on the authority or body to contribute towards any administrative expenses of the authority or body.

62 & 63 Vict. c. 19. (5) Any authorised undertakers may exercise such powers as aforesaid, notwithstanding anything in section three (d) of the schedule to the Electric Lighting (Clauses) Act, 1899, as incorporated in any order or special Act applying to them or any similar provisions contained in any such order or special Act.

(6) This section shall apply in the case of the City of London as if the City of London were a county and the common council of the city the council thereof, and as if the raising of money for the purpose of lending or subscribing to securities under this section were a purpose for which the common council may borrow under and in accordance with the City of London Sewers Acts, 1848 to 1897.

(a) See note (a) under s. 2 of this Act at p. 2837, ante.
(b) See ss. 233 et seq. of P. H. Act, 1875, ante, p. 519.
(d) See this section at p. 2571, ante.

6. Any authorised undertakers may lease to a joint electricity authority and a joint electricity authority may take a lease from any authorised undertakers of the whole or any part of their undertaking.

Power of authorised undertakers to lease undertaking to joint electricity authority.

Any such lease shall be subject to the approval of the Electricity Commissioners, and, subject thereto, may be, with or without the option of purchase by the authority of the undertaking or any part thereof, leased thereby and may be made to and taken by the authority for such period on such terms and conditions including the vesting in the authority of any rights, powers, and obligations of the transferring undertakers under any contract or agreement entered into by such undertakers and relating to the supply of electricity as may be agreed upon between the authority and the transferring undertakers.

7.—(1) The period of two years mentioned in section twenty-nine of the principal Act (a) shall be deemed to have extended to the thirty-first day of March, nineteen hundred and twenty-two, and the advances made to the Commissioners under that section shall be repaid, with interest as therein provided, by instalments before the thirty-first day of March, nineteen hundred and twenty-five, so that not more than two-thirds thereof shall be outstanding on the thirty-first day of March, nineteen hundred and twenty-three, and not more than one-third thereof shall be outstanding on the thirty-first day of March, nineteen hundred and twenty-four.

Expenses of Electricity Commissioners.

(2) The Electricity Commissioners may, during the financial year current at the passing of this Act, make the apportionment among and demand upon the joint electricity authorities and authorised undertakers provided for by the said section, and such apportionment shall be made in accordance with the number of units of electricity generated by each joint electricity authority or authorised undertaker within Great Britain in the year ending the thirty-first day of December, nineteen hundred and twenty-one; and in any case where an authorised undertaker obtained a supply from any source other than the joint electricity authority or an authorised undertaker the number of units of electricity so obtained by such authorised undertaker shall be deemed to have been generated by that authorised undertaker. Any apportionment under the said section twenty-nine subsequent to the financial year current at the passing of this Act shall (notwithstanding anything to the contrary in the principal Act) be made in accordance with the number of units of electricity sold by each joint electricity authority or authorised undertaker within Great Britain in the year ending the thirty-first day of December next preceding that for which the apportionment is made. The expression " units of electricity sold " means all units generated or purchased by a joint electricity authority or authorised undertaker less (a) those used in the generating station, (b) those lost in transmission or distribution, and (c) those sold in bulk to authorised undertakers (b).

Section 7.

(3) Every such joint electricity authority and authorised undertaker shall furnish to the Electricity Commissioners not later than the first day of March in each year a statement of the number of units so sold by them, and in the event of any such authority or undertaker failing to supply such particulars on or before that date the Electricity Commissioners may proceed with the apportionment, and for that purpose may make any necessary estimates.

(4) The apportionment when made shall be conclusive for all purposes:

Provided that, if it subsequently appears to the Electricity Commissioners that for any reason the apportionment for any year ought to be revised, they may revise the apportionment, and when determining the apportionment in any subsequent year make such adjustments as may be necessary to give effect to such revision.

(5) If any joint electricity authority or authorised undertaker fail to pay to the Electricity Commissioners the sum apportioned to them within two months after receiving the demand therefor, interest at the rate of six per centum per annum shall be payable on the amount demanded from the date of demand to the date of payment.

(6) The Electricity Commissioners may, in estimating their expenditure for the purposes of sub-section (1) of section twenty-nine (c) of the principal Act, include a reasonable sum in order to provide a working balance for the year.

(7) Any sums due from any joint electricity authority or authorised undertaker under section twenty-nine (a) of the principal Act, as amended by this section, shall be recoverable by the Electricity Commissioners summarily as a civil debt.

(a) See this section at p. 2799, ante.

(b) The expenses of the Commissioners in respect of standardisation under s. 9 of the 1926 Act, post, p. 2916, will not be apportioned in the manner provided by this section (s. 9 (3) Electricity (Supply) Act, 1926).

(c) See this sub-section at p. 2799, ante.

Method of payment of purchase price payable to local authorities.

8. The consideration payable to a local authority in respect of the transfer of the whole or any part of their undertaking, either in pursuance of a scheme constituting a joint electricity authority or in pursuance of section thirteen of the principal Act, may, in the option of the local authority, be either one or more terminable annuities, or a capital sum, or any other form of payment approved by the Electricity Commissioners.

Use of main transmission lines by agreement.

9. A joint electricity authority may, by agreement with any authorised undertakers or other persons, use, subject in the case of authorised undertakers to the Acts and Orders relating to the undertaking, any main transmission line of those undertakers or persons for such time and upon such terms as may be agreed.

Disposal of stations and works not required.

10. A joint electricity authority may, with the consent of the Electricity Commissioners, dispose of any generating station, land, or other works or property which may appear to them to be no longer required for the purposes of their undertaking, subject, as respects any land which is subject to any right of pre-emption, to that right:

Provided that, where the generating station contains plant which is the property of the former owners of the generating station, the Electricity Commissioners shall, as a condition of granting their consent to the disposal of the generating station, require such provision to be made by the joint electricity authority as the Electricity Commissioners consider necessary to safeguard the rights of such former owners.

Power to continue wayleaves.

11. Where any joint electricity authority or authorised undertakers have under any terminable agreement or arrangement, whether made before or after the passing of this Act, placed above or below ground any electric line which could have been so placed under the provisions of section twenty-two of the principal Act (a), the joint electricity authority or authorised undertakers may, notwithstanding the termination of such agreement or arrangement, retain the line in position, on the same terms and subject to the same conditions as were previously applicable thereto, unless and until objection is made by the owner or occupier of any land over or under which it is placed, but, in the event of any such objection being made, the line shall only be retained if the provisions of section twenty-two of the principal Act (a) regulating the placing of a new line are complied with, and subject to the provisions of that section applicable to lines placed across land in pursuance of that section:

Provided that the joint electricity authority or authorised undertakers may, at any time whilst a line is so retained, apply to the Minister of Transport for a revision of the said terms and conditions, in which event the provisions of section twenty-two of the principal Act (a) shall apply as if the retention of the line in position were the placing of an electric line across land, and the authority or undertakers shall not be required to remove the line pending the decision upon such application.

(a) See this section at p. 2795, ante.

Power to make agreements as to working of generating stations.

12. Where a generating station or main transmission line becomes transferred to or is acquired by a joint electricity authority under the principal Act (a), the authority may, subject to the approval of the Electricity Commissioners, agree with the former owner thereof that such owner shall work and maintain the same on behalf of the authority for such period and on such terms as may be agreed between them.

(a) See this Act at p. 2782, ante.

Conditions under which restriction on generating stations and obligation to take supply from are not to apply.

13. The Electricity Commissioners shall not—

(a) refuse, under section eleven of the principal Act (a), their consent to the establishment of a new, or the extension of an existing, generating station by any authorised undertakers if it is proved to the satisfaction of the Electricity Commissioners that, having regard to all the circumstances of the case, the undertakers are or will, if the consent be given, be in a position to give a supply of electricity adequate in quantity and regularity to meet present and prospective demands of their consumers at a cost not greater than that at which they could give a supply if they obtained a supply of electricity from some other available source designated by the Electricity Commissioners; or

(b) require under section nineteen of the principal Act (b) any authorised undertakers to enter into an agreement for taking a supply of electricity from some other specified undertakers if it is proved to the satisfaction of the Electricity Commissioners that, having regard to all the circumstances of the case, including the duration of the period during which the supply is taken, and the estimated financial results likely to be obtained during that period, the undertakers would, if they obtained a supply of electricity from some other source, be in a position to give a supply of electricity adequate in quantity and regularity to meet the present and prospective demands of their consumers at a cost not greater than that at which they could give such a supply if they obtained the supply from those specified undertakers; unless the Electricity Commissioners determine that such refusal or requirement is necessary in the interest of the general supply of electricity in the district whether provisionally or finally determined under the principal Act (c).

(a) See this section at p. 2786, ante

(b) See this section at p. 2793, ante.

(c) By s. 18 (2) of the Electricity (Supply) Act, 1926, post, p. 2922, it will in future be necessary also for the Minister or the Commissioners to have regard to the provisions of that Act and the effect of any scheme or proposed scheme thereunder in determining whether to give or withhold consent or approval to any application by an authorised undertaker requiring such consent or approval.

Suspension of powers of purchase of undertakings.

14 (a).—(1) The Electricity Commissioners by an order establishing a joint electricity authority or a special order may, as regards any undertaking or part of an undertaking of any authorised undertakers, suspend any powers of a joint electricity authority or the London County Council or any local authority relating to the purchase of such undertaking or part thereof for such period and on such conditions (if any) as the Electricity Commissioners may think fit, and may for that purpose amend the provisions of any Act or order relating to such undertaking:

Provided that no such powers shall be suspended under the provisions of this section except with the consent of the authority or authorities in whom the said powers are vested.

(2) Where under the powers of this section the Electricity Commissioners suspend any powers of purchase relating to the undertaking of any authorised undertakers or any part thereof, they may make provision as to the relation between the prices which may be charged for electricity and the dividends to be paid by such undertakers.

(a) By s. 41, Electricity (Supply) Act, 1926, post, p. 2933, power is given to alter by agreement terms of purchase of undertakings. Quære whether under that section a suspension can be agreed between the parties in lieu of obtaining an order under this section.

Mode of exercise of powers by authorities.

15. The powers and duties as to the generation and supply of electricity conferred and imposed by or under the principal Act (a) or this Act on joint electricity authorities may be exercised and performed by any such authority either by themselves or, if so authorised by the order establishing that authority or by special order, through any authorised undertakers; and, where any such authority act through any such undertakers, the undertakers shall have, to such extent as may be provided by such order as aforesaid, the powers and duties of the authority under the principal Act and this Act.

(a) See this Act at p. 2782, ante.

Limitation on powers of joint electricity authorities in areas of power companies.

16.—(1) Subsection (1) of section twelve (a) (Powers of joint electricity authorities in respect of the supply of electricity) of the principal Act shall have effect as if—

(a) the words from "except" in paragraph (b) of that subsection to the end of that paragraph were omitted therefrom;

(b) the words "or power company" were omitted from the proviso to that subsection in each place where those words occur; and

(c) the following proviso were inserted at the end of that subsection:

> Provided that, if in any particular part of the area of supply of a power company, the power company are not willing and in a position to supply electricity to any local authority, company, or person, who is prepared to enter into a binding contract with that power company to continue to receive and pay for a supply of electricity upon such terms and conditions (including the payment of a minimum annual sum) as will, in the opinion of the Electricity Commissioners, afford an adequate return to the power company and is also (in the case of a company or person) prepared to give to the power company (if required by them so to do) security for the payment of all sums which may become due to the power company under the contract, then and in such case the Electricity Commissioners may, by special order under section twenty-six of the principal Act (b), authorise a joint electricity authority to supply electricity in that particular part of the area of supply of the power company without the consent of the power company. In determining what terms and conditions will afford an adequate return to the power company, the Commissioners shall have regard to the following amongst other considerations:

(i) The period for which the authority, company or person requiring the supply guarantees to take the supply;

(ii) The amount of electricity and the maximum power required;

(iii) The hours during which the power company can be called upon to give the supply;

(iv) The capital expenditure in connection with the supply; and

(v) To what extent capital expended in connection with the supply may become unproductive to the power company upon the discontinuance of the supply.

(a) See this subsection at p. 2787, ante.
(b) See this section at p. 2799, ante.

Special provisions as to power companies.

17.—(1) The Electricity Commissioners may, by the order establishing a joint electricity authority, or after the establishment of a joint electricity authority by an order made on the application of that authority, exclude from the area of supply of any power company, subject to such terms, conditions, and reservations as the Electricity Commissioners may think fit—

(a) any part of that area in which any right of the power company to supply electricity is subject to the absolute veto of some other authorised undertaker, and where the order provides for or is made conditional on the transfer to the joint electricity authority of the generating station from which a supply of electricity is given to the part of the area in question;

(b) any part of that area which at the time of the local inquiry on the scheme to which the order establishing the joint electricity authority gives effect, or, as the case may be, at the time of the application for the order, is not being supplied by the power company, and which it appears to the Electricity Commissioners could be better served by the joint electricity authority themselves or by that authority acting through any authorised undertakers; and

(c) with the consent of the power company any other part of the area of supply of the power company;

and in any such case the order may confer on the power company, subject to such conditions as the Electricity Commissioners may prescribe, power to supply electricity for all purposes in any other part of their area of supply which does not at the time form part of the area of supply of any authorised distributors:

Provided that, where on the application of a joint electricity authority it is proposed to make such an order (not being an order made under section seven of the principal Act (a)), and the power company, or any county council, local authority, or authorised undertakers which appear to the Electricity Commissioners to be interested object to the proposed order, effect shall not

Section 17. be given to the proposals except by a special order under section twenty-six of the principal Act (b).

(2) Where in pursuance of this section any part of the area of supply of a power company is by order excluded from such area of supply—

(a) the exclusion shall not affect any rights of the power company existing immediately before the making of the order to lay mains through the part so excluded, but any such rights may continue to be exercised by the power company notwithstanding such exclusion ;

(b) the exclusion shall not prevent the power company from giving a supply of electricity at any point in their remaining area for the purpose of haulage or traction on any railway, tramway, or canal, and for the purpose of lighting vehicles and vessels used on any such railway, tramway, or canal which they could have supplied if the part of the area excluded under this section had remained part of their area of supply.

(3) Section fourteen of the principal Act is repealed (c).

(a) See this section at p. 2785, ante.

(b) See this section at p. 2799, ante.

(c) This section contained special provisions as to power companies for which are now substituted the provisions in sub-sections (1) and (2) of the section in the text.

Limitation on prices charged.

18.—(1) The prices charged for electricity by a joint electricity authority shall be so fixed by the authority, subject to such directions as may be given by the Electricity Commissioners, that, over a term of years to be approved by the Electricity Commissioners, their receipts on income account shall be sufficient to cover their expenditure on income account (including interest and sinking fund charges), with such margin as the Electricity Commissioners may allow.

(2) If the receipts of the joint electricity authority on revenue account in any year are insufficient to meet the charges payable out of revenue in that year, the deficiency may, unless provided for out of a reserve fund, be apportioned amongst the authorised undertakers within the district of the joint electricity authority who take a supply of electricity from the joint electricity authority in proportion to the number of units of electricity supplied to them in that year : Provided that, in any case in which it appears to the joint electricity authority that the deficiency in any year can by a reasonable adjustment of charges, or otherwise, be made good out of moneys receivable by the joint electricity authority in any succeeding year or years, or that the deficiency is so small as to justify postponement of any apportionment, the joint electricity authority shall refrain from making any such apportionment and such deficiency may be included in the charges payable out of the revenue in any succeeding year or years.

Amendment of section five of principal Act.

19 (a). Section five of the principal Act (Electricity districts) shall have effect as if after the word " authority," in subsection (2) of that section, there had been inserted the words " or other body."

(a) This section, which amended s. 5 of the 1919 Act has been superseded by s. 36 of the Electricity (Supply) Act, 1926 (q.v. at p. 2930, post), which substitutes a new provision for s. 5 as amended.

Amendment of section six of principal Act.

20. Section six of the principal Act (a) shall have effect as if after the word " interests " in subsection (1) of that section there had been inserted the words (" including the persons employed in connection with the supply of electricity "), and as if after the words " electricity district " where they last occur in that subsection there had been inserted the words " and the conditions of employment of persons employed by the Joint Electricity Authority."

(a) See this section, as here amended, at p. 2784, ante.

Section 21.

Amendment of section 16 of principal Act.

21.—(1) Section sixteen of the principal Act (a) shall have effect as if for the words " under this Act " there were substituted the words " under or in consequence of this Act," and as if for the words " in consequence of this Act " there were substituted the words " in consequence of any such transfer scheme, agreement or arrangement " :

Provided that any question as to whether a transfer scheme, agreement or arrangement, [was made under or in consequence of the principal Act] (b), shall be determined by the Electricity Commissioners.

(2) The Minister of Labour may make rules as to the procedure before the referee or board of referees under the said section sixteen and may by those rules provide—

(a) for limiting the amount of costs and providing for the taxation thereof;

(b) for fixing the fees to be paid to the referee or members of the board of referees and for determining by whom such fees are to be paid.

(b) The words in brackets were substituted for the words " not made under the principal Act, was in consequence of that Act " by s. 50 and Sch. VI. of the Electricity (Supply) Act, 1926, post, p. 2937, in order to remove the defect in the former provision which was demonstrated by the decision in R. v. Minister of Labour (ex parte Torquay Corporation), [1924] 2 K. B. 210 ; 88 J. P. 131, cited in note (c) to s. 16 of the 1919 Act at p. 2792, ante.

Methods of charging and revision of prices.

22 (a).—(1) Subsection (2) of section thirty-one (b) of the Schedule to the Electric Lighting (Clauses) Act, 1899 (which relates to the method of charging by undertakers), is hereby repealed, and such repeal shall apply to that schedule as incorporated with any Act or order passed or confirmed before the passing of this Act, and where any such Act or order does not incorporate the Schedule to the Electric Lighting (Clauses) Act, 1899 (c), or incorporates it subject to an exception of the said subsection, but contains a provision corresponding to the said subsection, the Act or order shall have effect as if that provision were omitted therefrom.

(2) With a view to making three years the ordinary period of revision of maximum prices, and extending the provisions as to the revision of maximum prices to local authorities, section thirty-two of the Schedule to the Electric Lighting (Clauses) Act, 1899 (c), as incorporated with any Act or order passed or confirmed either before or after the passing of this Act, shall have effect as if for subsection (2) thereof the provisions set out in the Schedule to this Act were substituted.

(3) With regard to any Act or order passed or confirmed before the passing of this Act which limits the price to be charged for electricity, but does not incorporate the said Schedule to the Electric Lighting (Clauses) Act, 1899 (c), or incorporates it subject to an exception of the said section thirty-two (d), the Act or order shall have effect as if the provisions set out in the Schedule to this Act, mutatis mutandis, were contained therein in substitution for the provisions therein contained as to the revision of prices, and, where any such Act or order does not contain any provisions authorising the periodical revision of prices, the prices to be charged by the undertakers shall be subject to revision in accordance with the provisions set out in the Schedule to this Act (e).

(4) Where a joint electricity authority has been established, then on any revision of prices to be charged by undertakers who receive a supply of electricity either directly or indirectly from that authority, regard shall be had to the benefit to the undertakers of any reductions in the cost of electricity attributable to the establishment of the authority.

(5) Where any authorised undertakers have, before the passing of this Act, obtained an order varying the prices to be charged by them, the undertakers may apply to the Minister of Transport for an order varying the methods of charge notwithstanding that a period of three years has not elapsed since the making of the first-mentioned order.

Section 22.

9 Edw. 7, c. 34.

(6) Section ten of the Electric Lighting Act, 1909, is hereby repealed (f).

(a) See also the provisions of s. 42 of the Electricity (Supply) Act, 1926, post, p. 2933.

(b) This sub-section gave to consumers a right to object to charges by a method approved by the Board of Trade and to require undertakers to charge him at their option by the actual amount of energy supplied or by the electrical quantity contained in the supply.

(c) See this Schedule at p. 2569, ante.

(e) See also the power of revision given to the Minister in respect of power companies by s. 31 of the Electricity (Supply) Act, 1926, post, p. 2927.

(f) This section related to the revision of maximum prices. See now the provisions of the section in the text as to revision of prices.

Standby supplies of electricity.

23.—(1) Notwithstanding anything in the Electricity (Supply) Acts, 1882 to 1919 (a), or in this Act, or in any other Act of Parliament, or any provisional Order or special order made under any such Act, a person shall not be entitled to demand or continue to receive for the purposes of a standby supply only from any authorised undertakers a supply of electricity for any premises having a separate supply of electricity or a supply (in use or ready for use for the purposes for which the standby supply of electricity is required) of gas, steam, or other form of energy unless he has agreed with the undertakers to pay to them such minimum annual sum as will give them a reasonable return on the capital expenditure incurred by them in providing such standby supply and will cover other standing charges incurred by them in order to meet the possible maximum demand for those premises. The sum to be so paid shall be determined in default of agreement by arbitration.

(2) Section fifteen of the Electric Lighting Act, 1909, is repealed (b).

(a) See note (a) under s. 2 of this Act, ante, p. 2837.

(b) This section related to supply of electricity to premises having a separate supply. See the provisions in lieu thereof in sub-s. (1) of the section in the text.

Provision as to railways, &c.

24. Notwithstanding anything contained in any Act or order, electricity supplied by a joint electricity authority or power company within their district to any company or authority being the owners or lessees of a railway, tramway, dock, harbour or canal undertaking may be used by the company or authority receiving the supply for the purposes of haulage or traction or for lighting vehicles or vessels used on the railway, tramway, dock, harbour or canal on any part of the system of such company or authority. [Provided that such supply shall be used in such manner as not to cause or be likely to cause any interference (whether by induction or otherwise) with any telegraphic line belonging to or used by the Postmaster-General or with the telegraphic communication by means of such line. This provision shall not apply to an undertaking or part thereof in respect of which any company or authority is authorised to use electricity by Act of Parliament or by an order confirmed by or having the effect of an Act of Parliament containing provisions for the protection of the telegraphic lines of the Postmaster-General in respect of the use of electricity. In this section " telegraphic line " has the same meaning as in the Telegraph Act, 1878.] (a).

(a) The words in brackets were inserted by s. 50 and Sch. VI. of the Electricity (Supply) Act, 1926. The same Act by s. 47 (q.v. at p. 2935, post), enables the Minister to consent to the use of power supplied under this section for any purposes of the undertaking.

Power of persons not being undertakers to supply electricity.

25.—(1) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in any special Act or order, it shall be lawful for the owners or lessees of any railway generating station, or of any generating station erected under statutory authority for the purpose of working tramways or light railways, to supply electricity therefrom upon such terms and conditions as may be agreed—

(a (to a joint electricity authority; or
(b) to an authorised undertaker; or
(c) to any consumer, subject, in the case of premises situate within the area of supply of an authorised undertaker, to the consent of that undertaker:

Provided that no such supply shall be given under the powers conferred by this section—

(i) without the consent of the Electricity Commissioners, who before giving their consent to a supply to any consumer shall have regard to the interests of any undertakers (other than electrical undertakers) who may be affected thereby, or otherwise than subject to such conditions as the Commissioners may impose;
(ii) to any authorised distributors whose undertaking is in the area of a power company without the consent of that company;
(iii) to any premises within the district of a joint electricity authority and not within the area of any other authorised undertakers without the consent of that authority:

Provided also that nothing contained in this section shall limit or derogate from any powers already conferred on or exerciseable by any owners or lessees of any railway generating station, or of any generating station erected under statutory authority for the purpose of working tramways or light railways, or apply to any agreement already or hereafter entered into in pursuance of any such powers.

(2) The Electricity Commissioners may, subject to the provisions of the Electricity (Supply) Acts, 1882 to 1919 (a), and of the Schedules to the Electric Lighting (Clauses) Act, 1899 (b), by order authorise the breaking up of such roads, railways, and tramways as may be necessary for the purpose of such a supply.

(3) The provisions of the Electricity (Supply) Acts, 1882 to 1919 (a), and of the Schedule to the Electric Lighting (Clauses) Act, 1899 (b), so far as they relate to the protection of the Postmaster-General, shall apply to any works for the supply of electricity under this section, and, in the application of those provisions, the owners or lessees mentioned in subsection (1) of this section shall be deemed to be the undertakers, and nothing in this section shall affect any right or remedy of the Postmaster-General under the Telegraph Acts, 1863 to 1921.

(a) See note (a) under s. 2 of this Act at p. 2837, ante.
(b) See the Schedule to this Act at p. 2569, ante.

Provision for payment off of debentures in certain cases.

26. Where the generating station of any company becomes transferred to or is acquired by a joint electricity authority, and the company has created and issued debentures or debenture stock (whether irredeemable or not) charged upon such generating station, the company may, and, if so required by the trustees for the holders of the debentures or debenture stock, shall, present to the court having jurisdiction to wind up the company a scheme for the payment off in whole or in part of the debentures or debenture stock out of the proceeds of the sale, and if the court sanctions the scheme the debentures or debenture stock may, notwithstanding anything therein or in any trust deed for securing the same, be paid off accordingly;

Provided that the cost which an auditor appointed by the Electricity Commissioners certifies to have been necessarily incurred in obtaining and carrying out the scheme shall be borne and paid by the joint electricity authority.

Winding up companies.

27.—(1) After the whole undertaking of any company incorporated by Act of Parliament is transferred to a joint electricity authority under the principal Act, such company may, subject to the provisions of this Act, be wound up under and in accordance with the provisions of and in the same manner and with the same incidents as if the company were a company registered under the Companies Acts, 1908 to 1917, and had, on such transfer duly passed a special resolution requiring the company to be wound up voluntarily.

(2) For the purposes of such winding up, the company shall, from and after such transfer, be deemed to be registered under the last-mentioned Acts in that part of the United Kingdom in which its principal place of business is situated, and, for the purpose of calling and holding meetings and passing resolutions and other matters incidental to such winding up, resolutions of meetings of the company convened and held in pursuance and in accordance with the provisions contained in the Acts relating to the company may and shall take effect as resolutions of a company duly registered.

Expenses of London County Council.

28. Any expense incurred by the London County Council under or in pursuance of this Act or the Electricity (Supply) Acts, 1882 to 1919 (a), shall be defrayed as expenses for general county purposes.

(a) See note (a) under s. 2 of this Act, ante, p. 2837.

29. [Extension of period for repayment of money borrowed by Scottish local authorities.]

30. [Application to Scotland.]

Short title, construction, and extent.

31.—(1) This Act may be cited as the Electricity (Supply) Act, 1922, and the Electricity (Supply) Acts, 1882 to 1919 (a), and this Act shall be construed together as one Act, and may be cited as the Electricity (Supply) Acts, 1882 to 1922.

(2) This Act shall not extend to Ireland.

(a) See note (a) under s. 2 of this Act, ante, p. 2837.

Section 22.

SCHEDULE.

PROVISION TO BE SUBSTITUTED FOR SECTION 32 (2) OF THE SCHEDULE TO THE ELECTRIC LIGHTING (CLAUSES) ACT, 1899.

Provided that if either—

(a) the undertakers; or

(b) such number of consumers not less than twenty as the Minister of Transport considers sufficient having regard to the population of the area of supply; or

(c) in a case where the local authority are not themselves the undertakers, the local authority; or

(d) in a case where the local authority are not themselves the undertakers and the area of supply is situate wholly or partly within the county of London, the London County Council, at any time after the expiration of three years after the confirmation of the special order make a representation to the Minister that the prices or methods of charge stated in the special order or approved by the Minister ought to be altered, the Minister, after such inquiry as he may think fit, may make an order varying the prices or methods of charge stated in the special order or so approved as aforesaid or substituting other prices or methods of charge in lieu thereof, and the prices or methods of charge so varied or substituted shall have effect on and after such day as may be mentioned in the order as if they had been stated in the special order:

Provided also that the prices and methods of charge for the time being in force may be altered in like manner at any time after the expiration of any or every period of three years after they were last altered.

THE RAILWAY AND CANAL COMMISSION (CONSENTS) ACT, 1922.

(12 & 13 GEO. 5, c. 47.)

An Act to amend the Law as respects certain matters in connection with which the consent of the Railway and Canal Commission is required.

[4th August, 1922.]

Provisions as to consents by the Railway and Canal Commission under 6 & 7 Geo. 5, c. 63.

1.—(1) Where before the thirty-first day of August, nineteen hundred and twenty-two, an application has been made to the Railway and Canal Commission under subsection (3) of section six of the Defence of the Realm (Acquisition of Land) Act, 1916 (hereinafter referred to as the principal Act) for the consent of the Commission to any highway being kept closed after that date, the highway may be kept closed until the application has been disposed of by the Commission, but not for more than six months after the said thirty-first day of August unless the Commission in any particular case allow a longer time; and where the Commission on any such application consent to the highway being kept closed for a limited period, the Commission may subsequently, on any application being made at any time before the expiration of such limited period, extend that period (a).

(2) Where an application has before the twenty-eighth day of February, nineteen hundred and twenty-three, been made to the Railway and Canal Commission for their consent to the occupying department continuing in the possession of land, and the application is not disposed of by the Commission before the thirty-first day of August, nineteen hundred and twenty-three, the occupying department may continue in possession of the land until the application has been disposed of, but not for more than six months after the thirty-first day of August, nineteen hundred and twenty-three, unless the Commission in any particular case allow a longer time: Provided that this subsection shall not apply to commons or common lands (b).

(3) Where the consent of the Railway and Canal Commission is necessary to the acquisition of any land under section three of the principal Act (c), and an application is made to the Commission for their consent before the expiration of the period within which the power of acquisition must be exercised, and the Commission give their consent, the power of acquisition may be exercised if notices to treat are served within three months after the consent of the Commission is given, notwithstanding that the time within which the power must be exercised under the said section has elapsed.

(a) This subsection is an amendment of 6 & 7 Geo. 5, c. 63, s. 6 (3), ante, p. 2745.

(b) This is an amendment of 6 & 7 Geo. 5, c. 63, s. 1. That section, which was of temporary duration, only has now expired and was repealed by S. L. R. A., 1927.

(c) The section referred to related to the power to acquire land compulsorily on behalf of the Crown. That section, which was of temporary duration only, has now expired and was repealed by S. L. R. A., 1927.

Short title.

2. This Act may be cited as the Railway and Canal Commission (Consents) Act, 1922.

WAR MEMORIALS (LOCAL AUTHORITIES' POWERS) ACT, 1923.

(13 & 14 GEO. 5, c. 18.)

An Act to enable local authorities under certain circumstances to maintain, repair and protect war memorials vested in them. [18th July, 1923.]

Expenditure in maintenance, etc., of war memorials.

1. A local authority (a) may incur reasonable expenditure in the maintenance, repair and protection of any war memorial (b) within their district which may be vested in them.

(a) See the definition in s. 4, infra.

(b) This provision was made to meet the case of memorials in forms other than those of statues in streets or public places, which could be maintained under s. 42, Public Health Acts Amendment Act, 1890, ante, p. 902.

Note that the Act extends only to war memorials, but is not limited to memorials in respect of the Great War, 1914–1918.

Approval of county council or Minister of Health.

2. Any expenditure to be incurred under this Act by a local authority shall—

(a) in the case of a parish council or parish meeting, be limited to an amount which will not involve a rate exceeding a penny in the pound (a) for any financial year, and be subject to the approval of the county council;

(b) in the case of any other local authority, be limited to an amount from time to time approved by the Minister of Health.

(a) This limit is increased by 33⅓ per cent. by s. 75 of the L. G. A., 1929, ante, p. 1940, and may by an order of the Minister be increased by a greater percentage in special circumstances (ibid.).

Application.

3. The provisions of this Act shall not apply to a war memorial provided or maintained by a local authority in the exercise of any other statutory power (a).

(a) Thus a local authority may have provided or accepted as a gift a war memorial, which took the form of a building or public park which they had statutory authority to provide or maintain under the Public Health Acts, Local Government Act, 1894, or other Act. The provisions in the text will not apply to such memorials.

Definition.

4. In this Act the expression "local authority" means the council of a county, county borough, metropolitan borough, or other borough, or of an urban district or parish, and the parish meeting of a rural parish with no parish council.

Short title.

5. This Act may be cited as the War Memorials (Local Authorities' Powers) Act, 1923.

LONDON TRAFFIC ACT, 1924.

(14 & 15 GEO. 5, c. 34.)

An Act to make provision for the control and regulation of traffic in and near London, and for purposes connected therewith (a). [7th August, 1924.]

Constitution of Advisory Committee (b).

1.—(1) With a view to facilitating and improving the regulation of traffic in and near London, there shall, for the purpose of giving advice and assistance in manner provided by this Act to the Minister of Transport (hereinafter referred to as the Minister) in connection with the exercise and performance of his powers and duties in relation to traffic within the area described in the First Schedule to this Act (hereinafter referred to as the London Traffic Area) be constituted a committee, to be called the London and Home Counties Traffic Advisory Committee and hereinafter referred to as the Advisory Committee consisting of a chairman elected by the Committee and such ordinary and additional members as are hereinafter mentioned.

(2) Of the ordinary members—

One shall be appointed by a Secretary of State :

Two shall be appointed by the London County Council :

One shall be appointed by the Corporation of the City of London :

Two shall be appointed by the councils of the metropolitan boroughs :

One shall be appointed by the councils of the administrative counties mentioned in the First Schedule to this Act, other than the administrative county of London lying north of the Thames :

One shall be appointed by the councils of the administrative counties mentioned in the First Schedule to this Act, other than the administrative county of London lying south of the Thames :

One shall be appointed by the councils of the several county boroughs within the London Traffic Area :

One shall be a representative of the metropolitan police appointed by a Secretary of State :

One shall be a representative of the City police appointed by the Corporation of the City of London :

One shall be appointed by the Minister :

Where one or more members are to be appointed by a group of local authorities, the appointment shall be made by a joint committee consisting of one representative chosen by each of the local authorities in accordance with rules of procedure made by the Minister (c) :

Every ordinary member appointed by a local authority or group of local authorities other than the representative of the City police shall be a member of the local authority or of one of the grouped authorities, as the case may be, and, if he cease to hold such qualification, shall cease to be a member of the Committee.

(3) Of the additional members—

Three shall be representatives of the interests of labour engaged in the transport industry within the London Traffic Area appointed by the Minister of Labour after consultation with such bodies representative of those interests as he may think fit :

Four shall be representatives of the interests of persons providing means of transport and users of mechanically propelled and horse-drawn road vehicles within the London Traffic Area appointed by the Minister after consultation with such bodies representative of those interests as he may think desirable.

(4) The ordinary members shall form part of the committee on all occasions, and the additional members shall form part of the committee when considering and reporting to and advising the Minister upon any matter referred to the committee under or by virtue of section ten of this Act, or any matter or question referred to the committee under this Act in connection with the matters specified in Part I. of the Second Schedule to this Act :

Provided that the Minister may, if he thinks fit, direct that in any particular case the additional members shall form part of the committee when considering and reporting to and advising him upon any matter or question referred to the committee under this Act in connection with any of the matters mentioned in Part II. of the said Schedule.

(5) A person shall be disqualified for being appointed or being an ordinary member of the Advisory Committee if he is a director of a company or a partner in a firm or is in the employment of a company or firm engaged in providing means of transport within the London Traffic Area.

(6) The term of office of the members of the Advisory Committee first appointed shall be from the date of appointment until the first day of December, nineteen hundred and twenty-five, and, subject to the provisions as to the term of office of persons appointed to fill casual vacancies, the term of office of persons subsequently appointed shall be three years ; but a person going out of office may be reappointed. The chairman shall go out of office on the day on which the members of the committee by whom he is elected ordinarily go out of office.

(7) If any member of the Advisory Committee without having received leave of absence by a resolution of the committee fails for a period of six months to attend duly summoned meetings of the Committee, or of a sub-committee on which he has been appointed to serve, his seat shall thereupon become vacant, and he shall not be eligible for reappointment in respect of that vacancy.

(8) On a casual vacancy occurring on the Advisory Committee by reason of death, resignation, or otherwise, the vacancy shall be filled by the appointment of a new member in like manner as the member in whose place he is appointed, and he shall hold office until the time when the member in whose place he is appointed would have gone out of office, and shall then go out of office. The foregoing provision shall apply to the chairman with the substitution of "election" for "appointment" and of "elected" for "appointed." If an ordinary member or any additional member is elected chairman, his election shall not create a casual vacancy.

(9) The Minister may place at the disposal of the Advisory Committee the services of such of the officers and servants of the Ministry of Transport as appear to him to be required for the purpose of the proper discharge of the duties of the Committee.

(10) The Advisory Committee may make rules for regulating their procedure (including the fixing of a quorum, and the appointment, powers, duties and procedure of sub-committees) and for regulating the procedure at any inquiry held by the Advisory Committee or by any members thereof under this Act ; and the additional members shall form part of the Advisory Committee when considering and making such rules of procedure.

(11) The Advisory Committee shall make an annual report of their proceedings to the Minister, which shall be laid before Parliament.

(12) The proceedings of the Advisory Committee shall not be invalidated by any vacancy in their number or any defect in the appointment of any member.

(a) This Act is included as it affects local authorities near London, but outside the administrative county of London. The area to which the Act applies is defined in the First Schedule, post, p. 2864. The Act is of an experimental character and was, therefore, originally to remain in force only until December 1st, 1928 (s. 17 (2)). It has, however, been continued in force until December 31st, 1931, by Expiring Laws Continuance Act, 1928. Section 1 of the Act came into force on September 1st, 1924, and the remainder of the provisions on October 1st of that year (s. 17 (1) and the London Traffic Act (Appointed Days) Order, 1924, S. R. & O., 1924, No. 982).

(b) The Advisory Committee has been appointed under this section, and is under the chairmanship of Sir Henry Maybury, K.B.E.

(c) These rules are contained in the London Traffic (Joint Committees) Rules of Procedure, 1924, S. R. & O., 1924, No. 1015.

Duties of Advisory Committee.

2. It shall be the duty of the Advisory Committee to consider and report to the Minister on any matters within the scope of the provisions of this Act, and to report to and advise the Minister upon such matters and questions as may be referred to them under this Act, or as the Minister may from time to time refer to them in connection with any of the matters mentioned in the Second Schedule to this Act.

Power of Advisory Committee to hold inquiries (a).

3. (1) In any case where the Advisory Committee think it desirable or expedient so to do, the Committee may, before advising and reporting to the Minister on any matter referred to them in pursuance of this Act, appoint one or more of their number to hold, or may if they think it advisable, themselves hold such public inquiry into the matter as they may think fit, and when one or more members of the Advisory Committee are appointed to hold the inquiry they shall make a report thereon to the Committee.

(2) Before any such inquiry is held the Advisory Committee shall give public notice of the date and place at which the inquiry will be held and of the matters to be dealt with at the inquiry, and any person affected may make representations to the member or members holding the inquiry, or in the case of an inquiry held by the Advisory Committee themselves to that Committee, and, unless in their discretion such member or members or the Committee consider it unnecessary, any such person shall be heard at the inquiry: Provided that, for the purposes of this provision, the Corporation of the City of London and the council of any county, borough or district wholly or partly comprised in the London Traffic Area shall be deemed to be persons affected and shall have the right to be heard in any case where such corporation or council, or any persons represented by them, may be affected by any such inquiry.

(3) In any case where the Minister thinks it expedient or proper so to do, the Minister may delegate to the Advisory Committee the duty of holding any inquiry respecting any matter affecting traffic within the London Traffic Area which under any other Act the Minister is authorised or required to hold, and where the Minister has so delegated any such duty, the Advisory Committee shall appoint one or more of their number to hold, or may if they think it advisable themselves hold such inquiry as is required under the Act in respect of which the duty has been delegated, and when one or more members of the Advisory Committee are appointed to hold the inquiry they shall make a report to the Committee.

(a) Inquiries under this section need only be held where the Advisory Committee think fit, except where the Minister delegates to the committee his power of holding an inquiry under some other Act.

Where the committee determine to hold an inquiry, the council of any county borough or district, wholly or partly in the London Traffic Area, which may be affected by the inquiry, will be entitled to be heard at such inquiry.

Closing of streets for works (a).

4.—(1) With a view that the times for the execution of works of road maintenance and improvement by various road authorities within the London Traffic Area may be so arranged as to mitigate as far as possible the congestion of traffic due to the closing of streets for the purposes of the execution of such works, it shall be the duty of every road authority within that area to submit to the Minister, on or before such half-yearly dates in each year as the Minister may fix, a statement in such form and containing such particulars as the Minister may require of all works of road maintenance and improvement proposed to be commenced or continued by the authority during the periods of six months commencing at the expiration of such interval, not being less than two months, after the said half-yearly dates as the Minister may fix, being works of such a nature as will involve the closing to vehicular traffic of any part of any street to which this section applies either absolutely or to the extent of one-third or more of the width of the carriageway.

Section 4.

(2) The Minister shall refer all such statements to the Advisory Committee, and it shall be the duty of that Committee to consider the proposals contained in such statements in relation to one another and report to the Minister thereon; and the Minister, after considering the report, shall draw up schemes prescribing the times during which the several works are to be commenced and the order in which they are to be executed, or prohibiting or restricting the execution of any such works, and shall send copies of any such scheme to all road authorities and undertakers affected thereby, and

(a) if within fourteen days after copies of any scheme have been so sent, no objection in writing to the scheme has been received by the Minister from any road authority or undertakers affected thereby, or every such objection has been withdrawn, the Minister may by order confirm the scheme;

(b) if any such objection has been received by the Minister within such time and has not been withdrawn, the Minister may, after considering the objection, either by order confirm the scheme with or without amendments, or revoke the scheme; and upon the confirmation of any such scheme it shall become final and binding on all the road authorities affected and shall not be subject to appeal to any court:

Provided that the Minister may subsequently by order modify any such scheme in so far as it imposes any prohibition or restriction on the execution of any works in such manner as he may consider expedient.

(3) With a view to securing that, so far as possible, all works involving the breaking up of streets by any undertakers having statutory powers to break up streets (including any Government Department) shall be carried out at the same time as or in connection with works of road maintenance and improvements, the Minister shall send to all such undertakers copies of the proposals of the road authorities when received by him under this section so far as they relate to streets to which the powers of the undertakers extend and shall consider any representations made to him by such undertakers; and where works of road maintenance and improvement involving the closing of a street to such extent as aforesaid have been executed in accordance with any such scheme, it shall not be lawful for any such undertakers within twelve months of completion of those works to break up the street or part of the street so closed without the previous consent of the Minister and unless they prove to the satisfaction of the Minister that there were reasonable grounds for their failure or omission to execute whilst the street or part thereof was closed the works for the execution of which they require to break up the street and that it is essential that the works should be executed or commenced within the said twelve months; and the Minister may, if he thinks fit, make it a condition on giving his consent under this subsection to the breaking up of the street or part thereof that all works in connection therewith shall be carried out at night by commencing the same after the hour of eight in the evening and completing the same by the hour of eight in the morning, and if not then completed by carrying on the same continuously by day and night.

(4) Nothing in this section shall prevent any road authority or any such undertakers as aforesaid from carrying out works in any streets in cases of emergency, or prevent any such undertakers from making, altering, repairing or disconnecting service connections.

(5) The streets to which this section applies are such streets or streets of such classes within the London Traffic Area as may be prescribed by an order made by the Minister.

Note to Section 4.

(a) The streets to which this section applies are scheduled to the London Traffic (Closing of Streets for Works) Order, 1927, S. R. & O., 1927, No. 260, made under sub-s. (5). The local authorities responsible for those streets are to submit to the Minister half-yearly details of works to be carried out in those streets, so that a scheme may be made to arrange for works to be done at such a time as to cause the minimum interference with traffic, and to further this end, provision is made prohibiting undertakers from breaking up such streets within twelve months of the execution of works without the consent of the Minister except in cases of emergency.

Road authorities and undertakers are defined by s. 16, post.

Provision for mitigating obstruction to traffic (a).

5.—(1) If it appears to any officer of police authorised for the purpose that, in the exercise of any power to break up streets within the London Traffic Area, any undertakers, by the deposit of excavated matter or other material, or by means of the erection of barriers, or otherwise, have created an obstruction in the street (b) to a greater extent or for a longer period than is reasonably necessary, he shall report the matter to the road authority and the road authority shall cause an inspection to be made, and, if on such inspection it appears to them that the allegation is well founded, they may, by notice in writing, require (c) the undertakers to take such steps as may be necessary to mitigate or discontinue the obstruction ; and, if the undertakers fail to do so within twenty-four hours of the receipt of the notice, the road authority may themselves take the necessary steps and may recover any expenses properly incurred by them in connection therewith from the undertakers summarily as a civil debt :

Provided that, if within the said twenty-four hours the undertakers represent to the Minister that the obstruction to which the notice relates is not greater or has not been continued for a longer period than is reasonably necessary and send to the road authority a copy of the representations so made, the road authority shall not exercise the powers conferred by this section without the consent of the Minister.

(2) A road authority may, if they think fit, delegate to the road surveyor or other officer of the authority the powers of causing inspection to be made and of issuing requisitions conferred on the authority by this section.

(a) This section is of general application throughout the London Traffic Area, and imposes duties upon road authorities within the area when moved thereto by the report of a police officer authorised for the purpose. The Act does not prescribe by whom the police officer is to be authorised, but presumably the authority will be given by the Commissioner of Police or Chief Constable.

Road authorities and undertakers are defined by s. 16.

(b) See the definition in s. 16.

(c) The road authority is not bound to accept the report of the police officer, but must satisfy themselves by inspection that his allegation is well founded. The authority may delegate their powers of inspection, and issuing requisitions to the road surveyor or other officer of the authority (sub-s. (2)).

Power to attach conditions to grant of omnibus licences plying in the city of London and the metropolitan police district (b).

6.—(1) As respects the area consisting of the city of London and the metropolitan police district, any licensing authority may, with the view to securing the public safety and the convenience of traffic, define, by reference to terminal points and to the course to be followed between those points, the routes (hereinafter called "approved routes") within the area of its licensing jurisdiction upon which regular services of omnibuses (a) may be established. Any person who proposes to establish a regular service of omnibuses within the area of the licensing jurisdiction of any such licensing authority upon a route which is not an approved route may apply to the licensing authority to define that route as an approved route, and in the event of the licensing authority refusing so to define such route an appeal shall lie to the Minister, who may, if he thinks fit, define the route, either as originally proposed, or subject to such alterations as he thinks proper, and any route so defined by the Minister shall be deemed to be an approved route.

Section 6.

(2) When licensing an omnibus to ply for hire within the area aforesaid. the licensing authority may, subject to the right of appeal to the Minister given by subsection (3) of section fourteen of the Roads Act, 1920 (c), attach to any such licence all or any of the following conditions, that is to say :—

10 & 11 Geo. 5, c. 72.

(a) a condition that the omnibus shall not ply for hire upon specified approved routes or any specified parts thereof, but such condition shall be imposed only on the ground that the omnibus is by reason of its construction or equipment unsuitable for use on such routes or parts thereof ;

(b) a condition that the omnibuses shall not, without the consent of the licensing authority, which consent may be either of special or of general application, and may be either absolute or subject to any conditions, ply for hire except upon approved routes ;

(c) a condition that the omnibus shall not, without such consent as aforesaid, ply for hire except in maintaining a regular service ;

and, if any person to whom a licence is granted subject to any such condition fails to comply with the condition, he shall be liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding five pounds, and, if a person is convicted of a second or subsequent offence under this subsection, the licensing authority may, if they think fit, revoke or suspend the licence for the omnibus in respect of which the second or subsequent offence was committed.

(3) Where a licensing authority have defined approved routes, the authority may, with a view to attaching such conditions as aforesaid to licences, require in writing that all or any licences for omnibuses to ply for hire within the area aforesaid issued by them shall, within fourteen days of such requirement, be surrendered to them, and may issue in substitution for the licences so surrendered licences expiring on the same date as the licences so surrendered, and attach to any such substituted licences all or any of such conditions as aforesaid, and any licence so required to be surrendered shall, if not surrendered in accordance with the requirement, cease to have effect at the expiration of the said fourteen days, and, if so surrendered, shall cease to have effect on the issue of such substituted licence.

(4) A person to whom a licence for an omnibus has been granted subject to the condition that it shall not ply for hire except in maintaining such a regular service as aforesaid shall, within seven days or such other period as the Minister may fix after such condition has been first imposed, deposit with the licensing authority a schedule in such form and identified in such manner as the licensing authority may require, showing—

(a) the approved routes upon which he intends to establish a regular service of omnibuses ;

(b) the time at which the service on each route is to commence and end on each day ;

(c) the service to be maintained on each such route, distinguishing, if the service to be maintained on different days or at different hours is to vary, the service to be maintained on the several days or at the several hours ;

(d) the maximum number of omnibuses to be used to maintain such service on each such route distinguishing, if the service is to vary on different days, the maximum number to be so used on the several days ;

(e) the stages into which he intends to divide each route and the fares which he intends to charge in respect of such stages, distinguishing, if the stages and fares are to vary on different days or at different hours, the stages and fares on the several days and at the several hours ; and shall supply to the licensing authority such number of copies of the deposited schedule as the authority may require.

(5) On any such schedule being deposited with the licensing authority in accordance with the foregoing provisions, the same shall come into force, but the licensing authority shall send copies thereof to every person who is providing a regular service of omnibuses upon any route or any substantial portion of any route included in the schedule, and any such person shall have the right within seven days, or such other period as the Minister may fix, of receiving such copy to appeal to the Minister on the ground—

(a) that having regard to the number of omnibuses to be used for maintaining the service on any route, an increase in the service on that route specified in the schedule may reasonably be required either generally or during particular hours; or

(b) that having regard to the service to be maintained on any such route the maximum number of omnibuses to be used in maintaining the service is excessive; and the Minister on such appeal, after giving the holder of the licence an opportunity of being heard, may make such order amending the schedule as he may think fit.

The Corporation of the City of London and the council of any county, or borough, or district wholly or partly within the area aforesaid, shall have the right at any time of appealing to the Minister against any schedule for the time being in force on the ground that any of the stages specified therein are unreasonably short or inconvenient or that any of the fares so specified are unreasonably high, and the Minister on such appeal, after giving the holder of the licence an opportunity of being heard, may make such order amending the schedule as he may think fit.

When an order amending a schedule has been made under this subsection the schedule shall have effect subject to the amendments made in the order.

(6) The holder of such a licence may at any time, but, subject as in the next following section provided, only at intervals of not less than four weeks, amend any such schedule or substitute a new schedule therefor by depositing with the licensing authority the proposed amendment or new schedule in such form and identified in such manner as the licensing authority may require, and shall send to the licensing authority such number of copies of the proposed amendment or new schedule as the licensing authority may require; and on the deposit of the amendment or new schedule the schedule proposed to be amended shall have effect subject to the amendment or, as the case may be, the new schedule shall be substituted for the schedule previously in force, subject in either case to the like right of appeal to the Minister as in the case of the original schedule:

Provided that, where a schedule has been amended on appeal to the Minister, no amendment to the schedule, nor any schedule to be substituted therefor, shall be so deposited within four weeks after the schedule as amended by the Minister came into force.

(7) The Minister may make regulations (d) with respect to the procedure on appeals under this section, and those regulations may provide for the appointment of a person or two or more persons to hold a public inquiry in such manner as may be prescribed into the subject matter of the appeal and for enabling the person or persons so appointed—

(a) to determine by whom and in what manner the costs of the appeal (including the remuneration of the person or persons appointed to hold the inquiry and any other expenses of the Minister) are to be borne;

(b) to take evidence on oath and for that purpose to administer oaths;

Section 6.

(c) by order to require any person subject to the payment or tender of the reasonable expenses of attendance to attend as a witness and give evidence or produce any documents in his possession or under his control which relate to any matter in question at the inquiry and are such as would be subject to production in a court of law.

If any person fails without reasonable excuse to comply with any requirement contained in any such order, he shall, on summary conviction, be liable to a fine not exceeding five pounds.

(8) Where a person deposits a schedule (whether original or substituted) or an amendment to a schedule under this section, he shall send to the Minister such number of copies thereof as the Minister may require, and the copies so sent to the Minister shall be open to inspection by any person at all reasonable hours, and any person shall be entitled to make copies thereof or extracts therefrom.

(9) If a person to whom a licence for an omnibus has been granted subject to the condition that it shall not ply for hire except in maintaining a regular service, fails to deposit a schedule as required by this section, or, except when prevented by accident or other unavoidable cause, or by a stoppage of work caused by an industrial dispute, or when otherwise authorised by the licensing authority, fails to establish or maintain a service in accordance with the schedule for the time being in force with respect to his omnibuses, or uses for the maintenance of any service a greater number of omnibuses than the maximum specified in such schedule or charges different fares or fares with respect to different stages from those specified in such schedule, he shall be liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding five pounds, and, if a person is convicted of a second or subsequent offence under this subsection, the licensing authority may, if they think fit, but subject to a right of appeal to the Minister, revoke or suspend all or any of the licences granted to the offender.

(10) Proceedings for an offence under this section shall not be instituted except by or on behalf of a licensing or police authority.

(a) See the definition in s. 16, post, p. 2863.

(b) This section is limited to the City of London and the Metropolitan Police district. Local authorities within that area are given the right at any time to appeal to the Minister against any schedule of omnibus routes, fares, etc., under sub-s. (4) on the grounds set out in sub-s. (5).

The licensing authority is defined by s. 16, post, p. 2863.

(c) See this section at p. 1302, ante.

(d) No regulations have yet been made under this subsection.

Power to limit the number of omnibuses plying on certain streets within the city of London and the metropolitan police district.

7.—(1) Where as respects any street or part of a street within the area consisting of the city of London and the metropolitan police district, the Minister is of opinion that by reason—

(a) of the width of the street or part of the street or the density of traffic thereon; or

(b) of the existence of alternative facilities for the conveyance of passengers along the street or part of the street or in proximity thereto, or of the omnibus accommodation on the street or part of the street being excessive;

it is desirable that an order under this section shall be made, he may by order declare the street or part of the street to be a street in which the plying for hire by omnibuses ought to be prohibited or restricted either generally or during particular hours, and a street or part of a street with respect to which such an order is made is hereinafter referred to as a "restricted street." (a).

(2) Where the Minister has so declared any street or part of a street to be a restricted street, the Minister may make regulations (b)—

Section 7.

(a) prohibiting or restricting the plying for hire by omnibuses in the street either generally or during particular hours, or limiting the aggregate number of journeys which may be made in either direction along the street during particular hours by omnibuses plying for hire;

(b) determining the omnibus proprietors whose omnibuses alone may ply for hire on the street and apportioning amongst those proprietors such aggregate number of journeys as aforesaid; but so, nevertheless, that the right so to ply shall not be limited to the omnibuses of one proprietor in any case where it appears to the Minister to be reasonable and practicable that the right should be exercised by other omnibuses also; and

(c) conferring on a licensing authority such powers as he may deem necessary to enable them to secure the observance of the regulations; and the regulations may provide for dispensing with or relaxing the restrictions imposed thereby in such circumstances and in such manner as may be provided in the regulations.

(3) Where in consequence of any such regulations it is necessary for any proprietor to amend the schedule of services for the time being in force with respect to his omnibuses, he may do so notwithstanding that such an interval of four weeks as is mentioned in the last preceding section has not elapsed.

(4) If any person contravenes or fails to comply with any such regulations, he shall be liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding five pounds, and on the conviction of a person for a second or subsequent offence under this subsection, the licensing authority shall notify the Minister of the conviction, and the licensing authority, if so directed by the Minister, shall thereupon revoke or suspend all or any licences to ply for hire in the area aforesaid which they may have granted to the offender in respect of omnibuses:

Provided that proceedings for any such offence shall not be instituted except by or on behalf of a licensing or police authority.

(5) Before making an order declaring any street or part of a street to be a restricted street, or making any regulations under this section, the Minister shall give such notice of his intention to make the order or regulations, as the case may be, as he may think best adapted for informing persons affected, and shall refer the matter to the Advisory Committee for their advice and report (c).

(6) Any regulation made under this section shall be laid before both Houses of Parliament forthwith; and, if an address is presented to His Majesty by either House of Parliament within the next subsequent twenty-eight days on which that House has sat after any such regulation is laid before it praying that the regulation may be annulled, it shall thenceforth be void, but without prejudice to the validity of anything previously done thereunder or the making of a new regulation.

(a) Under this subsection the Minister has made a number of orders, viz. the London Traffic (Restricted Streets) Order, 1925, S. R. & O., 1925, No. 179; (No. 2) Order, 1925, S. R. & O., 1925, No. 549; (No. 3) Order, 1925, S. R. & O., 1925, No. 648; Order, 1927, S. R. & O., 1927, No. 351; (No. 2) Order, 1927, S. R. & O., 1927, No. 1078; Order, 1928, S. R. & O., 1928, No. 32; (No. 2) Order, 1928, S. R. & O., 1928, No. 447; (No. 3) Order, 1928, S. R. & O., 1928, No. 1096.

(b) A number of regulations have been made under this subsection, these regulations are entitled the London Traffic (Restricted Streets) Regulations, and will be found in S. R. & O., 1925, Nos. 322, 805, 806, 892, S. R. & O., 1927, Nos. 576 and 1292, and S. R. & O., 1928, Nos. 289, 579.

A number of provisional regulations have also been made.

(c) On a reference to the advisory committee under this subsection as to the declaring a street to be a "restricted street," the "additional members" do not sit under s. 1 (4) (May v. Beattie, [1927] 2 K. B. 353; 91 J. P. 78).

Section 8.

Reports to Parliament on holders of omnibus licences.

8.—(1) It shall be the duty of the proprietor of any omnibus, licensed subject to the condition that it shall not ply for hire except in maintaining a regular service as aforesaid, to keep such records and to make to the Minister such returns as the Minister may require.

(2) The Minister shall annually make a report to Parliament containing such of the returns so furnished to him, together with such comments thereon, and on the results of operating the said services, as he may think fit, and it shall be the duty of every such proprietor as aforesaid to furnish to the Minister such information, and to produce to him such accounts, books and documents as he may require for the purpose of preparing such report or otherwise carrying out his duties under this Act, or as he may consider to be necessary for the purposes of any inquiry held under this Act.

(3) An order of the Minister requiring any person to fulfil any duty imposed by this section shall be enforceable by the High Court on the application of the Minister in any of the ways referred to in section three of the Railway and Canal Traffic Act, 1854.

Penalties for disobedience to directions of police (a).

9. Where a police constable in uniform is for the time being engaged in the regulation of traffic at any place in a street within the London Traffic Area, any person driving or propelling any vehicle who wilfully neglects or refuses to stop the vehicle or make it proceed or keep to a particular line of traffic when directed so to do by such police constable in the execution of his duty shall, on summary conviction, be liable to a fine not exceeding five pounds.

(a) This section is applicable to the whole of the London Traffic Area. Cf. s. 74 of the P. H. A., 1925, ante, p. 1620, and notes thereto.

Power to make regulations.

10.—(1) For the purpose of relieving congestion and facilitating traffic in and near London, the Minister may make regulations (a) to have effect in the London Traffic Area, or any such part thereof or places or streets therein, as may be specified in the regulations, for any of the purposes or with reference to any of the matters set out in the Third Schedule to this Act, and special regulations applicable only at special times or on special occasions may be so made:

Provided always that no such regulations shall interfere with street markets nor (so far as respects matters which may be dealt with by regulations under section one of the Metropolitan Streets Amendment Act, 1867) with street traders (b).

(2) Any regulations so made by the Minister may provide for the suspension or modification so long as the regulations remain in force of any provisions of any Acts (whether public general, or local or private) byelaws or regulations, dealing with the same subject matter as the regulations made by the Minister, or of any Acts conferring power of making byelaws or regulations dealing with the same subject matter, so far as such provisions apply to any place or street to which the regulations made by the Minister apply.

(3) Any such regulations may provide for imposing fines recoverable summarily in respect of breaches thereof not exceeding in the case of a first offence twenty pounds, or in the case of a second or subsequent offence fifty pounds, together with, in the case of a continuing offence, a further fine not exceeding five pounds for each day the offence continues after notice of the offence has been given in such manner as may be prescribed by the regulations.

(4) Before making any regulations under this section, the Minister shall refer the matter to the Advisory Committee for their advice and report.

(5) Before making any regulations under this section which will impose new or additional duties on the police, the Minister shall consult the Secretary of State.

(6) The making of any regulations under this section shall be conclusive evidence that the requirements of this section have been complied with.

(7) Any regulation made under this section shall be laid before both Houses of Parliament forthwith; and, if an address is presented to His Majesty by either House of Parliament within the next subsequent twenty-eight days on which that House has sat after any such regulation is laid before it praying that the regulation may be annulled, it shall thenceforth be void, but without prejudice to the validity of anything previously done thereunder or the making of a new regulation.

(a) A number of regulations have been made under this subsection, and references to them will be found in the notes to Sched. III., post, p, 2867. The Minister has very wide powers in making these regulations (see sub-s. (2)), but the regulations must be laid before Parliament (sub-s. (7)). The only regulation which is of universal application throughout the London Traffic Area, is the London Traffic (Lighting and Guarding of Street Works) Regulations, 1927, which is set out in App. II., post, at p. 3740.

(b) As to the regulation of street traders within the administrative county of London, see the London County Council (General Powers) Act, 1927 (17 & 18 Geo. 5, c. xxii.), and R. v. Lewisham Corporation, ex parte Jackson (1929), 27 L. G. R., 416; Clifton v. Holborn B. C. (1929), 45 T. L. R. 633; and Westminster Corporation v. Armstrong (1929), 45 T. L. R. 634, decided thereunder.

Limitation upon imposition of expenses upon local authorities.

11. Nothing in this Act shall be construed as giving power to the Minister to impose any obligation upon a local authority to incur any expenditure on or in connection with the improvement of any road or the construction of any new road without consent of such local authority.

Notice of and inquiries into accidents.

12.—(1) Where, owing to the presence of a vehicle on any road, an accident occurs within the London Traffic Area and it appears to the Minister that—

(a) the nature and character of the road or of the road surface was the sole or a contributory cause of the accident; or

(b) a defect in design or construction of the vehicle or in the materials used in the construction of the road or of the vehicle was the sole or a contributory cause;

the Minister, if he thinks fit, may cause an inquiry to be held into the cause of the accident.

(2) Where an accident occurs within the London Traffic Area resulting in the death of any person, and it is alleged that the accident was due to the nature or character of any road or road surface or to a defect in the design or construction of any vehicle or in the materials used in the construction of any road or vehicle, the coroner holding inquiry into the cause of death shall send to the Minister, or to such officer of the Ministry of Transport as the Minister may direct, notice in writing of the time and place of holding the inquest, and of the adjourned inquest, and any officer appointed by the Minister for the purpose shall be at liberty at any such inquest to examine any witness, subject nevertheless to the power of the coroner to disallow any question which in his opinion is not relevant or is otherwise not a proper question.

(3) Section twenty of the Ministry of Transport Act, 1919 (a) (which relates to the holding of inquiries), shall apply to inquiries held for the purposes of this section in like manner as it applies to inquiries for the purposes of that Act.

(a) See this section at p. 2769, ante.

Protection of public interests.

13.—(1) It is hereby declared that nothing in this Act is to be treated as conferring on any omnibus proprietor any right to the continuance of any benefits arising from the grant of licences, or from any conditions attached to Section 13. licences, or from any orders, schedules or regulations for the time being in force under this Act.

(2) In the event of any undertaking providing means of transport within the London Traffic Area being purchased compulsorily by any local or public authority, that part of the value of the undertaking attributable directly or indirectly to this Act, or to any orders, schedules or regulations made thereunder, shall not be taken into account (a).

(a) This provision is inserted for the protection of local authorities who contemplate purchasing an undertaking affected by orders, etc., under this Act. The subsection uses the words local or public authority, and there is no definition of public authority in the Act; cf., however, s. 12 (2), Acquisition of Land (Assessment of Compensation) Act, 1919, ante, p. 1278.

Particulars to be supplied by licence-holders.

14.—(1) It shall be the duty of the proprietor of any omnibus which is licensed subject to the condition that it shall not ply for hire except in maintaining a regular service, to supply to the Minister on such form as the Minister may determine—

(a) full particulars of any agreement or arrangement, written or verbal, whereby his business is controlled (whether through shareholding or nomination of directors, or as the result of a loan or other financial transactions or otherwise) by any other person who is engaged in providing any form of transport service in the London traffic area or elsewhere, or in the manufacture or supply of vehicles, plant or equipment, or requisites for any such service or in financing persons so engaged; and

(b) full particulars as to the holding or beneficial interest of the proprietor in stocks, shares, or securities of any company which is so engaged as aforesaid.

(2) Particulars to be supplied by a proprietor of an omnibus under this section shall be supplied by him within fourteen days after the grant of the licence for the omnibus, and as respects any interests created or arising during the currency of a licence shall be supplied within fourteen days after such interests are created or have arisen:

Provided that, where particulars have been duly supplied by a proprietor on the grant of a licence for an omnibus, particulars need not be supplied by him on the grant of a licence for any other omnibus belonging to him which is granted within a period of one year after the date of the first-mentioned licence.

(3) If any person refuses or neglects to supply any particulars which he is required to supply under this section, or knowingly supplies any particulars which are false in any material respect, he shall be liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding one hundred pounds, or in the case of a continuing offence to a fine not exceeding twenty pounds for every day during which the offence continues.

(4) All particulars required to be supplied under this section shall be treated as confidential except where the person supplying the same otherwise agrees, or where the Minister considers that it is in the public interest that they should be included in a report to Parliament under this Act, or where the Minister considers that the disclosure of the same is requisite for the purposes of any inquiry under this Act, or, in cases where legal proceedings are taken, for the purpose of those proceedings.

If any person discloses or publishes, in contravention of this subsection, any particulars which are to be treated as confidential, he shall be liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding one hundred pounds.

Section 15.

Expenses.

15. All expenses incurred in connection with the execution of powers and duties under this Act by the Minister or the Advisory Committee or the members thereof (including the remuneration of any officers and servants of the Ministry of Transport placed at the disposal of the Committee by the Minister, or such apportioned part of such remuneration as the Treasury may determine to be proper) shall, to such amount as may be sanctioned by the Treasury, be defrayed out of the Road Fund.

Definitions.

16. For the purposes of this Act, unless the context otherwise requires—

The expressions "street" and "road" respectively include any highway and any bridge carrying a highway, and any lane, mews, footway, square, court, alley or passage whether a thoroughfare or not;

The expression "road authority" in relation to any street or road means the county council, the common council of the City of London, the borough council or district council, as the case may be, for the time being charged with the duty of maintaining or repairing the street or road (a);

The expression "borough" includes "metropolitan borough";

The expression "omnibus" includes every omnibus, char-a-banc, wagonette, brake, stage-coach, or other carriage not being a trolley vehicle or tramway car plying for hire by, or used to carry, passengers at separate fares;

The expression "trolley vehicle" means a mechanically propelled vehicle adapted for use upon roads without rails and moved by power transmitted thereto from some external source;

The expression "tramway car" includes any carriage used on any street or road in the London traffic area by virtue of an order made under the Light Railways Act, 1896;

The expression "licensing authority" in relation to omnibuses within the area comprising the City of London and the metropolitan police district means any authority appointed by the Secretary of State for the purpose under the Metropolitan Public Carriages Act, 1869;

32 & 33 Vict. c. 115.

The expression "undertakers" includes any local or public authority, company, or individual having powers to break up streets for the purposes of any sewerage system or any water, gas, electricity, tramway, or other undertaking;

The expression "proprietor" in relation to any omnibus includes a person having the use of an omnibus under a hiring or hire-purchase agreement.

(a) The county council will therefore be the "road authority" in respect of all "county roads" except those claimed by an urban district council under s. 32 of the L. G. A., 1929, ante, p. 1891.

Short title and commencement.

17.—(1) This Act may be cited as the London Traffic Act, 1924, and shall come into operation on the appointed day, and the appointed day shall be such day not being later than the first day of October, nineteen hundred and twenty-four, as the Minister may by order appoint (a), and different days may be appointed for different purposes and for different provisions of this Act.

(2) This Act shall continue in force until the first day of December, nineteen hundred and twenty-eight (b):

Provided that the expiration of this Act shall not affect any penalty, forfeiture, or punishment previously incurred under this Act or under any regulations made under this Act, or affect any legal proceeding or remedy in respect of any such penalty, forfeiture, or punishment, and any such legal proceeding or remedy may be instituted, or continued, or enforced, and such

Section 17. penalty, forfeiture, or punishment may be imposed as if this Act had not expired.

(a) See the London Traffic Act (Appointed Days) Order, 1924 (S. R. & O., No. 982), referred to in note (a) to s. 1, ante, p. 2852.

(b) The Act is continued to September 31st, 1931, by the Expiring Laws Continuance Act, 1928 (19 Geo. 5, c. 3).

SECOND SCHEDULE.

Sections 1, 2.

PARTICULAR MATTERS WHICH MAY BE REFERRED TO THE ADVISORY COMMITTEE.

PART I.

Matters in respect of which the additional members are to form part of the Advisory Committee.

(a) The co-ordination of all or any of the various forms of transport services, and co-operation between the persons operating the same or different forms of transport services with a view to the combined operation of all means of transport in the London Traffic Area in the best interests of the public;

(b) The causes tending to hinder the free circulation of traffic on streets in the London Traffic Area and the measures to be adopted to remove such causes or to minimise their effects;

(c) The desirability of the revision, simplification, codification and extension of existing enactments, orders, regulations and byelaws, and of the initiation of new legislation, with regard to or affecting traffic on streets in the London Traffic Area;

(d) The making of new orders, byelaws and regulations (including the fixing of speed limits) relating to traffic on streets in the London Traffic Area;

(e) The provision of sufficient headroom in the construction of new bridges over streets, and the proper marking and lighting of structures across streets which do not provide sufficient headroom;

(f) The comparative desirability of different forms of transport services in various circumstances either generally or in particular localities, or in any specific case.

PART II.

Matters in respect of which the additional members are, if the Minister so directs, to form part of the Advisory Committee.

(g) The development, improvement, or extension of the existing system of road communication within the London Traffic Area;

(h) New transport systems or developments or extensions of existing systems proposed to be established or carried out within the London Traffic Area;

(i) The exercise of any of the powers of the Minister from whatsoever source derived in relation to traffic on streets in the London Traffic Area, with the exception of any matters dealt with by him in virtue of section seven of this Act.

PART III.

Matters in respect of which the additional members are not to form part of the Advisory Committee.

(j) The formulation of proposals for the equitable distribution amongst the various road authorities in the London Traffic Area of the cost of any scheme of road development, improvement or extension.

Sched. III.

Section 10.

THIRD SCHEDULE.

PURPOSES OR MATTERS FOR OR WITH RESPECT TO WHICH REGULATIONS MAY BE MADE BY THE MINISTER.

(1) For prescribing the routes to be followed by all classes of traffic, or of any particular class or classes of traffic or vehicles, from one specified point to another, either generally or between any specified times.

(2) For the prescribing streets which are not to be used for traffic by vehicles of any specified class or classes, either generally or at specified times.

(3) For regulating the relative position in the roadway of traffic of differing speeds or types.

(4) For prescribing the places where vehicles or vehicles of any particular class or description may not turn so as to face in the opposite direction to that in which they were proceeding, or where they may only so turn under conditions prescribed by the regulations (a).

(5) For prescribing the conditions subject to which, and the times at which, articles of exceptionally heavy weight or exceptionally large dimensions may be carried by road (a).

(6) For prescribing the number and maximum size and weight of trailers which may be drawn on streets by vehicles or vehicles of any particular class or description either generally or on streets of any class or description, and for prescribing that a man should be carried on the trailer or, where more than one trailer is drawn, on the rear trailer for signalling to the driver.

(7) For prescribing the conditions subject to which, and the times at which, articles may be loaded on to or unloaded from vehicles, or vehicles of any particular class or description, on streets (b).

(8) For prescribing the conditions subject to which, and the times at which, vehicles, or vehicles of any particular class or description, delivering or collecting goods or merchandise, or delivering goods or merchandise of any particular class or classes, may stand in streets, or in streets of any class or description, or in specified streets.

(9) For prescribing the conditions subject to which, and the time at which, vehicles, or vehicles of any particular class or description, may be used on streets for collecting refuse (c).

(10) For prescribing rules as to precedence to be observed as between vehicles proceeding in the same direction, or in opposite directions, or when crossing.

(11) For prescribing the conditions subject to which, and the times at which, horses, cattle, sheep and other animals may be led or driven on streets within the Metropolitan police district and the city of London.

(12) For requiring the erection, exhibition, and removal of traffic notices, and as to the form, plan, and character of such notices (d).

(13) Broken down vehicles (e).

(14) Vehicles, or vehicles of any particular class or description, when unattended.

(15) Places in streets where vehicles, or vehicles of any particular class or description, may, or may not, wait either generally or at particular times (f).

(16) Cab ranks and ranks and stopping places of omnibuses and other public conveyances.

(17) Cabs and hackney carriages not hired and being in a street elsewhere than on a cab rank (g).

(18) For restricting the use of vehicles and animals, and of sandwichmen and other persons, in streets for the purposes of advertisement of such a nature or in such a manner as to be likely to be a source of danger or to cause obstruction to traffic (a).

(19) The lighting and guarding of street works (h).

(20) The erection or placing or the removal of any works or objects likely to hinder the free circulation of traffic in any street, or likely to occasion danger to passengers or vehicles.

(21) Queues of persons waiting in streets.

(22) Priority of entry to public vehicles.

(23) For enabling any police, local or other public authority, in the event of any person failing to do anything which under the regulations he ought to have done, to do such act, and to recover the expenses thereof from the person so in default summarily as a civil debt.

(a) See, hereon, the London Traffic (Reversing in Streets, Advertising in Streets, and Exceptional Loads) Regulations, 1928, S. R. & O., 1928, No. 87.

(b) See, hereon, the London Traffic (Loading and Unloading of Vehicles) Regulations, 1928, S. R. & O., 1928, No. 443.

(c) See hereon the London Traffic (Collection of Refuse) Regulations, 1927, S. R. & O. 1927, No. 101. These regulations apply only to certain streets specified therein.

(d) See hereon the London Traffic (Traffic Notices) Regulations, 1927, S. R. & O., 1927, No. 804.

(e) See hereon the London Traffic (Broken Down Vehicles) Regulations, 1925, S. R. & O., 1925, No. 906.

(f) Under this heading have been made the London Traffic (Parking Places) Regulations, 1925 (S. R. & O., 1925, No. 905) and 1928 (S. R. & O., 1928, No. 27), which prescribe a number of places in the area where cars may be parked. It should be noted that s. 68, Public Health Act, 1925, ante, p. 1611, does not enable a local authority to appoint as a parking place any street within the London Traffic Area.

(g) See hereon the London Traffic (Unhired Cabs) Regulations, 1927, S. R. & O., 1927, No. 786.

(h) Under this heading has been made the London Traffic (Lighting and Guarding of Street Works) Regulations, 1927 (S. R. & O., 1927, No. 57), set out in App. II. at p. 3740, post, which are effective throughout the whole of the area.

NATIONAL HEALTH INSURANCE ACT, 1924.

(14 & 15 GEO. 5, c. 38.)

An Act to consolidate the enactments relating to National Health Insurance (a).
[7th August, 1924.]

(a) Considerations of space prohibit any attempt to deal with the scheme of National Insurance embodied in this Act and the Widows, Orphans, and Old Age Contributory Pensions Act, 1925. Upon questions arising as to the general administration of those Acts, e.g., as to what employees of a local authority must, or need not, be insured, reference should be made to a text book upon the subject. It may be mentioned here, however, that s. 1 and Sched. I., Part I (d), provides that there shall be included among the classes of employment within this Act employment under any local or other public authority except such as may be excluded by a special order. See hereon the Employment under Local, etc., Authorities Order, 1924, and the Subsidiary Employments Consolidated Order, 1924, Sched. I., Part III. Certificates of exemption in respect of certain employees may be obtained under Sched. I., Part II. (b) of this Act, and s. 15 of the 1925 Act. The few sections set out on the following pages are those relating to the power of local authorities to contribute money for certain purposes, and their liabilities in the case of "excessive sickness" within their area.

* * * * * *

Powers and duties of insurance committees.

50.—(1) An insurance committee shall, in addition to the other powers and duties conferred and imposed on them by this Act, have the following powers and duties:—

(a) They shall make such reports as to the health of insured persons within the county or county borough as the Minister may prescribe, and shall furnish to him such statistical and other returns as he may require, and may make to him such other reports on the health of those persons and the conditions affecting the same, and may make such suggestions with regard thereto as they may think fit, and the reports and returns so made shall include such reports and returns as will enable an analysis and classification to be made of the persons who are deposit contributors (a):

(b) They shall make such provision for the giving of lectures and the publication of information on questions relating to health as they think necessary or desirable, and may, if they think fit, for that purpose make arrangements with local education authorities, universities and other institutions (b).

(2) For the purpose of assisting insurance committees in the exercise and performance of their powers and duties under this Act, and with a view to promoting co-operation between such committees and the councils of counties, boroughs, and urban and rural districts, any medical officer of health may, at the request of an insurance committee and with the consent (c) of the council by whom he is appointed, attend meetings of the committee and give such advice and assistance as is in his power.

(3) The Minister shall forward copies of any reports, returns, and suggestions made under this section to the councils of the counties, boroughs, and urban and rural districts, which appear to him to be affected thereby or interested therein.

(4) For the purposes of this section, the expression "council of a borough" includes the mayor, aldermen and commons of the City of London in common council assembled, and the council of a metropolitan borough.

(a) Copies of such reports, etc., if affecting local authorities will be supplied to them by the Minister (sub-s. (3)).

(b) Local authorities have similar powers under s. 67, P. H. Act, 1925, ante, p. 1611, and joint arrangements with insurance committees for the purpose might be possible under this section, as a form of the co-operation referred to in the next subsection.

(c) The medical officer of health must obtain the consent of the council before attending meetings of the insurance committees.

* * * * * *

Provision of funds for insurance committees.

83.—(4) It shall be lawful for any local authority, out of any fund or rate out of which the expenses of the authority are payable, to subscribe such sums as they may think fit towards the general purposes of the insurance committee (a).

(a) As to the expenses of insurance committees and their power to subscribe to the funds of any association of insurance committees, see s. 87.

* * * * * *

Contributions by local authorities towards medical benefit.

85.—(1) If in any year the amount payable to an insurance committee in respect of all persons for the administration of whose medical benefit (a) they are responsible is insufficient to meet the estimated expenditure thereon, the committee may, through the Minister, transmit to the Treasury and to the council of the county or county borough an account showing the amount so payable and the estimated expenditure, and the Treasury and the council of the county or county borough may, if they think fit and if satisfied that the amounts so payable and the proposed expenditure are reasonable and proper in the circumstances, sanction the expenditure.

(2) The Treasury and the council of the county or county borough sanctioning any such expenditure as aforesaid shall thereupon each be liable to make good, in the case of the Treasury out of moneys provided by Parliament, and in the case of the council of a county or county borough, out of the county fund or borough fund or borough rate (b), as the case may be, one-half of any sums so sanctioned by them and expended by the insurance committee on medical benefit in the course of the year in excess of the amounts so payable to the insurance committee as aforesaid (c).

(3) The council of any borough or urban or rural district may agree (d) with the council of the county in which the borough or district is situate to repay to the council of the county the whole or any part of the sums payable by that council in accordance with the provisions of this section towards the excess expenditure on medical benefit so far as that excess is properly attributable to the borough or district, and any sums payable by the council of the borough or district in pursuance of such an agreement shall be payable, in the case of a borough, out of the borough fund or borough rate (b), and, in any other case, as part of the general expenses incurred by the council in the execution of the Public Health Acts (e).

(4) An agreement under this section may provide that the county council shall not raise any sum on account of any expenditure incurred by them under this section for the purpose to which the agreement relates within the area of any borough or urban or rural district the council of which has entered into such agreement, during the continuance of the agreement.

(a) Medical benefits under the Acts are in all cases to be administered by and through the various Insurance Committees (s. 12 (1)). "Medical benefit" means medical treatment and attendance, including the provision of proper and sufficient medicines, and such medical and surgical appliances as may be prescribed by regulations (s. 10 (1) and (2)).

(b) Now the general rate fund or general rate. See the R. & V. Act, 1925, ante, p. 1633.

(c) See sub-s. (3), as to the power of borough and district councils to contribute towards such excess expenditure.

(d) By making such an agreement a healthy district will be able to avoid contributing through the county rate to expenses incurred in treating patients from less healthy districts, if a clause on the lines of sub-s. (4) is included.

(e) I.e. under s. 207 or 229 of the P. H. Acts, 1875, as amended by the R. & V. Act, 1925, ante, pp. 495, 514.

* * * * * *

Inquiries into causes of excessive sickness (a).

107.—(1) Where it is alleged by any approved society or insurance committee that the sickness which has taken place among any insured persons, being persons for the administration of whose sickness and disablement benefits the society is or committee are responsible, is excessive, and that the excess is due to—

(a) the conditions or nature of employment of those persons; or

(b) bad housing or insanitary conditions in any locality; or

(c) an insufficient or contaminated water supply; or

(d) neglect on the part of any person or authority to observe or enforce the provisions of any Act relating to the health of workers in factories, workshops, mines, quarries or other industries, or relating to public health or the housing of the working classes, or any regulations made under any such Act, or to observe or enforce any public health precautions, the society or committee making the allegation may send to the person or authority alleged to be in default a claim for the payment of the amount of any extra expenditure alleged to have been incurred by reason of such cause as aforesaid, and if the society or committee and the person or authority fail to arrive at any agreement on the subject, may refer the matter, with a statement in support of the allegation, to the Minister, and if the Minister is of opinion that a primâ facie case for an inquiry is disclosed, he may appoint a competent person to hold an inquiry:

Provided that, if the excess is alleged to be due to neglect to observe or enforce the provisions of any Act for the administration of which the Secretary of State or the Board of Trade is responsible, the Minister shall refer the matter to the Secretary of State or to the Board of Trade, as the case may be, and thereupon the Secretary of State or the Board of Trade, as the case may be, may appoint a competent person to hold an inquiry.

(2) If the Minister is of opinion that the sickness which has taken place among any insured persons is excessive, and it appears to him that the excess is, or may be, due to any of the causes set out in subsection (1) of this section, he may make a claim in the same manner as a society or committee

Section 107. under that subsection, and on failure to arrive at any agreement with the person or authority may cause an inquiry to be held as provided in that subsection.

(3) If, upon any inquiry being held, it is proved to the satisfaction of the person holding the inquiry that the amount of sickness has, during a period of not less than three years next before the date of the inquiry, or where there has been an outbreak of any epidemic, endemic or infectious disease, during any less period, been in excess of the amount of sickness which, in the opinion of the person holding the inquiry, would have occurred if there had been no default by any person or authority as aforesaid, the amount of that extra expenditure found by the person holding the inquiry to have been, by reason of the default, incurred under this Act—

(a) where the claim is made by the Minister, by any societies or committees; or

(b) where the allegation is made by a society or committee, by the society or committee in question, shall be ordered by the person holding the inquiry to be made good in accordance with the following provisions :—

(i) Where the excess is due to the conditions or nature of the employment or to any neglect on the part of any employer to observe or enforce any such Act or regulation as aforesaid, it shall be made good by the employer :

(ii) Where the excess is due to bad housing or insanitary conditions in the locality, or to any neglect on the part of any local authority to observe or enforce any such Act or regulation or such precautions as aforesaid, it shall be made good by such local authority as appears to the person holding the inquiry to have been in default, or if due to the insanitary condition of any particular premises, shall be made good either by the authority or by the owner, lessee or occupier of the premises who is proved to the satisfaction of the person holding the inquiry to be responsible :

(iii) Where the excess is due to an insufficient or contaminated water supply, it shall be made good by the local authority, company or person by whom the water is supplied, or who having imposed upon them the duty of affording a water supply have refused or neglected to do so, unless the local authority, company or person prove that the insufficiency or contamination was not due to any default on the part of the authority, company or person, but arose from circumstances over which they had no control.

(4) Where any such inquiry as aforesaid is held in respect of bad housing or insanitary conditions in any locality, it shall be lawful for the local authority to serve notice upon the owner, lessee or occupier of any premises which are the subject-matter of the inquiry, and where it is proved that such a notice has been served and that any such extra expenditure as aforesaid, or any part thereof, has been caused by the act or default of the owner, lessee or occupier, the person holding the inquiry may order the owner, lessee or occupier to repay to the local authority the amount of the extra expenditure or part thereof which has been so caused.

(5) Regulations shall be made as to the procedure on inquiries under this section, and a person holding an inquiry under this section shall have all such powers as an inspector has for the purposes of an inquiry under the Public Health Acts, and shall have power to order how and by what parties costs, including such expenses as the Minister or the Secretary of State or the Board of Trade may certify to have been incurred by him or them, are to be paid, and any order so made may, by leave of the High Court, be enforced in the same manner as a judgment or order of the High Court to the same effect:

Provided that a society or committee shall not be ordered to pay the costs of the other party to the inquiry if the person holding the inquiry certifies that the demand for an inquiry was reasonable under the circumstances, and, where he so certifies, the Treasury may repay to the society or committee the whole or any part of the costs incurred by them.

(6) Without prejudice to any other method of recovery, any sum ordered under this section to be paid by a local authority may in accordance with regulations, and subject to the approval of the Treasury, be paid out of the Local Taxation Account and deducted from any sums payable either directly or indirectly out of that account to the local authority (b).

(7) For the purposes of this section, any expenditure on any benefit administered by an insurance committee shall be deemed to be expenditure of that committee, but any sums paid to any such committee under this section to meet extra expenditure on sickness benefit or disablement benefit shall be dealt with for the benefit of deposit contributors in accordance with regulations.

(8) Where under this section any sum is paid to the Minister, he shall apply the same in discharge of any expenses incurred by him under this section and shall distribute the balance among the societies and committees which appear to him to have incurred extra expenditure on account of the excessive sickness, in such proportions as he may think just.

(9) Where an association of deposit contributors resident in any county or county borough has been formed under regulations, the insurance committee for the county or county borough shall, if so required by the association, take proceedings under this section on behalf and at the expense of the association.

(a) This section imposes a serious liability upon local authorities, property owners and employers of labour, who may be called upon to indemnify the societies or committees whose funds have been drained by preventible illness.

(b) This subsection is repealed by Sch. XII. Pt. VI. of the L.G.A., 1929, consequent upon the winding up of the Local Taxation Account under s. 85, ibid., ante, p. 1948. Reference may be made to s. 104, ibid., ante, p. 1965, which enables the Minister to reduce the grants payable to local authorities under Pt. VI. of that Act in certain circumstances.

TRUSTEE ACT, 1925.

(15 GEO. 5, C. 19.)

An Act to consolidate certain enactments relating to trustees in England and Wales (a). [9th April, 1925.]

(a) Only those parts of this Act which affect local authorities are set out here.

PART I.

INVESTMENTS.

Authorised investments (a).

1.—(1) A trustee (b) may invest any trust funds in his hands, whether at the time in a state of investment or not, in manner following, that is to say:

(a) In any of the parliamentary stocks or public funds or Government securities of the United Kingdom;

Section 1.

(b) On real or heritable securities in the United Kingdom, including the security of a charge on freehold land by way of legal mortgage and a charge under section thirty-three of the Finance Act, 1896;

(c) In the stock of the Bank of England or the Bank of Ireland;

(d) In India Seven, Five and a half, Four and a half, Three and a half, Three and Two and a half per cent. stock, or in any other capital stock which may at any time be issued by the Secretary of State in Council of India under the authority of any Act of Parliament, and charged on the revenues of India, or any other securities the interest in sterling whereon is payable out of and charged on the revenues of India;

(e) In any securities the interest of which is for the time being guaranteed by Parliament;

(f) In consolidated stock created by the Metropolitan Board of Works, or by the London County Council, or in debenture stock created by the Receiver for the Metropolitan Police District, or in metropolitan water stock (c);

(g) In the debenture or rentcharge, or guaranteed or preference, stock of any railway company in the United Kingdom incorporated by special Act of Parliament, and having during each of the ten years last past before the date of investment paid a dividend at the rate of not less than three per centum on its ordinary stock (d);

(h) In the stock of any railway or canal company in the United Kingdom whose undertaking is leased in perpetuity or for a term of not less than two hundred years at a fixed rental to any such railway company as is mentioned in paragraph (g) of this subsection, either alone or jointly with any other railway company;

(i) In the debenture stock of any company owning or operating a railway in India the interest in sterling on which is paid or guaranteed by the Secretary of State in Council of India;

(j) In the "B" annuities of the Eastern Bengal, the East Indian, the Scinde Punjaub and Delhi, Great Indian Peninsula and Madras Railways, or in any securities substituted therefor, and any like annuities which may at any time after the commencement of this Act be created on the purchase of any other railway by the Secretary of State in Council of India, and charged on the revenues of India, and which may be authorised by Act of Parliament to be accepted by trustees in lieu of any stock held by them in the purchased railway; also in deferred annuities comprised in the register of holders of annuity Class D and annuities comprised in the register of annuitants Class C of the East Indian Railway Company;

(k) In the stock of any company owning or operating a railway in India upon which a fixed or minimum dividend in sterling is paid or guaranteed by the Secretary of State in Council of India, or upon the capital of which the interest is so guaranteed;

(l) In the debenture or guaranteed or preference stock of any company in the United Kingdom established for the supply of water for profit, and incorporated by special Act of Parliament or by Royal Charter, and having during each of the ten years last past before the date of investment paid a dividend of not less than five per centum on its ordinary stock;

(m) In nominal or inscribed stock issued, or to be issued, under the authority of any Act of Parliament or Provisional Order, by the corporation of any municipal borough in the United Kingdom having, according to the returns of the last census prior to the date of investment, a population exceeding fifty thousand, or by any county council in the United Kingdom (e);

(n) In nominal or inscribed stock issued or to be issued by any commissioners incorporated by Act of Parliament for the purpose of supplying water, and having a compulsory power of levying rates over an area having according to the returns of the last census prior to the date of investment a population exceeding fifty thousand, provided that during each of the ten years last past before the date of investment the rates levied by such commissioners have not exceeded eighty per centum of the amount authorised by law to be levied;

(o) In any stocks, funds, or securities authorised under the Colonial Stock Act, 1900 (f), or any Act extending the same, but subject to any restrictions thereby imposed;

(p) In any local bonds issued under the Housing (Additional Powers) Act, 1919, and mortgages of any fund or rate granted after the passing of that Act under the authority of any Act or Provisional Order by a local authority (including a county council) which is authorised to issue local bonds under that Act (g);

(q) In any stock or securities issued in respect of any loan raised by the Government of Northern Ireland;

(r) In any of the stocks, funds, or securities for the time being authorised for the investment of cash under the control or subject to the order of the court (h); and may also from time to time vary any such investment.

(2) For the purposes of this section—

(a) the London and North Eastern Railway Company, the Southern Railway Company, the London Midland and Scottish Railway Company, and the Great Western Railway Company shall each be treated as if it were a railway company in Great Britain incorporated by a special Act of Parliament which had in each of the ten years immediately before the date of amalgamation paid a dividend at a rate of not less than three per centum on its ordinary stock, and, for the purposes of this provision the date of amalgamation means—

(i) as respects the London and North Eastern Railway Company and the Southern Railway Company the first day of January, nineteen hundred and twenty-three; and

(ii) as respects the London Midland and Scottish Railway Company and the Great Western Railway Company the first day of July, nineteen hundred and twenty-three;

(b) a railway or canal company in Northern Ireland whose system is situate partly in Northern Ireland and partly in the Irish Free State shall not be deemed to be a railway or canal company in Northern Ireland.

(a) See also the following sections, and the definition in s. 68, post, p. 2874.

(b) See as to the application of this section to local authorities s. 7, Trust Investment Act, 1889, set out in note (h) to s. 234, P. H. A., 1875, at p. 528, ante.

(c) By the Metropolis Water Act, 1902, s. 17 (4), a water stock created under that Act is included amongst securities in which a trustee may invest.

(d) See hereon sub-s. (2), post, and In re Tattersall, Topham v. Armitage, [1906] 2 Ch. 399; 70 J. P. 537.

(e) The census returns for 1901 gave the population of B. as 47,003. A footnote stated that, since the date of the actual census, the borough had been extended so as to include some extra parishes adding "the figures at the date of the census were as follows:—B. (C.B.) 59,762." It was held that B. was a borough "having, according to the returns of the last census" a population exceeding 50,000 (In re Druitt, Druitt v. Dehler, [1903] 1 Ch. 446; 67 J. P. 99).

Note to Section 1.

(f) Under the Colonial Stock Act, 1900, s. 2, trustees may invest in Colonial stocks registered in the United Kingdom in accordance with the provisions of the Colonial Stock Acts, 1877 to 1900, and with respect to which there have been observed such conditions (if any) as the Treasury may by order notified in the London Gazette prescribe.

(g) This provision reproduces s. 9 of the Housing (Additional Powers) Act, 1919, which was repealed by s. 70 and Sched. II. of this Act.

Local Bonds are now issued under s. 87, Housing Act, 1925 (ante, p. 1453) which reproduces s. 7 of the Housing (Additional) Powers Act, 1919.

(h) As to this, see R. S. C., Order XXII., r. 17.

Purchase at a premium of redeemable stocks; change of character of investment.

2.—(1) A trustee may under the powers of this Act invest in any of the securities mentioned or referred to in section one of this Act, notwithstanding that the same may be redeemable, and that the price exceeds the redemption value.

Provided that, in the case of any stock mentioned or referred to in paragraphs (g), (i), (k), (l), (m), (o), (p) and (q) of subsection (1) of section one of this Act, which is liable to be redeemed at par or at some other fixed rate, a trustee shall not be entitled to purchase the stock—

(a) at a price exceeding fifteen per centum above par or such other fixed rate; nor

(b) if the stock is liable to be so redeemed as aforesaid within fifteen years of the date of purchase, at a price exceeding its redemption value.

(2) A trustee may retain until redemption any redeemable stock, fund, or security which may have been purchased in accordance with the powers of this Act, or any statute replaced by this Act.

Discretion of trustees.

3. Every power conferred by the preceding sections shall be exercised according to the discretion of the trustee, but subject to any consent or direction required by the instrument, if any, creating the trust or by statute with respect to the investment of the trust funds.

Power to retain investment which has ceased to be authorised.

4. A trustee shall not be liable for breach of trust by reason only of his continuing to hold an investment which has ceased to be an investment authorised by the trust instrument or by the general law.

* * * * * *

Investment in bearer securities.

7.—(1) A trustee may, unless expressly prohibited by the instrument creating the trust, retain or invest in securities payable to bearer which, if not so payable, would have been authorised investments:

Provided that securities to bearer retained or taken as an investment by a trustee (not being a trust corporation) shall, until sold, be deposited by him for safe custody and collection of income with a banker or banking company.

A direction that investments shall be retained or made in the name or a trustee shall not, for the purposes of this subsection, be deemed to be such an express prohibition as aforesaid.

(2) A trustee shall not be responsible for any loss incurred by reason of such deposit, and any sum payable in respect of such deposit and collection shall be paid out of the income of the trust property.

* * * * * *

Definitions.

68. In this Act, unless the context otherwise requires, the following expressions have the meanings hereby assigned to them respectively, that is to say:—

(1) "Authorised investments" mean investments authorised by the instrument, if any, creating the trust for the investment of money subject to the trust, or by law;

* * * * * *

(5) "Instrument" includes Act of Parliament;

* * * * * *

(13) "Securities" include stocks, funds, and shares; and so far as relates to payments into court has the same meaning as in the enactments relating to funds in the Supreme Court and "securities payable to bearer" include securities transferable by delivery or by delivery and endorsement;

(14) "Stock" includes fully paid up shares, and so far as relates to vesting orders made by the court under this Act, includes any fund, annuity, or security transferable in books kept by any company or society, or by instrument of transfer either alone or accompanied by other formalities, and any share or interest therein;

* * * * * *

(16) "Transfer" in relation to stock or securities, includes the performance and execution of every deed, power of attorney, act, and thing on the part of the transferor to effect and complete the title in the transferee;

(17) "Trust" does not include the duties incident to an estate conveyed by way of mortgage, but with this exception the expressions "trust" and "trustee" extend to implied and constructive trusts, and to cases where the trustee has a beneficial interest in the trust property, and to the duties incident to the office of a personal representative, and "trustee" where the context admits, includes a personal representative, and "new trustee" includes an additional trustee;

* * * * * *

(20) "United Kingdom" means Great Britain and Northern Ireland.

* * * * * *

Enactments repealed.

70. The Acts mentioned in the Second Schedule to this Act are hereby repealed to the extent specified in the third column of that Schedule:

Provided that, without prejudice to the provisions of section thirty-eight of the Interpretation Act, 1889:

(a) Nothing in this repeal shall affect any vesting order or appointment made or other thing done under any enactment so repealed, and any order or appointment so made may be revoked or varied in like manner as if it had been made under this Act;

(b) References in any document to any enactment repealed by this Act shall be construed as references to this Act or to the corresponding enactment in this Act.

Section 1.

LAW OF PROPERTY ACT, 1925.

(15 GEO. 5, c. 20.)

An Act to consolidate the enactments relating to conveyancing and the Law of Property in England and Wales (a). [9th April, 1925.]

(a) This Act came into force on January 1st, 1926. Its provisions as a whole are beyond the scope of this book, and only those sections which directly affect local authorities have been included in this volume.

* * * * * *

Saving of certain legal estates and statutory powers.

7.—(1) A fee simple which, by virtue of the Lands Clauses Acts, the School Sites Acts, or any similar statute, is liable to be divested, is for the purposes of this Act a fee simple absolute, and remains liable to be divested as if this Act had not been passed (a) [and a fee simple subject to a legal or equitable right of entry or re-entry is for the purposes of this Act a fee simple absolute] (b).

(2) A fee simple vested in a corporation which is liable to determine by reason of the dissolution of the corporation is, for the purposes of this Act, a fee simple absolute.

(3) The provisions of—

(a) the Forfeiture Act, 1870, in regard to the land of a convict;

(b) the Friendly Societies Act, 1896, in regard to land to which that Act applies;

(c) any other statutes conferring special facilities or prescribing special modes (whether by way of registered memorial or otherwise) for disposing of or acquiring land, or providing for the vesting (by conveyance or otherwise) of the land in trustees or any person, or the holder for the time being of an office or any corporation sole or aggregate (including the Crown) (c); shall remain in full force.

This subsection does not authorise an entailed interest to take effect otherwise than as an equitable interest.

(4) Where any such power for disposing of or creating a legal estate is exercisable by a person who is not the estate owner, the power shall, when practicable, be exercised in the name and on behalf of the estate owner.

(a) This subsection relates to superfluous lands under s. 127, L. C. A., 1845, which is not incorporated with the P. H. A., 1875.

(b) The words in brackets were added by s. 7 and the Schedule to the Law of Property (Amendment) Act, 1926, to remove doubts which had arisen, and take effect from January 1st, 1926.

(c) This provision continues in force the provisions of the L. C. A., 1845, as to vesting land by deed poll, viz. ss. 75 and 77, ante, pp. 2112 and 2113.

* * * * * *

Construction of expressions used in deeds and other instruments.

61. In all deeds, contracts, wills, orders and other instruments executed, made or coming into operation after the commencement of this Act, unless the context otherwise requires—

(a) "Month" means calendar month;

(b) "Person" includes a corporation;

(c) The singular includes the plural and vice versâ;

(d) The masculine includes the feminine and vice versâ.

* * * * * *

Execution of instruments by or on behalf of corporations (a).

74.—(1) In favour of a purchaser a deed shall be deemed to have been duly executed by a corporation aggregate if its seal be affixed thereto in the presence of and attested by its clerk, secretary or other permanent officer or his deputy,

Section 74.

and a member of the board of directors, council or other governing body of the corporation, and where a seal purporting to be the seal of a corporation has been affixed to a deed, attested by persons purporting to be persons holding such offices as aforesaid, the deed shall be deemed to have been executed in accordance with the requirements of this section, and to have taken effect accordingly.

(2) The board of directors, council or other governing body of a corporation aggregate may, by resolution or otherwise, appoint an agent either generally or in any particular case, to execute on behalf of the corporation any agreement or other instrument not under seal in relation to any matter within the powers of the corporation.

(3) Where a person is authorised under a power of attorney or under any statutory or other power to convey any interest in property in the name or on behalf of a corporation sole or aggregate, he may as attorney execute the conveyance by signing the name of the corporation in the presence of at least one witness, and in the case of a deed by affixing his own seal, and such execution shall take effect and be valid in like manner as if the corporation had executed the conveyance.

(4) Where a corporation aggregate is authorised under a power of attorney or under any statutory or other power to convey any interest in property in the name or on behalf of any other person (including another corporation), an officer appointed for that purpose by the board of directors, council or other governing body of the corporation by resolution or otherwise, may execute the deed or other instrument in the name of such other person; and where an instrument appears to be executed by an officer so appointed, then in favour of a purchaser the instrument shall be deemed to have been executed by an officer duly authorised.

(5) The foregoing provisions of this section apply to transactions wherever effected, but only to deeds and instruments executed after the commencement of this Act, except that, in the case of powers or appointments of an agent or officer, they apply whether the power was conferred or the appointment was made before or after the commencement of this Act or by this Act.

(6) Notwithstanding anything contained in this section, any mode of execution or attestation authorised by law or by practice or by the statute, charter, memorandum or articles, deed of settlement or other instrument constituting the corporation or regulating the affairs thereof, shall (in addition to the modes authorised by this section) be as effectual as if this section had not been passed.

* * * * * *

(a) This section applies only to deeds and instruments executed after January 1st, 1926 (sub-s. (5)). The provisions of this section are alternative and additional to those laid down in any statute affecting a corporation (sub-s. (6)).

Power to discharge or modify restrictive covenants affecting land (a).

84.—(1) The Authority (b) hereinafter defined shall (without prejudice to any concurrent jurisdiction of the court) have power from time to time, on the application of any person interested in any freehold land affected by any restriction arising under covenant or otherwise as to the user thereof or the building thereon, by order wholly or partially to discharge or modify any such restriction (subject or not to the payment by the applicant of compensation to any person suffering loss in consequence of the order) on being satisfied—

(a) that by reason of changes in the character of the property or the neighbourhood or other circumstances of the case which the Authority may deem material, the restriction ought to be deemed obsolete, or that the continued existence thereof would impede the reasonable

user of the land for public or private purposes without securing practical benefits to other persons, or, as the case may be, would unless modified so impede such user; or

(b) that the persons of full age and capacity for the time being or from time to time entitled to the benefit of the restriction, whether in respect of estates in fee simple or any lesser estates or interests in the property to which the benefit of the restriction is annexed, have agreed, either expressly or by implication, by their acts or omissions, to the same being discharged or modified; or

(c) that the proposed discharge or modification will not injure the persons entitled to the benefit of the restriction:

Provided that no compensation shall be payable in respect of the discharge or modification of a restriction by reason of any advantage thereby accruing to the owner of the land affected by the restriction, unless the person entitled to the benefit of the restriction also suffers loss in consequence of the discharge or modification, nor shall any compensation be payable in excess of such loss; but this provision shall not affect any right to compensation where the person claiming the compensation proves that by reason of the imposition of the restriction, the amount of the consideration paid for the acquisition of the land was reduced.

(2) The court shall have power on the application of any person interested—

(a) To declare whether or not in any particular case any freehold land is affected by a restriction imposed by any instrument; or

(b) To declare what, upon the true construction of any instrument purporting to impose a restriction, is the nature and extent of the restriction thereby imposed and whether the same is enforceable and if so by whom (c).

(3) The Authority shall, before making any order under this section, direct such enquiries, if any, to be made of any local authority (d), and such notices, if any, whether by way of advertisement or otherwise, to be given to such of the persons who appear to be entitled to the benefit of the restriction intended to be discharged, modified, or dealt with as, having regard to any enquiries notices or other proceedings previously made, given or taken, the Authority may think fit.

(4) The Reference Committee mentioned in this section may make rules in relation to any applications to be made to the Authority under this section, and with the consent of the Treasury may prescribe the fees to be paid in connexion with any application to the Authority (e).

(5) Any order made under this section shall be binding on all persons, whether ascertained or of full age or capacity or not, then entitled or thereafter capable of becoming entitled to the benefit of any restriction, which is thereby discharged, modified, or dealt with, and whether such persons are parties to the proceedings or have been served with notice or not, but any order made by the Authority shall, in accordance with rules of court, be subject to appeal to the court (f).

(6) An order may be made under this section notwithstanding that any instrument which is alleged to impose the restriction intended to be discharged, modified, or dealt with, may not have been produced to the court or the Authority, and the court or the Authority may act on such evidence of that instrument as it may think sufficient.

(7) This section applies to restrictions whether subsisting at the commencement of this Act or imposed thereafter, but this section does not apply where the restriction was imposed on the occasion of a disposition made gratuitously or for a nominal consideration for public purposes (g).

(8) This section applies whether the land affected by the restrictions is registered or not, but, in the case of registered land, the Land Registrar shall give effect on the register to any order under this section when made.

(9) Where any proceedings by action or otherwise are taken to enforce a restrictive covenant, any person against whom the proceedings are taken, may in such proceedings apply to the court for an order giving leave to apply to the Authority under this section, and staying the proceedings in the meantime (h).

(10) In this section " the Authority " means such one or more of the Official Arbitrators appointed for the purposes of the Acquisition of Land (Assessment of Compensation) Act, 1919, as may be selected by the Reference Committee under that Act.

(11) This section does not apply to restrictions imposed by the Commissioners of Works under any statutory power for the protection of any Royal Park or Garden or to restrictions of a like character imposed upon the occasion of any enfranchisement effected before the commencement of this Act in any manor vested in His Majesty in right of the Crown or the Duchy of Lancaster, nor to restrictions created or imposed—

(a) for Naval, Military or Air Force purposes,

(b) for civil aviation purposes under the powers of the Air Navigation Act, 1920.

(12) Where a term of more than seventy years is created in land (whether before or after the commencement of this Act) this section shall, after the expiration of fifty years of the term, apply to restrictions affecting such leasehold land in like manner as it would have applied had the land been freehold:

Provided that this subsection shall not apply to mining leases.

(a) Cf. the provision in s. 102, Housing Act, 1925, ante, p. 1464, enabling the County Court to vary a restrictive covenant so as to permit the conversion of a house into several tenements.

The provision in the text may be of use where the provisions of a town planning scheme run counter to restrictive covenants, and also in cases where a local authority desire to purchase land for purposes restrained by covenants affecting the land. It will not enable a local authority to dispose of restrictive covenants imposed in connection with a gift of land for public purposes (sub-s. (7)).

(b) I.e. an official arbitrator under the Acquisition of Land, etc. Act, 1919 (see the Act set out at pp. 1271, et seq.) (sub-s. (10), infra).

(c) This provision is designed to secure that the scope and validity of a restriction may be ascertained before an inquiry is held under this section. The application is to be made to the Chancery Division by Originating Summons (R. S. C. Order 55, r. 14A).

(d) The local authority are to be consulted before an order is made by the official arbitrator under this section.

(e) As to such appeals, see R. S. C. Order 54D, rr. 3 and 4.

(f) The Law of Property (Restrictive Covenants Discharge and Modification) Rules, 1925, S. R. & O., 1925, No. 1182/L.36, and the Law of Property Restrictive Covenants (Discharge and Modification) Fees Rules, 1925, S. R. & O., 1925, No. 1272/L.48, have been made under this subsection.

(g) E.g. where land is given as a park subject to a covenant that it shall always be used for that purpose.

(h) As to the circumstances under which such a stay will be granted, see Feilden v. Byrne, [1926] Ch. 620, and as to what constitutes an action to enforce a restrictive covenant, see Iveagh v. Harris [1929] 2 Ch. 142.

* * * * * *

Restrictions on the perpetuity rule.

162.—(1) For removing doubts, it is hereby declared that the rule of law relating to perpetuities does not apply and shall be deemed never to have applied—

* * * * * *

(d) To any grant, exception, or reservation of any right of entry on, or user of, the surface of land or of any easements, rights, or privileges over or under land for the purpose of—

* * * * * *

Section 162.

(iv) constructing, laying down, altering, repairing, renewing, cleansing, and maintaining sewers, watercourses, cesspools, gutters, drains, water-pipes, gas-pipes, electric wires or cables or other like works.

(2) This section applies to instruments coming into operation before or after the commencement of this Act.

* * * * * *

Rights of pre-emption capable of release.

186. All statutory and other rights of pre-emption affecting a legal estate shall be and be deemed always to have been capable of release, and unless released shall remain in force as equitable interests only (a).

(a) Statutory rights of pre-emption arise chiefly under Acts relating to the acquisition of land by public bodies, such as local authorities, railway, gas and water, and similar undertakings.

See, for example, The Lands Clauses Act, 1845, s. 128 (ante, p. 2133).

* * * * * *

Commons and Waste Lands.

Rights of the public over commons and waste lands (a).

193.—(1) Members of the public shall, subject as hereinafter provided, have rights of access for air and exercise to any land which is a metropolitan common within the meaning of the Metropolitan Commons Acts, 1866 to 1898, or manorial waste, or a common, which is wholly or partly situated within a borough or urban district, and to any land which at the commencement of this Act is subject to rights of common and to which this section may from time to time be applied in manner hereinafter provided:

Provided that—

(a) such rights of access shall be subject to any Act, scheme, or provisional order for the regulation of the land, and to any byelaw, regulation or order made thereunder or under any other statutory authority; and

(b) the Minister shall, on the application of any person entitled as lord of the manor or otherwise to the soil of the land, or entitled to any commonable rights affecting the land, impose such limitations on and conditions as to the exercise of the rights of access or as to the extent of the land to be affected as, in the opinion of the Minister, are necessary or desirable for preventing any estate, right or interest of a profitable or beneficial nature in, over, or affecting the land from being injuriously affected, or for protecting any object of historical interest and, where any such limitations or conditions are so imposed, the rights of access shall be subject thereto; and

(c) such rights of access shall not include any right to draw or drive upon the land a carriage, cart, caravan, truck, or other vehicle, or to camp or light any fire thereon; and

(d) the rights of access shall cease to apply—

(i) to any land over which the commonable rights are extinguished under any statutory provision;

(ii) to any land over which the commonable rights are otherwise extinguished if the council of the county or county borough in which the land is situated by resolution assent to its exclusion from the operation of this section, and the resolution is approved by the Minister.

(2) The lord of the manor or other person entitled to the soil of any land subject to rights of common may by deed, revocable or irrevocable, declare that this section shall apply to the land and upon such deed being deposited with the Minister the land shall, so long as the deed remains operative, be land to which this section applies.

(3) Where limitations or conditions are imposed by the Minister under this section, they shall be published by such person and in such manner as the Minister may direct.

(4) Any person who, without lawful authority, draws or drives upon any land to which this section applies any carriage, cart, caravan, truck, or other vehicle, or camps or lights any fire thereon. or who fails to observe any limitation or condition imposed by the Minister under this section in respect of any such land, shall be liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding forty shillings for each offence.

(5) Nothing in this section shall prejudice or affect the right of any person to get and remove mines or minerals or to let down the surface of the manorial waste or common.

(6) This section does not apply to any common or manorial waste which is for the time being held for Naval, Military or Air Force purposes and in respect of which rights of common have been extinguished or cannot be exercised.

(a) On the subject of Commons the reader is referred to Halsbury's Laws of England, Vol. IV. See also the Commons Act, 1876, ante, p. 2375. The provision in the text is an express recognition of public rights in common lands as distinguished from the rights of commoners.

Restrictions on inclosure of commons.

194.—(1) The erection of any building or fence, or the construction of any other work, whereby access to land to which this section applies is prevented or impeded, shall not be lawful unless the consent of the Minister thereto is obtained, and in giving or withholding his consent the Minister shall have regard to the same considerations and shall, if necessary, hold the same inquiries as are directed by the Commons Act, 1876, to be taken into consideration and held by the Minister before forming an opinion whether an application under the Inclosure Acts, 1845 to 1882, shall be acceded to or not (a).

(2) Where any building or fence is erected, or any other work constructed without such consent as is required by this section, the county court within whose jurisdiction the land is situated, shall, on an application being made by the council of any county or borough or district concerned, or by the lord of the manor or any other person interested in the common, have power to make an order for the removal of the work, and the restoration of the land to the condition in which it was before the work was erected or constructed, but any such order shall be subject to the like appeal as an order made under section thirty of the Commons Act, 1876 (b).

(3) This section applies to any land which at the commencement of this Act is subject to rights of common:

Provided that this section shall cease to apply—

- (a) to any land over which the rights of common are extinguished under any statutory provision;
- (b) to any land over which the rights of common are otherwise extinguished, if the council of the county or county borough in which the land is situated by resolution assent to its exclusion from the operation of this section and the resolution is approved by the Minister.

(4) This section does not apply to any building or fence erected or work constructed if specially authorised by Act of Parliament, or in pursuance of an Act of Parliament or Order having the force of an Act, or if lawfully erected or constructed in connexion with the taking or working of minerals in or under any land to which the section is otherwise applicable, or to any telegraphic line as defined by the Telegraph Act, 1878, of the Postmaster-General.

(a) See the provisions of the Commons Act, 1876, s. 10, ante, p. 2379.
(b) See this section at p. 2390, ante.

UNIVERSITIES AND COLLEGE ESTATES ACT, 1925.

(15 GEO. 5, c. 24.)

An Act to consolidate the Universities and College Estates Acts, 1858 to 1898, and enactments amending those Acts (a) [9th April, 1925.]

Universities and Colleges to which the Act applies.

1. The universities and colleges to which this Act applies are the Universities of Oxford, Cambridge and Durham, and the colleges or halls in those universities, and the Colleges of Saint Mary of Winchester, near Winchester, and of King Henry the Sixth at Eton, and for the purposes of this Act the Cathedral or House of Christ Church in Oxford shall be considered to be a college in the University of Oxford (b).

(a) Only those provisions of this Act which may affect local authorities are set out.

(b) It is only in respect of the lands belonging to the colleges and halls set out in this section that the provisions of this Act apply.

* * * * * *

Miscellaneous Powers.

Power to grant water rights to statutory bodies.

14.—(1) For the development, improvement, or general benefit of land belonging to the university or college (a), a university or college may make a grant in fee simple or absolutely or a lease for any term of years absolute, for a nominal price or rent, or for less than the best price or rent that can reasonably be obtained, or gratuitously, to any statutory authority (b), of any water or streams or springs of water in, upon, or under land belonging to the university or college, and of any rights of taking, using, enjoying and conveying water, and of laying, constructing, maintaining, and repairing mains, pipes, reservoirs, dams, weirs and other works of any kind proper for the supply and distribution of water, and of any land belonging to the university or college which is required as a site for any of the aforesaid works, and of any easement, right or privilege over or in relation to land belonging to the university or college in connexion with any of the aforesaid works.

(2) This section does not authorise the creation of any greater rights than could have been created by a person absolutely entitled for his own benefit to the land affected.

(3) In this section " statutory authority " means an authority or company for the time being empowered by any Act of Parliament, public, general, or local or private, or by any order or certificate having the force of an Act of Parliament, to provide with a supply of water any town, parish or place in which the land belonging to the university or college is situated (c).

(4) All money (not being rent) received on the exercise of any power conferred by this section shall be capital money, and be paid to the Minister.

(a) Note that the provisions of this section will not apply if a water supply is required from land or water rights belonging to a university or college to which the Act applies (s. 1, supra) unless it will be for the development, improvement or general benefit of land belonging to such university or college.

(b) See the definition in sub-s. (3), which would include a local authority.

(c) Local authorities are empowered by s. 51, P. H. A., 1875, ante, p. 126, to provide their district with a supply of water.

Power to grant land for public and charitable purposes.

15.—(1) For the development, improvement, or general benefit of land belonging to the university or college, a university or college may with the consent of the Minister make a grant in fee simple or absolutely, or a lease for any term of years absolute, for a nominal price or rent, or for less than the best price or rent that can reasonably be obtained, or gratuitously (a), of any land belonging to the university or college, with or without any easement, right or privilege over or in relation to land belonging to the university or college, for all or any one or more of the following purposes, namely :—

(i) For the site or the extension of any existing site of a place of religious worship, residence for a minister of religion, school house, town hall, market house, public library, public baths, museum, hospital, infirmary, or other public building, literary or scientific institution, drill hall, working-men's club, parish room, reading room or village institute, with or without in any case any yard, garden, or other ground to be held with any such building (b) ; or

(ii) For the construction, enlargement, or improvement of any railway, canal, road (public or private), dock, sea-wall, embankment, drain, watercourse, or reservoir (c) ; or

(iii) For any other public or charitable purpose in connexion with land belonging to the university or college, or tending to the benefit of the persons residing, or for whom dwellings may be erected, on such land (b) :

Not more than one acre shall in any particular case be conveyed for any purpose mentioned in paragraphs (i) and (iii) of this subsection, nor more than five acres for any purpose mentioned in paragraph (ii) of this subsection, unless the full consideration be paid or reserved in respect of the excess.

(2) All money (not being rent) received on the exercise of any power conferred by this section shall be capital money, and be paid to the Minister.

(a) A local authority may for the purposes of the P. H. A., 1875, accept gifts of land within or without their district (s. 175, P. H. A., 1875, and note (c) thereto, p. 431, ante).

(b) The land to be given or sold at less than the best price for any of the purposes mentioned in this subsection, is not to exceed one acre in any particular case, and the purpose must be for the development improvement or general benefit of land belonging to the university or college.

(c) See note (b), supra, but the limit of the land in this case is five acres.

Dedication for streets, open spaces, (a) etc.

16.—(1) On or after or in connexion with a sale or grant for building purposes, or a building lease or the development as a building estate of land belonging to the university or college, or at any other reasonable time, the university or college, for the general benefit of the residents on land belonging to the university or college—

(i) may cause or require any parts of such land to be appropriated and laid out for streets, roads, paths, squares, gardens, or other open spaces, for the use, gratuitously or on payment of the public or of individuals, with sewers, drains, watercourses, fencing, paving, or other works necessary or proper in connexion therewith ; and

(ii) may provide that the parts so appropriated shall be conveyed to or vested in trustees or any company or public body, on trusts or subject to provision for securing the continued appropriation thereof to the purposes aforesaid, and the continued repair or maintenance of streets and other places and works aforesaid, with or without provision for appointment of new trustees when required ; and

(iii) may execute any general or other deed necessary or proper for giving effect to the provisions of this section (which deed may be inrolled in the Central Office of the Supreme Court of Judicature), and thereby declare the mode, terms, and conditions of the appropriation, and the manner in which and the persons by whom the benefit thereof is to be enjoyed, and the nature and extent of the privileges and conveniences granted.

Section 16.

(2) In regard to the dedication of land for public purposes a university or college shall be in the same position as if it were an absolute owner.

(3) A university or college shall have power—

(a) to enter into any agreement for the recompense to be made for any land belonging to the university or college which is required for the widening of a highway under section eighty-two of the Highway Act, 1835, or otherwise; and

(b) to consent to the diversion of any highway over land belonging to the university or college under section eighty-five of that Act or otherwise; and

(c) to consent to any such road as is mentioned in section thirty-six of the Highway Act, 1862, being declared a public highway; and any agreement or consent so made or given shall be as valid and effectual, for all purposes, as if made or given by an individual who is the absolute owner of the land.

(4) All money (not being rent) received on the exercise of any power conferred by this section shall be capital money, and be paid to the Minister.

(a) The purposes for which land may be applied under this section are less limited by the opening words of this section than the corresponding words in ss. 14 and 15.

* * * * * *

Investment or other application of Capital Money.

Modes of investment or application of capital money.

26.—(1) Capital money paid, whether before or after the commencement of this Act, to the Minister under this Act, or under any enactment hereby repealed, and the proceeds of sale of securities representing any such money, may, with the consent of the Minister, be applied by a university or college to any of the following purposes:—

* * * * * *

(xiii) In payment of the costs and expenses of all plans, surveys, and schemes, including schemes under the Town Planning Act, 1925 (a), or any similar previous Act, made with a view to, or in connexion with, the improvement or development of any land belonging to the university or college, or any part thereof, or the exercise of any statutory powers, and of all negotiations entered into by the university or college with a view to the exercise of any of the said powers, notwithstanding that such negotiations may prove abortive, and in payment of the costs and expenses of opposing any such proposed scheme as aforesaid affecting land belonging to the university or college, whether or not the scheme is made;

* * * * * *

(xv) In payment to a local or other authority of such sum as may be agreed in consideration of such authority taking over and becoming liable to repair a private road on land belonging to the university or college or a road for the maintenance whereof the university or college is liable ratione tenuræ (b);

(a) See this Act at p. 1491, ante.
(b) Such an agreement may be made under s. 141, P. H. A., 1875, ante, p. 262.

* * * * * *

Power of raising Money.

Power to raise money with consent of the Minister for improvements.

30.—(1) A university or college may, with the consent of the Minister, raise by mortgage of any lands belonging to the university or college, such sums of money (together with all reasonable costs and expenses incidental to such raising and the application thereof) as may be certified by the surveyor of the university or college to be properly required, and may be authorised by the Minister, carrying interest at a rate not exceeding the rate to be specified in the order evidencing the consent of the Minister.

(2) The sums so raised shall be applied for or towards the restoration and improvement and (if need be) enlargement of any house or building forming part of or connected with or otherwise belonging to the university or college, or for or towards the erection of new or additional houses or buildings, or for the extension and improvement of any existing houses or buildings upon any lands belonging to the university or college, or for the execution of any improvement specified in the First Schedule to this Act or for any other permanent and lasting improvement of any lands belonging to the university or college.

STATUTORY GAS COMPANIES (ELECTRICITY SUPPLY POWERS) ACT, 1925.

(15 & 16 GEO. 5, C. 44.)

An Act to facilitate the supply of electricity by statutory gas companies.

[31st July, 1925.]

As to granting of Electricity Orders to statutory gas companies.

1. Statutory gas companies (a) may apply for special Orders under the Electricity (Supply) Acts, 1882 to 1922, and such companies may use their funds in the promotion of such applications.

(a) See the definition in s. 3, post, p. 2886.

Section 2.

Providing for capital powers to statutory gas companies for electricity purposes.

2. The Electricity Commissioners may (a) by special Order (b) under the Electricity (Supply) Acts, 1882 to 1922, subject after consultation in each case with the Board of Trade to such conditions, limitations and provisions (including the keeping of separate accounts) as they see fit to impose or insert, empower any statutory gas company to apply their funds, and to raise capital or borrow money from time to time for electricity purposes authorised by any Act of Parliament or any Order having the force of an Act of Parliament:

Provided that the principal moneys secured by any mortgage debenture or debenture stock authorised by any such special Order shall rank after any mortgage debenture or debenture stock of any such company existing at the time such Order was made.

(a) If the Commissioners are unable or unwilling to make the order they are to refer the matter to the Minister of Transport who may himself make an order (s. 49, Electricity (Supply) Act, 1926, post, p. 2937).

(b) As to the making of special orders, see ss. 26 and 35, Electricity (Supply) Act, 1919, ante, pp. 2799 and 2801. The Commissioners have issued rules with respect to applications under this Act.

Definition.

3. The expression "statutory gas companies" means any company or person authorised to sell gas by any Act of Parliament or any Order having the force of an Act of Parliament.

Short title.

4. This Act may be cited as the Statutory Gas Companies (Electricity Supply Powers) Act, 1925.

FIRE BRIGADE PENSIONS ACT, 1925.

(15 & 16 GEO. 5, c. 47.)

An Act to make provision respecting the retirement, pensions, allowances and gratuities of professional firemen who are members of fire brigades in Great Britain, and their widows, children and dependants (a) [31st July, 1925.]

RETIREMENT AND PENSIONS.

Compulsory retirement.

1.—(1) Retirement shall be compulsory for professional firemen (b) of all ranks on attaining the age of sixty, except that in special cases the local authority (c) may extend any such person's service for a further period on being satisfied that such extension would be in the interests of efficiency.

(2) Retirement shall also be compulsory for any professional fireman (b) who, having become entitled to retire without a medical certificate and receive an ordinary pension, is required to retire by the local authority (c) on the ground that his retention in the brigade would not be in the interests of efficiency.

(a) This Act applies throughout to "professional firemen," i.e. members of a fire brigade maintained by the council of any county, county borough, municipal borough, urban or rural district or parish, who are wholly and permanently employed on fire brigade duties, and to whom the Police Pensions Act, 1921, do not apply (s. 23 (1) and (2), post).

The Act has been amended by the Fire Brigade Pensions Act, 1929, post, p. 3033. The effect of these amendments is noted in the text.

(b) See the definition in s. 23 (1), post, p. 2897.

(c) See the definition in s. 23 (2), post, p. 2897.

Pensions and gratuities of professional firemen.

2.—(1) Subject to the provisions of this Act, every professional fireman (a)—

(a) if he has completed twenty-five years' approved service (b), and has attained the age of fifty-five, and has given three months' written notice, or such shorter notice as the local authority may accept, to the local authority of his intention to retire, shall be entitled, on the expiration of such notice, without a medical certificate to retire and receive an ordinary pension for life; and

(b) if he has completed ten years' approved service, and is incapacitated (c) for the performance of his duty by infirmity of mind or body, shall be entitled on a medical certificate to retire and receive an ordinary pension for life; and

(c) if at any time he is incapacitated for (c) the performance of his duty by infirmity of mind or body occasioned by an injury received in the execution of his duty (d) without his own default, shall be entitled on a medical certificate to retire and receive a special pension for life; and

(d) if he has not completed ten years' approved service, and is incapacitated (c) for the performance of his duty by infirmity of mind or body not occasioned by such injury as aforesaid, shall be entitled on a medical certificate to retire and receive a gratuity.

(2) Where a professional fireman is compelled to retire under this Act on the ground of age, then—

(a) if he is not entitled without a medical certificate to retire and receive a pension, he shall be entitled to receive such ordinary pension or gratuity as he would have been entitled to receive had he then retired on a medical certificate;

(b) any pension or gratuity to which he is entitled shall be payable as from his retirement, and no notice of intention to retire shall be required.

(3) A chief officer (e) appointed after the commencement of this Act shall not, except with the consent of the local authority, be entitled to retire without a medical certificate and receive an ordinary pension, unless at the time of his retirement he has attained the age of sixty.

(4) No gratuity shall be payable to a professional fireman who retires before the expiration of any period of probationary service.

(a) See the definition in s. 23 (1), post, p. 2897.

(b) "Approved service" is defined in s. 6, post, p. 2888. In the case of professional firemen, serving at the commencement of this Act, retirement does not become compulsory at the age of fifty-five, unless and until the fireman has completed twenty-five years' approved service. As to approved service for such serving firemen, see s. 22, post, p. 2896.

(c) As to certification of incapacity, and the necessity for the incapacity being probably permanent (see s. 10, post, p. 2890).

(d) See as to injuries to be deemed to have been received in the execution of his duty s. 23 (5), post, p. 2898).

(e) This includes the chief officer of the fire brigade by whatever title he may be known (s. 23 (3), post, p. 2897).

Pensions, allowances and gratuities to widows, children and dependants (a).

3.—(1) Subject to the provisions of this Act, where a professional fireman (b) dies while serving in the fire brigade from the effects of an injury received in, or disease resulting from, the execution of his duty (c) without his own default, or having been granted a pension in respect of any such injury or disease, whether before or after the commencement of this Act, dies from the effects of such injury or disease—

(a) his widow shall be entitled, where the injury was accidental or where death was due to disease resulting from the execution of his duty, to a widow's ordinary pension, and where the injury was non-accidental (d), to a widow's special pension;

(b) his children under sixteen years of age shall be entitled to allowances until they severally reach the age of sixteen years; and

(c) the local authority may, if they think fit, grant a gratuity to any relative of his who has been wholly or mainly dependent upon him.

(2) Where the widow of a professional fireman (b) is entitled to a pension, or a child of a professional fireman is entitled to an allowance, under this Act, and the local authority are satisfied that there are special reasons for the grant of a gratuity in lieu thereof, the local authority may at their discretion grant a gratuity accordingly, subject to the consent of the man's widow or, if he eaves no widow, the guardian of the child, as the case may be (e).

(a) As to the scale of pensions, etc., see s. 5 and the Schedule to this Act. An appeal may be lodged against a refusal by a local authority to grant a pension, etc., under this section (s. 15). As to the forfeiture or suspension of a pension or allowance, see ss. 13 and 16. Penalties are imposed for obtaining a pension, etc., by fraud (s. 14). Pensions may be refused on the same grounds as those on which they may be forfeited (s. 19).

(b) See the definition in s. 23 (2), post, p. 2897.

(c) See as to injuries to be deemed to be received in the execution of his duty s. 23 (5), post, p. 2898).

(d) As to non-accidental injuries, see s. 23 (6), post, p. 2898.

(e) This subsection enables a local authority, if satisfied that special reasons exist, to grant a gratuity in lieu of a pension. The authority have, however, an absolute discretion, once they are so satisfied, and their decision cannot be questioned by appeal.

Pension and compensation not payable for same injury.

4. When a professional fireman (a) is entitled to receive a pension on the ground that he is incapacitated in the performance of his duty by infirmity of mind or body occasioned by an injury, or the widow or any child of a professional fireman is entitled to receive a pension or an allowance in consequence of his dying from the effects of an injury, neither the fireman nor his widow or personal representatives shall be entitled to receive compensation or damages from the local authority in respect of the same injury or the consequences thereof (b).

(a) See the definition in s. 23 (2), post, p. 2897.

(b) Under the provision in the text the receipt of a pension as a consequence of an injury will debar the person receiving such pension from obtaining compensation or damages from the local authority for the same injury. Cf. Watts v. Manchester Corporation, [1917] 1 K. B. 791; 10 B. W. C. C. 191.

Scales of pensions, allowances and gratuities.

5. The pensions, allowances and gratuities payable under this Act shall be in accordance with the scales and provisions contained in the Schedule to this Act (a) and the general rules contained in Part III. of that schedule shall apply to such pensions, allowances and gratuities.

(a) See the Schedule at p. 2899, post.

Approved Service.

Service to be reckoned for pension.

6.—(1) The service of a professional fireman (a) for the purposes of this Act shall be subject to such deductions in respect of sickness, misconduct, or neglect of duty as may be made therefrom in pursuance of any regulations affecting the brigade to which he belongs, not exceeding the period during which he is absent from duty on account of sickness, misconduct or neglect of duty, as the case may be; and, subject to the provisions of this Act as to professional firemen who were serving as such at the commencement of this Act (b), the expression "approved service" shall, for the purposes of this Act, mean such service as may, after such deductions as aforesaid (if any), be certified by the chief officer of the fire brigade with the approval of the local authority to have been diligent and faithful service, but shall not include service before attaining the age of twenty years, except in the case of a fireman who before attaining that age is incapacitated for the performance of his duty by infirmity of mind or body occasioned by an injury received in the execution of his duty without his own default.

(2) Where a deduction is made from the service of a professional fireman in respect of sickness, misconduct, or neglect of duty, notice of the deduction shall be given to him as soon as may be after the occurrence of the cause for which the deducton is made; and he may appeal to the local authority (c) against any act of his chief officer which prevents him from reckoning any period of actual service as approved service, and any period of actual service allowed on such appeal shall be deemed to be approved service.

(a) See the definition in s. 23 (2), post, p. 2897.
(b) As to such firemen, see s. 22, post, p. 2896.
(c) The decision of the local authority on this point is apparently final, though it is submitted that if the failure to count time as approved service resulted in the failure of a claim to a pension an appeal would lie under s. 15, post, p. 2893. See the definition of local authority in s. 23 (1), post, p. 2897.

Continuous service in two or more fire brigades.

7.—(1) Where a professional fireman (a) has served in more than one fire brigade and has completed not less than one year's approved service as a professional fireman in any fire brigade from which, after the commencement of this Act, he has, with the written sanction of the local authority, removed to another brigade, such approved service shall be reckoned as approved service in the brigade in which he was serving at the time of his death or retirement.

(2) Where any professional fireman who is entitled under this section to reckon any previous service in another brigade, or his widow or any child or any dependant of his, in due course is granted a pension, gratuity or allowance, the local authority in whose service he then is, or was at the time of his death or retirement, shall be entitled to call upon the other local authority or authorities and they shall contribute a proportionate part of any pension, gratuity or allowance granted to him or his widow or any such child or dependant, reckoned according to his approved service and pay during his service in such brigade, and the said proportionate part shall be settled by agreement between the local authorities, or in default of agreement by an arbitrator appointed by the Secretary of State.

(a) See the definition in s. 23 (2), post, p. 2897.

Discontinuous service in one or more brigades, etc.

8.—(1) Where a professional fireman (a), who has retired from a fire brigade without a pension, subsequently, after the commencement of this Act, rejoins the same fire brigade, there shall be reckoned as approved service the period of approved service which he was entitled to reckon at the end of his previous service, if he repays to the local authority the amount of any gratuity which may have been granted to him, or of any rateable deductions from his pay which may have been paid to him by the local authority in respect of his previous service (b).

(2) Where a professional fireman, who has retired without a pension from a fire brigade in which he was employed as a professional fireman or from a police force as a member of which he was employed as a whole-time fireman, subsequently, after the commencement of this Act, takes service as a professional fireman in a fire brigade, the local authority of that brigade may, if they think fit, allow the period of approved service, not being less than one year, which he was entitled to reckon at the end of his service in the first mentioned brigade, or the police force, to be reckoned as approved service, if he pays or has paid to the local authority of the fire brigade in which he has taken service the amount of any gratuity which may have been granted to him, or of any rateable deductions from his pay which may have been paid to him, in pursuance of this Act, or, if he retired from a fire brigade before the commencement of this Act, or from any police force, the amount of any rateable deductions which would have been made from his pay in respect of his previous service if this Act had been in force during such service and had been applicable thereto.

(3) Payments by a professional fireman under this section shall be effected by means of deductions from pay, or otherwise as the local authority may determine.

(a) See the definition in s. 23 (2), post, p. 2897.

(b) As to the return of rateable deductions, see s. 18, post, p. 2894, as amended by the Act of 1929.

Service of men belonging to reserve forces.

9. Where a professional fireman (a) with the knowledge of the local authority (b) or of the chief officer of the brigade belongs to any royal naval reserve force or army reserve or air force reserve, and is required for training or for permanent service, he shall be entitled, on returning to the fire brigade after the end of such training or service, to reckon any approved service which he was entitled to reckon at the commencement of such training or service; and his period of training or service and any period during which he was incapacitated for fire duty owing to an injury received during his period of training or service without his own default, shall be reckoned in the computation of the approved service.

(a) See the definition in s. 23 (2), post, p. 2897.

(b) See the definition in s. 23 (1), post, p. 2897.

GRANT, REVISION, FORFEITURE AND OFFENCES IN RESPECT OF PENSIONS.

Proof of incapacity for duty, liability to serve again and revision of pension.

10.—(1) Before granting a pension or gratuity on the ground that a professional fireman (a) is incapacitated by infirmity of mind or body for the performance of his duty, the local authority shall be satisfied (b) by the evidence of some duly qualified medical practitioner or practitioners, selected by the local authority, that he is so incapacitated, and that the incapacity is likely to be permanent.

(2) Where the application is for a special pension, the local authority shall also be satisfied that the injury was received in the execution of duty (c), that it was received without the default of the applicant, and that the infirmity is attributable to the injury, and shall determine whether the injury was accidental or not (d), and the degree of disablement; and, for the purpose of determining any of the said questions which ought to be determined on medical grounds, shall take the like evidence (b) as above mentioned.

(3) Where any pension is granted on the ground of incapacity for the performance of duty, the local authority shall, yearly or otherwise, until the power under this section of requiring the pensioner to serve again ceases, satisfy themselves that the incapacity continues, and, unless they resolve that such evidence is unnecessary, shall satisfy themselves by the like evidence (b) as above mentioned.

(4) In the event of the incapacity ceasing before the time at which the pensioner would, if he had continued to serve, have been entitled without a medical certificate to retire and receive a pension for life, the local authority may cancel his pension and require him to serve again in the fire brigade, in a rank not lower than the rank which he held before his retirement, and at a rate of pay not less than that on which his pension was calculated.

(5) Where a pensioner so serves again, the provisions of this Act shall apply as if he had not previously retired, save that, except where the pension was granted in respect of a non-accidental injury received in the execution of duty, he shall not reckon as approved service the time which elapsed between his former retirement and the recommencement of his service.

Section 10.

(6) Any special pension shall be granted for such period as may be fixed by the local authority, and, if at the expiration of that period the degree of disablement is unaltered, the pension shall, at the discretion of the local authority, be either renewed from time to time or made permanent. If within five years of the pensioner's retirement or at any time before the pension is made permanent the local authority are satisfied by the evidence of a duly qualified medical practitioner (b) that the degree of the pensioner's disablement has substantially altered, the pension shall be reassessed according to the degree of disablement.

(7) If a professional fireman or pensioner refuses or wilfully or negligently fails, when required by the local authority, to be examined by some duly qualified medical practitioner selected by that authority, the local authority may deal with him in all respects as if they were satisfied by the evidence of such a practitioner as to whether he is incapacitated for the performance of duty or, as the case may be, as to the degree of his disablement.

(8) (a) Where, for the purposes of this section, any person is medically examined by a medical practitioner selected by the local authority, and is dissatisfied with his opinion on any medical question, he may appeal in accordance with rules made by the Secretary of State, to an independent person nominated by the Secretary of State.

(b) The local authority shall be bound by the decision of any medical question which is determined on any such appeal, but, subject to this provision, the decision of the local authority on any question arising under this section shall be final.

(a) See the definition in s. 23 (2), post, p. 2897.

(b) An appeal will lie against the evidence of the medical practitioner and the local authority will be bound by the opinion of the person hearing the appeal, but in all other respects their decision under this section is final (sub-s. (8)), and therefore not open to appeal under s. 15, post, p. 2893. As to the meaning of total disablement and degree of disablement, see s. 23 (4), post, p. 2898.

(c) As to injuries which are to be deemed to have been received in the execution of duty, see s. 23 (5), post, p. 2898.

(d) Injuries received under certain circumstances are to be deemed non-accidental, see s. 23 (6), post, p. 2898.

Power to reduce pensions where infirmity is due to misconduct.

11. Where a professional fireman (a) retires on account of infirmity of mind or body, whether occasioned by injury or otherwise, and the local authority are satisfied that he has brought about or contributed to the injury or infirmity by his own neglect, default or vicious habits, the local authority may, in their discretion (b), reduce the amount of his pension or gratuity by an amount not exceeding one-half of that to which he would be otherwise entitled.

(a) See the definition in s. 23 (2), post, p. 2897.

(b) No appeal therefore lies against their decision under this section (s. 15, post, p. 2893).

Assignment of pensions and regulations as to payment of pensions, &c.

12. The following provisions shall have effect with respect to every pension allowance or gratuity (in this section referred to as a grant) payable by the local authority to any person (in this section referred to as a pensioner) :—

(1) Every assignment of and charge on a grant and every agreement to assign or charge a grant, shall, except so far as made for the benefit of the family of the pensioner, be void, and on the bankruptcy of the pensioner the grant shall not pass to any trustee or other person acting on behalf of the creditors :

(2) Where any [poor] (a) relief is given to a pensioner or to any one whom the pensioner is liable to maintain, the local authority may pay the whole or any part of the grant, or of the instalment thereof next due, to the [council of the county or county borough] (a) or other authority giving the relief, and any sum so paid may be applied in repayment of any sums expended in such relief, and subject thereto, shall be paid or applied by the [council of the county or county borough] (a) or other authority to or for the benefit of the pensioner:

(3) If the pensioner neglects to maintain any person whom the pensioner is liable to maintain, the local authority may in their discretion pay or apply the whole or any part of the grant to or for the benefit of that person:

(4) Where any sum is due from the pensioner to the local authority, the local authority may deduct the amount of any such sum from the grant:

(5) If the pensioner appears to the local authority to be insane or otherwise incapacitated to act, the local authority may pay so much of the grant as they think fit to the institution or person having the care of the pensioner, but shall in such case pay the surplus (if any) for or towards the maintenance and benefit of the dependants (if any) of the pensioner except so far as the said surplus may be otherwise applied for the benefit of the pensioner:

(6) On the death of a pensioner to whom a sum not exceeding one hundred pounds is due on account of a grant, then, if the local authority so direct, probate or other proof of the title of the personal representative of the deceased may be dispensed with, and the sum may be paid or distributed to or among the persons appearing to the local authority to be beneficially entitled to the personal estate of the deceased pensioner or to or among any one or more of those persons as the local authority may think fit, and the local authority, and any officer of the local authority making the payment, shall be discharged from all liability in respect of any such payment or distribution:

(7) Every grant which is a pension or allowance shall be paid, after the first instalment, in advance, except in the case of refusal to quit fire brigade quarters or any premises owned or rented by or on behalf of the local authority, or to give up any equipment, or to make any payment due to the local authority; but, where a person dies whilst in receipt of a grant paid in advance, no return shall be required of any payments which have been made in respect of any period after his death:

(8) Any sum payable to a minor on account of a grant may be paid either to the minor or to such person and on such conditions for the benefit of the minor as to the local authority seems expedient:

(9) Where a payment is made to any person by a local authority in pursuance of this section, the receipt of that person shall be a good discharge to that authority for the sum so paid.

(a) Words in brackets substituted for "parochial" and "guardians" in consequence of L. G. A., 1929, Sched. X., r. 1, ante, p. 2028.

Forfeiture of pension or allowance (a).

13.—(1) A pension or allowance under this Act is granted only upon condition that it becomes forfeited, and may be withdrawn by the local authority, in any of the following cases, that is to say, if the grantee—

(a) is convicted of any offence and is sentenced to penal servitude or to imprisonment for a term exceeding one month; or

(b) knowingly associates with thieves or reputed thieves; or

(c) enters into or continues to carry on any business, occupation or employment which is illegal, or in any way makes use of the fact of his former employment in the fire brigade in a manner which the local authority consider to be discreditable or improper.

(2) Such forfeiture and withdrawal may affect the pension or allowance wholly or in part, and may be permanent or temporary, as the local authority may determine.

(a) As to other grounds for forfeiture see s. 14, and as to appeals against forfeiture, see s. 15.

Penalty for obtaining pension, etc. by fraud.

14. If a person obtains or attempts to obtain for himself or for any other person—

(a) any pension, gratuity, or allowance under this Act, or any payment on account thereof; or

(b) the return of any rateable deductions from pay under this Act;

by means of any false declaration, false certificate, false representation, false evidence or personation, or by malingering or feigning disease or infirmity, or by maiming or injuring himself, or causing himself to be maimed or injured, or otherwise producing disease or infirmity, or by any other fraudulent conduct, he shall be liable on conviction on indictment to imprisonment for a term not exceeding two years, or on summary conviction to imprisonment for a term not exceeding three months or to a fine not exceeding twenty-five pounds, and where a person has been convicted of an offence under this section the local authority may direct that he shall forfeit, in whole or part, any pension, gratuity, allowance or other sum so obtained.

Appeal in case of forfeiture or refusal of pension, gratuity or allowance.

15.—(1) Where—

(a) a pension or allowance after being granted has subsequently in pursuance of this Act been declared to have been forfeited (a) or

(b) any person claims as of right a pension, allowance or gratuity under this Act, and the local authority do not admit the claim (b); or

(c) any person claims as of right a pension, allowance or gratuity under this Act larger than that granted to that person (c);

the person aggrieved may apply to the local authority for a re-consideration of the case, and, if aggrieved by the decision upon such re-consideration, may apply to the next practicable court of quarter sessions for the county or borough within which the professional firemen concerned last served, and that court, after inquiry into the case, may make such order in the matter as appears to the court just; but nothing in this section shall confer a right to appeal against the exercise of any discretion, or against any decision which is declared by this Act to be final (d).

(2) An appeal shall lie on a point of law from any decision of quarter sessions under this section to the High Court in accordance with rules of court, and the decision of the High Court shall be final, but in all other respects the decision of the quarter sessions shall be final.

(a) I.e., under ss. 13 and 14, ante.

(b) Pensions are claimed as of right under ss. 2 and 3 ante, pp. 2886, 2887. Pensions may be refused on the same grounds as those on which they may be forfeited, i.e., under ss. 13 and 14 (s. 19, post, p. 2894).

(c) Except in the case of a reduction in the amount of the pension under s. 11, ante, p. 2891, as to which the local authority have a discretion.

(d) All decisions of a local authority under s. 10, ante, p. 2890, are final, and therefore not open to appeal under this section.

Suspension of pension in case of service under a local authority.

16. Where a person in receipt of a pension from a local authority under this Act takes service under any local authority (a) in any capacity, his pension may be suspended by the first-mentioned authority in whole or in part so long as he remains in that service.

(a) See the definition of local authority in s. 23 (1), post, p. 2897.

RATEABLE DEDUCTIONS.

Rateable deductions from pay.

17. The local authority of every fire brigade (a) shall deduct from the pay of every professional fireman (b) sums at the rate of five per cent. of his pay (in this Act referred to as rateable deductions).

(a) This curious expression apparently means every local authority maintaining a fire brigade.

(b) See the definition in s. 23 (2), post, p. 2897.

Return of rateable deductions.

18.—(1) Where a professional fireman not having been dismissed or required to retire as an alternative to dismissal, leaves the brigade without a pension or gratuity, the local authority, except where he leaves it in such circumstances as will enable him to reckon his approved service in the fire brigade for the purpose of pension (a), shall pay him the whole of the rateable deductions (b) which have been made from his pay [together with any sum paid by him to the local authority under subsection (2) of section twenty-two (c) of this Act] (d).

(2) Where a professional fireman is required to retire as an alternative to dismissal, the local authority may, if they think fit, pay him the whole or any part of such rateable deductions [and sum] (d) as aforesaid, or apply the same in such manner as they think fit for the benefit of his wife or children (if any), and, where a professional fireman is dismissed, the local authority may, if they think fit, apply the whole or any part of such rateable deductions [and sum] (d) as aforesaid in such manner as they think fit for the benefit of his wife or children (if any).

[(3) Where a professional fireman while serving in the fire brigade, dies in such circumstances that no pension, allowance, or gratuity is payable under section three (e) of this Act at his death, the local authority shall pay to his widow or if he leaves no widow, to his personal representatives the whole of the rateable deductions which have been made from his pay, together with any sum paid by him to the local authority under subsection (2) of section twenty-two (c) of this Act.

Provided that, where the deceased leaves no widow the local authority may if in the circumstances of the case they consider it would be unreasonable to require probate or other proof of the title of his personal representatives pay or distribute the amount payable under this subsection to or among the persons appearing to the local authority to be beneficially entitled to the personal estate of the deceased or to or among any one or more of those persons as the local authority may think fit (f), and the local authority, and any officer of the local authority making the payment, shall be discharged from all liability in respect of any such payment or distribution (d).]

(b) This expression is defined in s. 17, supra.

(c) See this subsection at p. 2897, post.

(d) Words in square brackets added by the Fire Brigade Pensions Act, 1929, s. 1, post, p. 3033.

(f) Cf. s. 12 (6), ante, p. 2892.

GENERAL.

Saving of right of dismissal and reduction in rank.

19. Nothing in this Act shall prejudice any existing right of dismissing a professional fireman, or requiring him to retire as an alternative to dismissal, or reducing him to any lower rank or lower rate of pay, or shall prevent his claim to pension from being refused on account of misconduct, or on account of any of the grounds on which his pension, if granted, would be liable to be forfeited and withdrawn (a).

(a) As to the grounds upon which a pension may be forfeited or withdrawn, see ss. 13 and 16, ante, pp. 2892, 2893.

Fire brigade pension fund.

20.—(1) Subject as hereinafter provided, the local authority shall establish and administer a fire brigade pension fund to which shall be carried and credited—

(a) the amounts deducted by the local authority under this Act from the pay of professional firemen (a);

(b) an equal amount transferred by the local authority from the district or other fund from which the other expenses of the fire brigade are defrayed;

(c) the dividends and interest arising out of the investment or use of the fire brigade pension fund, or any part thereof;

(d) any sums transferred by the local authority from any other pension or superannuation fund in pursuance of this Act (b);

(e) any sums paid to the local authority by professional firemen in pursuance of this Act (a); and

(f) any other sums which the local authority may resolve to carry to such fund from the district or other fund from which the expenses of the fire brigade are defrayed:

Provided that in the case of any local authority employing less than ten professional firemen the provisions of this Act with regard to the establishment of a fire brigade pension fund shall not apply unless the local authority so resolve, and where no such pension fund is established the payments mentioned in paragraphs (a), (c), (d), and (e) of this subsection shall be made to the district or other fund from which the expenses of the fire brigade are defrayed.

(2) Subject as hereinafter provided, all payments under this Act by a local authority to professional firemen, their widows, children, or dependants, or to another local authority, shall be made from the fire brigade pension fund or, if no such fund is established, from the district or other fund from which the other expenses of the fire brigade are defrayed.

(3) The local authority may use for the purpose of any statutory borrowing power possessed by them any moneys forming part of the fire brigade pension fund and not for the time being required for payments to be made under this Act, subject to the following conditions:—

(a) the moneys so used shall be repaid to the fire brigade pension fund within the period, under the conditions and out of the fund, rate, or revenue within, under, and out of which a loan raised under the statutory borrowing power would be repayable;

(b) interest shall be paid to the fire brigade pension fund on any moneys so used and for the time being not repaid to the fund, and shall be calculated at a rate per cent. per annum to be determined by the local authority and equal as nearly as may be to the rate of interest which would be payable on a loan raised on mortgage under the statutory borrowing power, and shall be paid out of the fund, rate, or revenue which would be applicable to the payment of interest on a loan raised under the statutory borrowing power; and

(c) the statutory borrowing power for the purpose of which the moneys are so raised shall be deemed to be exercised by such use as fully in all respects as if a loan of the same amount had been raised in exercise of the power.

(4) The surplus of the annual income of the fire brigade pension fund above the expenditure thereout shall from time to time be invested in securities in which trustees are by law authorised to invest trust funds (d), or be used in the manner hereinbefore provided, and the income arising from time to time from such investment or use shall be paid into that fund.

(5) If at any time the income of the fire brigade pension fund is insufficient to meet the sums payable out of the fund, the deficiency may be met by the sale of investments made under the preceding subsection, provided that the value of the investments sold in any one year ending on the thirty-first day of March shall not exceed one-tenth of the total capital assets of the fund at the commencement of that year, and the balance of the deficiency shall be met from the district or other fund from which the other expenses of the fire brigade are defrayed.

(b) I.e. under s. 24 (3), post, p. 2898.
(c) I.e. under s. 22 (2) and (4), post, p. 2897.
(d) As to trustee securities, see the Trustee Act, 1925, s. 1 (ante, p. 2871).

Application to chief officers of fire brigades.

21. The provisions of this Act, unless otherwise expressly stated (a), shall apply to a chief officer of a fire brigade in like manner, so nearly as circumstances admit, as they apply to any other professional fireman, except that the certificate of approved service (b) and the sanction to removal from one brigade to another (c) may be given by the local authority.

(a) E.g. see s. 2 (3), ante, p. 2887.
(b) Under s. 6, ante, p. 2888.
(c) I.e. under s. 7, ante, p. 2889.

Application to serving professional firemen.

22.—(1) Save as hereinafter expressly provided, this Act shall apply to professional firemen (a) who were serving as such at the commencement of this Act (b), provided as follows :—

(a) Any such fireman serving at the commencement of this Act shall be entitled to reckon as approved service for the purpose of the grant of pensions, allowances and gratuities under this Act any past pensionable service as hereinafter defined, but so that any such period of past pensionable service which has not been contributory service (c) as hereinafter defined shall be reckoned as half that period of approved service ;

(b) " Past pensionable service " shall include any service before the commencement of this Act (after reaching the age of twenty years) which is—

(i) service as a professional fireman in the same fire brigade or previous service which was continuous or practically continuous therewith as a professional fireman in another fire brigade, if such service is certified by the chief officer of the fire brigade or by the local authority to have been diligent and faithful service ; or

53 & 54 Vict. c. 45.
11 & 12 Geo. 5, c. 31.

(ii) approved service as a whole-time fireman to whom, as being a member of a police force employed as a fireman, the Police Act, 1890, or the Police Pensions Act, 1921, applied, if such service was continuous or practically continuous with his service as a professional fireman ; or

(iii) any other previous service as a whole time fireman which the local authority may approve as past pensionable service for the purposes of this section :

Provided that nothing in this section shall be deemed to affect any agreement made between a professional fireman and the local authority as to the reckoning of any previous service as approved service :

Section 22.

(2) Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of this section, the pension or gratuity granted to any professional fireman who is serving at the commencement of this Act and whose past pensionable service was not wholly contributory service (d), may be increased, at the discretion of the local authority, to an amount not exceeding the pension or gratuity to which such professional fireman would have been entitled if his past pensionable service had not been subject to any reduction in reckoning his approved service, if such professional fireman pays to the local authority such sum as the local authority may fix, not exceeding the amount of the rateable deductions (e) which would have been made from his pay during the period of his past pensionable service which was not contributory service if this Act had been in force during such non-contributory service and had been applicable thereto :

(3) Where, in pursuance of the provisions of the preceding subsection, the pension or gratuity granted to a professional fireman exceeds any pension or gratuity which might have been granted if he had been entitled to reckon only his contributory service for purposes of pension, any such excess shall be paid out of the district or other fund from which the other expenses of the fire brigade are defrayed and not out of the fire brigade pension fund :

(4) For the purposes of this section, "contributory service" means service in respect of which deductions from pay have been made under the Local Government and Other Officers' Superannuation Act, 1922 (f), or under the Police Act, 1890, or the Police Pensions Act, 1921, or other regular contributions have been made by the fireman under a superannuation scheme, provided that, if the deductions or other contributions in respect of any service have been returned, or a gratuity has been granted to the fireman on his retirement, such service shall be deemed to be contributory service only if the professional fireman pays to the local authority the amount of the gratuity granted to him, or of the deductions or other contributions returned to him, as the case may be :

12 & 13 Geo. 5 c. 59.

(5) The provisions of subsection (1) of section one of this Act as to the age of compulsory retirement shall not apply to any professional fireman so serving at the commencement of this Act unless and until he has completed twenty-five years' approved service.

23. For the purposes of this Act—

Interpretation.

(1) "Local authority" includes the council of any county, county borough, municipal borough, urban district, rural district or parish, and in relation to any particular professional fireman means the local authority employing such fireman :

(2) "Professional fireman" means any member of a fire brigade maintained by a local authority who is wholly and permanently employed on fire brigade duties, and to whom the Police Pensions Act, 1921, does not apply :

(3) "Chief officer" shall include "firemaster," "superintendent," or such other title as is given by the local authority to the chief officer of the fire brigade :

(a) See the definition in s. 23 (2), infra.
(b) I.e. on 1st April, 1926, s. 26 (2), post, p. 2899.
(c) This expression is defined in sub-s. (4).
(d) See as to contributory service, sub-s. (4).
(e) As to rateable deductions, see s. 17, ante, p. 2894.
(f) See this Act at p. 1335, ante.

Section 23.

(4) The expression "total disablement" means total loss of earning capacity in any employment, and, in the case of partial disablement, the degree of disablement shall be based upon the degree to which earning capacity is affected:

(5) Any injury suffered by a professional fireman while on duty or while proceeding to report for duty in response to a summons in that behalf shall be deemed to be an injury received in the execution of his duty:

(6) Any injury received while engaged in extinguishing a fire or while engaged in drill involving special risk, shall be deemed a non-accidental injury:

Act to supersede other Acts, &c.

24.—(1) The provisions of this Act shall have effect notwithstanding anything in any other Act, general or local, or charter, to the contrary, and as from the commencement of this Act all other provisions for the grant of pensions, allowances, or gratuities on the retirement or death of professional firemen shall cease to have effect as respects such firemen, subject however as follows:—

(a) None of the provisions of this Act excepting the provisions contained in section seven and subsections (2) and (3) of section eight shall apply to members of the London Fire Brigade, and section seven shall apply to a professional fireman removing to or from the London Fire Brigade;

(b) Where a local authority have in operation any scheme for the grant of pensions, allowances, or gratuities on the retirement or death of professional firemen, which is on the whole not less favourable than the provisions of this Act, that scheme shall, unless and until the local authority otherwise resolve, continue in operation, and any pension, allowance, or gratuity granted to a professional fireman or to his widow, children, or dependants shall be in accordance with that scheme and not as provided in this Act;

(c) In the event of any question arising as to whether any existing scheme is or is not less favourable than the provisions of this Act, the question shall be referred to an actuary nominated by the Secretary of State whose decision shall be final.

(2) Where any scheme for the grant of pensions, allowances, or gratuities on the retirement or death of a professional fireman, is superseded by the provisions of this Act, either wholly or as respects any professional fireman, the local authority shall give written notice of the provisions of this Act to any professional fireman then serving in the fire brigade, and if any professional fireman within one month after receiving such notice gives written notice to the local authority that he desires the scheme to continue to apply to him in lieu of the provisions of this Act, that scheme shall continue to apply to him accordingly, and the amount of any pension, allowance, or gratuity granted to him or to his widow, children, or dependants, and the amount of any deductions made from his pay or other contributions towards the cost of pensions shall be as provided in such scheme as aforesaid and in lieu of any grant or rateable deductions which would otherwise have been made in pursuance of this Act.

(3) Where any existing superannuation scheme is superseded by the provisions of this Act, either wholly or as respects any professional fireman, the following provisions shall apply:—

Section 24.

(a) If such scheme is wholly superseded, any assets of any fund established in connection with such scheme shall be carried to the fire brigade pension fund established as provided by this Act or, if no such fund is established, to the district fund or other fund from which the expenses of the fire brigade are defrayed;

(b) If such scheme is superseded not wholly but as respects any professional fireman, then there shall be transferred from the superannuation fund or other fund from which pensions are paid in pursuance of such scheme to the fire brigade pension fund or, if there is no such fund, to the district or other fund from which the expenses of the fire brigade are defrayed, a sum equal to the sum or sums which would have been payable to the professional fireman under such scheme if he had voluntarily retired from the fire brigade at the date when such scheme ceases to apply to him.

25. [Application to Scotland.]

Short title and commencement.

26.—(1) This Act may be cited as the Fire Brigade Pensions Act, 1925.

(2) This Act shall come into operation on the first day of April, nineteen hundred and twenty-six.

SCHEDULE.

Section 5.

SCALES OF PENSIONS, ALLOWANCES AND GRATUITIES.

PART I.

FIREMEN.

(a) Ordinary Pensions.

1. On retirement with twenty-five years' approved service or over.—Such proportion of the annual pay as is specified in scale number 1, set out in the subjoined Table I., but so, however, that the amount of such pension shall not exceed the proportion of the annual pay specified in Table II., according to the age of the professional fireman at the date of his retirement.

2. On retirement with ten years' approved service or over with medical certificate.—Such proportion of the annual pay as is specified in scale number 2, set out in Table I.

(b) Special Pensions.

3. On total disablement from an injury in the execution of duty—

(a) if the injury is non-accidental, such proportion of the annual pay as is specified in scale number 3 in Table I.;

(b) if the injury is accidental, such proportion of the annual pay as is specified in scale number 4 in the said table;

(c) if it is not possible to determine definitely whether the injury is accidental or non-accidental, such rate intermediate between the rates prescribed in the preceding paragraphs (a) and (b) as the local authority may determine.

4. On partial disablement from an injury received in the execution of duty.—Such proportion of the pension applicable in case of total disablement (a) as the degree of disablement bears to total disablement:

Provided that the pension shall not be less than such proportion of the annual pay as is specified, if the injury was non-accidental, in scale number 5 in Table I., and otherwise in scale number 6 in the said table.

(a) See the definition in s. 23 (4), ante, p. 2898.

* Subject to the maximum limits specified in paragraph 1 of this Schedule and Table II., according to the age of the professional fireman at the date of his retirement.

TABLE II.

Maximum proportions of Pension to Pay, according to the Age of the Professional Fireman.

Age of firemen at retirement.	Maximum proportion of pension to pay at retirement.
Years	60ths.
55 and less than 56	30
56 ,, 57	32
57 ,, 58	34
58 ,, 59	36
59 ,, 60	38
60 or over	40

(c) Gratuities.

5. On retirement with medical certificate with less than ten years' approved service.—The gratuity shall be an amount equal to one-twelfth of the annual pay for each completed year of approved service, or, where a professional fireman has not completed one year of approved service, an amount equal to the rateable deductions which have been made from his pay.

PART II.

WIDOWS AND CHILDREN.

(a) Widow's Pensions.

6. Widow's ordinary pension.—The pension shall be the amount specified under (i) or (ii) of the following scales whichever is the greater, that is to say—

Scale (i)—if her husband was fireman or sub-officer at the time of his death or retirement, at the rate of 30*l.* a year;

if he was of a higher rank than sub-officer and of a lower rank than chief officer at the time of his death or retirement, at the rate of 40*l.* a year;

if he was a chief officer at the time of his death or retirement, at the rate of 50*l.* a year;

Scale (ii)—an amount ascertained according to the length of her husband's service and his pay at the time of his death or retirement as follows:—

Completed years of approved service.	Percentage of annual pay.
30 years or over	12½ per cent.
25 years and under 30	10 ,,
20 years and under 25	8 ,,
15 years and under 20	6 ,,
10 years and under 15	4 ,,

subject, however, in the case of the widow of a pensioner to a deduction equal to twenty-five per cent. of the amount for each complete year for which her husband's pension had been drawn.

7. Widow's special pension.—The pension shall be equal to one-third of her husband's annual pay at the time of his death or retirement.

(b) Widow's Gratuities.

8. The gratuity shall be of such amount as the local authority may determine, but not exceeding one-twelfth of her husband's annual pay for each completed year of approved service.

Schedule.

(c) Children's Allowances.

9. Professional fireman or pensioner dying as the result of non-accidental injury received in the execution of duty.—The allowance in respect of each child who has not attained the age of sixteen shall be an annual allowance, up to the time that child attains the age of sixteen, at the rate of one-fifteenth of the fireman's annual pay; and, if he leaves no widow or the widow dies before all the children attain the age of sixteen, the allowance may be increased up to two-fifteenths of such pay in respect of each child under sixteen; but in any case the allowance granted to any child shall not be less than the amount of the allowance to which that child would have been entitled under paragraph 10 of this Schedule if the professional fireman had died as a result of an accidental injury received in the execution of duty, and the aggregate amount paid in any year by way of children's allowances when added to the widow's pension, if any, shall not exceed two-thirds of such pay.

10. Professional fireman or pensioner dying as a result of an accidental injury received in the execution of duty.—The allowance in respect of each child who has not attained the age of sixteen shall be an annual allowance up to the time that child attains the age of sixteen at the rate of—

10*l.* in the case of a person who was a fireman or sub-officer at the time of his death or retirement;

12*l.* in the case of a person who was of a higher rank than sub-officer and of a lower rank than chief officer at the time of his death or retirement;

15*l.* in the case of a person who was a chief officer at the time of his death or retirement:

Provided the aggregate amount of such allowance in any year shall not exceed 30*l.*, 40*l.*, and 50*l.*, in the three cases respectively; but if he leaves no widow, or if the widow dies before all the children attain the age of sixteen, the actual allowance or allowances and the aggregate amount of any such allowances may be increased by fifty per cent. above the sums hereinbefore mentioned.

(d) Children's Gratuities.

11. The gratuity shall be of such amount as the local authority may determine, not exceeding one-sixtieth of the annual pay for each completed year of approved service of the fireman or pensioner, but so that the total amount of any gratuity or gratuities granted to the children or to the widow and children and any dependants does not exceed one-twelfth of the annual pay for each completed year of approved service, and the total amount of any gratuities granted to the children shall not, in any case, exceed the annual pay.

(e) Dependants' Gratuities.

12. The total amount of any gratuity or gratuities paid to a dependant or dependants of a professional fireman or pensioner shall not exceed the amount of the rateable deductions which have been made from his pay, or in the case of a professional fireman or pensioner who was serving at the commencement of this Act or who retired before the commencement of this Act, as the case may be, the amount of the rateable deductions which would have been made from his pay if this Act had been in force during the whole of his service and had been applicable thereto.

PART III.

General Rules.

13. The same person shall not be entitled to a gratuity in addition to a pension or allowance, or to both an ordinary pension and a special pension.

14. A gratuity shall be paid in one sum, except that in special cases it may be paid by instalments or applied on behalf of the grantee if the local authority consider that it would be to the advantage of a widow, child or dependant to do so; and a child's allowance or gratuity or a dependant's gratuity may be paid to a guardian or trustee if the local authority consider that it would be to the advantage of the child or dependant to do so.

Schedule.

15. If the widow of a professional fireman was at the time of his death living apart from her husband (not having been deserted by him), a pension or gratuity shall be paid to her only if the local authority are satisfied that he regularly contributed to her support; and the amount of a pension shall not, in such a case, exceed the amount which her husband contributed.

16. Subject to the provisions of this Act, the widow and children of a pensioner shall not receive any pension, allowance or gratuity unless the marriage took place before he retired on pension.

17. The payment of a widow's pension or the balance of a widow's gratuity shall, if at any time she re-marries, be suspended, but, in the event of her again becoming a widow, shall be resumed on proof to the satisfaction of the local authority that her circumstances are such that the pension or balance of gratuity is necessary for her support, and that she is of good character and deserving of bounty out of public funds.

18. A widow's pension or balance of a widow's gratuity shall be payable only so long as she is of good character.

19.—(a) In calculating any pension, gratuity or allowance for the purposes of this Act, " annual pay " means annual pay at the date of death or retirement as the case may require:

Provided that—

(i) where a professional fireman at the date of his death or retirement holds a rank to which he has been promoted within the three preceding years, his annual pay at the date of the death or retirement shall be deemed to be the average annual amount of pay received by him for the said three years, instead of the annual amount actually received by him at that date, so, however, that the pension allowance or maximum gratuity payable shall not be less than if he had continued in his former rank; and

(ii) where the pay at the date of death or retirement was weekly pay, the amount of the annual pay shall be deemed to be fifty-two times the amount of the weekly pay.

(b) For the purpose of the foregoing provisions of this rule, the following only shall be recognised as ranks in a fire brigade, that is to say, chief officers (including superintendents in charge), second officers, superintendents, district officers, station officers, sub-officers and firemen:

Provided that in Scotland firemaster and lieutenant shall be also recognised as ranks.

WIDOWS, ORPHANS AND OLD AGE CONTRIBUTORY PENSIONS ACT, 1925.

(15 & 16 GEO. 5, c. 70.)

An Act to make provision for pensions for widows, orphans, and persons between the ages of sixty-five and seventy, and for the payment of contributions in respect thereof; and to amend the enactments relating to health and unemployment insurance and old age pensions. (a) [7th August, 1925.]

(a) As pointed out in note (a) to the National Health Insurance Act, 1924, at p. 2867, ante, to which reference should be made, considerations of space prohibit any reference to the general administration of this Act. The only provisions set out here are those imposing specific powers and duties under the Act upon local authorities as such as distinct from the obligations of local authorities as employers of labour.

Special provisions as to additional allowances and orphans' pensions.

6.—(1) . . .

(2) Where a representation is made to the Minister by the local authority (a) or otherwise—

(a) with reference to an additional allowance (b) payable in respect of a child, that the widow or other person to whom the additional allowance is payable has deserted or abandoned or ceased to support the child, or has become disqualified for the time being from receiving a widow's pension (c), and that it would be in the interests of the child (d) that the additional allowance should be administered by the local authority or some other person for the benefit of the child;

(b) with reference to an orphan's pension (e) payable in respect of a child, that it would be in the interests of the child (f) that it should be administered by the local authority or some other person for the benefit of the child;

the Minister, if satisfied that the allegations of the representation are true, and that it would be in the interests of the child so to do, may direct that the additional allowance or orphan's pension shall be paid to the person having the charge of the child or to any other person approved by the Minister or to the local authority (g), to be administered by such person or by the local authority for the benefit of the child:

Provided that, where the widow or other person to whom the additional allowance or orphan's pension is payable has not had an opportunity of presenting her case personally, or through some person appointed by her, to the local authority or a person appointed for the purpose by the local authority, the Minister (except where the widow or other person cannot be found, or is in prison, or in an asylum or other similar institution) shall, before giving any such direction, give the widow or such other person as aforesaid an opportunity of so presenting her case to a person appointed by him.

(3) . . .

(a) Local authorities for the purpose of this Act are county and county borough councils, and the councils of non-county boroughs and urban districts which are both local education authorities and authorities for the purposes of the Maternity and Child Welfare Act, 1918 (s. 41 (1), post, p. 2906). County councils may also by agreement delegate their powers and duties under the Act to any sanitary authority whose area is wholly or partly within the county (s. 41 (2), post, p. 2907).

(b) An additional allowance is the amount payable to a widow in respect of each child under ss. 1 (1) (a) and 3 (3).

(c) Such disqualification arises when the recipient is an inmate of a workhouse or other poor law institution, or is detained in an asylum or imprisoned without the option of a fine (Sched. III.) or is cohabiting with any person as man and wife (s. 21).

(d) Note the interests of the child are a material consideration, but the recipient of the pension must be within the terms of the section before a representation can be made.

(e) An orphan's pension is, subject to this provision, payable to the guardian or other person having the charge of the child (s. 4 (3)).

(f) In the case of an orphan's pension, the interests of the child are the only material consideration upon which a representation can be made.

(g) The duty of administering allowances or pensions may thus devolve upon local authorities.

Power to modify existing superannuation schemes.

27.—(1) Where at the commencement of this Act any pension scheme has been established otherwise than by Act of Parliament (a) (including a scheme established under powers conferred by Act of Parliament), whereby benefits are provided corresponding to any of the benefits secured by this Act, and the pension authority (b) are desirous, in consequence of the passing of this Act, to modify the scheme as respects insured persons who may become entitled to corresponding benefits under or by virtue of this Act, but under the instrument regulating the scheme are unable to do so either absolutely or without undue delay or expense, the pension authority may submit to the Chief Registrar of Friendly Societies (c) proposals for conferring on them the powers necessary for the purpose, and the Chief Registrar (c) may confirm the proposals, subject to such conditions, if any, as he thinks fit to impose, and

Section 27.

thereupon, subject to compliance with such conditions, if any, the pension authority may modify the scheme as respects such persons as aforesaid by reducing the amount of the benefits payable under the scheme and the contributions payable thereunder, and by making such other alterations in the scheme as may appear to them expedient in consequence of such reductions:

Provided that, where the pension authority is a local authority (d) this subsection shall have effect as if for references to the Chief Registrar of Friendly Societies there were substituted references to the Minister.

(2) Where at the commencement of this Act any pension scheme has been established by Act of Parliament (a) whereby benefits are provided corresponding to any of the benefits secured by this Act the pension authority (b) may submit to the Chief Registrar of Friendly Societies (c) an amending scheme for reducing, as respects insured persons who may become entitled to corresponding benefits under or by virtue of this Act, the benefits payable under the scheme, and the contributions payable thereunder, and may make such other alterations in the scheme as appear to them expedient in consequence of such reductions; and the Chief Registrar (c), after giving persons affected by the proposed scheme or their representatives the opportunity of objecting, and after considering any such objection, may confirm the scheme; and on any such amending scheme being so confirmed the Act by which the scheme is established shall have effect subject to the provisions of the amending scheme:

Provided that, where the pension authority is a local authority (d) this subsection shall have effect as if for references to the Chief Registrar of Friendly Societies there were substituted references to the Minister.

(3) Where by any public general Act in force at the commencement of this Act provision is made for the establishment of a general scheme of superannuation whereby persons in return for contributions payable thereunder become entitled to benefits corresponding to any of the benefits secured by this Act, any local authority or combination of local authorities which are at the commencement of this Act or have hereafter become or propose to become a pension authority to which the first-mentioned Act applies may submit to the Minister a scheme modifying the first-mentioned Act so far as it relates to insured persons who may become entitled to any of the benefits secured by this Act and who may also become entitled to receive from the pension authority corresponding benefits under the first-mentioned Act—

(a) by reducing the superannuation allowance payable under the first-mentioned Act to any such person by such amount as may be specified in the scheme, not exceeding the amount of the pension to which he and, if he is married, his wife may become entitled under or by virtue of this Act;

(b) by reducing the contributions payable under the first-mentioned Act by any such person by such amount as may be specified in the scheme; and the scheme may make such financial adjustments (including any alteration in any annual charge payable by the pension authority which may have been fixed under the first-mentioned Act) as may be appropriate in the circumstances, and the Minister, after giving persons affected by the proposed scheme or their representatives an opportunity of objecting, and, after considering any such objections, may confirm the scheme, and upon any such scheme being so confirmed the first-mentioned Act, in relation to the pension authority and such persons as aforesaid, shall have effect subject to the provisions of the scheme.

(4) No alteration in any particular scheme, or in any general scheme in its application to any particular pension authority shall be made by a scheme

Section 27. under this section which will prejudicially affect the solvency of the particular scheme, or of the general scheme in its application to that authority, or increase the liability of the person (if any) liable for the solvency thereof.

(5) The powers conferred on a pension authority by a scheme under this section may include power to pay on behalf of any person in receipt of a superannuation allowance from the pension authority any contribution under this Act or the Insurance Act payable by such person, and, if they think fit, to deduct the amount thereof from the superannuation allowance payable to him.

(6) This section shall not, nor shall any scheme thereunder, except in such cases and to such extent as may be prescribed affect the benefits of or contributions by any person employed in an employment which is an excepted employment within the meaning of section fifteen of this Act.

(7) For the purposes of this section the expression "local authority" means the council of any county or municipal or metropolitan borough or urban or rural district, and any board of guardians (e), and any other local authority within the meaning of the Local Loans Act, 1875 (f), and the expression "pension authority" means any local authority or combination of local authorities or other body of persons administering a pension or superannuation scheme, and the expression "Act of Parliament" includes a Provisional Order confirmed by Act and an order having the effect of an Act.

(a) This includes provisional orders confirmed by Act, and having the force of an Act.

(b) See the definition in sub-s. (7), it includes any local authority or combination of local authorities administering a pension or superannuation scheme.

(c) In the case of local authorities, the Minister of Health is to be read for Chief Registrar of Friendly Societies.

(d) See the definition in sub-s. (7).

(e) Boards of Guardians are abolished and their functions transferred by the L. G. A., 1929, ante, p. 1860.

(f) See s. 34 of this Act at p. 2354, ante.

* * * * * *

39.— . . .

(3) In the case of persons to whom a special scheme made or approved under the Unemployment Insurance Acts, 1920 to 1924, applies, the provisions of this Act relating to unemployment insurance shall have effect subject to the following modifications, that is to say, references to liability to be insured and contributions under the said Acts, to unemployment benefit, and to the unemployment fund shall be respectively construed as references to liability to be insured, and to contributions and benefit, under the special scheme, and to the fund constituted thereunder.

Amendment of Old Age Pensions Acts in relation to persons in receipt of pensions.

40. Any person who is at the date on which he or she attains the age of seventy entitled to an old age pension or a widow's pension under this Act, or would have been so entitled but for the provisions of this Act relating to service dependants pensions, shall be entitled to an old age pension under the Old Age Pensions Acts, 1908 to 1924, at the rate of ten shillings a week, notwithstanding that any of the statutory conditions as to means, residence or nationality is not satisfied in the case of that person, and notwithstanding that the yearly means of that person exceed the amount entitling him or her to a pension at that rate.

General.

Local authorities.

41.—(1) The local authority for the purposes of this Act shall be, in the case of a county borough, the borough council, and elsewhere, the county council:

Provided that, where the council of any non-county borough or urban district is both a local education authority (a) and an authority for the purposes of the Maternity and Child Welfare Act, 1918 (b), that council shall, as respects that borough or urban district, be the local authority for the purposes of this Act to the exclusion of the county council.

(2) A county council may for the purposes of this Act make arrangements with any sanitary authority (c) whose area is wholly or partly situate within the county for the execution and performance by that sanitary authority of any of the powers and duties of the county council under this Act.

(3) A local authority for the purpose of this Act, or a sanitary authority with which a county council have made arrangements under the last preceding subsection, may, if the authority is a local education authority or an authority for the purposes of the Maternity and Child Welfare Act, 1918, delegate their powers and duties under this Act to the education committee or to the maternity and child welfare committee of the authority, or if the authority is both a local education authority and an authority for the purposes of the Maternity and Child Welfare Act, 1918, partly to one such committee and partly to the other, as they think fit; and such delegation may be made subject to such restrictions and conditions, if any, as the authority think fit (d).

(4) Any expenses incurred by a local education committee or a maternity and child welfare committee in the execution and performance of any powers and duties so delegated shall be defrayed as expenses incurred in aid of elementary education or under the Maternity and Child Welfare Act, 1918, as the case may be, and any expenses incurred by a local authority for the purposes of this Act in the execution and performance of their powers and duties which have not been delegated to a local education committee or a maternity and child welfare committee, and any similar expenses of a sanitary authority, so far as they are not met by payments by the county council, shall be defrayed as follows:—

(a) in the case of a county council, as expenses for general county purposes, or, if the Minister by order so directs, as expenses for special county purposes charged on such part of the county as may be provided by the order;

(b) in the case of the common council of the City of London, out of the general rate;

(c) in the case of a metropolitan borough council, as part of the general expenses of the council;

(d) in the case of a borough or district council, as part of the general expenses of the council in the execution of the Public Health Acts.

(5) For the purposes of this Act the Minister may refer to the local authority for investigation and report to him any matter relating to a widow or child to or in respect of whom a widow's or orphan's pension or additional allowance is payable.

(a) The council of an urban district with a population of over 20,000 is a local education authority (s. 3 (1), Education Act, 1921).

(b) As to what councils are authorities under the Maternity and Child Welfare Act, 1918, see the Act and notes thereto at p. 1240, ante.

In order that an urban district council should be a local authority under this Act, it must be both local education authority and maternity, etc. authority. See, however, sub-s. (2).

As to the exercise of such a council's powers under the Act by committee, see sub-s. (3), and as to defraying expenses incurred by such a committee, see sub-s. (4).

(c) If powers under the Act are exerciseable by a council under this subsection, they can only be delegated to a committee if the council is either a local education authority or an authority under the Maternity and Child Welfare Act, 1918 (sub-s. (3)). As to expenses see sub-s. (4).

(d) Delegation of powers and duties under this Act can only be made to either the education or the maternity and child welfare committee of a council, unless, therefore, the council can appoint such a committee delegation cannot take place.

Section 1.

MARKETS AND FAIRS (WEIGHING OF CATTLE) ACT, 1926.

(16 & 17 Geo. 5, c. 21.)

An Act to amend the Markets and Fairs (Weighing of Cattle) Acts, 1887 and 1891 (a). [15th July, 1926.]

(a) These Acts are set out at pp. 2490 and 2534, ante.

Disclosure of weight of fat cattle on sale by auction.

1.—(1) Subject to the provisions of this Act an auctioneer shall not offer for sale in any market, fair, or mart, in or near which a weighing machine is provided for the purpose of complying with the provisions of the principal Acts (a), any cattle (b) which are fit for immediate slaughter (c) unless they have been weighed on the weighing machine and their weight as so ascertained is disclosed to intending purchasers at the time of the offer for sale, either by announcement made by the auctioneer or in some other manner calculated to bring it to their notice.

(2) Any auctioneer who offers for sale any cattle in contravention of this section shall be liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding forty shillings for each head of cattle so offered for sale.

(3) In this section the expression " cattle " means bulls, cows, oxen and heifers (d).

(4) The Minister may by order declare that the foregoing provisions of this Act shall not apply as respects any market, fair or mart (e).

(a) I.e. under s. 4, Markets and Fairs (Weighing of Cattle) Act, 1887, ante, p. 2491, ss. 2 (1) and 4 (1), Markets and Fairs (Weighing of Cattle) Act, 1891, ante, pp. 2534 and 2535.

(b) See the definition in sub-s. (3).

(c) In various orders made by the Ministry of Agriculture and Fisheries under the Diseases of Animals Acts, 1894 to 1925, fat cattle are described as cattle " intended for immediate slaughter," the definition in the text makes fitness for immediate slaughter the test. Fitness is a matter of opinion, but it would seem to be preferable to rely on the physical condition of the animals as to which expert opinion can be given than upon intentions known only to the vendor and purchaser.

(d) The definition does not extend to calves, as in s. 59, Diseases of Animals Act, nor to sheep and pigs, as in s. 3, Markets and Fairs (Weighing of Cattle) Act, 1887, ante, p. 2491.

(e) The Minister is by this subsection given a general power of exemption.

Extension of powers of Minister to grant exemption from provisions of principal Acts.

2. So much of section nine of the Act of 1887 as prevents the Minister from making an order under that section an any ground except that the sale of cattle at a market or fair is, or is likely to be, so small as to render it inexpedient to enforce the provision and maintenance of a place for weighing cattle and of a weighing machine under that Act, shall cease to have effect, and the power of the Minister under the said section to exempt any market or fair from the requirements of that Act as to the provision and maintenance of facilities for weighing cattle, and the power of the Minister under section four of the Act of 1891 to exempt an auctioneer from the requirements of that section in respect of the sale of cattle at a mart, may be exercised respectively with respect to any market or fair and with respect to any auctioneer where the circumstances are in the opinion of the Minister such as to render the enforcement of those requirements inexpedient (a).

(a) Under s. 9, Markets and Fairs (Weighing of Cattle) Act, 1887, ante, p. 2493, the power of granting exemption orders was limited to small markets. Section 4 of the Act of 1891 (ante, p. 2535) imposed no such limitation, but the provision in the text gives to the Minister a very wide discretion as to granting orders under either of those sections. In exercising this discretion the Minister will no doubt be guided by the size of the market or the frequency at which it is held.

Tolls for weighing cattle.

3. The Act of 1887 shall have effect as if for the Schedule to that Act (which prescribes tolls which may be demanded in respect of the weighing of cattle) there were substituted the Schedule to this Act (a).

(a) The tolls prescribed are treble those prescribed by the Act of 1887. See the Schedule to that Act at p. 2493, ante. The amount of these tolls may be varied by the Minister (s. 8 of the Act of 1887, ante, p. 2492).

Note to Section 3.

Interpretation, short title, commencement, citation and extent.

4.—(1) In this Act, unless the context otherwise requires, the following expressions have the meanings hereby assigned to them respectively, that is to say:—

"The Minister" means, as respects England and Wales, the Minister of Agriculture and Fisheries, and as respects Scotland, the Board of Agriculture for Scotland.

"The Act of 1887" means the Markets and Fairs (Weighing of Cattle) Act, 1887.

"The Act of 1891" means the Markets and Fairs (Weighing of Cattle) Act, 1891.

"The Principal Acts" means the Markets and Fairs (Weighing of Cattle) Acts, 1887 and 1891.

(2) This Act may be cited as the Markets and Fairs (Weighing of Cattle) Act, 1926, and shall come into operation on the first day of January, nineteen hundred and twenty-seven; and this Act and the principal Acts may be cited together as the Markets and Fairs (Weighing of Cattle) Acts, 1887 to 1926.

(3) This Act shall not apply to Northern Ireland.

SCHEDULE.

For every head of cattle other than sheep or swine –	Not exceeding sixpence.
For every five or less number of sheep or swine – –	Threepence.

ELECTRICITY (SUPPLY) ACT, 1926.

(16 & 17 GEO. 5, c. 51.)

An Act to amend the law with respect to the supply of electricity (a).

[15th December, 1926.]

(a) This Act is to be construed as one with the Electricity (Supply) Acts, 1882 to 1922 (s. 52, post). I.e. the Electric Lighting Act, 1882, ante, p. 2487, the Electric Lighting Act, 1888, ante, p. 2495, the Electric Lighting Act, 1909, ante, p. 2695, the Electricity (Supply) Act, 1919, ante, p. 2782, the Electricity (Supply) Act, 1922, ante, p. 2836, and the Electricity (Supply) Act, 1928, post, p. 3019. Reference may also be made to the Electric Lighting Clauses Act, 1899, ante, p. 2569. The object of this Act is to concentrate the generation of electricity in a comparatively small number of large stations interconnected by main transmission lines, and the responsibility for carrying out the schemes prepared by the Electricity Commissioners for this purpose, is entrusted to a new body set up by the Act called the Central Electricity Board. The Board is entrusted with the duty of supplying electricity generated at the selected stations to authorised undertakers who in turn will supply consumers. The purpose of the scheme is to reduce the cost of electrical energy, and provision is made in the Act for passing on any such advantage to consumers.

CONSTITUTION AND GENERAL POWERS OF CENTRAL ELECTRICITY BOARD.

Constitution of Central Electricity Board.

1.—(1) For the purposes of this Act there shall be established as soon as may be after the passing of this Act a body to be called the Central Electricity Board (in this Act referred to as the Board), consisting of a chairman and seven other members appointed by the Minister of Transport after consultation with such representatives or bodies representative of the following interests

Section 1. as the Minister thinks fit, that is to say, local government, electricity, commerce, industry, transport, agriculture, and labour.

(2) A person shall be disqualified for being appointed or being chairman or a member of the Board so long as he is a Member of the Commons House of Parliament.

(3) The chairman of the Board and any member of the Board who is, by the terms of his appointment, required to devote the whole of his time to the performance of his duties under this Act shall, within three months after his appointment, sell any securities which he may hold in his own name or in the name of a nominee for his own benefit in any company carrying on the business of supplying electricity or the manufacture or sale of machinery or plant for the generation or transmission of electricity; and it shall not be lawful for the chairman or any such member of the Board whilst he holds office to purchase for his own benefit any securities in any such company, and if the chairman or any such member of the Board under any will or succession becomes entitled for his own benefit to any securities in any such company, he shall sell them within three months after he has so become entitled thereto.

(4) Any member of the Board shall, if he is interested in any company with which the Board has or proposes to make any contract, disclose to the Board the fact and nature of his interest, and shall take no part in any deliberation or decision of the Board relating to such contract, and such disclosure shall be forthwith recorded in the minutes of the Board.

(5) Where the chairman or other member of the Board becomes disqualified for holding office or is absent from the meetings of the Board for more than six months consecutively, except for some reason approved by the Minister of Transport, or fails to comply with the foregoing provisions of this section, the Minister of Transport shall forthwith declare the office to be vacant, and shall notify the fact in such manner as he thinks fit, and thereupon the office shall become vacant.

(6) The Board shall be a body corporate with power to hold land without licence in mortmain and shall have power to regulate their own procedure:

Provided that the quorum of the Board shall not be less than one-third of the full number of the Board.

(7) The Board may act notwithstanding a vacancy in their number.

(8) A person appointed to be the chairman or to be a member of the Board shall hold office for such term not less than five years nor more than ten years as may be determined by the Minister before his appointment.

(9) The Board shall appoint a secretary and such other officers and servants as the Board may determine, and there shall be paid out of the fund hereinafter established (a) to the members of the Board, or any of them, such salaries or fees and allowances for expenses as the Minister of Transport may determine, and to the secretary, officers and servants of the Board such salaries and remuneration, and, on retirement or death, such pensions and gratuities, as the Board may determine; and any expenses incurred by the Board in the exercise and performance of their powers and duties under this Act shall be defrayed out of the said fund.

(10) The Board shall have a common seal, and the seal of the Board shall be authenticated by the signature of the chairman of the Board or some other member of the Board authorised by the Board to act in that behalf, and of the secretary, or some other person authorised by the Board to act in that behalf.

(11) Every document purporting to be an order or other instrument issued by the Board and to be sealed with the seal of the Board authenticated in manner provided by this section, or to be signed by the secretary or any person authorised to act in that behalf, shall be received in evidence and be deemed to be such order or instrument without further proof unless the contrary is shown.

(a) Under s. 26, post, p. 2925.

General powers and duties of Board.

2.—(1) The Board shall be charged with the duty of supplying electricity to authorised undertakers (a) in accordance with the provisions of this Act, but shall not, save as hereinafter expressly provided (b), themselves generate electricity, and the Board shall have such further powers and duties as are provided by this Act.

(2) It shall be lawful for the Board to enter into arrangements with any authorised undertakers for the delegation to them of any of the powers of the Board under this Act which the Board think can more expediently be exercised locally.

(3) Where proposals are made to the Board by any association of owners of generating stations which, by virtue of this Act, become selected stations (c) within an area for which a scheme has been adopted under this Act for the delegation to the association of any powers and duties of the Board within that area, then, if the Board are satisfied that the association making the proposals is a fit and proper body to carry out those powers and duties, the Board shall comply with the proposals if and so far as they consider it practicable to do so without prejudice to the efficient discharge of the general duties of the Board, or to the efficient execution of the scheme within the area, but subject to such conditions as the Board may think fit to impose.

(4) The Board shall not delegate any of their powers with respect to selected stations without the consent of the owners of those stations, nor shall they delegate their power of adopting schemes or fixing a tariff under this Act.

(a) See the definition in s. 51, post, p. 2937, and note thereto.
(b) I.e. by ss. 5 (3) and 6 (3), post, pp. 2913, 2914.
(c) I.e. stations at which electricity will be generated for the purposes of the Board (s. 4 (1) (a), infra).

Appointment of consultative technical committees.

3.—(1) The Board may appoint one or more consultative technical committees consisting of engineers employed in connection with undertakings comprising generating stations which are by virtue of this Act for the time being selected stations.

(2) A consultative technical committee shall give advice and assistance on such matters as may be referred to the committee by the Board, and for that purpose the committee, shall meet from time to time as the Board may determine.

PROVISIONS AS TO SCHEME.

Preparation and carrying out of scheme.

4.—(1) The Electricity Commissioners shall, as soon as practicable, prepare and transmit to the Board a scheme or schemes relating to the respective areas specified therein—

(a) determining what generating stations (whether existing stations or new stations) shall be the stations (in this Act referred to as selected stations) at which electricity shall be generated for the purposes of the Board;

(b) providing for interconnection, by means of main transmission lines to be constructed or acquired by the Board, of selected stations with one another and with the systems of authorised undertakers, and, where the scheme relates to a specified area, for interconnection by means of such lines of the system of the Board in that area with the system of the Board in any other area with respect to which a scheme is then in force or may subsequently be made ;

Section 4.

(c) providing for such standardisation of frequency as may be essential to the carrying out of the proposals for such interconnection as aforesaid;

(d) enabling or requiring temporary arrangements (to be in force during the carrying out of the works specified in the scheme) to be made between the Board and owners of generating stations (whether authorised undertakers or not) with respect to the giving and taking to and by the Board of supplies of electricity, and with respect to the working of generating stations (whether selected stations or not) by the owners thereof;

(e) containing such supplemental, incidental and consequential provisions as may appear necessary or expedient for any of the purposes aforesaid:

Provided that neither a railway generating station operated by a railway company at the date of the passing of this Act, nor a generating station belonging to any canal, inland navigation, dock or harbour undertakers, and operated by the owners thereof at the date of the passing of this Act, nor a private generating station, shall, without the consent of the owners thereof, be included in the scheme as a selected station, nor shall the owners of such a station be required to enter into any temporary arrangements under a scheme, and a scheme shall not authorise the acquisition of a main transmission line belonging to any such undertakers or the owners of a private generating station without the consent of the owners thereof.

(2) The Board shall cause every scheme to be published, and shall give public notice of the date (not being less than one month from the date of the notice) by which authorised undertakers and other persons interested (a) may make representations thereon, and the Board after considering the scheme and such representations, and after holding such inquiries (if any) as they think fit, may adopt the scheme either without modifications, or subject to such modifications as they think fit, and either generally or as respects any part of the area specified in the scheme, and shall publish the scheme as so adopted by them, and where the scheme has been adopted as respects part of the said area it may subsequently be adopted as respects other parts of the area.

(3) As soon as a scheme is so adopted and published either generally or as respects any part of the area specified therein, it shall be the duty of the Board to carry out and give effect to the scheme, or to carry out and give effect to the scheme within the said part of the area, as the case may be:

Provided that, if any authorised undertakers on whom obligations are imposed by the scheme consider that the carrying out of those obligations would be prejudicial to them they may, within one month after the publication of the scheme as adopted, by notice in writing, specifying the nature of the complaint and of the relief sought by them, require the Board to refer the matter complained of to the arbitration of a barrister (or in Scotland an advocate) qualified for appointment to judicial office appointed by the Minister of Transport from panels to be set up by the Lord Chancellor and the Lord President of the Court of Session respectively for the purpose, and the Board shall refer the matter accordingly, unless they amend the scheme by relieving the complainants of such obligations as aforesaid, and shall not, pending the determination of the complaint, unless the complaint is one with respect to which no relief other than pecuniary compensation can be awarded, carry the scheme into effect so far as it affects the complainants.

(4) The arbitrator to whom any such matter is so referred may, in any case in which he thinks it expedient to do so, call in the aid of one or more qualified assessors and hear the case wholly or partially with the assistance of such assessors, and may, if satisfied as to the justice of the complaint, either order such pecuniary compensation to be made to the complainants as seems equitable in all the circumstances or order the scheme to be amended in such manner as he may direct:

Provided that the arbitrator shall not grant any relief other than pecuniary compensation in any case where the Board certify that the grant of such relief would conflict with the basic principles of the scheme or would prejudicially affect the efficiency of the scheme.

(5) A scheme may from time to time be altered or extended by a scheme made and adopted in like manner and subject to the like right of appeal as the original scheme:

Provided that a generating station included in a scheme as a selected station shall not cease to be a selected station without the consent of the owners thereof.

(a) This is the only opportunity afforded to "other persons interested" to object to a scheme. Authorised undertakers, on whom obligations are imposed by the scheme, may also object after the scheme has been adopted and published by the Board (sub-s. (3).

Existing selected stations.

5.—(1) The Board shall make arrangements with the owners of existing generating stations which by virtue of a scheme become selected stations for the stations being operated in accordance with the provisions of this Act (a), and for such extensions and alterations thereof as may be required by the scheme, and for such additional extensions and alterations as the Board, with the approval of the Electricity Commissioners, may from time to time direct:

Provided that, if the owners of any such station consider that any directions of the Board requiring additional extensions or alterations (b) impose upon them an unreasonable financial burden, the matter shall, if they so require, be referred to the arbitration of a barrister (or in Scotland an advocate) appointed by the Minister of Transport from the appropriate panel set up under section four of this Act, and the arbitrator may in any case in which he thinks it expedient to do so call in the aid of one or more qualified assessors and hear the case wholly or partially with the assistance of such assessors.

(2) If the owners of any such station are unwilling to enter into or fail to carry out any such arrangements to the satisfaction of the Board, the Minister of Transport may by order empower any authorised undertakers or other company or person approved by the Board, or, failing such authorised undertakers, company or person, the Board, to acquire the generating station at a price to be determined in accordance with the provisions of the First Schedule (c) to this Act, but where the generating station is situate in an electricity district for which a joint electricity authority has been constituted that authority shall be given first opportunity to acquire the station, and on payment or tender of such price the Minister of Transport may make an order vesting the generating station in the authorised undertakers, company or person, or the Board:

Provided that an order under this subsection authorising the acquisition of a generating station shall not come into force until it has been laid before each House of Parliament for a period of not less than thirty days on which that House has sat and if either House of Parliament before the expiration of that period presents an address to His Majesty no further proceedings shall be taken thereon.

(3) Where the Board acquire a generating station under this section, they may carry out such extensions or alterations thereof as are required by the scheme or as they think fit, and may either operate it themselves or make arrangements with any authorised undertakers or other company or person to operate it:

Section 5.

Provided that the Board shall not themselves operate such a generating station unless they satisfy the Electricity Commissioners that they are unable to enter into an arrangement with any authorised undertakers or other company or person to operate it on reasonable terms, and where the generating station is situate in an electricity district for which a joint electricity authority has been constituted, the Board shall first endeavour to enter into arrangements with that authority to operate the station.

(a) See s. 7, infra.
(b) The right to go to arbitration under this proviso is limited to directions requiring additional extensions or alterations; in so far as extensions or alterations are required by the scheme, the right of the owners to object is limited to the remedies provided by s. 4, sub-s. (2) and (3), ante, p. 2912.
(c) See this Schedule at p. 2938, post.

New selected stations.

6.—(1) The Board may make arrangements with any authorised undertakers in whose area of supply, or in the neighbourhood of whose area of supply, any new generating station required by a scheme is to be situated, for the provision of such station (a).

(2) If the Board satisfy the Electricity Commissioners that they are unable to enter into an arrangement with any such authorised undertakers for the provision of any such new station on reasonable terms, the Commissioners may by a special order under section twenty-six of the Electricity (Supply) Act, 1919 (b), authorise the Board or any company or person to provide the station.

9 & 10 Geo. 5, c. 100.

(3) Where the Board themselves provide a new generating station, they may operate it themselves, or make arrangements with any authorised undertakers or other company or person to operate it:

Provided that the Board shall not themselves operate such a generating station unless they satisfy the Electricity Commissioners that they are unable to enter into an arrangement with any authorised undertakers or other company or person to operate it on reasonable terms.

(a) The approval of the commissioners under s. 11 of Electricity (Supply) Act, 1919, ante, p. 2786, will be necessary to the establishment of a new station (s. 18, post, p. 2922).
(b) See this section at p. 2799, ante.

Obligations and rights of owners of selected stations.

7.—(1) As from such date as may be fixed by the Board, the owners of a selected station shall be under the obligation—

(a) to operate the station so as to generate such quantity of electricity, at such rates of output, and at such times as the Board may direct, and to conduct such operations with due regard to economy and efficiency;

(b) to sell to the Board all electricity generated at the station at such price as is hereinafter mentioned (a).

(2) The owners of a selected station shall (subject to the provisions of this Act enabling the Board to require authorised undertakers to take the whole of their supply from the Board (b) and without prejudice to the powers of such owners to demand a supply under the other provisions of this Act (c)) be entitled to be supplied by the Board from that station at such price as hereinafter mentioned with such amount of electricity as they may require for the purposes of their undertaking not exceeding the amount generated at the station.

(3) The price to be paid by the Board to the owners of a selected station for electricity generated thereat shall, unless otherwise agreed, be the cost of production to be ascertained in accordance with the rules contained in the Second Schedule to this Act (d).

(4) The price at which electricity shall be supplied by the Board from a selected station to the owners of that station shall unless otherwise agreed be either—

(a) the cost of production ascertained in manner provided by subsection (3) of this section adjusted according to the load factor (e) and power factor (f) of the supply given to the owners of the selected station, together with a proper proportion of the Board's expenses other than those incurred by the Board in the purchase or generation of electricity; or

(b) according to the tariff fixed under this Act (g) for the supply of electricity by the Board; whichever is the lower (h).

(5) Where the price to be paid for electricity by or to the Board is to be calculated in accordance with this section (i), the amount to be paid by or to the Board for a supply in any year shall be ascertained as soon as practicable after the end of the year of account, but the Board shall make to the owners of each selected station monthly payments on account of the net amounts due from the Board to those owners under this section in accordance with estimates made for the purpose, subject to adjustment as soon after the end of the year of account as the actual liability can be ascertained.

(6) If any question between the Board and the owners of a selected station arises under this section, then, if it relates to the cost of production, it shall be determined by an auditor appointed by the Minister of Transport, and in any other case it shall be determined by the Electricity Commissioners:

Provided that, pending the determination of the question by the auditor or Commissioners, the owners of the station shall comply with any requirements which may be lawfully made by the Board.

(7) For the purposes of the agreements contained in the Third Schedule to the London Electricity (No. 1) Act, 1925, and the London Electricity (No. 2) Act, 1925, the Board, in relation to the electricity purchased by the Board from the owners of selected stations in pursuance of this section shall not be deemed to be a consumer within the meaning of paragraph three of the schedule to those agreements.

(a) See sub-s. (3), and Sched. II., p. 2939, post.
(b) I.e. under s. 10 (3), post, p. 2918, or s. 14, post, p. 2920.
(c) I.e. under s. 10 (1), post, p. 2917.
(d) See this Schedule at p. 2939, post. If the price is fixed in accordance with the Schedule, the amount due will not be ascertainable until the end of the year, and to meet this difficulty arrangement is made by sub-s. (5) for monthly payments on account based upon estimates and subject to adjustment.
(e) As to "adjustment according to load factor," see s. 51 (3), post, p. 2937.
(f) "Adjustment according to power factor" is to be made in accordance with Regulations of the Commissioners (s. 51 (4), post p. 2938).
(g) I.e. under s. 11, post, p. 2919.
(h) A limitation is also imposed on the price to be charged to owners of selected stations by s. 13, post, p. 2920.
(i) Where the price has been agreed under sub-s. (3) and (4) between the owners and the Board, the necessity for this provision will not arise.

Construction and acquisition of main transmission lines.

8.—(1) As soon as may be after a scheme under this Act has been adopted as respects any area or part of an area, the Board shall construct and lay down the main transmission lines (a) required for the interconnection of selected stations with one another and with the systems of authorised undertakers in accordance with the scheme so far as it relates to that area or part of an area.

(2) Where a scheme provides for the acquisition by the Board of any main transmission line belonging to any authorised undertakers, such transmission line shall, on notice being given by the Board to the undertakers and on payment or tender to the undertakers of the price to be determined in accordance with the First Schedule (b) to this Act, vest in the Board upon an order to that effect being made by the Minister of Transport (c).

(3) Where the Board have so acquired a main transmission line and, by reason of the user thereof by the Board, the alteration or replacement of switch gear or other apparatus of any authorised undertakers connected with the line becomes necessary, the Board shall defray the reasonable expenses incurred by the undertakers in effecting such alteration or replacement, and any question as to whether such alteration or replacement is necessary, or as to the expenses thereof, shall in default of agreement be determined by an arbitrator appointed by the Minister of Transport (d).

(a) "Main transmission lines" are defined by s. 36 of the Electricity (Supply) Act, 1919, ante, p. 2803, see s. 51 (1), post, p. 2937.

(b) See this Schedule at p. 2938, post.

(c) See also s. 22, post, p. 2924, which enables the Board to use a main transmission line by agreement with the authorised undertaker to whom it belongs.

(d) I.e. presumably under s. 28 of the Electric Lighting Act, 1882, ante, p. 2452.

Standardisation of frequency (a).

9.—(1) The Board may require any authorised undertakers or the owners of any selected station to amend or alter the frequency employed in their undertaking or station, if and so far as such amendment or alteration is required to effect the standardisation of frequency provided by a scheme, or to effect such standardisation of frequency as the Board with the approval of the Electricity Commissioners may think expedient, subject to the payment to the authorised undertakers or owners of any expenses which they may properly incur in carrying such requirements into effect (including the cost of altering or replacing plant belonging to consumers), and the Board shall, if required, advance free of interest such sums as may be necessary to enable the said authorised undertakers and owners to effect such amendment or alteration, and it shall be the duty of the undertakers or owners to comply with such requirements and they are hereby authorised to do so notwithstanding anything in any special Act or Order relating to their undertaking.

(2) The payment of any such expenses and the making of such advances shall be purposes for which the Board may borrow under this Act (b) but such part of the revenue of the Board as is required to meet the interest on and sinking fund charges in respect of money so borrowed shall be excluded in any computation of receipts made in estimating for the purposes of rating the net annual value of hereditaments (c), or the yearly rent or value of lands and heritages in Scotland, occupied by the Board for the purposes of their undertaking.

(3) The Board shall be entitled to be repaid by the Electricity Commissioners in each year the sums required to meet the interest and sinking fund charges in respect of money so borrowed, and the payment of such sums shall be treated as part of the expenses of the Electricity Commissioners, but shall be shown as a separate item in their accounts and in their demand notes for contributions towards their expenses:

Provided that the apportionment of the expenses of the Electricity Commissioners under this subsection, instead of being made in accordance with section seven of the Electricity (Supply) Act, 1922 (d), shall be made on the basis of the revenue received from the sale of electricity, other than electricity sold in bulk to authorised undertakers.

(4) Any question of the amount of the expenses properly incurred by authorised undertakers or owners in carrying out any such requirement shall in default of agreement be determined by the Electricity Commissioners or at the option of the authorised undertakers or owners be referred to the arbitration of a barrister (or in Scotland an advocate) appointed by the Minister of Transport from the appropriate panel set up under section four of this Act, and the arbitrator may, if he thinks it expedient to do so, call in the aid of one or more qualified assessors and hear the case wholly or partially with the assistance of such assessors:

Provided that nothing in this section shall prevent the Board and the authorised undertakers or owners concerned from entering into an agreement fixing the sum to be taken in discharge of the liability of the Board to the undertakers or owners under this section.

(5) Notwithstanding anything in this section—

(a) a railway company shall not be required to alter the frequency employed by them in their undertaking or generating station except by an order made in accordance with the provisions of section sixteen of the Railways Act, 1921;

(b) no authorised undertaker from whom any railway company derives a supply of electricity for the purposes of haulage or traction shall be required by the Board to alter the frequency of such supply delivered by them to a railway company unless and until an order as aforesaid has been previously made in respect of the railway company concerned.

(6) Where a scheme under section four of this Act has come into force as respects any area, the powers of the Electricity Commissioners under section twenty-four of the Electricity (Supply) Act, 1919 (e), so far as they relate to the amendment or alteration of frequency, shall not be exercisable within that area.

(a) The Electricity Commissioners also have power to require a change of frequency (s. 24, Electricity (Supply) Act, 1919, ante, p. 2798), and where the requirement is made under their powers the undertakers have to bear the expense of the change. These powers continue in force, but will not be exercisable in respect of any area in respect of which a scheme has been made under this Act (sub-s. (6)). Where an alteration in frequency is made under this Act, the authorised undertakers are to be repaid the expenses of the change by the Board (sub-s. (1)).

(b) The borrowing powers of the Board are contained in s. 27, post, p. 2925.

(c) The effect of this provision is that the sum required to meet interest and sinking fund charges in respect of the cost of standardisation of frequency, is to be omitted from the calculations necessary for estimating for rating purposes the net annual value of property occupied by the Board.

(e) See note (a), supra. The section referred to in the text is set out at p. 2798, ante.

Obligation of Board to supply electricity to authorised undertakers.

10.—(1) As soon as the Board, as respects any area or part of an area, notify that they are in a position to supply electricity, the Board shall, subject to the provisions of this Act, be under an obligation to supply either directly or indirectly (a) to any authorised undertakers in that area or part thereof demanding such a supply such an amount of electricity as they require for their undertaking at a price ascertained in accordance with the provisions of this Act (b).

Provided that, subject to the provisions of this Act relating to the rights of owners of selected stations (c), the Board shall not—

(a) supply electricity directly to authorised undertakers situated in the area of supply of a power company without the consent of the power company unless the undertakers have an absolute right of veto (d) on any right of the power company to supply electricity within the area of supply of those undertakers or any part thereof, or unless the power company are unable or unwilling to supply electricity to such authorised undertakers on reasonable terms and conditions, to be determined in case of dispute by the Electricity Commissioners;

(b) without the consent of the joint electricity authority, supply electricity directly to any authorised undertakers in the district of a joint

Section 10.

electricity authority which the joint electricity authority are authorised to supply;

(c) supply electricity directly to any authorised undertakers in the Edinburgh and Lothians electricity district without the consent of the corporation of Edinburgh.

(2) Where any authorised undertakers have demanded such a supply from the Board, and it appears to the Board that the outlay incurred in providing the main transmission lines required for the supply would, having regard to the supply required, entail unreasonable expense on the Board, they may represent the case to the Electricity Commissioners, and the Commissioners may, if it seems to them to be just, authorise the Board to impose such terms and conditions as the Commissioners think fit, on the giving of the supply.

(3) Where any authorised undertakers owning a generating station, not being a selected station, demand a supply of electricity from the Board, then, whether or not those undertakers are also the owners of a selected station (e), the Board may make it a condition of furnishing such a supply that the undertakers shall take the whole quantity of electricity required for their undertaking, directly or indirectly, from the Board, and where any such authorised undertakers demand a supply from any other undertakers who themselves receive a supply from the Board (f), the last-mentioned undertakers shall, if the Board so require, impose the like condition (which condition those undertakers are, if so required, authorised to impose notwithstanding anything in the special Act or order relating to the undertaking):

Provided that—

(a) The Board shall not impose or require the imposition of such a condition unless satisfied that the cost per unit to the undertakers of taking the whole of their supply directly or indirectly from the Board (including any expenditure necessarily incurred by the undertakers in the provision of any plant or apparatus to enable them to use the supply) will for a period of not less than seven years (g) be less than the cost per unit at which electricity is then being produced at the generating station of the undertakers, and in determining such cost of production no account shall be taken of capital charges in respect of capital expended on the station; and

(b) where the authorised undertakers feel aggrieved by the imposition of such a condition as aforesaid, they may appeal to the Electricity Commissioners, who, if and so far as the ground of appeal is that the cost of taking the supply from the Board will not be less than the cost at which electricity is being produced by the undertakers, shall, if so requested by the undertakers, refer that question to the arbitration of a barrister (or in Scotland an advocate) appointed by the Minister of Transport from the appropriate panel set up under section four of this Act, and the arbitrator may, if he thinks it expedient to do so, call in the aid of one or more qualified assessors and hear the case wholly or partially with the assistance of such assessors; and

(c) where the Board imposes or requires the imposition of such a condition, the Board shall take over the obligations of any such authorised undertakers to receive supplies of electricity in bulk:

Provided that the Board shall not be obliged to take over any such obligation arising under a contract made after the passing of this Act unless the contract has been approved by the Electricity Commissioners.

(4) The Board may, before the carrying out of the works specified in a scheme in any area is completed, if they think fit, enter into arrangements with any authorised undertakers in the area (being undertakers to whom the Board on the completion of the scheme would be entitled to give a direct supply) for giving those undertakers, pending the completion of the works, a supply of electricity of such amount and upon such terms as may be agreed between them.

(a) An "indirect supply" is defined by s. 51 (2), post, p. 2937.

(b) The provisions as to the price of "direct supply" are contained in s. 11, infra, but in the case of the owners of a "selected station" alternative methods of arriving at the price to be paid are given by s. 7 (4), ante, p. 2914, and a limitation on the price is imposed by s. 13, post, p. 2920. The price of "indirect supply" is governed by s. 12, infra.

(c) I.e. under s. 7, ante, p. 2914.

(d) See the definition of this expression in s. 51 (1), post, p. 2937.

(e) As to the supply of owners of selected stations, see s. 7 (2), ante, p. 2914.

(f) The price of such a supply is regulated by s. 12, infra.

(g) As to the calculation of cost of supply by the Board over a number of years, see s. 51 (5), post, p. 2938.

As to the cost of direct and indirect supplies, see ss. 11 and 12, infra, and note (b), supra.

Tariff for electricity supplied directly by Board to authorised undertakers.

11.—(1) Subject to the provisions of this Act as to the sale of electricity to the owners of selected stations (a), the price to be charged by the Board for electricity supplied directly by them to authorised undertakers shall be in accordance with such tariff as may be fixed by the Board from time to time, and the tariff shall be fixed so that over a term of years to be approved by the Electricity Commissioners the receipts on income account shall be sufficient, to cover the expenditure on income account, including interest and sinking fund charges, with such margin as the Electricity Commissioners may allow.

(2) The tariff shall be so framed as to include as part of the charge and show separately—

(a) a fixed kilowatt charges component (b);

(b) a running charges component (b);

and for this purpose the fixed kilowatt charges component and the running charges component shall be ascertained in accordance with such principles as may be approved by the Electricity Commissioners; or the tariff may be framed in such other manner (c) as may be determined by an order of the Electricity Commissioners, but such an order shall not come into force until it has been laid before each House of Parliament for a period of not less than thirty days on which that House has sat, and if either House of Parliament before the expiration of that period presents an Address to His Majesty no further proceedings shall be taken thereon.

(3) The tariff fixed under this section may, if the Board think fit, be different for different areas.

(a) As to prices to be charged to owners of "selected stations," see ss. 7, ante, p. 2914, and 13, post, p. 2920.

(b) Note that these components are to be ascertained in accordance with principles to be approved by the Commissioners, and that the definitions of the expressions in s. 51 (3), post, p. 2937, apply only to s. 7, ante, p. 2914, and not to this section.

(c) This provision enables the Commissioners to frame the tariff on a different basis; note also that the tariff may vary in different areas (sub-s. (3)).

Price of indirect supply in bulk.

12. Where any authorised undertakers take a supply of electricity directly or indirectly (a) from the Board, the price charged by them for the supply of electricity in bulk (b) to any other authorised undertakers, or for a supply for haulage or traction purposes to a railway company, shall, notwithstanding anything in the special Act or Order relating to their undertaking, be on the same terms as those on which the undertakers receive the supply directly or

Section 12. indirectly from the Board, together with such charges and allowances in respect of any transmission line or part thereof used by the undertakers giving the supply in bulk for the purpose of that supply as are mentioned in the Third Schedule to this Act (c), and if any question arises as to the amount of the price to be so charged, it shall be determined by the Electricity Commissioners:

Provided that this section shall not affect the price charged for any supply of electricity given in pursuance of a contract made before the passing of this Act (d).

(a) See the definition of an "indirect supply" in s. 51 (2), post, p. 2937.

(b) This expression is defined in s. 25, Electric Lighting Act, 1909, ante, p. 2703.

(c) See this Schedule at p. 2939, post. The effect of the provision is to pass on to the purchasers of the bulk supply any reduction in the cost of current effected by the operations of the Board. The price fixed by this section does not, however, affect the price fixed by a contract made before December 15th, 1926.

(d) The Act received the Royal Assent on December 15th, 1926.

Limitation on price to be charged to owners of selected stations.

13. Where any authorised undertakers, being the owners of an existing generating station which by virtue of this Act becomes a selected station (a), who take a supply of electricity from the Board prove to the satisfaction of the Electricity Commissioners that the cost of taking that supply from the Board on the terms provided by this Act (b) in any year exceeds the cost which they would have incurred had this Act not been passed in themselves generating the like quantity of electricity, then the charges by the Board to those undertakers for the supplies of electricity furnished to them shall be so adjusted that the amount charged in that year does not exceed the cost which, in the opinion of the Electricity Commissioners, the undertakers would have incurred in themselves generating the electricity.

(a) As to selected stations, see s. 4 (1) (a), ante, p. 2911.

(b) As to the price to be charged for supplies to the owners of selected stations, see ss. 7 (4) and 11, ante, pp. 2914, 2919.

Power to close generating stations in certain events.

14.—(1) Where the Board notify to any authorised undertakers owning a generating station (a), not being a selected station (b), that the Board are in a position to supply directly or indirectly to those undertakers such quantity of electricity as the undertakers would require for the purposes of their undertaking if the station were closed, and undertake to give such a supply for a period of not less than seven years on specified terms ascertained in accordance with the provisions of this Act (c), and are satisfied that the cost of the supply on those terms is below the then prevailing cost to those undertakers of generating electricity at the station, and those undertakers refuse, or within three months after such notification fail to agree, to take such supply directly or indirectly from the Board, then, if the Electricity Commissioners are satisfied (d) as respects the next subsequent year that the cost of production of electricity generated by those undertakers (e) at the station substantially exceeded the cost they would have incurred had they purchased the like quantity of electricity directly or indirectly from the Board on the specified terms ascertained as aforesaid, the Electricity Commissioners may, if in their opinion it is expedient that the station should cease to be used as a generating station, by order require the authorised undertakers within such time as the Electricity Commissioners may allow (not being less than six months from the date of the order) to take a supply of electricity in bulk from the Board and shut down the generating station as such.

(2) If any question arises under this section as to whether the cost of production of electricity generated by any undertakers substantially exceeded the cost they would have incurred had they purchased the like quantity of electricity directly or indirectly from the Board on the specified terms, the question shall, if those undertakers so require, be referred to the arbitration of a barrister (or in Scotland an advocate) appointed by the Minister of Transport from the appropriate panel set up under section four of this Act, and the arbitrator may, in any case in which he thinks it expedient to do so, call in the aid of one or more qualified assessors and hear the case wholly or partially with the assistance of such assessors.

(3) In calculating for the purposes of this section the cost of production of electricity generated by the authorised undertakers, no account shall be taken of capital charges in respect of capital expended on the generating station.

(4) For the purposes of this section, any authorised undertakers owning a generating station not being a selected station shall on being so required by the Electricity Commissioners furnish them with a statement showing the cost of production of electricity at that station for such period and certified in such manner as the Commissioners may direct.

(a) This expression is defined by s. 36, Electricity (Supply) Act, 1919, ante, p. 2802 (s. 51 (1), post, p. 2937).

(b) The power to close generating stations does not extend to "selected stations." See the definition of this expression in s. 4 (1) (a), ante, p. 2911.

(c) I.e. under ss. 11 and 12, ante, p. 2919.

(d) An appeal is given from a decision of the commissioners (sub-s. (2)).

(e) In estimating the cost no account shall be taken of capital charges in respect of capital expended on the generating station (sub-s. (3)).

Compensation for deprivation of employment.

15. Section sixteen of the Electricity (Supply) Act, 1919 (a), as amended by section twenty-one of the Electricity (Supply) Act, 1922 (b), shall, with the necessary adaptations, apply to any officer or servant of any authorised undertakers affected by the closing (permanent or temporary) or restrictions imposed by the Board or by or under a scheme on the working or use of, or the acquisition of, a generating station, or by the acquisition of a main transmission line or any part thereof, under or in consequence of this Act, and for that purpose that section as so amended shall have effect as set out and adapted in the Fourth Schedule to this Act (c).

(a) See this section and notes thereto at p. 2791, ante.

(b) See this section at p. 2845, ante.

(c) See the Schedule at p. 2940, post.

Powers of authorised undertakers.

16.—(1) Where under this Act the Board is authorised or required to enter into arrangements (a) with authorised undertakers for any purpose, then, notwithstanding anything in any Special Act or Order, or any other instrument regulating the constitution or powers of the undertakers, it shall be lawful for the authorised undertakers, whether a joint electricity authority a local authority or a company, to enter into and carry out any such arrangements.

(2) The carrying out of any such arrangements shall be a purpose for which authorised undertakers, being a local authority or a joint electricity authority may borrow under the Electricity (Supply) Acts, 1882 to 1922 (b).

(3) Where the carrying out of any such arrangement by authorised undertakers, being a company, involves capital expenditure, and owing to limitations on the powers of the company to raise capital the company cannot raise the necessary capital without the authority of an Act of Parliament, the company may submit to the High Court (or in Scotland the Court of Session), a scheme providing for increasing all or any of the existing classes of loan or share capital of the company, or creating new classes of loan or share capital, with such rights, priorities and conditions as may be specified in the scheme; and if the scheme is approved by the Court, then, notwithstanding anything in any special Act affecting the company or the holders

Section 16. of any class of loan or share capital in the company, the additional capital of each class shall form part and rank pari passu with the existing capital of that class, and any new class of capital may with the consent of the majority in value of the holders of any class of security affected rank before any existing class of capital.

(a) Arrangements may be made under ss. 2, 5, 6 and 9, ante, and 22, post.

(b) The borrowing powers referred to are contained in s. 8, Electric Lighting Act, 1882 (ante, p. 2443), s. 20, Electricity (Supply) Act, 1919 (ante, p. 2794), and s. 1, Electricity (Supply) Act, 1922 (ante, p. 2835).

Provisions consequent on acquisition by the Board of generating station or main transmission line.

17.—(1) Where a generating station (a) acquired under this Act (b) by any authorised undertakers, company, or person, or by the Board, or a main transmission line (c) acquired under this Act (d) by the Board, is in course of construction, extension, or repair, the rights and liabilities of the former owners thereof under any contract for such construction, extension, or repair, shall be transferred to the body so acquiring the generating station or main transmission line (in this Act referred to as "the acquiring authority").

(2) Where any generating station acquired by an acquiring authority under this Act contains any plant which forms an essential part of the distribution system of the former owners of the generating station, that plant shall, notwithstanding such acquisition, remain the property of such former owners who shall, so long as electricity is supplied for distribution from that station, at all times have the right of access thereto.

(a) See this expression defined in s. 36, Electricity (Supply) Act, 1919, ante, p. 2802 (s. 51 (1), post, p. 2937).

(b) I.e. under s. 5, ante, p. 2913.

(c) See the definition in s. 36, Electricity (Supply) Act, 1919, ante, p. 2803 (s. 51 (1), post, p. 2937).

(d) I.e. under s. 8, ante, p. 2915.

Saving for necessity of obtaining certain consents.

18.—(1) Where the carrying out of any part of a scheme, or any arrangement or requirement in connection therewith, would involve any operation for which any consent or approval of the Minister of Transport or the Electricity Commissioners would be necessary under the Electricity (Supply) Acts, 1882 to 1922 (a), nothing in the foregoing provisions of this Act shall relieve the Board or any authorised undertakers or other persons concerned from the necessity of obtaining such consent or approval.

(2) Where an application is made by any authorised undertakers to the Minister of Transport or the Electricity Commissioners for their consent or approval under the Electricity (Supply) Acts, 1882 to 1922, in any case where such consent or approval is by those Acts required (a), the Minister or Commissioners, in determining whether to give or withhold the consent or approval, shall have regard to the provisions of this Act and the effect of any scheme or proposed scheme thereunder (b).

(a) Provisions requiring the consent or approval of the Minister or Commissioners are included in s. 10, Schedule, Electric Lighting Clauses Act, 1899, ante, p. 2754, ss. 11, 19, 20, 21, and 22, Electricity (Supply) Act, 1919, ante, pp. 2786, 2793, 2794 and 2795. For the purpose of these provisions and any others requiring such approval or consent, the Board are put in the position of authorised undertakers (see also s. 20, post, p. 2923).

(b) I.e. under s. 4, ante, p. 2911.

Special provisions as to London.

19. Where any obligation to carry out any technical scheme imposed on a joint electricity authority, local authority, company or body by or under the London and Home Counties Electricity District Order, 1925, or the London Electricity (No. 1) Act, 1925, or the London Electricity (No. 2) Act, 1925, conflicts with any obligation arising out of a scheme under section four of this Act which is imposed by or under this Act on any such authority, company or body, the last mentioned obligation shall prevail.

Subsidiary Provisions as to the Board.

Application of Electricity Supply Acts to Board.

20.—(1) Subject to the provisions of this section, the Board shall be deemed to be undertakers (a) and authorised undertakers (b) within the meaning of the Electricity (Supply) Acts, 1882 to 1922 (c), and this Act in relation to the Board shall be deemed to be a special Act for the purposes of those Acts, and for the purposes of this section there shall be incorporated with this Act the provisions of the Schedule to the Electric Lighting (Clauses) Act, 1899, subject to such exceptions and modifications as may be prescribed by regulations made by the Electricity Commissioners (d):

62 & 63 Vict. c. 19.

Provided that section thirteen of the Electric Lighting Act, 1882 (e) (which relates to the breaking up of private streets, railways and tramways), and sections two and three of the Electric Lighting Act, 1888 (f) (which relate to the purchase of undertakings by local authorities), shall not apply to the undertaking of the Board, and that section twenty of the Schedule to the Electric Lighting (Clauses) Act, 1899 (g), in its application to the Board, shall have effect as if after the words " electric signalling communication " wherever they occur, there were inserted the words " or electrical control of railways."

45 & 46 Vict. c. 56.

(2) Before any such regulations come into force they shall be laid before each House of Parliament for a period of not less than thirty days on which that House has sat, and if either House of Parliament, before the expiration of that period, presents an address to His Majesty no further proceedings shall be taken thereon.

(3) The Board shall not supply electricity directly to persons not being authorised undertakers (b) except that—

(a) they may supply the owners of selected stations (h) not being authorised undertakers, to the extent to which those owners are entitled to demand a supply under this Act (j).

(b) with the consent of the Electricity Commissioners, they may supply electricity to any company, body, or person requiring a supply for power purposes in any area not forming part of the area of supply of any authorised undertakers, but where electricity is supplied by the Board to a company, body or person requiring a supply for power purposes it may be used by that company, body or person for lighting any premises in any part of which the power is utilised.

Acquisition of land by the Board.

21.—(1) The Board may acquire land or any easements or servitudes or other rights in or over land by agreement, or may be authorised to acquire land or any such right compulsorily, for the purpose of any of their powers and duties under this Act (including the construction of main transmission lines) in like manner as a local authority being authorised undertakers may acquire or be authorised to acquire land under the Electricity (Supply) Acts, 1882 to 1922, for the purpose of a generating station, and those Acts and the Acts incorporated therewith shall apply accordingly (a); and the Board shall be deemed to be a public authority for the purposes of the Acquisition of Land (Assessment of Compensation) Act, 1919 (b):

Section 21.

9 & 10 Geo. 5, c. 57.

Provided that the Electricity Commissioners shall not make and the Minister of Transport shall not confirm any special order authorising the Board to acquire land or a right in or over land compulsorily for the purposes of a main transmission line unless satisfied that the objects sought to be attained cannot consistently with efficiency and economy be attained by the acquisition of a wayleave in accordance with the provisions of section twenty-two of the Electricity (Supply) Act, 1919 (c).

(2) Nothing in this section shall authorise the compulsory acquisition by the Board of land held by the owners or lessees of any railway, canal, inland navigation, dock, or harbour for the purposes of their undertaking, or enable the Board to acquire compulsorily any easement, servitude, or other right in or over such land otherwise than in accordance with the provisions of section twenty-two of the Electricity (Supply) Act, 1919 (c), and section eleven of the Electricity (Supply) Act, 1922 (d).

(c) See this section at p. 2795, ante.
(d) See this section at p. 2841, ante.

Power of Board to use main transmission lines by agreement.

22. The Board may, by agreement with any authorised undertakers or other persons, use, subject in the case of authorised undertakers to the Acts and Orders relating to the undertaking, any main transmission lines (a) of those undertakers or persons for such time and upon such terms as may be agreed.

(a) See the definition in s. 36, Electricity (Supply) Act, 1919, ante, p. 2803 (s. 51 (1), post, p. 2937).

Power of Board to purchase surplus electricity.

23.—(1) The Board and any local authority company or person producing electricity by means of the utilisation of water power, waste heat, or otherwise, may enter into arrangements for the purchase by the Board of any surplus electricity which the local authority company or person may be able to dispose of on such terms as may be agreed, and the Board may be authorised by order of the Electricity Commissioners to exercise such powers (including the power to break up roads, railways, and tramways) as may be necessary for the purpose of conveying the electricity so purchased.

(2) The provisions of subsection (2) of section fifteen of the Electricity (Supply) Act, 1919 (a), shall apply to the Board in like manner as they apply to a joint electricity authority.

(a) See this section at p. 2790, ante.

Protection of Government observatories, &c.

24.—(1) The Board shall not provide, construct, equip, or alter or use any generating station, sub-station, transformer station, building, plant, machinery, electric main, appliance work or apparatus, or use or permit to be used, transmit, convert, or transform any electrical energy either under this Act or otherwise in such a manner as to affect injuriously in any respect whatever either by vibration or obstruction or smoke or by electric or electromagnetic action or influence, or by any means whatsoever whether similar to those enumerated or not any Government observatory or laboratory existing at the passing of this Act (a) or any instrument or apparatus in or adjacent thereto, and used in or in connection therewith.

(2) Section twenty-six of the Electric Lighting Act, 1882 (b), and any enactments incorporated by that section, as amended by section twenty-five of the Electricity (Supply) Act, 1919 (c) (which contain provisions for the protection of the Postmaster-General) shall, in their application to the Board, have effect as if references therein to the Postmaster-General included references to any other Government Department.

(a) I.e. on December 15th, 1926.

(b) See this section at p. 2451, ante, and note the extension of the section to other government departments.

(c) See this section at p. 2798, ante.

Annual report, statistics and returns.

25.—(1) The Board shall annually, at such date and in such form as the Minister of Transport may prescribe, make to him a report of their proceedings under this Act during the preceding year, and such report shall be laid before both Houses of Parliament.

(2) The Board shall furnish to the Electricity Commissioners at such times and in such form and manner as the Commissioners may direct such statistics and returns as they may require.

Financial Provisions.

Expenses of the Board.

26. All sums received by the Board shall be paid into a separate fund, and out of that fund the salaries, fees and allowances of the members of the Board and the salaries, remuneration, pensions and gratuities of the secretary officers and servants of the Board, and all expenses incurred by the Board, shall be paid, including repayment to the Electricity Commissioners of any expenses incurred by those Commissioners in the preparation of any schemes under this Act, and payment to the Minister of Transport of any expenses and liabilities incurred by him before the commencement of this Act preliminary to the preparation of such schemes, together with interest in either case at the rate of five per cent. per annum.

Power of Board to borrow.

27.—(1) For the purposes hereinafter mentioned the Board may with the consent of the Electricity Commissioners and subject to regulations to be made by the Minister of Transport with the approval of the Treasury, borrow money, in such manner and subject to such provisions as to the repayment thereof, and with such powers as to re-borrowing for the purpose of paying off a loan previously raised, as may be prescribed by the regulations, and the regulations may empower the Board to borrow temporarily by the issue of bonds or otherwise and to make arrangements with bankers, and may apply with or without modifications any enactments relating to borrowing by local authorities (a), including provisions as to the enforcement of the security by the appointment of a receiver or otherwise.

(2) Such powers of borrowing as aforesaid may be exercised for all or any of the following purposes:—

(a) the construction or acquisition of such main transmission lines, generating stations, and other works as the Board are authorised by this Act to construct or acquire;

(b) any other payment or any permanent work or other thing which the Board are authorised to execute or do, the cost of which ought, in the opinion of the Electricity Commissioners, to be spread over a term of years (including the payment of interest on money borrowed for capital expenditure for such period as may be determined by the Electricity Commissioners after consultation with the Treasury to be the period during which the expenditure remains unremunerative);

(c) the provision of working capital;

(d) any other purpose for which the Board are under this Act authorised to borrow.

(3) Any money borrowed under this section, and the interest thereon, may be charged on the undertaking and all the revenues of the Board, or on any specific property forming part of that undertaking, and shall be repaid within such period not exceeding sixty years as the Electricity Commissioners may determine.

Section 27.

(4) The maximum amount which may be borrowed by the Board under this section shall be thirty-three and a half million pounds, and the Board shall not have power to borrow any sums in excess of that amount, otherwise than for the purpose of paying off loans previously raised, unless authorised to do so by a special order under section twenty-six of the Electricity (Supply) Act, 1919 (b).

(5) It shall be lawful for any annual provision required to be made by the Board for the repayment of money borrowed for any of the purposes of this Act, to be suspended whilst the expenditure out of such moneys remains unremunerative, for such period and subject to such conditions as the Electricity Commissioners after consultation with the Treasury may determine:

Provided that such suspension shall not be for a longer period than five years from the commencement of the financial year next after that in which such expenditure is incurred.

(a) See s. 20 of the Electricity (Supply) Act, 1919, and notes thereto at p. 2794, ante.
(b) See this section at p. 2799, ante.

Power to authorise issue of stock.

28.—(1) The Board may, for the purpose of raising money which they are authorised to borrow under this Act, issue stock (to be called Central Electricity Stock).

(2) All such stock, and interest thereon, shall be charged on the undertaking, and on all the revenues of the Board.

(3) Subject to the provisions of this Act, any stock created by the Board under the powers of this Act shall be issued, transferred, dealt with, and redeemed, according to regulations made by the Minister of Transport with the approval of the Treasury, and any such regulations may apply for the purpose of this section, with or without modifications, any provisions of the Local Loans Act, 1875 (a), the Public Health Acts Amendment Act, 1890 (b), and the Acts amending those Acts, and of any Act relating to stock issued by any local authority (c).

Power to Treasury to guarantee loans to Board.

29.—(1) Subject to the provisions of this section, the Treasury may guarantee in such manner as they think fit, the payment of the interest and principal of any loan proposed to be raised by the Board, or of either the interest or the principal:

Provided that the aggregate amount of the loans, the principal or interest of which may be so guaranteed, shall not exceed thirty-three and a half million pounds.

(2) Such sums as may from time to time be required by the Treasury for fulfilling any guarantees given under this section shall be charged on and issued out of the Consolidated Fund of the United Kingdom or the growing produce thereof.

(3) The repayment to the Treasury of any sums so issued out of the Consolidated Fund, together with interest thereon at such rate as the Treasury may fix, shall be a charge on the undertaking and all the revenues of the Board next after the principal and interest of the guaranteed loan, and any sinking fund payments for the repayment of the principal thereof, and in priority to any other charges not existing at the date on which the loan is raised.

(4) All sums paid from time to time in or towards the repayment of any sum issued out of the Consolidated Fund under this section shall be paid into the Exchequer.

(5) The Treasury shall so long as any such guarantees are in force, lay before both Houses of Parliament in every year within one month after the thirty-first day of March a statement of the guarantees (if any) given during the year ended on that date, and an account up to that date of the total sums (if any) which have been either issued out of the Consolidated Fund under this section or paid in or towards repayment of any money so issued.

Accounts and audit.

30.—(1) The Board shall cause proper books of account and other books in relation thereto to be kept, and shall prepare an annual statement of accounts in such form and containing such particulars as may be prescribed by the Minister of Transport.

(2) The accounts of the Board and their officers shall be audited by auditors appointed by the Minister of Transport, and the audit shall be conducted in accordance with such regulations as may be prescribed by the Minister of Transport.

(3) As soon as the accounts of the Board have been audited the Board shall send a copy thereof to the Minister of Transport together with a copy of any report of the auditor thereon, and shall publish the accounts in such manner as the Minister of Transport may direct, and shall place copies thereof on sale at a price not exceeding one shilling a copy.

MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS.

Charges for electricity supplied by power companies.

31.—(1) On a power company commencing to receive a supply of electricity from the Board (a), the Minister of Transport may revise the maximum prices authorised under the special Act of the company to be charged by the company for supplies, other than supplies in bulk to authorised undertakers, and may revise the standard prices fixed by such Act and on such revision in determining the maximum and standard prices regard shall be had to any change in the cost of electricity to the company attributable to this Act.

(2) Where a special Act passed before the passing of this Act authorises such a power company to make good any deficiency in any previous dividends which have fallen below the prescribed standard rate of dividends, the Electricity Commissioners may, after such inquiry as they think fit, by special order made under section twenty-six of the Electricity (Supply) Act, 1919 (b), make provision for the repeal or limitation of any such authorisation, and where such an order is made the special Act shall have effect subject to the provisions of the order.

(a) I.e. under s. 7 (2) or s. 10, ante, pp. 2914, 2917.
(b) See this section at p. 2799, ante.

Relation of charges to dividends.

32.—(1) Where any company, being authorised undertakers and not being a power company, receive a supply of electricity either directly or indirectly (a) from the Board, the Electricity Commissioners may, if, having regard to any change in the cost of electricity to the company attributable to this Act (b), they think it expedient, by a special order under section twenty-six of the Electricity (Supply) Act, 1919 (c), make provision as to the relation between the charges to be made for electricity and the dividends to be paid by the company, and the order shall have effect as if the provisions contained therein were in substitution for the provisions (if any) contained in the Act or order relating to the undertaking of the company as to the relation of charges to dividend:

Provided that where any such company carries on two or more separate undertakings one or more of which receive a supply from the Board, any such order shall regulate the charges to be made for electricity in the case of the undertaking or each of the several undertakings receiving such a supply in relation to the divisible profits on the capital attributable to that undertaking.

(2) The provisions of this section shall not apply to any company which is a London company within the meaning of the London and Home Counties Electricity District Order, 1925, or to any company which may be formed under the agreement set out in the Fourth Schedule to the London Electricity (No. 1) Act, 1925, or to any company formed for the purpose of such an amalgamation of undertakings as is provided for by section eight of the London Electricity (No. 2) Act, 1925.

(a) As to "indirect supplies," see s. 51 (2), post, p. 2937.

(b) Note the power of the Commissioners only arises where the change in price is attributable to this Act.

(c) See this section at p. 2799, ante.

Adoption of Local Government and Other Officers' Superannuation Act, 1922. 12 & 13 Geo. 5. c. 59.

33. The Board and any Joint Electricity Authority respectively may (without prejudice in the case of any such authority to the provisions contained in subsection two of section eight of the Electricity (Supply) Act, 1919 (a) if they think fit, adopt the provisions of the Local Government and Other Officers' Superannuation Act, 1922 (b), in the same manner as if the Board or such Joint Electricity Authority, as the case may be, were a local authority within the meaning of the said Act of 1922 (c), and upon that Act being so adopted by the Board or a joint electricity authority the Act shall apply as if the Board or the authority, as the case may be, were such a local authority as aforesaid.

(a) See this section at p. 2785, ante.

(b) This Act is set out at p. 1335, ante.

(c) See the definition of "local authority" in s. 3, Local Government and Other Officers' Superannuation Act, 1922, at p. 1336, ante.

Power to lop trees and hedges obstructing electric lines.

34.—(1) Where any tree or hedge obstructs or interferes with the construction, maintenance, or working of any main transmission line (a) or other electric line (b) which is being constructed or is owned by any authorised undertakers (c), or will interfere with the maintenance or working of such a line, the authorised undertakers may give notice to the owner or occupier of the land (d) on which the tree or hedge is growing requiring him to lop or cut it (e) so as to prevent the obstruction or interference, subject to the payment to him by the authorised undertakers of the expenses reasonably incurred by him in complying with the notice (f):

Provided that, in any case where such a notice is served upon a person who, although the occupier of the land on which the tree or hedge is growing, is not the owner thereof, a copy of the notice shall also be served upon the owner thereof, if known.

(2) If within twenty-one days from the giving of such notice the requirements of the notice are not complied with, and neither the owner nor occupier of the land gives such a counter notice as is hereinafter mentioned, the authorised undertakers may cause the tree or hedge to be lopped or cut so as to prevent such obstruction or interference as aforesaid (g).

(3) If, within twenty-one days from the giving of such notice, the owner or occupier of the land (h) on which the tree or hedge is growing gives a counter notice to the authorised undertakers objecting to the requirements of the notice, the matter shall, unless the counter notice is withdrawn, be referred to the Minister of Transport, who, after giving the parties an opportunity of being heard (j), may make such order as he thinks just, and any such order may empower the authorised undertakers (after giving such reasonable previous notice to any person by whom such counter notice was given of the commencement of the work as the order may direct) to cause the tree or hedge to be lopped or cut so as to prevent such obstruction or interference as aforesaid, and may determine any question as to what compensation (if any) and expenses are to be paid.

(4) The authorised undertakers shall issue instructions to their officers and servants with a view to securing that trees and hedges shall be lopped or cut in a woodmanlike manner and so as to do as little damage as may be to trees, fences, hedges, and growing crops, and shall cause the boughs lopped to be removed in accordance with the directions of the owner or occupier, and shall make good any damage done to the land.

(5) Any compensation or expenses payable to the owner or occupier by the authorised undertakers under this section shall be recoverable summarily as a civil debt.

(6) Where for the purpose of the construction or maintenance of a transmission line it is necessary to fell any trees, this section shall apply to the felling of trees in like manner as it applies to the lopping of trees.

(7) This section shall apply to main transmission lines owned or to be constructed by the Board in like manner as it applies to lines owned or to be constructed by authorised undertakers.

(a) See the definition is s. 36, Electricity (Supply) Act, 1919, ante, p. 2803.

(b) See the definition in s. 32, Electric Lighting Act, 1882, ante, p. 2454.

(c) This expression is defined by s. 36, of the Electricity (Supply) Act, 1919, ante, p. 2802. It now also includes the Central Electricity Board (s. 20 (1), ante, p. 2923, see also sub-s. (7)).

(d) Note that the proviso renders it necessary to serve a notice upon the owner and the occupier, if they are not the same person. A right of giving a counter notice is given to the owner or occupier by sub-s. (3).

(e) Felling is only permissible in the case of main transmission lines (sub-s. (6)).

(f) The amount of these expenses if in dispute is to be determined by the Minister (sub-s. (3)).

(g) Apparently no compensation is payable unless a counter notice is given under the next subsection; the work is, however, to be done in a woodmanlike manner, and damage done to the land is to be made good (sub-s. (4)).

(h) The owner or occupier may give a counter-notice under this section. Notice under sub-s. (1) must be given to both owner and occupier unless they are the same person.

(j) Under other enactments giving a right of appeal to a Government Department it has been held that there is no right to be heard orally, see, R. v. Local Government Board, Ex parte Arlidge, [1915] A. C. 120; 79 J. P. 97; R. v. Housing Tribunal of Appeal, [1920] 3 K. B. 334; 84 J. P. 252; Wilson v. Esquimalt and Nanaimo Rly. Co., [1922] 1 A. C. 202. Here the right given is " an opportunity of being heard " and it might be open to argument whether these words do not give a right to an oral hearing. It is, however, to be gathered from the above-mentioned cases that a " hearing " may be on written representations.

Protection of county bridges (a).

35.—(1) Unless and except so far as may be otherwise agreed between any county council (in this section referred to as " the county council ") and the Board, the following provisions shall have effect (that is to say)—

(a) Nothing in this Act shall in any way limit or affect the powers of the county council to rebuild, alter, widen or repair the structure of any bridge upon which any work by this Act authorised shall be constructed, or impose upon the county council any liability which was not by law imposed upon them prior to the commencement of this Act;

(b) If at any time the county council require to carry out works for rebuilding, altering, widening or repairing any bridge which might involve interference with any portion of the undertaking by this Act authorised they shall prior to the commencement of such works give the Board one month's notice in writing of their intention to carry out such works and if in order to avoid interruption to the supply by the Board of electrical energy, it is in the opinion of the county council necessary temporarily to remove the mains and other electrical appliances belonging to the Board from such bridge, then the Board shall (and they are hereby authorised so to do) at their own expense temporarily carry their cables and wires across such bridge overhead or at the side thereon in such a manner as will not be a danger or inconvenience to the public, or unreasonably interfere with the works to be carried out by the county council;

(c) When the rebuilding, altering, widening or repairing of such bridge shall have been completed the Board shall have the same rights and powers with regard to such bridge and its approaches as they had before the works were carried out;

(d) If any dispute arises between the county council and the Board with regard to this section the same shall be determined by an arbitrator to be appointed on the application of either party by the Minister of Transport.

(2) In the application of this section to Scotland, the county council shall mean the county road board, or if the bridge is not wholly situated within one county, the joint bridge committee if such committee has been appointed.

(a) The effect of this section is to cast upon the Board the cost of altering cables and wires belonging to them when such alteration is necessitated by the rebuilding, alteration, widening or repairing of a county bridge by the county council, and so to overrule the provisions of s. 15, Electric Lighting Act, 1882, ante, p. 2447, in so far as county bridges are concerned.

As to what are " county bridges " see the definition in s. 134, L. G. A., 1929, and notes thereto, ante, p. 1996.

AMENDMENTS OF THE ELECTRICITY SUPPLY ACTS.

Schemes for constitution of electricity districts, and the organisation of supply therein.

36. For section five of the Electricity (Supply) Act, 1919, as amended by section nineteen of the Electricity (Supply) Act, 1922 (a), the following section shall be substituted :—

" (1) Where it appears to the Electricity Commissioners that with respect to any areas the existing organisation for the supply of electricity therein should be improved, and that a joint electricity authority should be established therefor, the Commissioners shall give notice of their intention to constitute those areas a separate electricity district, and to formulate a scheme for effecting such improvement in the district, and for the establishment of a joint electricity authority for the district:

Provided that, in considering what areas are to be included in a district, areas shall be grouped in such manner as may seem to the Commissioners most conducive to the efficiency and economy of the supply of electricity and the convenience of administration.

(2) After such a notice has been published, the Electricity Commissioners, after consultation with the authorised undertakers (b) in the proposed district, shall formulate such a scheme as aforesaid, and publish the scheme in such manner as they think best adapted for insuring its publicity, and hold a local inquiry (c) thereon, and shall give to authorised undertakers, county councils, local authorities, railway companies using or proposing to use electricity for traction purposes, large consumers of electricity, and other associations or bodies within the proposed district which appear to the Commissioners to be interested, an opportunity of making representations to the Commissioners on the proposed scheme, and with respect to the inclusion in or exclusion from the proposed district of any area."

(a) The superseded provision as amended is set out at p. 2783, ante.
(b) See the definition in s. 36, Electricity (Supply) Act, 1919, ante, p. 2802.
(c) As to inquiries, see s. 33, Electricity (Supply) Act, 1919, ante, p. 2801.

Contents of schemes.

37. A scheme constituting a joint electricity authority may, in addition to the matters for which provision may be made under section six of the Electricity (Supply) Act, 1919 (a), contain provisions—

(a) for the carrying out by the joint electricity authority of any works for the development of the supply of electricity within the district; and

(b) for the subsequent alteration of the constitution of the joint electricity authority.

(a) See this section at p. 2784, ante.

Amendment of schemes.

38.—(1) The power under section seven of the Electricity (Supply) Act, 1919 (a); to make orders altering previous orders shall include power by such subsequent order to constitute a joint electricity authority in any case where the original order did not provide for the constitution of such an authority.

(2) Where any such amending order constitutes a joint electricity authority in lieu of an advisory committee or other body constituted under the original order, the amending order shall provide for the application to officers and servants of the advisory committee or other body of the provisions of section sixteen of the Electricity (Supply) Act, 1919, as amended by section twenty-one of the Electricity (Supply) Act, 1922 (b), subject to the necessary modifications.

(a) See this section at p. 2785, ante.
(b) The section was further amended by the Electricity (Supply) Act, 1928, post, p. 3019. See the section as amended at p 2791, ante.

Provisions as to companies with large area of supply.

39.—(1) Where after the commencement of this Act a special order (a) is made authorising a company to supply electricity, and the area of supply consists of or includes the whole of the districts of two or more local authorities and is, in the opinion of the Electricity Commissioners, adequate in extent, the following provisions shall have effect with respect to the right of purchasing their undertaking (b)—

(a) The purchasing authority may within six months after the expiration of a period of fifty years (c) from the date of the confirmation of the special order, or such shorter period as may be specified in that behalf in the special order, and within six months after the expiration of every subsequent period of ten years, or such shorter period as may be specified in that behalf in the special order, by notice in writing, require the company to sell, and thereupon the company shall sell to them their undertaking upon the terms of the payment to those undertakers of a sum equal to the capital properly expended for the provision of the land, buildings, works, material, and plant of the undertakers in use or available and suitable for use at the time of the purchase for the purposes of their undertaking, less depreciation according to such scale as may be determined by special order (d).

(b) The Minister of Transport shall determine any questions which may arise in relation to such purchase and may fix the date from which the purchase is to take effect, and as from the date so fixed, or such other date as may be agreed, all lands, buildings, works, material and plant so purchased as aforesaid, shall vest in the purchasing authority, freed from the debts, mortgages, or similar obligations of the undertakers or attached to the undertaking, and the powers of the undertakers in relation to the supply of electricity under the Electricity (Supply) Acts, 1882 to 1926, or such special order as aforesaid, shall absolutely cease and determine, and shall vest in the purchasing authority (e):

(c) The purchasing authority (f)—

(i) where the area of supply is situate wholly or mainly within the district of a joint electricity authority, shall be the joint electricity authority: Provided that, if the area of supply is situate partly within the district of one joint electricity authority and partly in that of another, the right of purchase shall be exerciseable by such one of those authorities, or shall be divisible between them as the Electricity Commissioners may determine;

(ii) in any other case, shall be the local authorities for the districts in which any part of the area of supply is situate, acting through a joint committee or joint board constituted under section eight of the Electric Lighting Act, 1909 (g).

(d) Sections two and three of the Electric Lighting Act, 1888 (h), shall not apply.

(2) The special order in any case to which subsection (1) of this section applies may make provision as to the relation between the price charged for electricity and the divisible profits on the capital attributable to the undertaking authorised by the special order.

(a) A special order is made under s. 26, Electricity (Supply) Act, 1919, ante, p. 2799.

(b) This section materially affects the rights of local authorities to purchase an undertaking any part of whose area of supply is included in their district, conferred by s. 2 of the Electric Lighting Act, 1888, ante, p. 2495. Attention is directed in the notes to the material differences which exist in cases where this section applies.

(c) Under s. 2, Electric Lighting Act, 1888, ante, p. 2495, the maximum period is forty-two years.

(d) The section provides a specific formula for ascertaining the purchase price; under s. 2 of the Electric Lighting Act, 1888, ante, p. 2495, the amount payable was "the then value," an amount sometimes very difficult to assess.

(e) The undertakers' powers vest in the purchasers by virtue of this provision and not as a result of any transfer from the undertakers (Edinburgh Street Tramways Co. v. Lord Provost of Edinburgh, [1894] A. C. 456).

(f) Under s. 2 of the Electric Lighting Act, 1888, any local authority within whose jurisdiction any part of the area of supply was situated was the purchasing authority; under the provision in the text no single local authority can be the purchasing authority. If, however, there is no joint electricity authority for any part of the area of supply, all the local authorities in whose districts any part of the area of supply is situate, acting through a joint committee or joint board constituted under s. 8, Electric Lighting Act, 1909, ante, p. 2699, may be the purchasing authority.

(g) See this section at p. 2699, ante.

(h) These sections which govern the purchase of undertakings by local authorities are set out at pp. 2495, 2496, ante.

Terms of purchase of a company taking a bulk supply.

40. Where a company, being authorised undertakers (a), have ceased to generate electricity themselves, and in lieu thereof are taking a supply of electricity in bulk directly or indirectly (b) from the Board, or, with the approval of the Electricity Commissioners, from any other source, and the undertaking of the company is purchased by a local authority under section two of the Electric Lighting Act, 1888 (c), or under any local Act or Order on terms based on the same principle as those contained in the said section two, the following provisions shall have effect notwithstanding anything contained in that Act:

(1) In addition to the sum payable to the company by the local authority in respect of plant and other assets under the said Act of 1888 (d), or under the said Act as varied by any order, or under any such local Act or Order as aforesaid, there shall be paid a sum representing the capital properly expended upon plant and other assets rendered unsuitable for use by reason of the taking of such bulk supply as aforesaid, after deducting such amount as the company, in the opinion of the Electricity Commissioners, ought properly to have written off in respect of such assets:

(2) Any question arising under this provision shall be determined by the Electricity Commissioners, whose decision shall be final.

(a) See the definition in s. 36, Electricity (Supply) Act, 1919, ante, p. 2802, and s. 51 (1), post, p. 2937.

(b) As to "indirect supplies," see s. 51 (2), post, p. 2937.

(c) See this section at p. 2495, ante. This section provides that the purchase price shall be "the then value of all lands, buildings, works, materials and plant of such undertakers suitable to and used by them for the purposes of their undertaking." The effect of the undertakers taking a supply in bulk might be to render a whole or part of their plant, etc. useless, and so reduce the amount which the local authority would have to pay, the provisions contained in the text provide for the purchase price under such conditions.

(d) Except as regards plant rendered unsuitable for use by reason of the taking of the bulk supply, the basis laid down by s. 2 of the Electric Lighting Act, 1888, will be applicable.

Power to alter terms of purchase by agreement.

41. Where under the Electricity (Supply) Acts, 1882 to 1922, or under any order made thereunder, or under any deed of transfer executed in pursuance of powers conferred by any such order, or under any special or local Act, any right to purchase the whole or any part of the undertaking of any authorised undertakers is vested in a local authority (including a joint electricity authority) the authorised undertakers may at any time within ten years before the date of purchase next occurring after the passing of this Act, or within ten years of any subsequent date of purchase enter into a contract with the local authority to amend, vary or alter the terms of purchase on the next occurring date upon which they may purchase upon conditions to be agreed between the parties with the approval of the Electricity Commissioners, and the terms of such agreement shall be binding upon the parties (a).

(a) Quære, whether an agreement under this section can provide for the postponement of the date on which purchase is to be made (cf. s. 14, Electricity (Supply) Act, 1922, ante, p. 2842).

Methods of charge.

42.—(1) The charge made by authorised undertakers (a) to any ordinary consumer, may, if duly authorised (b), and notwithstanding anything in any Act or Order to the contrary, consist of a periodical fixed or service charge and in addition a charge for the actual quantity of energy supplied to the consumer or for the electrical quantity contained in the supply.

Where the undertakers have power to provide meters, electric lines, fittings, apparatus and appliances, the periodical fixed or service charge may include a rent, charge or remuneration in respect of any meter and any electric lines, fittings, apparatus and appliances provided by the undertakers in or upon the premises of the consumer whether let on hire or hire purchase terms to the consumer or otherwise (c).

(2) A method of charge as aforesaid may be authorised by Special Order (d) or by an approval under the provisions of section thirty-one of the Schedule to the Electric Lighting (Clauses) Act, 1899 (e), or corresponding provision contained in any Act or Order, and such Special Order or approval may provide, where expedient, for an option to ordinary consumers to be charged by an authorised alternative method.

(a) See the definition in s. 36, Electricity (Supply) Act, 1919, ante, p. 2802, and s. 51 (1), post, p. 2937.

(b) As to methods of charge authorised by the Electricity Supply Acts, see s. 31, Schedule to the Electric Lighting (Clauses) Act, 1899, ante, p. 2587, and s. 22, Electricity (Supply) Act, 1922, ante, p. 2845. As to the authorisation of charges under the provision in the text, see sub-s. (2).

Note to Section 42.

(c) Joint electricity authorities and local authority undertakers have power to let for hire or sell fittings, etc. (s. 23, Electricity (Supply) Act, 1919, ante, p. 2798, and s. 48, post, p. 2935).

(d) As to special orders, see. s. 35, Electricity (Supply) Act, 1919, ante, p. 2801.

(e) See this provision at p. 2587, ante.

Amendment (a) of Schedule to 62 & 63 Vict. c. 19.

43.—(1) The Schedule to the Electric Lighting (Clauses) Act, 1899, as incorporated with any special Act or Order passed or confirmed whether before or after the commencement of this Act, shall have effect subject to the amendments specified in the Fifth Schedule to this Act.

(2) Any special Act or Order relating to the supply of electricity passed or confirmed before the commencement of this Act which does not incorporate the provisions of the Schedule to the Electric Lighting (Clauses) Act, 1899, which are amended by the Fifth Schedule to this Act, but contains corresponding provisions, shall have effect as if the like amendments were made in those corresponding provisions.

(a) Note that the amendments are to affect not only Acts and Orders in force prior to the passing of this Act, but also Acts and Orders containing provisions similar to those in the Schedule to the Electric Lighting (Clauses) Act, 1899. The amendments have been incorporated in the text of the Act which is set out at pp. 2569, et seq.

Amendment of s. 21 of the Electricity (Supply) Act, 1919.

44.—(1) Where applications made by any authorised undertakers for consent to the placing of any electric line above ground and wayleaves have not been agreed with the owners or occupiers of any land proposed to be crossed by a line, the undertakers may serve notice in accordance with the provisions of section twenty-two of the Electricity (Supply) Act, 1919, of their proposal to place the line, and the Minister of Transport may proceed concurrently under sections twenty-one and twenty-two of the Electricity (Supply) Act, 1919 (a).

(2) Where the Board or any authorised undertakers have in pursuance of powers conferred on them under section twenty-two of the Electricity (Supply) Act, 1919, erected on any land supports for an electric line above ground, the Board or undertakers shall, for the purposes of section eight of the Mines (Working Facilities and Support) Act, 1923, be deemed to be persons having an interest in the land on which such supports are erected.

(3) Where an application has been made to the Minister of Transport for his consent to the placing of any electric line above ground, and representations are made that the line will prejudically affect any ancient monument within the meaning of the Ancient Monuments Consolidation and Amendment Act, 1913, the Minister of Transport, in determining whether to give or withhold his consent, or to impose conditions, shall take into consideration any recommendations made to him by the Commissioners of Works with a view to preventing the ancient monument being prejudicially affected.

(a) See these sections at pp. 2794, 2795, ante. Section 22 which provides for the obtaining of compulsory way leaves could not be put into operation until the Minister had given his consent to the placing of a particular overhead line under s. 21. Circumstances might arise in which two local inquiries in respect to the same line might have been necessary, and the provision in the text, therefore, makes for dispatch and the avoidance of expense.

Power to recover charge for reconnection.

45. Any expenses reasonably incurred by any authorised undertakers in reconnecting any electric line or other work through which electricity may be supplied which may have been lawfully cut off or disconnected by reason of any default of the consumer may be recovered by the authorised undertakers in like manner as expenses lawfully incurred by them in such cutting off or disconnecting (a).

Note to Section 45.

(a) An undertaker may disconnect a supply on the default of a consumer under s. 21, Electric Lighting Act, 1882, ante, p. 2450, and recover the costs of such cutting off or disconnection summarily as a civil debt or in any court of competent jurisdiction (ss. 40 and 41, Gasworks Clauses Act, 1871, ante, p. 2325, and s. 12, Electric Lighting Act, 1882, ante, p. 2446). The provision in the text enables the undertakers to recover the cost of reconnecting a supply so cut off, in the same manner.

Supply of electricity by railways, &c.

46.—(1) It shall be lawful for the owners of any railway generating station to supply electricity therefrom to the owners of any other railway generating station upon such terms and conditions as may be respectively agreed between them: Provided that no such supply shall be given under the powers conferred by this section without the consent of the Electricity Commissioners.

(2) The Electricity Commissioners may, subject to the provisions of the Electricity (Supply) Acts, 1882 to 1922, and to the Schedule to the Electric Lighting (Clauses) Act, 1899, by order authorise the breaking up of such roads, railways, and tramways as may be necessary for the purpose of such a supply.

(3) The provisions of the Electricity (Supply) Acts, 1882 to 1922, and of the Schedule to the Electric Lighting (Clauses) Act, 1899, so far as they relate to the protection of the Postmaster-General, shall apply to any works for the supply of electricity under this section and in the application of those provisions the owners giving the supply of electricity under the provisions of this section shall be deemed to be undertakers, and nothing in this section shall affect any right or remedy of the Postmaster-General under the Telegraph Acts, 1863 to 1925.

Supply of electricity to railway companies, &c.

47. Where any authorised undertakers may supply and are supplying within their district or area of supply electricity for haulage or traction to any company or authority being the owners or lessees of a railway, dock, harbour or canal undertaking situate partly within and partly without that district or area, such authorised undertakers may, subject to the consent of the Minister of Transport and to such limitations and conditions (if any) as he may prescribe either generally or in any particular case, so supply electricity to be used for any purposes of such undertaking, whether within or without such district or area of supply, and such company or authority may, subject to the consent of the Minister of Transport and to such limitations and conditions (if any) as he may prescribe either generally or in any particular case, use the electricity so supplied for any purposes of their undertaking for which they are entitled to use electricity:

Provided that the Minister of Transport shall not in any case give any such consent until notice of the application for the consent has been given by advertisement or otherwise in such manner as the Minister may direct, and an opportunity has been given to any person who appears to the Minister to be affected of making representations thereon (a).

(a) This section enables the Minister by consent to do what was formerly only possible by means of a special order under s. 5 (2), Electric Lighting Act, 1909, ante, p. 2697.

Sale of fittings (a).

48.—(1) Subject to the provisions of this section a joint electricity authority and any local authority (b) authorised by special Act or by Order to supply electricity may sell electric lines, fittings, apparatus, and appliances for lighting, heating, and motive power, and for all other purposes for which electricity can or may be used (in this section called "electric fittings"), and may instal, connect, repair, maintain, and remove the same, and with respect thereto may demand and take such remuneration or rents and charges, and may make such terms and conditions as may be agreed upon.

(2) The exercise of the powers of this section shall be subject to the following restrictions:—

(a) The joint electricity authority or local authority shall not manufacture

Section 48.

electric fittings unless expressly authorised to do so by special Act or Order;

(b) The joint electricity authority or local authority shall not sell electric fittings except—

(i) to a consumer (c) or a person who intends to be a consumer of electricity supplied by them; or

(ii) to a contractor (d) who requires such fittings to enable him to supply them to a person who is, or intends to be, a consumer of electricity supplied by the joint electricity authority or local authority;

(c) The prices charged by a joint electricity authority or a local authority for the sale of any electric fittings shall not be less than the recognised retail prices (e), unless the sale is to a contractor, in which case the prices shall not be less than the recognised trade prices (e), and if any question shall arise as to what are the recognised retail or trade prices of any electric fittings, that question shall be determined by the committee appointed as hereinafter provided;

(d) Every such joint electricity authority or local authority shall so adjust the charges to be made by them under this section as to meet any expenditure incurred by them in the exercise of the powers of this section (including interest upon and sinking fund charges in respect of money borrowed for the purposes of this section);

(e) The total sums received and expended by any such joint electricity authority or local authority under this section in each year, including interest upon and sinking fund charges in respect of money borrowed for the purposes of this section, shall be shown separately in the published accounts of the electricity undertaking of such joint electricity authority or local authority.

(3) The Electricity Commissioners shall appoint a committee comprising representatives of associations representing local authorities who are authorised undertakers, contractors, and persons engaged in the business of making and persons engaged in the business of selling electric fittings, such committee to be appointed after consultation with those associations, and that committee shall determine any question which may be raised under this section as to the recognised retail or trade prices of any electric fittings and shall advise and assist the persons concerned as to the method of giving effect to the provisions of this section.

(4) The purposes of this section shall be deemed to be purposes for which the joint electricity authority or the local authority may borrow money (f).

(5) In this section the expression "contractor" means a person engaged in the business of selling and installing electric fittings.

(a) This section extends the powers of local authority undertakers, originally granted by s. 23, Electricity Supply Act, 1919, ante, p. 2798. That section permitted a local authority undertaker to provide, let or hire fittings, etc., but not to sell or manufacture them. This section grants a power of sale and of installing and repairing, etc., subject to the proviso that a sale shall only be to a consumer supplied by them, or to a contractor for the use of a consumer or would-be consumer. The restriction on the power of manufacture continues. As to charges for the hire or sale of fittings supplied, see sub-s. (2) of this section, and s. 42, ante, p. 2933.

(b) See the definition in s. 51 (1), post, p. 2937.

(c) "Consumer" is defined in s. 1, Schedule, Electric Lighting (Clauses) Act, 1899, ante, p. 2570.

(d) See the definition in sub-s. (5).

(e) As to these prices, see sub-s. (3).

(f) The borrowing powers of a joint electricity authority are contained in s. 1 of the Electricity Supply Act, 1922, ante, p. 2835, and those of local authority undertakers in s. 8 of the Electric Lighting Act, 1882, ante, p. 2443.

Special provisions as to gas undertakers. 15 & 16 Geo. 5, c. 44.

49. Where the owners of a gas undertaking apply, under the provisions of the Electricity (Supply) Acts, 1882 to 1922 or the Statutory Gas Companies (Electricity Supply Powers) Act, 1925 (a), for a Special Order, and the Electricity Commissioners decide that they are unable or unwilling to make the Order, the Commissioners shall refer the matter to the Minister of Transport, and thereupon the Minister, subject to compliance with the requirements of the Electricity (Supply) Act, 1919, as to the procedure applicable to the confirmation of Special Orders, may, if he thinks fit, make the Order, and any Order so made shall have effect as if it had been made by the Electricity Commissioners and confirmed by the Minister of Transport.

(a) See this Act at p. 2885, ante.

Minor amendments.

50. The amendments specified in the second column of the Sixth Schedule to this Act (which relate to minor details) shall be made in the provisions of the Electricity (Supply) Acts, 1882 to 1922, specified in the first column of that Schedule.

GENERAL.

Interpretation.

51.—(1) For the purposes of this Act, unless the context otherwise requires—

The expression "generating station" has the meaning given thereto by section thirty-six of the Electricity (Supply) Act, 1919 (a), and not the meaning given thereto by section twenty-five of the Electric Lighting Act, 1909;

The expression "transmission line," when used with reference to a line which is a main transmission line within the meaning of the Electricity (Supply) Act, 1919 (b), shall include all such works as are mentioned in that definition, and, when used with reference to a line which is not such a main transmission line, shall include any works necessary to and used for the control of the transmission line and the transmission of electricity thereby and the buildings or such part thereof as may be required to accommodate those works.

The expression "owners" in relation to a generating station includes lessees or occupiers of the station operating the station;

The expression "authorised undertakers" includes a joint electricity authority (c);

The expression "local authority" shall include a joint board or a joint committee constituted in pursuance of section eight of the Electric Lighting Act, 1909, or by a special Act passed for the like purpose;

The expression "absolute right of veto" means any unqualified right vested in an authorised undertaker in any Act or Order whereby a power company is restricted from supplying electricity (exclusive of any right of supply for the purposes of any railway, tramway, canal, navigation, dock or harbour, or of any water undertaking) without the consent of such authorised undertaker in any specified area.

(2) Where electricity is supplied to any authorised undertakers by other authorised undertakers who themselves receive a supply from the Board, the first-mentioned undertakers shall for the purposes of this Act be deemed to receive a supply indirectly from the Board, and references in this Act to an indirect supply from the Board shall be construed accordingly.

(3) If and so far as the price for a supply of electricity is under this Act to be the cost of production adjusted according to the load factor, the adjusted price shall be the sum of the following items:—

Section 51.

(a) the number of kilowatts of maximum demand in each month of the year of account multiplied by the fixed kilowatt charges component;

(b) the number of units supplied to the undertakers during the year of account multiplied by the running charges component.

For the purposes of this subsection—

The number of kilowatts of maximum demand for any month shall be deemed to be twice the largest number of units of electricity supplied to the undertakers during any consecutive thirty minutes in that month: Provided that, if the number of kilowatts of maximum demand so ascertained shall be less than the number of kilowatts of maximum demand in any previous month of the same year of account, payment shall be made on the higher number; and

The "fixed kilowatt charges component" and "running charges component" shall be ascertained in accordance with the rules contained in the Seventh Schedule to this Act.

(4) If and so far as the price for a supply of electricity is under this Act to be adjusted according to power factor or otherwise ascertained, such adjustment or ascertainment shall be made in accordance with regulations to be prescribed by the Electricity Commissioners in that behalf.

(5) Where for the purposes of this Act it is necessary to calculate what the cost of taking a supply of electricity from the Board over a number of years will be, then in making the calculation it shall be assumed that the price of fuel and the rates of wages remain constant.

(a) See this section at p. 2802, ante.

(b) A "main transmission line" is defined in s. 36, Electricity (Supply) Act, 1919, ante, p. 2803.

(c) This is an addition to the definition in s. 36, Electricity (Supply) Act, 1919, ante, p. 2802. Note that the Board are, subject to the provisions of s. 20, ante, p. 2923, also authorised undertakers for the purposes of the Electricity (Supply) Acts.

Short title, construction and extent.

52.—(1) This Act may be cited as the Electricity (Supply) Act, 1926, and shall be construed as one with the Electricity (Supply) Acts, 1882 to 1922, and those Acts and this Act may be cited as the Electricity (Supply) Acts, 1882 to 1926:

(2) This Act shall not extend to Northern Ireland.

SCHEDULES.

Sections 5 and 8.

FIRST SCHEDULE.

PROVISIONS AS TO THE ACQUISITION OF GENERATING STATIONS AND MAIN TRANSMISSION LINES.

The price of a generating station or main transmission line shall be such sum as may be certified by an auditor appointed by the Electricity Commissioners to have been the amount of the expenses properly incurred on and incidental to the provision of the generating station or main transmission line, less depreciation on a scale fixed by special order:

Provided that, if the owners of the generating station or main transmission line or the Board are dissatisfied with the sum so certified, the matter in dispute shall, in default of agreement, be determined by the arbitration of a barrister (or in Scotland an advocate) appointed by the Minister of Transport from the appropriate panel set up under section four of this Act, and the arbitrator may, if he thinks it expedient to do so, call in the aid of one or more qualified assessors and hear the case wholly or partially with the assistance of such assessors.

SECOND SCHEDULE.

Sched. II.

Section 7.

Rules for Determining Cost of Production of Electricity at Selected Stations.

The cost of production of electricity at any selected station, shall be ascertained by calculating the following costs, charges and allowances in respect of the year of account:

(a) the sums expended for fuel, oil, water, and stores consumed, for salaries and wages, and any contributions for pensions superannuation and insurance of officers and servants, for repairs and maintenance, and for renewals not chargeable to capital account;

(b) sums paid as rents, rates and taxes (other than taxes on profits) and for insurance, in respect of the station;

(c) The proper proportion of management and general establishment charges attributable to the station;

(d) any other expenses on revenue account attributable to the station;

(e) interest (exclusive of interest payable out of capital), on money properly expended for capital purposes (whether defrayed out of capital or revenue) and attributable to the generating station and the plant suitable to and used for the purpose of generating electricity therein, and interest on working capital properly attributable to the station and the production of electricity therein.

The rate of interest for the purposes of this paragraph shall be—

(i) where the owners of a selected station are a joint electricity authority or a local authority, the average rate payable on the money raised by the authority for the purpose;

(ii) where the owners of the station are a company, the average rate of dividends and interest paid by the company on their share and loan capital during the preceding year; so, however, that the rate shall in no case be less than five nor more than six and a half per cent. per annum.

(f) an allowance for depreciation of the following amount—

(i) where the owners of the selected station are a joint electricity authority or a local authority an amount equal to the sinking fund charges properly attributable to the station and the plant thereof:

Provided that where part of the expenditure was defrayed otherwise than by means of loans the allowance for depreciation shall be increased by such amount as the Electricity Commissioners think just.

(ii) where the owners of the station are a company, an amount determined in accordance with a scale fixed by special order:

Provided that in the case of any company which is a London company within the meaning of the London and Home Counties Electricity District Order, 1925, the amount of such allowance for depreciation shall not be less than the contributions for the year of account which the company is required to make to the sinking funds under the provisions of the London Electricity (No. 1) Act, 1925, or the London Electricity (No. 2) Act, 1925.

THIRD SCHEDULE.

Section 12.

Authorised Charges and Allowances in respect of Transmission Lines used for giving Bulk Supply to Authorised Undertakers.

The following are the charges and allowances which may be made in respect of a transmission line used by authorised undertakers for giving a supply in bulk to other authorised undertakers:—

(1) The actual cost of the maintenance of the transmission line including renewals thereof not chargeable to capital account:

(2) Sums paid as rents, rates and taxes (other than taxes on profits) and for insurance in respect of the transmission line:

(3) A proper proportion of management and general establishment charges attributable to the transmission line:

(4) The cost of units lost in transmission from the station or sub-station from which the supply is given to the station or sub-station at which the supply is taken:

Sched. III.

(5) Any other expenses on revenue account attributable to the transmission line:

(6) Interest on money properly expended for capital purposes (whether defrayed out of capital or revenue) and attributable to the transmission line and on such working capital as is properly attributable to the transmission line at the following rate, that is to say:—

(a) where the authorised undertakers owning the transmission line are a joint electricity authority or a local authority, the average rate payable on the money raised by the authority for the purpose of constructing the line;

(b) where the authorised undertakers owning the transmission line are a company, the average rate of dividends and interest paid by the company on their share and loan capital during the preceding year; so, however, that the rate shall in no case be less than five nor more than six and a half per cent. per annum.

(7) An allowance for depreciation of the following amount:—

(a) where the authorised undertakers owning the transmission line are a joint electricity authority or a local authority, an amount equal to the sinking fund charges properly attributable to the line:

Provided that, where part of the cost of the construction of the transmission line was defrayed out of revenue, the allowance for depreciation shall be increased by such amount as the Electricity Commissioners think just:

(b) where the authorised undertakers owning the transmission line are a company, an amount determined in accordance with a scale fixed by special order:

Provided that, in the case of any company which is a London company within the meaning of the London and Home Counties Electricity District Order, 1925, the amount of such allowance for depreciation shall not be less than the contributions for the year of account which the company is required to make to the sinking funds under the provisions of the London Electricity (No. 1) Act, 1925, or the London Electricity (No. 2) Act, 1925.

If a transmission line is used for giving a supply in bulk to two or more authorised undertakers, or if a transmission line is used partly for giving a supply in bulk and partly for other purposes, the charges and allowances shall be the proper proportion of such charges and allowances as aforesaid.

Section 15.

FOURTH SCHEDULE.

ADAPTATION OF SECTION 16 OF THE ELECTRICITY (SUPPLY) ACT, 1919, AS AMENDED BY SECTION 21 OF THE ELECTRICITY (SUPPLY) ACT, 1922.

If within five years from the date when under or in consequence of this Act a generating station has been closed or acquired or restrictions on the working or use thereof imposed, or a main transmission line or any part thereof has been acquired, any officer or servant who before the closing, acquisition, or imposition of the restrictions was regularly employed by any authorised undertakers, proves to the satisfaction of a referee or board of referees appointed by the Minister of Labour that in consequence of such closing, acquisition or restriction, he—

(i) has suffered loss of employment, or diminution of salary, wages or emoluments, otherwise than on grounds of misconduct, incapacity, or superannuation; or

(ii) has relinquished his employment in consequence of being required to perform duties such as were not analogous or were an unreasonable addition to those which before such closing or acquisition or imposition of restrictions he had been required to perform; or

(iii) had been placed in any worse position in respect to the conditions of his service (including tenure of office, remuneration, gratuities, pension, superannuation, sick or other fund, or any benefits or allowances, whether obtaining legally or by customary practice); and, in the case of a generating station being closed, or restrictions on the working or use thereof being imposed, the authorised undertakers to whom the station belonged or belongs, or in the case of the acquisition of a generating station or a main transmission line, or any part thereof, the acquiring authority, do not show to the satisfaction of the referee or board of referees that equivalent employment on the like conditions as those obtaining with respect to him at the date when the generating station was closed or restrictions on the working or use thereof were imposed, or the generating station or main transmission line or part thereof was acquired, was available, there shall be paid to him by those undertakers, or the acquiring authority, such compensation as the referee or board of referees may award, including any expenses which the officer or servant necessarily incurs in removing to another locality:

Provided that, where loss or relinquishment of employment is involved, such compensation shall, in the case of an officer employed on an annual salary, be based on, but not exceed, the amount which would have been payable to a person on abolition of office under the Acts and rules relating to His Majesty's Civil Service in force at the date of the passing of the Local Government Act, 1888, but, in computing the period of service of any officer, service under any authorised undertakers shall be reckoned as service under the authorised undertaker in whose employment he is at the time when the loss or relinquishment of employment occurs; and where any such officer or servant was temporarily absent from his employment whilst serving in or with His Majesty's Forces or the forces of the Allied or Associated Powers, or in any other employment of national importance during the war, such service shall be reckoned as service under the authorised undertakers in whose employment he was immediately before and after such temporary absence.

Any question whether a generating station has been closed or whether any restriction on the working or use thereof has been imposed under or in consequence of this Act shall be determined by the Electricity Commissioners.

The Minister of Labour may make rules as to the procedure before the referee or board of referees under this Schedule and may by those rules provide—

(a) for limiting the amount of costs and providing for the taxation thereof;

(b) for fixing the fees to be paid to the referee or the members of the board of referees and for determining by whom such fees are to be paid.

FIFTH SCHEDULE.

AMENDMENTS OF SCHEDULE TO THE ELECTRIC LIGHTING (CLAUSES) ACT, 1899.

Section 43.

S. 7 - - - In paragraph (1) for the words from "The undertakers shall "carry" to the words "maximum rate of profit" there shall be substituted the following words:

"The undertakers shall apply the net surplus remaining in any year and the annual proceeds of the reserve fund when amounting to the prescribed limit—

"(a) in reduction of the charges for the supply of energy; or

"(b) in reduction of the capital moneys borrowed for electricity purposes; or

"(c) with the consent of the Electricity Commissioners in payment of expenses chargeable to capital; or

"(d) in aid of the local rate:

Provided that—

(i) the amount which may be applied in aid of the local rate in any year shall not exceed one and a-half per cent. of the outstanding debt of the undertaking; and

(ii) after the thirty-first day of March, nineteen hundred and thirty, no sum shall be paid in aid of the local rate unless the reserve fund amounts to more than one-twentieth of the aggregate capital expenditure on the undertaking.

S. 14 - - - In paragraph 1 (a) after the words "one month" there shall be inserted "or in the case of service lines, seven days."

Sched. VI.

Section 50.

SIXTH SCHEDULE.

MINOR AMENDMENTS OF ELECTRICITY (SUPPLY) ACTS, 1882–1922.

Enactment to be amended.	Nature of Amendment.
Electric Lighting Act, 1882 (45 & 46 Vict. c. 56):—
s. 3	In paragraph (5), the words "until after the expiration of a period of three months from the date "of the first publication of such advertisement "nor" shall be repealed.
Electricity (Supply) Act, 1919 (9 & 10 Geo. 5, c. 100):—
s. 1	In subsection (7), after the words "on retirement," there shall be inserted the words "or death."
s. 13	In subsection (2), after the words "comprising the "area of the local authority" there shall be inserted the words "or by any amending order "under section seven of this Act."
s. 15	After paragraph (c) of subsection (1) the following paragraph shall be inserted:— (cc) No order authorising the abstraction of water from any reservoir or other works used by any statutory water undertaker for the purposes of the undertaking shall be made without the consent of such undertaker (which consent shall not be unreasonably refused) and if any question arises as to the reasonableness of any refusal or of the terms sought to be imposed as a condition of giving consent, the question shall be referred to a single arbitrator nominated by the Lord Chief Justice, or in Scotland by the Lord President of the Court of Session, and in any such order there shall be inserted such provisions as the Minister of Health (or, in the case of Scotland the Scottish Board of Health) may consider proper for safeguarding the interests of the water consumers.
s. 21	After the words "local authority" where they first occur, there shall be inserted the words "(including a county council)," and after the second "local authority" there shall be inserted the words "and (where it is proposed to place the line "along or across any county bridge or any main "road vested in a county council) the county "council."
s. 32	In subsection (3), the words "unless it is an order "made under section seven of this Act, shall be "a special order and" shall be omitted.
Electricity (Supply) Act, 1922 (12 & 13 Geo. 5, c. 46):—
s. 21	In subsection (1), for the words "not made under "the principal Act was in consequence of that "Act," there shall be substituted the words "was "made under or in consequence of the principal "Act."

Enactment to be amended.	Nature of Amendment.
Electricity (Supply) Act, 1922 (12 & 13 Geo. 5, c. 46):—
s. 24	The following proviso shall be inserted:— Provided that such supply shall be used in such manner as not to cause or be likely to cause any interference (whether by induction or otherwise) with any telegraphic line belonging to or used by the Postmaster-General or with telegraphic communication by means of such line. This provision shall not apply to an undertaking or part thereof in respect of which any company or authority is authorised to use electricity by Act of Parliament or by an Order confirmed by or having the effect of an Act of Parliament containing provisions for the protection of the telegraphic lines of the Postmaster-General in respect of the use of electricity. In this section "telegraphic line" has the same meaning as in the Telegraph Act, 1878.

SEVENTH SCHEDULE.

Section 51.

Rules for determining the Fixed Kilowatt Charges Component, and the Running Charges Component.

1. The cost of production shall be ascertained in accordance with the Second Schedule to this Act.

2. The costs so ascertained shall be allocated as between fixed costs and running costs in accordance with such regulations as may be prescribed by the Electricity Commissioners for the purpose.

3. One-twelfth of the amount of the fixed costs in the year of account, divided by the average of the monthly maximum demands in that year, shall, subject to such variations whether by way of decrease or increase as the Electricity Commissioners may by regulations prescribe, according to the magnitude of the maximum demands of supplies furnished, be the fixed kilowatt charges component.

For the purposes of this provision the "maximum demand in respect of any "month" shall be deemed to be twice the largest number of units of electricity supplied from the generating station during any consecutive thirty minutes in that month:

Provided that, if the number of kilowatts of maximum demand so ascertained for any particular month shall be less than the number of kilowatts of maximum demand for any previous month of the same year of account the higher number shall be taken as the maximum demand for the first-mentioned month.

4. The amount of the running costs divided by the number of units supplied from the generating station during the year of account shall be the running charges component.

TRADE DISPUTES AND TRADE UNIONS ACT, 1927.

(17 & 18 GEO. 5, C. 22.)

An Act to declare and amend the law relating to trade disputes and trade unions, to regulate the position of civil servants and persons employed by public authorities in respect of membership of trade unions and similar organisations to extend section 5 of the Conspiracy and Protection of Property Act, 1875, and for other purposes connected with the purposes aforesaid (a).

[29th July, 1927.]

(a) The only section of this Act affecting local authorities is s. 6. The remainder of the Act is, therefore, not printed as being outside the scope of this work.

* * * * * *

Provisions as to persons employed by local and other public authorities.

6.—(1) It shall not be lawful for any local or other public authority (a) to make it a condition of the employment or continuance in employment of any person that he shall or shall not be a member of a trade union (b), or to impose any condition upon persons employed by the authority whereby employees who are or who are not members of a trade union are liable to be placed in any respect either directly or indirectly under any disability or disadvantage as compared with other employees (c).

(2) It shall not be lawful for any local or other public authority (a) to make it a condition (c) of any contract made or proposed to be made with the authority, or of the consideration or acceptance of any tender in connection with such a contract, that any person to be employed by any party to the contract shall or shall not be a member of a trade union (b).

(3) Any condition imposed in contravention of this section shall be void.

(4) There shall be added to section five of the Conspiracy and Protection of Property Act, 1875 (d), the following provision, that is to say :—

> " If any person employed by a local or other public authority (a) " wilfully breaks a contract of service with that authority, knowing or " having reasonable cause to believe that the probable consequence of " his so doing, either alone or in combination with others, will be to cause " injury or danger or grave inconvenience to the community, he shall " be liable, on summary conviction, to a fine not exceeding ten pounds " or to imprisonment for a term not exceeding three months."

* * * * * *

(a) The Act contains no definition of either local or public authority. "Local authority " usually means any body of persons who receive and expend any local rate. See the definitions in the District Auditors Act, 1879, s. 8, ante, p. 2406, and in the Local Government (Emergency Provisions) Act, 1916, s. 21, ante, p. 1233. A definition of "public authority" is contained in s. 12 (2), Acquisition of Land (Assessment of Compensation) Act, 1919, ante, p. 1278.

(b) A resolution requiring certain employees to be members of trade unions passed before this Act came into operation need not, it seems, be expressly revoked, but a declaration will be granted that the terms of the resolution are illegal (Att.-Gen. v. Birkenhead Corporation (1929), 93 J. P. 33 ; 27 L. G. R. 192). " Trade union " is defined by s. 23 of the Trade Union Act, 1871 (34 & 35 Vict. c. 31).

(c) Any condition imposed in contravention of this provision is void (sub-s. (3)).

(d) Section 5 of the Conspiracy and Protection of Property Act, 1875, makes it an offence to break a contract of service, knowing or having reasonable cause to believe that injury to persons or property may result from such breach. The offence contained in the provision in the text is, however, quite distinct.

LANDLORD AND TENANT ACT, 1927.

(17 & 18 GEO. 5, c. 36.)

An Act to provide for the payment of compensation for improvements and goodwill to tenants of premises used for business purposes, or the grant of a new lease in lieu thereof; and to amend the law of landlord and tenant (a).

[22nd December, 1927.]

(a) The provisions of this Act are outside the scope of the present work. Local authorities as landlords of business premises will be subject to the provisions of the Act, except as provided in the sections set out here.

PART I.

COMPENSATION FOR IMPROVEMENTS AND GOODWILL ON THE TERMINATION OF TENANCIES OF BUSINESS PREMISES.

* * * * * *

Compensation for goodwill.

4.—(1) The tenant of a holding to which this Part of this Act applies shall, if a claim for the purpose is made in the prescribed manner—

(i) in the case of a tenancy terminated by notice, within one month after the service of the notice on the tenant; and

(ii) in any other case, not more than thirty-six nor less than twelve months before the termination of the tenancy;

be entitled, at the termination of the tenancy on quitting the holding, to be paid by his landlord compensation for goodwill if he proves to the satisfaction of the tribunal that by reason of the carrying on by him or his predecessors in title at the premises of a trade or business for a period of not less than five years goodwill has become attached to the premises by reason whereof the premises could be let at a higher rent than they would have realised had no such goodwill attached thereto:

Provided that—

* * * * * *

(g) where any government department, or a local or public authority (a), or a charity, or a statutory or public utility company have, in pursuance of the powers contained in the lease (b), terminated the lease by resuming possession of the premises for the purpose of the department or any other government department, or of the authority (c), or of the charity or of the undertaking of the company, or where premises the tenancy whereof has expired by effluxion of time (d) are required for any such purpose no compensation shall be payable under this section.

* * * * * *

(a) The Act contains no definition of a local or public authority. "Local authority" usually means any body of persons who receive and expend any local rate. See the definitions in the District Auditors Act, 1879, s. 8, ante, p. 2406, and the Local Government (Emergency Provisions) Act, 1916, s. 21, ante, p. 1233. A definition of "public authority" is contained in s. 12 (2), Acquisition of Land (Assessment of Compensation) Act, 1919, ante, p. 1278.

(b) I.e. where there is an express provision either in the original lease or in a renewed lease under s. 5 (6), post, p. 2496.

(c) This provision will chiefly apply to premises purchased by a local authority in anticipation of future requirements, e.g. for the extension of sewage farm, etc., or for street widening. Reference may be made to note (c) to s. 175, P. H. A., 1875, ante, p. 431.

(d) Where a lease expires by effluxion of time, the tenant can apply for a renewal of the lease under s. 5. No lease can be granted if the landlord requires the premises for occupation by himself or vacant possession of the premises to carry out a scheme of re-development, no lease would, therefore, be granted if the premises were immediately required by the local authority, and if the use of the premises for the purpose for which they were acquired is reasonably imminent. See the special protection afforded to local authorities by s. 5 (6), infra.

Right to new lease in certain cases.

5.—(1) Where the tenant alleges that, though he would be entitled to compensation under the last foregoing section, the sum which could be awarded to him under that section would not compensate him for the loss of goodwill he will suffer if he removes to and carries on his trade or business in other premises, he may in lieu of claiming such compensation, at any time within the period allowed for making a claim under the said section, serve on the landlord notice requiring a new lease of the premises at which the trade or business is carried on to be granted to him.

(2) Where such a notice is so served, the tribunal, on application being made for the purpose either by the landlord or by the tenant not less than nine months before the termination of the tenancy, or, where the tenancy is terminated by notice, within two months after the service of the notice, may, if it considers that the grant of a new tenancy is in all the circumstances reasonable, order the grant of a new tenancy for such period (being a term of years absolute) not exceeding fourteen years and on such terms as the tribunal may determine to be proper, but if the tribunal is precluded on any of the grounds mentioned in paragraph (b) of the following subsection from making such an order the tribunal may award such compensation as is provided under the last foregoing section (a):

Provided that the rent fixed by the tribunal as the rent payable under the new tenancy shall be such rent as the tribunal may determine to be the rent which a willing lessee other than the tenant would agree to give and a willing lessor would agree to accept for the premises, having regard to the terms of the tenancy, but irrespective of any goodwill which may have become attached to the premises by reason of the tenant or his predecessors in title having carried on thereat a particular trade or business.

(3) Where the tenant is the applicant, the grant of a new lease under this section shall not be deemed to be reasonable—

(a) unless the tenant proves that he is a suitable tenant and that he would be entitled to compensation under the last foregoing section, but that the sum which could be awarded to him under that section would not compensate him for the loss he would suffer if he removed to and carried on his trade or business in other premises; or

(b) if the landlord proves (b)—

(i) that the premises are required for occupation by himself, or, where the landlord is an individual, for occupation by a son or daughter of his over eighteen years of age; or

(ii) that he intends to pull down or remodel the premises; or

(iii) that vacant possession of the premises is required in order to carry out a scheme of re-development; or

(iv) that for any other reason the grant of such a lease of the premises would not be consistent with good estate management, and for this purpose regard shall be had to the development of any other property of the same landlord:

* * * * * *

(6) Where the landlord is a Government department or a local or public authority (c) or a statutory or public utility company and it is proved to the satisfaction of the tribunal that the premises, though not required immediately for the purposes of the department or of any other Government department or of the authority or of the undertaking of the company, may be so required at some future time, the tribunal shall not order the grant of a lease unless the lease is made subject to a condition that the landlord may at any time on giving not less than six months' notice in writing resume possession of the premises if he requires them for any such purpose (d).

* * * * * *

(10) Where an order for a new lease is made under this section, the landlord shall be bound to grant, and the tenant shall be bound to accept, a lease in accordance with the order:

Provided that, before making an order binding any superior landlord, the tribunal shall satisfy itself that notice of the application to the tribunal for a new lease has been served on him and that he has had an opportunity of appearing before the tribunal.

* * * * * *

(12) A new lease under this section shall, if the landlord so requires, contain a covenant prohibiting the carrying on of any trade or business and the doing of any act prohibited by the original lease, unless the landlord has by licence or otherwise consented to a variation of the original terms of the lease in this respect.

(13) Where it appears to the tribunal that proceedings under this section cannot be completed and a new lease in accordance with the order of the tribunal entered into before the termination of the tenancy of the tenant, and that the delay is not due to any default on the part of the tenant, the tribunal may make an interim order authorising the tenant to continue in possession of the premises for such time after the termination of his tenancy and on such terms as the tribunal may allow.

(a) No compensation is payable by a local authority if the premises are required for the purpose for which they were acquired, or for any other purpose to which they may be lawfully appropriated. As to the appropriation of property, see s. 95 of the P. H. A., 1907, ante, p. 1161, and the other statutes referred to in the note to s. 175, P. H. A., 1875, at p. 436, ante.

(b) A requirement of the property for the purposes of the local authority would always fall under one of these heads.

(c) See note (a) to s. 4, ante, p. 2945.

(d) No compensation will be payable on such resumption.

* * * * * *

ROAD TRANSPORT LIGHTING ACT, 1927.

(17 & 18 GEO. 5, c. 37.)

An Act to regulate further the lighting of vehicles (a). [22nd December, 1927.]

(a) This Act is outside the scope of this work, but s. 11 (2) is printed as it repeals certain powers of local authorities.

* * * * * *

11. . . .

Repeals and rescission of orders and byelaws.

(2) The powers of any local or other authority under any Act to make orders, byelaws, or regulations with respect to the carrying of lights by vehicles on roads (a) (other than lights carried for the purposes of internal illumination or for illuminating taximeters (b)) shall cease and determine, and any Act or order having the force of an Act, and any regulations made under such an Act or order, and any byelaw made under the powers conferred by any Act, so far as the same relates to the carrying of lights by vehicles on roads (other than as aforesaid), and any order made under sections three or four of the Lights on Vehicles Act, 1907 (c), shall cease to have effect, but

Section 11. without prejudice to the validity of anything done thereunder, or of the commencement or continuation of any proceedings in respect of any offence thereunder whilst the Act, order, regulation or byelaw was in force.

(a) This power was in general limited to borough and county councils. See s. 26 Municipal Corporations Act, 1882, s. 16, L. G. A., 1888, and s. 5 (3), Lights on Vehicles Act, 1907. Some local authorities, however, had power under local Acts. Any such powers will cease to be operative, and any byelaws made thereunder will cease to have effect.

(b) Byelaws for the purposes mentioned would normally be made in respect of hackney carriages only under s. 68, Towns Police Clauses Act, 1847, ante, p. 2250, though it is possible that byelaws as to internal illumination might be made under s. 23, M. C. Act, 1882, or s. 16, L. G. A., 1888, i.e. "good rule and government." The power to make byelaws for these purposes is unaffected by the Act.

(c) These sections gave power to county and borough councils to exempt specified vehicles from the operation of the 1907 Act.

FOOD AND DRUGS (ADULTERATION) ACT, 1928.

(18 & 19 GEO. 5, C. 31.)

An Act to consolidate the Sale of Food and Drugs Acts (a). [3rd August, 1928.]

(a) This Act consolidates the Sale of Food and Drugs Acts of 1875, 1879, 1899, and 1927, the Margarine Act, 1887, and the Butter and Margarine Act, 1907. In the notes to this Act the consolidated Acts are referred to by their date alone. As to the construction of consolidation Acts, see the notes to P. H. A., 1875, s. 1, ante, p. 1.

Reference should also be made to the Artificial Cream Act, 1929, post, p. 3029.

PART I.

GENERAL PROVISIONS

Restrictions on mixing food and drugs with other ingredients.

1. (a)—(1) No person shall mix, colour, stain, or powder or order or permit any other person to mix, colour, stain, or powder—

(a) any article of food (b) with any ingredient or material so as to render the article injurious to health (c);

(b) any drug (d) with any ingredient or material so as to affect injuriously the quality or potency of the drug;

with the intent that the article of food or drug may be sold in that state (e).

(2) No person shall sell any article of food or drug so mixed, coloured, stained or powdered as aforesaid (e).

(3) If any person contravenes any of the provisions of this section, he shall be guilty of an offence and shall—

(a) in the case of a first offence in relation to an article of food, or a drug, be liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding fifty pounds (f) and

(b) in the case of any offence in relation to an article of food after conviction for a first offence in relation to an article of food, or in the case of any offence in relation to a drug after conviction for a first offence in relation to a drug, be liable on conviction on indictment to imprisonment for a term not exceeding six months:

Provided that a person shall not be liable to be convicted under this section in respect of the sale of any article of food or of any drug if he shows to the satisfaction of the court before whom he is charged that he did not know, and could not with reasonable diligence have ascertained, that the article of food or drug sold by him was so mixed, coloured, stained or powdered as aforesaid.

Section 1.

7 Edw. 7. c. 32.

(4) Where any regulations made under the Public Health (Regulations as to Food) Act, 1907 (g) (as amended by any subsequent enactment), and the enactments mentioned in that Act, prohibit or restrict the addition of any preservative or other ingredient or material to an article of food (h), the addition of any such ingredient or material—

(a) if made in contravention of the regulations, shall for the purposes of this Part of this Act be deemed to render the article injurious to health;

(b) if made to an amount not exceeding the limit (if any) specified by the regulations, shall not for the purposes of this Part of this Act be deemed to render the article injurious to health.

(a) This section consolidates, ss. 3, 4 and 5 of the 1875 Act, and s. 1 of the 1927 Act.

(b) See the definition in s. 34, post, p. 2986.

(c) As to mixtures, etc. to be deemed to be injurious to health, see sub-s. (4). As to bottled peas coloured with three grains of sulphate of copper, see Summers v. Grist (1896), 60 J. P. 346; or with sulphate of copper in a harmless quantity, Friend v. Mapp (1904), 68 J. P. 589; 2 L. G. R. 1317. To justify a conviction under this section it must be found that the article of food has been rendered injurious to health by the admixture of the ingredient. A finding that the added ingredient is in itself injurious to health is insufficient. It is not, however, necessary that the analyst's certificate on which the proceedings under the section are founded should state that the article is injurious to health (Hull v. Horsnell (1904), 68 J. P. 591; 21 T. L. R. 32). An offence has been committed under the section if the article in question is injurious to the health of a substantial portion of the community, e.g. of infants and invalids (Cullen v. McNair (1908), 72 J. P. 376; 99 L. T. 358). The appellant, an inspector under the Sale of Food and Drugs Act, asked for, and was supplied by the respondents with, a shilling's worth of "preserved cream." On analsyis this was found to be cream with which boric acid had been mixed. "Preserved cream," that is to say, a mixture of cream and boric acid, is sold as a well-known commodity, but it was found that cream containing boric acid in any quantity is injurious to health, more particularly in the case of children and invalids. It was held that although the article was sold as a mixed article, namely "preserved cream," the respondents had within the meaning of s. 3 of the Sale of Food and Drugs Act, 1875, sold an article of food, namely, cream, with which an ingredient, namely, boric acid, had been mixed which rendered the cream injurious to health, and therefore that they were liable to the penalty imposed by that section (Haigh v. Aerated Bread Co., Ltd., [1916] 1 K. B. 878; 80 J. P. 284).

(d) See the definition in s. 34, post, p. 2986.

(e) It is a defence in the case of offences under this section to prove want of knowledge (per Smith, J. in Betts v. Armstead, post, p. 2952). See proviso to sub-s. (3).

(f) As to proceedings for penalties, see s. 27, post, p. 2977, and as to applications of fines see s. 32, post, p. 2985.

(g) See this Act and notes thereto at p. 1098, ante.

(h) See the P. H. (Preservatives, etc. in Food) Regulations, 1925, as amended by the amending Regulations of 1926 and 1927 in App. II., post, p. 3326.

Prohibition against sale of articles of food and drugs not of the nature, substance or quality demanded.

2. (a)—(1) No person (b) shall sell to the prejudice of the purchaser (c) any article of food (d) or any drug (d) which is not of the nature, or not of the substance, or not of the quality, of the article demanded by the purchaser (e).

(2) If any person contravenes the provisions of this section, he shall be guilty of an offence (f):

Provided that an offence (g) under this section shall not be deemed to have been committed (h)—

(a) where any ingredient or material not injurious to health has been added to the article of food or drug because it is required for the production or preparation thereof as an article of commerce in a state fit for carriage or consumption, and not fraudulently to increase the bulk, weight or measure of the article of food or drug, or to conceal the inferior quality thereof (j);

(b) where the food or drug is the subject of a patent in force, and is supplied in the state required by the specification of the patent, or is a proprietary medicine;

(c) where the food or drug is unavoidably mixed with some extraneous matter in the process of collection or preparation (k);

(d) where the article being whisky, brandy, rum or gin, is not adulterated otherwise than by the admixture of water, and it is proved that such admixture has not reduced the spirit more than thirty-five degrees under proof (l).

(3) In any prosecution under this section it shall be no defence to allege that the purchaser, having bought only for analysis, is not prejudiced.

(4) Where any regulations made under the Public Health (Regulations as to Food) Act, 1907 (m) (as amended by any subsequent enactment), and the enactments mentioned in that Act, prescribe the composition of any article of food intended for sale, or prohibit or restrict the addition of any preservative or other ingredient or material to any such article, the purchaser of such article shall, unless the contrary is proved, be deemed for the purposes of this section to have demanded an article complying with the provisions of the regulations as regards the presence or amount of any constituent ingredient or material specified in the regulations.

(a) This section reproduces s. 6 of the 1875 Act as amended by s. 2 of the 1879 Act, s. 10 of the Licensing Act, 1921, and s. 1 of the 1927 Act.

(b) H., who was a servant of the F. Dairies Company, and acting as such, sold milk containing 12 per cent. of added water :—Held, that he was properly convicted as the person selling (Hotchin v. Hindmarsh, [1891] 2 Q. B. 181; 55 J. P. 775). But the employer is also responsible. The servant of B., in selling B.'s milk, mixed water with it contrary to the directions of B. :—Held, that B. was properly charged as the person selling, and that the question whether B. connived at the servant's act was only material for the purpose of determining the amount of the penalty (Brown v. Foot (1892), 61 L. J. M. C. 110; 56 J. P. 581). And see a similar case where a servant sold butter contrary to his master's directions, and where the master was convicted (Houghton v. Mundy (1910), 74 J. P. 377; 103 L. T. 60). If a servant fraudulently add water to milk which he is employed to sell, in order to increase the bulk, and appropriate the surplus price, and the milk is thereby damaged, he may be convicted of wilful damage under s. 52 of the Malicious Damage Act, 1861, although he has no malice towards or intention to injure his employer, the owner of the milk (Roper v. Knott, [1898] 1 Q. B. 868; 62 J. P. 375, overruling Hall v. Richardson (1890), 54 J. P. 345; 6 T. L. R. 71). The defendant employed his father to carry milk to a creamery under a contract by which he was to be paid according to the quality of the milk supplied. The father had no authority to sell to any one else, but in fact did sell to an inspector, who took proceedings against the defendant for selling adulterated milk to the prejudice of the creamery. It was held that the defendant should be convicted, and that the father's authority to sell was immaterial (Keenan v. Costelloe (1910), 44 Ir. L. T. 218). But in Lindsay v. Dempster, [1912] S. C. (J.) 110, a dairyman was prosecuted for selling, by the hand of his servant, milk which was not genuine, and it was proved that the servant who sold the milk had no authority to do so, his duty being merely to deliver the milk to his master's customers. It was held that as the servant had exceeded his authority in selling the milk there had been no sale by the accused, and that he must therefore be acquitted. A servant who had no authority to sell milk to other than specified persons sold to some one (an inspector) who was not one of those persons. It was held that as the servant had a limited authority to sell, which he had misused, the master was liable (Elder v. Bishop Auckland Co-operative Society (1917), 81 J. P. 202). In a later case it was held that where milk had been sold by a principal to a customer and had been entrusted by that principal to an agent for delivery only, and the agent having no authority to sell the principal was not liable (Whittaker v. Forshaw (1919), 83 J. P. 210). The "complaint" must give fair notice to the accused that the sale in question was effected by his servant (Wilson v. Fleming (1913), 51 Sc. L. R. 72). A joint stock company incorporated under the Companies Acts can be convicted of an offence under this section (Pearks, Gunston and Tee, Ltd. v. Ward; Hennen v. Southern Counties Dairies Co., [1902] 2 K. B. 1; 66 J. P. 774). But see Booth v. Helliwell (1914), 78 J. P. 223. As to the procedure on charge of offences against corporations, see the Criminal Justice Act, 1925, s. 33. See further, generally, as to the liability of a master for acts of a servant, Buckingham v. Duck (1918), 83 J. P. 20; Mousell Bros. v. L. & N. W. Rail. Co., [1917] 2 K. B. 836; Pearks Dairies, Ltd. v. Tottenham Food Control Committee (1919), 83 J. P. 36, and Warrington v. Windhill Industrial Co-operative Society, Ltd. (1918), 82 J. P. 149.

(c) These words are an essential averment on a summons under the section (R. (Sullivan)

Note to Section 2.

v. Clare County Court Judges (1904), 38 I. L. T. 254; but see Nimmo v. Lees, [1910] S. C. (J.) 75). It is not now a defence that the article was purchased for analysis. See sub-s. (3). By s. 2 of the 1879 Act, it was provided that it shall not be a good defence that the article of food or drug in question, though defective in nature or in substance or in quality, was not defective in all three respects, in order to meet the decision in Davidson v. Macleod (1878), 42 J. P. 43, 50. The effect of that section was that in s. 6 of the 1875 Act, the words "nature, substance, and quality" were to be read distributively, and a penalty incurred if the article sold, although unadulterated, was not of the quality demanded (Belfast Guardians v. Jones, [1916] 2 Ir. R. 269; cf. Few v. Robinson, [1921] 3 K. B. 504, post, p. 1406). The words now used in the text make the distributive reading clear. As to sale of spirits, see sub-s. (2) (d), and as to special provisions with respect to milk, see Sched. II., post, p. 2988. It is not necessary for an inspector to prove at the hearing that he is a duly authorised officer; so held by Channell and Avory, JJ., in Ross v. Helm (1912), 77 J. P. 13; 107 L. T. 829. It is no defence that the article was purchased with money belonging to the authority (Hoyle v. Hitchman (1879), 4 Q. B. D. 233; 43 J. P. 430). Sale of sample on a Sunday affords no defence (Elder v. Kelly, [1919] 2 K. B. 179; 83 J. P. 166). The word "quality" means commercial quality of the article sold and not merely its description (Anness v. Grivell, [1915] 3 K. B. 685). See also sub-s. (4). When the seller of an article brings to the purchaser's knowledge the fact that the article sold to him is not of the nature, quality, or substance of the article which he demands, the sale is not to his prejudice within this section (Sandys v. Small (1878), 3 Q. B. D. 449; 42 J. P. 550); and he may purchase the article by an agent (Horder v. Scott (1880), 5 Q. B. D. 552; 44 J. P. 520; Stace v. Smith (1881), 45 J. P. 141; Macaulay v. McKirdy (1893), 20 Ct. of Sess. Cas. (4th ser.) (J. C.) 58; Garforth v. Esam (1892), 56 J. P. 521; Massey v. Kelso (1903), 4 F. (Just. Cas.) 73. See 67 J. P. 111). Thus, in Bundy v. Lewis (1908), 72 J. P. 489; 99 L. T. 833, the servant of the respondent, who was a chemist, was asked by the appellant for paregoric, and sold him a substance deficient in alcohol and opium according to the formula given in the British Pharmacopœia. The substance was labelled "Poison" after the word "Paregoric," but the word "poison" had been struck out in pencil and the word "substitute" added. It was held that on the facts there was no sale to the prejudice of the purchaser. See also Gage v. Elsey, post, p. 2955; Collett v. Walker (1895), 64 L. J. M. C. 267; 59 J. P. 600; Palmer v. Tyler (1897), 61 J. P. 389; Sandys v. Rhodes (1903), 67 J. P. 352. Where a purchaser has notice that the article is mixed with an ingredient, though he is not told the exact nature or effect of that ingredient, and chooses to buy the article so mixed, the sale is not to his prejudice within the meaning of the section (Williams v. Friend, [1912] 2 K. B. 471; 76 J. P. 301). The notice must, however, be a notice to the individual purchaser, and it is not enough to show that the average purchaser would see and read a notice to the effect that a certain article is diluted (Preston v. Grant, [1925] 1 K. B. 177; 88 J. P. 198). See also the cases cited in note (b) to s. 4, post, p. 2956. A sale may be to the prejudice of the purchaser within this section although the purchaser had special knowledge not derived from information given by the seller that the article sold was not of the nature, substance and quality demanded by him. The test is, whether the sale would have been to the prejudice of a purchaser who had not that special knowledge (Pearks, Gunston and Tee, Ltd. v. Ward, ante, p. 2950). It is not to the prejudice of the purchaser if he asks for part of the contents of a particular vessel and is served with what he asks for, although the contents are adulterated. So where an inspector asked for a sample from a particular churn of milk without saying that it was milk he required, the sale was held not to constitute an offence although the contents of the churn were adulterated (Sandys v. Jackson (1905), 69 J. P. 171; 92 L. T. 646).

The appellant sold milk to the respondent from a can to which a label was attached, there being on the label a notice that all milk sold from the can was diluted. Before the respondent made the purchase, his attention was drawn by the appellant to the label. On a summons against the appellant under the above section the certificate of analysis stated that the milk sold to the respondent contained 18·5 per cent. of extraneous water and had been deprived of 14 per cent. of its fat. There was no other evidence of adulteration. The justices convicted the appellant on the ground that the notice was only a notice of dilution and was not a notice of the abstraction of fat:—Held, that the conviction must be quashed as there was no evidence of the abstraction of fat, the deficiency in fat being entirely accounted for by the addition of water (Dearden v. Whiteley (1916), 80 J. P. 215).

"Demerara sugar" is a generic term referring to a process and not a place (Anderson v. Britcher (1913), 78 J. P. 65; 30 T. L. R. 78).

(d) See the definition in s. 34, post, p. 2986.

(e) Proof of mens rea is not necessary. See Fitzpatrick v. Kelly (1873), L. R. 8 Q. B. 337; Mullins v. Collins (1874), L. R. 9 Q. B. 292; Roberts v. Egerton (1874), ibid. 494. The provisions of the Bread Act, 1836, as to using alum in the manufacture of bread, may be referred to and compared with the text; also the cases decided on that Act

Note to Section 2.

(R. v. Dixon (1814), 3 M. & S. 11; Core v. James (1872), L. R. 7 Q. B. 135; 35 J. P. 740). It has now been decided that an offence against this section is committed, although the seller did not know that the article sold was not of the nature, substance and quality demanded (Betts v. Armstead (1888), 20 Q. B. D. 771; 52 J. P. 471). And see Pain v. Boughtwood (1890), 24 Q. B. D. 353; 54 J. P. 469; Brown v. Foot, and Houghton v. Mundy, ante, p. 2950; Roper v. Knott, [1898] 1 Q. B. 868; 62 J. P. 375; overruling Hall v. Richardson (1890), 54 J. P. 345; 6 T. L. R. 71; R. v. Field (1895), 64 L. J. M. C. 158; 11 T. L. R. 240; Parker v. Alder, [1899] 1 Q. B. 20; 62 J. P. 772; Andrews v. Luckin (1917), 82 J. P. 31. And cf. Kearley v. Tyler (or Tonge), cited in the note to s. 4, post, p. 2956.

Where no standard of purity has been fixed by regulation e.g., brandy, the question whether the article supplied is of the nature, quality, and substance demanded is one of fact to be decided on the evidence (Wilson and McPhee v. Wilson (1905), 6 F. (Just. Cas.) 10). See now as to brandy sub-s. (2) (d), and the notes to s. 4, post, p. 2956. And see Rudd v. Skelton Co-operative Society, Ltd., infra.

As to the sale of an article of food to which regulations under the P. H. (Regulations as to Food) Act, 1907, apply, see sub-s. (4).

Where there is no fixed standard of quality for an article, the justices must form a standard of their own based on the evidence before them, and in the absence of evidence to the contrary should accept the statements of fact in the analyst's certificate, and also (per SHEARMAN, J.) his expressions of opinion therein (Bowker v. Woodroffe, [1928] 1 K. B. 217; 91 J. P. 118).

On a charge of aiding and abetting a sale to the prejudice of the purchaser, a wholesaler who supplied the article to the vendor cannot be convicted in the absence of evidence that, having supplied it for the purpose of sale, he also knew that it was not what it purported to be, that it was to be retailed to the purchaser without warning, and that he was present at the time of the sale, aiding and abetting (Bowker v. Premier Drug Co., Ltd., [1928] 1 K. B. 227; 91 J. P. 120).

Proceedings may properly be taken under this section against a person who sells to the prejudice of the purchaser a compounded drug not of the nature, substance or quality demanded by him (Beardsley v. Walton, [1900] 2 Q. B. 1; 64 J. P. 436). See also Houghton v. Taplin (1897), 13 T. L. R. 386. On asking for a compounded drug, which is one of the medicines mentioned in the British Pharmacopœia, the purchaser must be taken to have demanded that it should be compounded of the proportions therein prescribed. See White v. Bywater and Dickins v. Randerson, post, p. 2955.

Lard adulterated with 15 per cent. of water is not the article demanded by a purchaser who asks for lard (Rook v. Hopley, post, p. 2982). In the case of "lardine" which is a substitute for lard, and for which there is no statutory standard, it is a fact for the justices to determine whether the article is adulterated or not—so held by Lord ALVERSTONE, C.J., and RIDLEY, J. (BRAY, J., dissentiente), in Rudd v. Skelton Co-operative Society, Ltd. (1911), 75 J. P. 326; 104 L. T. 919. See also Preston v. Redfern (1912), 76 J. P. 359; 107 L. T. 410. Where the purchaser asked for cream, and was supplied with cream at one penny per gill, which was found on analysis to have been diluted with 34 per cent. of skimmed milk, and it was proved that the seller had for sale a superior quality of cream diluted with less skimmed milk, which he sold at a higher price, it was held that the seller had not committed an offence in selling the inferior cream at a lower price (Morton v. Green (1881), 8 Ct. of Sess. Cas. (4th ser.) 36).

For about twenty years past there had been sold throughout Ireland in large quantities, as Indian meal for human food, a preparation derived from genuine pure crushed Indian corn, by removing "offal," that is, all foreign matter such as husk, bran, and woody fibre; and lastly, the germ of the corn and with it more than half the natural oil contained in the berry. The public preferred this refined preparation for human food, but they were generally ignorant of its composition and nutritive value. The unrefined Indian meal used principally as cattle food is more nutritious; but the normal man would not eat it if he could get the refined preparation, as the latter is far more palatable and also keeps longer. The appellant, a shop-keeper, was prosecuted for having sold to the prejudice of a purchaser Indian meal deficient in natural oil to the extent of at least 62 per cent. The purchaser had required the meal for human food, and had been supplied with the refined meal. It was held, that the article sold was of the nature, substance, and quality demanded, notwithstanding the removal from it of more than half the natural oil; that the sale was not to the prejudice of the purchaser; and that no offence had been committed under this section (Hughes v. Traynor, [1916] 2 Ir. R. 275).

Where the only evidence was the report of the public analyst that milk had been diluted with 27 per cent. of added water, and the magistrate dismissed the charge, the court refused to interfere, expressing the opinion that the magistrate was not bound to convict unless he was satisfied in the whole circumstances of the case that the article was not of the nature, quality and substance demanded (Macleod v. O'Neil (1882), 9 Ct. of Sess. Cas. (4th ser.) (J. C.), 32). This decision is apparently contrary to that in Harrison v. Richards (1881), 45 J. P. 552, which was followed in Elder v. Dryden (1908), 72 J. P. 355; 99 L. T.

Note to Section 2.

20. And see Kings v. Merris (1920), 85 J. P. 68, and Robinson v. Newman (1917), 81 J. P. 187. An inspector who asked for "milk" was supplied with skimmed milk, which by reason of being skimmed, was deficient in butter fat:—Held, that no offence had been committed under this section (Lane v. Collins (1885), 14 Q. B. D. 93; 49 J. P. 89). But see as to condensed skimmed milk, s. 12 (1) (c), post, p. 2964. When a purchaser asks for hot milk at a restaurant and is supplied with adulterated milk to which heating has been applied an offence is committed (Herrington v. Slater (1921), 85 J. P. 83). Milk taken direct from the cow and not tampered with or adulterated, but which in consequence of the time which has elapsed since the cow has last been milked, has become deficient in fat to the extent of 30 per cent., is not of the nature, substance and quality of the article demanded by a purchaser who demands new milk (Smithies v. Bridge, [1902] 2 K. B. 13; 66 J. P. 740). The decision in this case was criticised, and the dissenting judgment of DARLING, J., concurred in, in Scott v. Jack, [1912] S. C. (J.) 87, where a farmer was charged with selling milk which was not genuine, in that it did not contain the quantity of milk fat and solids required by the Sale of Milk Regulations, 1901; it was proved that the milk had not been tampered with after being taken from the cow, but that the deficiency of quality was due to the method in which the cows were fed. The accused was acquitted, and on appeal it was held that the acquittal was right. If under similar circumstances the deficiency in milk fat is not so large, the vendor need not be convicted, though the 3 per cent. prescribed by the Sale of Milk Regulations, 1901, is not present (Wolfenden v. McCulloch (1905), 69 J. P. 228; 92 L. T. 857; O'Driscoll v. Dolan (1911), 45 Ir. L. T. 144). But see Marshall v. Skett (1913), 108 L. T. 1001; 77 J. P. 173; in which the defence was raised that the milk in question came straight from the cow, but the case was sent back to the magistrates to convict unless there was further evidence given before them that the difference in the quantity of fat in two consignments of milk from the same cows was consistent with there having been ordinary milking. A farmer contracted to sell new milk each morning to a purchaser who was a retail dealer. The milk was delivered in churns. Nothing was added to or abstracted from the milk. The herbage on which the cows producing the milk were fed was in a watery condition owing to heavy rain in previous months. As a consequence the milk produced was copious but inferior. To maintain the quantity of milk the cows were also fed on green maize. They were given in addition such an amount of cake each day as was usual under normal conditions. On analysis the milk in a churn delivered to the purchaser was found to contain less than 3 per cent. of milk fat. The farmer was summoned before a court of summary jurisdiction under s. 6 of the 1875 Act (now s. 2 of the Act in the text), for selling to the prejudice of the purchaser milk which was not of the nature, substance and quality of the article demanded by the purchaser. The justices found that milk taken from a healthy herd should show not less than 3 per cent. of milk fat, and that the deficiency was due to the manner in which the farmer fed his cows with the object of obtaining a very large supply of milk without regard to the quality thereof, and they convicted the farmer. On a case stated for the opinion of the King's Bench Division it was held by DARLING, LAWRENCE, and AVORY, JJ. (BRAY and SCRUTTON, JJ. dissenting) that the conviction should be quashed on the ground that there was no evidence of an offence under s. 6 of the Act of 1875:—Held: by BRAY and SCRUTTON, JJ., that the case should be sent back to the justices. By BRAY, J., that they might find whether the milk supplied was new morning milk of merchantable quality, that being presumably the quality demanded by the purchaser. By SCRUTTON, J., that they might find (1) what quality, if any, was demanded by the purchaser, and (2) whether the milk supplied was of that quality. The decisions in Wolfenden v. McCulloch, and Scott v. Jack, supra, were approved, and that in Smithies v. Bridge, [1902] 2 K. B. 13, was commented on (Hunt v. Richardson, [1916] 2 K. B. 447; 80 J. P. 305, followed and applied in Grigg v. Smith (1917), 82 J. P. 2; and see Williams v. Rees (1917), 82 J. P. 97; cf. Bowen v. Jones (1917), 81 J. P. 178, where the evidence of non-interference with the milk after milking was incomplete and a conviction followed. In Few v. Robinson, [1921] 3 K. B. 504, a farmer, being under contract to supply milk containing a specified percentage of fat, delivered milk which contained a less percentage. The milk was in the same condition as that in which it came from the cow. On a prosecution under s. 6 of the 1875 Act (now s. 2 in the text), it was held that as the milk was not adulterated either by the addition of something to, or the abstraction of something from, the natural product of the cow, the mere fact that it was not of the quality contracted for by the purchaser did not make the sale an offence against the section; cf. Belfast Guardians v. Jones, [1916] 2 Ir. R. 269. In Knowles v. Scott, [1918] S. C. (J.) 32, it was proved that milk sold contained less than 3 per cent. milk fat, but that it had not been tampered with in any way, the deficiency being due to the milk having stood for some hours in a can and to the sample having been drawn from a tap at the bottom, after the cream had risen. It was held that while the failure to restore milk to its original condition by redistribution of the milk fat might in some circumstances constitute an "abstraction of milk fat" within the meaning of the Sale of Milk Regulations, 1901, the offence of selling milk which was not genuine in respect that it was deficient in milk fat had not been proved, there being no finding to the effect that there was some well-known method of redistribution, which the defendant had failed to adopt. The last-mentioned case was distinguished in a case where a recognised method of redistribution had not been adopted by a servant in disregard of instructions (Penrice v. Brandon, [1921] S. C. (J.) 63, followed and applied in Bridges v. Griffin, [1925] 2 K. B. 233; 89 J. P. 122, and McCullum v. Brooks, [1926] S. C. (J.) 39; [1926] S. L. T. 80). See also Dyke v. Gower, in notes to s. 5, post, p. 2957.

In a prosecution for unlawfully selling to the prejudice of the purchaser milk which is not of the nature, substance, and quality demanded by him, evidence as to the circumstances connected with a sample and its nature, substance, and quality taken on the day succeeding that on which the offence is alleged to have been committed is admissible on behalf of the prosecution for the purpose of showing that the milk sold on the day that the offence is alleged to have been committed could not have been in the condition in which it came from the cow.

But it is a condition precedent to the admissibility of the evidence (1) that the sample taken on the succeeding day was from the same cow if the milking on the two days was from one cow, or from the same herd of cows if the milking was the product of a mixture; (2) that the sample taken on the succeeding day was from the same milking, e.g. the morning milking as distinguished from the evening milking; (3) that there is primâ facie proof that the cows were milked in the same way, i.e. by some experienced person who undertstands the milking of cows.

The evidence would not be admissible on behalf of the prosecution for the purpose of showing that the sample taken on the succeeding day was below the standard required by the Regulations made under the Acts, and that therefore the accused had on the succeeding day committed an offence of the same nature as that which is the subject of the charge. See Wilkinson v. Clark, [1916] 2 K. B. 636; 80 J. P. 334. In a later case (Smith v. Philpott, [1920] 1 K. B. 222) evidence as to an analysis of a sample of milk obtained three days after the date of the alleged offence was held to be admissible, but only subject to the conditions pointed out by the Court in Wilkinson v. Clark, supra.

Where an excess of water in butter was proved to be due to the butter having been kept in water at a time of great heat, and the magistrate held that no offence was committed inasmuch as the water was not added fraudulently, a Divisional Court held that fraud is not a necessary ingredient to the offence (Hutchinson v. Curran (1905), 40 I. L. T. 22).

Butter made in the ordinary way and afterwards mixed with milk, for the purpose of increasing its weight, by a process having the effect of retaining the water in the milk so as to cause an excessive quantity of water in the butter is not the article demanded by a purchaser who asks for butter (Pearks, Gunston and Tee, Ltd. v. Knight, [1901] 2 K. B. 825; 65 J. P. 822); and see now as to the sale of milk-blended butter, the provisions of Part II., post, p. 2957. As to margarine, the fact that the article sold was margarine as defined by the Act of 1887, did not preclude a conviction if it was not genuine margarine (Roberts v. Leeming (1905), 69 J. P. 417; 3 L. G. R. 1031). As to the dilution of beer with beer of inferior quality, see Crofts v. Taylor (1887), 3 T. L. R. 844; and as to arsenic in beer, see Goulder v. Rook, [1901] 2 K. B. 290; 65 J. P. 646; as to glucose in marmalade, Smith v. Wisden (1902), 66 J. P. 150; 85 L. T. 760; Wilson v. McCutcheon (1903), 40 Sc. L. R. 31; and as to the presence of a small quantity of dirty debris in milk, Kenny v. Cox (1920), 85 J. P. 70. See 67 J. P. 361. The section applies not only to sales of adulterated articles, but also to cases where the article sold is not adulterated, but wholly different from that demanded, for example, when savin is delivered for saffron (Knight v. Bowers (1885), 14 Q. B. D. 845; 49 J. P. 614). A false representation as to the quality of the goods is no offence, provided that a true one is made before the sale actually takes place (Kirk v. Coates (1886), 16 Q. B. D. 49; 50 J. P. 148. And see, Frew v. Gunning (1902), 3 F. (Just. Cas.) 51). But if a false representation is made at the time of the sale, it is immaterial that the purchaser must have known from the price that the representation was false (Heywood v. Whitehead (1896), 76 L. T. 781). Upon a summons alleging an offence against this section, the defendant may be convicted, although the facts show a seizure under s. 16 (2), post, p. 2967, if he does not apply for an amendment or adjournment under s. 1 of the Summary Jurisdiction Act, 1848 (Hiett v. Ward (1894), 58 J. P. 461; 70 L. T. (N.S.) 374).
